Hearing On State Ordered Increase In Assessments Attracts Local Taxpayers

Taxpayers Protest Action, Decision on Increase to Be Known in Ten Days

A crowd of more than 100 taxpayers including several persons from this area attended the State Tax Board hearing at the Marshall county courthouse in Plymouth yesterday. Property holders were joined by county and township officials in protesting the action of the State Board in ordering a hike in the assessment of all city lots and farm lands by ten per cent and also the improvements by ten per cent.

The State Board of Tax Commissioners took under advisement a petition remonstrating the state ordered increase in assessments. A resolution requesting the board to set aside the belated state ordered increase was presented at the hearing.

The crowd was too large to meet in the County Auditor's office, the hearing being held in the court room. The discussion was at times lively, particularly as the four-man Board of State Tax Commissioners repeatedly emphasized that it was necessary to raise the assessments here ten per cent in order that Marshall county would equal other state units.

In reply County Assessor William Oberlin pointed out that at the time the State Board announced its decision to order the ten per cent increase state taxing officials did not have sufficient returns from enough counties to make an equalization at the time that they gave the belated notice to Marshall county authorities.

County officials supported by township officers were quick to point out that in making the new assessment they had closely followed the principles set forth by the state taxing authorities for revising property assessments. It was also pointed out that the county's overall assessed property valuation was approximately eight per cent above the 1940 figure and that assessing officials had followed closely the guide-

Zoning Ordinance to Be Considered at Next Town Board Meeting

The Town Board at its regular meeting last Monday evening announced that at the next regular meeting of the Board, Monday, September 18, the matter of a town zoning and building codes would be discussed.

Although zoning and building codes have been discussed and brought up on several occasions before various civic groups during the past few months this was the first indication that official consideration would be given to the proposition.

Authority for a zoning ordinance was extended to incorporated towns by the 1947 Acts of the Indiana General Assembly. In general the purpose of a zoning ordinance is to promote the health, safety, convenience, and general welfare of a community. The legislative act provides for classifying areas as residential, commercial, and industrial. Designated districts are set forth on a map.

Usually ordinances which have been adopted in other communities make it mandatory for those initiating new construction to apply for a building permit furnishing the following information: a rough sketch of the floor plan of the proposed building, type of construction, approximate cost, approximate completion date, provision for sewage disposal, provisions for fire resistant roof, location of drive-ways, a statement showing that the building will conform to use prescribed, and provisions for location on lot.

The law provides for the establishment of a board of zoning appeals to review particular cases.

Bell Telephone Rate Increase Request Is Halved by State PSC

The Public Service Commission of the State of Indiana announced yesterday the Indiana Bell Telephone Company had been granted a rate increase amounting to $2,508,000. The amount of increase was less than 50 per cent of the $5,325,000 which Indiana Bell had requested some time ago to meet increased costs in maintenance and for proposed new construction.

It was not known how the order would affect the proposed construction plans for the Culver office of Indiana Bell. Sometime ago it became known that Bell Telephone had purchased the lot where the Scout cabin is located for the purposes of erecting a modern telephone exchange.

Under the rate increase private and party line residence rates will be increased 25 cents per month as well as rural business and rural line residences. The flat rate for city business telephones will be increased 50 cents per month; semi-public pay telephones, 60 cents per month and PBX trunks, 75 cents a month.

Commenting on the Public Service Commission's action in drastically trimming the $5,325,000 requested rate increase, Harry S. Hanna, Indiana Bell president stated:

"The Commission's order is clearly unfair and unrealistic. We have added $70,000,000 worth of (Continued on Page 11)

Larry Lindvall's Calf Places Third in State Fair Competition

Pinnacle Lorie (1683991) may not mean much to most folks, but to the huge crowd who witnessed the judging of the prize Dairy Calf Classes at the Indiana State Fair last Friday and to Larry Lindvall, Union township 4-H Club member, Pinnacle Lorie is a prize Senior Yearling Jersey Calf, which placed third in the highly competitive State Fair championships.

Larry, owner of Pinnacle Lorie, felt that his calf should do well in the competition, perhaps not first but rather high in the class of nineteen calves. As the announcement of winners and places was made he probably felt rather downhearted since the announcers read down the list giving other places before re-arranging the listing and telling the name of the third place winner.

Twp. Slate Filled; Democrats Name Don Miller

Union township Democrats, in a caucus held here last week named a slate for township offices in the forthcoming fall elections. Don Miller was named candidate for the office of trustee; Homer Albert, Jesse Sims and Walter Bursart are the candidates for the township advisory board. Miller, a graduate of Culver High school, is a veteran, having served in the Armed Forces during World War II.

The naming of the candidates by the Democrats completes the local ticket. Before the spring primary republicans named Maurice Curtis as their candidate for trustee, with Earl Foreman, James I. Rich, and Paul Snyder as candidates for the Advisory Board.

PLAN TO HARD SURFACE BRADLEY COURT

The possibility of hard surfacing Bradley Court, a street connecting College Avenue with Lake Shore Drive, was discussed Monday at the regular meeting of the Town Board as several interested property owners again appeared before the Board.

The town is taking steps to have an official survey made of the street with a view to hard surfacing the thoroughfare in the near future. The roadway, an only entrance for some property owners, has been impassable at times.

An acre inch of water is 27,500 gallons. Timely irrigation of any growing crop is very profitable.

ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

While on a vacation trip last week, Marion Jones and Mary Amanda Hoffman, both of Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jones of Plymouth miraculously escaped injury in an auto accident while driving near Union City, Penna., last Thursday. The accident occurred as a result of slippery pavement and involved a collision with a coal truck.

The Jones car was beyond repair, but fortunately the occupants suffered only minor bruises.

Animals with foot infections should be segregated and kept in clean, disinfected quarters until they have completely recovered.

INDIANA TRAFFIC CONTINUES TO INCREASE

The July report of results of the automatic traffic counter shows a great increase in automobile traffic. Of the twenty-two stations reported upon, all reported increases ranging from three tenths of one per cent to 24.9 per cent.

The high figure was for the counter on U. S. 31, south of Seymour, the low one on County road east of Carthage. On U. S. 31 south of Plymouth an official counter showed a seven per cent increase.

Life insurance ownership in the U. S. has doubled in the past 12 years, trebled in 25 years.

New Law Provides For Increase in Social Security Benefits

Here is what happened to old-age and survivors insurance in Marshall county Monday when President Truman signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act.

All monthly insurance checks now being paid to the 470 social security beneficiaries in this county will be raised substantially beginning with the September checks, according to Mr. R. A. Hoyer, manager of the South Bend social security field office.

Mr. Hoyer explained that these automatic increases, for September, are scheduled to reach local beneficiaries during the first week of October. Increases will range from about 50 per cent to about 100 per cent. For example, the average primary benefit of approximately $26 per month for a retired worker will be increased to about $46. A widow with two children who had been receiving $55 a month will now receive about $110 altogether.

Manager Hoyer said that under the old terms of the social security law the 470 beneficiaries in Marshall county would have received about $8,832.00 (total) for the month of September. Under the new increases, however, total payments for September are estimated to be about $16,118.00 or an immediate increase of approximately 85 per cent.

Under the new law the amount of earnings which a beneficiary may make in a month, and still accept his insurance payment for that month, is raised from $14.99 to $50. This applies to beneficiaries under age 75, and for earnings in a job covered by social security. After attaining age 75, a beneficiary may have any amount of earnings and still accept his insurance checks.

The most significant change in coverage as far as Marshall county is concerned probably is the inclusion of regular farm workers including household workers in farm homes under social security beginning in January. To be affected, the worker must be employed by one farm operator for a period of not less than five months and those months must fall within two calendar quarters. After full three months employment in the first quarter, the employee must work for the same employer in the second quarter not less than 60 days with cash wages of at least $50 for work in that quarter. This bars occasional or seasonal farm workers and itinerant harvesters from coverage under the new social security law.

Jack J. Winebrenner, representing the South Bend field office, is available every first and third Tuesday of each month in the basement of the Plymouth Public Library between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and noon.

EMPLOYMENT STILL CLIMBING

More Hoosiers found jobs during the week ending August 19 and fewer made jobless insurance claims, John W. Crise, director of the Indiana Employment Security Division, said today. He explained that a drop of 1,366 in unemployment claims brought the week's total down to 11,528, less than one-fourth the level of this time last year.

Division offices received only 1,739 initial unemployment claims week before last. This was a drop of 21 per cent from the week ending August 12. Hiring continued high in all parts of the state and counterbalanced small, scattered, temporary layoffs resulting from

THE MUTUAL Broadcasting System has thrown a spotlight and a few kilocycles at "nature" for the benefit of small fry dial twisters and have scheduled Monday, Wednesday and Fridays for the adventure series, "Mark Trail," patterned along the theme of the popular comic strip of the same name authorized by Ed Dodd, widely acclaimed naturalist and nature study teacher.

CROWLEY

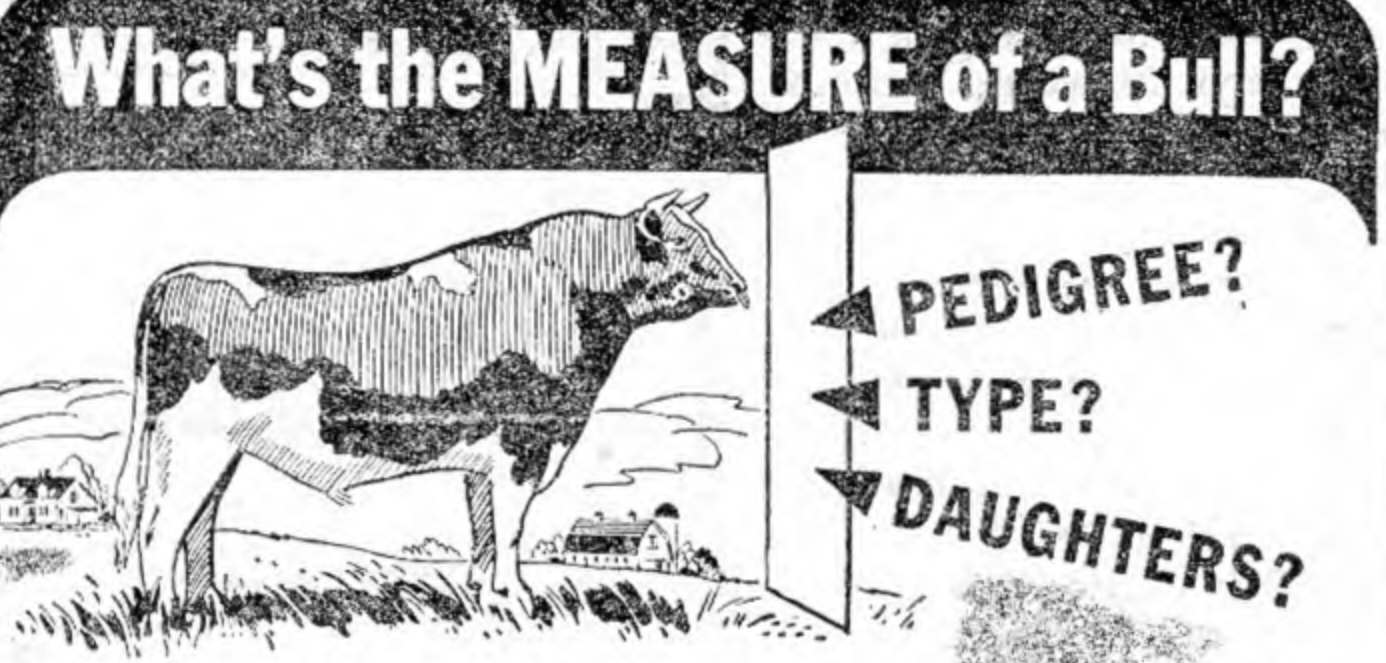

The radio series, accordingly, features its hero in the role of protector of the great outdoors and the foes of those bent upon the destruction of the country's natural resources . . . The conservation and reclamation there is neatly woven into action-packed adventure stories, with emphasis placed on teaching children their own importance in the roles of protectors of bird, animal and floral life, and at the same time preventing the destruction of nature's wonders.

Not only has the program received the sanction of the Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman, who appeared on the premiere broadcast last January 30, but it has also undertaken a series of practical field demonstrations for school-aged city children, the first of which was a tour taken by "Mark" and 40 junior high school editors of New York City's vast watershed areas . . . The watershed was chosen for the first demonstration because of the water emergencies that have seriously handicapped a number of the large cities in the country.

Matt Crowley, prominent New York radio actor, is starred as "Mark Trail," with Phil Tonken as the narrator . . . Drex Hines directs the program which is adapted by a group of writers headed by Max Erlich . . . John Gart provides background music as "nature" takes a bow on the air-planes.

TINY TIM ROCKET . . . Little three-year-old Jackie Riordan, Chicago, dreams wistfully as he admires the sleek lines of the most potent weapon released so far in the Korean war. Rocket is on display at Chicago museum of science and industry.

Lockers, Freezers Mean Better Quality Food

Frozen food lockers have a service to perform for the community, even for those who have their own home freezers, says Miss Lois Oberhelman, extension nutrition specialist at Purdue University.

With the use of both of these, the family will have far better quality foods, especially meat. A beef quarter or pork carcass may be taken to a community locker to be ripened, cut to secure the largest number of prime cuts to fit the homemaker's quickly.

Unless home freezers have facilities for sharp freeze, they should not be used for freezing more than a certain amount of fresh food at one time. Even if the home freezer has a thermostat for turning the temperature to minus 10 or 20 degrees F., fluctuations in temperature either by lowering the temperature or piling in large amounts of warm food will tend to cause a "pulling out" of the moisture in the frozen food. This will reduce the quality of the food.

Beef to be of best quality should be ripened for a period of time, usually seven to ten days, at a temperature of 38-40 degrees F. This helps to develop the flavor of beef and also to tenderize it. Indiana temperatures even during the winter months

Uncle Sam Says

Farming today requires great skill on the part of the farmer. Not only must he know soils, fertilizers, and seeds, but he must be an expert mechanic to operate all types of farm machinery. In other words, a farmer works hard for his money and in a highly speculative business. He should make that money work for him—in a non-speculative and safe investment. U. S. Savings Bonds, guaranteed by our government, is a crop that NEVER fails, it's always ready when needed. Savings Bonds are a good place for this year's crop money. They grow, rain or shine. See your banker or postmaster on the next trip to town.

U. S. Treasury Department are too variable to be dependable without controlled conditions. The community locker has ripening facilities under those controlled conditions.

For the economy-minded person who also is interested in convenience, the most economical way to utilize frozen food is have a small storage freezer at home and to store the extra amounts in a community locker. When the supply in the home freezer becomes low, more may be brought from the locker.

Experimental studies by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics have shown the difference in cost between the home freezer and the community locker to be the initial cost of the freezer. Figuring the life time of a freezer costing $500 at 10 years this would make the freezer cost $50 per year above the operating costs. The cost of electricity to operate a home freezer has been found to be about equal to the rental on a commercial locker.

Dr. Earl McCracken of the B. H. N. H. E. has shown that wise management also determines the cost of frozen foods. For example, if 360 lbs. of food is run through a freezer in a year the cost was 28 cents per lb., food but if 900 lbs. was run through the same freezer in a year the cost was re-

EMPLOYMENT REACHES NEW HIGH LEVELS

Jobless insurance claims reached a new post-war low in Indiana when they dropped 1,229 during the week ending August 26, John W. Crise, director of the Indiana Employment Security Division, said today. The 11 per cent decrease from the previous week brought the total claims for the week down to 10,308.

Initial claims increased approximately 5 per cent due largely to temporary partial curtailment of operations in one Gary plant affected by the rail strike. The 13 per cent drop in continued claims, down to 8,485 from 9,789 the week before, overshadowed this slight rise.

Indiana's dwindling labor supply was shown last week by the continuing decrease in job hunters registering in Division offices. Agency officials were suggesting that employers relax hiring specifications whenever possible.

Employers reported 25 per cent more non-agricultural job openings last week than during the week before. Job openings were up 89 per cent over the same week last year.

Telephone Rate Increase Request Is Halved by State PSC

Telephone plants since the end of the war, to provide more and better service in Indiana. We want to keep on going with our $1,000,000 a month program. The Commission order, however, forces us to stop.

"We have no choice. The increase is so much less than we need that we cannot continue to spend large sums of money without hope of a reasonable return.

"We cannot earn under this anywhere near the return the Commission has estimated. In arriving at its estimate, the Commission chose to ignore some of our actual expenses, and retain basic facts of our operation. The Commission "adjustment" do not reduce our actual expenses a single penny.

"Furthermore, the Commission's valuation of our plant is determined to a large extent by the price we paid for equipment and buildings years ago. It does not fully face up to the fact that the equipment needed to serve a new customer today costs more than $400 on the average. This compares with an average cost of $212 for all telephones now in service.

"Since the war more people than ever have wanted telephone service. We have doubled the number of our property in Indiana. In these years of peak industrial activity and prosperity, Indiana Bell's rate of earnings has been at only the depression levels of the early 1930's. On each dollar spent for new equipment during the last three years we have been earning only about two cents. The order of the Commission does not solve this problem.

"We have gone ahead in the belief that we would be permitted to charge adequate rates. Wage increases since 1939 have added $12,000,000 a year to our expenses. Other expenses have risen sharply. But we have received rate increases which amount to only about half of the increased wage bill alone.

"Telephone rates today, including this increase, are only about 7 per cent higher than in 1939. Everyone knows that prices of most everything else have gone up far more. Wages have increased far more. The cost of living is up 70 per cent.

It is difficult to understand why the Commission issued such an order at this time. People of Indiana want good telephone service, and we are convinced, are willing to pay a fair price for it. In a short time we will ask the Commission again to review the facts and fix rates that will enable us to resume our construction program.

"The difference in the price of service, to the average user, between what the Commission has allowed and what we must have to go ahead is very small — less than two pennies a day."

book issued by the state.

Other salient points brought out during the hearing included the fact that an increase in assessed valuation would increase the amount of bonding capacity for the various taxing units; the state officials suggested that by adjusting or through the increased valuation the county could qualify for more money for school purposes.

The State Tax Board declared that even with a ten per cent increase there would be very little if any increase in tax payments, to which county officials and taxpayers took exception. Sometime ago a member of the County Board of Review pointed out that the increases ordered would not bring about a corresponding reduction of the tax rates, since only real estate and not personal, railroad and utility property is affected by these changes.

A member of the State Tax Board indicated that a decision based on the evidence submitted at the hearing, together with the petitions signed by several hundred property holders, would be issued within the next ten days. If the Board finds that the rate increase should be invoked it was indicated at the hearing yesterday that county taxpayers would file an injunction, thereby taking the matter to the courts.

Representing the taxpayers of the county, three attorneys, Delph McKesson, Albert Chipman and Roy Sheneman prepared the case for the property holders. All three appeared at the hearing. County officials, William Oberlin, Harold Rose and Harvey Phillips assisted in the presentation. Members of the State Board present were Noble W. Hollar, chairman; Frank Thompson, Joda Newson and Otto F. Baker.

Faculty Changes

The only faculty changes announced by Col. Gregory are the return of Captain L. S. Fullen to the R. O. T. C. staff and the departure of Lt. Comm. John Roos and Major John Gowan for sabbatical study and travel. Capt. Fullen was assigned here last June but left during the summer session for recruiting duty. Comm. Roos and his wife will study and travel in Europe all of this next year, and Major Gowan will study at the University of California. Major John Mars will serve as assistant counsellor of the Artillery during Gowan's absence.

Also at the opening meeting last night Co. Gregory outlined plans for the school year and announced assignments for orientation week. Six faculty members were named for promotions in rank to instructor with the academic rank of Major. They were A. G. Hughes, D. C. Sutherland, R. S. Patch, W. J. Macquillan, T. E. Harris, and E. Stephenson.

Christmas vacation at the Academy will be from December 16-January 4. Spring vacation will be from March 22-April 1, and Commencement will be on June sixth.

Move Into New Residences

It's moving time in Culver, judging from the number of families who have changed their residences during the past few days. In addition, many summer residents are closing their cottages for the winter. "Signs of the times" is indicated in the increasing number of Lake residents who have winterized their homes and will be spending more time at Maxinkuckee during the off season.

Among those who have or who are moving to new residences are: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schweidler and family who have moved from the Ralph Osborn, Sr., farm residence to the Schweidler property on Liberty Street; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Ervin and family are now occupying the home on the Osborn farm where the Schweidlers formerly lived.

Mr. and Mrs. George Speyer moved a few days ago into their newly constructed home on School Street; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eckman, who purchased the Speyer residence on Jefferson street, have moved into their newly purchased home.

Mr. and Charles Maull, Jr., and family left yesterday for their home in St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Davis and son of Detroit will soon be occupying their newly constructed apartment at the Culver Guest Lodge on Lake Shore Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Rans, formerly of Chicago moved recently into their home on College Avenue which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. James Walters. Mr. and Mrs. Walters have moved to Michigan City.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatten and family recently moved to their new home which they purchased on South Main Street. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wallstead and son are occupying the home vacated by the Hatten's. Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Yeagley have moved to their home on Long Point.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Like the night-blooming cereus, the cactus whose blossom greets midnight, northern lights come out to play amid the shadows of evening—rainbows of the night. They can be amusing; and they can be sobering, evoking instinctive anxieties as old as mankind.

Experts say the aurora borealis is seen more often in the United States than in Europe. Before the days of television and other forms of electronic luxury, folk gathered on the village green to view the chameleon antics of the northern lights, multicolored, shifting, changing, bright as Broadway at show-time, nature's neon display.

One of our gentler bits of folklore was born of the wish to soothe a frightened child, no doubt, when some parent or fond aunt or uncle explained that northern lights were only the effect of the midnight sun shining on the icebergs at the North Pole. So children tell each other still, except, of course, those who read the Britannica instead of asking too busy Daddy too difficult questions.

These latter point out that "since all bright auroras are accompanied by magnetic storms, it seems certain that this type and presumably all others, is caused by electric discharges of some kind. The current evidently must come from or be induced by the sun."

On a night like this the farmer in Maine or Minnesota, the motorist in New Hampshire or Vermont, or seeking a billet for the night along some road in the central United States, may find himself surrounded at midnight as by a second twilight. Great curtains of white hang down to the very horizons all around him; the sky seems suddenly close.

Even if he knows all the approved explanations of the phenomena, he senses his relation to other men of other ages who did not know the wherefores. He peers out from his window or through his windshield with some of the wonder and mayhap a little of the awe with which his forebears viewed these glories from a cave's mouth.

ROADSIDE PARKS MAKE FRIENDS FOR INDIANA

Scattered over Indiana are Roadside Rest Parks, established and cared for by the Roadside Improvement Department of the Indiana State Highway Commission.

As you pass them in your driving about the State you may not sense the great pleasure with which they are enjoyed by those on long drives. Millions of motorists pass across Indiana from other States every year. It is not unusual for people to take as a matter of course facilities provided for them, without giving a thought to the expense, the effort, the planning which provide them. However, hundreds of messages of appreciation are received from users of these rest parks. Especially from those on long trips. They are enthusiastic in their acknowledgment of the service rendered, and many regret that their own states do not render highway users a similar service.

It would be difficult to determine just what part rest parks play in the safety of the motoring public, and that is all of us. It, like an unscathed guard-rail, says Earl Lockridge, superintendent of maintenance, has indirectly saved many lives, perhaps yours, for automobiles parked promiscuously along the highways had become a serious traffic hazard. There are 1,029 of these tables in roadside parks or our State parks.

M. J. Bareither, landscape supervisor, reminds us that very good cooperation is received from motorists who use these pull-outs and roadside parks, carefully putting all trash, old newspapers, picnic plates and cups in the trash barrels provided. These barrels are cleaned at least twice a week, usually by the highway patrolmen.

Where ever possible water is available. Water samples are taken at least once every thirty days during the tourist season, to test its purity. If the State Board of Health finds it questionable, the pump is posted "unsafe for drinking." A chlorine treatment is then given.

Special details, such as trimming of trees or shrubs, mowing of grass, weed eradication is performed by a trained crew, under the supervision of the District Landscape Supervisor.

Among the hundreds of notes and letters received from those who stop to enjoy these turn-outs and rest stops, most of them from other States, are some excellent suggestions, made in the proper spirit. However, some comments are worthy of special attention. One woman said the odor from a cow pasture was offensive. Hence measures may be adopted to encourage nearby farmers to change from livestock raising to floriculture.

Another said mosquitos bothered, so signs may be erected stating that rest parks are out of bounds for flying pests, perhaps even flying saucers. But "by and large," whatever that means, visitors to these parking spots are loud in their praises of Indiana and a State Highway Department which contributes to their pleasure and safety.

Since one farmer can now provide for four of us it has become increasingly important to the man in town that soil be protected and improved so that he may continue to eat well.

Curbstone Comments

Editorial Asides and Observations which may be of passing importance to the week-by-week record of the Lake Maxinkuckee vicinity.

The news from other Hoosier Lakes contain a wide variety of happenings and events. Over at Wawasee there is quite a bit of talk about a new rigged ship made in Amsterdam, Holland; at Lake Shafer, Paul Abbott, who vowed he'd stay submerged at Ideal Beach until Congress lowered taxes for the little man, has lost confidence in Congress or at least he has come to the surface; and at Hartz Lake there have been reports of rattlers along the shore.

Eli Lilly, summer resident at Wawasee recently received delivery of a new boat from Amsterdam, Holland. The Dutch made boat is called a "Boeier." The owner claims he ordered it to fulfill a desire "for a comfortable boat for the aged." The ship affords solid comfort even to arm rests and seats.

Upholstered in blue leather it has a large deck. Having a length of 25 feet, and being 12 feet in width it is made of oak. The coaming around the cockpit has the name, "De Halve Maen" in honor of Henry Hudson's historically famous "Half-Moon."

On each side of the mast is the coat of arms under the mast is the "Tree of Life" carved into the wood; on the rudder is a half moon and stars; and on the tiller bar, a large headed fish is carved.

"De Halve Moon" was shipped to New York and trucked to Lake Wawasee. Sounds like a miniature of Lake Maxinkuckee's three-masted square rigger "The O. W. Fowler." The difference being the local sailing ship was built in the Academy's boat shop, of which we are a bit proud.

The news from Shafer Lake is a bit more intriguing. Sometime ago the daily press told of Paul Abbott's intent to submerge in the water of Lake Shafer. Emerging from his glass and steel tank, Abbott admitted that taxes were going up instead of down. His decision to come up from his watery home coincided with the close of the summer tourist season, during which an estimated 25,000 persons came to see him in his under water home.

Characterized by witnesses as one of the most weird accidents ever seen, an auto crash at Bass Lake a week ago Sunday night in which three young men from Hamlet were injured, resulted in $6,000 damage to the Peterson Store and Fishburn's Sporting Goods Store.

Returning from Winamac late at night the car, traveling at a speed admitted to be 70 miles per hour went out of control at the intersection of State Roads 10 and 29, striking a glancing blow against the Peterson store and then hit the corner of Fishburn's store, ripping out the entire front of the latter establishment.

The accident literally tore the car in two, completely severing the car just behind the front door. The front half of the car ripped through the front of the store, the back half coming to rest on the opposite side of the highway.

"Wally" Stone, son of Major and Mrs. Louis Stone, got in some last minute pre-school fishin' last Friday and the youthful fisherman didn't do so bad. Wally caught a 5½ pound bass that was a beauty.

Local police have cracked down on speeding and reckless driving during the past month. In addition to several arrests in which guilty offenders have been fined and licenses suspended in the local court, several have been warned. With school starting all motorists should be careful of student pedestrian traffic.

Several East Shore residents have become strongly attached to a crippled mallard duck which has made his home during the past summer off the entrance to Aubbeenaubee Bay. The duck is so tame that he makes regular appearances near the piers and on the cottage lawns. Mrs. J. S. Kittle of "Fair Winds" has appropriately named him "Ickabod." In telling about "Ichabod," Mrs. Kittle a long time summer resident at Maxinkuckee, has asked us to intercede with duck hunters requesting them not to shoot a favorite pet of the 1950 season.

A fire aboard a power boat on the Lake here on Monday caused a mild flurry. Conservation officers went to the rescue of the passengers. Although details were lacking it was said that the boat was badly damaged.

There is an unseasonable profusion of blossoms on the fruit trees, and red and black raspberry bushes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kyle according to a story appearing in the Indianapolis Star on Monday. Kyle is quoted as blaming the "crazy weather" and the "neighborhood hormones" for the freakish phenomena.

Your Life Insurance

Every member of the family should own a life insurance policy, for there are heavy expenses whenever anyone dies, and it is well to be prepared. Otherwise financial worry may accompany grief over the death of a loved one.

Hospital and doctor bills and all the other final expenses can amount to a considerable sum, especially in case of a long or complicated illness.

Nobody wants to leave his family a burden of debt when the time comes for him to go. It isn't necessary. Life insurance is the obvious answer.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

The Big Idea of Faith and Peace

UP IN PAWLING, N. Y., there is published a very small magazine with a very big idea. A lot of people believe in this idea, but few do anything about it. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, editor-in-chief of this little magazine, called Guideposts, is doing something about it every day of his life. The idea? Peace.

What Dr. Peale urges all of us to do cannot but further the idea, for all he asks us to do is within our power; to have faith. "Faith," we read from The Book, "is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

If you haven't looked up the definition of "substance," here it is: substance means "the substantial part, the main part," of anything. So substance is the main part when we hope.

We live by faith. If we didn't have faith, we would accomplish nothing, have nothing, be less than nothing. Let's cooperate with this man who is spending his life in helping all of us. Let's follow some suggestions he sets forth, and which he has great faith. Here are those suggestions. It will help you every day of your life to follow them to repeat to yourself every morning as you start the day:

- 1—I will seek a change within myself that I may have inner peace.
- 2—I will seek to effect, with God's help, a similar change in my family, my social group, my community.
- 3—I will seek to make my faith infectious that I may attract other people to God by what I am.
- 4—At every opportunity, I will pray for peace, speak for peace, act for peace, and think for peace.
- 5—I will try to win at least two others to a similar dedication and charge them each to do likewise.

Dr. Peale says that if this process is repeated only 31 times the entire population of the world can be reached. And it can start with you.

If you would like to have a copy, or several copies, of article on peace that appeared in Guideposts, write for it. Guideposts, Pawling, N. Y. You don't have to send any money for it, but every penny counts in printing more and more copies.

COLD WEATHER HALTS LAKE ACTIVITIES

Rather frigid weather conditions kept most visitors indoors over the Labor Day holiday week end. The cold winds kept all but the most hardy away from the beach and usual fishing, boating, sailing, picnicking and other holiday activities were called off. It was the smallest lake crowd here in many years in the opinion of many old timers.

BILL OBERLIN SPEAKS AT ILLINOIS LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

William Oberlin was the speaker at the annual Labor Day homecoming celebration at Herscher, Illinois, on Monday. Mr. Oberlin, Marshall county assessor and World War II veteran, addressed the large gathering for the Flag Raising at the Soldier's Memorial.

AURORA BOREALIS ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Northern Lights again provided a brilliant spectacle for scores of persons last night who turned outdoors to witness the awe inspiring scene. Several reported driving to vantage points to secure a better view. A cottager on the South Shore said the view was particularly clear from the piers at the south end of the lake.

REDESIGNING automobiles to stress safety rather than speed and appearance is recommended by the Committee on Traffic Safety of the Indiana State Medical Association. Like many others, physicians are concerned about the mounting traffic deaths. In the first six months of 1950, for example, 499 persons were killed on Indiana highways against 463 for the similar period in 1949, an increase of 8 per cent.

Physicians know all too well the deaths and injuries resulting from automobile accidents. While lack of driver responsibility is the cause of most accidents, removal of all knobs, cranks, drop-down ash trays and sharp edges from the dial board would reduce the danger of injury to occupants. Other recommendations are for welded unit construction of frame and car body, plexiglass windows and windshields to prevent cuts from broken glass, and crash pads of sponge rubber on dashboards and back of front seats. Many face and head injuries result from impact with the dashboard, windshield and rear of the front seat. The driver often suffers chest injuries from being thrown against the steering wheel. Other injuries are to the hip, pelvis, thigh and kneecap by being propelled forward, and to elbows projecting from a window. Safety belts like those used in airplanes have been suggested as a safety measure.

Because of the unprotected position, the seat next to the driver is the most dangerous place in an automobile.

We can't change human nature very much, say the physicians, but they do think alterations in automobile designs will help reduce traffic deaths which now amount to more than 32,000 a year.

Paul Laumann and Nancy Todd Win "Oscars"

Paul Laumann and Nancy Todd won the coveted "Oscars," renamed "Mac's," at the Maxinkuckee Playhouse Wednesday evening.

Hailed as finest actor of the season, Mr. Laumann played the lead roles in all of the shows, save one, presented during the season.

Adjudged the finest actress, Miss Todd played the lead in all but four of the plays. She is indeed a very fine actress, with a background of radio experience, and training in motion pictures.

The presentation of the "Mac's" followed Wednesday night's performance of "Golden Boy," the last play of the current season. The trophies were donated by Don Trone of Culver.

They were presented "to the actor and actress who have consistently done the most outstanding work over the period of the ten-week season, from June 27 until the final week of the season."

The committee which selected the recipients of the trophies consisted of: Martin Tahse and Paul Rutledge, Directors of the Playhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Pabst, chaperon-advisers of the cast, and a member of the cast who was chosen by the actors and actresses themselves.

Starke County Youths Find It Less Costly To Keep Promises

Sometimes it is better to take bitter medicine as offered. So four Starke county young men found out last week.

Recently Superintendent John Trapp of the Tippecanoe River state park found evidences of a disorderly party going on. He called Sheriff H. H. Bollhauve,

FENCE LINES

The feed basket of grain-eating animals can be prevented from tipping by using a pitchfork with fork handle through one of the basket's handles and the prongs in the ground.

Deputy Sheriff Carl March and State Trooper Delvie Masterson, who found twenty to twenty-five young people from the adjacent county generally "tearing up jack." The officials agreed to let the group off if they would return the next day and clean the shelter house of spilled food and drinks and empty cans.

This they agreed to do. And they did so—all but four members. These four, Ale Roepstorff, Joe Young, Louis Hahnlee and Don Boyle, were thus haled into Justice Miller's court last week end, charged with disorderly conduct. Each was fined $1 and cost.
