Chief Burns Retires

"We started out with ten men and one truck, an old Republic," Dave Burns reminisced. He has retired as Chief of the Culver-Union Township Volunteer Fire Department, after thirty years as chief and forty years with the unit.

Dave joined the department in 1933, under Chief Alfred Cromley. He served under two men, Art Fishburn and Carry Cummins, before becoming Chief himself in 1943. Of the ten men he started with, he recalls, only two are still alive to remember "the good old days"—Kenny Bush and Charlie Asper.

"We never used to have as many runs," Dave remembers, "but the fires were worse—they had a head start by the time we got there. We didn't have much equipment, either." They had no rope, but they had a hook and ladder, and a hose cart and bucket wagon.

The department began as a city-financed group, but by 1935, Union Township had contracted with the town for services, and today provides half the money for expenses. Dave was instrumental in building the department to its present capacity of fifteen men, five trucks, and equipment including a radio system, resuscitator, and other life-saving devices.

What makes a good fireman? "You have to have it in your blood," Dave says. He will remain with the department as a fellow-volunteer for a time, but "I got a boat," he adds with a grin, "and lots of fishing poles."

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Culver has extended to Dave Burns their deep gratitude for his many years of excellent service to the Department. His contribution to the community safety and welfare is recognized and deeply appreciated.

Sailing, Sailing

The W.A. Fleet Post, the American Legion, of Culver, Indiana, will hold its annual and traditional boat ride, Wednesday, August 15, courtesy of the Culver Military Academy. The good ship Fowler will leave the Academy Naval pier of 6:30 p.m. with the Legionnaires, their families and guests. Each Legionnaire is requested to bring sandwiches or fried chicken and cookies. Hosts for the trip are Captain and Mrs. M.K. Short, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Reed, and Col. and Mrs. E. Kemp Moore.

Since the Culver Community Schools Corporation has territory in more than one county, a tax rate must be advertised without consideration of the local option tax. The final results of the local option tax will be determined by the State Tax Board before the rates are finally approved. However, the results should approximate those anticipated by the Board at the present time.

The Board will meet in special session at 8:00 p.m. on August 30th for a public hearing and final approval of the budget.

SCOUTS TO HOLD PAPER DRIVE

The Boy Scouts of Culver will be holding a paper drive during next week, with collections to be made on Saturday, August 18th from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

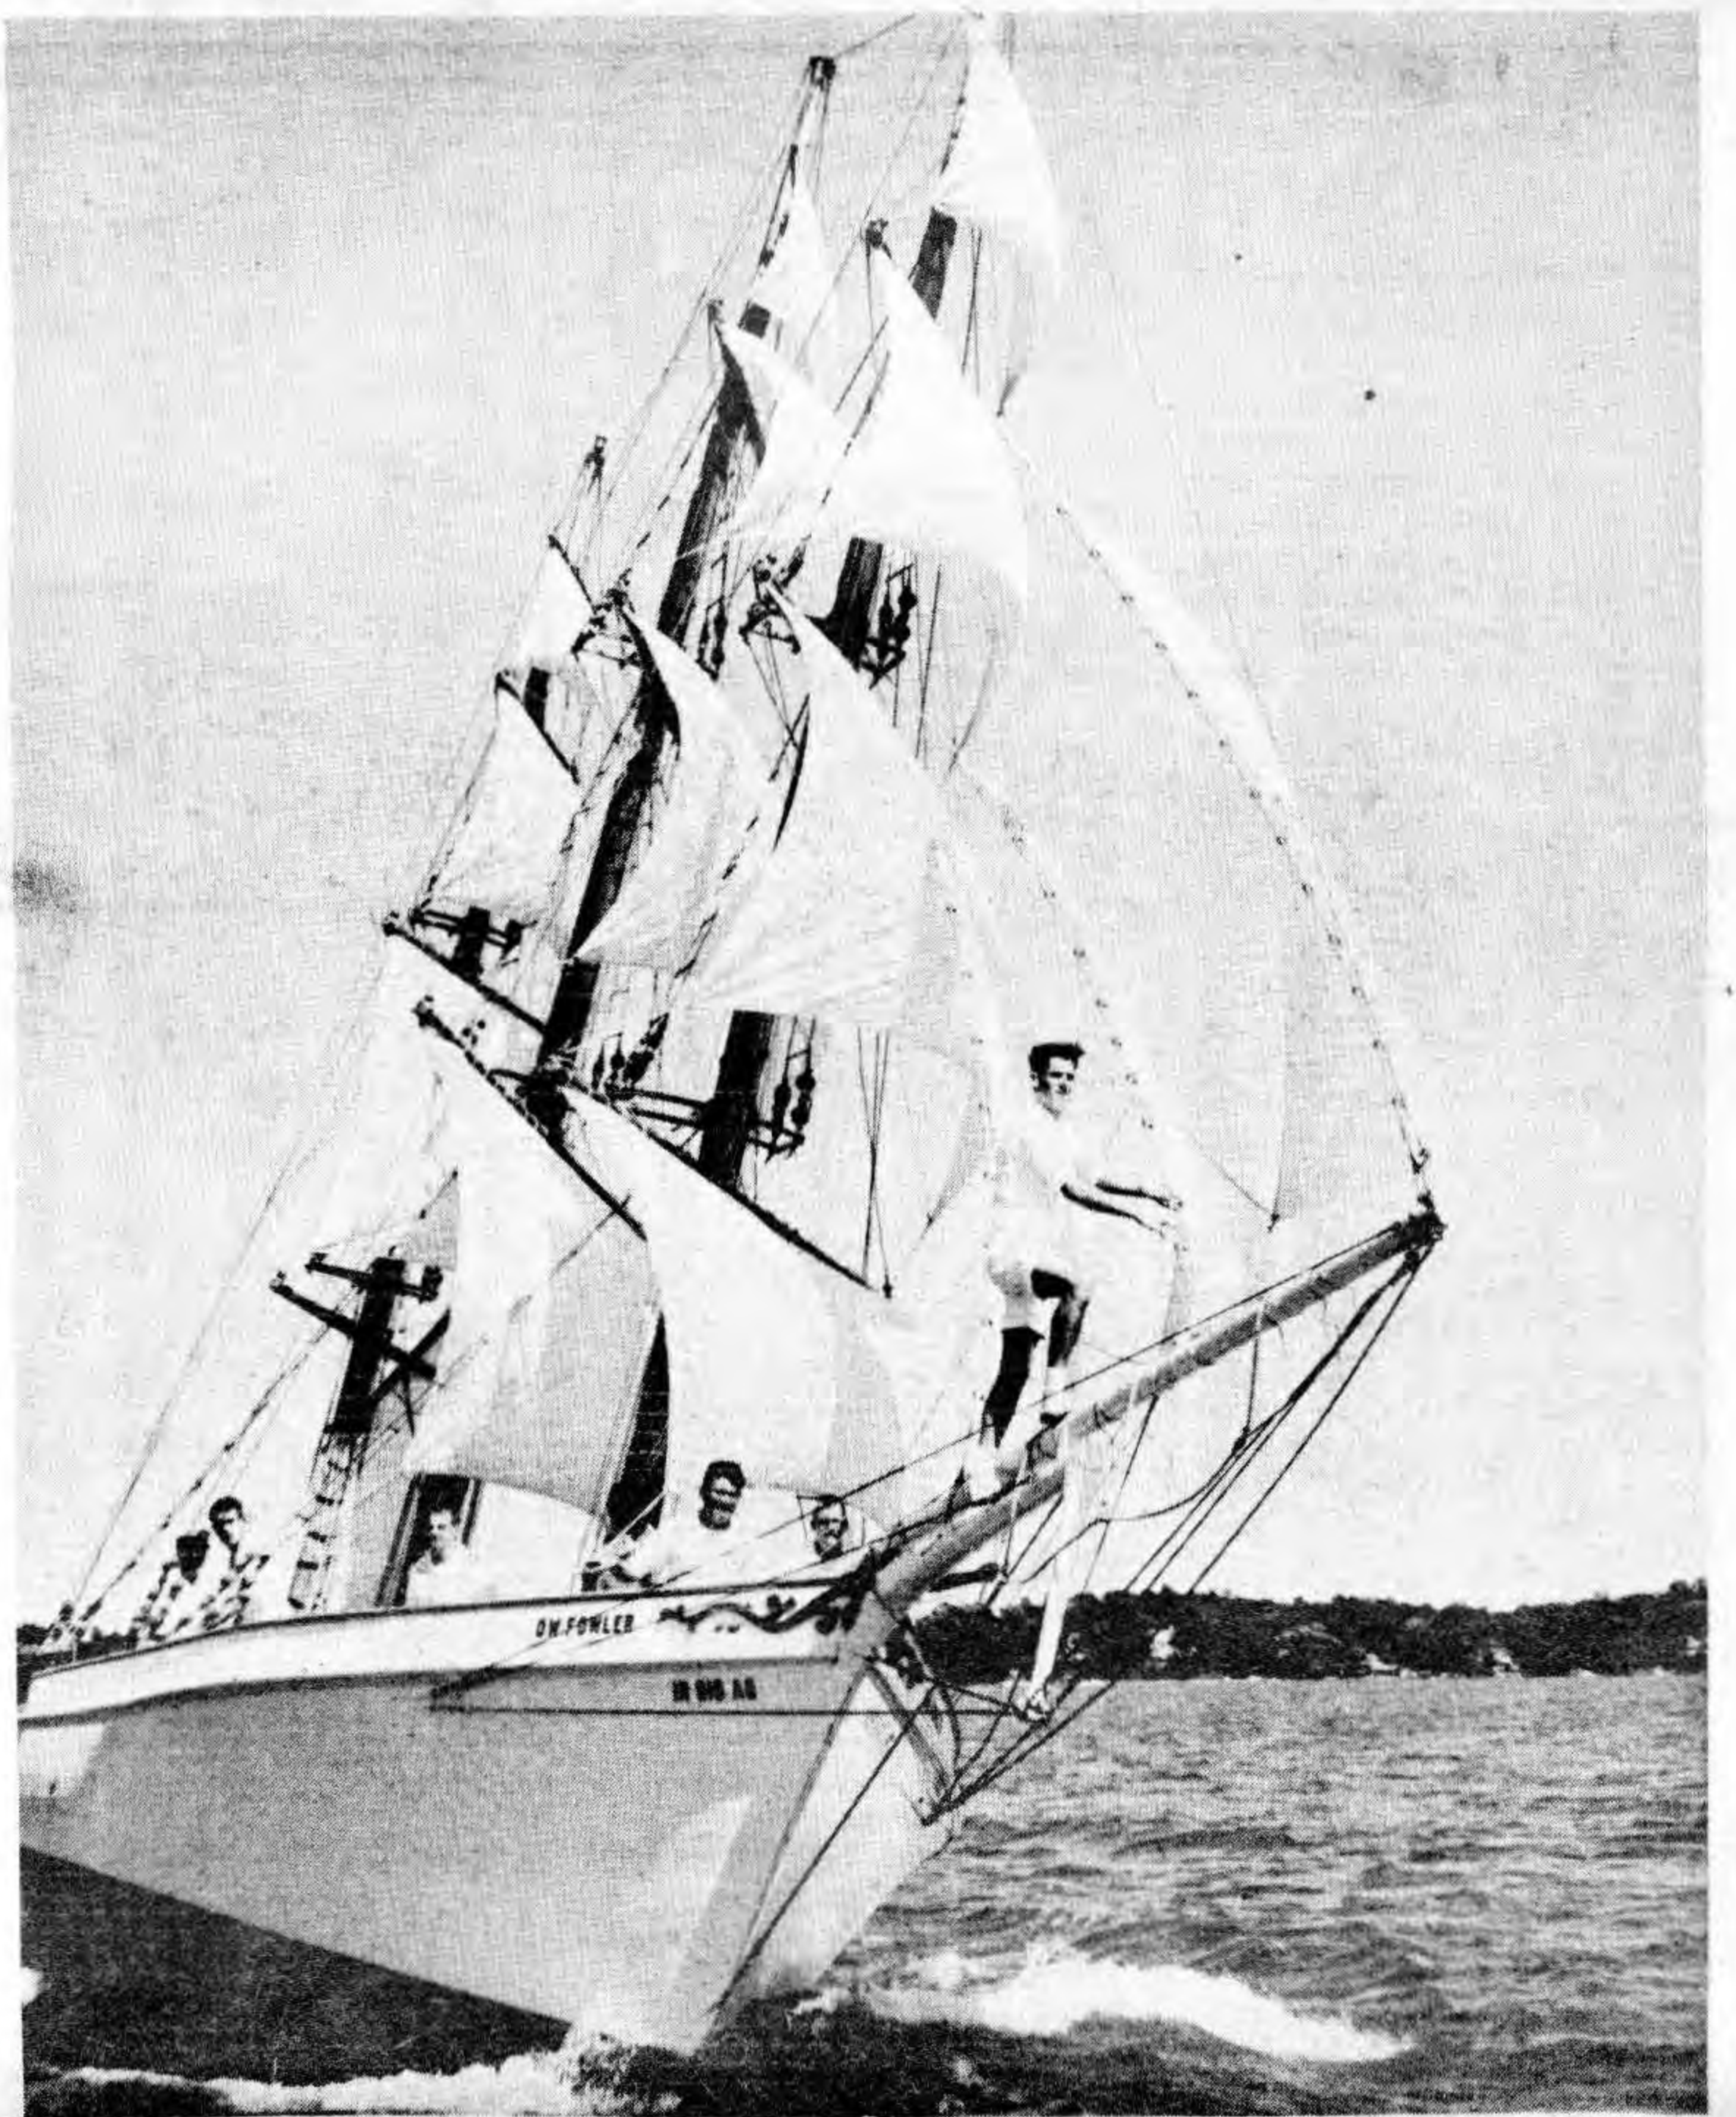

Contributors are asked to have papers on their curb or to telephone 842-3498 or 842-3236 to make arrangements for pick up of papers inside homes or garages.

There will also be a large metal container located at the rear of the Junior High School building where papers can be brought.

This is one of the regular paper drives the Scouts conduct on the third Saturday of every other month in order to raise funds for new equipment and camping scholarships.

WE THANK YOU

This week will mark the fourth issue published under the new management of the Culver CITIZEN.

As any reader can tell, our change to offset printing has greatly improved the look of the newspaper, and given us the opportunity to publish literally dozens of photographs.

Advertisers have responded to these changes by purchasing space on these pages to a degree that has surprised many readers. The Willingness of Culver area merchants to recommit their promotion dollars to their local newspaper is proof that they have faith in the future of Culver, and in the future of the CITIZEN.

Subscribers have also responded to these changes by renewing, reactivating, and starting new subscriptions in large numbers.

To all of you who have shown us, both by your words and actions, that you have faith in our ability to publish an interesting and informative newspaper in Culver, we extend out thanks.

Culver is in partnership with the CITIZEN in many ways because we are a voice for the community, and a channel of information. If you have information, or suggestions on how we can better fulfill our responsibilities, please call or write us. Our time is yours.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE: A grumpy husband told yours truly, "There's nothing new about frozen foods—I've been eating cold suppers for years."

Two men, neither very bright, were helping to build a house. One kept picking up nails, looking at them, keeping some, and throwing others away.

"Why are you throwing away so many nails?" asked his companion.

"Because they have the head on the wrong end."

"You fool, those are for the other side of the house!"

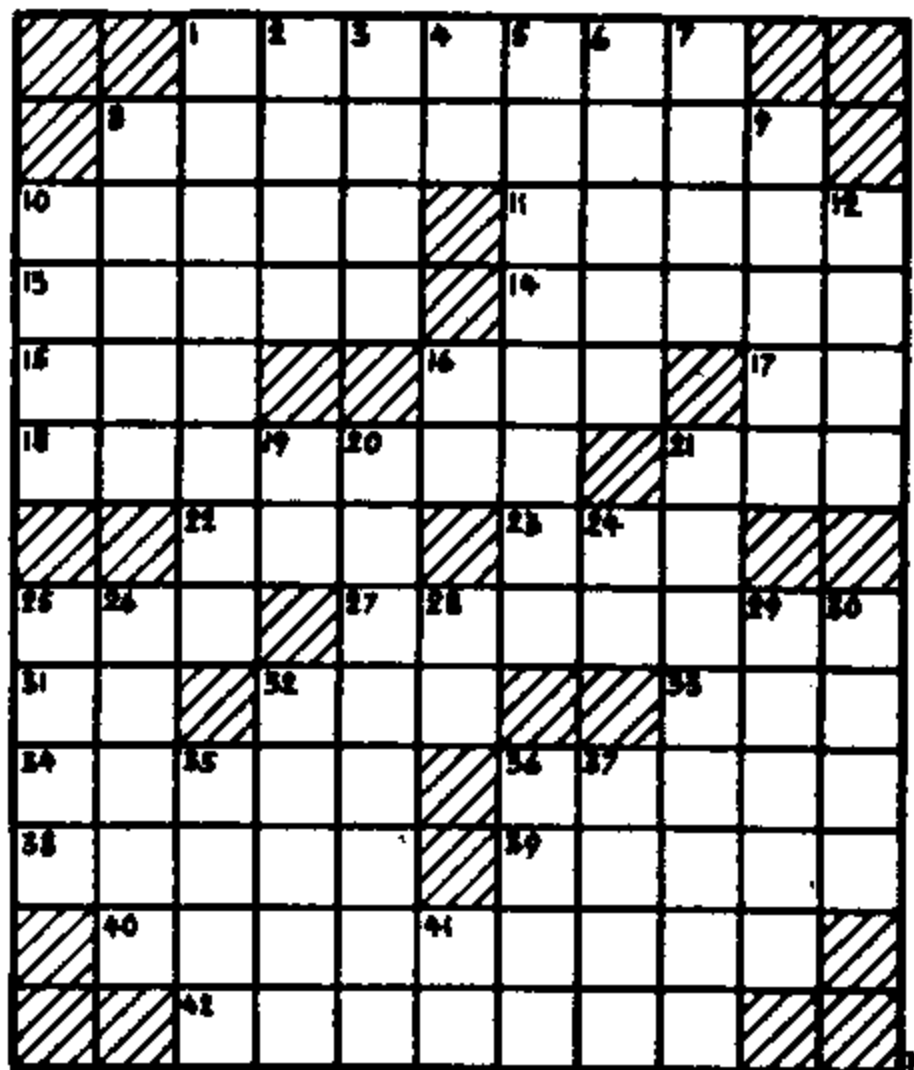

A Paris shopkeeper wrote to one of his customers as follows: "I am able to offer you cloth like the enclosed sample at nine francs the meter. In case I do not hear from you, I shall conclude that you wish to pay only eight francs. In order to lose no time, I accept the last mentioned offer."

OVERLEY RECEIVES PROMOTION

McGill Manufacturing Company, Inc., Bearing Division, Culver Plant announces the promotion of Gary Overley to the position of Turn Foreman, Grinding Departments No. 5 and no. 6.

Overley joined McGill on May 20, 1967 working in Department no. 6 as a Bore Grinder Set-Up Operator. He has spent most of his time in Department no. 6 along with having worked in Department no. 1, Automatic Screw Machine Department and as Shipping and Receiving Clerk.

Overley graduated from Logansport High School, and he and his wife, Sharon, and their five children reside at Route No. 2, Culver.

To the Editor, the Culver Citizen.

That David Kelly should have undertaken to compose an article for the July 25th issue of the New Citizen on the early history of Culver, is certainly "kind"; but that the impression was given in the article that the six families (Logan, McDonald, Thompson, Brownlee, Voreis, and Dickson) were the only settlers of 1836 is unfortunate, for there are still living in Culver descendants of other '36 pioneers.

On page 65 of his authoritative "Twentieth Century History of Marshall County" (Chicago: The Lewis Publishing Co., 1908), the Honourable Daniel McDonald (who, as a small child, had accompanied the 1836 expedition) states:

Emigration from Southern Indiana to Marshall County began in 1835, but it did not commence in earnest until 1836. In the spring of that year, in the vicinity of Maxinkuckee lake and farther North and East in the direction of Plymouth, the Logans Voreises, Morrisises, Thompsons, Dicksons, McDonalds, Brownlees, Houghtons, Blakelys, Lawsons, and others, arrived and made a permanent settlement."

Causal students of Culver's early history might be interested in an often-recorded story of that first night on the shores of Maxinkuckee. It seems that these early settlers had brought with them from their homes in the southern part of the state a conch shell; when the whole party had arrived at what is now the corner of Queen Road and State Road Ten (a marker has been erected at the spot), the shell was blown, and to the great joy of that small band, as the echoes died away, a second horn was heard. Vincent Brownlee had heard the call, and was welcoming his new neighbors.

Anyone interested in pursuing using this bit of history may read (besides the two-volume McDonald work) Corwin's "One Township's Yesterdays", a set of reprints from the Culver CITIZEN.

Sincerely,
John Houghton,

CULVER FAMILY CAMP BEGINS THIS WEEK

As the 400-plus Woodcrafters vacate their wooded habitat on the Culver Summer Schools campus at the close of the session, 110 families will move in. Beginning Aug. 12, the Culver Family Camp, as it has become known, will open three one-week sessions.

On the lake, on the golf course, on horseback, on the tennis court—families will be plugging into Culver and absorbing the very energy that has made the Family Camp one of the most popular recreational vacations among Culver alumni.

Not only will the Family Camp reintroduce literally hundreds of alumni to Culver but alumni children and families unfamiliar with the school will be exposed to the Culver experience. This year for the first time families other than alumni and patrons will be allowed to attend as long as they have children eligible for one of the Culver Summer Schools or Winter Academies within three years.

John Babcock has directed the camp since its inception in 1968, when 30 families participated. Now, with 110 families already registered, the camp has become one of the fastest-growing undertakings in the school's history.

All non-members of any of the participating societies are requested to register for a drawing of good bulbs of fine varieties. The drawing will be held at around 3:00 p.m. Sunday, August, 12. Winners will be notified and bulbs will be sent to them in plenty of time for next year's planting.

Thank you,
Bill Ferrier

MRS. OVERMYER

Mrs. Daisy Overmyer, wife of Jesse Overmyer, Culver, was taken to the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth on Monday morning, suffering from pneumonia and chest congestion.

There is no indication as to this time of the possible length of her stay, and she is presently undergoing tests.

Cards may be sent to her at Room 222 at the hospital.

CELEBRATES 80th

Mrs. Huldah Taber David celebrated her 80th birthday last Sunday with relatives. Present for the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taber, and sons Jim and Bob; Mr. and Mrs. N.M. Scruggs; Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Lennen; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Geiselman.

The party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Geiselman. Mrs. Geiselman is the daughter of Mrs. David.

STRANGS HAVE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Strang, Culver, were visited Sunday afternoon by Mrs. Agnes Harden, of Logansport. Also visiting the Strangs were Mr. and Mrs. John Kester of Elkhart.

FLYING PIERCES TO HEADLINE
MENTONE AIRSHOW

Walt and Sandi Pierce will headline the August 12 airshow at the Mentone Airport.

The only husband-wife airshow team in the United States, the Flying Pierces, who use the Mentone Airport as their summer headquarters, have flown in airshows all over the United States and have appeared on national television on the Mike Douglas Show, What's My Line? and To Tell the Truth. However, the August 12 show will be the first time area residents have seen a demonstration of Sandi's specialty—a wingride atop husband Walt's Stearman as he puts the airplane through a series of intricate maneuvers and upside down flying.

Both Pierces are accomplished pilots. Walt is a commercial pilot with instrument, flight instructor, multi-engine and B-34 ratings. Sandi (she uses all small letters) started aerobatic training while still a student pilot. She is a commercial pilot with instrument, basic and instrument flight instructor, multi-engine, advance and instrument ground instructor ratings. They have been featured in most major aviation magazines and are recognized as professionals in their field who can be counted on for hair-raising entertainment.

Art Swango, a Rochester native who lives near Wabash and bills himself as "Mr. Impossible", will show spectators how he got his nickname as he flies his own style of aerobatics—quite a feat, considering he has only one arm.

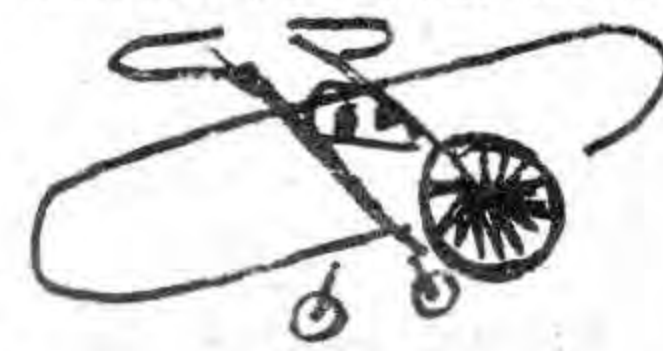

Joining the Pierces and Swango will be Henry Burden of New York. Now living in Rochester, "Hank" Burden, who last year barnstormed with a Stearman, is a beginning aerobatic pilot capable of putting his Pitts Special through difficult aerobatics.

Charles and Mark Wells of Salem, Illinois will round out the show. Mark is rapidly winning recognition in aerobatic competition and was recently first in Unlimited competition in Canada.

The Mentone Airport is located west of State Road 19 south of Mentone, or Kosciusko Co. Road 600 West.

SPIRIT

is the subject of the lesson in all Christian Science churches this week. It includes the following references—II Cor 3:17 Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. John 8:31 Jesus said, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. From the Christian Science Textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy—Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man. God made man Free. Citizens of the World, accept the "Glorious liberty of the children of God," and be free! This is your divine right.

God is our shepherd. And when we listen for His voice, His ideas, He will guide us in every right way.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rouston of Lombard, Illinois, spent some time visiting Culver residents last week, including Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bodey, and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Overmyer.

GET A CLEAN WASH WITH NO-PHOSPHATES

For a little more than six months Indiana residents have been using no-phosphate detergents to launder their clothes. This has been enough time for many consumers to find out that good laundry procedures are essential for getting the best results with no-phosphates.

If the clothes aren't laundered under the best conditions, the no-phosphate may leave a residue in the clothes, says Dr. Jean Goodrick, Extension clothing and textiles specialist at Purdue University. And furthermore the clothes are likely to be stiff and faded looking.

Also, flame retardant finishes lose effectiveness after they have been washed in no-phosphate detergent, she notes.

If your laundry is suffering some of these effects from no-phosphate detergents, don't despair. Dr. Goodrick has some suggestions to help consumers get the cleanest possible wash with no-phosphate laundry detergents:

+ Mix the detergent with the wash water before the clothes are added. This allows water hardness minerals to precipitate out before the wash cycle actually begins, reducing the amount of residue that is deposited on clothes.

+ Use the hottest water suitable for the fabric you're laundering. Generally, as water temperature is increased, cleaning effectiveness is also increased — although hotter water can mean wrinkles will be set during the spin cycle. You can minimize the wrinkle problem by using a cold water rinse and a slow spin cycle.

+ Sort laundry carefully. Otherwise, fabric appearance may deteriorate quickly.

+ Pretreat stains, especially when you're using hot water. High temperatures may set some stains.

+ Measure out and use the amount of detergent recommended on the detergent box. Allowances are usually made for high levels of water hardness and for heavily soiled clothes. The recommended amount should be adequate for keeping soil suspended in the wash water so that redeposition of the soil is minimal. Too much suds, however, may hinder the tumbling washing action needed to loosen soil in some washers.

"Even if you follow these recommended procedures, there may be a gradual accumulation of mineral deposits on fabrics washed with no-phosphate detergents — especially if you wash in hard water," Dr. Goodrick points out.

If the residue becomes noticeable, soak the clothes in a solution of one cup vinegar and one gallon water for about an hour, the specialist advises. The same acid (vinegar) soak will restore the effectiveness of flame retardant finishes inactivated by no-phosphate detergents.

Dr. Goodrick warns that this soaking should be done in a plastic or other non-porcelain container rather than the washing machine and that colored fabrics should be tested before they are soaked.

"Test colored fabrics for acid resistance by applying a few drops of the vinegar solution to a hidden area of the garment for about five minutes," Dr. Goodrick says.

The specialist goes on to explain why no-phosphates pose special problems in the laundry. "In the no-phosphate products," she says, "SODIUM CARBONATE, SODIUM SILICATE, OR CARBONATE+SILICATE MIXTURES ARE COMMONLY USED IN PLACE OF THE PHOSPHATES. Like phosphates these compounds serve as water softeners."

However, the compounds in no-phosphate detergents soften water in a different manner than phosphates do, Dr. Goodrick explains. Phosphates tie up the hardness minerals in a soluble form, but the substitute compounds combine with the hardness minerals to form an insoluble precipitate.

It is this precipitate, she adds, that is deposited on clothes, sometimes dulling their colors and making them feel stiff.

CULVER BASKETBALL CLINIC A SUCCESS

The first Culver Basketball Clinic in four years ended last week with 60 boys receiving awards of merit for their continued work at the clinic.

There were 89 boys originally entered in the clinic and 60 of these boys met the requirements for their certificates. Certificates were awarded according to a boy's ability to be prompt and his proficiency in the use of the proper equipment.

Awards were also given for team champions in each division and outstanding performance in each category. There was also an All-Star Team selected from Divisions D (5th grade), C (6th grade), B (7th grade), and A (8th grade).

Some of the outstanding performances were turned in by Kerry Martin, Matt

Marshall, Greg Mishler, and Dan Bickel. These young men were consistently point winners in almost every category.

Coach Ken Hass expressed his pleasure at the success of the clinic, and at the fine display of self-discipline and responsibility by the young men who participated. The coach added his thanks to the parents of the boys for their help in getting them to the clinic on time.

Coach Hass went on to thank his staff members for the long hours they invested in making the clinic a success. They were: Jerry Anderson, 8th grade coach at Culver Junior High; Gene Reese, new freshmen basketball coach at Culver Community High School; and George Wamsley, B Team coach.

Increasing the teachers' familiarity with foreign cultures, discussing various approaches to the teaching of culture, and development and sharing of classroom materials were all part of the three-week workshop, which was sponsored by the I.U. DUE IN CULVER

The CITIZEN is expecting delivery soon of its computerized typesetter, shown here. Called a COMPUWRITER, JR., the machine will be used to set all type for the CITIZEN right here in Culver. The machine is a direct input unit, and the operator uses a keyboard similar to a typewriter. Instead of a ribbon, however, a flashing light exposes each letter on a piece of photographic paper, which is then developed and pasted onto a layout sheet prior to printing.

The machine automatically hyphenates words at the end of each line, and spaces the words out to form a column with even edges on both sides.

Ordered on June 12th, delivery was then quoted as four to six weeks. Now eight weeks have passed, and the CITIZEN is still waiting for delivery. Meanwhile, time must be purchased on equipment located at a daily newspaper over an hour's drive from Culver.

Following delivery of the typesetter, the CITIZEN will hold an Open House at its new office at 307 North Main Street, so that all can see the machine in operation.

FOOTBALL

If your family has a boy starting practice for the school football team, keep in mind heat illness is a danger in the first days of the practice season.

Players may not be accustomed to hard work in hot weather, yet they're keyed-up and tense, hoping to make a good showing on the team. In such a situation, serious illness or injury from heat is possible.

You and the coach can help a player avoid this trouble with these precautions:

First, make sure that an athlete gets out of an air-conditioned environment before practice starts, and gets accustomed to vigorous exercise in hot weather.

Second, coaches should abandon the old practice of withholding water from athletes during practice. The body needs frequent replacement of both water and salt lost through perspiration.

Third, athletes should begin with easy workouts and gradually increase their exercise.

And, finally, both coaches and players should be alert for signs of heat illness—such as lethargy, stupor, awkwardness or unusual fatigue. Preventing heat illness is the player's first step in seeing to it that he gets all the practice he needs to make the team.

FRED MAY TO START
MED SCHOOL TRAINING

Fred May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert May, 603 School Street, Culver, will be among 13 students beginning their professional medical training on the Notre Dame Campus in South Bend this fall.

Indiana University's Medical School has established an extension program whereby students accepted to the Medical School may complete the first year of the program at a campus other than the main campus at Indianapolis. The school has centers on the Notre Dame, Ball State, Purdue, and University of Evansville campuses, among others. After the first year, the medical students return to the Indianapolis campus to complete their training.

The program allows first year medical students an opportunity to work in area hospitals, easing the overcrowding of students at Indianapolis hospitals. The program also allows for the expansion of the I.U. medical school, currently the only medical school in the State.

Mr. May will begin his studies at The South Bend Center for Medical Education on the Notre Dame Campus on September 5th.

KNOW YOUR INDIANA LAW

By
John J. Dillon, Attorney

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Indiana law. Individuals who wish to determine the effort of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

"REAL ESTATE CLOSING COSTS"

It is an event of real importance to any person when he or she purchases a home. Since normally this is an experience which the average person has only a few times during his lifetime, the proceedings surrounding the obtaining of a mortgage, the transferring of a title to a home is shrouded in mystery for many people. Among the items most mysterious to persons purchasing a home are the various items normally covered by the term "closing costs" which the purchaser finds about when they attend the closing to purchase the home. Even persons who have been through several real estate closings may not fully understand exactly what these closing costs concern even though the financial institution providing the mortgage money provides a detailed accounting of all the costs required to close a real estate sale.

The closing costs are borne by both the buyer and the seller generally according to custom in the local community. Which party should bear the closing costs however, is a matter of contract, and in a very sophisticated sale of property, it is an important matter for negotiations as to how the closing costs are handled and which of the respective parties is to pay what part of the closing costs. Generally speaking those costs which go to the perfecting and the transferring of the title to the purchaser belong to the seller. Those costs which accrue to the obtaining of a loan and the necessary expenses connected with the obtaining of a loan go to the purchaser. Normally the seller is required to provide an affidavit of sale indicating that the property is not in any way encumbered and to provide an abstract of title or a title insurance binder showing merchantable title in the seller. It is probable that under the current custom in Indiana that title insurance will be provided rather than an abstract although abstracts are still used in many areas.

If the purchaser has obtained a mortgage then he will undoubtedly have to pay the expenses of a credit examination, a fee to have the property appraised so that the lender providing the money for the mortgage can be assured that it is worth the amount provided for the mortgage, possibly a survey to determine that the buildings examination fee for an attorney of the purchaser's choice to insure that he is receiving a good title. If the transfer is made upon title insurance then the purchaser can also purchase an owner's policy guaranteeing the full amount of the purchase price of the real estate. The purchaser will also have to pay the cost of recording the deed and any necessary affidavits in the County Recorder's Office to record the transfer of the property on the public records in the County. If you are purchasing property and any of these matters that I have discussed in this column are unclear to you then you should ask for a detailed explanation from either the financial institution providing the mortgage money or the real estate salesman making the sale.

BONUS FORMS NOW AVAILABLE

Applications for the new Indiana State Bonus for Vietnam veterans and for the next of kin of deceased veterans are now being received at the Indiana State Bonus Division.

Col. E. Kemp Moore Service Officer of the W. A. Fleet Post of the American Legion, Number 103 announces that he has a supply of the Indiana Bonus application forms. The procedure of filing these forms is not quite as simple as the procedure for previous Indiana bonus forms so Col. Moore issues the following warnings:

with Form No. 1, you must submit a COPY of the DD 214 or discharge paper. Be sure that it is a copy, for the original will not be returned. Second, the application must be notarized by any Notary Public. (Col. Moore is not a Notary Public).

ON Form No. 2, the copy of DD 214 must also be attached; accompanying the form must be a copy of the proof of disability and the percentage of disability (10 percent or more). This proof would be a copy of an award letter from the Veterans Administration or a letter from the branch of service showing that the applicant is receiving retirement or severance pay. This form must be notarized also.

If Forms Numbers 3 and 4 are made by the WIDOW of a deceased veteran a copy of the marriage certificate and the notification of death to them must accompany the application. If the application is being filled out by the PARENTS OF THE DECEASED VETERAN the copy of the birth certificate and the notification of death to the parents must accompany the application. If the application is being filled out for the children of a deceased veteran a copy of the birth certificate of each child together with a copy of the marriage certificate as proof of the deceased being the parent and a copy of the notification of death is essential.

Col. Moore requests that persons desiring such forms call at his home on State Road 10 after 2:00 p.m. He will assist in filling out the forms and will advise and assist in obtaining records. He cannot, of course, notarize the documents, nor can he copy official documents.

Of course there is no charge for Col. Moore's services. The "A. Fleet Post, THE AMERICAN LEGION, hopes that it can serve the veterans, their widows, and their orphans in this respect as well as it has served the Culver community for the past fifty-four years.

COLLECTOR'S CORNER

How many of you remember the fountain pen you received for graduation? What was it, a Parker? Sheaffer? Maybe a Conklin or Waterman's? These brands, and dozens of other lesser known ones, form part of the collection of pens and matching pencils owned by Tom and Bernadette Zoss of Culver.

Their collection is made up of dozens of styles, brands and kinds of writing implements, dating from the late 1800's to the early 1960's. These dates cover the years when liquid ink was used for writing — first by dip pens, and later with dropper filled and self-filling pens.

Many interesting pens are included in the collection. A huge orange pen, suitably engraved, was given to a retiring newspaper editor in Kansas in the year 1924. Manufactured by the Waterman's Pen Company, the pen is twice the normal size of pens today. Despite the irregularities in size, the pen works perfectly and writes a fine line.

At the other end of the size scale, a Peter Pan pen measures a scant couple of inches long. While it works perfectly, the rubber ink sac holds only a fraction of an ounce and the pen runs out of ink very quickly.

Their collection started when Mr. and Mrs. Zoss were attending college in Bloomington. Both began looking for old pens that could be repaired to use in class. They had not found current cartridge pens to their liking.

Long after two pens were located, repaired and put into daily use, other old pens from friends and acquaintances kept arriving. The collecting idea was born about that time.

Later, on a delayed honeymoon to Washington, D.C., the Zosses met the Curator of the Graphic Arts Division at the Smithsonian Institution. Learning that the Smithsonian had no pens other than special treaty pens and the like, Mr. and Mrs. Zoss resolved to collect a representative group of pens and their matching pencils, and to present the collection to the Smithsonian for display.

In their collecting, the Zosses keep careful records about the sources of the donations, so that donors will be given credit for their pens and pencils.

Efforts to research the age of different pens are often frustrated by a lack of information sources. Many pen companies have since gone out of business. Others, while still operating, have no accurate records about their own products.

The Zosses often use old magazine advertisements to identify the first date a certain feature was announced. Other sources of information are old jewelry stores, or old business supply companies.

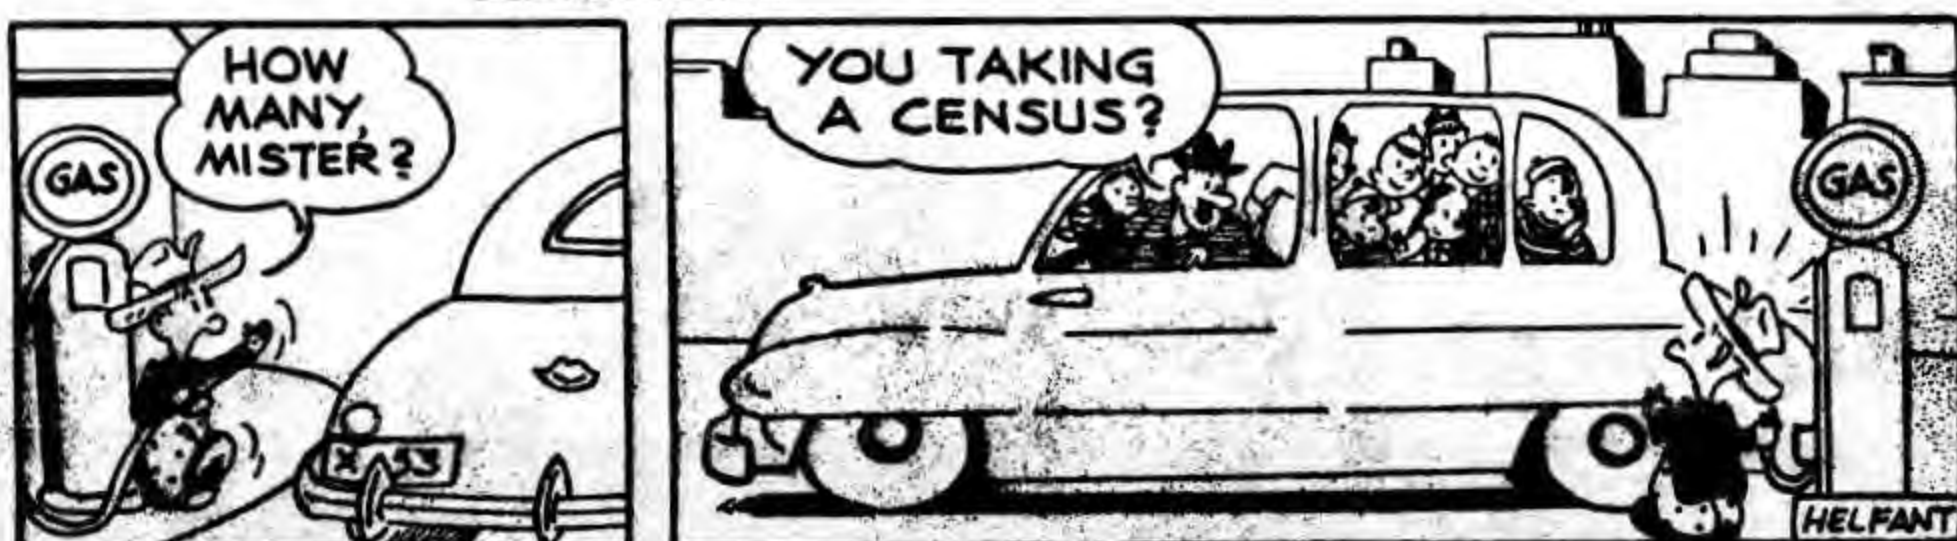

Even pen parts or broken pens are of interest to the collection. Extensive efforts to locate old repair manuals, and luck in locating suppliers of repair parts, have allowed Tom and Bernadette to acquire some pen repair skills. Broken parts of the same type pen can often be combined to form a complete, working pen.

Persons with old pens or pencils lying in desk drawers may be interested in seeing them repaired and preserved in the Zosses' collection. Interested persons with pens or information are encouraged to contact Tom or Bernadette Zoss, P.O. Box 48, Culver, Indiana 46511, or by telephoning (219) 842-2297.

A sampling of the Zoss collection will be on display at the Culver-Union Township Public Library, Culver, Indiana, for the next few weeks.

WATCH OUT FOR

"CLUBS"

Indiana Attorney General Theodore L. Sendak today issued another in his series of Consumer Alerts which are aimed at informing Hoosier consumers of solutions to problems which they may face.

Sendak indicated that his Consumer Protection Division has received a number of inquiries and complaints concerning "introductory" offers made by various merchandising "clubs". These complaints are usually concerned with the obligations which consumers incur when they join a "club".

Attorney General Sendak noted that to obtain the introductory offer the consumer usually must agree to purchase a specified number of items within a given period. Quite often the individual will not read the entire agreement, and will obligate himself to make purchases which he does not need or want. In addition, the Attorney General pointed out that the required purchases must usually be made from a selection list which the "club" provides.

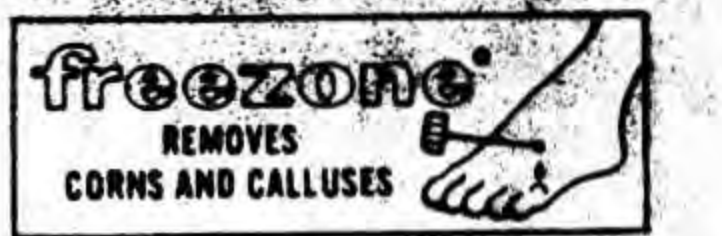

Sendak noted that the best way to avoid misunderstandings in transactions of this nature is for the consumer carefully to read any contract, and to understand his obligations, before signing any agreement.

The Attorney General urged all Hoosiers who have consumer complaints to write to his Consumer Protection Division, which will investigate the complaint to determine if a deceptive practice has occurred, or will bring the matter to the attention of the correct governmental agency if within another agency's jurisdiction.

Such consumer complaints should be directed to:

Theodore L. Sendak, Attorney General of Indiana, Consumer Protection Division, Room 219, State House, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204, (317) 633-6276.

THE SECOND BIBLE EXPLANATION

By Brother Ralph Kilnedinst.
Read Hebrews—10 in which Paul is exhorting his People to be faithful to Theeir promises to God—verses 28-31.

28. He That despises Moses law died without mercy under 2 or 3 witnesses.

29. Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy, thing, and hath done despite to the spirit of grace?

31. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

School Board

CULVER COMMUNITY SCHOOLS CORPORATION RESUME OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
 Superintendent A.F. Allen of the Culver Community Schools Corporation announced today that the School Board had met to review the proposed 1974 budget.

The assessed valuations for the School Corporation show an increase of $381,490. Mr. Allen also stated that with the bankrupt value of the Railroads in the Corporation of $360,520, the increase in assessed valuations was practically nullified.

The 1974 budget will be up approximately 6.8 percent over 1973, which represents a 23c increase in the tax rate. The Superintendent stated that he could not overemphasize the fact the most of the proposed increase is due to exorbitant increases in the cost of utilities. It is estimated that approximately 19 1/2c of the proposed increase is needed to meet the increased cost of utilities. There are no extra services being added in this area. The increased cost occurs as a result of the increased prices of fuel oil, gasoline, electricity and telephone. The remaining increases in the budget is due to the increase in salaries.

When the anticipated revenues from the local option tax is taken into consideration, the tax rate in Marshall County will be reduced 25 cents, which will result in an overall decrease in the tax rate of 2 cents. The figures for the local option tax in Starke County have not yet been released. There will be an additional state wide reduction of 20 percent on the local property tax for 1974.

The Backyard Horseman

BY: CAPT. JEFF HONZIK

You know, I doubt if many people take into consideration the horse's mind and how it works. We have all heard the argument that the pig is "smarter" than the horse. This may be true. But then again, I doubt that anyone has been able to give a pig or a horse an I.Q. test that really means anything.

When I talk about a horse's mind, I don't think in terms of intelligence. Rather, I admire the horse's cunning and perception. Certainly a horse cannot add 2 and 2 and come up with 4. But he can perceive the inadequate or scared rider and judge that rider, then have a field day with him or her. That's what I call clever!

One thing that is paramount to remember: The Horse has a Reason For Everything He Does. Unlike a human, he doesn't do something and rationalize it later. He "thinks" by association. Let's take an example. Let's say our horse had a bad experience in a trailer once. Next time we go to haul him, he won't get into the trailer. Reason: he remembers the bad experience and associates the trailer with it. Hence, he won't get in. He remembers and associates. This is the basic building block for training and riding your horse.

The following is a list of basic behavior traits of the horse. Keep them in mind when dealing with your horse. Use them to your advantage and be a little more clever than your horse.

1. His memory, for all practical purposes, is infallible.

2. Horses, just as people, differ in character and disposition.

3. Horses are born mimics.

4. Horses seem to have a "sense of equity". When a horse is rightfully punished he is not resentful. When unjustly punished, he develops resentment, restlessness, and other vices.

5. Horses do appreciate kind treatment! They form warm friendships with other animals, and have a high degree of cunning.

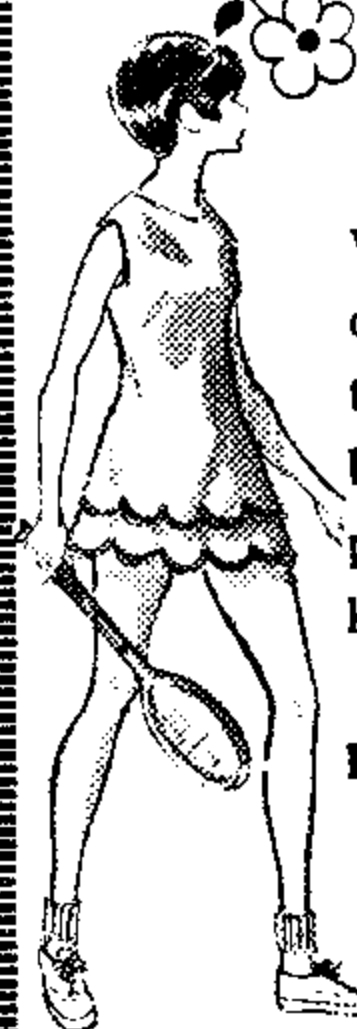

6. When dealing with the horse, the fundamental principle in training is the "association of ideas".

7. Reward should instantly follow obedience, and punishment should just as quickly follow disobedience.

8. Due to his child-like mind, training should progress very slowly, one simple step at another.

9. Horsemen must use the common sense to avoid confusing the horse by a plying confusing or conflicting aids.

10. The horse's cunning lets him perceive the inability of the rider, and he never forgets the tricks he has used successfully to gain the upper hand.
