32-page Booklet Promoting Indiana Industry Is Printed

Advantages to commerce and industry of new Indiana laws and organization of the Indiana Department of Commerce are featured in a booklet just published by the Department.

A 32-page publication, "Why Industry Prospers in Indiana," reveals the state's natural, economic, governmental, scientific and human resources.

New legislation has created a state industrial development fund, authorizes municipal economic development commissions, provides industrial mortgage insurance and permits warehouse inventory tax exemptions.

Other recent developments include expansion of the state's research division, institution of state planning, establishment of a Washington, D. C., office, and increased solicitation of foreign trade.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing to Lieutenant Governor Robert L. Rock, Director, Indiana Department of Commerce, 333 State House, Indianapolis 46204.

Town Board Views Insurance Needs, Other Matters

Insurance, painting, water supply, and the anti-noise ordinance were the principal items of business at the regular meeting of the Town Board on Monday night.

Clerk-Treasurer Ruth Lennen advised the board that readjustments in amounts of coverage among the several items of town-owned equipment are necessary due to the addition of new equipment during the past year. Insurance for the Town of Culver is currently being renewed for the coming year, and is placed through the State Exchange Finance Co.

The board requested Verl McFeely to obtain three bids for the painting of the South Ohio St. water pumping station and storage building.

The board voted to deny a request of the Farm Bureau Co-op to install corn drying blowers in its elevator here. Ted Ervin, president of the board, noted that while it was the interest of the board to encourage business expansion where possible, it was also the board's duty to protect residential property owners and to assure compliance with the town's anti-noise ordinance. Board members Wilfred Craft and Edgar Shaw concurred. The board had earlier conducted on-site inspections of blowers in operation in nearby areas.

Franklin Hilles, West Shore Dr. property owner questioned the rate of progress being made in the removal of sludge from the digester tank at the sewage treatment plant, and reminded the board that a specified level must be reached by October to conform with a recent court order.

The board informed Hilles that one tank truck is now available for this hauling, and a second tank has been obtained and will be put into service as soon as a suitable truck chassis can be purchased.

The board also discussed the possibility of conducting a feasibility study toward upgrading the water supply system, as outlined in recent Indiana Rating Bureau recommendations.

School Bookstore To Be Open On Aug. 26, 27, 28

Principal Kenneth Cole announces that the patrons of the Culver Public School will be able to pay their book rental fees at the School Bookstore during the hours of 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, August 26, 27, and 28, 1965.

In order that books may be issued to all students the first day of school it will be absolutely necessary that all parents of school age children (or the child himself) come to the high school bookstore on one of the aforementioned dates and pay the book rental fee. In the few cases where the total book rental fee can't be paid by the parent a contract for payment needs to be arranged. If no payment or contract is arranged the issuance of books will be seriously jeopardized.

Any parent that for any reason feels need to be counseled in connection with book rental fees may do so in private by stopping in at Mr. Cole's office or by picking up the phone and dialing VIKING 2-3275.

U. S. MARINE CORPS WILL ACCEPT TWO-, THREE OR FOUR-YEAR ENLISTMENTS

Sgt. E. G. Krouse, Marine Corps Recruiting Officer for Marshall County announced today that under a revised policy the Marine Corps will accept enlistments for two, three, and four years. Sgt. Krouse will be at the Selective Service Board in Plymouth every Wednesday.

According to investigating officers, the accident occurred about 2:45 p.m. Monday when a car driven northbound by Miss Heiser and a southbound car operated by Richard B. Thomas, 37, 410 West Jefferson Street, Culver, collided. Deputy Sheriff Dale Dodson said a witness, Mrs. Carl Johnston, Jr., Route 2, Culver, told him she was following the Heiser car and observed the oncoming Thomas car cross the center line. The witness said she saw no evidence of Thomas signalling a left turn.

At the last second, Mrs. Johnston said Miss Heiser attempted to swerve her car to the left to avoid the near head-on collision. Deputy Dodson reported the Thomas car skidded 24 feet, and the collision was in the northbound lane of traffic.

Deputy Dodson quoted Thomas as saying he was returning home from a union hall in South Bend and that seconds before the crash he "woke up" and saw the Heiser car in the northbound lane and could not avoid the collision.

Miss Heiser died of severe head injuries in Parkview Hospital, Plymouth, about two hours after the accident. Thomas was admitted to the same hospital with chest injuries and cuts of the nose and mouth.

The fatal accident was the third this year on State Road 17, and the death was the 14th in Marshall County this year. Prosecutor Eugene N. Chipman said he will ask for a grand jury investigation of the accident.

Miss Heiser was born Sept. 27, 1944, in Plymouth to Carl H. and Hazel Harley Heiser, and resided in the Culver area all her life. She was a 1962 graduate of Culver High School and was a member of the Burr Oak Church of God.

She was employed as a secretary in the office of Dr. J. W. Oldham, Culver dentist.

Surviving, besides the parents, are two sisters, Janet and Joan, and three brothers, William, Bruce, and Robert, all at home. Also surviving are her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frances E. Harley of Plymouth; her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Laura Heiser of South Bend, and her paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Eva N. Heiser of Culver.

A memorial fund has been established and envelopes for contributions are available at the Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home which is in charge of arrangements.

Editor, THE CITIZEN:

Several Sunday afternoons, there has been an extra loud racket coming from the laundromat at the railroad station.

What the "musicians" lack in quality, they make up in crescendo, especially with an over-amplified electric guitar the twangs of which can be heard for five blocks.

The responsible adults who allow the "plug-in" should realize that some small children are awakened from their naps, older people cannot enjoy their day of rest, and the area is turned into a carnival atmosphere ala Indiana Beach . . . please take your noise to another area and have consideration for the adults.

Unnerved

Editor, The CITIZEN:

Just a year ago this month, some of the property owners on Long Point on Lake Maxinkuckee began their effort to remedy a deplorable condition that was caused by the operation of the Culver Sewage Treatment plant. This situation has been building up more each year for the past ten years, until it had become unbearable and was causing actual economic loss. We are so happy at the changes that have taken place that we wish to take this method of expressing our sincere thanks to your Town Board members who are responsible.

The citizens of Culver are probably no different than those of other communities in their apparent indifference to the manner in which their government is conducted as long as it does not bother them as individuals. They are very lucky, though, in having such capable men to care for the affairs of the Town in Messrs. Ervin, Shaw and Craft. The job of protecting our property near the plant was made much easier by their sincere help and cooperative attitudes. They were unaware of this situation since they were new Board members, but they became interested and concerned immediately. Mr. Ervin has spent many hours of his free time in investigating this problem and in solving the questions that arise — much more time than is called for in the normal performance of his duties as President of the Town Board. As Al Triplet gains more experience in this operation, and if he receives encouragement by an expression of concern by the citizens of Culver, the entire community will be improved. What formerly was an eyesore and constant source of trouble and expense can become a utility of which Culver can be justly proud. This will require a demonstration of civic responsibility by the citizens and the service organizations of Culver of which they are quite capable but which they have as yet to demonstrate.

How many citizens of Culver know where this utility is located? How many have ever visited the site? Is this utility included in the field trips that your high school government classes take during the school year? I know of one man that operates a plant of this exact type who has only an eighth grade education yet holds a grade A license and is used to demonstrate proper plant operation every year to college graduating classes. A good operator of a plant such as yours is in great demand today and the future is as bright in this area as in any.

It is unfortunate in my mind, that the few property owners were forced by Culver's apparent unconcern, to spend several thousand dollars of their own money to solve what should have been the Town's problem that should never have occurred. We are so thankful that we can again enjoy the smell of clean fresh air as it used to be, that we harbor no ill-feelings. Our only hope is that Culver will be able to persuade the present members of the Town Board to continue to serve their community in their present capacity.

Respectfully yours
 FRANKLIN HILLIS

Second Feeding Of Polio Vaccine Set For Sept. 26

The second Marshall County oral polio vaccine mass feeding will be held on Sunday, Sept. 26, in Argos, Bourbon, Bremen, Culver, and Plymouth. Locations will be announced later, but the time will be from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Your family physician greatly desires that everyone in the county take advantage of this program, which is jointly sponsored by the American Legion Posts, and Junior Chamber of Commerce Clubs in the county, under direction of the Marshall County Medical Society. County physicians urge that everyone try to set aside this date on their calendar as it will only take a few minutes out of the day to have a whole family immunized from this dreaded disease. A voluntary contribution of 50¢ a dose has been requested to defray the cost of the vaccine, but it is emphasized that no person shall be denied the vaccine because of inability to pay.

This is an oral vaccine, not a shot. The vaccine is practically without taste and is pleasantly dissolved in the mouth on a lump of sugar. Dr. James Robertson, County Health Officer, said that it is quite important to have your second feeding for total protection and longer immunity. However, he said, that those people who did not receive the first dose on May 23, may take this dose on Sept. 26 and receive their second dose from their family physician not earlier than eight weeks later.

Dr. Robertson also said that everyone of all ages from six weeks of age is encouraged to receive this vaccine, and even though a person has received shots they may be a carrier. The shots (Salk) give good immunity but do not eliminate the possibility that one may be a carrier of the virus and as a result transmit the disease to someone not immunized.

More information on the second mass feeding will be forthcoming at a later date. In the meantime, your committee again urges you as responsible citizens, to set aside a small part of Sunday, Sept. 26, to help eradicate this dreaded disease 100% from our communities.

Even comparatively small fixed objects can stop a high powered automobile cold; also the driver and passengers. Chief causes of fixed object collisions according to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company are inattention, inexperience, and misjudgment of distance. Alcohol is a known factor in many such collisions. The most fatalities from this cause occur among drivers from ages 15 to 25.

No store in town stocks more quality food items than we do. Or offers you a better-trimmed or tastier selection of fine meats. Or works harder to keep your total food bill down. Or has friendlier people to serve you. Or has cleaner departments.

With all this working for us, it makes us wonder why some people shop elsewhere. Shop A&P this week and you'll wonder, too.

Stop. How long was your reading time? Or, most important, did you get the message?

DOG ON VACATIONS

To take or not to take Fido with you on vacation — that is the question!

Dr. Ken Meyer, extension veterinarian at Purdue University, points out that all dogs are not adapted for travel with the family. Very old dogs may not be able to withstand the rigors of travel. Some dogs are unmanageable in a car and could contribute to an accident. Any sick dog should not travel.

If you cannot take your dog along, you can put him in a boarding kennel or a veterinarian's kennel. Some people have found their pets to be happy if they are left at home with someone to water, feed and exercise them twice a day.

If you do take your dog on vacation, take his food and water bowls and leash. Your dog is less apt to be upset if you take a supply of his regular dog food and water. If you are going camping, take flea and tick sprays.

About a month before you intend to leave on your trip take your dog to your veterinarian for a thorough physical examination. If the dog has any minor skin problems, ear conditions, etc., they can be corrected before you leave.

Dogs should be vaccinated for rabies within six months before you travel. Carry the rabies certificate with you when traveling as proof of vaccination.

For the dog's protection you may want to give him a booster shot for distemper and hepatitis — if it has been over a year since his last vaccination. If revaccinations are necessary, have them done at least a week before the trip.

Don't feed an animal the last thing before leaving because he will be more likely to become sick, cautions Meyer. Feed him six to eight hours before leaving, if possible.

Remember that your dog needs rest stops just as you do. When the family stops for gasoline or food, give the dog water and exercise. But don't ruin things for other travelers by letting your dog run loose. Keep him on a leash — in designated exercise areas.

When you stop, don't leave your dog in a hot car. Park the car in the shade, and open the windows slightly. Each year many dogs are overcome by heat while locked in a hot closed car.

When planning accommodations, check with motels and hotels in advance to make sure they will accept the dog.

FIBERS FOR TODAY

So you are confused about the many fibers you find on the market! Don't be alarmed. You are one of hundreds who have found selecting fabrics a difficult problem today.

Now you not only need to know the difference between wool, cotton, silk and linen, but between the acetates, acrylics, nylons, polyesters, rayons and many more!

To eliminate some of this confusion, Mrs. Bonita M. Farmer, clothing specialist at Purdue University, has written an Extension Circular, "Fibers for Today's Consumer."

In the publication, she explains the properties and uses of some 20 fibers, including technical information and care instructions.

Single copies of "Fibers for Today's Consumer," Extension Circular 529, are free to Indiana residents. You may obtain one from your county Extension office, or from the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Reading Room open in Church
Edifice 2 to 5 - Wed. and Sat.

This Sunday, Christian Science churches throughout the world will hear a Bible Lesson on God as divine "Mind." The responsive reading will include a familiar verse from Proverbs: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

Quotations from "Science and

The Culyer Citizen — Culyer, Indiana — Aug. 19, 1963 — Page 9

Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "In a world of sin and sensuality hastening to a greater development of power, it is wise earnestly to consider whether it is the human mind or the divine Mind which is influencing one . . . When we fully understand our relation to the Divine, we can have no other Mind but His — no other Love, wisdom, or Truth, no other sense of Life,
and no consciousness of the existence of matter or error" (PP. 82, 265).

QUANDARY

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Colorful crayons and cardboard cartons can create a make-believe world.

Any grocery or appliance store usually has extra cartons. A willing customer can haul home half a dozen for the asking.

A child's imagination alone can turn them into boats, castles, trains, skyscrapers or space ships — but crayons help.

To give a child a start you can cover the outside of the carton with plain brown paper, taped on. Then a youngster goes to work. With new non-flaking crayons now available in 48 colors, the results can be brilliant.

"A train can be made by drawing four big wheels in crayon on each carton" points out John Rocknowski of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. There can be freight cars with doors or passenger cars with windows. A length of rope connects the train, useful for pulling toys or small friends.

A carton with a hull drawn on it can be a boat, with a stick for a mast and brown paper for a sail. Several cartons stacked and with windows drawn on can be a tall city building. A carton can be a fortress.

Little girls can cover the outside of the cartons with inexpensive gift wrap. Furniture can be drawn with crayon on the interior walls.

A big walk-in carton, if you're lucky enough to get one, can be a theatre in the back yard in which a cast of two or three children can give plays. Even a smaller carton, cut out at the front and back and top, can be a marionette theater or a stage for paper dolls in the playroom.

The children often make up their own games to go with the boxes — collecting tickets for the train, moving a doll family into a new home in a toy truck, and so on.

Carton play may last for only a day or two. But it can be a lifesaver on an aimless Saturday or a busy cleaning day.

The cartons are free. The crayons cost anywhere from a dime to a dollar. A "carton contest" with a small prize brings out some bright ideas. And a number can play.

Children are natural mimics; they act like their parents in spite of every effort to teach them good manners.

For good outdoor meals, keep menus simple and learn the secrets of the fire, says Marcile Allen, Purdue University food specialist.

Beginners might start by cooking only one food, perhaps the meat. An elaborate meal with several foods cooked on coals requires a great deal of skill. All foods don't need the charcoal flavor; in fact it would be better planning not to repeat that flavor. Cold crisp foods taste good with charcoal meats.

If you have a fancy charcoal grill, fine! But you don't need elegant equipment. Be free and flexible enough to build a fire on the driveway, make your grill from metal half barrels, wheelbarrows and even metal snow coaster-saucers. You may even improvise pans from aluminum foil and skewers from green sticks which you know to be palatable.

Patience is the key to successfully cooking an outdoor meal. Conditions are never quite the same. Keep your cooking time schedule flexible. Remember that you need to wait for a good bed of coals — and this takes at least 20-30 minutes.

Keep some water handy to put out flames from meat fat dripping on the coals. You might use a toy water pistol or a water-filled detergent bottle. If you use a rotisserie, you might place a drip pan directly under the meat to catch the fat.

Two friends had a date to play golf. The first one stepped to the tee, took a mighty swing, and his first drive was a hole in one. The second friend stepped to the tee and said, "All right, now, I'll take my practice swing, and then we'll start the game."

Teen Dance On Jaycee Calendar

Jaycees discussed plans to sponsor a Teen Dance at their meeting last Wednesday evening at the Bank Lounge. Joe Anderlohr was named chairman of the event, with the date in September and location of the dance to be determined.

Members heard a report of plans for the concert by the Culver Summer Naval School Band which was held August 12 in the Town Park. Jim Bonine, chairman for the Jaycees, provided the folding chairs for the event.

The club received a letter from Cheryll Zink, Culver exchange student who is in South America, expressing thanks for Jaycees' participation in sponsoring the trip.

Joe Anderlohr was chairman of the Jaycees' participation in the Blood Bank Drive which was held in Culver on August 13.

The next meeting of the club will be a dinner meeting on Thursday, August 26, with the place to be announced.

The guy and gal charged around a corner and bumped smack into each other. They stepped back, apologized and started up again. But they both dodged in the same direction, and they bumped once more. Again they stepped back, apologized, side stepped in the opposite direction, and they bumped once more.

This time he stepped back, raised his hat and gallantly remarked: "Just once more, cutie, then I really must go."

Seventy-Five Attend Coon Dog Trials

The Maxinkuckee Fish and Game Club held coon dog trials last Sunday in the Robert Overmyer woods, with over 75 in attendance. Thirty-one dogs were entered in the four heat race and the final trophy race.

Major prizes were won by Oscar Mikesell, Culver, and Clara Harley, Leesburg. Gate prizes were donated by Hansen's Sport Shop and Burr Oak Hardware. Others who contributed to the success of the event were Robert Osborn, Ray Morrison, and Guy Flossen-zier.

FIRE DAMAGES GARAGE WITH LOSS ABOUT $50

The Culver Fire Department answered a call Monday afternoon to the Thomas Starkey residence on Marmont street, where trash was being burned in the yard. The shingles on the roof of the garage caught fire and damage was estimated by fire chief David Burns to be about $50.
