"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

Chrissy, Indiana's Most Fabulous Skunk Woman

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE there was such a person as Chrissy, the Skunk Woman. But there was — as anyone past 40 in the little town of Howe will tell you emphatically.

AL SPIERS

Chrissy got more fun out of life than most cozy, conforming characters.

She was rugged and robust. She achieved peculiar fame — left-handed but, to her, enjoyable. She lived long — and she'll be remembered longer.

FABULOUS CHRISSY was born Christina Hand on a skimpy, poverty-ridden farm near Howe in Civil War times. Hers was a large, hungry family that got hungrier after the sad day Father Hand went fishing with too many under his belt.

At a likely spot, he heaved out the anchor, failing to note that the rope was snarled around his leg.

GLUG, GLUG, glug — and Chrissy was fatherless.

Despite the Hand family's subsequent lack of ample nutrients, Chrissy grew up strong and healthy. She had a man's coarse features and brawny shoulders. Her frame was pudgy and powerful, her early voice bull-strong. She could handle a team and dray with the best male skinniers of the day — and out-cuss the less gifted.

When the Grand Rapids & Indiana (now the Pennsylvania) pushed a railroad through Howe about 70 years ago, Chrissy became a familiar sight — and sound! — hauling wagonloads of ties for the roadbed.

AS NEAR AS HOWE memories can recall, it was about then that she met and married an Irishman named Mike Sullivan.

Apparently they got along fine until it lasted. Chrissy was no racist, but Mike had a falling out. It came in a bottle. At that time Howe had a distillery which made things entirely too handy.

One night Mike was wobbling around in such a fine glow he forgot about the new railroad. Next day Chrissy stoically gathered Mike's pieces and buried him.

AFTER THAT, CHRISSY bought a house and small bit of (Continued on Page 15)

Before Deadline Of Monday, April 4, Make Sure That You Are Properly Registered To Vote In The May 3 Primary Election; If In Doubt Check With Town Clerk

Comment from the Capital —

Heads You Lose — Tails They Win!

by Vant Neff

You know how it is. You go down to the polling place on Election Day. You wouldn't miss it on a bet. It is your duty, you tell yourself. And so it is. You insist that your wife be a registered voter, too. So far so good.

What happens when you draw that curtain around the voting booth. You vote Row A or Row B, or maybe C or D or a combination of candidates. You leave the booth feeling pretty darn good. You are a citizen who takes his civic duties seriously. Now here is the $84,000 question.

How did those candidates get their names up on that machine? Who decided which men to offer up to your choice? Did you? Did your neighbor? Did I? Or were they put up there by a nameless group you never heard tell of?

A nameless group did it...unless you voted in the primaries. Yes, the primaries! Primaries are held from time to time and they don't get nearly the publicity the big elections get. Of course, you've heard about primaries. But maybe you usually skip them because they seem to be unimportant. Chew on this for a minute: It is in those primaries where the list of candidates is chosen!

If you ignore the primary much to say about who gets elected in this country. All you are really doing is picking from a list put up by the men who are anxious to get their man elected. The candidates have been "approved" by the "boys in the back room"...but who else has checked on them? Have you?

If you give up your vote in the primaries, your approval isn't needed. You may find a good man on the ballot, it's true. Or you may not. But if any of us gives up our vote in a primary election, we negate a fundamental fact of the democratic process. It's this: The health of democracy is based on the assumption that you and I are always interested, that we always exercise our rights and duties.

You have nothing to say you take an interest in the primaries where the candidates are selected. If you don't you're likely to get the short end of the stick, any way you vote. Heads you lose, tails they win. Learn who the people are that are running for the nomination. Find out which ones are most likely to have the public interests at heart instead of those of some pressure group. Look into their backgrounds. Have they promised allegiance to some sinister self-seeking group or special interests? The primary is the place to stop these men. By election day it is too late.

The information you need is not hard to come by. Look up voting records. Read your newspapers. Usually the papers give both sides and try to present a true, unbiased picture. Find out which groups are backing which candidates. Then, when you have the facts, decide which man is best for you and your community and vote for him in the primary.

Then on election day you will truly have a choice. Vote for the man you want, not the hand-picked candidate of some group who serves only its own interests with no thought to what is best for the people. For your own good, make primary day an important day in your life!

Citizen Is Cited For One Of Best 1959 Editorials

Halleck, Capehart, Governor, Applaud

Last Saturday night in the Riley Room of the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis, in the presence of 650 prominent Hoosiers, The Culver Citizen was announced as third place runner-up for the Schergens Cup for the "best political editorial which promotes the cause of the Republican party by any daily or weekly newspaper published during 1959."

First place went to The Kokomo Tribune (population 44,101) and second place was awarded The Noblesville Ledger (population 7,800). Both are dailies. The Citizen, as everybody knows, is a weekly and our population has remained stationary for a decade at around 1,700.

Almost Made Political History Cited for this fine recognition was The Citizen's front page editorial of last Oct. 28, exposing the unbelievable chicanery within both parties on the local level which forced the use of a pasteurized ballot in the town election. Despite the handicap and tremendous odds, the Republicans came within 26 votes of winning, and thereby becoming the first Indiana community in history to triumph under the legal pasteurized ballot procedure.

Applauding The Citizen's honor, at the annual spring banquet of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association, were many notables including U.S. Senator Homer E. Capehart, Congressman Charles A. Halleck, Governor Harold W. Handley, and Lieutenant Governor Crawford F. Parker.

Census Takers Attend Training Sessions

Census takers who will visit every dwelling unit in the area during the 1960 Census of Population and Housing which starts April 1 participated in three training sessions this week. District Supervisor Peter D. Trone announced today.

The training sessions, conducted by the crew leaders, were held on March 28, 29, and 30. Each census taker received a total of approximately nine hours of instruction. Emphasis was placed on the importance of a systematic, thorough canvass of every dwelling unit during the census to insure a complete count. Class room training covered proper manner of asking questions, use of the Census questionnaire, Census definitions, and map reading.

Map reading is an important census-taking technique since without maps, defining the limits of each district to which a census taker is assigned, the job would be a welter of confusion. About 250,000 maps have been prepared for the 1960 Census. This provides an individual map for each of the 250,000 districts into which the country has been divided for the census. Every census taker will be furnished with a map of his district. As they make their rounds, census takers will be required to canvass every street and road and visit every housing unit within the boundaries of their assignments shown on these maps.

Mrs. Virginia Bair, crew leader, has announced that the enumerators for the 1960 Census for this area who began training on March 28 at the National Guard Armory at Plymouth included Mrs. Marcella K. Manuwal, 316 Oak Hill Ave., Plymouth; Mrs. Beulah M. Phelps, 463 Lake St., Culver; Mrs. Ann Schultz, Route 3, Argos; Mrs. Wilma A. Luty, Route 1, Argos; Mrs. Ruby H. Gurthel, Route 4, Plymouth; Mrs. Opal Schipper, Route 3, Plymouth; Mrs. Joanne Price, 322 Slate St., Culver; Mrs. Madge B.

Kenneth Hallman, Area Musician, Is Mourned Here

The many Culver friends of Kenneth Hallman were shocked to learn of his tragic death last Tuesday, March 22, when Mr. Hallman, 36, popular Plymouth businessman and musician, was killed in a truck-train crash south of Leesburg at an unprotected New York Central railroad crossing.

Death was almost instantaneous after he was thrown from the truck he was driving when it collided with the train, into an eight-foot ditch and the vehicle fell on him pinning him under the frame and running board.

Mr. Hallman was director of sales for organs and pianos at the Shemberger Music Store in Plymouth and was also connected with Shemberger's Music Studio. He was a former director of vocal and instrumental music at Plymouth High School.

Popular Music Teacher

Mr. Hallman was a most enthusiastic and devoted music teacher and encouraged many Culver youths in their musical studies. He also played the organ at many Culver social functions.

He received his bachelor of music degree from Northwestern University in 1949 and his master's degree from the same university in 1951. He was a member of Phi Kappa Lambda, honorary music fraternity.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mary Lou; three sons, Daniel, Jack and William, all at home; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hallman of Aurora, Ill.

Services were held Thursday morning at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, to which Mr. Hallman

Wagner, 319 E. Williams, Plymouth; Mrs. Donald E. Winsted, 711 W. Washington, Plymouth; Mrs. Mary F. Morris, 202 Shalley Dr., Plymouth; Mrs. Shirley Eyrich, 905 W. Madison St., Plymouth; Mrs. Hazel Stephenson, Route 3, Plymouth; and Mrs. Pauline Siems, Route 2, Culver.

had made a notable contribution in music, with the Rev. William C. R. Sheridan in charge. Burial was in New Oak Hill Cemetery at Plymouth.

Byron Badgley, Former Culver Resident, Dies

Byron H. Badgley, age 87, of 1329 E. Donald St., South Bend, and formerly of Culver, died Monday afternoon at the Veterans Hospital in Coral Gables, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Badgley had been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Glenn, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Mr. Badgley suffered a paralytic stroke on Feb. 20 and had been ill since then.

Born in Starke County Sept. 15, 1872, Mr. Badgley lived in Starke and Marshall Counties where he engaged in farming until 1920 when he moved to South Bend working for several years as a carpenter. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and was a member of their organization. He was also a member of the Modern Woodmen Lodge.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; three daughters, Mrs. Russell Heiser, Culver, Mrs. Ernest Glenn, Fort Lauderdale, and Mrs. Dewey Edwards, Berkeley, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Ralph Kirby, Knox; three grandchildren; and seven great grandchildren.

Due to transportation difficulties the body will not arrive in Culver until Friday morning. Friends may call at the Easterday Funeral Home after 8 a.m. Friday where services will be held at 2 p.m. the same day. Syracuse Fire Station Burns

One of the most unusual fires in Indiana history occurred early last Tuesday morning at Syracuse when a faulty oil stove was blamed for a $150,000 fire which destroyed the Syracuse fire station, including five fire trucks, and routed four families from a neighboring apartment house.

The two-story fire house was almost leveled by the fast spreading blaze which was whipped by winds with gusts up to 40 miles an hour. Nothing was saved from the structure which in addition to the five trucks housed 20 pairs of firemen's boots, 20 helmets and 20 raincoats; one resuscitator, five oxygen air packs, three stretchers, one complete first aid kit and emergency radio equipment.

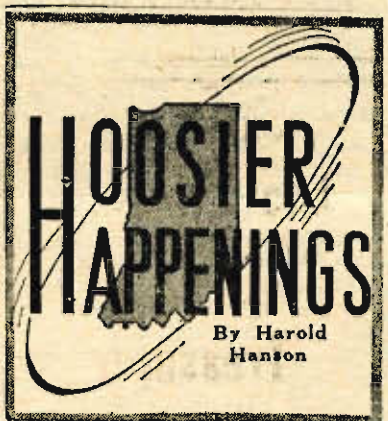

Although the fire was discovered by Syracuse policeman Fred Personette, the fire actually turned in its own alarm. Personette discovered the blaze after being alerted by the town's fire siren which was set off by the fire. Flames licking at electronic equipment in the building apparently shorted the alarm system and turned on the siren.

Syracuse and the surrounding Syracuse-Wawasee Lake resort area was not left without fire protection as Fire Departments in Warsaw, North Webster, Winona Lake and Milford made arrangements to station fire trucks in Syracuse until the town can replace the last trucks.

The Howard W. Sams family, of Indianapolis, Lake Maxinkuckee summer residents, are vacationing in Jamaica.

JIM MCCLARY TO ENTER MICHIGAN HOSPITAL

Jim McClary, former publisher of The Cryer, will enter Ferguson, Droste and Ferguson Hospital at Grand Rapids, Mich., on Monday, April 4, for observation and treatment.

SOLD! - Speedway High School may have opened up a new field for auctioneers. To raise funds for a "Lineman-of-the-Year Trophy" and new yard markers for the high school's football field, William Clark, assistant football coach, auctioned off as "slaves" members of the school's Varsity Lettermen's Club. Girls bid a total of $137 for 20 husky young men. Bill Scott, halfback, brought top price, $9.75. But pity the boy who brought the low price — 65¢. For one day the "slaves" had to walk their "owners" to school, carry their "master's" books to classes, clean out lockers and perform any other chores ordered by their purchasers.

WEIRD DISPLAY - What do you use for a bookmark? It seems almost anything is useful for this purpose. Mrs. Hazel Andres, librarian at the Batesville Public Library, put on display some of the bookmarks she retrieved from returned books. The articles include bobby pins, nail files, match books, personal letters, photographs, and a receipt for 100 shares of stock. Mrs. Andres said she also found a marriage license but it was promptly returned. Then there was a remnant of a bacon sandwich which was immediately destroyed.

MAY SING FOR IKE - Should President Eisenhower on his forthcoming visit to Russia visit the town of Sverdlovsk the school children there may serenade him with American songs learned from a song book purchased in a Fort Wayne 10-cent store. While touring Russia in 1958, Miss Evelyn Johnson, a Fort Wayne teacher, met Mrs. Asia Booshueva who teaches in the Sverdlovsk schools. The Russian woman told of teaching a class in English and asked Miss Johnson to send her a song book for her pupils. Miss Johnson bought the book and mailed it to the Russian teacher.

In acknowledging its receipt Mrs. Booshueva wrote: "I'll try to teach my pupils some of the songs with which we may greet our English and American guests."

An offensive spirit can be a dangerous affair unless you are properly prepared.

Jim Bergman Is Candidate For County Recorder

JIM BERGMAN
Seeks Democrat Nomination

Jim Bergman, 222 South Walnut Street, Plymouth, visited The Citizen office Tuesday to announce that he is a candidate for county recorder on the Democrat ticket.

Mr. Bergman, 41 years of age, was born and raised in Marshall County and is a graduate of Plymouth High School. He is a veteran of 4½ years with the United States Air Force in the China-Burma-India Theatre with 18 months spent at the Air Transport Command station in India.

The Democratic candidate for county recorder is president of St. Michael's PTA in the county seat and holds membership in St. Michael's Catholic Church, The Kiwanis Club, the Moose Lodge, and the Plymouth chamber of commerce. He is also active in Boy Scout and Cub Scout work and has been precinct committeeman for the past several years.

Mr. Bergman is manager of the Bergman Laundry and Dry Cleaning establishment in Plymouth which is owned by his father, Ed J. Bergman, who was employed as a tailor at Culver Military Academy until 1919 when he moved to Plymouth to go into business for himself.

Jim Bergman is the father of four sons, James Jr. 15; Michael, 12; John, 11; and Richard, 9. Mrs. Bergman's mother, Mrs. Nada Livinghouse Scott, lived in Hibbard and was a school teacher in the Hibbard school for several years.

Christian Art To Be Exhibited At Plymouth Saturday

Mrs. E. Eugene Furry of Plymouth, Lake Maxinkuckee resident of 2420 East Shore Drive, has called The Citizen's attention to the fact that Gordon Kelly, a talented Richmond, Ind. artist, will exhibit a notable collection of Christian art in the Plymouth Methodist Church educational building at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The artist, has aroused great interest among artists, critics, and churchmen through his profound interpretation of the Christian doctrine. The exhibit, sponsored by the AAUW chapter will show Kelly's subjects as "warm and vital, brimming with expression and life."

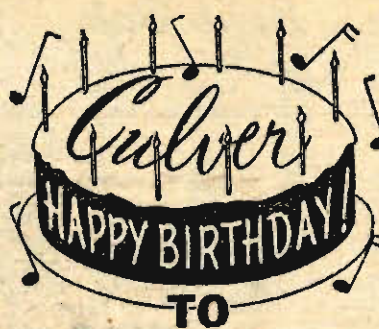

Mr. Kelly has been widely acclaimed as a "lay evangelist" of the Episcopal church because he not only displays his remarkable art, but delivers a moving and exciting talk of the meaning of the Christian faith.

Kelly's oils portray the traditional subjects and backgrounds of religious works — a cloistered girl, St. Paul in prison, St. Augustine, Christ in agony — but with a fresh modern approach. His work reflects the realism and informality of religion today and the closeness of each individual's relationship with the church and with God.

His painting, "The Incarnation" has been extolled by one New York critic "as the most important painting of Mary in modern times. He brings to Plymouth 12 canvasses which he has exhibited in Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Richmond, Muncie and Purdue.

Kelly attended the art students league in New York in 1949 and was made an instructor there. His paintings have been exhibited in the National Arts Club and the National Academy of Design in New York. He has studied under Kenneth Hayes Miller, Reginald Marsh and Lawrence McConabe.

"Agony in the Garden" is proclaimed by many as well as by the artist himself, as Kelly's most impressive work. In somber blues, grays and whites, it portrays Christ's agony prior to the crucifixion as he was alone in the garden of Gethsemane. His deep suffering and agony are clearly expressed and vestiges of the transfiguration, the ancient covenants and the actual crucifixion. In depicting the covenants the artist used as a halo, the rainbow, a sign employed by God in the old testament to signify a covenant between God and Man.

Favorite Tricks For April Fool's Day Exposed

By PAT VANSCHOIACK AND NANCY ERVIN

The question this week was, "Do you have a favorite trick to play on April Fool's Day?" Here are a few ideas.

Joan Barshes: Ask my friends; every day is April Fool's Day for me — also a happy birthday.

Shirley Crow: Setting the clock back so Mom won't know what time I really get in.

Kathy Clynne: I wouldn't play a mean trick on anyone.

Margo Overmyer: Pretending that I am really shocked when someone plays a joke on me.

Joyce Morrison: There is a trick in watching out to keep from being tricked.

Pete Ott: Smiling — it makes people wonder what I did.

Lila Bean: Telling someone, "There's a mouse," and then scream.

Pat Wesson: If I told you, everyone would find out, and then it wouldn't work on April 1st.

Bill Schmidt: Using my spider. Emily Allen: Telling someone their shoe's untied when they're wearing loafers.

Linda Kose: Telling someone that we're going to have a test in some tough subject.

Lana Berger: You mean you think I'd do something like that?

Linda Banks: Telling people their shoe is untied.

Ron Osborn: Playing tricks on girls.

Chuck Reed: Smiling in Latin class, and also changing salt and sugar at home.

Cathy Overmyer: Just wait and find out.

Nancy Prosser: I usually forget it's April Fool's Day and get fooled myself.

John Kelter: Doing nothing (everyone is always expecting some sort of trick.)

Chris Hand: I don't play tricks; I get tricked.

Charlie Hardin: Uh . . . uhh . . . uhh . . . I don't know.

Best Posture Pairs Named

Emphasis on posture, good posture, has been the theme of Mr. Kepler's biology classes for the past month.

As part of their assignment, each student was to survey and evaluate the posture of the students and teachers he or she passed during the five-minute breaks on at noon.

Mr. Kepler and his students feel that good posture is so important to good health that this report and these names should be published as being those who possess good posture. Watch for them the next time you're walking in the halls. Here they are:

Male Teacher — Mr. W. J. Graham.

Female Teacher — Mrs. Johnson.

Male Student — Denny Geiger and Gary Dillon (tie).

Female Student — Anne Osborn.

Reporter Lists Fond Souvenirs

By LILA BEAN, NANCY FLOENZIER, AND JEAN DITMIRE

While taking a survey of our student body we find that the tribes have "Among their Souvenirs" many and unusual remembrances which have been collected over a period of years. See how many of these you possess.

One of the most popular and more romantic souvenirs included those cherished "love letters" which the girls have gathered from several different beaux. Some girls have their "favorite valentine" from their special boyfriend.

Many of the tribe have teddy bears which "someone" won at the fair from last summer. The unlucky ones which couldn't win teddy bears came home with "trinkets."

Now what about this? Margaret Krull has a "lock of hair." I wonder whose it is?

Many of us can imagine ourselves at the prom yet because of the palm trees, dance programs, and corsages.

The seniors have "tags" from the trip to Chicago and Edna Menser took a package of sugar from Tieble's Restaurant just in case she got hungry on the way home.

As we further questioned the students it seems that stuffed animals, pictures, scrapbooks, post cards, stamps, and even gum wrappers nearly four years old have accumulated over a time.

Jane Ditmire has two plastic glasses from Snyder's Drive-In. I'll bet she didn't buy them, but how else could she have gotten them?

Those who attended the junior dances after the ballgames will have cute little tags which cost a quarter. They were worth it though.

Merrie Kay Stoneburner has some "I.O.U." notes. The creditors would appreciate it if she would pay these off. Interest is high. Merrie Kay!

Some of the girls have salt and pepper shakers — starting a hope chest?

Joyce Morrison has as her most prized souvenir Bob Kennedy's tassel from graduation. Evidently she thought she wouldn't get her own.

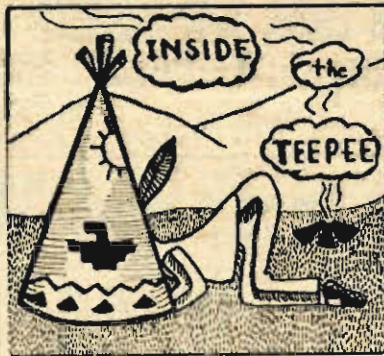

Editor's note: What happened to the boys — hey, Dave Washburn — I seem to recall a dinner menu from a restaurant near Bremen, do you?

BETTY KOSE, Editor

Merri Kay Stoneburner, Julia Furnas, Jamie Piersol, Nancy Flosenzier, Jean Ditmire, Sharon Lindvall, Lila Bean, Pat Van Schoiack, Kathy Clynne, Nancy Ervin, Sharon Spahr, Sandra Fisher, Beatrice Price, Patty Hicks, Christine Croy, Linda Gibbons, Joan Barshes, Jean McCoige, Barb Moore, Shari Yocum, Stan Curtis, Earl Mishler.

Who said March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb? — this year's March is roaring! But this month has awakened many scholars from winter hibernation and stirred many young hearts into action. Also with spring comes the shedding of "winter furs." Congratulations are in order to Linda Banks and Sandy Fisher who by now are feeling considerably more light-headed.

From the grapevine many new romances have blossomed; among them are Sandy Smith and Tim Green who have been dating this past week, and Sandy Fisher and Skip Kiel who have spoken the sacred vows of the steady clan.

Don't tell anybody but Sam Medbourn was late to English class; his rattle-trap gave him a rough time. (No offense Joyce — we mean his car!)

The Culver Cinema saw some new "gruesome twosomes" last Sunday. They included Corky Walters and Nancy Prosser, Bob Kerrigan and Margo Overmyer, and John Hook and Melissa Fisher.

Spring vacation at C.M.A. means a sad time for Judy Kimmel, Sharon Lindvall, and Kathy Clynne — but never fear the boys in blue will return again!

Dear Nancy (Burns) — Does the name Jim ring bells in your uppermost interior?

Aubree has been well represented at various points of interest in Culver by Gerald Young who paid his respects to Carol Heiser and Keith Thomas who has been reported as last seen at one Betty Kose's house.

Mr. Boyd was, needless to say, quite surprised when the band and choir (serenaded?) him immediately following the Winter Concert. He was virtually flabbergasted when he stepped into the band building and everyone leaped out of the practice rooms yelling "surprise!" You didn't know how really talented we are did you, Mr. Boyd? He had to work mighty hard to find that tie bar among the multitude of boxes, but the delicious cake served afterward was well worth the effort. There's only one puzzling thing — which birthday was it? Oh well, maybe he's the Jack Benny type (never reaches that 40th birthday)!

Charlie Hardin's all broken up with Barb Kauffman. We hope not for long, it's so uncomfortable.

Miss Gibbons hits the spotlight this week, or I should say her brother. He's now sporting a 1960 Impala. Henceforth, Linda will be known as "The White Streak."

Mike Faulstich representing P.U. (not Podunk U., but Purdue U.) has recently presented his terms to Betty Zechel for an armistice. A treaty is now being considered.

"Don't you think there's a resemblance somehow?" A question asked on a day last week when pictures of all C.H.S. twins were taken. As I remember all of the Spanish class volunteered their services along these lines!

Room 10 was the scene of a serious debate on the part of the senior girls as to should we or shouldn't we go to a Broadway show.

BULLETIN! If you smell something good it's from the Home Ec. department and if you smell something, shall we say disagreeable — don't get "shook" it's from the Chemistry class.

We would like a volunteer to administer a reviver shot or snap-back pills for Edna Menser; she has of late been characterized by a rather gloomy, lonesome appearance — Frank is in Gary.

We hope to see all Culver casualties (Phil Gretter, Tony Cihak, and Karen Kemple) back to our Alma Mater as quickly as possible.

Well, I leave you with a thought for the day — Don't just do something — STAND THERE!

Grade School News

By SANDRA FISHER AND KATHY CLYNE

Kindergarten: Mrs. Babcock helped us celebrate St. Patrick's Day by sending a big shamrock cake and mints. Thank you, Mrs. Babcock.

We thank Mrs. Kline for decorating some graham crackers for the afternoon group. Most of the children are back in school after being out with colds and the flu.

Mrs. Keyser: First — It was very nice to see so many parents at open house. We thank you for coming. Mrs. Babcock brought us a delicious St. Patrick's day cake. We certainly enjoyed it. Jimmy Hoessel had a birthday March 22 when he treated the room to ice cream and cookies.

Miss Whan: Rodney Stubbs has returned to school after a three week illness. The children missed him. Morry DeMarco has returned to Culver and is once again in our room; he shared his interesting arrowhead collection with the class. We also have a new girl, Linda Sue Palmer, who has come to Culver from Florida. Now we have 18 boys and 15 girls. Twenty-two parents attended the open house last week.

Fifth: In Mrs. Lawson's fifth grade the children have been doing some interesting experiments with magnets for science. Bobby Crow gave a special report on magnets and lodestone. Cheryl Walter and Stove Ault brought some of the materials used for the experiments. Penny Wakefield had a birthday on March 22.

Fourth: Miss Mahan's fourth grade helped to celebrate John Cook's tenth birthday. His mother brought decorated cupcakes and milk for a delicious treat; we enjoyed it. Ricky Burns brought many cards and folders for us to see — he spent two weeks in California. We were very happy to have Edward Ricciardi back after his long absence from school.

There were sixteen families represented at our open house. We had hoped to have each family present.

Third: Mrs. Carter's third grade is studying transportation. Many children have brought pictures about it, others have brought cars, trucks, boats and airplanes. Mike Hatten brought in an interesting book about the moon which we all enjoyed.

We are having fun with our post office and many children are busily writing letters to each other. Richard Snyder won the spell-down last week.

Hates Dishwashing

By JOAN BARSHES
Presenting . . . Senor Don Mano. Now you may think this is a Spanish bullfighter, but it is none other than our freshman English and Spanish teacher, Mr. Donald Hand.

He was born in Culver one hundred years after Lincoln was born. (All right all you mathematicians figure that one out.)

His schooling consisted of attending the Culver grade school, Culver Military Academy, and Purdue University. He participated in such activities as football, basketball, baseball, and dramatics.

As for things he likes to do in his spare time, Mr. Hand enjoys listening to good recordings, playing golf, eating, and getting in a good bull-session on politics, art, religion, or sports.

In his spare time or any other time he does not like to wash windows, dishes, or floors, and going to bed early.

We all have pet peeves and Mr. Hand's is people who think "I" is the only important pronoun.

In going along with one of his favorite habits of eating he votes for steak, chicken, and hamburger and spaghetti as his favorite foods.

As many of his Spanish students and others as well will tell you he has brought many students of other countries to C.H.S. through the writing of letters. Some students have as many as five pen-pals from such countries as England, Mexico, Belgium, Africa, and Sweden.

Adios Senor Mano!

Cynthia Allen Takes Part In Forum In South America

Two Indiana University coeds and a teaching associate took part in a recent forum on American universities at the Peruvian-North American Cultural Institute in Lima, Peru.

The trio, part of Indiana's junior-year contingency studying this year at the University of San Marcos, including Cynthia Dare
Allen, Culver; Ann Baker, Bloomington; and Earl M. Aldrich, I.U. teaching associate in Spanish and Portuguese and counselor for the group.

They outlined for a large Peruvian audience the makeup of a North American university, with emphasis on "university life."
Their presentations, in Spanish, were so well received that future forums by these and other members of the Indiana student party have been scheduled.

The I. U. students represent the first university-sponsored group

Census Takers Will Be Easy To Identify

Householders will not have any difficulty identifying the takers of the 1960 Census of Population and Housing when they start their rounds on April 1, District Supervisor Peter D. Trone pointed out today.

Each census taker will be provided with a red, white, and blue identification card to be worn on the lapel. This card bears the seal of the Department of Commerce and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed across its face. Persons purporting to be Census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the local district
Census office.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is brown and bears the legend, "1960 Census of the United States," printed in green ink. In the portfolio, the census taker carries his supplies of report forms, maps, pencils, and other tools of his trade.

Editor, CITIZEN:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your valued contribution of a subscription to The Culver Citizen.

Please accept our thanks for this contribution.

So far as this writer knows, the only permanent files of your newspaper are those in your office, and those on file with the County Recorder. The latter are kept in a vault in the basement of the County Jail, and are not easily accessible.

The papers you send us will be carefully preserved until the end of each calendar year, at which time we will have them bound in book form.

The events of today are the history of tomorrow, and only the newspapers faithfully record these events, fully and graphically. These newspapers in our Museum will be an additional source of information available to the public. We are sure they will be appreciated by this generation, and more so by future generations.

May 2 Is Last Day To File
For Property Tax Exemptions

Editor, CITIZEN:

As a service to your readers, would you please insert weekly reminders that May 2 is the last day that they can file for mortgage exemptions?

It is also the last day for filing goldifer exemptions, and the exemptions for people over 65 who own real estate and whose gross income did not exceed $2,250 last year.

We are enclosing the form which they must file, which has all the necessary requirements on the back. We thought this might be of help to you in case you would like to feature this exemption in one of your reminders.

These reminders are greatly appreciated by your readers, and by ourselves, as it is the only way we have of reminding them that it is now time to file for these exemptions.

The Week With Governor Handley

State Parks Real Close To 95% Of Hoosier Families

INDIANAPOLIS, March 28 — "State-operated public recreation facilities are now within 35 miles of 95% of Hoosier families," Governor Harold W. Handley said here today. The other 5%, live within 40 miles.

"Moreover," the Governor pointed out, "the highest admission fee charged at any of these state facilities is 20 cents for each adult and automobile, and no admission fee is charged children under 12. Fees to national parks are much larger."

Governor Handley made the observations in connection with an official statement sent to a U. S. Senate Committee which is considering a bill to compel creation of a federal park on Indiana's shore of Lake Michigan.

"Indiana's shore on southern Lake Michigan is only 32 miles long," the statement said, "and most of it is now included in municipal boundaries and could not be restored for extensive public recreation except at great public expense."

"There also would be a considerable loss of employment to thousands of citizens now engaged in industrial operations and other gainful occupations along this shore."

"We concede the need for national parks in some parts of our nation, particularly where the local population is not yet large enough to pay for their acquisition or development."

"Yet we insist that where a sovereign state so chooses, it should continue to have the right to develop its own recreation system."

Indiana Dunes State Park Governor Handley sent to the Senate committee detailed plans for further development of facilities at Indiana Dunes State Park "when increased patronage warrants it." The Governor said that only on July 4 and Labor Day are Dunes Park facilities used to capacity.

"Indiana has always been a conservation-minded commonwealth preserving the best of its natural wonders and also insistent on providing state-operated natural recreation areas in all parts of the state."

"Each of these parks and recreation grounds is accessible the year-around via fine state hard-surfaced highways."

"In 1925 the people of Indiana acquired 2,182 acres in Porter County, including a 3-mile shoreline on Lake Michigan which has a beach that is unexcelled for bathing anywhere in the world."

A Magnificent Beach

"The selection was made because of this magnificent beach and also because the hinterland (comprising 85% of the total area) is the outstanding example along the southern end of Lake Michigan of the natural habitat of rare flora and fauna."

"The land for Indiana Dunes State Park (which would cost far more if purchased now) cost $1,215,338 in 1925."

"The Indiana Department of Conservation has supervised the expenditure of more than $1 million for facilities at the Park. The extensive new improvements now planned which would total $47,000 immediately and another $640,000 eventually, would protect the nature preserve in the central part of the park and at the same time open up the eastern end of the beach for supervised bathing."

Governor Handley noted that at present 90% of the 466,805 admissions to Dunes State Park last year used the bathing and swimming facilities. Yet, he said, only 1/3 of the Park shore line was necessary for beach guard supervision.

Governor Handley was gratified by the commendation for Indiana State Police, National Guardsmen and State Highway employees who worked around the clock in salvage operations at the scene of the air crash near Tell City.

"It was a most unusual emergency assignment which was carried out with efficiency, dignity and thoroughness," Governor Handley said.

South Bend Plane Victims

The Governor flew to Tell City Wednesday for the mass funeral services of the air crash victims. He also attended services for South Bend victims of the disaster on Tuesday.

Governor Handley attended the annual Indiana Farm Bureau breakfast in Indianapolis Thursday, and heard a progress report on Friday from the Indiana Tax Study Commission.

On Friday evening Governor Handley participated in the Students' Mock Political Convention which is held at Purdue University each campaign year. Former Governor Theodore McKeldin of Maryland also spoke.

Governor Handley praised the project as a forum enabling students to prepare themselves for citizenship by a better understanding of political processes.

On Saturday evening Governor Handley attended the annual spring banquet of Indiana Republican Editorial Association, which was addressed by U. S. Senator Norris Cotton of New Hampshire.

Indiana Expected To Increase 17%

INDIANAPOLIS — "With Indiana's population expected to increase more than 17% in the next 10 years, it is essential that good jobs be assured Hoosiers in order to maintain our present high level of family life."

This was Governor Harold W. Handley's recent comment on a projection of Census Bureau data which estimates the Indiana 1966 population at 4,698,000 and then forecasts at least 5,500,000 by 1970.

"The prophesied increase of 17.1% would exceed the projected national increase of 16.4%," Governor Handley said. "It would maintain our present position of 11th in national population, and possibly make us 10th, ahead of Massachusetts."

"But what is even more important, Indiana has a forward-looking policy of attracting new industrial payrolls to our state. We are expanding factories already here and we are building new ones."

Indiana's Ideal Location

"Fortunately Indiana is in a unique position to get new payrolls and to keep those we already have. Our geographical location is ideal — combining adjacent materials sources, manufacturing plants, and consumer concentrations. And our debt-free status permits us to levy lower taxes than elsewhere."

"We can keep our Hoosier people working at profitable occupations if we will continue the policy of progressive moderation which I have made the motif of this state administration."

The St. Lawrence Seaway

Governor Handley also commented on an official prediction that the St. Lawrence Seaway will handle 42% more tonnage in 1960 than last year.

However, the Governor noted, Seaway experts believe the channel would have much more traffic if the new Port of Indiana were Michigan. "Shippers continue to avoid, when possible, the double bottleneck at Chicago," Governor Handley said. "First, there is a terrific overload on the highway and railway complex of metropolitan Chicago which prevents economical or rapid transit of freight in numerous cases. And secondly, the port facilities at Chicago are completely inadequate to accommodate potential traffic."

Proposed Port Of Indiana

"But there is no available shoreline in the Chicago area for another port closer than the proposed Port of Indiana in Porter County. Shippers know this and ship-line operators know it. Yet certain individuals — cynically hoping somehow for local political advantage continue to try to obstruct the Indiana Port."

"By doing so they are putting in possible jeopardy the efforts of midwestern farmers to get better prices for their grain because of the lower costs of water transportation to our east coast and overseas."

"They are damaging the market for Midwestern coal, stone, and minerals."

"They are trying to create a situation which will cause unemployment instead of providing more income for hundreds of thousands of Hoosiers and other Midwestern citizens."

DOUBLE DUTY - When ice formed on Lakeview Lake in Johnson County, six-year-old Riekey Davis asked his dad, Richard P. Davis, to haul him over the lake on his sled. The father tugged at the sled for a while and then found an easier way. He took the handle off his lawn mower, attached it to the sled and pushed young Riekey around the lake.

CANNED 'COON - When children playing on Olive Street in Evansville sighted a weird looking animal, they became frightened and ran to their father who summoned police. Patrolmen Leslie Saunders and William Cooksey responded and saw the animal creeping into a garbage can. Faking no chances they waited until the animal was inside the can then they slammed on the cover. The animal was taken to Mesher Park Zoo where it was identified as a full grown racoon. It was added to the zoo's collection.

land on the southeast edge of Howe, close to the cemetery and a half-block from the railroad.

She lived alone until the day Hank Kraut, a wanderer (sometimes called a bum), ambled off the railroad, nudged a meal from Chrissy — and stayed.

"Hank wasn't very bright," recalls Clarence Taylor, a 42-year rural mailman who lives close to the old Chrissy abode and knew her well.

"Was he a half-wit?" I asked, trying to pin it down.

"Not any more than that!" replied Taylor.

Hank stayed with Chrissy about three years. Then he got pneumonia and a gangrenous leg simultaneously and died. Chrissy cleaned and shaved him and he looked right nice laid out.

IT WAS AFTER Hank's death that Chrissy found her oddball niche.

Chrissy's ultimate fame derived from her love of animals. She always had chickens, guinea pigs, dogs and cats in the house — and one day in the early '20's she acquired pet skunks.

IN NO TIME, SHE had a half-dozen or so wandering around the house — not de-skunked skunks, but fully-equipped specimens. Robert Ripley got wind of it (an apt phrase) and presently Chrissy, the Skunk-Woman, appeared in his "Believe It or Not."

Thereafter tourists flocked to Howe to see her. Whenever a crowd gathered, Chrissy would emerge with two or three cuddly skunks adorning her shoulders and bosom. She'd dance a jig, sing a few ditties — and gather coins tossed by the tourists.

"IT WASN'T AT ALL unusual to see 20 or 40 cars parked around her house on a Sunday," chuckled Taylor.

That went on for several years — until Chrissy, past 70, fell ill. Some say they gave ailing Chrissy a bath — and that she promptly died.

"Not true," says Taylor. "She had a little money, so friends built her a small, one-room-and-kitchen place alongside her littered hovel. They did bathe her, and the new place was clean. But that didn't kill Chrissy. She had cancer."

Later someone bought Chrissy's property and moved the buildings away. Today there's nothing there to remind town-folk of the fabulous old gal.

THE OLDEST TIMERS don't need to be reminded.

"I can see her yet," one gaffer chuckled, "marching" down the street in that long coat, head hunched forward, chin out, eyes merry — ready to swap insults with anybody. And on hot, muggy days I swear I sometimes get a wiff of her."

time in the homes of her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Wiseman, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taber in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Scruggs began working at the Culver Public Library in 1944 as assistant to Mrs. Grace O'Callaghan. Upon Mrs. O'Callaghan's retirement in the Spring of 1958, Mrs. Scruggs was offered the position as Librarian.

A Dedicated Librarian
She is presently taking extension courses through the University of Chicago which includes cataloging, classification of library material, and library administration.

Mrs. Scruggs has a deep interest in improving the local Carnegie Library, especially for grade school children and in acquiring more reference material for high school students. At present, the library depends on the Indiana State Library to furnish books on a loan basis to supplement the budget for books.

Mrs. Scruggs is a member of the Culver Methodist Church and a charter member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. She belongs to the Emily Jane Culver Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, the Indiana Library Association, and the Small Library Group.

CMA Chapel Choir

Under the direction of the Choirmaster, Claude Zetty, the group will sing two anthems, "Arise, O Ye Servants of God" (Sweetinck), and "Hallelujah, Amen," from the Oratorio "Judas Maccabaeus," (Handel); and the Introit, "Laudate Nomen Domini," (Tye).

The Chaplain of the Academy, the Rev. Allen F. Bray, will assist in the services.

At 4 p.m. the Chapel Choir will sing at Evensong in the National Cathedral, accompanied by Mr. Myhre and under the direction of Mr. Zetty, the group will join with the Cathedral Choir of men and boys for this service.

Chaplain Bray To Participate

The Culver group will sing five anthems, "Magnificat," (Stratigier); "Hide Not Thou Thy Face From Us," (Farrant); "Miserere Mei, Deus," (Allegri); "A Lenten Lament," (Pfantsch); and "Brother James' Air," (arr. Jacob). Chaplain Bray will again assist in the services.

The 40 singing cadets are drawn from 11 states and represent several denominations.

Selected from the 60-voice Memorial Chapel Choir, these cadets are making this the third of a five-city tour throughout the Midwest and East this spring.

The Chapel Choir has also been invited to sing at the opening of the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C. on Tuesday, April 5.

Ann L. Maull's Sudden Death Stuns Community

The Culver community was stunned and saddened to learn of the death of Ann L. Maull, age 17, at the Memorial Hospital in South Bend last Wednesday evening after a brief illness.

The lovely and talented daughter of Major and Mrs. Charles Maull, Jr., of 1650 East Shore Drive, was the victim of a baffling and rare type of blood disease which strikes suddenly and is of short duration according to medical authorities.

Miss Maull was born in St. Louis, Mo., on May 18, 1942 and spent her entire life there and in Culver, where the Maulls decided to make their permanent home in September, 1958.

Major Maull is assistant commandant at Culver Military Academy. Ann, as the daughter of an Academy staff member, was among the fortunate small number of girls permitted to enroll at the noted preparatory school. She was a member of its first (senior) class which will graduate in June.

In addition to her parents, Ann is survived by two brothers, Charles IV and Jack, and a sister, Jean, all at home.

Cadets Attend In Body

Final rites took place in the beautiful CMA Memorial Chapel at 10 a.m. Friday, just a few hours before spring vacation began at the Academy. The cadet corps, numbering more than 800, attended in a body to pay tribute to the memory of their popular fellow student. Chaplain Allen F. Bray, USNR, read the Episcopal service and the Chapel choir sang.

Burial was in Culver Masonic Cemetery. The Easterday Funeral Home was in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fieberts and three children of Grant Park, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. Rex Mawhorter Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blanchard of Peru were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Blanchard.

Mrs. George Gottschalk, who has been quite ill the past three weeks at her home, is some improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holland of Peru were Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Blanchard.

Mrs. Everett Gibbons spent Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Goheen and Saja.
