The folks hardest to convince they are of retirement age are school children at bedtime.

Culver Chamber Hears Marshall County Assessor

Speakers at the Monday night Chamber of Commerce dinner were Harold Roush, county assessor, and Paul M. Chrimer, project supervisor from Cole-Layer-Trumble Company, Dayton, Ohio. Members and other interested residents heard details of Marshall's county's current reappraisal.

Chrimer, who will be in charge of the forthcoming reappraisal, said the work is being done so everyone can pay his fair share of taxes on properties. He noted that taxes are not always increased as a result of the reappraisal. The major purpose of reappraisal or reassessment of properties is to assure an equitable distribution of the property tax load.

Marshall county's last reappraisal, it was pointed out, was completed in 1961 and taxes based upon it went into effect in 1962. The current reappraisal will be completed by April 1, 1969, and taxes based upon it will be payable in 1970. Cost to the county for the reappraisal is $105,000.

Property improvements and depreciation since the last reappraisal will cause valuation changes, Chrimer pointed out. It is therefore necessary, that the company representative see the interior of every house if this is at all possible. If a resident is not at home when the first call is made, two more visits will be made.

Appeals can be made to the county Review Board and a member of the Ohio firm by property owners dissatisfied with results of the reappraisal. If results of this appeal are not satisfactory to the property owner, a second appeal can be made to the Indiana State Board of Tax Commissioners.

Some items of information that must be listed about each house are whether it has a basement, attic or porch and whether these are full, partial, complete or incomplete. Other data to be obtained concerns the size of the house and its various rooms as well as heating and plumbing information. Each reappraisal representative will identify himself to property owners when he visits their house.

Fire Department Answers Calls

The Culver Fire Department answered a call on Sunday, Feb. 18 to check a grass fire at the south end of the lake. No damage was reported.

On Monday they were called within an hour to two fires. The first call was a grass fire on St. Road 10 near Col. Moore's home. The second fire was started when a car belonging to Leo Warren, backfired and caught fire causing slight damage to the motor.

Fire Chief, Dave Burns, would like to warn people about using the fire phone to inquire to the whereabouts of the fire. This act ties up the line and the operator is not able to inform the fire department of the location of the fire. Please cooperate and prevent costly delay.

"Phaedra" To Be Presented At Epply Auditorium

American poet Robert Lowell's translation of the Greek tragedy "Phaedra" by Jean Racine will be presented at Culver Military Academy on Monday, March 4.

The 8:15 p.m. performance in the Eugene C. Epply Auditorium is part of the Academy's Concert-Theater Series for students, faculty, and the general public.

Jean Racine's version of the old Greek Hypolytic legend by Euripedes about the anguish suffered when a young wife falls in love with her stepson has long been the makings for classically exciting theater. Most of the great actresses of France, indeed of the world, have been drawn to the portrayal of the extremely passionate Phaedra, for this is a role of enormous emotional grandeur. It was the favorite portrayal for the unforgettable French tragediennes, Rachel and "the divine" Sarah Bernhardt.

At Culver, the American Theatre Productions of New York presents the new translation by Lowell with a distinguished cast of Shirley Cox as Phaedra, Robert Blackburn as Theseus, John MacAllan as Hippolytus, Nancy Donohue as Ericia, Audrey Ward as Oenone, Ralph Nilson as Thermenus, Paula Shaw as Ismene and David Metcalf as the aid to Phaedra.

"Phaedra" is a woman of dark and complex passions, whose tragedy has stirred creative talents from ancient Greek times to the present. Racine's "Phaedra" was written in 1677, at the end of a 13-year burst of creativity in which he produced all but two of his 12 major plays. It is generally acknowledged that his interpretation, greatly enhanced and differing considerably from the original Euripedes drama, is perhaps the most lofty and poetic example of true French classical tragedy.

Two distinguished American poets, William Packard and Lowell have collaborated with Eric Bentley in breathing new life into this noteworthy drama with their adaptation. It is the Robert Lowell translation that will be seen here. This universally acclaimed poet has turned his hand to the drama and has presented this beautifully romantic and stirring version which recently premiered at The Theatre of the Living Arts in Philadelphia, with Diana Sands in the much-coveted role. A film version starring Melina Mercouri and Tony Perkins several years ago presented a modern look at the tragedy of "Phaedra."

THE 1968 SECTIONALS HAD no sooner gotten underway when the axes began to fly and the upsets began to occur. Fort Wayne, with its two meets, naturally began the action and this is where it all started. Both Monday night games found the underdog teams winning and word must have gotten around the state that this should be the trend. Never can we remember so many teams bullying the old reverse act by beating teams that had beaten them in the regular season, and some were terrific margins either in regular season play or in the tournies.

PROBABLY THE BIGGEST reversal was at Terre Haute as Garfield, a name that is not at all unfamiliar over the years at Indianapolis, was topped by city rival Schult. In season play the Garfield team was a 43 point victor, but in tourney play a loser! This happened time and time again as the 488 starters were reduced to 64 by Saturday night.

AT LAVILLE, THINGS WERE pretty much going as expected until the Lancers decided they wanted to travel to Logansport this week end. Glenn lost by a big margin to Bremen, and then the action started. North Liberty, a five point winner over LaVille the preceding Friday, lost to the host team, but not until a good battle was put up by the Shamrocks. On Thursday, Argos came within a whisker of dropping Jackson in a game that had the Dragons pulling the sentiments of the fans but not taking advantage of what breaks they did get. Plymouth then passed up Marian on the basis of a very big first period, but after the eight minute stanza, were outscored by the Knights.

THIS SET UP SATURDAY'S play which featured rough and tough basketball with each game in doubt until the final minutes or seconds. LaVille, using their breaks well and taking advantage of Bremen foul trouble, eliminated the Lions in the first contest. Plymouth then had to extend themselves and the fouls were an important cog in their machine as they dropped Jackson. In the finals, LaVille reversed a big loss to the Pilgrims in season play to win by a point over the Pilgrims.

TWO FACTORS WERE VERY evident in this win. One, LaVille did some terrific board work in this game getting the inside position on Plymouth on both the offensive and defensive boards. A good rebounding effort paid off with a lot of baskets and many one shot efforts by Plymouth. The other factor was the constant success of beating the Plymouth zone press creating many advantages under the basket that paid off in points. LaVille again took advantage of the breaks well to claim their sectional title.

SOUTH BEND AGAIN HAD its share of surprises. It took just one night to have a mild surprise and then a big surprise. Clay's victory over Mishawaka, in the battle of unsuccessfuls in season play had to raise a few eyebrows. Then it was Washington's turn to pull the big one by eliminating Central. Thursday's games followed the pattern predicted with LaSalle and St. Joe advancing past Adams and Riley. Saturday found Washington topping Clay in the final minute and LaSalle losing to St. Joe, a team they beat a week before, on a missed one-and-one situation with one second left and their best scorer at the line. St. Joe then earned their way to Elkhart in the final game over the host Washington team.

AT KINON, WE PUT THE right teams the entire way thru until Knox won over Winamac at night. Not seeing the action at this site, but looking at the box scores pretty closely, we wonder if Winamac didn't pull another boo-boo this year like they did in 1967 by playing the regulars too long in an easy win in the afternoon. It appears that way, or else their bench is awfully weak. At any rate, the Redskins made up for two season losses at the right time.

MICHIGAN CITY DID NOT let anyone come close to an upset as this meet went as expected. A choice of ours of Goshen to upset Elkhart was ruled out in overtime Wednesday and our feelings that their one-two punch could have moved on through was gone. However, Penn's little trick of defeating the Blue Blazers did raise a lot of eyebrows. Akron lived up to our predictions by topping Rochester, Warsaw and Mentone in that order as the sectional finals and in a fine meet small, but hot-shooting Flyers did gain their way in three close ones, to the Elkhart Regional. Valparaiso, the weakest they have been in years, lost to host Chesterton by two in the evening despite the fact they were favored on the basis of schedule, not record.

THIS SETS UP ACTION AT 16 centers for Saturday and we will again get that very cloudy crystal ball out to look at another foggy situation in Indiana basketball.

IN THE TWO REGIONALS closest to home, one is easy and one is hard. Michigan City will earn their way to Ft. Wayne. However, the Logansport meet is something else. Chesterton and North Miami are complete strangers to us and the up and downs of LaVille and Knox make them hard to predict. Something tells us to pick a name out of a hat, but even though we don't know a thing about them, Chesterton will be our choice due to the stronger schedule throughout the year.

GOING THROUGH THE ENTIRE list with little but scores to go one, plus a little knowledge of some of the teams, we see Marion at Anderson, Clinton at Bloomington, Columbus at their own meet and Connersville at the regional they host. Also, East Chicago Washington as coach Johnny Baratto evidently has ready for their own center, Evansville Reitz in Evansville, Fort Wayne Central in a close one over Fort Wayne Catholic at Fort Wayne and Crawfordsville in the Frankfort meet.

AT HUNTINGBURG, WE see one of the sentimental favorites and unbeaten teams, Oolitic continuing their streak. They meet the other unbeaten team in the state, Holland, in the first game and a good Jeffersonville in the finale. Something usually continues to fire these unbeaten schools up through the Regionals.

AN INDIANAPOLIS WASHINGTON team is the favorite in the state capitol and Kokomo is our choice at their own meet. Lafayette Jefferson will not be challenged nearly as strong in that regional as they were in the at New Castle, we like Richmond. The final meet we see Vincennes advancing.

THE TIME IS DRAWING near for the showdown battles and from this Saturday on, every move, every shot and every play of a game could have a bearing on the team that will replace the badly beaten Evansville North as the basketball champion of Indiana for 1968. Action such as only high school boys can give, added to by the tremendous spirit generated by high school age fans, will thrill thousands again this week end and the next two in this annual tournament.

Airlift Service Now Available to Servicemen

Packages up to 30 pounds for military personnel by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent air transportation at special rates, the Postmaster pointed out recently. Culver residents using this new airlift service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas. The airlift is available on a pay-as-you-go basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post rate plus a flat $1.00 fee. Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and 10 inches in diameter qualify for the new special rate. Postal patrons can take advantage of the airlift service on packages mailed to all military addresses overseas, including Puerto Rico. The airlift also applies to parcels sent back to the States by servicemen from these military offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is not required are those sent from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel rates to get similar service. In many instances the new air rates are considerably below the regular air parcel post rates. Cited are these examples:

1. Mother here sending a 15-pound package to her son in Vietnam pays $4.45 for the new service. The air parcel rate for the new airlift service is $5.26.

2. An eight-pound package goes from here to Frankfurt, Germany, costs $2.40 under the new service. The air parcel rate for the new airlift service is $3.26.

3. However, that is not always to the advantage of the sender. On some light packages air parcel post rates are lower than the airlift rates. Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to send parcels to servicemen overseas.

The new airlift service went into effect January 16, 1968, according to Postmaster Johnson.

Postmaster explained that regular postage on parcels sent to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is hauled within the United States. No charge is made for the difference between the U.S. post rate and the overseas base. Until January 16, 1968, the airlift for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of the regular post rates, these packages could be sent by surface transportation or by air from there to the overseas base. There is no charge for the partial airlift and overcharges weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive the same service.

Late Drive Carries Judson Past Indians

After a very bad start, a fine second and third quarters built up Culver's Indians for a fall in the final period that was hard to swallow. Coming from a 14-3 deficit in the early second period, the Indians fought back to move into the lead 38-37 at the end of the third period only to have North Judson blow the game wide open in the final stanza.

With the score 38-37, Culver went into an offensive shell and despite the fact that the Blue Jays weren't scoring fast, some points against none was more than the Indians could take. Ten straight points in five minutes pushed the Jays to a 47-38 lead before Terry Gentry finally hit a basket with only 2:39 showing on the clock. Another spurt by Judson, this time for seven straight points, put the game out of site.

The first quarter was disastrous also for the Indians. It took two minutes before Vermilyer hit the game's first points as he connected on a jump shot. Another jumper, this one by Neilson, and two free throws by Mathews, made it 6-0 before Kerry Haenes hit a jump shot for the Indians with over five minutes elapsed. Corky Overmyer added a free throw seconds later, but from the 6-3 score, the Blue Jays hit four free throws and another jumper by Vermilyer for a 12-3 first period lead.

The second quarter was dominated by the Indians. With their backs to the wall early in this do-or-die game, they began to open up. Neilson hit a jumper to open the quarter but Stu Lowry hit a lay-in for the Indians. After a lay-in by Mathews matched this, a pair of baskets from under by Jeff Krueger and Overmyer were followed by two jumpers by Gentry for eight straight points. Vermilyer hit a free throw, but Haenes tossed in another basket to trim the lead to 17-15 and put the Indians right back in business.

Judson enjoyed a brief flurry getting three baskets in the next minute only to have Gentry peg in another and Overmyer followed with two more Culver points. Vermilyer hit a jump shot, but Krueger and Haenes ended the first half scoring with baskets and the halftime margin was a very tight 25-23. In this half, free throws had been big for the Blue Jays as they were outscored by the Indians from the floor 22-18.

Nip And Tuck Action
The third quarter was nip-and-tuck all the way as the Indians finally moved ahead. Krueger hit first just after the action started to knot the score, but a pair of free throws by Whitenack put the advantage back to North Judson. Overmyer hit a free throw and the Indians enjoyed the lead for the first time with 5:07 showing on the clock when Haenes tossed in a jump shot from medium range. The lead then see-sawed back and forth for several minutes until back-to-back baskets by Dolezal and Vermilyer pushed the Jays ahead 35-32. Gentry hit a pair of free throws and after a single one-pointer by Vermilyer, Krueger hit from under. A free throw by Dolezal broke the tie, but Overmyer hit on a driving lay-in in the final 10 seconds and Culver held a 38-37 lead heading into the final period.

This proved to be the fateful fourth as described earlier. The Blue Jays got their revenge for an earlier season loss in this period as they earned the right to advance on to Saturday afternoon's semi-final action in the Sectional. Outscoring the Indians 21-6 in this period and 12-3 in the first quarter, it was evident that this 33-9 advantage in these quarters made the difference in the 58-44 victory. The Indians finished with two wins and 18 losses for the entire year.

Scoring Is Balanced

Balance was seen in the scoring by both teams as the Blue Jays only had six boys score, but they ranged from two to 15. The Indians were led by Gentry with 14 while Overmyer chipped in with 10. Lowry, the Indians' most consistent scorer by far this year, was held to a single basket before fouling out of the game.

U. S. AIR FORCES, Thailand — Sergeant Wayne O. Zechiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zina G. Zechiel of R.R. 1, Monterey, Ind., has been recognized for helping his unit earn the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sergeant Zechiel, an aircraft equipment repairman in the 4258th Strategic Wing at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand, will wear the distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration.

The unit was cited for achieving an exceptionally meritorious rating during the period of July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967, while operating on a base that was still in the early stages of construction and with the minimum amount of equipment and personnel. Under these adverse conditions, the 4258th Wing achieved its mission of performing aerial refueling support for Pacific Air Forces operational requirements in Southeast Asia and launching daily strikes by B-52 aircraft against targets in South Vietnam in an outstanding manner.

CULVER COMMENTS

By Alienor Osborn

Well, here it is, February 29, the day that makes it correct for all the poor unmarried girls to propose to the man of their choice. I don't have any figures on how many women take advantage of this but from my viewpoint, any woman who is still single should have enough sense to stay that way. If you want the companionship us married gals have, just prop up a dummy in front of the boob tube. At least a dummy won't drop ashes and cracker crumbs on the rug.

If you want to hear about fast results from a "Citizen" classified ad, ask Dick Dehne about his lost puppy. Even before his ad appeared in print, Mrs. Mackey's dogmatic dog rushed to the rescue and found him living off the hospitality of two cats. Dick received a phone call from a helpful citizen reporting that the pup was in the Mackey dog's custody. The little fellow is now home and presumably eating dog food for a change.

What do you think about having an ordinance against loitering? If it doesn't pertain to coffee breaks, I suppose it will not be opposed.

HELPFUL HINTS — At this time of year, we find we have on hand at least one old license plate. If you are like some of us, you may have been saving them for some time. Don't leave them in the basement, use your imagination. One common use is nailing one to your back steps making a perfect shoe scrapper. And did you ever think what quaint conversation pieces they would make as wall plaques? Crochet covers for them and you have a hot pad that is unusual to say the least. If you have kept quite a few, paint them in gay colors and outline your flower beds. Just be sure you don't leave them on your car.

HOROSCOPE — You can advance socially this week so get out there and join everything. Do not enter into gossip but be sure to listen. Things are apt to happen unless you can stick someone with your kids.

ETIQUETTE — This week we received a letter asking, "How does a lady sit down in the short skirts we wear today?" Answer: If you wish to remain a lady don't sit down.

Have you called our new number 842-2297 yet?

America's Modern Pioneers

I've just been looking through a pamphlet called "The Telephone Pioneer Story."

If you've ever been in the communications industry, you may be familiar with it. If not, don't feel there's nothing here to interest you. This is an inspiring story with a message for older people.

The Telephone Pioneers of America belong to the past, the present and the future. They held their first reunion back in 1911, when Alexander Graham Bell headed their roster of members. The inventor of the telephone delivered an address in which he predicted great things to come for the industry and the Pioneers.

Bell was right. The organization formed for the sake of "fellowship among telephone people" grew rapidly. By 1922 it had 12 local chapters. Today there are more than 70 in the United States and Canada.

The Telephone Pioneers have expanded their interests as well as their numbers. One of their watchwords is "Service," by which they mean "ever-increasing usefulness to others." Their communities are the beneficiaries of this pledge.

The technical experience of the Pioneers makes them especially helpful in assistance to the handicapped. Much of their time goes into such work as maintaining talking book machines for the Library of Congress, which distributes these machines and talking book records to the blind.

Pioneer chapters assist their localities in many other fields, from tutoring underprivileged children to rolling bandages for the hospitals. They run courses in safe driving and good citizenship. They teach hobbies like painting, carpentry, flower arrangement and stamp collecting.

One thing the Pioneers emphasize is planning for retirement. They hold round table sessions, provide literature, and bring in experts to explain the problems of health, money, living conditions and the wisest use of leisure time.

As employees retire, they become eligible for life membership. That gives them the right to participate in future activities planned especially for retired members, and the future is something to look forward to.

As the pamphlet says, "the story of the Telephone Pioneers of America is really just beginning."

New Superstitions Still Popping Up

Old superstitions, unlike old soldiers, do not fade away. They are replaced by new superstitions and new misconceptions, says TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

This is particularly true of superstitions and misconceptions about health. New scientific advances and discoveries breed a whole new crop of health superstitions.

Some of the new ones cataloged in the health book are—

Today, we have the mistaken idea that necessary and harmless chemicals used in processing food-stuffs may cause mysterious diseases like cancer. (They won't.)

We see people afraid to cook with aluminum utensils for fear of poisoning the food. (They will not.)

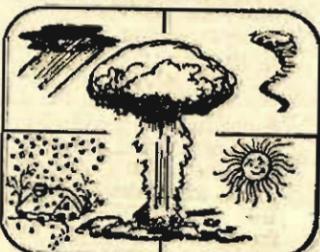

We observe people who refuse to wear glasses, and others who shun much-needed hearing aids. (Both are completely accepted by society today.)

People oppose fluoridation of public water supplies because the same chemical has also been used for poisoning rats, overlooking the fact that the whole difference lies in the matter of dosage. (Fluoridated water is completely safe.)

Many people blame climatic changes on the atomic bomb; past generations attributed such changes to artillery fire, to the use of radio and television. (The bomb has not changed climate.)

Countless mothers live in fear for their children's lives because a heart murmur had been reported. Although murmurs should be checked by a physician most heart murmurs are harmless.

There is still active opposition to the use of immunizing procedures, such as vaccination and immunization, because of superstitious dread of introducing a poison into the system. (The vaccines now in general use are safe.)

There is a modern cult of naturalism which holds that only "natural foods" are wholesome because foods grown with the aid of chemical fertilizers are inadequate. (This isn't true.)

Many harbor prejudices against canned or frozen or otherwise processed foods, and even advocate eating raw food exclusively. (Processing does not affect foods substantially, nor does proper cooking.) 11/20/67

Jr. Woman's Club Enjoys Luau

A South Sea Island atmosphere prevailed at the home of Mrs. Warren Curtis on Monday evening as the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club met for its Hawaiian Luau. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. James Bonine, Mrs. John Hoesel and Mrs. James McCombs.

The members and one guest, Mrs. Loren Voels, were attracted to the punch table which stood in front of the mask of "Ku" the Hawaiian War God. The ladies, who were dressed in South Sea Island attire, were seated at low tables which were laden with many and varied Hawaiian delicacies. Lanterns of many colors and sizes complimented the Hawaiian totem pole, Capiz, and tropical plants which served as a background for the Luau setting. Miss Linda Hudson played a selection on her Hawaiian Tremola - a stringed instrument similar to the Zither, and explained how the instrument is played.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Ronald Tusing, president, announced that the club is scheduled to attend the demonstration of the Resusci Annie manikin on March 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bank Lounge.

The next meeting will be the Girl Scout Birthday party at the Bank Lounge on March 11, with Mrs. Boswell in charge of arrangements.

The closing thought was given by Mrs. Lathem Lawson.

The Gable Image:

It Was Created Out of Life and Shaped By Experiences

Clark Gable once told a friend: "I work with all that I have been, all that I am, and all that I shall ever be."

This is perhaps the most revealing comment he ever made on the relationship between Gable the screen legend and Gable the man. The Gable image was created from life and was strongly influenced by his earliest experiences. Gable gained world-wide recognition and adoration portraying rough and tough he-men like his father, but the sensitivity underlying each Gable portrayal was nurtured by his step-mother.

Clark Gable's father, William Gable, was of sturdy German stock, and the passion of his life was the rugged work of an oilfield wildcatter. Clark's mother died soon after he was born on February 1, 1901. He was raised by a step-mother, Jennie Dunlap who lavished time and attention on him.

Although his childhood was sheltered and happy, Gable's adolescence and early manhood were quite the opposite. When Clark was about 15 he dropped out of school and took off for Akron, Ohio. Shortly after that his beloved stepmother died and his father left for the Oklahoma oilfields. Clark stayed in Akron and there discovered "theatre" and worked backstage until his father convinced him to join him in the oilfields of Bigheart, Oklahoma.

Clark finally told his father that he couldn't stand the life in the oilfields, that his real desire was to be an actor. His hard working father couldn't understand this and the two men parted unpleasantly.

The story at this point becomes unclear with Gable wandering his way West to Oregon where he worked as a tie salesman in a Portland department store and where once again he joined a little theatre group. Finally, he enrolled to study drama with Josephine Dillon, eleven years his senior, who would become his first wife.

During their years together Josephine worked a fantastic transformation on Clark. She saw to it that he got rest, dentistry, and good food, got him hired as an extra in several movies, made him a decent enough actor to work a season with a Houston Repertory Theatre and eventually developed his talent where he could confidently take on Broadway.

Gable's climb to stardom was slow and arduous, the film that established him as Hollywood's leading rugged he-man was "A Free Soul" where he played opposite Norma Shearer.

In 1935, Clark married his fifth wife, former starlet Kay Williams. He and his new wife spent a great deal of time hunting, taking trips, or golfing in Palm Springs, and Gable seemed to feel that her two children helped make his ranch truly a "home." And then a motion picture project came along that really excited him: "The Misfits," written by Arthur Miller and co-starring Marilyn Monroe. Clark dieted and rested to get in shape for production. But location conditions in Reno were worse than expected.

It was while they were in Reno that Kay Gable informed her husband she was expecting a child. Proud and delighted, he turned down all jobs for the year ahead. "Isn't it wonderful," he said, "an old bloke like me going to be a papa."

When the strenuous filming of "The Misfits" was completed, Clark and his wife returned to their ranch in Encino. Two days later he suffered a heart attack. While recuperating in the hospital Gable fretted that his illness would tire his pregnant wife. And suddenly, on the evening of November 16, 1960, at the age of 59, he died. Four months later his only child, a son, John Clark, was born.

In the hour-long television special being presented on the NBC-TV network, Tuesday, March 5, viewers will see never before shown candid and film footage of the undisputed King of Hollywood together with interviews with childhood friends and many of his most famous leading ladies, both in scenes from their most memorable films and exchanging personal reminiscences.

According to producer Nick Noxon and Irwin Rosten, DEAR MR. GABLE will explore the disparities between Gable's lusty, brawling tough guy screen image and the reserve and gentleness of his real-life personality.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

Here we are again with another week of Teepee signals.

It seems that Spit was suddenly taken ill Friday night and was sent home by Mr. Waltz. Come on, Susie, is that really the way it happened?

It says here that Valerie Carter was back in town, could it be? I didn't see her, but nice to have you back.

Hi, Uncle Louie!!!!
Happy to see the smiling faces at the Sunshine dance, right Spit? Congrats to Nancy O.
Hey, Lyn, why is your ear all black? Rumors read . . . (sorry, dumb-dumb)

Question for the week, Mr. Schmidt, who are you going to room with on the Senior Trip? No prejudices - please!

Speaking of roommates for the Senior Trip, who did you say you were going to room with, Susie Donnelly.

N. Overmyer, don't you know which door you're supposed to enter when you get into a car? Not HIS — Hers!

Hurrah for P.S.! She's got her license. Shows you what a typical sophomore can do when she sets her mind to it. (which isn't very often)

Something that will make the boys happy: a new addition to track. Nancy Overmyer has been officially asked to join the team — by Mr. Waxman, no less. Speaking of track, it begins March 4.

The town has really been livened up to say the least by the displays on the town windows for the Sectional. Good luck to all those participating. May the best window win? Speaking of winning, there seems to be a dispute over the Section Spirit windows in town. It seems that K.T. thinks that the junior window is best and H.B. disagrees and favors the sophomore window. Will all non-prejudice persons (excluding the seniors and freshmen) please inform H.B. that the junior window has originality and flavor where the sophomore window — well, let's face it — it just hasn't got it.

The orders coming from the sixth period Chem class are getting to be too much! Have a heart, guys.

Paula, who's the lucky guy? And — what does C.M.A. stand for?

Guess who's going to win the tourney — we'll surprise 'em yet!

Hey, Mr. Williams, we heard you were having a little trouble with the trailer Sunday night. Care to tell us about it?

There was an odd-looking person dressed in green — with combat boots, no less — roaming the halls Tuesday. Could it be we are being invaded? No, it's Norm Johnson. Glad to see you back, Norm.

Pam and Nancy, did you enjoy your lunch Sunday? You say you weren't caught — not even once? That's the sophomore girls for you — very tricky. They can get away with anything.

Chery, where did you get your corsage? Is there something you're not telling us?

Only 24 days until Spring Vacation — and we're rid of the seniors!!! (For a while anyway.)

Frankie, were you scared Saturday night?

It seems the big ball at the Academy drew quite a few C.H.S. girls. Right, Mary Ann Lewis, Paula Haenes, Pam Scott, Penny Bertucci, Martha Weaver, Dolores Stoke, and Phyllis Keller? Rumors are that Scott, May, Edgington, Thews, and Riester had fun too — watching from the balcony. It was noticed that someone was having a little trouble. Right, Martha Weaver?

Two of our juniors are aging rapidly. They've developed large gray streaks in their hair. Could it be the C.H.S. boys' doing? Or a certain Monterey guy, Norma?

Lifesavers — the wholesome habit — or so it says on the wrapper. Too bad Mr. Williams doesn't agree with his sixth period study hall.

By the way, Mr. Williams, does Mr. Waltz really knit your sweaters?

Suzi Riester would you care to explain the effigy hanging in your locker? You say it looks like who?

Kathy DeWitt is on cloud nine. How about an explanation, Kathy?

The days are being counted now:

89 days until graduation and 25 until the senior trip.

It seems Vickie McKinney is counting days for another reason. She's still got 81 to go.

Really Spit, Fred May, and David Hoesel, did you have to give that Winamac man such a rough time at the Tourney Wednesday night? Well next time you'll know better than to talk through the whole game. For more info, contact one of the three.

We leave you now, as the -uh-smoke signals are about to diminish with a word to the wise:

Watch your action or your liable to have soaped windows and cars — right, certain people?

4-H NEWS

By Marla Qulvey
The Maxinkuckee 4-H Club met on Feb. 21 at the Culver High School. Linda Ringer led the American pledge and Bonnie Zehner led the 4-H pledge. Margare Massa gave a health and safety report and Karla Pollock and Betty Brandt gave demonstration on telephone courtesy.

Carol Zehner visited the club and gave hints on how meetings should be run. President Denise McKee then appointed a Ways and Means committee. The meeting ended with games by Patty Lowry and Linda Ringer.

The next club meeting will be at the Culver High School on March 6.

Appalachian Children

By Carin Manchester

Thousands of ill-clad Appalachian boys and girls will be forced to drop out of school this year. Despite their bright minds and eagerness to learn, they find walking barefoot or coatless on the snowy mountain trails to school in the winter months a painful experience. Their clothes are torn and tattered, and they should have the proper clothing.

The Sunshine Society of Culver High School has in the past helped gather clothing, and once again the society has taken interest in these children. From March 18 through March 22, the Society will be collecting clothing in good condition that no one ever wears. If any one has clothes that are only collecting dust and would like to contribute to help these children, please bring the clothes to the school office during the week of March 18. The children would love them and the Sunshine Society would be thrilled to accept them.

For the sake of underprivileged children, who deserve a better chance in life — and for the sake of a better educated America, let us make this Bundle Week collection the best ever.

MADAME LIBRARIAN

by Linda Miller

Too many people think of school librarians as girls who are put in charge of the library and do very little work. After talking to a few librarians, this reporter, I found the contrary to be true.

Librarians not only check books into and out from the library, but they also are responsible for keeping the card files straight. About every other day the librarians straighten book shelves that have been disarranged by students, who in their haste to get ready for the final bell, stick the books anywhere they will fit.

Our librarians are given the task of handing out those dreaded little blue slips that not only remind the student but also tell half of his classmates that his memory has slipped a little.

Mr. Tanksley, the sponsor of the Librarians' club, couldn't do all of these jobs plus the many other details he attends to. He and the other students who ask for reference help are very glad to have these girls around to help them.

The members of the student body owe a salute to our librarians, who in many cases are among the students' best friends.

SERVICE NOTES

(DO394) MEMPHIS (FHTNC) Feb. 19 — Airman Apprentice Richard A. Cooper, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Cooper of Rte. 2, Culver, Ind., was graduated from the Aviation Mechanical Fundamentals School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn.

The 160-hour course included basic mathematics, common aircraft hardware, mechanical and electrical physics, aeronautical publications, and the use and application of hand tools.

Culver Military Academy Sports

Spring sports are off and running at Culver Military Academy as the track team meets Fort Wayne North Side at 7 p.m. Friday for their second meet of the season.

Culver gymnasts will close their season Thursday at South Bend Adams. They have a 3-0-1 season record so far. The polo team meets the Chicago Centaurs Friday at 7:30 and Saturday at 2 p.m. The team has six meets before the end of their season.

The basketball team closed its season last week end with a 14-6 record after an 81-50 victory over St. John's Military Academy and an 88-67 loss to Wayland Academy.

Co-captain Gordie Delk was Culver's top scorer against St. John's with 18 points, followed by co-captain Tom Matlock with 15.

Scoring By Quarter

CMA	12	36	62	81
St. John's	18	30	40	50

Co-captain Tom Matlock took Culver scoring honors against Wayland Academy with 17 points, followed by Rich White with 13.

Scoring by Quarter

CMA	18	31	46	61
Wayland	16	44	67	88

The polo team split last week end's two games with the Mahoning Valley Polo Club of Youngstown, Ohio. The Eagles won Friday's game, 11-7, and lost in Saturday's high speed action, 16-14.

The gymnastics team maintained its defeated record by trimming Hanover Central last Friday, 88.5-55.5. The gymnasts took five out of seven first. Captain Gus Garcia won the still rings and floor exercise, Dimitrije Milovich won the trampoline and side horse, and George Fleming won the horizontal bar event.

Indoor track season opens Tuesday (Feb. 27) at Culver Military Academy against Hobart High School. The Eagle team will face 11 opponents before the Hoosier Relays, March 23, at Bloomington, Ind.

Hobart and Fort Wayne North Side, scheduled for March 1, have been long-time competitors in Culver's indoor program. Returning as track and field coaches this year are David L. Burke and A. Burke and A. Coke Smith. Culver compiled a 9-2 indoor

Coach Burke said that Culver's biggest problem will be a lack of depth. We will have at least one good man in nearly every event. One of the biggest question marks is the high jump. Here we just have beginners. Whether we're strong as a team depends on whether the depth develops.

"We should be strong, eventually at least, in the quarter on up, pole vault, broad jump and hurdles. Most of our key personnel are seniors. Jack Shoaf could compete effectively in the 40-yard dash, 45-yard high and low hurdles, pole vault, 8-and 12-lap relays and high jump. He's our most versatile competitor."

Culver has a 123-yard track which requires 14 laps and 36 yards to complete the mile.

CMA Students Win Gold Medals

Gold Medals in two Class I solo events were won by Culver Military Academy students at the Indiana State Solo and Ensemble Music Contest held in Indianapolis this week.

A brass quartet from the Academy's Band was also awarded a first place Gold Metal in the ensemble event.

Michael Lee Bushnell, Chesterton, Ind., a Cum Laude student and National Merit Semi-finalist, was awarded his Gold Medal for clarinet solo.

James Earl Turner, Calumet,
City, Ill., a sophomore, played a saxophone solo which won him a Gold Medal at the contest, attended by hundreds of musicians and district from all over the state of Indiana.

The Gold Medal-winning brass quartet included Fred M. Bussie, South Bend, Ind., a junior; Dennis Hansel, Chalmers, Ind., a senior; Edward Newman, San Diego, Calif., another Cum Laude

senior; and Thomas Rentschler, a senior from Rochester, Ind.

The Academy musicians had all been Gold Medal winners in their specific musical events at the district music competitions held earlier in the month, a requirement for entering the state competitions. The state contest was held on the campus of Butler University.

A Bumper Crop Of Food Fantasies

Naturally, the interest of all of us in food gives rise to numerous food superstitions and misconceptions, says TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

Some tabulations list more than 200 common modern-day misconceptions about food.

Here are a few of the more common fallacies. They're all erroneous—

If a few vitamins are good,
more must be better. (Not correct.)

Never give milk to a patient with fever. (The milk won't affect the fever at all.)

Parsnips should be eaten often to cleanse the kidneys. (They don't.)

Beets build blood. (They don't.)

Pork is indigestible. (It is no more indigestible than other meats.)

Sour foods, such as lemon juice or sauerkraut, can cure diabetes. (They can't.)

For treatment of arthritis, grape juice, honey, dried poke berries, carrot juice and tomatoes are helpful. (They're not.)

Cooked cereals heat the blood. (They don't.)

Warm bread may cause a stroke. (It won't.)

Putting cream in coffee makes the coffee more harmful. (No.)

Ice water causes heart trouble. (It doesn't.)

Raw vegetable juice contains life-giving properties, but cooked foods are "dead." (Not so.)

Olives, oysters and raw eggs increase sexual potency. (They don't.)

Wine makes blood. (It doesn't.)

White sugar is not good for the health. (Not true.)

White bread is poisonous. (It isn't.)

If the expectant mother holds her weight down, the size of the baby will be reduced. (Not a fact.)

Enriched candy is good for reducing. (It isn't.)

Calories don't count. (They do.)

Melba toast has no calories.
(It has.)

Never eat rabbits because they are all disease carriers. (No.)

Yogurt and brewer's yeast are dietary requirements. (They aren't.)

Be Doers

"But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves."
— James 1:22

It takes very little effort to spend an hour or two in church each week. Leading a full-time Christian life is something different.

Many of us find it easy to condemn and are far from quick with our forgiveness. We are quick to be proud, slow to recognize the achievements of others. We take what we can and often forget the merits of sharing.

We talk brotherhood—but do we practice what we preach?

We scream when we are in pain—but sometimes fail to hear a cry for help.

It is not enough to hear the word of God. We must heed.
We must be doers according to the word.
