Christmas is:
goodwill and compassion,
firelight and candlelight,
a family time,
a time for worship.
It is the glow on a child's face, but most of all it is a story of love which began centuries ago
and spread to all the world.

Editorial

A popular current pitch of presidential adversaries suggests that Mr. Ford should ground Air Force One, put foreign affairs on a back burner and give persistent priority attention to recession and inflation until these woes are whipped.

With this go urgings of drastic and immediate executive action, heavy-handed controls and sundry other governmental remedies.

The glib pitch has a certain superficial appeal, but it's a good thing President Ford refuses to be significantly influenced. He has chosen instead to face economic realities, one of which — while humbling — is that Presidents have far less capacity to influence the economy than the public has been led to believe.

Godfrey Sperling Jr., Christian Science Monitor political expert, explained this well in a recent column.

"The President thinks that in many ways the American public has come to expect too much from its chief executive," Sperling wrote. "He believes that ever since Franklin D. Roosevelt, a myth has sprung up, fed by political rhetoric coming from both parties, that a President is something of a superman who can deliver miracles. He thinks the myth goes far beyond the fact."

So do we. We do believe, of course, that a President can contribute significantly to economic recovery and diminished inflation, primarily by displaying wise, prudent and inspiring leadership.

But overall, the entire executive branch can only have limited affect on the nation's massive and infinitely complex economy, or on inflation born of many causes.

Moreover, past sad experience preaches all too painfully the unwisdom of from-the-hip governmental shotgunning at big complicated problems. Usually the problems are worsened by multiplied confusion, or we get cures with worse side effects than the original ailment. We hope that Sperling's summarized conclusion is correct. "The President clearly is not bowing to his critics — at least not at this time."

It's good that he isn't!

Two accidents involving local residents occurred within hours of each other Wednesday, Dec. 11, but no serious injuries resulted.

Douglas L. Thomas, 18, 419 West Madison St., reported to Culver police his auto slid into an embankment at the Yellow River Bridge due to severe icy conditions.

The Melody Choir will sing with Mrs. Robert Kline pianist. Mrs. Jack Spencer will direct the Chancel Choir and Mrs. T.L. Ervin will be organist.

Tuesday, Dec. 24, the Christmas Eve candlelight service will be held at 11 p.m. Gallery carols and anthems will be sung by the Chancel Choir. A vocal trio of Diane Thomas and Cheryl and Julie Pinder will be included on the program along with Mrs. J. Bryce Bigley.

Robert Lindvall will assist the pastor in the service.

With construction finalized and equipment installation nearly complete, the new two-bay drive-in banking facility of The State Exchange Bank is expected to open this week.

Fred E. Adams, executive vice president, in announcing completion of the construction project stated, "We hope to open our new drive-in on Wednesday of this week."

Flow of traffic will be from the north with entrance from Washington St. as in the past. With dual drive-in windows, capacity will be doubled, relieving congestion and affording greater customer service.

Construction of the drive-in was by the Easterday Construction Company of Culver.

Season's Greetings and Best Wishes for the New Year

It's CHRISTMAS when we celebrate the Birth of Christ

It's Christmas... when we join with friends, with loved ones, giving thanks for friendship, memories, for so many little things, - and the privilege of enjoying these blessings.

It's Christmas... when we remember that the real gift on the first Christmas was hope, peace, and understanding, as it must be with us today

It's Christmas... and, in the Spirit of the Season, the staff of The State Exchange Bank, Culver, Plymouth, Argos, and the Farmers State Bank, LaPaz, in extending warm greetings, wishes to express deep appreciation for the courtesy of those we have been privileged to serve.

Music Departments entertain with annual winter program

Five instrumental and vocal groups performed to an enthusiastic and receptive audience when presenting the annual Culver Community Schools winter program last Sunday afternoon.

Under the direction of Barbara Taylor, high school vocal instructor, and Charles Byfield, band director, the students were featured in a variety of musical selections

The Junior High School Band opened the afternoon program, followed by the High School Band. The Choraliers, a popular 15-member vocal group, offered traditional carols and the chorus presented several numbers.

A musical group just formed this year, the stage band, boasted 22 members to close the program in the big band style of former years.

...It Must Be THE LAKE WATER

By Bob Kyle

Let's try this year not to paganize Christmas. Take the beautiful song "White Christmas" written by Irving Berlin, and you will find no Jesus or God or religious idealism. Then there is "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer." It mentions only Santa and is devoid of all references to Jesus or Mary or the manger scene in Bethlehem.

"Little Sandy Sleighfoot" was approved for use in 1,000 Catholic parishes. It offers something religious and reaches its dramatic climax with little Sandy praying to Jesus, as it conveys hope and inspiration to handicapped children. Instead of being indoctrinated with pagan Christmas music, thoughts should have religious idealisms.

Mitch Miller arranged Joseph Savarino's wonderful song about little Sandy, and Jimmy Dean the verses. It was a hit at Christmas a few years ago. But when the music stores tried to get 500 more records, they were surprised to learn that CBS had melted down all remaining cuts.

It was the "pop" hit last year but producers keep looking for new songs that will catch the public's fancy. Even postage stamps have a religious theme this year by popular request.

Three pom-pom girls coming from practise at the high school Saturday morning persisted three-abreast, crowding pedestrians off the sidewalk on School Street, and elbowing elderly persons and kids in the ribs unless they left the sidewalk and took to the mud. That's just pranks?

John Sloane Kittle, 90, Indianapolis capitalist and summer Eastside resident for more than 50 years, died last week after an active business life. His widow, our "Lady of the Lake," Alma, was equally interested in everything and will leave an impression here forever. She insisted on being the first donor to Osborn Center. Today, almost blind, she manages to keep up with things 'round abouts. Several years ago she sold her house to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Barnette, because she couldn't see well enough to drive her familiar little red Chrysler III.

Lake Water remembers John best for his persistence in gathering the late George Overmeyer's luscious cantaloupe called "Rocks of Honey." There was evidently something about the soil that made them as no other melon. I persistently planted his seed but could not duplicate their flavor.

Anyway, John Kittle would visit with George on Sunday afternoons, carefully select the choice ones and take them by the bushels back to friends and employees in Indianapolis.

The holidays are a good time to think about robberies, for experts say they are the most numerous then. Most police believe that there is nothing you can do if a burglar is really determined to rob you. "Operation Identification" seems to be one method of prevention most stressed these days. First you borrow, buy or rent an engraving tool. Then you put your driver's license, social security number or almost any set of figures on items such as television sets, cameras, fishing tackle and anything of value.

Make a duplicate listing all marked items. Then ask the police for an Operation Identification sticker to display on your house.

Then be sure you have good locks on doors and windows. You need a dead-bolt on outside doors. Get double cylinder dead-bolt locks. If you have sliding doors, install frame pins. Tell a friendly neighbor to be on the lookout but don't discuss your vacation plans. Be sure to cancel paper and milk deliveries. Lastly,

THE HOME GAME

by MARY FUREY CRYMES

SHRIMPY DELICIOUS — Here's a party dip that will keep guests coming back for more. Blend together until smooth 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup, 1 tsp. lemon juice, dash garlic powder, dash paprika and an 8-oz. package of softened cream cheese. Add ½ cup diced cooked shrimp and chill. Makes 2½ cups of delish party dip.

KEEP 'EM CRISP — Leftover potato chips, crackers, corn chips, or what-have-you are best preserved in coffee cans. The plastic lids seal out dampness and keep the snacks shipshape.

TREAT WREATH — Make a cookie wreath to hang in your kitchen as a treat for the kids (yours and the neighbors'). Shape a wire hanger into a circle and cover with green ribbon or crepe paper. Wrap cookies individually and tie to wreath with red ribbon. Loop some candy canes around wreath for extra dash.

GREENING THE TREE — If like me you insist on a green and fragrant genuine tree for Christmas, here's how to keep it safer and greener. Give your tree a daily mist bath from an old spray-bottle, such as window cleaning solutions come in, and it will stay fresh longer.

CANDY MEASURE — If you're making holiday candy, check the accuracy of your candy thermometer by placing it in a pan of rapidly boiling water for several minutes. It should read 212 degrees if you live at sea level. Subtract one degree for every 500 feet above sea level. If your thermometer is several degrees off, adjust cooking time accordingly.

CHRISTMAS GIFTERY — If you just don't know what to get but want to please, how about books? "All Aboard With E.M. Frimbo" records the fascinating, often funny adventures of rail buff E.M. Frimbo, who takes you with him from AMTRAK to the Trans-Siberian Express. Illustrated. (Grossman, 234 pp., $8.95) The 8-to-12-year-olds on your list will undoubtedly like "Tales Of Myrtle The Turtle," by Keith Robertson. Witty account of a sophisticated family of turtles residing at Princeton University. (Viking, 144 pp., $5.95)

FEA CONDUCTS CONFERENCE

Two Culver Community High School students have been elected to offices in the regional Future Educators in Action group and one CCHS student was selected as Miss FEA.

Elections took place last weekend as part of the FEA regional conference conducted at CCHS.

Valerie Bauer was elected area vice president and Julie McCombs was elected corresponding secretary during a rigorous day long campaign.

The Miss FEA title was presented to Linda Overmyer.

Future Educators in Action is a high school based organization which supports the ideals of true professionalism in the career of education.

During the Saturday conference a variety of workshops were conducted. Two of the most popular workshops involved the "exchange of ideas" and "occupations."

The CCHS Choraliers performed as part of the entertainment at the conference.

Christiansen, Schultz take 'Ag-Banking'

Eugene R. Christiansen, vice president, and Edward Schultz of The State Exchange Bank, were among more than 40 Hoosier bank officials who completed Ag-Banking courses at the 1974 Indiana Agricultural Banking School at Purdue University, Dec. 1-6.

Sponsored by the Indiana Bankers Association, the program featuring daily seminars, study projects and research analysis reviews by agricultural economists and banking officials, covered a challenging series of topics.

Heading the faculty for this year's Ag-Banking School were J.W. Uhrig, Purdue agricultural economist, and George Rieder, senior vice president and Daniel Givens, of the Indiana National Bank.

Christiansen and Schultz are field representatives of The State Exchange Bank.

B-team takes 54 rebounds to win 62-48 over North Miami

Don't be surprised if the CCHS B-team basketball squad is nicknamed "the kangaroos."

Fifty-four rebounds were registered in the statistics file Saturday night when the young Cavaliers defeated North Miami 62-48.

Tony Bean chalked up 14 rebounds and B-Team Coach Gene Reese considers him the most improved player so far this season.

Bean has a scoring average of 13.

Steve Smith, who scored 20 points — a season high — also racked up 12 rebounds for the orange and black.

Friday night the B-team was defeated by Caston High School 55-46.

Reese was particularly impressed with John DeWitt, the 5'6½" sophomore, who came off the bench in the fourth quarter and scored seven points for CCHS.

The B-team record is now 2 wins, 5 losses.

They play prior to varsity games with starting time at 6:30 p.m.

JR. HIGH SCALPS REDSKINS

The Culver eighth grade team, in one of their strongest games to date, defeated the Knox Redskins 39-23 at the local gym last Tuesday. The Culver boys completely outplayed Knox as Coach Anderson was able to empty his bench the fourth quarter.

Scoring for Culver were Mike Wolverton, 15; Jeff Mills, 9; Robert Ransom, 9; Tony Kozlowski, Mark Salinas and Ed Newman, 2.

Coach Pachniak's seventh grade team won their second game in a row by downing the Knox seventh graders 23-19. It was a come from behind victory as Knox led most of the game.

Scoring for Culver were Scot Burke, 9; Andy White, 8; Brad Gast, 4 and Doug Farmer, 2.

TONY BEAN shows his jumping potential during Friday night's B-team game against Caston. The B-team were defeated by Caston 55-49.

Varsity wins and loses over weekend

Varsity Cavaliers split weekend games by dropping to Caston Friday and going past North Miami Saturday.

In a hard fought battle the Cavaliers were defeated by Caston 51-50.

Thomas was high scorer for the Cavaliers with 23, followed by Zehner with 30. Zehner also pulled down 13 rebounds. Crowl added 18 points and Wamsley had 8.

Saturday night's ball game was a sure win throughout for Culver, however they seemed to settle back and almost lost it in the final minutes.

With just minutes left in the ball game the Cavaliers were 23 points ahead and then got into foul trouble, causing them the drastically narrow the margin.

Coach Ken Hass then put in Bauer, Smith and Keith, who proved their worth with their rebounding capabilities.

Bauer, just 5'6" rallied with 7 rebounds.

Final score was Culver 75, North Miami 68.

Friday night the varsity Cavaliers fave John Glenn for their Homecoming match.

GIRLS OPEN SEASON JAN. 8

The girls basketball team of Culver Community High School will open their season Jan. 8 at Knox High School. Tip-off time is 6:30 p.m.

The team will carry an eight-game schedule this season. They are coached by Nancy Luebcke.

The varsity roster lists the following students as squad members:

Kathy Cultice, Carol Foust, Colleen Foust, Karen Kowatch, Linda Mattox, Kaye Mahler, Mary Measels, Debbie Miller, Debbie White and Beth Zehner.

Their first home game will be at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 29 when they will face Winamac.

Matmen's record now at 3-1

The Culver Community High School wrestling team now boasts of a 3-1 record so far this season.

Dec. 10 they downed North Judson 56-8 with impressive pins in eight weight classes.

Matmen pinning for CCHS were Holbrook, P. Ruiz, Ringen, Bean, Ahlenius, Taber and Boyne.

Those winning by decision were E. Ruiz, Pennington, Minix and Salary.

Wentz, from Culver's heavy-weight class, drew to North Judson's Rodriguez 4-4.

In exhibition wrestling, Kroft and Doepel were both defeated by North Judson wrestlers.

Two nights later, Dec. 12, CCHS passed by North Miami 21-4.

Winning for Culver were: Pennington with a major decision, P. Ruiz by decision, Ringen with pin, Minix by decision, Bean with pin, Taber and Salary by forfeit and Boyne with pin.

The only Culver win in exhibition scramble was John Simmons with a pin.

Wrestling fans might miss the name of Dan Vujovich this week. He is out with cracked ribs, but according to Coach Ron Anderson, he should be back with the team soon.

Chosen as Wrestlers of the Week are co-captains Wendell Bean and Dan Ringen.

Both have 4-0 records thus far this season.

Bean comes from the 145-pound class and has won three of his matches by pins. According to Anderson, Bean's "attitude, leadership and skill has inspired his fellow wrestlers."

Ringen, back this year in the 126-pound class, was out much of the season last year due to injuries. He has fully recovered and has chalked up two pins this year. "Dan displays leadership, skill and determination on the mat," says Anderson.

Thursday night the CCHS wrestlers host Northfield on their home mat.

FRESHMEN NOW 4-3

The freshman basketball team of CCHS ran past Argos Monday night 58-21.

The win raises their season record to 4-3.

The young Cavaliers led throughout the game, with a half time score of 25-13.

High point man for CCHS was Miller with 14. Osborn, Kemple and Brokus each chalked up nine, followed by Newman and Masters with 6 apiece. Cummings registered four and Gordon had two.

Four players sat the bench anticipating a "B" squad game following the regular freshman match. But according to CCHS Coach Dave Spiegel, Argos Coach Gene Snyder declined the meeting after the first game. Both teams indicated they wanted a "B" game beforehand, however.

Bank workers celebrate holidays

"Toy Soldiers" was the holiday motif for the 36th annual Christmas party for employees of The State Exchange Bank, Culver, Plymouth and Argos; the Farmers State Bank of LaPaz and the State Exchange Finance Company in the auditorium and cafeteria of the Culver Community High School Saturday evening.

Holiday dainties were served at a punch table featuring lighted Christmas trees, holly and wooden soldiers, before guests joined in the candle-lit dining room. Staff members and spouses, numbering 250, gathered for the annual pre-Christmas festivities.

In keeping with the 1975 theme, the unusual decor was carried out in table settings featuring center pieces of white flocked evergreen, red carnations, red candles and wooden soldiers flanked by sprigs of holly.

From the "Holiday Fruit Cup," "Roast Native Turkey with Trimmings," through the dessert course of "Pumpkin Pie," the menu was a fitting reminder of the traditional Christmastime festivity. The Culver Inn catered the dinner.

W.O. Osborn, president, and Fred E. Adams, executive vice president, were joined by directors at the head table. Toastmaster Adams welcomed guests.

Osborn expressed appreciation to staff members for the excellence of their efforts, cooperation and loyalty. In his remarks, he pointed out, "each of you, by reason of your training, your personal interest, represent our bank in its relationship with each of the customers we are privileged to serve."

"Our growth in 1974, as in past years is to be noted in all phases of our banking operation.

Customers expect and deserve excellence in financial service. Depositors, as well as borrowers are our patrons, and with deserved dignity and respect for their needs and service, we must do our utmost to serve them well. That we strive to do so is a compliment to each staff member."

Vice presidents Ronald McKee, Jack Carpenter and Allen Cummins, introduced new employees of the staff at Plymouth, Argos and LaPaz. Jack Keldenich, cashier, and Margaret Swanson, vice president and auditor, introduced new departmental staff members. Hampton Boswell, vice president, presented a report on the Employees Pension and Profit Trust. Robert Cultice, vice president, explained insurance policy changes which provide added benefits and coverage in the Employees Health and Accident Insurance.

Adams told of the annual 1974 bonus to be presented to some 120 employees. He expressed appreciation to Charlotte Jung, vice president, and to members of her committee for their work in arranging the 1974 party. Assisting Jung with arrangements and decorations were Margaret Swanson, Lura Walker, Vern McKee, J.C. Beck, Betty Singleton, Margaret Dehne, Mildred Ditmire, Rose Ann Van Horn and Marcia Adams.

Following dinner, guests joined in the auditorium where the evening's entertainment featured "The Hoosier Streakers." Nationally known television and radio artists, Captain Stubby and Tiny Stokes, who have appeared at many Bank Christmas parties over the past 25 years, presented a program of comedy and song.

Jack Keldenich and Burl Nifong conducted a drawing for Christmas gifts.

PATROL CAR ARRIVING SOON

A new police patrol car will soon be seen around Culver.

The car will be a 1975 Mercury, to replace the vehicle demolished in a recent collision involving Town Marshal Richard Woodward.

Bid for the automobile was awarded to VanHorn Ford-Mercury, the only dealership presenting a bid.

The new auto will be on the road within a week, according to Ron VanHorn. Currently the patrol car is being equipped with necessary lights, radio and other police furnishings.
