Oct. 19, 1960, was found several days ago by highway workers who were clearing brush along State Road 8.

This undoubtedly protected the contents of the folder as all checks were intact and in good condition while the folder had weathered some. All currency was missing. It is thought that two strange men committed the robbery by taking the folder from a desk in the small office at the rear of the store while Mrs. Gretter was at the check-out counter and Mr. Gretter was storing food in the freezer near the front.

Permanent residents living around Lake Maxinkuckee are going to be greatly disappointed in the news that natural gas will not be supplied to them by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company until a much stronger demand is evidenced for this wonderful product. Natural gas first came to Cul-its natural gas mains throughout the Town of Culver it extended its lines along State Road 10 as far East as the Culver Military Academy's dining hall and the

PAUL KALEY IN PLYMOUTH HOSPITAL

Paul Kaley entered Parkview Hospital in Plymouth Sunday evening where he is undergoing diagnostic tests and X-rays.

Last week a snit was instituted in Starke Circuit Court which challenges the decision of Trustee Donald Taylor to close the school buildings of North Bend.

Hershel Patrick, plaintiff in the suit, seeks a court mandate which would require that Taylor re-open the North Rend buildings, and resume school functions within the North Bend district.

Taylor did not re-open the schools this fall but is transfering all North Bend pupils into the schools at Knox, Culver, and Monterey.

New Petition Challenge

A new court action was filed this week. Sixteen residents of the township have joined as plaintiffs in a complaint which is a challenge of the decision to retain North Bend under the jurisdiction of the Starke County School Reorganization Committee.

The suit was filed last Thurs day. The complaint alleges that County Clerk Elmer Anderson has not made a proper certificate under the seal of his office, to show the validity of petitions to release North Bend to the jurisdiction of Marshall County.

Reno to live with her son. Mrs. Gerard was married to Charles Gerard who died in 1948. Surviving with the son, Keith, of Nevada and the sister, Mrs. Banks, are a brother, George Deacon of Plymouth, and three other sisters, Mrs. Harold Bahr of Plymouth, Mrs. Isaac Sousley of Plymouth, and Mrs. John Greenlee of Argos. sisters preceded her in death. Services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Van Gilder Funeral Home in Plymouth with the Rev. Garth Irey officiating. Interment was made in Oak Hill Cemetery.

North Bend School Dispute

It further contends that Clerk Anderson failed to keep a record of the certification in his office.

The suit, though it sets out the above technicalities, is actually a challenge of the certification it-self. North Bend residents who were leaders of a move to merge the schools of that township with Union and Marshall, and Aubbeenaubbee of Fulton, caused to be circulated petitions which, if supported by 60 per cent of the voters, would force the release of that township from the jurisdiction of the Starke School Committee.

Some Names Withdrawn

There were enough names on the petition, when circulation stopped, to qualify under the 60 per cent requirement of law, but prior to the time certification proceedings were begun in the office of the County Clerk many original petitioners signed subse-quent withdrawal notices, and the county school committee ruled the petition invalid because an insufficient number remained.

The 16 North Bend residents who are now going to court on a claim that the committees rulng was wrong are: Mary A. Langlois, Ruby F. Torok, Ray R. Bennett, Paul Klatt Borg, John Darocsi Jr., Oscar A. Fechner, Donald Humes, Ruth C. Kamin, Della Mae Lucas, Charmaine Mil-ler, Evelyn M. Overmyer, Ches-ter C. Scott, Sr., Edward V. Torok, Donald Taylor, Louise Van Horn, and Rosemary O. White.

Starke County Clerk Anderson and the Starke County School Reorganization committee members are named as co-defendants. This committee is composed of Frank Pulver, Donald Peregrine, Ralph Harbison, Arthur Mosher, Carl Raffel, DeLois, Awald, Eric Cramer, Mathew Swanson, and Jul-

VITAL PROTECTION!

How About A Fair Shake?

Sooner or later, Congress will have to face up to the need for equitable labor legislation.

There's a mighty good reason: the public is gagging over strikes, violence, and other abuses of organized labor's privileged position under the law.

We heartily recommend that Congress protect the public interest by using as a guide these five basic labor relations principles:

- Individuals should be guaranteed freedom to join or not to join a labor union, without intimidation or coercion from ony source.
- 2. Monopoly practices, both by employers and by lobor unions, should be prohibited.
- 3. Collective bargaining serves the best interests of those concerned when conducted at the local level.

(Continued from Page 1) taking half-week courses in orthodontia at Loyola University in Chicago for three years. There he met Bob Rocke, a personable, top-of-the-class dental student due to be graduated in 1934. "I plan to build a new office and specialize in orthodontia," Kes told Rocke. "I'll need an as-sociate. Interested?" ROCKE WAS — AND in 1934 began a warm, close association that still endures.

In the interim, Kes built a bun-galow-type office with characteristle ingenuity. He drew his own plans, bartered old accounts and new dental work for labor and materials, supervised and toiled in spare moments — and com-pleted one of LaPorte's rare few deep-depression building projects. In the process, versatile, ener-getic Dr. Kesling acquired a lifelong hobby. He has since de-signed and built - largely with his own hands - seven beautiful homes

KES AND JEAN worked five years on their first home — a spacious 5,000 square-foot French provincial structure in Green Acres which son Pete now occupies. Into it went 180 truckloads of field stone. Kes split and laid every stone, among other tasks.

That done, Kes built an-other home which Dr. Rocke oc-cupied 10 years . . . then a bun-galow to sell. He remodeled and sold a farmhouse, then erected a family winter home in Tucson, Arizona

Dr. Rocke's present lovely home in Green Acres. In 1952, Kes, Jean and sons Dave, Pete, and Tim, teamed up to erect the present family home. Touring it, I drooled. Truly it's a "dream" home — spacious, ele-gant, tasteful, and a marvel of comfort and modern efficiency. BUT WEYE DICRESSED Dr.

BUT WE'VE DIGRESSED. Dr Kesling's professional forte is orthodontia, not construction . . . and to this exacting science he has made some notable contributions.

-That, however, is a story in it-self . . . for next week's Citizen.

REMC Coordinator Charges 'Inspired' Letter Campaign

OSGOOD, IND .- The investorowned private utilities opened an "inspired" letter-writing campaign against Hoosier Cooperative Energy, Inc., as soon as the $60,-225,000 REA loan for generation and transmission facilities was approved June 15, Frank E. Ratts. H oosier Energy coordinator, charges charges

"Reliable sources at the State-house in Indianapolis have in-formed us that by the middle of August. 1.000 letters had been received at the offices of Gover-nor Matthew Welsh and Chairman Merton Stanley of the Public Ser-Commission urging vice that our petition for a certificate of convenience and necessity (which hasn't yet been filed) be denied. "A similar load of mail has been descending on Indiana's de-legation in Congress." Ratts said. "When Goliath starts swinging at David, it's only natural for David to do something in self-dehe pointed out

Governor Welsh, in a statement issued at the time of the approval of the Hoosier Energy loan, said that "The Hoosier Energy application (for a certificate of convenlence and necessity) when received will be reviewed by the Public Service (Commission under the laws of the state, and its decision will be based strictly on the rights of the rural electric cooperatives under the law,

"The Public Service Commission is neither prejudiced for nor against the plan to construct the Southern Indiana power plant. As a quasi-judicial body, the PSC de-cision will be based on the facts and the law, not on emotion or bias."

Ratts pointed out that "Under the Indiana REMC Act, Rural Electric Membership Corporations are given an area franchise by the Public Service Commission in which we are both privileged and obligated to supply electric service to all who wish such service."

"We have the right to construct and operate our own generating plant and transmission facilities, and are asking only the opportun-ity to exercise that right," Ratts concluded.

Culver Indians Score Third Baseball Victory

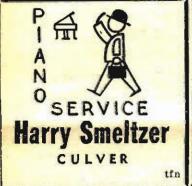

Lose To West High In Monday's Event

Aided by three Tippy errors in the second inning the Indians scored three runs which proved enough for their third victory of the fall season on Thursday, Sept. 14. The Culver batsmen were held to one hit by the fine mound efforts of Tippy's Swihart. Sam Lowry went all the way for Cul-ver to rack up his third win this fall without a loss. He yielded only three hits while striking out seven.

CMA Football Team Meets Bremen Friday Eight Lettermen Support Eagles

Culver Military Academy will unveil its 1961 football team Fri-day, Sept. 22, when the Eagles go against Bremen High School in a 7:30 p.m. game at Bremen. With a bigger and faster team bolstered by eight starting letter-men, Coach Russ Oliver is optimistic for a season better than last year's 3-5 record.

"On paper and on the basis of our undefeated frosh-soph team, we should be better than last season," said Oliver, who is beginning his 22nd season as Eagle coach, "Abivy, size, and speed will make us stronger, but we

Practice Started Sept, 1

Oliver and his coaching staff of Chick Owen, Jim DeArmond and Chet Marshall, started practices Sept. 1 with 50 boys who returned to campus prior to the start of school. DeArmond, form-er DePauw University quarter-back, is the latest addition to the coaching staff and is working coaching staff and is working with the backfield.

Coach Oliver, who has compiled a record of 106-53-10 over the past 21 seasons, plans to use a multiple offense. He hopes to utilize speed in the backfield for a mixture of running and passing. 'I like a throwing game," said

Oliver, "and with the material his year we can strike a better balance between running and Aunt Of throwing."

Andy Karras Is Captain Culver's eight lettermen are led by guard Andy Karras, the team captain from South Bend. They include center Skip Miller, a 195-pounder from Hobart, Ind.; guard Bruce Hauser, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; tackle B. G. O'Reilly, a 205-pounder from La-Grange, Ill.; end Mike Ryan, Long Grove, Ill.; quarterback Lloyd Huth, Huntington, W. Va.; and halfback Bill Baker, Oxford, Miss, and Bill Borkenstein, Fort Wayne.

To fill out the backfield. Coach Oliver has the intriguing problem of deciding between Chris Hinkle, Little Rock, Ark., and Reeve Little. Cleveland, two 195-pound underclassmen who have looked good in practices. Hinkle, a member of last year's unbeaten froshsoph team, has the edge on exper-ience since Little is a new student at Culver.

The Eagles have sound balance in personnel with 15 seniors and 19 juniors making up the squad.
