to pay the penalty for stealing

It is now apparent that the HERALD made a mistake in reporting that the new M. E. church bell is a total failure so far as a noise maker.
In fact taking the price of the bell into consideration, it is all that could be expected, and its failure to give out the tone naturally expected from a bell of its size, was greatly due to the way it was hung in the church tower, which when properly adjusted, will no doubt make a vast difference in the tone of the bell.
At least the HERALD is more than willing to give it every show to prove that it is worth the money invested for the same.

Friday evening, W. E. Hand gave the following young people a sleigh ride to Argos and return. The Misses Edith Schuerman, Maude
Hand, Gertrude Woodbury, Alice Shultz and Myrtle Nearpass. The gentlemen consisted of Captains
Newman, Hawkins, Barber, Hunt and Winter. After reaching Argos
the party repaired to the Argos House where an excellent oyster supper was served by that popular landlord, Andy Howell. Those who participated report an enjoyable time.

Reports show a greatly increased death rate from throat and lung troubles due to the prevalence of croup, pneumonia and gripe. We advise the use of One Minute Cough Cure in all of these difficulties. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Children like it. T. E. slattery.

The home of E. F. Hoover rang with the shout of little ones Saturday, Feb. 16, who met to commemorate the tenth birthday of their little daughter Goldie. Light refreshments were served at 3 o'clock, after which the children were treated to a delightful sleigh ride of one hour.
Returning they left for their homes declaring Goldie a perfect little hostess, and wishing her many happy returns of her birthday.
Quite a number of presents were received by Goldie, for which she was pleased. About fifty young people were present.

Last Friday Theodore Cressner, of Plymouth, received a letter which was mailed on the Pittsburg & Ft.
Wayne E. R. demanding in most strong terms $500, and if the deposit was not made in a certain hollow tree up Yellow river on a given date and hour his boy would be kidnapped and forever become a minus quantity in the Cressner home. Mr.
Cressner, after due deliberation, made the required deposit, but as no one made their appearance to pur-loin the money it was concluded to be a huge joke, or that the parties feared detection. At any rate the youngsters in Plymouth are on the look out, expecting to be
"nabbed" any minute.

TINY BOY'S SAD END.

STARVES TO DEATH IN A SEVEN-FOOT COAL PIT.

Wall Shows Little Lad Made Valiant Effort to Get Out—Father's Awful Discovery—Ground Hog Is Not a Vicious Prophet.

The finding of the body of Charles Fetsco, the 7-year-old son of a miner of Hastings, Pa., disclosed the fact that he had fallen into a pit and met a horrible fate, dying from starvation and cold. The boy had been missing from home for four days. To make the case more pathetic, it was the lad's father who found his stiffened body, he having tracked the little fellow in the snow. The hole is about seven feet deep, with smooth, precipitous sides. Fetsco, by leaning over the edge, could see the kneeling body of his son on the bottom of the pit, his face upturned toward the opening and his eyes wide open. Frozen drops of blood on the torn fingers and feet showed most painfully how the child had struggled to get out. In the pit there were marks on the frozen sides where the little fellow had scratched and scratched in the hope of getting hold sufficiently to pull himself out. Charles, in his efforts to liberate himself, had taken off his clothing and shoes and placed them in a pile, but as he stood on this his childish form was yet several feet below the edge.

DAM BURSTS; TWO MEN DROWN.

Accident Causes Destruction of Thompsonville, Mich., Light Plant.

The dam at the village electric light plant at Thompsonville, Mich., gave way at noon the other day, carrying away the entire structure, together with four men—George Hiney, A. B. Fox, E. Crandall and Ernest Crandall. The Crandall brothers were drowned, but the others were rescued. A team of horses was also drowned. The dam had just been completed and the electric light plant moved. The appropriation for moving the plant was $5,500 and was all expended. The village is in darkness and will remain so for some time to come.

GROUND HOG'S BAD RECORD.

His Actions in Last Ten Years Prove He Is Not Reliable.

Weather records for February in the last ten years have made it evident that the ground hog is unreliable. Only twice in that time has his prediction of Feb. 2 been accurate. This was in 1895 and 1900. Other years when he came forth, saw his shadow and retreated, leaving the inference that cold weather was to remain, he was wrong. So was he when he emerged from his hole and, not being frightened by the light, gave the people to understand that winter was practically at an end.

Killed by Poison in Oysters.

Two deaths occurred in one Toledo household; presumably from ptomaine poison in spoiled oysters. At 5:30 a. m. C. R. Burnett, the first victim, died. At 5:30 p. m. Michael McDonald, a boarder at the same house, expired after suffering untold agonies. The other members of the family who partook of the oysters are very ill, but no more fatalities are expected.

Negotiations Broken Off.

"The Danish government," says a Copenhagen correspondent, "has suddenly broken off all dealings with the United States regarding the sale of the Danish West Indies. This is due to a satisfactory offer made by the Danish East Asian Steamship Company to assist and in the future to administer the islands."

Murders His Stepdaughter.

Hall Frampton, a colored man at Nebraska City, Neb., quarreled with his wife and attempted to kill her. His stepdaughter, aged 15, took the part of her mother, when Frampton turned on her, seized a shotgun, chased her a block, shot her in the head and then beat her brains out with the stock of the weapon.

A stir has been caused in Decatur County, Tenn., by news from Philadelphia that prominent citizens of the county have fallen heir to a large portion of the big Fisher estate, reputed to be valued at something like $100,000,000.

Sixty Perish in Coal Mine.

Four firemen were killed by falling walls and a fifth was terribly burned while fighting flames in an unoccupied factory in New Haven, Conn.

Lynch Negro in Tennessee.

Fred King, a negro, was lynched at Dyersburg, Tenn., for a murderous assault on Miss Elise Arnold, daughter of a prominent physician.

TRADE CLOUD ARISES.

Secretary Gage Admits that Russia's Action Is Ominous.

A Washington dispatch says that the horizon is being carefully scanned by members of the administration and of Congress for signs of an approaching trade war with Europe. The Russian retaliation is the first cloud to appear in the bright sky of our commercial prosperity, and it is feared that it will grow to such proportions as to involve our commerce in a desperate struggle. In discussing the situation Secretary Gage, while not pessimistic, admits that there is grave danger of our exports being subjected to onerous duties. The cessation of hostilities in the Philippines or in South Africa or a satisfactory solution of the Chinese problem would, in his opinion, give renewed impetus to our export trade. The restoration of peace in Africa and Asia would open new markets which we could dominate under existing conditions. On the other hand, however, Secretary Gage would not be surprised should the lead of Russia, in the event it proved successful, be followed by other European nations.

The immediate effect of the Russian decree, when it becomes operative, will be to increase by 50 per cent the duties on American machinery, steel and iron goods. These goods already enjoy two separate reductions, 30 per cent being taken off from the general and 20 per cent from the conventional duties. The articles referred to in the Russian decree are machinery and tools of every kind, manufactures and products of cast iron and steel. Roughly stated, the United States is said to have exported goods of this description to Russia last year to the amount of about $30,000,000. The addition of 50 per cent to the duty will, it is thought, prove practically prohibitory.

Secretary Gage is dazed at the quick action of the Russian government in putting prohibitive duties on American exports, in retaliation for the increased duty on Russian sugar added by Mr. Gage. The Secretary expected the Russian government would submit to the duty until the Federal courts had pronounced on the question whether Russia actually pays a sugar bounty. The action taken means that the Russian government will not concern itself with a test case nor await the issue of such a case. However, there is an expectation that the American importers of Russian sugar will make the fight in their own interest.

MAY MOVE ON SIANFU.

Count von Waldersee Plans for Renewal of War in China.

Pekin advices say that a few days ago Count von Waldersee wrote to the generals under his supervision, notifying them to have all their available troops ready in two weeks for an expedition lasting eighty days. Gen. Chaffee and Gen. Voyron, the French commander, received letters asking for their co-operation and expressing a desire to know what forces they can spare. In commencing his letter to Gen. Chaffee Count von Waldersee says:

"Owing to the unsatisfactory nature of the negotiations for peace and also to circumstances rendering such a course desirable, it will probably be necessary to resume military operations on a large scale, especially toward the west."

Ere long an announcement is expected that the destination of the proposed expedition is Sianfu. The foreign envoys be lieve its object to be to compel the Chinese to accept the terms of the powers. It is thought that when it becomes known that the expedition has started the imperial court will hasten to comply immediately with all the demands of the joint note.

The military are much elated at the prospect of active service. Many believe the Chinese army will strive to the utmost to protect the province of Shensi against invasion.

Positive orders have been issued from Washington to Gen. Chaffee, commanding the United States troops in China, not to take part in the proposed operations in western China by Count von Waldersee and the allied troops to intimidate the Chinese authorities. Gen. Chaffee is instructed to take no part in the contemplated expedition to Sianfu, while Minister Conger is advised by the State Department not to join in any agreement that makes for further hostility. A Washington correspondent says that Count von Waldersee has been a thorn in the side of the peace envoys and his proposed campaign meets with vigorous objection at the national capital, which may be communicated to the German foreign office.

EXTRA SESSION LIKELY.

Congress Will Probably Be Convened the Middle of March.

A Washington correspondent declares that the Senators and Representatives who have been insisting that there is no occasion for an extra session of Congress, and that there would be none, have been convinced that the President, who is the sole arbiter of this question, holds to the contrary view and that he will call the Fifty-seventh Congress together in extraordinary session about the middle of March. In fact, the President told some of his Congressional callers that he would in all probability call an extra session for March 15, which is the same date fixed for the extra session of the Fifty-fifth Congress four years ago.

It is customary to allow some days' notice by proclamation. But an unofficial intimation has been given that Senators and Representatives may have full warning in order to arrange their personal plans.

The proclamation convening the Senate in extraordinary session is issued before inauguration day. The Senate is a continuous body. If there is to be a change of President, the retiring executive states in the proclamation that the call is issued at the request of the incoming President. A proclamation convening both Senate and House is not issued until the 4th of March or later.

Congress.

On Tuesday the Senate had the agricultural appropriation bill under consideration during the entire session, but the bill was little more than half completed. Debate dealt almost entirely with administrative details of Department of Agriculture, many commendations of department's work being made by Senators on both sides of the chamber. The House passed army appropriation bill and began consideration of sundry civil bill, the last of the big money measures.

The Senate, during the greater part of Wednesday engaged in executive session and in the counting of the electoral vote for the President and Vice-President of the United States. Late in the afternoon consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill was resumed, but little progress was made. At a night session the District of Columbia code bill was read. The House devoted the day, excepting an hour and a half consumed in counting the electoral vote and promulgating the result of the presidential election, to the sundry civil appropriation bill. General debate upon this measure was completed, but little actual progress was made with the bill.

On Thursday the Senate considered the agricultural appropriation bill during the day and the district code bill at a night session. The House considered the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The Senate on Friday passed the agricultural appropriation bill, with an amendment increasing from $170,000 to $340,000 the sum for the distribution of seeds. Mr. Teller announced that he would refuse to agree to a vote on the shipping bill. In the House the entire day was spent in filibustering. Mr. Cannon of the appropriation committee wanted the sundry civil bill taken up. As this day was the last private bill day of the session friends of measures of that kind set up the filibuster.

At the conclusion of the morning hour on Saturday when the unfinished business—the shipping bill—was laid before the Senate, Mr. Spooner moved to proceed to the consideration of the oleomargarine bill. By a practically unanimous vote—only two Senators voting in the negative—the motion prevailed. Thus the subsidy bill was displaced as the unfinished business and the oleomargarine bill was placed in that order. After a little over an hour's consideration of the measure it was laid aside in order that unobjectionable bills on the calendar might be considered. Nearly 300 bills, including 197 private pension bills, were passed during the day. The House made little progress with the sundry civil appropriation bill. The major portion of the time was spent in debating a proposition offered by Mr. Hill (Conn.) to strike out the appropriation of $100,000 for the free transportation of silver coin. It was defeated, 61—66. At 4 o'clock public business was suspended to allow the members to pay tribute to the memory of the late Representative Hoffecker of Delaware.

In the Senate nearly the whole of Monday was devoted to consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. Amendment appropriating $500,000 for an extension of the pneumatic tube service remains undisposed of. Point of order was made against it, but on the appeal of Mr. Mason the entire question was passed over until Tuesday. Mr. Pettus of Alabama delivered a speech in opposition to the ship subsidy bill. Conference report on the military academy appropriation bill was submitted. Mr. Daniel of Virginia made a vigorous attack upon the provision which debar a cadet convicted of hazing of holding a commission in the army, navy or marine corps. The report is still pending. The House, under suspension of the rules, by a vote of 191 to 41, passed the bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the St. Louis exposition. The bill to define the word "conspiracy" in the Sherman anti-trust law to avoid the possibility of its being held applicable to labor organizations was defeated by almost a two-thirds vote on account of two amendments which the judiciary committee placed upon the bill and which were opposed by the labor organizations. The sundry civil bill was under consideration late in the day and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriation committee, took occasion to make a detailed statement of the appropriations for the present Congress.

CONGRESSMAN HOWARD

Of National Reputation Are the Men Who Recommend Peruna to Fellow Sufferers.

A Remarkable Case Reported from the State of New York.

CONGRESSMAN HOWARD OF ALABAMA.

House of Representatives, Washington, Feb. 4, 1899.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen: "I have taken Peruna now for two weeks, and find I am very much relieved. I feel that my cure will be permanent. I have also taken it for la grippe, and I take pleasure in recommending Peruna as an excellent remedy to all fellow sufferers."—M. W. Howard.

Congressman Howard's home address is Fort Payne, Ala.

MOST people think that catarrh is a disease confined to the head and nose. Nothing is farther from the truth. It may be that the nose and throat is the most often affected by catarrh, but if this is so it is so only because these parts are more exposed to the vicissitudes of the climate than the other parts of the body.

Every organ, every duct, every cavity of the human body is liable to catarrh. A multitude of ailments depend on catarrh. This is true winter and summer. Catarrh causes many cases of chronic disease, where the victim has not the slightest suspicion that catarrh has anything to do with it.

The following letter which gives the experience of Mr. A. C. Lockhart is a case in point:

Mr. A. C. Lockhart, West Henrietta, N. Y., Box 58, in a letter written to Dr. Hartman, says the following of Peruna:

"About fifteen years ago I commenced to be ailing, and consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia, and advised me, after he had treated me about six months, to get a leave of absence from my business and go into the country. I did so and got temporary relief. I went back to work again, but was taken with very distressing pains in my stomach.

"I seldom had a passage of the bowels naturally. I consulted another physician with no better results. The disease kept growing on me, until I had exhausted the ability of sixteen of Rochester's best physicians. The last physician advised me to give up my work and go South, after he had treated me for one year.

"I was given a thorough examination with the X-ray. They could not even determine what my trouble was. Some of your testimonials in the Rochester papers seemed to me worthy of consideration, and I made up my mind to try a bottle of Peruna. Before the bottle was half gone I noticed a change for the better. I am now on the fifth bottle, and have not an ache or pain anywhere. My bowels move regularly every day, and I have taken on eighteen pounds of flesh. I have recommended Peruna to a great many, and they recommend it very highly. I have told several people that if they would take a bottle of Peruna, and could then call it a great many people."

"Since I got cured by your Peruna I have been consulted by a great many people."—A. C. Lockhart.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Mr. W. P. Peterson, of Morris, Ill., says: "I was nearly dead with catarrhal dyspepsia and am now a well man, better, in fact, than I have been for twenty years or more."

"I have been consulted by a great many people."—A. C. Lockhart.

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Miser's Condition Indicates Commission of Grave Crime—Fairs for Eastern Circuit—Woman Beaten by a Burglar—Sexton Falls Dead in Cemetery.

Newton McCormick, well known throughout the northern part of Madison County as a miser, with wealth of unknown figures, is dying at the home of one of his neighbors. He was rescued from his shanty, which was almost enveloped in flames when neighbors arrived. The old man was lying on the floor apparently in a deep sleep, but when carried into the fresh air he became delirious, and it required a great effort to restrain him from dashing back into the burning building. He said he had $7,000 in the burning house. He was not believed at first. Investigation proved that he went to Hartford City and drew $7,000 from a bank with which to buy a farm. He took the money home with him. It is the general belief that McCormick was robbed of the entire sum, and given a blow by robbers that rendered him insensible, after which the house was set fire to cover the work.

Affairs in Eastern Circuit.

The annual meeting of the members of the Eastern Indiana fair circuit was held at New Castle. M. S. Claypool of Muncie was re-elected President and Frank A. Wisheart of Middletown re-elected Secretary. The dates for holding fairs this year and the secretaries were set as follows: Middletown, July 30 to Aug. 2; Frank A. Wisheart; Hagerstown, Aug. 6 to 10; L. S. Bowman; New Castle, Aug. 13 to 17; William Risk; Elwood, Aug. 20 to 23; Frank De Harity; Greenfield, Aug. 20 to 22; Charles Downing; Rushville, Aug. 27 to 30; —; Muncie, Sept. 2 to 6; M. S. Claypool; Anderson, Sept. 10 to 13; —; McCullom; Indianapolis, Sept. 16 to 22; Charles Downing; Richmond, Sept. 24 to 27; Joseph Stephenson; Portland, Oct. 4 to 8; C. O. Hardy. Anderson district fair was admitted into the circuit.

Woman Attacks a Burglar.

A masked burglar entered the home of J. E. Hollowell at Marion and Mrs. Hollowell, who was alone, attacked the man. She attempted to tear the mask from his face. The man struck her on the head with some instrument, rendering her unconscious. He then bound her and searched the house. He secured only $2 and a gold watch. Mrs. Hollowell was found unconscious when her husband returned from his lodge meeting. She will recover.

Falls Dead by Open Grave.

While engaged in filling a grave from which the mourning party had just departed Basil Rhodes, sexton of the Fayetteville cemetery, fell dead. Rhodes was at work with his helpers when suddenly he paused from his labors, put his hand to his heart, uttered a half inarticulate cry and sank on the pile of earth beside the grave. His associates endeavored to resuscitate him, but all their efforts failed.

Leases a Vast Oil Tract.

A syndicate of capitalists has consummated the lease of 10,000 acres of land in two townships in La Porte county which are embraced in the Kankakee marsh district. It is the purpose of the syndicate to secure leases to cover 15,000 additional acres and to begin the sinking of wells at once. Oil experts claim that the largest and most productive fields in the State will be developed in the Kankakee region.

RAID BY MRS. NATION.

She Smashes Two Topeka Places Where Liquor Is Sold.

Accompanied by five hundred of her home defenders, Mrs. Carrie Nation raided joints in Topeka Sunday. Just after the deep tones of a church bell at 6 o'clock had resounded through the city in the morning, the army, a fifth of whom were women, with Mrs. Nation as their leader, marched from their place of assembly at the State House and wrecked a joint at 117 East Sixth street. The crowd was armed with various kinds of weapons, from clubs to axes. The police arrested Mrs. Nation, and her followers marched back to the State House and partially dispersed. Mrs. Nation was released by the police and, gathering anew about a hundred men and women, raided a livery barn on East Sixth street and smashed three bars which had been stored there.

Still at the head of her followers, she attempted to gain entrance to Mooser's cold storage warehouse, where the jointists have stored their liquors and bars until the temperance crusade subsides. The place was guarded by a large force of police in command of Chief Stahl. Sheriff Cook was also there. Mrs. Nation was arrested and taken to jail in the patrol wagon. Mrs. Nation and Dr. Eva Harding, another raider, were charged with malicious destruction of private property and placed under bond of $500.

Mrs. Carrie Nation in a letter to the editor of Leslie's Weekly says: "A saloon has no right in any place. I will smash the saloons in New York, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Chicago, just as in Kansas. But I must clean up my own home first. The time for the saloon to go has come. We are organizing an army of home defenders, which demands that the murder shop close, or be closed by law. Otherwise we destroy this destroyer by means of anything that will smash."

Miss Susan B. Anthony condemns Mrs. Nation, saying: "The hatchet is the weapon of barbarism; the ballot is the one weapon of civilization."

Few-Line Interviews.

William A. Pinkerton, Chief of the Pinkerton Detective Agency—The most serious criminal question we will have to deal with in the future is how to prevent the robbing of country banks and how to capture country bank robbers. This class of criminals is constantly increasing, as may be seen by the immense number of small bank burglaries that are being committed in all parts of the country. The offenses are not limited to any particular locality, but occur in almost every State in the Union. The large city banks are no longer in much danger from robbery, but the country banks, with capitals of $2,000 to $10,000, are suffering. We keep capturing the criminals who do this work, but it seems the number goes right on increasing just the same.

A. A. Alsbury of Houston, Texas—The people of Beaumont are daffy. They have gone oil crazy. The people act like mad. The city is packed to suffocation. There is oil over everything. You can smell it from the train. One can scarcely bear to have the car window raised, the odor is so strong. The air is saturated with oil until it will almost burn. I would be almost afraid to sleep in Beaumont for fear of fire. The hotels are not only crowded, but the private residences are filled with cots. Folks who have no prospective oil lands are getting rich feeding and bedding those who do have or those who have a hope of possessing some of the treasured soil. And it's no exaggeration to say the people are wild, are crazy.

John Goodnow, United States Consul General at Shanghai—What a people the Chinese are! The viceroy at Nankin, who controls 100,000,000 of his people, supplies his wants with 10 cents a day. His wealth is great, but his appetite is appeased with that small amount of food. They understand the secret of contentment. I met the descendants of Confucius living in the same place where their forefathers had lived for 2,500 years. Their conversation is beyond anything we can imagine. Has a Chinaman his wife, children and business in a town? Then what should induce him to go beyond its walls? He is content.

Daniel J. Wood of Salt Lake City—What would England do if we should tell her we were going to build the Nicaragua canal in our own way, and she could agree or disagree as suited her best. I know some over-nice Americans contend that we should not thus take advantage of England's present plight, but does any sane man suppose England would overlook a bet like that if it came her way? The history of the world's diplomacy is a story of one nation taking advantage of another's distress, and if we want to keep up with the procession, we will have to transact business on the doctrine of doing unto others as others would do unto us if they got the chance.

J. O. Brown of the City of Mexico—There is a steady increase of American energy, enterprise and capital in Mexico. And the heft of this at present appears to be moving south of the national capital for investment in coffee, sugar, mining, manufacturing, etc. Eight years ago there were twenty-three textile fabric factories in Mexico; now there are over 180. It is a wonderfully growing country.

Lieut. H. C. Young, Twenty-eighth Infantry, U. S. V.—Aguinaldo is dead. I have no doubt about it. There isn't a head of department in the Philippines who does not think the Filipino chieftain is no more. One of Col. Funston's men killed him. Nobody knows which one, but all feel confident that Aguinaldo was

WARNING FOR CUBA.

FUTURE RELATIONS MUST BE ANNOUNCED.

President Wants the Monroe Doctrine Recognized in Island Constitution—Government's Policy Based on Principle of United States as Protector.

President McKinley has sent to Havana what virtually amounts to an ultimatum to the Cuban constitutional convention. The President intimated to the Cubans that unless they formulated satisfactory relations between Cuba and the United States it would be impossible for him to send the constitution to the American Congress with his approval. The President's telegram was sent to Gov. Wood and was so drawn as to avoid hurting the tender sensibilities of the Cubans. It pointed out the overwhelming importance of close relations between the two governments, the friendly feeling toward Cuba which exists everywhere in the United States, and the responsibility which circumstances have thrust upon this country in connection with the future of the island republic.

The President urged the Cubans to take note of these facts and to comply with the wish of their friends in the United States and frame an expression of their views of the relations which should exist between the two countries. The sting of the communication was found in its tail—in the intimation that if the Cubans wish to secure independence of the island government they will have to accept the fatherly advice of the United States.

The announcement of policy, which was mapped out at the conference between Secretary Root and Senators Platt of Connecticut and Spooner, members of the Cuban relations committee, is based on the principle that the United States is to be the guarantor and protector of Cuba. It demands the recognition of the Monroe doctrine as applied to Cuba, and prohibits acquisition of territory by any foreign power. Cuba is enjoined against mortgaging the island to any foreign power, and must give the United States all facilities for enforcing its policy, as against a foreign government, or as against the Cubans themselves. The right to establish three coaling stations, at Havana, Santiago and Cienfuegos, is exacted; and permission to maintain at least a part of the United States military force now on the island. The independence of Cuba is not to be assailed, and the United States is to assist her in establishing a stable government.

FRANCHISE TAX HELD LEGAL.

Michigan Supreme Court Rules that Assessment Is Valid.

The franchises of corporations, where they are associated inseparably with tangible property, are taxable under the laws of Michigan. This is the decision of the Michigan Supreme Court, and it has created a sensation in the larger cities of the State, where the application of the principle laid down will make great changes in the assessment of street railway and similar corporate property. The court holds that franchises are property, but that they must not be assessed specifically and independently of other property.

The decision was rendered in the case of the Detroit Citizens' Street Railway Company, the property of which was assessed under the direction of the State tax commission so as to take into consideration the value of its franchises. The company claimed that after the board of assessors had determined the value of its tangible property it added thereto about $2,000,000 on account of its franchises, and the street railway company applied for a mandamus to compel the city of Detroit to strike this assessment from the rolls. The Circuit Court refused to grant the writ, and the Supreme Court affirms this decision in every detail. The case involves such extensive interests that the Federal Supreme Court will be called upon to pass upon the findings.

MRS. NATION VISITS CHICAGO.

Finds Her Husband's Grandson Is Proprietor of a Whisky Shop.

Mrs. Carrie Nation reached Chicago Tuesday night, and before 2 in the morning had made a whirlwind circuit around the city that taxed the speed and ingenuity of many who followed to keep up with her. Inside of five hours the noted saloon smasher found time to make a lengthy speech in Willard Hall, go to her hotel and retire, rise again, visit ten resorts in South State street and talk with the proprietors and bartenders and visit the ball of the Cook County Democracy at the First Regiment Armory.

This was not all, for during her busy evening she found a long-lost grandson of her husband keeping a saloon under an assumed name, embraced him and talked about relatives and old times, with sobs and prayers of praise. The startling discovery of a relative who made his living out of the hated saloon business was almost too much for Mrs. Nation.

EMPRESS OPPOSES EXECUTIONS

Thinks Powers Ask More of China than Peace Proposals Warrant.

The Dowager Empress of China is inclined to be argumentative regarding the infliction of capital punishment on the guilty officials. She telegraphed to Li-Hung-Chang demanding to know what the foreigners mean by changing the terms of the peace proposals. She says that the terms demanded the severest punishment of the leaders in proportion to their crimes. That was what China agreed to inflict, yet now come the foreigners with a new demand for the heads of all. The Empress adds she fails to see anything proportionate about that, and declares that she will carry out her agreement, but will go no further. She directs the commissioners to see the min-

INDIANA LAWMAKERS

The two houses of the Indiana General Assembly devoted much time on Tuesday to eulogies of Abraham Lincoln. Neither house adjourned in honor of the anniversary of his birth. The Senate passed the bill to enable railroads to consolidate, but the bill was so amended as to exclude parallel and competing lines from its provisions. The amendment was offered to prevent the Wabash from consolidating with the El River line, which it once leased, but which the Supreme Court declared contrary to public policy because the El River was a competing line and subsidized by the people to be a competitor of the Wabash. The bill for a reorganization of the State militia carrying an appropriation of $75,000 was also passed. The bill redistricting the State for congressional purposes was engrossed. The House spent the day on second reading. Among the bills advanced was one compelling railroad companies to sell 500-mile books for $10, the same good for use by any member of the purchaser's family.

The Senate on Wednesday killed the bill of Senator Layman prohibiting the voting of subsidies to railroads by townships or counties and passed the bill appropriating $120,000 to pay the claim of the Vincennes University against the State lands of the university sold by the State many years ago. In the House the report of the committee recommending a sentence of from ten to thirty-one years was adopted. The bill of Senator Agnew providing for the construction of a ship canal from Lake Michigan at East Chicago to the Calumet river is attracting a great deal of notice at this time. The railroads are up in arms against the measure, and have some of their best attorneys here to defeat it. The bill has passed the Senate, where it met no opposition.

The House on Thursday killed Mr. Slack's anti-trust bill and the Senate bill to limit subsidies in aid of railroads.

The lower house of the General Assembly on Friday killed the $50,000 appropriation for the pan-American exposition. A favorable report had been made to the House by the committee. The House also passed a bill compelling all railroads to issue mileage books containing 500 miles of transportation for $10. Any member of the purchaser's family may use the book.

On Monday the Senate passed the game law. Senator Lindley's bill makes it lawful to hunt in swamp and overflow lands without the consent of the owner, when such lands are uncultivated, but the hunter may not hunt within forty rods of cultivated lands. This will throw open the game preserves of the Chicago clubs. It is also made unlawful to kill more than twenty-four quail in one day. The closed season for wild geese and ducks is from April 15 to Sept. 1, and from Oct. 1 to Nov. 10. The House committee will recommend favorably the bill which has passed the Senate providing for the Calumet river ship canal. The area to be assessed, however, will be limited to a mile and a half on each side of the canal. A bill was introduced in the House providing for the incorporation of navigation companies and taxing all shipping in the State. This will affect all Chicago vessels touching Michigan City. These companies must pay to the State annually three cents a ton of the registered tonnage of all vessels engaged in commerce with Indiana ports.

WEYLER RULES SPAIN

RIOTS LEAD TO PROCLAMATION OF MARTIAL LAW.

Wedding of the Princess to a Partisan of Don Carlos Accomplished While Troops Fill Capital and Disorders Continue on All Sides.

The brilliant wedding ceremonies at Madrid, when Princess Maria of the Asturias was married to Prince Charles of Bourbon, were attended in parts of Spain by manifestations which fairly threaten revolution. It was expected that the union of the princess to one of the detested Carlists would call forth a protest, but such scenes as were witnessed Thursday, not only in Madrid, but in Barcelona, Granada, Valencia and Malaga, indicate that the populace has reached the point of desperation which leads to overt acts. A royal wedding is one of the occasions when, if ever, a loyal people are disposed to enter into the festival spirit with enthusiasm. The sullen crowds in Madrid were so obviously threatening that detachments of cavalry patrolled the street during the time of the ceremony. The gravity of the situation is disclosed in the fact that it was deemed advisable to proclaim a state of siege, the city thus being placed under martial law.

Because the local authorities were unable to maintain order affairs were placed in the hands of Gen. Weyler, and the captain general, who was driven from Cuba by American sentiment, appears to be now in supreme command. Gen. Weyler issued a stringent proclamation. There was bitter opposition in the cabinet to the radical measures taken, and the outcome of the situation, a correspondent says, is awaited with anxiety.

If the Queen Regent and her minister advisers have any means at hand for controlling the outburst of public feeling there is nothing to show it. The situation in some respects resembles that in Brazil when the wave of republicanism swept Dom Pedro off the throne. The Queen herself is not loved; her son, the youthful king, is looked upon as a weakling, destined to an early death, and the union of the Queen's eldest daughter to a Carlist and a reactionary now puts a ban upon the next heir to the throne. There is reason to believe that a large element of the Spanish public would rather see the throne overturned than to permit it to be occupied by a queen under such influences as must now surround Princess Maria.

During years of misgovernment, they have been heavily taxed and as persistently robbed by the corruptionists who hold political office. The marriage now contracted comes as a last straw upon this burden of grievances, and were a leader of the republican forces to rise and assert himself at this juncture the Queen would have little with which to combat them. The reactionaries and conservatives hold the places, both military and civil, but they are comparatively few in number and without popular influence. The Queen, moreover, has no such strong man as Canovas to guide her and hold the people in subjection. Until recently she had her choice between casting her fortunes with the liberal and republican element and trusting to their loyalty to maintain the throne or uniting with the reactionists. She has chosen the latter alternative.

MAURICE THOMPSON DEAD.

The Indiana Author Passes Away at Crawfordsville.

Maurice Thompson, the author, died at Crawfordsville, Ind., Friday morning, after an illness of many weeks.

Maurice Thompson came of a Virginia family and was of Scotch-Irish descent. He was born at Fairfield, Ind., Sept. 9, 1844. His parents removed to Kentucky when he was a child, and thence to northern Georgia, where they lived until 1868. Young Thompson's mother was a woman of strong character and excellent education, his father a wandering Baptist minister, who rode round the country on horseback and spent little time at home. The son was educated for a civil engineer, but developed more taste for languages and literature than for the calling set before him. He learned Greek, Latin and French. His first writings were in verse, which appeared in Southern papers. He served in the Confederate army during the Civil War.

At the close of the war Thompson made an extended trip to Florida, which laid the foundation for some of his delightful Southern sketches, published later. In 1868 he settled in Crawfordsville, Ind., where he obtained a position as a civil engineer for a railroad. He married the daughter of Col. John Lee, a railroad president. Soon after he abandoned rail-

Pneumonia Can be Prevented.

This disease always results from a cold or an attack of the grip and may be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That remedy was extensively used during the epidemics of La Grippe of the past few years, and not a single case has ever been reported that did not recover or that resulted in pneumonia, which shows it to be a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a world wide reputation for its cures of colds and grip. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

SARLAN, P. I., Jan. 2, 1900.

Mr. Mayes—Friend Dave:

Your long looked for letter just received and was glad to hear from you. I am well, excepting my sore foot. Hope when this reaches you it will find you all well and enjoying yourselves. We have just got 208 new men for the 12th Regiment. This will make duty somewhat lighter. I have been in the hospital now over six weeks, and am likely to stay that much longer yet. The other day a detachment went out in the mountains and got in a scrap, killed twelve negroes, wounded nine, one captain, and got seven prisoners and 17 guns. The next day they went out and captured General Texton who has been a great man here. We now have him here under guard. Undoubtedly he will hang, the captain will swing I know. Gen. Smith says, "Hang the officers and give the rest five years and $1,000 fine." So you see Smith has no mercy on the black rascals. I am not feeling very well tonight so will close. With regards to you and your family,

I remain your friend,

How to Cure the Grip.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called La Grippe," says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with 'Grippe.' Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

For the weakness and prostration following grippe there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It is made to cure quickly. T. E. Slattery.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventative of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of the la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by T. E. Slattery.

Sometime since a lady, who is a member of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, called the editor to task for charging the society for locals, advertising an oyster supper, and during her remarks made the statement that the editor did not give 50 cents worth of advertising to the church in a year. Now from a common sense standpoint, and looking the matter square in the face from a business point, we do not see why an editor should tender free of charge his columns to advertise money-making schemes, any more than a merchant could be expected to tender such enterprises all the goods they need free of charge. The newspaper is the editor's only source to make a living for himself and family, hence where anything is carried on as a money maker, it is no more than right that the editor should receive pay for advertising for those things given for the purpose of making money. There is not a newspaper in the land, but what gives the churches from fifty to sixty dollars' worth of advertising per year, free. Now with due regards to the ladies of Culver, we will state that hereafter we charge regular rates for every line that appears in the HERALD for local notices advertising socials, so as to let them see in the future whether the editor has given them anything in the past. No man can say we have not been liberal. For instance, there were in the neighborhood of 45 lines relative to said oyster supper and we cut the bill down one-half the actual price. We give this, not in a spirit of resentment, but to let the public realize our position.

THE SHIPS OF LIFE.

If you wait for unmixed cargo
Of happiness, pile on pile,
With never a pound of over freight,
You'll wait for a weary while;
For the ships of life in commission
Must sail their way about;
They may open their books for happiness' sake,
But they can't bar sorrow out.

Yet this is a captain's wisdom
That makes his voyage bright.
Who stores sweet happiness in his ship
So that it stays in sight;
And the sails they shine in the sunlight,
And the ship with joy seems whole,
So kindly the captain's wisdom is,
So brave is the captain's soul.

A Story of the Old Army.

West Point Cadet Who Became the Chief of the Navajos.

There is a story of the old army that has become a sort of sacred possession, like its old songs and customs, vague and of uncertain origin. It is one that you will hear if you happen into a group of officers now past or approaching the retiring age. The somnolent effect of tobacco will turn the drift of day dreams in its direction and there is no holding it down if a bottle is in attendance. The tale concerns one "Bison" McLean.

McLean was sent to the military academy at West Point from southwest Missouri. The class he joined has become famous for the names of several of its members. The name "Bison" was given him by George B. McClellan because of McLean's long black hair and immense size. The Missourian was a poor student in his classes, and that he managed to stay at the academy for three years at all was on account of his superiority in riding and drill work. His life in the southwest had trained him in firearms, and no cadet at the Point could equal his records on the target range. He was not a popular man, for, in addition to being dull, he had a sullen temperament and moments of ungovernable passion. One cold, bitter winter night he disappeared. With one exception this was the last time any of his classmates saw "Bison" McLean. His skates were missing, and so a search was made for him in the river. His family saw that a search was made for him in New York. The books of the academy recorded him missing, and he was forgotten soon in the preparations for the war.

The war was fought and ended. The tide of emigration to the west following the opening of the new territory and the discovery of gold in California made new duties for the army. It was necessary for emigrants to travel in great wagon trains for their mutual protection and the hussars were busy lending them their aid, or avenging their wrongs. Garrisons were placed at Santa Fe and at several points in the southwest to keep the Indians off the trails passing through Magon Mount gap. Gen. W. S. Harney was in command of these forces and had such men as Kit Carson in his employ as scouts. Major Sumner, afterward a major general, and the father of Col. S. S. Sumner, now military attache in London, was Gen. Harney's right-hand man. Early in the fifties he was sent on a scout with three troops of dragoons through the Datil and Tularosa ranges. While he was mounting a rise in the Datils the Dragoons came suddenly on a band of 800 Navajo Indians. The American troops prepared to fight, but the Indians halted and raised their hands with the open palm of peace. They explained that they were after Apaches, with whom they were then enjoying one of their predatory wars. Then a remarkable thing happened. The chief rode out from the band and facing them gave a sharp command. The braves formed in troops of about 100 each and marched past as if at parade. The amazement of Major Sumner seemed to please the chief, for he gave another command. The Indians turned sharply, changed from line into column and then back into line. Another sharp order and they advanced in line by the entire command.

"Where in thunder did you get all this?" cried Major Sumner.

"We've four times this many drilled braves," the chief replied, and, dropping a little venom, "we'll use them, too, perhaps, when it comes to fighting the whites. We have a great war chief who has taught us these things."

He raised his hand as a signal and the Indians moved over the hill and disappeared.

Major Sumner made an official report of the incident. He did not forget to tell, in addition to the foregoing, that the Navajos he had seen were armed with American rifles and lances of Mexican manufacture. Jefferson Davis was then secretary of war. He had seen enough of the southwest in his experiences in the Mexican war to know how extraordinary it was that Indians should adopt a civilized method of warfare. He ordered a report in detail and called for as complete an investigation as possible under the circumstances. There was little more learned than this, that the drill resembled that of the American dragoons and was not at all like the Mexican tactics. No white man had ever seen the war chief, though one of Kit Carson's scouts declared that he had. The chief was not a Mexican, he said, and was a Navajo most certainly. He was a tall, handsome Indian of remarkable physique and rode like a dragoon and not like an Indian. Nothing more than these few facts could Secretary Davis gather.

It was nearly ten years later that Joseph C. Ives was sent at the head of an expedition to survey the Colorado River. A troop of dragoons was detailed as the guard for his party. Ives had been at West Point and had been transferred to the topographical survey. While up in the mountains to the east of where now the town of Green River is the Indian guides became uneasy and reported that they were spied upon by some redskin scouts to whom they could not approach close enough to learn their tribe. Guards were more carefully placed. One morning the relief of one of the outer pickets found the man shot through the heart by an arrow.

"There's an Indian chief on the guard line and he's asked to see you."

"You should go to your commanding officer, corporal," Ives replied. "I'm not in charge of the escort."

"No, but the Indian asked for you, sir, and by name."

"Well, that's strange—how the devil does he know me? Bring him up, but if he has any others with him keep them out of camp."

A few minutes later the corporal returned with the chief, who was a marvelous figure for even a Navajo. He was very tall and straight and muscled like an athlete. A guide was called to act as interpreter.

"I guess we don't need that fellow," the chief remarked as the guide came up.

The officers had gathered at Ives' tent and their mouths fell open in amazement as they heard him speak, for his English was pure and without flaw of accent. The Navajo sat down on a camp stool in a self-possessed way and looked the group of men over quietly.

"Have you any spare tobacco, Ives?" he asked.

The tobacco was found for him and an orderly was despatched to an officer's tent for the bottle that, because of the inaccessibility to civilization, had been nursed lovingly and held for extraordinary occasion.

"How does it come, Ives, you're not wearing the uniform? You didn't fall down at the Point, did you?"

"Great Scott, what do you know about the Point?" cried the astonished Ives.

But the chief only smiled and went on talking about the Point and the men who were there fifteen years before. His familiarity with the army ended there, for he asked hungrily about these few men and how they had done in the Mexican war. He was surprised to learn how well their fortunes had prospered. For two hours the officers stared at this great brown Indian and searched their memories in vain efforts to place him.

"You may be pleased to learn that it had been arranged to kill your party off, Ives, but I recognized you yesterday while you were prowling around the hills, and we'll declare the killing off for old times' sake. I've enough braves within a mile of you to ride you all down in an hour," the Navajo said, as he rose to go.

"But who in thunder are you?" Ives cried. "You seem to know me, but I can't for the life of me recall you."

"Don't you remember McLean, who was in your class at West Point?" the chief asked.

"What! 'Bison' McLean—who was drowned?"

"Yes, I'm 'Bison.'"

There is no record of any other instance of magnanimity on the part of "Bison" McLean. Only an occasional trapper, with the exception of Indians, saw him after that. His history thenceforth is as mysterious as that which had connected itself with him when he was only the great Navajo war chief. How he left the Point and joined the Indians, and why, no one knows to this day. The retreat of Chief Joseph and his Nez Perces from New Mexico to the lava fields in the war of 1877, one of the most remarkable in all military history for its strategy, is credited by army officers to the generalship of "Bison" McLean. Col. Louis Craig of the Thirty-second volunteer regiment told this story one evening at Fort Leavenworth last summer, and added as his own theory that the unexpected organization of the Sioux in the Wounded Knee campaign was the work of the same "Bison" McLean. It is not doubted that he is now dead, but when and where did he die? No one knows and probably never will. —Kansas City Star.

Wanted a Fresh One.

It is said that last Christmas William Dean Howells wished to give a copy of one of his books, which had just been published, to a distant relative. When acquainted with Mr. Howells' intention, the prospective recipient was delighted beyond measure. Mr. Howells, wishing to give still more pleasure, took up his pen and dipped it in the ink. "Shall I write in it?" he asked tentatively. The distant kinsman blushed and then said awkwardly: "Oh, if you please, Mr. Howells, I'd so much rather have a fresh copy!" For once a Howell autograph went begging. The kinsman got the "fresh copy" without any trouble, and he has had none since.

Make Yourself a New Man!

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA

BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY.

Will Give You the Strength and Vigor of Perfect Manhood. Renews, Vitalizes and Invigorates Weak Men.

Old before his time! A broken-down, miserable wreck—weak, nervous, discouraged!

The world to him seems a place of mist, peopled with ghostly beings, whose fitting to and fro about their daily tasks serves but to irritate him. He sneers at healthy amusements, and finds no comfort or pleasure in life.

He is sick and he does not know it. He drags about, and therefore thinks he is well. He is despondent and peevish, and weak, and he does not know that there are merely signals—some from the stomach crying for aid—others from the nerves beseeching strength—still others from the great life-current—the blood—moaning that it is so impeded and clogged with impurities that it cannot move.

He, and all others like him, will find immediate relief in Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. This is just what it was intended for. It never fails to make weak men strong and vigorous, puts new life, vim, strength, power and energy into them.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is New Life, Hope and Strength for Weak Men.

Mr. JONNY D. SMITH, electrician for the Thompson-Houston Electric Co., of Lynn, Mass., says:—"When a man has been sick and is cured, it is his duty to tell others about it, that they, too, may get well. Three years ago I had been working almost night and day, could not (at regularly) and got only a few hour sleep at night. No man can stand that long, and I soon began to be prostrated. I could not sleep when I tried, and my food would not stay on my stomach. I was in a terrible condition, and was much alarmed. I went to doctors, but they did me no good. Learning of the wonderful good done by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to try it. It cured me completely of all my complaints. I eat heartily and sleep well, thanks to this splendid medicine. I believe it to be the best remedy in existence."

Dr. Greene's Nervura is the One Great Restorative Which Cures.

Dr. GREENE, 35 West 14th St., New York City, is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He has remedies for all forms of disease, and offers to give free consultation and advice, personally or by letter. You can tell or write your troubles to Dr. Greene, for all communications are confidential, and letters are answered in plain sealed envelopes.

CAPITAL IS TO SHINE.

WASHINGTON PREPARES FOR INAUGURATION.

Pennsylvania Avenue to Have a Court of Honor Which Will Be a Mass of Waving Color by Day and Blaze of Electricity by Night.

Washington correspondence:

WASHINGTON is beginning to look like the inauguration. From the capitol to the War Department Pennsylvania avenue is being lined on both sides with large stands, more numerous, substantial and extensive than ever before, and in front of the White House, between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets, a "court of honor" is being erected which promises to be the most elaborate piece of street decoration ever seen in this country. It was designed by a committee of architects, of which Glenn Brown of this city was chairman. By day it will be a mass of waving color, while by night it will blaze with electricity. The White House grounds are included in the scheme and the semi-circular drive from the portico to Pennsylvania avenue is to be treated in an artistic manner with thirty-two slender white pillars on either side. The avenue in front of the executive mansion is to be filled with eight structures consisting of four large pillars with ornamental caps called pylons, and thirty-two smaller pillars erected at equal distance. Each of the pillars supports upon its crest a great bowl of iron, resembling the flaming basins that lighted the games of ancient Rome. They will serve a similar purpose on the night of March 4, and will provide a unique and magnificent addition to the street decorations for the evening hours. Under the cap which surmounts the four pillars of each pylon will be four incandescent lights, each of 100-candle power. The caps will be pierced and glass of different colors set in the aperture, and through these a blaze of multi-color splendor will radiate.

The most interesting feature, however, will be the effect from searchlights of 10,000-candle power, concealed in the caps of the eight pylons, whose brilliant flame will shoot into the sky through openings above the place where the lights and the men who operate them will be placed. From these eight classic columns streams of starry brilliancy will sweep the heavens, striking on the passing clouds and lending unparalleled grandeur and beauty to the augmented by the artistic effect of white smoke which will rise from the metal basins on the summits of the pylons, breaking the black circle of shadow, around which play the white beams from the big reflector below. This smoke will be made by the use of chemicals upon excelsior, and there will be no flame. These great waving, trembling, ever-changing pillars of smoke will add indescribable picturesqueness by clever manipulation of science's most modern aids to decorations and illumination.

The stands erected for spectators are much more sightly and comfortable than any ever seen here before, because they are erected by the committee of citizens in charge of the inauguration ceremonies, and any profits arising from the sale of seats will be turned into the general fund. The cost of the inauguration ceremonies is usually met by the sale of tickets to the ball. The money needed is subscribed in advance by patriotic citizens, to whom it is repaid afterward, and any surplus remaining is distributed among the charitable institutions of the city. The most important question now pending is whether the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic shall act as the escort of honor to President McKinley in the procession, or whether the swell troop of cavalry from Cleveland which performed that service four years ago should be allowed the same honor again. The Grand Army people claim that McKinley belongs to their organization, and that the veterans of the war ought to have the most conspicuous position in the line. The congressional committee of arrangements is inclined to encourage them, but Gen. Frank V. Green of New York, the grand marshal, who controls the matter, says that it is already settled, and that the Cleveland grays have been invited and accepted, and are coming.

The next important question is the selection of the persons who shall ride in the carriage with the President. It has been customary for the retiring President and his successor to ride together. As they go toward the capitol the retiring President sits at the right—the place of honor. As they return from the capitol after the inauguration he sits on the left. But as President McKinley succeeds himself it will not do to let him ride alone. There are four persons eligible to occupy seats in his carriage: Mr. Roosevelt, John Joy Edson, chairman of the local committee of arrangements; Mark Hanna, chairman of the Senate committee, and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the House committee. The Vice-President does not ride in the procession. He has to be in the Senate chamber and take the oath of office there before the President-elect arrives and preside at the ceremonies of the inauguration. Mr. Edson is a modest man, of retiring disposition, and willingly yields the honor to Mark Hanna and Uncle Joe Cannon. Everybody will admit that there is a singular appropriateness in having Mr. Hanna accompany the President in his triumphal journey, and it would be just as well if they took some solemn man like Uncle Joe along to hold them down.

PARLIAMENT IS OPEN.

EDWARD PRESIDES IN PERSON AT THE CEREMONY.

Monarch and Consort Ride in the State Coach—Spectacular Parade from the Palace to Westminster—House of Lords Is Thronged.

The first Parliament of the reign of King Edward VII. was opened in London Thursday afternoon by the King in person. His majesty was accompanied by Queen Alexandra, the Duke of York and Cornwall and the Duke of Connaught and many others of the royal family.

The last state ceremony of the kind took place in 1861, when Queen Victoria opened Parliament, accompanied by the prince consort, and since the death of the latter nothing equal to Thursday's pomp has been witnessed in London in connection with the opening of the legislature. Not since the wedding of the then Prince of Wales and Princess Alexandra has the gorgeous state coach been seen in the streets of the capital. In this coach on Thursday the King and Queen and Princess Victoria rode from Buckingham Palace to the palace at Westminster. The route of the royal party, which lay through the Mall, the horse guards' parade, White Hall and Parliament street, was guarded by 5,000 soldiers. Thousands of Londoners packed St. James' park, bordered the route of the procession and filled windows, stands and roofs. The pageant was short, but spectacular. The procession speedily traversed the short route to an accompaniment of roars and shouts and reached the royal entrance to the palace of Westminster beneath the Victoria tower at the appointed time.

KING EDWARD VII.

Royal Standard Hoisted. When the great gilded state coach came in sight of the tower in Westminster the royal standard was hoisted to the top. The state coach and those following, containing the heir and the Duchess of Cornwall and others of the royal family, passed through the great gates under the Victoria tower. The sovereign and the Queen and suite passed thence to the robing room.

The Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council, carried the crown. The cap of maintenance was borne before King Edward on the right hand of the sword of state. Lord Salisbury walked in the procession as Lord of the Privy Seal, as the office of prime minister is not yet, according to court etiquette, recognized.

King Edward's robes were of crimson silk velvet, edged with rows of gold lace and powdered ermine. The robes of Queen Alexandra were of material similar to that of the robes of the King, but the design was somewhat different. In the House of Lords wherever the eye rested its gaze there was the pomp of state. Peers and lords, correctly robed, stood in their places. The galleries were filled with diplomats of all countries represented at St. James' and their wives and entourage. It was a scene of splendid color and tinsel, such as one can hope to see but once in a lifetime.

When the King and Queen had seated themselves on the throne the King ordered the Black Rod to summon the Commons. On the arrival of the members of the House of Commons in the House of Lords the King read his speech. The opening of the first Parliament of the new reign witnessed the usual competition on the part of members of the House of Commons to secure seats. At 10:30 o'clock a detachment of yeomen of the guard from the tower, in their quaint new uniforms and carrying halberds, arrived and conducted the customary search of the vaults for imaginary conspirators, with the usual result.

GUNBOAT TO VENEZUELA.

United States Orders the Scorpion to La Guaira.

A Washington correspondent says that the gunboat Scorpion has been ordered to La Guaira, the order emphasizing the fear of the State Department and Navy Department that there will be serious trouble in Venezuela, notwithstanding all the protestations of the litigant asphalt companies that the issues will be met in an orderly manner. The presence of the Scorpion in Venezuelan waters will give the United States a squadron to call upon in case of emergency, as the Lancaster is absent only temporarily at Santa Lucia and the Dixie is on the way from that place to La Guaira.

While the departments are not willing to explain the real reason of this assemblage of warships off Venezuela, it is obvious that they are to be used to prevent filibustering expeditions, such as have been reported, in the interest of the asphalt trust.

Postal Franchise for Soldiers.

France has enacted a new law which will permit a soldier and sailor of France to send two simple letters per month post free. To carry out this project and in order that the stamps may not be utilized by others, a series of new stamps is to be produced. They will bear across the vignette the two letters F. M., "franchise militaire," and, in order to prevent the sales of these stamps a regulation has been issued to the effect that the soldier and sailor must deliver his stamped letter to the baggage-master—vague-mestre—who will see that they are duly posted.

HALF DEAD SOLDIER

Returns All Broken Up to His Home in South Dakota.

Bristol, S. D., Feb. 18, 1901.—(Special.)—Peter Behres says: "When I returned from the war I found that I was in a very critical condition. My system was all run down, and I gradually became worse, until I was half dead with Kidney and Bladder Trouble. My family wanted me to consult a physician, but as I had learned through several of my comrades of the wonderful cures of Dodd's Kidney Pills I determined to give them a trial first."

Mr. Behres, or Capt. Behres, as he should be called, because he was captain of the First Minnesota cavalry, and in 1862 was for fourteen months in continual service in warfare with the Indians, is now an honored member of the G. A. R., who has reached the ripe old age of three score years and ten. He continues: "I am now an old soldier, seventy years of age, and enjoying almost perfect health, and all thanks for this are due to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I found after having used the first few boxes that my faith was not misplaced in them, and in a very short while my kidneys were doing the work required of them and the bladder trouble was soon eliminated. It was almost a year before I was myself, but during that time I used Dodd's Kidney Pills faithfully and with the very best results that anyone could wish for. I would not have been without them for a king's ransom. I am now well as any man of my age."

Physicians recommend KEMP'S BAL-SAM for patients afflicted with the grip, as it is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. 30 FEET OF BOWELS are packed away in your insides and must be kept clean, in order and doing business.

It's a long way, with many turns and pitfalls to catch the refuse and clog the channel if not most carefully cleaned out every day.

When this long canal is blocked, look out for trouble—furred tongue, bad breath, belching of gases, yellow spots, pimples and boils, headaches, spitting up of food after eating—an all-around disgusting nuisance.

Violent calomel purges or gripping salts are dangerous to use for cleaning out the bowels. They force out the obstruction by causing violent spasms of the bowels, but they leave the intestines weak and even less able to keep up regular movements than before, and make a larger dose necessary next time.

Then you have the pill habit, which kills more people than the morphine and whiskey habits combined.

The only safe, gentle but certain bowel cleansers are sweet, fragrant CASCARETS, because they don't force out the fecal matter with violence, but act as a tonic on the whole 30 feet of bowel wall, strengthen the muscles and restore healthy, natural action. Buy and try them! (Look out for imitations and substitutes or you can't get results. Cascarets are never sold in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the long-tailed "C" on the box.) You will find that in an entirely natural way your bowels will be promptly and permanently

It is a starter for the chronic ailments and long years of suffering that come afterwards. No matter what ails you, start taking CASCARETS to-day, for you will never get well and be well all the time until you put your bowels right. Take our advice, start with CASCARETS to-day, under an absolute guarantee to cure or money refunded.

NEW FISH LAW PROPOSED.

Prevents Fishing Through Ice and Makes Other New Provisions.

Representative Kirkham is the author of a fish bill which bids fair being enacted into law. Section one provides that it shall be unlawful to drain any poisonous dyestuffs or acids into any of the waters of the state; (2), that it shall be unlawful to use dynamite or other explosive in taking fish. Section three makes it unlawful to take fish in any of the waters of the state except Lake Michigan and the Ohio river by means of a spear, seine, net, trap or fish berries. Minnows for bait may be taken, however, in nets not over twenty feet long or in glass minnow traps. Section four makes it unlawful to take fish in any way in any of the waters of the state except those above mentioned during the months of April and May. Section five permits fishing with a trot line having not more than fifty hooks. Fishing on private or enclosed land without the consent of the owner is prohibited in section six. Selling pike or bass during the months of April or May is prohibited in section seven. Section eight makes it a misdemeanor to have in one's possession seines, nets or fish traps and section nine prohibits the taking of more than twenty black bass in one day by any one fisherman, and no number of persons in the same boat must take over thirty-six bass in one day. Section ten limits the length of pike to one foot, crappies six inches and bass to ten inches. In section eleven it is provided that all monies collected as fines shall be paid over to the state fish commissioner as part of his salary. Section twelve provides that deputies, sheriffs and constables may seize and destroy all prohibited fishing goods, and section thirteen makes it unlawful to shoot fish at any time of the year. Section fourteen is the one which is of special interest to the people of Marshall county and is as follows: "It shall be unlawful to catch, take or kill, or attempt to take, catch or kill, any fish in the waters of this State when the water is covered in whole or in part with ice. Whoever shall violate the provisions of this section shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than twenty dollars for each fish taken, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed twenty days."

All license issued permitting the use of seines are revoked in section fifteen, and upon proof that the seine has been destroyed the license fee will be paid back. Non-residents of the state are required to pay $10.25 for a yearly license, in section sixteen, and section seventeen compels said non-residents to keep in his possession said license at the time of fishing. An emergency clause is attached, and it would be well for persons fishing through the ice to be on the lookout as ignorance of the law affords no excuse for violating it. Boiled down, the law permits fishing only with hook and line in all months of the year except April and May, and providing that fish must not be taken from the water, any part of which is covered with ice. Persons living outside the state must pay a license fee. This clause will injure our fishing resorts.

Eat to Conquer or Die.

C., "I had Consumption so bad that the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I commenced to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now stout and well." It's an unrivaled life-saver in Consumption, Pneumonia, La Grippe and Bronchitis; infallible for coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, croup or whooping cough. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00.
