Marshall Bros. Ford And Mercury Moves To Argos

Culver - Marshall Bros. Ford and Mercury, located for many years at 415 Lake Shore Drive in Culver, spent many long hours last week moving to its new location at the corner of St. Rd. 10 and U.S. 31 in Argos. This new location is also the site of Marshall Bros. RV Center. General Manager Ken Aemmer and his staff were busy last week moving new cars, using cars, service equipment, office equipment and parts to the new location.

The Marshall Bros. Ford and Mercury agency serves both communities of Argos and Culver. The agency feels that the new location on U.S. 31 will better serve the many fine customers since it is located near the center of their dealership district. The same fine quality Ford Motor Co. products and service will be offered at the new location.

New School Board Members Sworn In

Restraining Order Filed Against Them

Culver - Two Culver School Board members, Phil Mallory and Peggy Clark, were sworn in last Thursday by Supt. William F. Mills. These seats were created by passage of the elected school board referendum last November.

A special school board meeting was held on Saturday afternoon attended by Board President, Paul Davidson and members Marvin Good and Don Keller in which they voted 3-0 to file for a temporary restraining order to prevent Clark and Mallory from taking their seats as board members. Also voted on at that meeting was a motion to ask for a change of venue in the suit for a declaratory judgment from Marshall Circuit Judge Thomas Huff in the appointment of Mallory and Mrs. Clark.

School board members Paul Snyder, Jr., and Howard Hildebrand and Supt. Mills were unable to attend the Saturday meeting. Snyder stated that he believed it would be illegal for the school board to meet on Saturday because he was not given 72 hours advance notice as is required by Indiana law.

A hearing scheduled for Tuesday concerning the change of venue was denied and another hearing will be held on Friday, January 5, in Jasper County concerning the legality of Good's sitting as school board member. Much of the discussion erupting at Culver's school board meetings have stemmed from the closing of

Participates In Rose Bowl Parade

Culver - Eric Jacobson, son of Alice Bess Mackey Jacobson of Dover, Delaware, was in the Tournament of Roses Parade on New Years Day.

which led the parade. Mrs. Jacobson is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Mackey of Culver, and formerly resided in Culver.

National Publication Carries Article By Former Citizen Owners

Culver - Tom and Bernadette Zos, former owners of the Culver Citizen, have an interesting article appearing in the February issue of Writer's Digest, entitled "The Family Ties: Making 'Citizens' Together."

The article tells of the adventures of a young couple who bought, edited and sold a small town weekly newspaper for a full profit - and for fun along the way. They state that "Publishing a small weekly newspaper is like writing a book a week."

hoping to buy a small town newspaper as a business venture.

The article proves to be very interesting reading by two people who did an excellent job as owners and editors in the long history of the Culver Citizen.

Tom now writes monthly columns in two publications for magicians and is the author of Finding the Money in Magic; he is currently president of Royal Rubber Company in South Bend. Bernie has served as a publications editor for Indiana University and now works for University Relations at Indiana University at South Bend.

Named To High School Who's Who

Culver - Miss Shirley Poort, Monticary, a CCHS student, has been named in the 1977-78 publication of the Who's Who American High School Students' which recognizes students for their positive achievements in Academics, Athletics, Activities or service.

High School and has received many awards for her efforts in these endeavors.

Being featured in Who's Who represents a significant personal achievement, since less than five per cent of all the nation's enrolled juniors and seniors receive this special recognition.

George Lane, Associate Director Loyola University Press, Chicago, states about the Who's Who Publication, "I think you've done the country and the youth a real service. You've given the young people a voice they would not otherwise have. Right on!"

Our heartiest congratulations to Shirley Poort.

Exchange Student Returns To Culver

Culver - Mrs. Charles Baker of 447 S. Main in Culver phoned the Culver Citizen office late last week with the information that

Monica Vasquez of Santiago, Chile is returning to visit her father, Monica was a foreign exchange student to Culver 10 years ago through a program at Culver High School. The Bakers planned to pick up Monica at the airport last Saturday.

Receives China War Medal

Culver - James E. Rinesmith, Culver, read an article in an American Legion Magazine concerning veterans who may be eligible to receive a China War Memorial Medal.

Rinesmith submitted his history of the U.S. Harlan DD 36, which he served from 1946 to 1947 with the Navy from 1946 to 1946 and received the medal and a letter which read "In response to your letter, I take pleasure in sending you herewith a China War Memorial Medal, which the Government of the Republic of China has especially deemed as a token of its appreciation for the contributions by Americans like

by Arlene J. Wilder

(Since a vacation usually requires additional work before you leave and "catching up" when you return, I received a helping hand. In this and next week's Citizen, a guest columnist will be featured under the "What's Next?" column. While visiting my son in Florida I read some of his literary efforts and he agreed to let me publish two of them.)

AN ILLUSTRATION

by David G. Nix

From the time of Adam and Eve till the present -- and more than likely this trend will continue -- man has had a very basic and very strong need for the companionship of a woman. Through the years, however, his technique has changed slightly: that is, his style used in attracting the attention of the opposite sex. Today's American male has a multitude of ways to gain the favor of the female gender.

Any average shopper for men's clothes would notice the advertisements on television or the actual clothes in the racks that obviously fit in a way to show off the muscular biceps and broad shoulders. Pants, depending on the style at the time, usually fit low on the hips and tightly around the thighs to give any man that sexy look. Sometimes clothes are ingeniously manufactured to make an even unattractive body appear somehow very nice.

The automobile is another extension of man's pride and a tool he sometimes uses to impress the women. Car manufacturers spend surely thousands and thousands of dollars annually on advertising to show how any puny and boring personality can become a Robert Redford or Burt Reynolds just by stepping into a new automobile. This philosophy is, perhaps unconsciously, carried in the public minds. Surely a man wearing sunglasses and driving a 1979 Corvette is more likely to make an impression than the man who owns an early model Ford and has no sun glasses.

In addition to clothes and cars, the average American male between the ages of 16 and 48 probably spends at least eight dollars monthly on a hair style. Of course this fee includes the shampoo and head massage, as well as the actual cut and blow dry.

Suppose the ultimate goal of many men is to portray the image of the "Macho" personality to the female. This would not only include the muscular bodies and everything else that is visible with the eye, but the person himself, the inner man, is taken into consideration by the woman, I am sure. Therefore, many men would practice and work very hard indeed to portray the image of the steadfast and secure, the smooth talker and the gentleman, and whatever else he thinks the opposite sex would most likely want to see in him.

All in an attempt to gain the favor and love of the female he hopes to win!

Help children put away their toys by making it part of the game. They'll begin to develop a good habit.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS WINTER GAMES AT PINES SKI LODGE

Culver - The second annual Indiana Special Olympics Winter Games will be held at the Pines Ski Lodge in Valparaiso. The two-day event is scheduled for January 11 and 12th. Through a special grant from Burger Chef Systems, Inc., the State Headquarters will be able to purchase medals and ribbons for the games.

Two hundred mentally handicapped individuals from all parts of Indiana will participate in skiing, skating, and tobogganing events. Prior to the competition, the Pines Ski Patrol and other skiing enthusiasts will volunteer their talents to provide each participant a two-hour block of instruction on "How To Ski."

The official events will include Alpine and Nordic Skiing speed and figure saking, and team tobogganing. A special event has been developed to allow downhill skiing for wheelchair participants.

Competition in downhill and cross-country skiing will start the afternoon of January 11 on the Pines Ski Slopes. The traditional lighting of the torch and opening ceremonies will start at 5 P.M. Immediately following the ceremonies, a banquet will be held for all participants and coaches.

Competition will resume Friday, January 12, at Rogers-Lakewood Park with speed and figure skating. In addition, the tubing and tobogganing events will be held on the nearby sledding slopes and tobogganing runs.

Indiana Special Olympics is a volunteer organization that provides opportunities of organized sports and recreation to the mentally handicapped. The year-round program presently has over 13,000 special athletes and 2,000 volunteers.

TRAINING OFFERED TO POLES

Argos - A work-study program for young Poles interested in agricultural training has been quite successful in this country, David J. Trotter, Marshall County Extension Agent-youth, reports.

Each year a group of highly select young Polish men and women (ages 20-32) pursuing careers in agriculture come to the United States for 12 months on-the-job and in-service training.

Objectives of the program are to enable participants to experience and study modern farming in America and to contribute to cross-cultural understanding and friendship between the people of the two nations.

The program is sponsored in the United States by the National 4-H Council, acting in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of the state land-grant universities. Sponsors in Poland include the Polish Society of Agricultural Engineers and the Union of Rural Youths.

A new group of 100 Polish trainees will arrive in the United States next March. They will be assigned to farms in several states where the owners specialize in dairy, beef, swine, poultry, fruit/vegetable production, or agri-business.

Trainees are assigned to farmers under a written agreement stipulating conditions of employment in training. Most trainees reside with their host families. Some are provided separate living quarters on or near their host farm.

While on host farms, trainees earn compensation at the rate of $350 a month. Of this amount the trainee receives $65 a month as spending allowance. The remaining $285 is sent to the 4-H Council to cover program expenses. The hosts provide free room and board in addition to the monthly contribution. All expenses are tax deductible and no income tax or social security is withheld from the compensation.

Persons interested in learning more about the program or in becoming a host family for a visitor should contact David J. Trotter at the Marshall County Extension Office 936-3141 or Michael R. Chrisman, Regional Manager, Agricultural Training Program, The Ohio State University, 2121 Fyffe Road, Columbus, OH 43210.

PUBLISHER'S 'PINION

The first of the year is bringing the annual negotiations and pay increases for municipal employees throughout the area. All of the towns, cities and counties are facing the same problem. The revenues are not increasing as fast as wage inflation and the cost of operating equipment.

Consequently a municipality must either cut various activities or try to increase revenue. The last few years have been a time when governmental boards looked closely at every area of expenditures. They have tried to increase or eliminate whatever possible.

Making the situation worse are new expenditures. The emergency medical service was not handled in past years by local government. With the new laws, government has had to get involved in the expensive program.

The future economy of local government does not look good. The federal government has tried to offset the increased costs with their revenue sharing programs. If these were eliminated, all of the local units would go broke trying to keep the community functioning. Thus, the federal government has a strong hold on local activities.

All local officials deserve a good pat-on-the-back for trying.

ing their best to keep an impossible situation under control. If they spend too much money, they will find themselves with a Cleveland on their hands. Yet if they spend too little, the community will not have adequate water, sewage, police, fire and in many towns, electrical services available. Only good hard-working government officials can keep the community functioning properly.

This is a tough situation with the future looking even tougher. A solution must be found. One possible solution is growth. More population means more people using water, sewage, electrical, police and fire. More usage of local services means more revenue for the community without the necessity of expensive increases in these services. An example would be if 50 more people moved into this area, these people would pay local taxes, pay water and sewage bills, etc. and the town (in most cases) would not have to add additional personnel or any expensive equipment. Of course, too much growth would make the situation worse, rather than better. If the local government and the local chamber of commerce could actively entice more people to move into the area, the dilemma would not be so severe.

POSTAGE TODAY

Sure we kick about the postage

It's an outrage and a shame.

Fifteen cents to mail a letter

And we wonder who to blame.

Our minds turns back to yesteryear

When a postcard cost one cent

And two cents for a letter

No matter where it went.

Oh we rave and beat our chest

Yelling, "Tomorrows costs will worsen"

But with high priced transportation

Could we afford to deliver it in person?

DANIEL D. BOYER BECOMES CPA PARTNER

Culver - McQueen & Thieling, CPAs, with offices in Plymouth, Bremen and Rochester, have announced that Daniel D. Boyer has become a partner in the firm effective January 1, 1979. Mr Boyer has been with the firm for three years and in public accounting for a total of seven years. He graduated from Manchester College in 1971 with a degree in accounting and obtained his C.P.A. certificate in 1974. Dan and his wife Chris have two daughters - Kim (age 4) and Laurie (age 10 months) and have been living in Bourbon for the last several years.

Mr. Boyer has been in charge of the tax department at McQueen & Thieling for the last two years and will be assuming the responsibilities of tax partner. As such, he will be continuing and expanding the firm's tax area by maintaining a program of increasing training and development.

AREA LIBRARY SERVICES AUTHORITY, REGION 2

Culver - Library patrons in St. Joseph, Elkhart, Marshall, and Kosciusko Counties will be listening to the sound of music new spring from ALSA 2's versatile "Trekkling Troubadour."

The Area 1 Library Services Authority, serving these four counties, has received a $1,970 grant from the Indiana Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts to hire a musician for the benefit of the general public. The project is tentatively scheduled for the months of March and April.

The musician will live and work in the area for an eight week period and will conduct workshops, performances, and seminars for the public and for library staffs in ALSA 2's forty-two member academic, public, school, and special libraries.

Cynthia Wiggins from the Elkhart Public Library, and Dan Armstrong, Director of the Plymouth Public Library, will work with ALSA 2 Coordinator, Margaret McNeill, to select a musician to serve as the "Trekkling Troubadour."

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Moriarty

MORIARTYS TO CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Argos - An open house at 1004 South Street in Culver has been planned for Sunday, February 4 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Moriarty.

C.O. Moriarty and Marjorie Krouse were married on February 9, 1929 at the Argos Congregational Christian Church parsonage. They have six children: Marilyn Smiley of Argos, James P. Moriarty of Plymouth, Shirley Stults of Argos, John L. Moriarty of Culver, Terry Moriarty of Logansport, and Linda Fuller of Middlebury. The couple has 13 grandchildren, six great grandchildren and 5 step-grandchildren.

All area friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house celebration. The family will meet at Pinders in Culver before the open house for dinner.

STATE SNOWMOBILERS TO SLED FOR HEART

Culver - Seven thousand Hoosier snowmobilers are expected to converge in the North Webster, area on the January 13-14 weekend, estimates Richard Squiers, President of the Indiana Snowmobile Association.

The event is the second Annual Heart Fund Sled-a-Thon and Winter Carnival for the ISA, in an effort to raise $50,000 in 1979 for the Indiana Heart Fund. They raised over $14,000 in the first Sled-a-Thon last January.

Perhaps the Blizzard of '78 was partially responsible for this rapidly growing sport. ISA Affiliated Clubs are now forming as far south as Columbus, and there are eighteen in cities north of Highway 40.

Individuals and snowmobile dealers, as well as ISA Club members, will be riding for Heart Fund pledges; while Miss Indiana, Terry Jean Kaiser of Ellettsburg, will be on hand both days.

Incoming sleders to North Webster will ride their machines as many miles as possible to fulfill monetary pledges for mileage, which will be collected afterward and credited to the Heart Fund in the rider's county of residence.

North Webster, the destination point, is again the site of the Winter Carnival, planned by the Lakeland Snowmobile Club. The weekend includes not only the crowning of the Snow Queen by Miss Indiana but a snowmobile giveaway.

There will be poker runs on Lake Webster and Lake Wawasee, a torchlight safari (a beautiful sight to behold as a caravan of sledgers glides through the trails at night), drag races and sanctioned races on the lakes, family and children's games, a treasure hunt, pancake and sausage breakfast, and the Giant Snow Dance.

The ISA reminds its clubs, dealers, and individual non-members that this snowmobiling event is open to all, and that the collection of pledges and subsequent riding to and around the North Webster area for those pledges is the key to making the Sled-a-Thon a success for the Indiana Heart Fund.

To obtain a pledge sheet and more information on the Sled-a-Thon and Winter Carnival, contact your local Heart Association, an ISA

Culver Boy Scout To Perform Community Service

Culver - Lee Houghton, Culver Boy Scout is going to help Senior Citizens and Handicapped persons in the Culver Area.

Lee and his team of Scouts, working with the Culver Fire Department, will be marking homes of both Senior Citizens and the Handicapped in our area so that in the event of a fire, the Fire Department or Police Department will know there might be someone trapped inside who would need extra help in getting out.

Each home will be identified both front and rear entrances, by a 3" square yellow reflector tape which will be readily noticed by the Fire Department upon its arrival at the scene. Lee hopes to have all homes needing this service taken care of in the next two weeks. In the event your home is missed for some reason, please call Lee at his home, Culver 842-2324.

Culver - Shown above are the CCHS Chorales under the direction of Maxwell MacIn. The group brought joy to the Countryside Nursing Home patients in Knox recently by singing for them. The patients also joined in on some Christmas Carols.

I FELT CHRISTMAS

I felt it in the tingle of cold
frosty air;

I felt it in the love of people that seemed so much stonger at this blessed season when wrongs are righted, quarrels forgotten in the close walk of brotherhood inspired by the Prince of Peace;

I felt it as I listened once again to our pastor's sermon reminding us of that Holy Gift;

I felt it in the very presence of that newborn KING;

I felt Him so near, with the true meaning of Christmas warming my heart;

I felt His life and His death
held purpose;

I felt "Peace on earth,
good will toward men"
would once again be!

CULVER PUBLIC LIBRARY NEWS

Culver - Thanks to Mr. John Williams for his recent gift to the library of a new 1979 Rand McNally Atlas and maps. If you are planning on traveling, come in and use our atlas instead of buying one of your own.

Congratulations to Mrs. Mary Ann Broeker and husband Charles on the birth of their daughter Jennifer Kay. Jennifer joins two sisters at home, Robyn and Dawn.

Story hour on December 15th was made a big success by the arrival of Santa Claus, who visited with the group during the last half of story hour.

New books for this week: We have several new non-fiction books, most notably The Cold Weather Catalogue; Learning to Love Winter which gives plenty of suggestions for making winter more endurable, if not pleasurable. We have the 1978 edition of Writer's Market for those interested in publishers and publishing. We also have American Caesar; Douglas MacArthur, 1880-1964 by William Manchester and German Cooking by Ruth Malinowski. New Fiction: The Oranging of America and Other Stories, a collection of funny and moving stories by Max Apple.

New For Children: Grade 2 - Garth Pig and the Ice Cream Lady by Mary Rayner.

Grade 3-4-Ann's Journey, a beautifully illustrated story without words by Mitumasa Anno.

PURCHASE LICENSE PLATES BY MAIL

Culver - There is no need to stand in line to buy your 1979 license plates. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles would like to suggest that Indiana citizens purchase their plates by mail.

Approximately four million pre-printed registrations have been mailed during the last two months. By using the pre-printed form, Indiana residents may obtain their 1979 license plates by mail.

To acquire a plate by mail, an individual must:

- 1) Verify the information on the registration form. If the name, address, or social security number is incorrect, make the correction on the registration form.
- 2) Be certain the registration is for the vehicle you currently own. Individuals who have traded cars during the past year may receive a pre-print for both the vehicle that has been sold and for the new vehicle. If this should happen to you, please discard the obsolete form, only, and follow the standard procedure. A trip to the license branch is only necessary when the vehicle description found on the pre-printed form does not match your current vehicle.
- 3) Make out a check or money order payable to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles for the exact amount indicated by the arrow on the pre-print form. Never send Cash.
- 4) Sign the pre-print on the far left-hand side, place all copies of the form and the check or money order in the envelope. Be sure the branch address is visible through the envelope window.

Place a first class stamp on the envelope, and include the return address on the space provided.

All pre print forms must be mailed on, or before, the fifth day of your registration month to assure delivery before the 1978 plate expires. Please allow at least three weeks before you receive your plate.

If your pre-print form is not received in the mail by January 15, 1979, please contact the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

1978 WAS A GREAT YEAR FOR SPORTS.

It started with Notre Dame winning the National Football Championship and ended with the news of Woody Hayes and his 28 year reign falling. And only in 1978, could we on National Television view "hello Culver Indiana, across the screen" seems that the Bob Linnall clan were at the Peach Bowl.

In last weeks review of 1978 some area fetes were accidentally overlooked.

John Mosley CMA had an outstanding Football Season, as he was one of the areas premiere running back. Mitchell Farmer 1978 CCHS graduate won sectional and regional crowns in wrestling.

CMA's tennis team had an outstanding season, as did Randy James, CCHS No. 1 seed.

VALPARAISO UNIV. SPRING SEMESTER COURSE OFFERINGS

Valparaiso - In addition to courses in the Colleges of Business Administration and Arts and Sciences, Valparaiso University, through its Office of Continuing Education, is offering several non-credit continuing education courses during the spring semester.

Creative Gourmet Cooking, a new course, is scheduled for March 1, 8 and 29 and April 5 and 12 from 7:00 - 9:30 p.m. in the Loke Home Economics Center. Ms. Judith Goldinger will teach the course dealing with the preparation of elegant French and Continental meals, using fresh ingredients, and unusual desserts.

Assertive Training, being taught by Prof. Richard Millar will meet on Wednesdays, January 17 - March 7, from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. in Mueller Hall. The course will cover attitudes, insights, and skills designed to increase comfort and confidence in personal relationships in social and business situations of all kinds.

One couldn't ask for a better start in 1979 than the bowl game on New Years Day.

The Number 1 Penn State No. 2 Alabama matchups in the Sugar Bowl was a classic.

I'm sure Penn State will learn that you can't play legally with 12 players on the field. A costly penalty may have taken the national championship away from Penn State.

Of course, Bama's Goal line stand had a significance on the games outcome.

How will Notre Dame survive the loss of Joe Montana next year? Joe, as usual, brought the Irish back to beat Huston 35-34 at the horn, after being down 22 points. I guess that will take some of the sting off the similar USC loss earlier this season.

ceramics, paper craft, print-making, and many others, will meet from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. in Lembke hall.

For further information contact the Office of Continuing Education, Valparaiso University, 464-5313 or visit the Office in Heritage Hall, room 17, on the UV campus.

buses are not kept up, then suddenly down the way wherever we will find ourselves needing many new buses without funds to purchase them. Some people cut out all extra curricular activities. This would be unfair to our students. Extra curricular activities provide learning experiences, develop leadership, give students a chance to shine that might have had that chance otherwise. These extra curricular activities are very important to hundreds of our students. I take pride in the accomplishment of our students on the athletic fields, in band, music, art, and the variety of opportunities we afford them. It would seem these are the kind of activities we want our students involved in after school and evenings, rather than other alternatives.

I hope the school board will spend many hours with me, other administrators, teachers, and students, looking at where we are today and where we want to be tomorrow. We must listen to patrons and taxpayers of the school community. They have a right to give input, offer suggestions and have their ideas and thoughts known; but in the final analysis this board has been appointed to make the decisions. Only after careful study of all the alternatives through objective thinking, and using as much knowledge as we can acquire, can the right decisions be made.

The question is then, "Does this board want to spend roughly $100,000 to re-open a building if all our students are being adequately housed without that building? Does the board want to do this on its own? Would the board want to have an outside group make a survey?" I have given you my recommendations. It is an honest recommendation. It is now the board's decision. No matter which way the board goes on this question, I will follow the mandate of the majority of the board.

approved techniques. The division has recommended to the Commission on General Education of the Indiana State Board of Education that Culver Community Schools receive the following commission:

- 1) Culver Community High School - First Class.
- 2) Culver Elementary and Junior High - First class.
- 3) Aubbeenaubee Elementary - Certified
- 4) Monterey Elementary - Certified.

All of the buildings are well maintained. All of the professional staff has at least a Bachelor's Degree. All of the professional staff is properly licensed in the area they are teaching.

Several recommendations which would enhance the educational program should receive the attention of the Board of School Trustees. They are as follows:

Governor Otis R. Bowen

■ Indiana needs a state transportation development program and a centralized agency to plan and administer it.

A report, required of the governor under the state's "Sunset law", cited a growing range of problems and challenges facing virtually every mode of transportation in Indiana.

The executive branch has reached five basic conclusions about the shortcomings of existing state transportation policy:

— The State of Indiana lacks a transportation policy.

— State government also lacks the means with which to devise one or to implement it.

— The state is missing out on a number of opportunities to bolster the quality of its transportation system.

— The state is unprepared to cope with a series of very critical transportation issues that will confront it in the 1980s.

— The state cannot make thoughtful appraisals of the costs and benefits of many transportation projects; it cannot assess the impacts of decisions involving one mode of transportation upon other modes, and it cannot explore options for transportation programs that encompass more than one mode.

The report advocates consolidation of state transportation functions into a central agency that would be able to coordinate planning, policymaking and decisions that affect more than one mode of transportation.

The report termed transportation the state's "most significant economic asset, because of the way in which it has facilitated industrial and urban development throughout our state's history." It warned of threats to the continued operation of urban transit companies, intrastate bus operations, segments of the rail system, and local air service during the 1980s, unless more aggressive state action is taken.

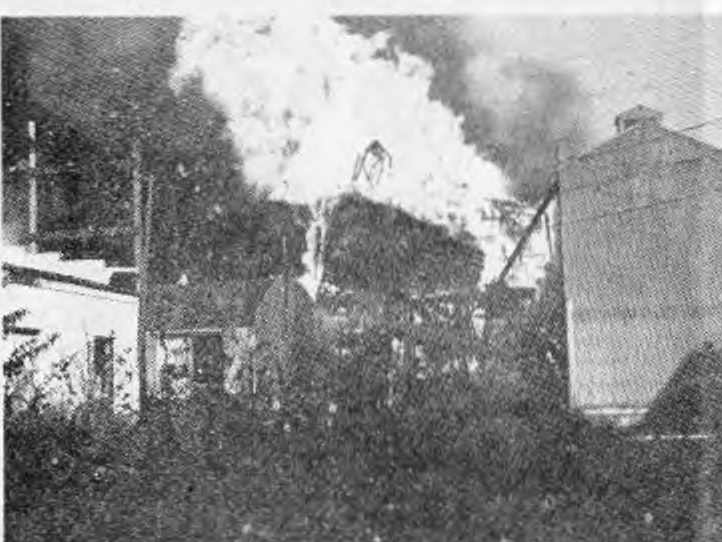

"It is the opinion of the executive branch that the transportation issues facing the state are of dimensions so serious that we can no longer afford our traditional style of approach to them," the report concluded. "If Indiana is to protect its most unique geographic and economic asset and is to sustain a modern transportation system throughout the remainder of this century, we have no choice other than to adopt a far more aggressive, active and creative involvement in transportation affairs."

Views In The News For 1978

The year 1978 is now a memory. Recapturing some of them in photos from past Citizens, shows our first issue being perused by Bob Kyle, long time journalist and contributor to the Citizen, and the editor, last March.

This photo submitted by Doug Bernhardt, a CCHS student, was taken at the site of Culver's grain elevator fire in November. The fire which destroyed the elevator, came in less than a week after the blaze which demolished the bowling alley and coffee shop.

MACFRAMPTON TRIUMVIRATE CONCERT FEB. 8

Culver - MacFrampton Triumvirate - Frampton gained national prominence as a bronze medalist in the 1969 Van Cliburn International Piano Competition. Gradually, Frampton broke away from the classical tradition and developed a blend of rock, Broadway, and jazz styles.

Supported by a bass and drums, he brings to the keyboard the restless vitality of a searching, dynamic talent that refuses to be pinned won by a label.

The Frampton concert will be held February 8th.

SAFETY TIP

CLOTHING FIRES

Many people, especially children, get burned because their clothes catch fire. Sometimes they get too near a barbecue, or fireplace, or space heater. Often the cause is misuse of matches.

DROP AND ROLL if clothes catch fire. Don't run!

Regulating Medicine-What It Can Mean To You

By William F. Buckley Jr.

When the Salk vaccine was discovered, the voices of dogged inexperience clamored for immediate socialization of the anti-polio industry.

In a matter of months the drug manufacturer had placed the vaccine within everyone's reach; but the accomplishments of those who accomplish are not so widely noticed as the derogations of the derogators. The mood was ripe for the rise of Senator Kefauver and the institution of regulations that are perversely justified on the grounds that they "protect" a public.

Causes Blindness

I don't collect stories about aborted medical discoveries, but it happens that I know one. There is a disease of the eye which causes blindness. It is—like the dreadful Jakob-Creutzfeldt disease—extremely discriminatory in its choice of victims: a few thousand per year. A small laboratory, unnamed, came upon an effective drug capable of instantly neutralizing it. But the cost of running this drug through the regulatory agencies in Washington was estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000. The sales of that drug would not begin, in a typical year, to reimburse the laboratory the interest cost on that sum of money.

The laboratory is not a philanthropic foundation—it hasn't the resources, or indeed the right so to use them, assuming that it did—to permit it to spend a half-million dollars. So, the laboratory gave away its patented medicine—free, gratis, to laboratories in other countries.

Now if your sharp-eyed doctor correctly diagnoses the disease, he has to inform you that you cannot purchase relief in the United States. And he is himself prohibited by law from keeping a little supply in his bottom drawer. You are left to your own devices. Thus it would appear to me to follow that legislative acquiescence in hyper-regulation has the effect of perpetuating, and arguably permitting people to profiteer from human misery.

It is no safer to say that the drug industry is composed of better men than average, than it is to say that the Supreme Court is composed of better men than average.

But the drug industry, whatever the purity of its spokesmen, is peculiarly victimized by the demagogue who finds it easier to denounce the incremental cost of a capsule over against the cost charged to the consumer. As well compare the ergs of physical energy expended by a young man digging a ditch against those of an eye surgeon removing cataracts, and reason that the former should be paid more per hour than the latter.

Addicted To Ignorance

It is a complicated business, sorting out the sloppy incursions of the moralists against the practices of the free marketplace. On one drug they are almost all addicted. It is ignorance. And if there were a cure for it, I would, for once, adjourn my objections to socializing its manufacture and requiring everyone to ingest it, under pain of law.

Mr. Buckley is founder and editor of "National Review," author of a widely syndicated newspaper column and host of a weekly television show. This article is excerpted from one he wrote exclusively for "Commitment," a quarterly magazine published by Abbott Laboratories.
