A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Tuesday morning about three o'clock a sharp report was heard in the town. About 7:30 A.M. Tuesday morning, Mrs. Sarah Parker, living near the school house, heard a noise that she thought was from a furnace or a wood stove. She immediately ran to the room where she was sleeping and found that the ceiling was on fire. She and her daughter, Mrs. Jane Parker, who was with her, ran to the school house and called for help. The fire was discovered by Mr. J. H. Parker, who was in the school house, and he immediately went to the nearby fire department for assistance.

The fire was located in the barn and quickly spread to the nearby woods. The flames were so intense that they could be seen from a distance of several miles. The barn was destroyed, along with several other structures, including a warehouse and a storehouse.

The fire was caused by a spark from a barn wood stove. The owner of the barn, Mr. J. H. Parker, was sleeping in the barn at the time of the fire. He had left the wood stove on and the flames had spread rapidly.

The fire was contained and extinguished with the help of several volunteer firemen from the surrounding area. The firemen worked for several hours to bring the flames under control. Despite their efforts, the damage was extensive.

The fire was a great loss to the community and caused significant damage to the local economy. The owner of the barn, Mr. J. H. Parker, lost all of his livestock and much of his equipment.

The cause of the fire will be investigated by the local authorities. The community is currently working to help the owner of the barn and other affected individuals.

TREATY IS RATIFIED.

Thursday afternoon ratified the Cuban treaty and increased the Cuban rate to 40 per cent, five years, thus shutting out all competitors.

The treaty had been acted on by the Cuban government for some time, and the reduction of the Cuban rate to 40 per cent, five years, was made as a compromise to the depression in the sugar market.

Mr. Smith, the representative of the Sugar Refining Company, made a speech in opposition and spoke for his company's interests.

In addition, the committee put in a proposal to increase the tariff on sugar coming from other countries.

The treaty was carried by a vote of 44 yeas to 22 nays, the debate preceding adjournment and others were not permitted to speak.

The last business was the report of a subcommittee on the sugar industry, which recommended the increase of the tariff on sugar coming from other countries.
