Chicago Newspapermen Give Indiana Its Most Ghoulish Funeral Ceremony

THE VAST, turbulent Calumet-Chicago metropolis has spilled many strange things into Indiana's still-wild but shrinking duneland west of Gary... but nothing quite like the gay, giddy, ghouliah cremation of Morris Allen Collins.

AL SPIERS

Collins was a Chicago journalist in the lurid '90s. He looked like Edgar Allan Poe, wrote like Opie Reid, drank like Khrushchev, and futilely espoused screwball causes.

THEN, WEARY OF LIFE'S frustrations, Collins blew out his brains, leaving a note requesting cremation — but no funds for same.

This both saddened and delighted Collins' paper, The Herald, and his erstwhile colleagues at the liquid, legendary Whitechapel Club.

They were all sorry to see poor Morris go, but his last wish presented an opportunity that could scarcely go unchallenged.

"WE," THEY FORTHWITH decided, "will fire his pyre — with pomp and ceremony as befits Whitechapelers. What a story!"

The bolder (and woozier) thought Lincoln Park would be an ideal site, but saner heads steered the sad, screwball safari to semi-privacy of Indiana's remote dunes.

THE WHITECHAPEL lads deemed it fitting that Collins should give his Herald a last scoop — so secretly shrouded (apt word!) the solemn preparations.

Advance emissaries picked a lonely site and paid local laborers to assemble a house-high pile of driftwood, liberally soaked with tar.

ON JULY 17, 1902, the Whitechapelers, 200 strong, came by special train and trekked into the dunes, lugging their casketed comrade, now six days dead.

Onto the pyre went the casket and around the area went guards to restrain the curious and protect the scoop.

Then, from ample supplies, the Whitechapelers began liquid preparation for the final nocturnal ceremony.

THERE WAS, HOWEVER, one smalltown Hoosier journalist — A. J. Bowser of Chesterton's Tribune — who wasn't about to be scooped by these big-city boys.

Tipped off, Bowser donned a long-tailed black coat and sombre top hat and assaulted perimeter defenses with a stern, solemn air.

Lions Minstrel Show Sparkles At Rehearsal

Shows Tonight And Thursday

Dress rehearsal for the Culver Lions minstrel show presented a colorful picture Tuesday night.

Members of the cast appeared in full costume and worked with all props and complete staging in final preparation for shows tonight and Thursday night in the Culver Community Building.

Scene one is a musical review, "An Afternoon in the Park," which serves as an introduction to the main part of the show. Here are depicted the various types of people one might find and the activities that might go on in a park in the afternoon.

There are kids getting into all kinds of trouble, a hobo clown, sunbathers and an artist: news, flowers and peanut vendors hawking their wares; and, of course, the fellows and their girls.

Scene two finds the minstrels in the park. These men of jest are the biggest liars in the United States, experts at stringing each other along with their tall tales. The "endmen" are Russ Flora, Jim Cox, Joe McCarthy, Tom Walker, Coke Smith and Bill Washburn with Arthur Hughes as interlocutor. Also included in this scene are several variety numbers by members of the company.

Sponsored by the Culver Lions Club and presented by Culver citizens, the show is an effort to raise funds for community betterment. Show time is 8:15 p.m. and tickets will be available at the door.

Pennington Boy Hurt In Accident

An accident occurring about 6:10 p.m. Tuesday on S. Main St. involved a car driven by Rosemary Schall of Culver and Charles Pennington, age 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pennington, 510 S. Main St., Culver.

The boy, who was playing on the west side of the street, ran into the right front corner of the car and was knocked to the pavement. He suffered abrasions on his back, arms and legs, and minor cuts on his fingers. He was taken to the Parkview Hospital at Plymouth about 4 a.m. this morning for observation.

County 4-H Group Honors Leaders

Adult and junior leaders of Marshall County 4-H clubs were recognized at the leaders' banquet at St. Michael's School at Plymouth Monday evening.

The principal speaker at the banquet was Jerry Macklin, who is associated with 4-H club work at Purdue University.

Pat Wesson of Culver was one of the eight young people to receive a junior 4-H leader key award. Other local award winners were Hershel Odle, National achievement award in electric; electric merchandise awards, Pat Wesson, Steve Elery, and Doug Kosterman.

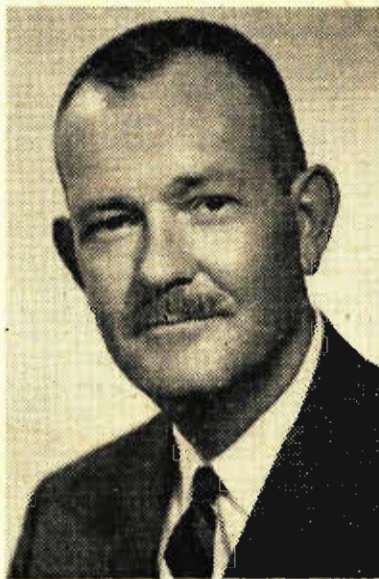

John Behmer won an award in forestry achievement.

ARGOS TO REMAIN ON FAST TIME

Argos will remain on year-around fast time, according to a decision made by members of the Town Board at its recent meeting. The decision was made to conform with other area towns which have previously decided to stay on fast time.

Texas Headmaster Has Splendid Background

ADDISON B. CRAIG

Named Assistant Dean At Culver Military Academy

Addison B. Craig, former headmaster of Texas Military Institute, San Antonio, has been appointed to the administrative staff at Culver Military Academy.

Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.) superintendent, said in the announcement that Craig will serve as an assistant dean under Ernest B. Benson, dean of the Academy. He will be directly concerned with college counseling and with placement of students in college, and he will assist Dean Benson in the other activities of the dean's office.

The office of the dean is responsible for the academic activities of Culver's 848 students, supervision of a teaching staff of 77, and counseling. Craig joins John R. Mars and Walter G. Roberts as assistants to Dean Benson.

Craig was named headmaster of Texas Military Institute in 1954 and served there until last spring when he resigned to accept the position at Culver. He was president of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States in 1960-61, and at the same time was president of the Independent Schools Association of the Southwest.

Native Of Massachusetts
A native of Plymouth, Mass., Craig prepared for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He was graduated cum laude from Amherst (Mass.) College and received a Master of Education degree from Boston University.

Craig taught in Massachusetts public schools at North Dighton, Kingston, and Milton. He was principal of Major Victor E. Edwards High School, West Boylston, and principal of Mansfield High School until 1942 when he was called into the service with the U. S. Navy.

Following World War II, Craig joined the staff at Shattuck School, Faribault, Minn. He was academic principal from 1946 to 1949, and then was appointed acting headmaster for one year. He was associate headmaster and director of studies from 1950 to 1954. He also served as director of the Shattuck Summer-School Camp from 1947 to 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig reside at East Shore Apartments, Culver.

MRS. ROBERT RUST IN SOUTH BEND HOSPITAL

S. Hugh Dillin Inducted As New Federal Judge

Kennedy Choice A Popular One

S. Hugh Dillin, 47-year-old former Democratic leader in both houses of the General Assembly, was sworn in last Saturday as a judge of the Southern Indiana District Federal Court.

Hoosiers of both parties hailed President Kennedy's appointment of Mr. Dillin an excellent one.

A Hoosier, Chief Justice John S. Hastings of the Seventh U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, presided at the ceremony in the Federal Building at Indianapolis.

The oath was administered by Dillin's 86-year-old father, Samuel E. Dillin, who is an active lawyer and president of the Pike County Bar Association.

Resident Of Petersburg
Judge Dillin is from Petersburg but plans to move to Indianapolis.

Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, Sen. Vance Hartke, and Chief Justice Frederick Landis of the Indiana Supreme Court were among those present. It was Hartke who recommended the former State Senator for the new judicial post.

Dillin joins Judges Cale J. Holder, Republican, and William E. Steckler, Democrat, on the Southern Indiana bench.

Resolution By Town Board On Time Situation

Culver Will Remain On "Fast Time"

[A True Copy]

The question of remaining on Central Daylight Savings Time or changing back to Central Standard Time was brought to the attention of the Trustees, at which time it was shown that Plymouth, Indianapolis, Rochester, and many other towns in our trading area have decided to remain on Central Daylight Savings Time or what we sometimes call fast time.

After considering the matter at some length, and after learning that it was the desire of the Culver Military Academy to remain on Central Daylight Savings Time, the following Resolution was submitted, after which it was duly, legally, and unanimously adopted:

"BE IT RESOLVED that the Town of Culver, Marshall County, Indiana, remain on Central Daylight Savings Time until further notice; and

"BE IT RESOLVED FURTHER that notice be given in the local newspaper of the passing of this Resolution."

JUSTICE OF PEACE QUARTERLY REPORT

Seven justices of the peace in Marshall County handled 401 criminal cases during the months of July, August, and September, and collected $8,400.90 in fines and court costs, according to quarterly reports filed with County Auditor Glendyn Albright.

Of the total Clyde Shively of Union Township reported 32 cases; State fines, $90; State prosecutor, $128; county prosecutor, $192; State fish and game, $5; bureau of motor vehicles, $33; certification, $5.50; docket, $64; justice of the peace, $128; making a total of $645.50.

Belafonte Folk Singers Score Solid Hit Here

Receive Ovation At The Eppeley

By CADET DAVID W. JOYCE

Exciting, invigorating, and compelling — these are a few of the assorted adjectives which have been used to describe the quality of the Belafonte Folk Singers who performed last Friday night at the Eppeley Auditorium.

The group, led by director Robert De Cormier, stopped at Culver Military Academy on the first leg of a nation-wide tour which will end on Dec. 17.

Organized in 1957, the group originally served as a "background effect" for the voice of singer Harry Belafonte. As the group progressed in artistic merit and style, it became evident that they were more than a supporting chorus, and under the management of Belafonte Enterprises, Inc., they cut their first record and the Belafonte Folk Singers was born.

Each of the 12 men in the group is college educated; five have won musical scholarships and awards, and all have had wide professional experience in the fields of music and drama.

Their repertoire ranged from blues and spirituals to sea chanteys and drinking songs. They also sang a wide number of songs of foreign countries including German, French, Israeli, Irish, the South Seas, and the Caribbean.

Excellent Choreography
These young men sing a song that is vibrant and sparkling, a song which is capable of carrying the listener into new heights of musical awareness and pleasure. With excellent choreography by David Tihmar, they add further movement to a song by integrating it into the rhythm of the dance.

A folk song is intended to convey to the audience the emotions of a people — a people caught in moments of despair or happiness. No other folk song is more moving or more expressive than the songs of the American negro which have played such an important part in the musical heritage of our country.

Project Images
In a song such as "Rocks and Gravel," a chain gang work song, the Singers project an image of the men chained together, sweating and toiling under a hot sun. The motions of the pick men, and the rock-pickers, the clank and rattle of the chains, and the driving beat of the drum all add to the picture of the chain gang. At other times, however, they burst forth from the melancholy plight of the prisoner to the sheer joy of a song such as the amusing rendition of the calypso melody "Judy Drowned," which tells of the sad plight of a girl who "took a short cut cross de water," on her way to the market and drowned in a stream.

This combination of humor, talent, and energy made the Belafonte Folk Singers a truly great singing group — one to be remembered for a long time by those who heard them.

Rev. R. J. Plumb To Speak At CMA Chapel Service

The Rev. Robert J. Plumb, executive secretary of the Armed Forces Division of the Episcopal National Council, Washington, D.C., will deliver a sermon during chapel services Sunday, Oct. 15, at Culver Military Academy.

The Rev. Dr. Plumb is one of many outstanding clergymen from all faiths who serve as guest ministers during the academic year at Culver. He will speak during 10:20 a.m. services conducted by the Rev. Allen F. Bray III, Academy chaplain.

Formerly rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Washington, The Rev. Dr. Plumb has been associated with the Armed Forces Division of the national council since 1954. He holds the rank of captain in the U.S. Navy Reserve and is a member of the general commission on Chaplains and Armed Forces Personnel with headquarters in Washington.

During World War II, he served aboard the battleship U.S.S. Wyoming and the U.S.S. LeJeune and was later senior chaplain at the Norfolk, Virginia Naval Base.

Following graduation from Trinity College in 1923, Chaplain Plumb worked as a reporter and assistant state editor for the HARTFORD COURANT. The following year he enrolled at Virginia Theological Seminary and in 1928 he was ordained to the priesthood. His first charge was as assistant rector at All Saints' Church in Worcester, Mass., where he worked under the Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, now Retired Bishop of Southern Ohio. In 1930, he accepted the rectorship of Trinity Church in Branford, Conn., where he served until 1940 when he was called to St. Mark's. That parish granted him a leave of absence to enter the service during World War II.

As Executive Secretary of the Armed Forces Division, Chaplain Plumb recruits and arranges for official National Council endorsement of candidates for the Chaplaincy; is in constant touch with the Department of Defense in Washington, D. C., for mutual assistance in Chaplaincy matters; and arranges conferences for and visits Chaplains on active duty. Parishes near military installations are also guided in their ministry to servicemen.

In 1955 Chaplain Plumb received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Trinity College and in 1958 he became an honorary canon of the Washington Cathedral.

Training School Held By Lions

Some 116 Lions of District 25 G, including representatives of the Culver club, held a training school at Winona Lake Oct. 1 for newly elected club officers. Lion Don Kuehl, District 25 G Governor, presided.

Forums were held to acquaint the new officers with their duties, the objectives for the District, and the goals for the coming year.

Lions Leo Henderson of Warsaw, Ed Sauers of Warsaw, and Ollie Link of North Webster, presided at the various forums. Lion Fred Auglin of the Leesburg Club discussed membership and recruitment at the various forums.

The Lionesses were entertained by Irene Meyer, retired personnel director of the General Electric Company in Fort Wayne. Miss Meyer told of her experiences as a chaperone for 800 General Electric women on a European tour. Her humorous presentation was enjoyed by all the Lionesses.

Exactly 173 Lions and Lionesses attended a delicious smorgasbord following the school.

Large New School District Being Discussed Now

The Marshall County School Reorganization Committee met Monday, and began talking about a large reorganized school district that would consist of Argos Community Schools, Union Township, Aubbeenaubee Township of Fulton County, West Township, Plymouth Community Schools, Polk Township, and Walkerton-Lincoln Township of St. Joseph County.

The matter was brought up by members of the advisory committee for Argos Community Schools, who said they would rather see a unit consisting of Argos, Union, Aubbeenaubee, Plymouth, and West, if no agreement can be reached on the school board for the proposed district of Argos, Union, and Aubbeenaubee.

Several committee members indicated however that if such a large unit is set up, they would also favor the inclusion of Polk and Walkerton-Lincoln in it.

Advisory committee members from Union Township and Aubbeenaubee Township also attended the meeting.

The Argos committee and the committees from Union and Aubbeenaubee have been unable to agree on how school board membership should be set up for the proposed district of Argos, Union, and Aubbeenaubee.

Suggest Appointments

The Argos Committee suggested Monday that each of the four civil townships in the proposed district, Green, Walnut, Union, and Aubbeenaubee, appoint one board member, and that the fifth alternate between Argos and Culver.

As an alternate plan, the Argos committee suggested that all four civil townships each appoint a member and the fifth member then alternate between Aubbeenaubee and Union Townships and Green and Walnut Townships, with one time the advisory boards of Aubbeenaubee and Union meeting in joint session to make the appointment, and the next time the advisory boards of Green and Walnut meeting in joint session to make the appointment.

The Union and Aubbeenaubee committees however suggested that if a five-member board is decided on, that fifth member should alternate between Union and Aubbeenaubee.

The county committee asked the township advisory committees to meet together and see if they could work out an agreement.

The school board plan originally proposed by the county committee called for a seven-member board, with each of the four townships appointing a member, the towns of Argos and Culver each appointing one, and the seventh member to be alternated among the townships.

The Union Township committee, however, then objected to this, and suggested that the seventh member be alternated between Aubbeenaubee and Union townships.

Culver-Argos Meeting Friday

A meeting of Union, Aubbeenaubee, and Argos committees is scheduled for next Friday evening to try to reach agreement on this matter.

Examination For Custodial-Laborer At Culver P. O.

The board of U.S. Civil Service examiners, Gary, Ind., today announced an examination for custodial-laborer at the Culver post office.

This position is restricted by law to a person who is entitled to veterans preference. Applications from non-veterans will not be accepted.

Custodial laborers perform manual labor in maintaining and cleaning buildings and grounds of post office facilities.

Starting salary is $1.76 per hour. Benefits include up to 26 days vacation, paid sick leave, and hospitalization and life insurance programs in which employees may participate.

Veterans interested in taking this examination may obtain forms at the post office. Applicants must reside within the delivery of the city for which application is made.

Completed forms should be mailed to the Executive Secretary Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Room 238 — Main Post Office, Gary, Ind.

Deadline for filing is Oct. 31, 1961.

LYMAN CRAFT ADMITTED TO SOUTH BEND HOSPITAL

P.T.A. Meeting Well Attended

The Culver-Union Township P.T.A. held its first meeting Tuesday evening in the high school study hall with the president, Don Davis, presiding.

Rev. Harold W. Hohman, pastor of the Grace Church, gave the devotions.

Mr. Davis, who is a member of the local school reorganization committee, spoke on the status of Marshall County school reorganization as it affects our community and asked for the feeling of the audience on the two main proposals which the committee are being asked to consider; namely a merger of Union, Aubbeenaubee, and Argos Community Schools; or a plan that seems to have gained favor recently, especially with Argos, of uniting Union Township, Argos Community Schools, Aubbeenaubee Township, West Township and Plymouth Community Schools, and possibly Polk Township and Walkerton (Lincoln Township) of St. Joseph County.

The high school principal, Kenneth Cole, spoke on the advantages and disadvantages of each type of unit.

After a question and answer discussion the majority of those expressing themselves favored a smaller unit if an agreement could be reached on the membership of the school board.

Time Situation A Problem

Mr. Cole also emphasized the problems that will arise from the decision of Culver officials to return to slow time and he pointed out that some of the students from North Bend Township will have to board the school buses as early as 6 a.m. under the present setup.

Don Taylor, trustee of North Bend Township, was present as well as a good representation of parents of students from that area.

All were warmly welcomed and urged to return. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 14.

SPERRY'S VISIT SON AT FORT LEONARD WOOD

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sperry and daughters, Beth and Dawn, returned recently from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where they spent a few days visiting with their son and brother, Pvt. E-1 Philip Sperry, who is taking his Army basic training at that post.

Philip will complete his basic training in three weeks and will receive a furlough at that time.

Boy Scouts Hold Rally-O-Ree At Myers Lake

Scores of Boy Scouts and leaders in the Menominee District, Tri-Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America attended the Fall Rally-O-Ree over the weekend at their Myers Lake Scout Reservation near Plymouth. The theme of the campout was "The Rock Age — A Day with the Flintstones." The demonstrations, skill projects, and games were designed to fit in with the theme.

182 Scouts and leaders checked in Friday evening and joined together for a big wiener roast and a round of fellowship.

Reveille call sounded at 6:30 a.m. Saturday morning after which each of the 21 patrols began cooking their breakfast. After breakfast, each patrol participated in a series of eight demonstrations conducted by members of the Plymouth Jaycees and the troop Scoutmasters. The demonstrations included fire building, lashing, tent pitching, first aid, trailing, observation, woodlore, and cooking.

During the afternoon, each patrol participated in the "Bedrock Olympian" — A series of eight different projects corresponding to the morning demonstrations. Each patrol was rated according to their shown skill on each of the projects. Their total score determined their award — Blue ribbon, red ribbon, or yellow ribbon.

Award winners included Troop 290, Culver Methodist Church, Carl F. Foust — Scoutmaster, Hawk patrol — Red ribbon, Flaming Arrow patrol — Red ribbon.

LOCAL STUDENTS ENROLL AT DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Two Culver students have enrolled for the fall semester at DePauw University, according to Value Williams, university registrar.

They are: Stanley Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Curtis, Route 1; and Barbara Rust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rust, 830 College Ave.

An all-time enrollment of nearly 2,300 students, including 749 freshmen, compose DePauw's student body which will help mark the school's 125th year anniversary this year.

THE REMC GENERATING PLANT WILL MEAN
Equitable Rates for Industry
Locating in Rural Indiana

New contract demands from Public Service Company of Indiana requires that REMC pay a higher rate for serving commercial and industrial loads. Either the REMC will have to absorb the extra cost at the expense of other consumers, or pass it on to the industrial user.

These demands are unreasonable and unethical. They obviously are intended to discourage industry from locating in rural Indiana served by REMC electricity. They will increase the cost of electricity to industry now using REMC service.

The only way REMCs can have a dependable source of low-cost electricity is to generate their own power at Petersburg 16 of the 17 REMCs which make up Hoosier Cooperative Energy depend upon Public Service Company of Indiana for wholesale power. They have no other source of electricity. Even in areas where an REMC could be served by another utility, the utilities have made the decision as to who would supply the power.

Junior Woman's Club Observes Guest Night

The Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club met Monday evening, Oct. 9, at the home of Mrs. Jack Campbell with 19 members present. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. John Cleveland, Mrs. Eugene Scott, and Mrs. John Hoesel.

Guest night was observed and guests present were Mrs. Joseph Pacillio, Mrs. Jerry Jones, Mrs. Charles Edgington, Mrs. Warren Curtis, Mrs. Charles Owen, Miss Mary Henning, Miss Julia Cripe, Mrs. James Bonine, Mrs. Wilber Taylor, Mrs. James Moore, and Mrs. Verlin Shaffer.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Robert McKinnis, president, and the Club's constitution was read by Mrs. Ted Strang, trustee. It was announced that UNICEF night will be held Monday, Oct. 30, from 6 to 8 p.m. Mrs. McKinnis reported on the proceedings at the State Junior Workshop which she attended with Mrs. Strang.

Mrs. Clifford H. Dawson gave a very interesting and informative program on the art of Japanese flower arranging and displayed several lovely pieces.

Following the social hour refreshments were served from a table decorated in the Japanese motif.

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Verna McDonald

Mrs. Carl Bennett, Mrs. Harry Sheppard, Mrs. Roy Overmyer, and Mrs. Dovie Overmyer entertained at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday evening at the Burr Oak E.U.B. Annex for bride elect, Miss Verna McDonald, whose wedding to Gerald J. Staten, will be a social event of Saturday, Oct. 14, at St. Mary's of the Lake Church in Culver.

The lace covered gift table was set before a huge multi-colored rainbow, the pot-of-gold providing for disposal of the gift wrappings. White wedding bells were suspended above the table with pink streamers leading to the four corners of the table which were adorned with large white bows. Guests wrote recipes and household hints for the guest of honor, following which the gifts were opened.

Dainty refreshments of decorated tea cakes, ice cream, mints, nuts, and coffee were served by the hostesses to 24 guests at tables centered with pink rosebuds flanked by pink candles.

Guests attending were from Grovertown, Knox, Plymouth, Fort Wayne, Culver, and Burr Oak.

Bible Church To Have Anniversary Celebration Sunday

The Culver Bible Church will be celebrating its third year anniversary in its new building on Sunday, Oct. 15.

Events of the day will include special services in the morning, basket fellowship dinner in the basement, and afternoon services at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Juliard of The First Baptist Church of Stryker, Ohio, will give special instrumental numbers during the services, and Mr. Juliard will be the afternoon speaker.

The public is invited to share this day of fellowship.

PRODUCTION RECORD

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of an outstanding official production record by a registered Holstein cow in this area.

Culver Dietator Eden Vel 2848-315 owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Culver, produced 17,906 pounds milk and 618 pounds butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a 12-year-old.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

CROSS BREED—A Carroll County man, Lee Stone, reports finding five little mushrooms about the size of strawberries in his strawberry patch. Stone says they might be a cross between a strawberry and a mushroom. A neighbor said he had never seen such a cross before but he had heard of crossing potatoes with mushrooms so they would hold more gravy.

Next Sunday attend the Church of your faith.

Biological Fish Survey Of Upper Wabash System

In an attempt to establish basic fish population levels, the Indiana Division of Fish and Game is conducting a biological survey of the Upper Wabash system this year.

The survey is being made by fishery biologists of the Dingell-Johnson fisheries research section. The need for this type of survey has been pointed out in the past, but personnel necessary for the prosecution of such survey were not available.

Ascertain Available Resource

The gist of these arguments is that we can hardly expect to manage our fishery resource intelligently unless we first know what we presently have. This is analogous to saying that we should harvest 100,000 fish — when we don't know whether we have 10,000 or 10 million fish!

The Upper Wabash survey will cover streams in the Wabash River drainage above Logansport, and includes the Eel, Mississinewa, Salamonie, and Wabash rivers, and Big Pipe Creek. This drainage was selected from eight river systems considered because of the three major impoundments to be constructed on the Mississinewa, Salamonie, and upper Wabash. The need for pre-impoundment data is mandatory for any intelligent assessment of post-impoundment effects on the fish populations.

Use Electrical Fishing

Fishery biologists will capture fish chiefly by electrical fishing methods. A "fish shocker" is used to momentarily stun fish so that they may be picked up in dip nets. Game fish are weighed, measured, and samples of scales are taken for studying the age and growth of the fish. The game fish are then released back to the stream. The small forage fish, usually minnows, darters, etc., are preserved for later laboratory studies. Qualitative samples of fish food organisms are taken, and other physical, chemical, and biological data recorded.

This is the third stream system studied, the first being the Muscatatuck River in southeastern Indiana; and the St. Joseph River in the South Bend-Elkhart area was completed last year. It is expected that by 1970 all or most of the major stream systems of Indiana will have been biologically surveyed.

Named Eppley Chairholder In History At CMA

DR. PRESTON W. SLOSSON

Dr. Preston W. Slosson, distinguished history professor of the University of Michigan for 40 years, has been appointed Eppley Chairholder in History at Culver Military Academy.

The appointment is announced by Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), superintendent, who said Dr. Slosson is part of the continuing program to bring outstanding college professors to Culver to fill the Eppley history chair for one academic year.

Dr. Slosson has a rich and varied background as the author of 13 books on European history, a member of the Department of State, a newspaperman and radio broadcaster, a participant in the Paris Peace Conference, and a history professor at the University of Michigan from 1921 to last June as well as a member of the faculty of many other colleges and universities in the United States and England.

Time, in its Aug. 4 issue, highlighted Dr. Slosson in its education section when a former student, Chicago Lawyer Leo T. Norville, made a personal gift of $10,000 to his one-time history professor at Michigan. Said Norville, one of 18,000 students who passed through Dr. Slosson's oversubscribed classes at Michigan:

"The gift was a token of affection, esteem and appreciation for what he tried to teach all of us."

Born in Laramie, Wyo., Dr. Slosson prepared for college in New York. He was graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Columbia University with highest honors in English, history, and chemistry. Dr. Slosson remained at Columbia to receive his master's degree in 1913 and completed work on his doctorate in 1916.

Dr. Slosson served with the Department of State from 1917 to 1919 and participated as a librarian in the Paris Peace Conference. He joined the newspaper staff of the New York Independent as literary editor in 1920 prior to becoming a history professor at Michigan in 1921. Along with his role as author and professor, Dr. Slosson was a radio broadcaster for 20 years, doing news analysis and commentary for WWJ, Detroit, during the war years, and for WUOM, the university radio station at Michigan.

During his 40 years at Michigan, Dr. Slosson spent summers and semesters teaching at other institutions in this country and in England. These include summer sessions at the Universities of Wyoming, Minnesota, and Columbia; semesters at Redlands (Cal.) College and Kansas State University, and he was Carnegie professor at the British universities of Bristol, Manchester and Glasgow in 1922-23, and Bristol, Sheffield and Aberystwyth in 1938-39.

As for his gift from Lawyer Norville, Dr. Slosson intends to "plow this gift back into education," the college education of his nine grandchildren. One grandchild, David Firestone, has entered Culver Military Academy for the fall semester and lives with his grandparents at East Shore Apartments, Culver.

Dr. Slosson is the fourth college professor to be named to the Eppley Chair of History. Others have been Dr. Russell W. Bastert, associate professor of history, Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.; Dr. Lyman Burbank, director of teacher training, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; and Dr. Donald W. Disbrow, associate professor of history at Eastern Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

The Eppley endowed chairs were set up in 1958 by the Eugene C. Eppley Foundation, Omaha, Neb. to bring outstanding teachers to Culver in the fields of English, mathematics, history, chemistry, physics, and foreign languages. The non-profit Culver Educational Foundation operates Culver Military Academy for 848 boys in grades eight through 12 from September to June and the Culver Summer Schools for 1,500 boys aged 9 through 18 during July and August.

Private Utilities Receive Billions In Federal Subsidies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Investor-owned electric utilities have obtained billions of dollars in subsidies from the Federal government, and Indiana's power companies have received $193,144,000 of these subsidies in the form of interest-free loans, all of which is a matter of public record, A. D. Mueller, general manager of Indiana Statewide Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., has revealed.

These billions in subsidies, including the millions obtained by Indiana's electric utilities, are in the form of rapid tax amortization and depreciation certificates approved by the government.

President Eisenhower's Secretary of the Treasury, George M. Humphrey, denounced the practice of granting such interest-free loans to the power companies and finally put a stop to this method of furnishing utilities with taxpayers' money, Mueller said.

"Officials of Indiana power companies are continually criticizing the Congress of the United States for setting the low-interest rate on REA loans, yet these same companies are enjoying huge subsidies from the government, paying no interest whatsoever for the use of millions upon millions of dollars of taxpayers' money," he said.

"In attacking the REA interest rate on a loan to Indiana's REMCs to build a new power plant in Southern Indiana, the utilities are simply trying to throw up a smoke screen to cover the fact that each year they collect millions of dollars from their ratepayers as 'phantom taxes', but the money collected is not paid as taxes," Mueller said.

"The benefits of these fast tax write-offs amount to interest-free loans to the utilities, whereas the REMCs pay off their loans with interest," Mueller pointed out.

He quoted Moody's Public Utility Manual for 1961 as reporting that private power companies had a total of $1.4 billion in accumulated tax deferrals as of Dec. 31, 1960, according to a preliminary tabulation of company reports to the Federal Power Commission.

"This," said Mueller, "is money collected from consumers for taxes since 1954 but not turned over to the government. A Federal Power Commission ruling permits utilities to charge consumers for more taxes than the utilities actually pay to the government."

"And," Mueller continued, "private power companies continue to pay tax-free dividends to their stockholders, thanks to the fast tax write-off gimmicks which enable the utilities to continue charging consumers for 'phantom taxes'."

Barron's, a weekly financial journal, reports that 32 private power companies paid out $91.8 million in tax-free dividends in 1960, Mueller said.

"This bonanza for private power company stockholders stems from the use by the utilities of accelerated amortization and liberalized depreciation under the 1954 tax law," Mueller pointed out.

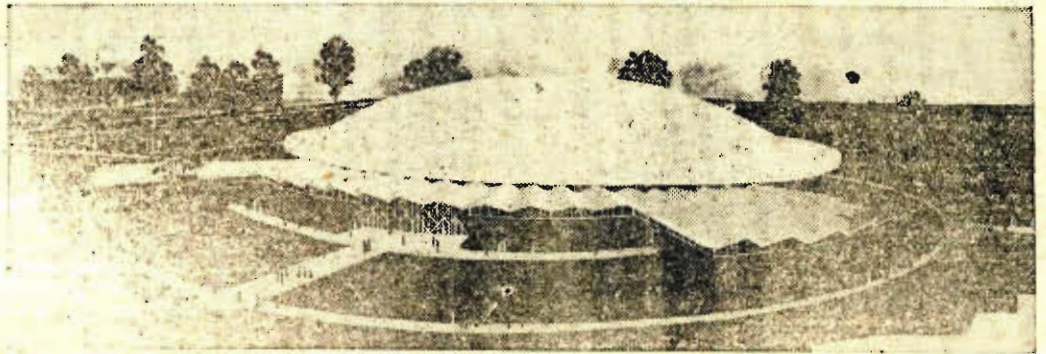

"In the period between 1950 and May, 1957, the government approved accelerated amortization certificates totaling $3.5 billion for private power companies in the United States. The certificates were issued for a 33 1/3 year period."

"Benefits of these fast tax write-offs amount to interest-free loans totaling $1.5 billion."

Mueller said that "while the private power companies make a big noise about the Federal income tax they pay, the 32 private utilities have accumulated deferred income taxes totaling $401-$442.266 for 1960, according to Moody's Public Utility Manual for 1961."

"Public Service Company of Indiana's accumulated deferred income taxes amounted to $23,509-

World's Largest Dome to Be Raised October 17 For the Church of God in Anderson, Indiana

Anderson, Indiana—The world's largest circular dome, and the first dome ever to be lifted, is being constructed atop a large mound of dirt. Then, on October 17 at 12:00 noon, the 223,000 pound construction, which is twice as large as the famed St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, will be hydraulically hoisted into place atop 36 steel posts.

This is the first time such an engineering feat ever has been attempted and it has been made possible by combining a series of recent technological and scientific developments. The "dome raising" which is open to the public, will take approximately 4 1/2 hours and will attract construction authorities from throughout the United States.

Seating 7,200 persons without any interior supports, the building will be completed in May, 1963, at a total cost of $400,000—about half the cost of a conventionally built building of equal size.

Designed by Johnson, Ritchhart and Associates, Architects, and built by Lewis Construction Company, both of Anderson, the unusual structure is to be used for the annual International Convention of the Church of God, which has nearly 3,000 churches throughout the world.

000 in 1960," Mueller said, "according to the report in Moody's Public Utility Manual for 1961."

"Tax free cash dividends paid by the Public Service Company of Indiana in 1960 amounted to $5,568,582; this represented 53 per cent of the cash dividends paid by that company last year, according to Barron's for April 3, 1961," Mueller said.

The newspaper is the only medium that works 24 hours a day to bring the advertiser's name to the public.

Juniors Set For Class Play On Oct. 20

By Susan Ruhnow and Janet Heiser

Senior proofs were returned Tuesday, Sept. 26. On Oct. 5, proofs were sent in and other pictures retaken. The seniors will receive their pictures around Thanksgiving.

The senior magazine drive was a success. NOTE: More Culver Citizens were sold this year than in recent years.

Several senior girls and some of the boys are helping the Lions Club by participating in the Minstrel Show. The program will be given Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 11 and 12, in the Community Building. Everyone should try to attend to lend support to an organization which does much for the community.

The senior class would like to pay tribute to Don Miller, a new student from California, and Chuck Reed, who are the two senior representatives on the cross country team. They are competing in "The Little County Invitational Cross Country Meet," which was run on the Culver cross country course. Keep up the good work boys!

Date: Sept. 27, 1961. Time: 7:30 p.m. Place: High School study hall. Purpose: Rehearsal of "Hobgoblin House." Yes, the juniors are preparing for their performance of "Hobgoblin House" which will be given Oct. 20. The cast: Dennis Shock appears as Darius Krupp; Barbara Hatten as Priscilla Carter; Bonnie Parker as Marian Carter; Sheryl Hohman as Jill Carter; Nick Koezzer as Frank Harlow; Thad Overmyer as Jack Loring; Carolee Easterday as Susan Parkens; Rick Ervin as Henry Goober; Paul Cromley as Bill Wilkins; Bonnie Good as Delilah; and Linda Behmer as Patricia. The stage hands are Tom Easterday and Tim Wharton. See you all Oct. 20!

The sophomores held their first class meeting Oct. 6, at which time they discussed and chose their money-making projects for the year.

The eighth graders would like to welcome all the North Bend students to Culver High. We also welcome back Susie Personette who attended grade school here.

There are 66 students in the seventh grade, 25 boys and 41 girls. I'd say the balance was a little uneven! Watch out, boys!

Confucius say: "Man who stop advertising to save money is like man who stop clock to save time."

What Class of 1961 Is Doing

By Kathy Clyne and
Beverly Barshes

The seniors of 1961 are no longer seen within our halls. Being curious concerning their whereabouts, we came up with the following facts.

Reporter Spies On Mr. Hambrock

By Carol Heiser

Let's climb into a patrol car and venture to Culver High. Upon arriving you may see Mr. Richard Hambrock, the new music director, getting out of his big blue Chevrolet.

Now let's play detective and see just what we find out about Mr. Hambrock. He attended Terre Haute Public Schools, and went to college at Valparaiso University, and Indiana University Extension, and has graduated with a B.A. degree. In college he studied organ under Dr. H. Fleischer, and has played the organ for many churches, recitals, choirs, etc. He is a member of the board of directors in the St. Joseph Chapter of American Guild of Organists in South Bend.

Before coming to Culver, Mr. Hambrock taught instrumental and vocal music at Wheeler Schools, Washington Township Schools and Porter Township Schools.

Looking deeply in the files, I found out that Mr. Hambrock was in the U. S. Army for two years. There he was the General's organist for officers' clubs.

To name a few other activities, he has been the past chairman of Northwest ISTA Regional Convention, president of Porter County Music Teachers, and president of Porter County Teachers Association.

Before I board the patrol car and head for the station, I would like to welcome Mr. Hambrock to Culver High and wish him the best of luck in his coming year.

Many Projects In Art Classes

By Karen McDonald

Children work better when there is some challenge. This is equally true when a common material like crayon is being used.

The third grade is exploring the use of tempera and crayon in the same picture. First we drew leaves of various sizes and shapes with our crayons and then applied diluted tempera paint over our paper. The wax crayon resisted the paint and the result was very exciting.

Instead of applying normal pressure on the wax crayons, in the fourth grade we pressed very hard with the crayons and covered the entire paper with color. Then we rubbed the color with paper toweling until it felt "as slippery as China dishes." The result was an unusual brilliant color, reminiscent of enamel or oil paint.

A technique called scratchboard is in progress in the fifth grade classes. We started by covering our entire paper with a heavy coat of wax crayon. We used several different colors and made bands across our page. Next we rubbed tempera powder over the entire paper. We are now ready to draw with the edge of our scissors on our paper. The scissors will scratch away some of the paint revealing the wax crayon beneath. We are all anxious to see what interesting things we can develop.

Athletic Teams Busy With Fall Schedule

By Bob Carter

Culver scored a dual victory over arch rival, Argos, Thursday night on the loser's home soil. Both the baseball team and cross-country team demonstrated their skills superbly.

The baseball team trounced the Dragons 15 to 1, with Tom Boswell winning his last high school game. The team finished the season with a 6 and 3 won-lost record.

Culver's cross-country team won a four-way meet at Argos by defeating Argos, Richland Center, and Tyner. Scoring went as follows: Culver 34, Argos 36, Richland Center 62, and Tyner 71. George Wright and Tom Yocom paced Culver to the victory with second and fourth respectively.

For the benefit of those who didn't already know, basketball season is in full swing. Culver is looking forward to a fine year with Coach Crosley.

The newspaper is the only medium that works 24 hours a day to bring the advertiser's name to the public.

We in the sixth grade are very excited about our Halloween masks. They are being made with paper mache and decorated with bright colors. We want to show them to you — so be sure to look for us on Halloween.

It's not surprising to see the girls of C.H.S. wearing their wool skirts and sweaters to school these cool fall mornings, however, who's complaining now? Wait until the first snowfall!

Although the weather has been quite chilly - why did B. J. have to keep her coat on at Carmen's party? The house was very warm. Oh? You had a "small" tear in your slacks? We understand.

"Can't you open your eyes a little wider?" Snap! There, some of the seniors have had necessary retakes and all the orders for pictures have been placed.

Some of the more brave members of the senior civics class attended Culver's last town board meeting. They even participated in one of the "heated debates." Mr. Lawson seemed quite pleased, so the board members will be surprised when the whole senior class turns up at the next meeting. Anything to earn a better grade!

Mary Jane, who is your new French friend who can speak fluent Spanish?

Attention librarians: Be on guard, the senior class will soon be dropping around to "quietly" gather material for their future civics reports.

Pete Ott! What are you walking around with that life preserver on for? Kathy's a good skipper, and after all you are back on good old terra firma now!

Thank heaven for teachers! Because they were attending Teachers' workshop Friday, there was no school.

Carolee, what is the idea of sliding down the banisters after play practice? It is late to change your mind about being in it, so why are you trying to commit suicide?

Every day around eighth period the waste paper basket in the band building is filled with gum. Mr. Hambrook made it clear from the first day that all gum-chewers would pay a penalty for showing up with gum in their mouth. Anyone feel like scraping stale old gum from the bottom of the choir chairs? How about you, Thad?

The Rainbow girls are sponsoring a dance Saturday, Oct. 14. As it is the first dance of the school year, we're sure all the students at C.H.S. will attend.

Some of the senior girls paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Graham and brought with them a few juicy gifts. How did they taste Mr. Graham?

Did you all see the attractive poster advertising the Tomahawk? Let's all try to get our money in as soon as possible to help out the weary subscription managers.

Linda Kose, Margo Overmyer, Linda Behmer, Cheryl Dillon and Mr. Robinson attended a meeting of school reporters at the Plymouth Pilot-News Thursday night. They enjoyed a tasty lunch, fine entertainment, and received instructions on the Pilot-News school page, which will appear every Friday. The two reporters had their pictures in the paper Friday.

I can't seem to make out any more signals from the camp fires, so I shall go back to my nice warm teepee. See you next week if the snow doesn't fly before then.

Grade School News

By Vicki Lyons and Nora Sheppard

Mrs. Melton - Kindergarten: Some children celebrated their birthdays by bringing cookies and cup cakes to share with the class. They were: Anna Lemar, Denise McKee, and Robin Fitterling. Thank you mothers, for being so thoughtful. We have had some colds that kept the children at home. It is a good policy to keep them at home when they are running a temperature. However, children soon learn that they may fake illnesses and get to stay home, which is a poor policy to establish.

Mrs. Barton-First Grade: Teena Anderson had a birthday Sept. 24, and Debra Sue Baker and John Gunder had one on Sept. 26. The boys and girls have brought leavies and gourds and Indian corn for the science table.

Miss Page-Second Grade: We had our pictures taken yesterday. We have seven new children in our room this year. They are: Stephen King from Missouri, Denise Crosley from Indianapolis, Bradley Bennett from Ora, and Shirley Krsek, Pamela White, Richard Thompson, and John Matzat from North Bend. We will begin to read from our second grade reader, "We Are Neighbors," this week.

Mrs. Allen-Second Grade: We are watching for signs of autumn. We love the three cocoons that Billy Herrmann brought us. Douglas Mikesell has come to our room from South Bend. Susan Powers has gone to California for her vacation.

Mrs. Carter-Third Grade: We were all pleased with our open house on Tuesday evening. Twenty-three parents representing 19 families, came to visit. They were well pleased with our room and exhibits. Several guests also looked at our room. We decorated our room with Indian scenes which we made. Twenty-five children got all their spelling words right on the Friday test. In science we are reading about how to take care of our pets. Twenty-three children have pet dogs. In health we are studying about booby traps in our house. We listed 15 such dangers.

Mrs. Little-Fifth Grade: Our interesting study at present is in science and health, where we have just completed a unit on personality. The class studied various things that go into making your individual personality. Such terms as heredity, environment, emotions, and appearance were introduced. We looked into how our personality begins from the moment of birth and how we learn feelings of security, fear, or anger. This unit gave us more understanding of mental growth as well as our physical growth.

the past few weeks we have been working hard on our multiplication tables. We are reviewing some of the work we forgot during the summer vacation. It is sometimes interesting to see how much we forgot over vacation. Several of the students from our room have been sick with colds. Tom Overmyer and Sally Ricciardi are among those sick this week.

New Instructors Join CMA Faculty

CHANNING E. MITZELL

A history instructor and a choirmaster have joined the faculty at Culver Military Academy.

They are Channing E. Mitzell, formerly a member of the history department at William Penn Senior High School, York, Pa., and Terrance A. Anderson, who last year was assistant director of choruses at the University of Wisconsin.

Channing E. Mitzell Mitzell prepared for college at New Freedom (Pa.) High School and was graduated from York (Pa.) Junior College and Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa. He received his master's degree from Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md.

He taught in public senior high schools in York County, and most recently was a member of the faculty at William Penn. Mitzell is a member of the State of Pennsylvania Advisory Council of the Junior Federation of Historians. He was the recipient of a Rotary Club award for outstanding contribution to college life.

10th South Bend
Concert Series
Opens October 27

Four of the most outstanding musical groups from Indiana University will come to South Bend during the coming season to appear on the 10th annual concert series sponsored jointly by the I.U. Center and the Progress Club of South Bend.

"The series is intended to provide a planned educational experience in classical and contemporary vocal and instrumental music on the professional level," Dr. Jack Detsler, center director, said in announcing the 1961-62 attractions.

Four Campus Groups
Coming from the campus will be the Woodwind Quintet, Madrigal Singers, Piano Duo, and I.U. Belles of Indiana.

Two of the concerts will be presented in the auditorium of the center's new building on Northside Blvd. at Greenlawn and two of the concerts which are adaptable to a smaller auditorium are scheduled for the Progress Club at 601 West Colfax Avenue. The fee for the entire series will be $4, with a special $2 fee arranged for high school students.

Concert Opens October 27
The Woodwind Quintet, which will open the series Oct. 27 in the Progress Club auditorium, is composed of the following members of the I.U. music school faculty — Harry F. Houndeshal Jr., flute; Robert McGinnis, clarinet; Philip Farkas, French horn; Roy Houser, bassoon; and Keith Kummer, oboe.

With Hugh Johnson, instructor in the Indiana University School of Music, as conductor, the Madrigal Singers includes 12 of the music school's most outstanding vocalists. They will present Nov. 17 in the center auditorium a program of 16th century counterpoint of present day popular music, as it was originally sung for drawing room entertainment.

The personnel of the piano duo has not as yet been announced. Dr. Detsler said. It will appear Jan. 12 at the Progress Club.

Concert Closes March 9
The "Belles of Indiana" is one of the best known and most widely travelled choral groups in the United States. The group recently returned from Alaska, Iceland, and Greenland where they entertained American servicemen under sponsorship of the Defense Department. This attraction will close the series March 9 in the center auditorium.

Mrs. H. L. Werner left Friday to spend several months with her daughter, Miss Ruth Werner, at Jackson, Miss.

TERRANCE A. ANDERSON

ing contribution to college life. Mr. and Mrs. Mitzell and their three children live at East Shore, Culver.

Terrance A. Anderson Anderson was born in Minneapolis and attended high school in Wausah, Wis. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1958 and received the degree of Master of Music from Wisconsin in June, 1960. He was assistant director of choruses at the university while studying on a fellowship.

Anderson is a member of the American Association of Chorus and the American Musicological Society. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity at Wisconsin.

The new Culver Choirmaster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Anderson, 421 Parkwood Avenue, Kalamazoo, Mich.

TV FADES OUT — A Michigan City television dealer, Albert Green, in response to a call from a man who gave his name as "George Davis" sent a demonstration set to a rooming house. Green told police the proprietor of the rooming house informed him a few hours later "George" had moved out and had taken the TV set with him.

5th Annual Covered Bridge Festival To Be Held This Month In Rockville

This year, the 5th annual Covered Bridge Festival in Parke County will feature the 100th birthday of the Jackson Covered Bridge. It is the longest single-span — 207 feet — covered bridge in the U.S.A., and crosses Parke Creek two miles below Turkey Run State Park. The festival will be held two weekends, Oct. 13-22, with the program both weekends. These dates normally bring the best of autumnal coloring in the wood trees in the hills along Parke Creek and Little Raccoon and Sugar Creek.

It is not generally known, but Parke County's 38 covered bridges, together with adjoining Putnam County's 20, is the greatest concentration of covered bridges in the world. Only one other county in the U. S. A. has 38 covered bridges.

The festival headquarters will be located in a huge tent on the river house lawn in Rockville where tourists register.

All visitors are given free a 122 map of the county showing four routes over 162 miles of scenic roads through 31 of the covered bridges.

Conducted tours in busses will leave headquarters continuously Saturday and Sunday.

The schedule of activities on Saturday Daylight Time follows: 10:00 a.m. — Free Covered Bridge tour with color slides of Parke County bridges. 7:00 p.m. — Free barbecue beef dinner. 8:00 p.m. — Birthdays celebration for Jackson Covered Bridge featuring a birthday cake contest, concert by the Choral Society, square dance exhibition. 9:00 p.m. — Sunrise community service: Pancake breakfast in Parke county maple syrup. 10:00-10:30 p.m.

On Saturday and Sunday there will be a Pioneer Activities contest with organizations competing for $175.00 in prizes. Operating continuously there will be a country kitchen baking bread; making apple butter; making elder; and several others. Those participating will be in costume and the products are for sale.

Rockville has five first class motels, a hotel, and Turkey Run Inn, but reservations for lodging should be made early. Residents in Rockville and county will open their homes to accommodate the overflow.

Attendance at Sunday School on our Homecoming Sunday was 89. Several were promoted after Sunday School and Charles Calhoun gave the morning message with special music by Helen Irene, Betty Jean and Shirley Crow. Basket dinner was served at noon. The afternoon speaker was Willard McCuen of Plymouth with special music by Mrs. Nellie Hunter, who sang "How Great Thou Art" and her daughter Delores who played the accordion and sang, and Mrs. Clyde Beckner who played the piano and sang.

The W.S.C.S. will meet at the church Thursday afternoon, Oct. 12. The annual supper will be served Wednesday evening, Oct. 18.

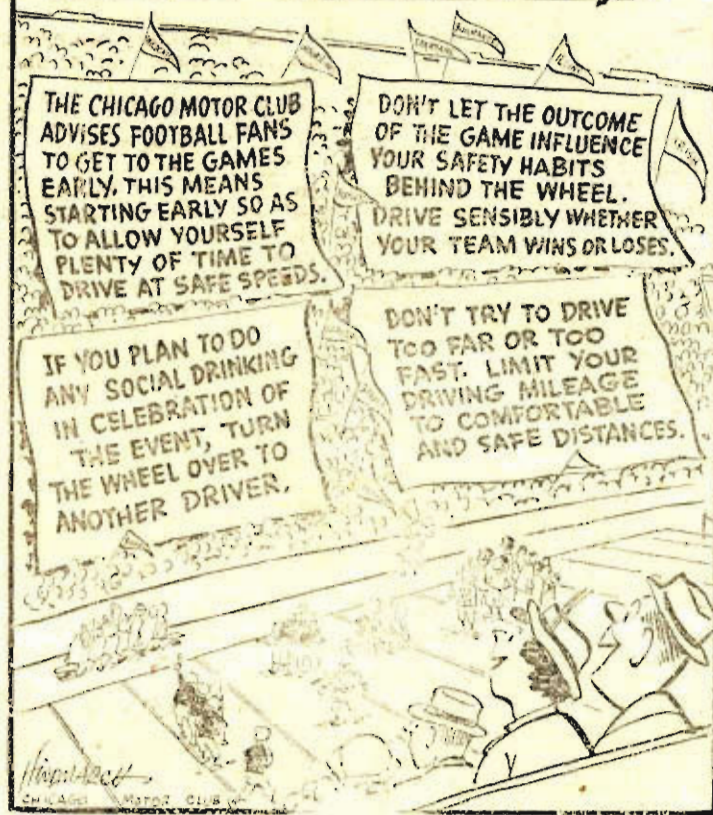

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lischko were Friday supper guests of their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Schwartz, at Bass Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz were celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Overmyer, Mary and Violet, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crow and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Nellans and Miss Bessie Flagg visited Mr. and

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith of Waterloo spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crow of Plymouth spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. Nora Crow.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Kanty of South Bend visited her brother, Clifford Overmyer, Mrs. Overmyer, and daughters Friday evening.

The October Community party was held in the church basement Friday evening. The meeting was opened by the president, Dick Calhoun. "That Will be Glory" was sung with Doris Kepler giving devotions entitled "Harvest Time" followed by singing "Bringing in the Sheaves." It was reported that the beans had been combined and the wheat and rye sowed on the farm of Mrs. Elizabeth Shivers which is farmed for the church. Danny Savage who recently returned home from Germany showed colored slides of Europe. Potluck refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Peer and Mrs. Stephen Savage to about 50 present.

Bobby Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crow, hurt his foot in the lawn mower Saturday forenoon which resulted in having to take off his big toe at his first joint.

Mrs. Anna Flagg and Mrs. O.C. Gibbons spent Thursday with Mrs. Ross Overmyer.

Suzanne Dawson, Purdue Senior, To Be Honored

Dr. Beulah V. Gillaspie, Dean of the School of Home Economics and Suzanne Dawson and Peggy Funk, students in the same school, left on Sunday for Philadelphia to attend a meeting called by the Scott Paper Company Foundation. During the meeting, the collegiate recipients of scholarships granted by the Foundation will be honored.

The School of Home Economics at Purdue is the only university in which the Scott Foundation has established a scholarship fund for students majoring in home economics. Suzanne Dawson, a senior, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Clifford H. Dawson, Culver, is the second recipient of the two-year award which was established in 1959. Peggy Funk, a junior from Stockwell, was selected last spring to receive the award for her junior and senior years.

In addition to granting the scholarships, the Scott Paper Company offered summer employment to the scholarship winners. Both Suzanne and Peggy have taken advantage of the opportunity to gain profitable experience at the company's headquarters, in Philadelphia.

Following the meeting in Philadelphia and before returning to the campus, Dean Gillaspie will go to Washington, D.C. where she will attend a meeting of a special committee of the American Home Economics Association of which she is a past president.

TWO CLASSES — Happy Christman, who reports to the Brown County Democrat on the activities of the Nashville Lions Club, says it has two kinds of members — the WW (willing workers) and the ITMT (its too much trouble).

SENTINEL

America's Home-Town Press

The Culver Citizen — along with the 9,000 other weeklies in the nation — takes prideful note of the 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week beginning October 15. We'll celebrate by continuing business at the same old stand — getting out the very best issue we can.

Meanwhile, Guy Easterly, the hard-working president of the National Editorial Association and fellow publisher of The LaFollette (Tenn.) Press, has a few words to say about honoring America's home-town press — words that express exactly why we publish this newspaper. Take it away, Mr. Easterly:

"This year's celebration is being launched under the slogan, 'Your Newspaper — Heritage of Truth, Frontier of Freedom.' Nowhere more in America than in Home-Town America is this slogan so true.

"For your community newspaper stands sentinel to guard the American way of life. That is our responsibility. We believe in the heritage of freedom, handed down by our forefathers. We believe in an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. We believe in self-government — that in the hands of the people, our way of life is safe. And we believe that no socialized state or regimented society can replace that which we now enjoy."

According to a recent survey, people made purchases because of newspaper advertising influences, only 4% because purchasing most, 81% of the newspaper ads, only 4% because of television.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Opportunity Comes Knocking

Right in the middle of harvest, Smiley Roberts' hired man hurt his shoulder. So it was a stroke of real luck when a stranger knocked on Smiley's door asking for work.

"You can start right now!" says Smiley. "O.K.," says the stranger, "but what about wages?" With that Smiley pauses and says, "Well, I guess I can pay you whatever you figure you're worth."

The stranger thinks it over for a minute, shakes his head, and starts to walk away. "Sorry, mister," he says. "It's just not worth it to work for that kind of money!"

From where I sit, a man who undervalues himself is bound to lose out in a lot of ways. But even worse is the man who undervalues other people. Chances are he's the kind of man who thinks only his own ideas are worth something — the kind of man who respects no opinion but his own. If he prefers tea, he's likely to object to your choice of coffee — or my choice of a glass of beer. Intolerance like this is no way to "reap" the rewards of good friendship.

Hunting Season For Waterfowl Set In Indiana

The migratory waterfowl season for geese, ducks, and coots was announced recently by Donald E. Foltz, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Duck Season

The duck season will be split into two periods. The first period will open at noon central standard time, Nov. 9, and will close at sunset Nov. 25. The second period will extend from noon Dec. 21 to sunset Dec. 30.

Daily bag limit will be 2 ducks, with a possession limit of 4. Hunters may shoot 6 coots daily, and may possess 6. In addition to the bag limits on other ducks, the daily bag limit on American and red-breasted mergansers is five with a possession limit of 10, singly or in the aggregate of both kinds. The daily bag possession limits may not include more than one wood duck and one hooded merganser. Canvasback and red-head ducks will be protected by a closed season.

Goose Season

The goose season will be split into two periods. The first period will open at sunrise, central standard time, Oct. 20, and extend to sunset, Dec. 2. The second period will extend from noon, Dec. 21, to sunset, Dec. 30.

The bag and possession limit is 5 geese. However, the daily bag and possession limits may not include, in the alternative, more than: (a) 2 Canada geese or subspecies; (b) 2 white-fronted geese; or (c) 1 Canada goose or subspecies and 1 white-fronted goose.

"Indiana is located in the Mississippi Flyway and was given the choice by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, representing the Federal Government, of selecting open seasons on ducks and coots of 20 consecutive days with a daily bag limit of three ducks, or 30 consecutive days, with a daily bag limit of two ducks.

"The State could choose a split season with a 10 per cent penalty in the number of shooting days. As the average duck hunter bags less than two ducks per day, the longer period was chosen. Applying the 10 per cent penalty to a season of 30 consecutive days, permitted the selection of 27 shooting days within the two split seasons.

Sunday Hunting Not Permitted

"Sunday hunting is not permitted in Indiana. With a continuous period of 30 days, four Sundays would have been involved. However the split season was so arranged that it would contain only three Sundays.

"Indiana was also given the option between selecting either a continuous season of 60 days for goose hunting or an aggregate of 54 days in a split season.

"If the 60 day season had been selected, it would have extended from Oct. 20 to Dec. 18, and resulted in a closed season for hunting geese during the second split of the duck season from Dec. 21 to Dec. 30. The split season was therefore chosen to avoid these complications.

"At a recent hearing held in Indianapolis, waterfowl seasons were discussed in detail with representatives from northern and southern Indiana.

"Restrictive regulations by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service this year make it extremely difficult to provide hunter opportunity for both northern and southern Indiana hunters. Selection of the split seasons for both ducks and geese is an attempt to furnish some opportunity for all hunters."

MONKEY SHINES

A 18-year-old youth, 18-year-old Howard Merritt of Route 1, Vernon, admitted it might have been his fault that he was bit by his pet monkey. Merritt, Deputy Sheriff Lester Kenen, he had been teasing the monkey and making faces at it before it bit him on the right wrist.

BIG HEARTED — A Scottsburg man, Elmer Hutton, displayed a generous attitude toward the 13-year-old boys accused of stealing his automobile and then damaging it. The boys, identified as escapees from a children's home at Lyndon, Ky., are alleged to have stolen Hutton's car while he was in a restaurant near Scottsburg. A friend, Donald Bloom, saw the boys driving away and he and Hutton gave chase in Bloom's car. During the chase the cars collided and the boys were later captured as they fled on foot. After learning the youngsters' ages, Hutton, although his car had been damaged to the extent of $700, insisted that the sheriff take the boys to a restaurant where he bought them steak dinners before they were taken to jail.

NOT ALWAYS — A fishing trip doesn't always mean a day of relaxation. This is demonstrated by an account in The Pike County Dispatch of the fishing trip of Mark Benjamin, his brother, Alan, and their pal, Ricky Crim. The three, after a day of fishing, were getting ready to return home when Mark got a fish hook fastened in one arm. Alan and Ricky tried to get it out and in the excitement, Mark fell into the pond. Alan jumped in and rescued his brother. About that time the Benjamin boys' father, Heber Benjamin, came along. He was unable to remove the hook from Mark's arm so he took the son to a Petersburg doctor who cut it out and treated the wound. Oh yes, according to The Dispatch account of the incident, the boys caught no fish.

BUILT-IN TIMER — A sow on the Warrick County farm of John Maier gave birth to an unusually large litter of pigs and there was no feeding facility for one of the little porkers. The Maier family began bottle feeding it. Maier said it wasn't long before the pig began coming to the house and with loud squeals reminding the family it was feeding time. Maier told The Boonville Standard the pig became so insistent upon being fed promptly it began to be a nuisance.

EVER DANGEROUS — Transportation, even before the days of the automobile, had its hazards, reminds Ward K. Bartlett, editor of The Newton County Enterprise. Bartlett, in his column in The Enterprise, said a friend recalled the deaths of two relatives in accidents caused by runaway horses. Continuing on the subject Bartlett wrote: "As an old timer, how many youngsters do you know who were thrown from horses, suffering concussions and broken limbs? The facts would not excuse the present slaughter on the highways but they might make us realize that transportation has always been hazardous."

ON THE MOVE — There are 6,450,000 truck drivers and other trucking employees in the United States, so says the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Indiana, with 202,731 places eighth in this important economic statistic.

SPARES — Mr. and Mrs. Billie Ruffing reported to The Delphi Citizen that they have a kitten with seven toes on each of its front paws.

CUT UP — When the town board of Wakarusa (Elkhart County) met to act on the town's proposed budget for 1962 the board president, Dale F. Yoder, took along a sharp hatchet and said he intended, if possible, to "trim the budget." The Wakarusa Tribune photographed Yoder, hatchet in hand, with the other members looking on with broad grins.

DOUBLE SHOT — There was so much going on recently in the community of Bourbon in Marshall County that the county seat newspaper, The Plymouth Pilot-News, gave its readers a double shot of Bourbon. It had two separate columns of Bourbon items.

BROAD SEAT — A Pulaski County man, Ivan Pelsy, brought to The Francesville Tribune office a toadstool big enough to accommodate two or three average sized toads. Pelsy's toadstool measured 11 inches in diameter. He said he saw several others not quite as large in the same field.

Why not clip this and send to a serviceman or other displaced Hoosier?

 The healing and redemptive power of divine Truth will be brought out at Christian Science

 Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement."

Peter's healing of the lame man as related in Acts (4) will be included in readings from the Bible, together with his reply to those who questioned him regarding the source of his healing ability: "Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptu-states: "The same power which heals sin heals also sickness.

 This is 'the beauty of holiness,' that when Truth heals the sick, it casts out evils, and when Truth casts out the evil called disease, it heals the sick"
 (p.135).

Dr. A. A. Norris Finds Letters Of Civil War

Longtime Summer Lake Resident

[From The Elkhart Truth of September 20, 1961]
By LARRY SCHUMPERT

Observance of the Civil War Centennial this year has sent Dr. Allen A. Norris, 401 W. Marion St., Elkhart, looking through his family possessions for letters written during the War Between the States.

Dr. Norris, a retired physician, discovered several letters written to his grandmother in Maxinkuckee from her sister in Loganport.

In a letter dated Aug. 11, 1862, Mrs. Julia Young expresses some opinions about the conflict raging to the south.

She wrote, "You said you was for putting down the rebellion at all risks. Well I am for the union as it was and the Constitution as it is and if I was at the head of government I would hang some of the leading rebels on a tree and still higher, higher up I would hang the Abolitionist."

"Must Act Promptly"

"I believe the first treason was uttered by the abolitionist. Had it been put down at first this war would not have been. But it is of no use now to talk about what fetched this upon us. We have got to act and that promptly or our government is gone up. Now we have got to make that long pull and strong pull all together and it may be that we may make both ends meet again."

Mrs. Young also spoke on the flurry of enlistment in Cass County, Indiana, for the Union cause. Her word makes one think of the current widespread discussion of mobilization.

War Fever Runs High

"The war fever is been high here. The County has been giving high bounties to volunteers and they have sent four Companies since the last of May from here, besides helping to fill old Cass County is pretty patriotic."

"I was out today to see A Company go away to South Bend to help fill up the 73rd Regiment. I live where I can see one of the recruiting offices and it seems like it is one continual roll of the drum from morning till night."

1864 Prices Of Food

A letter dated Sept. 26, 1864, discussed the wartime prices. Mrs. Young complained about butter costing 40 to 45 cents a pound, eggs selling at 20 cents a dozen, and the cheapest sugar costing 30 cents a pound. Chickens were going for 25 to 30 cents apiece.

That September also saw a Presidential election campaign between President Lincoln, running for reelection on the Republican ticket, and the Democratic nominee, General George McClellan.

Politics and War

Mrs. Young, the wife of a Northern Democrat, wrote: "We hear nothing much But politics and war news wherever you go. We have political speaking here about every night. The people here are for McClellan and so is Mr. Young . . . I say he is the man to settle our difficulties. The Republicans are to have a great mass meeting here the 4 of October and the Democrats have one the 7 of October."

Dr. Norris' own past is interwoven with that of Elkhart and the surrounding area.

Born In LaPorte (1875)

Born in LaPorte in 1875, he served as superintendent of public schools in Syracuse from 1898 to 1903. In 1906 he received his medical degree from the University of Chicago's Rush Medical College and the following year set up general practice in Elkhart.

When an epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in 1907 Dr. Norris decided to track down its source. With the help of Tom Keene, then a cub reporter for the old Elkhart Review and later editor of The Truth, he discovered that all the infected families bought their milk from the same local dairy. The two men also found that a nearby stream, whose water was used in washing the dairy's milk bottles, was polluted.

Terrible Typhoid Epidemics

Dr. Norris says that such individual effort was necessary in the early part of the century because the county board of health did little or nothing about typhoid epidemics. Not until the late 1920's, while a member of the board, was he able to get the city council to pass an ordinance that all milk be pasteurized.

Dr. Norris served on the board of health from 1918 to 1930 and in 1934 held the position of deputy coroner.

Wins Presidential Medals

His voluntary work in examining Elkhart draftees during World War II and the Korean conflict earned him the Congressional Selective Service medal. Citations signed by Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, and Eisenhower hang in the sitting room.

During his career as physician, sanitarian, and educator he has found time to do some amateur painting. The results are displayed in his living room.

Now 86 Years Old

Dr. Norris speaks of his past, not with nostalgia, but with interest and excitement. Now 86, he refers to himself as "a proud old man."

EDITOR'S NOTE: In submitting the newspaper clipping of this most interesting story to The Culver Citizen, the veteran East Shore Drive resident in beautiful handwriting, states: "If a man does not blow his own horn, the same will not be blown. Who stirred up the State Board of Health to cause Culver to put in a sewerage disposal?"

"Hoosier At Large"

"Indiana law," he said in cadaverous tones, "requires an undertaker at a cremation. I offer my services."

HAVING BAMBOOZLED the boys, Bowser moved piously about, storing details in his sharp, infallible memory.

His subsequent story is still a small classic.

"The revelry continued until 10 p.m., the appointed hour," Bowser wrote. "Then the ceremony began."

"Attired in a black version of Ku Klux Klan regalia, the 'visiting firemen' marched in solemn procession around the bier — and beer."

"A FEW ALCOHOLIC orators spoke. Then the casket was opened and the pyre lighted . . ."

The smoky, tar-fed flames shot 200 feet into the night sky and, reported Bowser, "the intense heat grotesquely twisted and turned the dear departed into a series of final oratorical gestures so frightful they drove the more sober and squeamish back to their booze baskets . . ."

The huge pyre burned for hours and was raked into smaller and smaller smoulders. Finally only a tiny heap of wood-and-anatomy ash remained.

"THESE RANDOM remnants," reported Bowser, "were unceremoniously buried in a hole kicked in the sand by a sooty, soused and sleepy crew."

STOOL PIGEON—A Canadian goose liberated from Mesker Park Zoo in Evansville by four young boys "squealed" on them and contributed to their capture. A man told police he had seen four boys goosnap the bird and drive away with it in an automobile. Patrolman James Baumeyer stopped an auto answering the description of the getaway car and began questioning the four boys who were riding in it. The questioning was interrupted by some squawking and the fluttering of wings. The boys then opened the car trunk and there was the goose.

Indians Defeat LaPaz and Argos Baseball Teams

End Fall Season With 6-3 Record

A walk, an error, and two singles in the first inning jumped the Indians off to a two run lead against LaPaz Wednesday evening, Sept. 27. The Indians continued their scoring by adding runs in the third, fourth, and sixth innings. It was a six run outburst in the sixth that put the game completely out of reach for LaPaz. The Indians aided by 11 walks used their 12 base hits to score 13 runs. LaPaz was able to collect only eight hits and four runs off the pitching of Sam Lowry. Jim Boswell, Bob Carter, and Paul White each chipped in two hits and Sam Lowry helped his own cause by collecting three hits to pace the Culver batsmen.

On Thursday, Sept. 28, in the season windup the Culver Indians stampeded Argos 15 to 1 to end a successful baseball campaign. Against senior Tom Boswell's pitching Argos could muster only two hits and one unearned run as Tom turned in one of his finest games of the year. The Culver attack was greatly aided by the 18 free passes given up by Argos moundsmen. The Indians, combining the generosity of Argos pitchers with nine hits, were never threatened as they scored in every inning but the first; topped by six runs in the fifth inning. Freshman Paul Liette and senior Tom Boswell contributed two hits each to pace the Culver attack.

Victory in the final two outings left the Indians with a 6 won 3 lost fall season and a combined mark of 21 won 7 lost for the summer and fall.

CMA Eagles Lose To Bishop Luers By 47-13 Score

Meet Penn High School Saturday

Culver Military Academy faces another rugged football opponent Saturday here when the Eagles take on Penn High School in a 2 p.m. contest.

After losing 47-13 to tough Bishop Luers at Fort Wayne last Saturday night, the Academy eleven is now preparing to take on Penn, which has a 4-2 record. Penn last Friday ended the 12-game winning streak of New Carlisle High School with a 19-0 victory. The Tigers have lost to Goshen and Bremen, while Culver's record now is 2-1 after opening triumphs over Bremen and Chicago Tuley.

Bishop Luers unleashed every offensive maneuver in its book against the Cadets. The Fort Wayne aggregation rolled up 19 first downs while compiling nearly 500 yards from scrimmage. The score mounted to 41-0 before Culver gave its 610 traveling cadets something to cheer about with a third period kickoff runback of 74 yards by Bill Borkenstein.

Coach Russ Oliver's youngsters, working with limited power due to several injured players, fell behind early in the game as Bishop Luers scored two first quarter touchdowns. The first culminated an 81-yard drive and the second came on a 59-yard romp around end by Joe Lebrato, who scored four of the Fort Wayne touchdowns.

By halftime, Culver was trailing 28-0, and if the Eagles had any hopes of getting back into the second half, Lebrato supplied the clincher with an 85-yard runback of the kickoff.

In other Academy sports, the frosh-soph scored its first victory of the season by beating North Judson "B", 13-6, on touchdowns by Bill Gleason and John Gillespie. Coach Dave Burke's cross country squad lost its third meet in five starts, 19-39, at West Lafayette. The two teams ran the two-mile meet over the Purdue University South Course. Culver's Ray Ruberg and Bob Ancira placed fourth and fifth.

Two patrols of Troop 290 went to the Rally-O-Ree Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6 and 7, at Myers Lake. Each patrol was rated on different skills such as fire building, cooking, trailing, and first aid. The Hawk Patrol and the Flaming Arrow Patrol both received red ribbons.

Monday there was a Troop Committee meeting and a Board of Review. Wilber Kelso II passed his Life rank and Steve Guise passed his Second Class.

Next Monday evening at 7:30 there will be a Court of Honor and all parents are cordially invited to attend.

By Oct. 23 all Scouts should have learned all the Morse code. On Oct. 30 there will be a "round-the-block" contest. A prize will be awarded for the winning patrol.

On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 27 and 28, there will be an overnight campout at Faulkner's Woods.

Troop 290 is proud to have Ron McKee as a new Assistant Scoutmaster. A few years ago Mr. McKee was a Cub Scout leader. Welcome to the Troop, Mr. McKee.

Troop meetings begin at 7:00 and end at 8:30 every Monday. Any boy 11 years old, or older, is extended a welcome to attend our meetings.
