"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

Newspaper Family

WHEN OLD JOURNALISTS gather they're prone to swap lies about the big and exciting stories they've covered.

AL SPIERS

THIS BOTHERS Lynn nary a bit.

"Who needs excitement to be happy?" he asked amiably. "True contentment can be found in the simple, basic things of life." Then, bespectacled gray eyes twinkling, he added: "Besides, my shaky heart might conk if confronted by a big, exciting story."

There's an element of truth in that heart josh. Two decades ago Lynn was rocked by four angina attacks in five days — the last one a block-buster that nearly wafted him out of this world.

TYPICALLY, MOSS serenely adjusted to an easier routine and went on living happily.

There's even more truth in Lynn's philosophy of contentment with simple things. In a long lifetime, he's taken only three vacations. Why?

"A man happy at work and at home has no desire or need to go gadding," he said.

Moss is such a man . . . and interesting, too.

LYNN'S HOME is Flora, a gentle, peaceful Carroll County town, a little over an hour's drive from Culver, whose 2,000 citizens support eight churches.

Farm-horn nearby in 1886, Moss became a printer's devil at age 11 when his dad, Frank, launched the weekly Flora Democrat against two established competitors, The Sentinel and The Enterprise.

Four years later Frank sold out, but Lynn continued spartan work at The Democrat (at a nickel an hour!) while finishing high school. When he was graduated in 1903, his father asked, "Which do you prefer — college or the paper?"

"THE PAPER!" Lynn promptly replied.

"All right," said Frank. "When you learn the whole trade, we'll buy it back!"

Six years later, in 1909, Frank bought and consolidated The Enterprise, The Sentinel, and The Democrat and made son Lynn his partner.

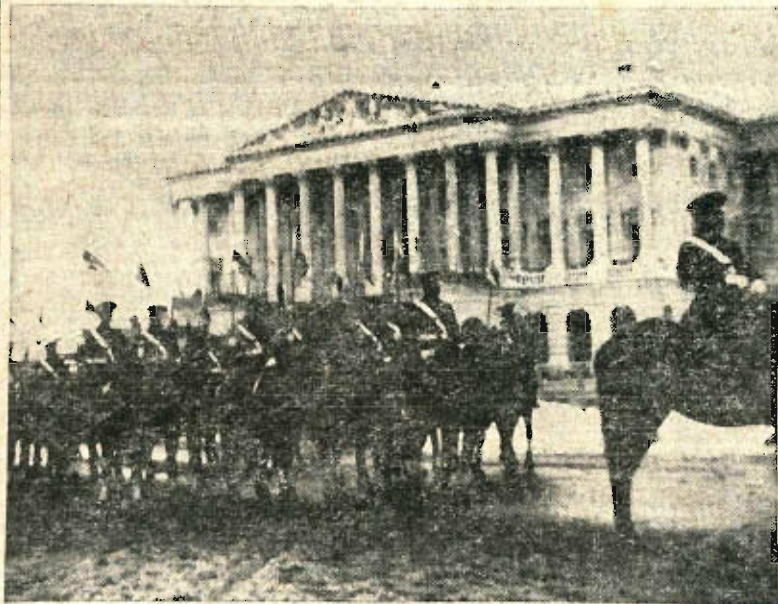

"Dad, a fine writer, was called the poet of Flora," Lynn recalled. "He covered the news. I was a jack-of-all-trades — printer, compositor, ad man, subscription seller, and general flunky."

ON THE SIDE, LYNN was also a nifty, versatile baseballer. In five years, he played every position but catch on the crack Flora-Brinhurst Union team that won the state championship in 1908 and beat many big-city teams.

After his father's death in 1916

Culver Military Academy's Black Horse Troop Wins Trophy For Its Inaugural Parade Performance

— Photograph by Col. Edward Stephenson

Culver Military Academy's famed Black Horse Troop won a second place trophy for its sterling performance in the Washington, D.C. inaugural parade last Friday.

Competing in a division that included the Army, Navy, and Air Force academies, the Black Horse Troop placed second behind Virginia Military Institute. The Pershing Rifles from Johns Hopkins University were ranked behind Culver in the marching division.

Overall, the Kennedy-Johnson inaugural parade included 36,000 marchers.

Culver was the only college preparatory school to win an award. Col. Gerald J. Graham, director of the Department of Horsemanship, will receive an engraved trophy in recognition of the honor given the Black Horse Troop.

The announcement of the award climaxed a trip that could hardly be called routine. For the 85 Troopers who made the journey to Washington, it was an experience to be long remembered.

Many Cadets Stranded By Snowstorm

Arriving in Washington last Thursday morning, the Troop's activities were curtailed by the severe snowstorm that struck the capital late that afternoon. Many Troopers were stranded in Washington with parents and friends, and were unable to return to Anacostia Naval Receiving Station where they were billeted.

The parade began more than an hour late, and by the time the Black Horse Troop passed President Kennedy's reviewing stand, the three major television networks had concluded their parade coverage.

The Troopers were guests at a dance held by students at the Marymount School for Girls on Friday evening following the parade. They left Washington by train later that night and returned to Culver Saturday morning.

Inaugural Impressions

By ROBERT K. KYLE

There will never be another quite like it . . . the oldest outgoing President, the youngest incoming in history . . . only time both parents saw their son take the oath of office . . . three Presidents still alive, but unfortunately President Hoover, after circling Washington airport was unable to land and returned to Florida.

The Parade show was stolen by a bucking, snorting, rodeo-ridden buffalo; the Ball by Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy's Molyneux gown which the nine-times mother wore previously in 1938 to the Court of St. James when her husband was ambassador at London.

While giving the invocation Richard Cardinal Cushing, grand old patriarch, defied the fires of hades as smoke swirled up from under the lectern, repeated his prayer three times, while someone poured coffee on the burning heater motor. May have averted a near-panic.

As a proud father Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador, Hoover Commission member, both Securities and Exchange and Maritime Commissions former chairman, and 400 times a millionaire, takes all beaming honors. He remained far out of sight during the campaign but made it up at the coming-out party.

In the parade Indiana was officially represented by Governor Welsh, also the Indianapolis Police Motorcycle Patrol, the Tell City High School band and several others. Culver Military Academy's famed Black Horse Troop darkness closed in. They were left way out in the Montana delegation. However, Indiana couldn't expect too much from the Inaugural Committee, since it went Republican for Nixon more per-population than any other state.

At the luncheon following the swearing-in ex-President Truman was stopped at the door of the former Supreme Court room in the Capitol and asked to say a few words for TV audiences. He did, frankly as usual, "Make it fast, I'm hungry as hell!" Later Bess got him under control and he confined himself to exchanging autographed menus with Kennedy and Eisenhower.

During the luncheon President Kennedy constantly circulated among the guests, chatted with Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Wilson, stopped to say a few words to one of his old friends, a waiter from the Senate dining room, and had a general good time.

Republicans and Democrats alike and the skeptical press regarded President Kennedy's Inaugural speech as one of the most concise, straight-forward, courageous, and statesmanlike ever delivered by a President. Harry Truman said it was one of the best and he, an authority on Presidential history, had read them all. Hoover was lavish with praise.

The festivities over and Mrs. Kennedy (who doesn't want to be regarded as The First Lady, but as the wife of the President) was tucked in bed, John did what most husbands sometimes do — went on a prow, to the home of Joseph Alsop, political columnist, where a crowd of cronies greeted him, and stayed out until 3:30 a.m.

Already he has the Secret Service men nuts. He roams through crowds, never stays put more than a moment, talks with everyone.

Zero Weather and Heavy Snow Grips Entire Community

The sub-zero weather of the past few days was climaxed by a blinding snowstorm Tuesday afternoon which snarled automobile traffic and brought general discomfort.

Unofficial temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero were reported throughout Marshall County but our regular official source of weather information, those in charge of the Culver Military Academy powerhouse, could come up only with 3, 4, and 4 below zero as their recordings early Saturday, Sunday, and Monday mornings.

It was 16 below in Burr Oak this morning!

Virginia Hunter Funk's Death Is Mourned Here

Services for Virginia W. Funk, age 48, former well known Culver resident, were held in the Carlisle Funeral Home at Michigan City last Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Leonard A. Ziemer, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial was in beautiful Crown Hill Cemetery at Indianapolis.

According to the Michigan City News-Dispatch, death, apparently due to natural causes, is believed to have occurred at about 5 a.m. on Jan. 16.

Mrs. Funk had been a resident of Beverly Shores, Michigan City, since her marriage to Kurt H. Funk on Dec. 20, 1958.

During her 8-year residence in Culver she lived on Lake Maxinkuckee at 794 West Shore Drive, now a rental property owned by Robert L. Haig.

Fine Sense of Humor

As an employee of the Ideal Cleaners, Charles Ricciardi's dry-cleaning and tailor shop, and other retail establishments, she made many friends through her keen sense of humor. She particularly enjoyed any reference to her membership in the Bird Watcher's Club, a mythical organization whose name crept into The Citizen's society columns from time to time.

Born In Montana

Virginia Weiss Funk was born at Hamilton, Montana, on Sept. 4, 1912, the daughter of Herbert and Ethel Vincent Weiss. As a small child she came to Indianapolis with her parents. Her first husband, Richard Scott Hunter, died April 17, 1951.

Survivors in addition to her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Jill Wilson, Michigan City; a son, Richard Scott Hunter Jr., stationed with the U.S. Navy at San Diego, Calif.; a stepson, Donald Funk, Michigan City; a grandchild; and a brother, William G. Weiss, Dallas, Texas.

Funeral Services Held Today For Frank S. Banks

Franklin S. Banks, age 87, died early Monday morning at his home near Hibbard following an illness of four weeks.

"Buddy" Banks was born Feb. 9, 1873, in Hibbard and had spent his entire life there. He was a retired contractor and stone mason, and a member of the Hibbard Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Maxinkuckee I.O.O.F. Lodge. His wife, the former Joanna Susanna McDougle, preceded him in death on July 28, 1952.

Surviving are two sons, Clarence A. of Terre Haute and Charles O. of Bay Shore, N. Y.; one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Travelbee of Islip, N. Y.; and one granddaughter, Penelope Ann Banks of Bay Shore.

Services were held at 10 a.m. today at the Easterday Funeral Home with Rev. Donald Totten, pastor of the Hibbard Church, officiating and Rev. Charles L. Harey assisting. Burial was at the Poplar Grove I.O.O.F. Cemetery east of Culver. The I.O.O.F. Lodge service was held at the Funeral Home at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Jackie Sanders Undergoes Surgery At Riley Hospital

Jacquelin Sanders, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanders of Culver, was taken to Riley Hospital in Indianapolis last Friday where she is scheduled to undergo surgery today. The youngster swallowed an undetermined amount of drain cleaner a few days before Christmas, which has caused scar tissue to form in the esophagus.

She will be confined at the hospital for at least a month.

McKinneys Sail For Hawaii

Pictured here are COL. and MRS. CHARLES F. MCKINNEY, 147 North Terrace, Culver, aboard the Matson Luxury Liner S.S. Matsonia, which sailed from San Francisco, Calif., on Jan. 17 for Honolulu, Hawaii.

The McKinneys left Culver on Jan. 12 and were driven to Chicago by Mrs. McKinney's sister, Mrs. Milan D. Baker, and from there they went by train to San Francisco. They plan to spend about six weeks in Hawaii and will also visit Col. and Mrs. Russell Throckmorton, former residents of Culver, who now reside in Honolulu.

Colonel McKinney, former Commandant of the Culver Military Academy, retired about three years ago. Colonel Throckmorton is also a former CMA instructor.

Prior to their departure the McKinneys were honored when members of Mrs. McKinney's bridge group and their husbands entertained them at a surprise supper party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Strow on Jan. 7, preceding the entertainment in Epley Auditorium. On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 8, Dr. and Mrs. Milan D. Baker entertained 50 guests at a farewell party for the McKinneys.

Cardinal Ritter Given Symbol Of His New Rank

[This Jan. 19 United Press International dispatch from Rome, Italy, is of great interest locally because this distinguished churchman has often been a summer guest of the Elmer A. Steffens of 782 East Shore Drive along Lake Maxinkuckee through the years.]

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope John XXIII completed a week of solemn religious rites yesterday by bestowing on Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, formerly of Indianapolis, and three other new princes of the Roman Catholic Church the final symbols of their new rank as cardinal.

In a ceremony that was ancient centuries ago he handed to them the red, broad-brimmed cardinal's hat known as a galero, one they will never wear until it is placed at their feet as a sign of mourning when they die. Later, he gave them their cardinal rings.

The consistory was carried out before 15,000 persons in St. Peter's.

Cardinal Ritter was the first to receive the galero. He appeared somewhat nervous at the start of the hour-long ceremony. As the Pope placed the symbolic hat on his head, however, his face had a serene expression and he relaxed. He embraced the Pontiff and turned to a row of pews where 32 cardinals of previous creation were kneeling. Cardinal Ritter then embraced each cardinal.

Library Board Elects Officers

The Culver-Union Township Library Board met Tuesday night for its regular January meeting and election of officers.

Jesse Sims was reelected president; Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland, vice-president; Peter Trone, treasurer; and Mrs. Roy Price was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Guy Davis, who has served so capably in that position for several years, but had requested that she be relieved of the office due to other obligations. Mrs. Davis has been a member of the board for almost nine years and deserves the thanks of the entire community for her faithful service.

Rest Rooms Open

Access to the rest room facilities is available to anyone requesting the key from the librarian, Mrs. Jane Scruggs, or her assistant, Mrs. Norma Mohr, during regular library hours, which are 12 noon to 8 p.m. weekdays and 12 to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

The building committee of the board, Jesse Sims and Peter Trone, spent several hours last Saturday insulating the attic of the Library, donating their labor that this needed project might be completed without further delay.

Now they have the Dresden-like Mrs. Kennedy to cope with. She rides to hounds, and the less agile of them are going to be falling off a lot of horses the next four years.

Kennedy's New York tailor took needle-and-thread and buttons to the Inaugural just in case, and CMA personnel took horse-shoe nails and tack repairs for the same reason.

After it was over most everyone agreed what this country needs is shorter parades, fewer balls, and the inauguration taking place right after Thanksgiving.

"If I were asked to name the good-will man of 1960, I would unhesitatingly give the accolade to Richard Nixon. During the recent campaign he never exploited the religious or any other issue that would tend to divide the American people. When he lost, he was magnificent in defeat." So said Catholic Cardinal Cushing about Quaker Nixon.

President Eisenhower likewise was heroic in the transition of administrations with the sincere and friendly manner of the great cavalier.

There wasn't an unoccupied dress suit west of the Rockies that could be begged, borrowed, or rented the night of the Inaugural Ball, and some showed their antiquity too.

President Kennedy demonstrated that he never forgets a friend despite pin-headed criticism. He took great pains the morning after the pre-Inaugural gala of screen

MEL'S STANDARD SERVICE AFFILIATES WITH
CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB

Mel Shidler, the accommodating fellow who has operated the new Standard service station at the corner of Main and Washington Streets since Jan. 1, is now the service affiliate of the Chicago Motor Club for the Culver area, succeeding Snyder Chevrolet Sales which is discontinuing business.

Shidler gives 24-hour service to Chicago Motor Club members. If there is no answer at Viking 2-7488 (incorrectly given in the organization's new 1961 service station directory) phone North Judson TWimbrook 6-2970.

Mel plans to move his family to Culver in late May after the close of the school year.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Throughout Indiana there are 54 newspapers that bear the name "News" either alone or in conjunction with another name. There are 25 that have the name "Times" but from there on there is a wide field of names. The name "Sun" was once popular but it now appears in only four Hoosier towns. One of the most unusual is the name "Argus." It is derived from the name of a hundred eyed monster of Greek mythology that was credited with being a watchful guardian.

NOTED INDUSTRIAL DESIGNERS PAY
CULVER A VISIT

Last week two of the top industrial designers of the United States were in Culver for a conference with the editorial staff of Indiana Business and Industry, the Culver-based monthly magazine.

They were Trace Christensen Jr., president of Good Design Associates at South Bend, and one of his partners, Charles W. Clemens.

Good Design Associates offers many varied services, including product, package, graphic, display, interiors, and architectural design. Model making facilities include wood, metal, and plastics.

Many of their product creations are pictured regularly in national magazine advertising.

FIGHTS FOR LIFE — A 500-pound Spotted Poland China boar, perhaps sensing his fate, put up a bitter fight before he was delivered dead to a packing plant in Madison. Pat Dickerson, a Ripley County farmer, said the boar fought viciously against being loaded in a truck for transport to Madison. Then when the truck arrived at the packing plant the boar escaped and took off through the streets of Madison. Dickerson, aided by city police, finally cornered the boar in the back yard of a home and shot him with a police rifle. The carcass was then hauled to the packing plant.

SIMILARITY — A paragraph in Mrs. Margaret L. Wyatt's column in The Brown County Democrat noted some striking similarities between girls and newspapers. It read: "Girls are like newspapers. They have all the forms; they always have the last word; back numbers are not in demand; they have great influence. You can't believe everything they say; they're thinner than they used to be; they get along by advertising; and every man should have one of his own and not try to borrow his neighbor's." Mrs. Wyatt graciously admits the paragraph was not original with her but she doesn't recall where she picked it up.

Our Indians Wake Up So Bright, Alert

By Cheryl Dillon, Jean Eikenberry, and Cathy Overmyer
What is the first thing that comes to your mind when you wake in the morning? Is it, "how I wish I could sleep just 10 minutes longer!" or something else? Let's look for just a moment at what comes to the minds of different students around C.H.S. when they awake in the morning. You will see that there are various thoughts.

Merrie Kay Stoneburner — Staying in bed.

Lila Bean — School.

Nancy Burns — Food!

Cathy Overmyer — What's going to happen today!

Chris Croy — Not coming to school.

Miss Shanks — Wish I had gotten up earlier.

Linda Banks — Breakfast and tests.

Linda Gibbons — Going back to bed.

Barbara Moore — Stay in bed and rest.

Rochelle Good — What my hair is going to look like.

Tom Boswell — I hope it is Saturday so I can sleep.

Earl Mishler — Go back to bed.

Thad Overmyer — I don't think.

Mr. Graham — My first class.

Charlene Lucas — That's a good question!

Sheryl Hohman — I don't know!

Jerry Kimmel — Civics Class.

Karen Kemple — Jim.

Eloise Tanner — Gene.

Donna Smith — Lee.

Marilee Zechiel — Just a couple more minutes and I'll get up.

Shirley Crow — Ronnie! Do I have to get up?

Ruth Abair — Butch! What shall I wear to school?

Carol Heiser — A certain someone, and that I had better hurry or I'll never make it in time for the bus.

Sandy Boetsma — A certain Monterey boy!

Jean Warner — Why did I say I'd practice this morning? I would rather sleep another half hour.

Lana Berger — How long will I have to practice today?

Marjorie McGaffey — Jim trying to sleep 'til 10 a.m.

George Baker — Sue, and when it will be time to get out of school.

Jane Baker — Ronnie, until I get ready to go to school.

Nancy Ervin — It can't be morning already!

Jamie Piersol — So back to sleep.

Jean Eikenberry — Why didn't I study for the test I'm having

Mr. Lawson Provides Wife's Pet Peeves

By Mimi Fisher

Mrs. Latham Lawson is the short, black haired, freckle-faced, fifth grade teacher who anyone is sure to see if they walk through the grade school halls. She was born in Sullivan, Ind., but grew up in Jasonville, Ind. where she attended the local public schools.

Mrs. Lawson attended Indiana State Teachers College and she has gained licenses to teach in both grade school and high school. When asked about the worst characteristics of fifth grade students, she replied that they are "much too noisy!"

Her pet peeve is Mr. Lawson's teasing, and typing his civics, physics, and math tests for him. Her favorite food is ice cream "with all sorts of rich toppings." Mrs. Lawson likes Culver very much, and especially likes teaching here. We are all happy to have her here again this year.

Guidance Theme Of Assembly

By Carol Heiser and Sherrill Edgington

Mr. Robinson of the Guidance Department discussed with the student body in assembly last week the problems of getting into college today. Covering a variety of items, he said students with a college education can get a better job than students with a high school education. Changing college admission requirements for 1961 makes it hard for students of today to get into college.

A person should work hard. It was brought out that colleges are urging that students take academic courses in high school.

Indiana University is going to tighten the entrance requirements in 1964, stressing the importance of where you rate in class. Students in the upper third of their class usually get to attend any college they wish to.

It was pointed out that students each year have been doing better, and as a result averages have been going up, and also at the same time, so are the requirements.

It was also stressed that the ability to read and express yourself is important too. A student should have a wide vocabulary, and must be able to understand what he reads and writes. Working with your hands is just as important as working with your brains.

Are you ready for college? If not you had better get busy. Today a college education is just as important as a high school educa-

Give me a "C"! Do you think it looks like a "C"? No — it doesn't look it to me either. Oh! Number 13, please turn your card over to the white side. Good! That's perfect! Now give me a "U".

Yes, you've guessed it. The pep club is working out a lot of new routines. They have a card section started that is going to look just great at the tourney; and everybody is behind the boys all the way to victory!

Speaking of the number thirteen, it must have been LaPaz's unlucky number. Good work, boys, in two great games on Friday the thirteenth. The B-Team played a real swell game and the varsity, as you all know, won the horseshoe.

The Senior English class is getting to be an authority on love, at least love poems. But even with all their wisdom they still have one problem. What does lavaliered mean?

Mr. Lawson, you'll have to be more careful in the future. My advice, sir — is to just ignore Lance the next time he goes to ask you a question. That way you will always know what's going on.

Well, congratulations, Carmen. We're all glad to see you back at school. Two to one that your New Year's resolution is to stay out of the hospital on New Year's or any time for that matter.

It seems that Jamie's having a hard time getting to English class with the right book. Mr. Graham thought maybe he had gotten in the wrong class. He had the right subject, though. His trouble was that it was last year's literature book.

Snap, snap! — Snap, snap! No, I'm not keeping time to the top ten. It's more pictures being taken for the Tomahawk. Pictures were taken Wednesday of the students diligently studying in their different classes, also the band, and the pep club pictures.

Well, I've just got one last thing to say, "GO GET 'EM, INDIANS!"

Next Sunday attend the Church of your Faith.

Tomorrow is just as important as today. So be thinking of the college that you wish to attend.

Junior High Cage Teams Meet Success

By Earl Mishler

It's time once again for us to review the action of our fine junior high teams coached by James Moore.

The youngsters started off the new year by travelling to West Township. Bruce Lindvall's nine points paced the seventh grade to a 22 to 10 victory over the hosts in the opener. But the eighth graders were defeated, 33 to 29, as high-scoring center Dave Lemar was held to two points. Hershel Odle's five markers led the balanced Culver attack.

On Jan. 9, Coach Moore's squads played host to Bremen's junior high lads. The visiting seventh graders toppled Culver, 30 to 22. Mark Deckard's eight points topped the losers' attack, but a Bremen lad named Zimmer displayed an unusually fine shooting ability for a seventh grader by pouring in 22 points. Lemar's 13 points, including nine free throws, led the eighth grade to a 32 to 20 victory over the young Lions.

Last Tuesday Rochester was the opponent as the Culver lads faced their stiffest competition of the year in the Fulton County gym. The seventh grade Zebras nipped Culver, 19 to 17, in the opener. Deckard again led the attack with five points. The Culver eighth graders held the powerful Rochester team in check for the first half, but were outclassed in the last half, losing by the score of 35 to 15. Lemar and Jimmy Lewis hit six apiece for twelve of the 15 tallies.

Once again we hasten to recommend these junior high contests as well as freshmen ball games as wonderful athletic entertainment. A small admission fee is charged, and upcoming games are announced in The Schoolbell.

Let God have His way . . . at Home . . . at Church . . . at Work.

Grade Pupils A Busy Lot

By Sharon Spahr and Lila Bean

Grade 1 — Miss Cripe's first graders have been learning about different kinds of birds. There have been bird books, pictures, and bird song records brought by the children. Mrs. Keyser's first graders have been working on a train unit, which they have been having fun doing. They are also reading about farms and collecting pictures of our future President, Jack Kennedy.

Grade 2 — Mrs. Allen's second grade class have been working on simple addition and subtraction combinations. They have had their arithmetic, reading, and spelling tests. Warren Bair, Mary Ann Easterday, Steven Neff, and Jimmy Summers have missed no spelling words this semester.

Grade 3 — Mrs. Carter's third grade has had a spell-down in which Perry White won. This week is exam week even though several children are out with sore throats. In science, they are reading about electrical things in our homes. They also made pictures of these things. They are also ready to start a new reader entitled "Friends Far and Near."

Grade 4 — Vicki Jo Clifton has returned to Mrs. Mahan's fourth grade after an illness of two weeks. For perfect spelling in the last six weeks, Peter Mars, Stephanie Mohr, Danny Spencer, and Pamela Welsh all received gold stars. For missing only one word in the last six weeks, Jeffrey Adams, Gregg Everett, Doug Hartz, Billy Liette, Beatrice Napier, and Steven Snyder received silver stars.

Grade 5 — Mr. Weaver's fifth grade has been doing several experiments related to pressure in science class. Dale Pennington has been sick and we are hoping for a recovery real soon. Semester tests have kept us all busy and working hard.

Mrs. Lawson has replaced Mr. Carr as one of the Fifth Grade teachers.

Junior Dances Termed Success

By Pat Wesson and Mary Jane Guise

Seniors — The Seniors held a class meeting and discussed the Senior Trip. The class motto is to be picked at the next meeting.

Juniors — The Juniors have been having a big success with their dances so far. On Friday the 13th the theme centered around this unlucky day with rather unusual and exotic (?) decorations. On Jan. 27 the Juniors will sponsor another dance with the theme "Wonderland by Night." There have been hints from the committee chairman that it will be the best dance yet, so everybody be sure and come! The Juniors are also planning a record hop in March but no definite date has been set.

Freshman — The fudge sale of Jan. 20, was canceled because there was no school. The next fudge sale will be held on Feb. 3.

Honor Students Get Sweaters

By Betty Zechiel

Six members of the senior class were recognized as Honor Students at a special assembly held last Tuesday in the gym. The new awards have been set up by the Student Council on the basis of a 3.6 average for the first three years of high school academic work. This is the first year such awards have been given and hereafter they will be made in September.

Gary Dillon as president of the Student Council explained the awards and their purpose. He then assisted Principal Cole in presenting maroon coat sweaters with white Old English "C" upon which are the words "Honor Student" in maroon.

Those receiving the sweaters were: Anne Osborn, Roberta Lou Easterday, Karen Kemple, Earl Mishler, and Nancy Ervin. Marizetta Robinson was ill so will receive her sweater at a later date.

The student body and faculty concluded the ceremony with a standing ovation for these outstanding students of Culver High School.

Lana Berger Is Chosen Sunshine Girl Of Month

By Barbara Rosebaum

The Sunshine Girls held a meeting Jan. 11. The roll call was taken and each girl told what her New Year's resolution was.

The girls picked the Sunshine Girl of the month, who is Lana Berger.

To start the new year off, all the new members of Sunshine are going to have the program for the next meeting.

At the meeting members discussed the results from the dance, and what they should do to raise money for the Riley Fund.

The meeting was brought to a close by Linda Gibbons.

FIRE DEPARTMENT calls should be made to Viking 2-2121. Note this number near your home phone.

PETERBOROUGH, N. H. — A registered Guernsey cow, Behmer Homestead 1 Marian owned by J. Richard Behmer, Plymouth, has completed an official HIR production record, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club here.

This official production record was supervised by Purdue University.

PLENTY FOR PUDDING

There should be no lack of ingredients for persimmon pudding at the Irvin McBride home in the Old Union Community in southern Lawrence County. On the McBride farm is a persimmon tree that measures seven feet, eight inches, in circumference at the base of the trunk and is practically the same measurement at the first limb 12 feet above the ground.
The tree has a limb spread of 39 1/2 feet and stands about 70 feet tall.

Heads Manufacturers

JOHN W. MCGOVERN, former president of the United States
Rubber Co., heads the National Association of Manufacturers for 1961. He was elected to lead the nation's largest organization of industrialists during the recent 65th Congress of American Industry in New York.

GOOD EXAMPLE — Arthur Brown, an Ohio truck driver with a 42-year record of accident free driving, gives this account for his wonderful record, as reported by the Logansport Tribune.
Brown says he drives every foot
as if a policeman is following him. There would be a lot less accidents and a lot fewer lives lost if we all drove with that in mind.

AN AMERICAN WORKER without dependents can buy one-third more with his take-home pay now than in 1939; with three dependents, he can buy 50 per cent more.

Continuous benefits are available to all through a fuller comprehension of God as Love. This idea will be enlarged upon at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled
"Love."

Readings from the Bible will include this selection from I John (4:9): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

The closing citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (6:17-18):
"God is Love." More than this we cannot ask, higher we cannot look, farther we cannot go."

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (9:24): "Let him that glori-eth glory in this, that he under-standeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercises loving kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth."

Next Sunday, Jan. 29, will be a designated to honor Mrs. Pearl Zechiel, or "Aunt Pearl," as she is affectionately known by her friends and loved ones.

An invitation is given to all of Mrs. Zechiel's pupils of past years to be in attendance on this day at

of God.

Because of Mrs. Zechiel's long continued interest in the Burr Oak ing this means to honor her for and community.

A most cordial welcome is extended to all of "Aunt Pearl's"
friends to join in this tribute next Sunday on this, her special day.

CONGRESSMAN BRADEMAS APPOINTS A NEW ADMINISTRATIVE AID

WASHINGTON — John Brade-
mas, Indiana Third District Congressman, has announced the appointment of John R. Walsh, education writer for The Louisville Times, as administrative

Walsh succeeds Mike Monroney,

Walsh, 34, is familiar with the Third District, having worked on the Brademas staff during two past Congressional campaigns.
Walsh is married to the former Efthalia Makris of South Bend.

A member of the staff of the Louisville newspaper for more

FRED STEFFY, ARGOS FURNITURE MERCHANT, MAKES CULVER VISIT

Although affable Fred Steffy welcomes many Culver customers to his beautiful and large Argos Furniture Store, which he operates with his charming wife Mary, business rarely permits him to take time off to visit in Culver.
That is why his visit of last Friday was so much appreciated by his many friends here.

The Culver Citizen staff particularly enjoyed his visit. Mr.
Steffy, incidentally, is a great believer in the pulling power of newspaper advertising. Records show that an Argos Furniture Store ad has been in every weekly issue of The Culver Citizen since the present ownership took over on June 16, 1952. The Stef-fys also use The Cryer, published in Culver, as a regular advertising medium to reach its more than 5,000 rural route and box-holder readers in this area.

RIDES IN INAUGURAL PARADE

Kermit C. Zieg was one of 83
cadets who rode with the Culver
Military Academy's famed Black Horse Troop in the inaugural parade in Washington, D.C. last Friday.

Cadet Zieg is the son of Colonel and Mrs. Kermit C. Zieg, Culver.
Colonel Zieg is now the controller of Culver Military Academy. The Zieg family were residents of Arlington, Va., prior to moving to Culver.

“Hoosier At Large”

Lynn was The Democrat's sole publisher until his son, Al, joined him a few years ago, after World War II Korean service.
“I could yield the reins to Al and retire now,” Lynn chuckled, “but it's more fun to work than loaf — and Flora may yet give me one big story to cover.”
IT SEEMED INCREDIBLE to me that Lynn's town hadn't made copy elsewhere in his lifetime. When I prodded, he endeared a keen memory and hedged a wee bit.
“Well, we did have a hot story back in '87,” grinned Lynn. “The lynching of Amer Green made big headlines. But I was only a year old then — a mite young to cover it.”
In 1932, politics put Flora on a few Hoosier date-lines. Silver-haired Paul V. McNutt picked a rally, arranged by Lynn, to formally announce his candidacy for Governor.
“BUT SHUCKS — that was just political procedure, not big news,” Lynn smiled. “Everybody knew Paul was already in the race.”
After election, McNutt offered Moss a top State job. Lynn politely declined.
“Politics and journalism mix badly,” he said. “Besides, why trade enjoyable work in a serene, happy community for a short ride on a State House merry-go-round?”
WHY, INDEED?
Actually, the biggest Flora story of Lynn's long career unfolded elsewhere — first in Lafayette, then Indianapolis when the tiny town's giant-killing 1946-47 basketball team won the semi-state and went down to the wire in the first game of the Big Four finals before losing to Fort Wayne.

“WE MADE HOOSIER headlines that year, by golly,” laughed Lynn. “But I was too busy cheering the boys on to do much covering.”
To Lynn, a keen fan, that great Flora team was exciting, but it thrilled him less than: 1. His marriage to Merle Burns in 1911; 2. His son's birth in 1925; and, 3. The fairly recent arrival of grandchildren Susan and Joseph.
“Nor will any big story that may explode in Flora ever top those thrills,” said Lynn with a warm smile.

IN THIS RESTLESS, discontented, kicks-questioning age, it's refreshing to find a man like A. Lynn Moss — wholly content with the simple, basic joys of life, and serenely happy at work and at home.

LATEST TITLES OF ROBBINS-MERRILL books, many best-sellers among them, are on sale at The Citizen office. Drop in and look them over.

Indians Lose To Argos In County Tourney, 47-45

Bremen Lions Win Championship

By EARL D. MISHLER

The Bremen Lions successfully defended their Marshall County championship Saturday night in Plymouth, with an easy 62-43 victory over Bourbon in the title game.

Coach Chuck Blackburn's squad advanced to the final game with wins over Tippecanoe, 76-42, and Tyner, 64-60, in an overtime. Bourbon had beaten LaPaz, 74-63, and Argos, 47-28, to reach the championship game. Other first round games saw Tyner toppling West Township, 73-61, and Argos shocking Culver, 47-45.

Thursday evening's games were as onesided as expected. Tyner's Bob Ruff turned in a great defensive job on West's Jim Munday to lead the Redmen of Coach Hal Muncie to their 12-point victory. Meanwhile, forwards Rex Stull and Charles Creech were leading the offense, featuring some of Tyner's famous sharp-shooting. Stull's 21 points led the winning attack, while Creech added 17. West, who made far too many mistakes to stay close to the winners, was led by Munday's 16 and Larry Bair's 15.

Bremen's hot-shooting Lions easily raced away from Tippecanoe for their 34-point decision. Pivotman Tony Swartzlander led the winners with 21 points, including 11 out of 12 free throws. Guard Ken Bennett, the surprise of the tourney, hit 20 points to help the cause. Tippey's meager offense was led by Bill Robinson's 11 markers.

Bourbon's victory over LaPaz featured the red-hot play of three Comets, Chet Hall, Dick Hall, and Paul Hurford, each of whom scored 16 points. Jon Davenport, LaPaz' lanky center, had 21 points when he fouled out in the fourth quarter, and his scoring and rebounding were the only bright spots in Coach Dale Cox' boys' performance.

Argos' hustling Dragons built up a 32-21 halftime lead as their tight zone defense hampered the normally hot-shooting Indians of Culver. When senior center Lance Overmyer drew his fourth foul in the third period, Culver fell behind, 40-34, after that quarter. Trailing by eight points, the local Tribe switched to a man-to-man defense, which stymied Coach Doug Fites' boys. Led by Gary Dillon's outside shooting, the Indians grabbed a 45-42 lead, but blew three one-and-one free throw opportunities, and Argos took over. Baskets by Terry Thompson and Gary O'Dell gave the underdogs the lead and John Harley's free throw lead up the game. Dillon's 13 and Thompson's 12 led the respective teams.

In the outstanding game of the tourney, Bremen nosed out Tyner, in the first semi-final game. The Redmen opened up a huge first half margin behind the long-shooting of guards Jim Truax and Rick Skiles. But the rugged Lions, led by Jim Morris and Dale Borkholder, rallied bravely to grab a 56-54 lead with time running out. Tyner's Bob Ruff scored a lay-up with the gun sounding to send the game into an extra period. But Morris' two baskets led the Lions to their thrilling 64-60 victory. Morris hit 17 for the winners, and the Redmen's gallant try was led by Truax' 22.

Bourbon's semi-final victory over Argos was marred by very sloppy play on both parts. The Comets opened up an 8-0 lead and were never seriously threatened. Chet Hall had 15 points for the winners, while Terry Thompson hit ten for the Dragons.

In the title tilt, Bremen waltzed away with an easy victory. Swartzlander, Bennett, Morris, and Borkholder all held hot hands, while the cool Comets could not find the range all night. Morris' 16 set the Lions' pace, while sophomore Steve Shively led the feeble Comet offense with nine points.

Bremen now adds the 1961 Marshall County Tourney trophy to its collection, as well as the travelling trophy, the Horseshoe, which, however, remains at stake in all county games.

We have chosen the five outstanding players of the tourney, based on all-around play. Bob Ruff of Tyner, although a center, is our choice for one forward spot. His defensive work on West's Munday, his hard work on the backboards, and his clutch basket against Bremen gained him the position. Our other forward is Argos' fine shooter and rebounder, Terry Thompson, who was a one-man gang under the boards against Culver.

Big Jon Davenport of LaPaz is our All-Tourney center. Our guards are Tyner's Jim Truax and Bremen's Dale Borkholder. Both scored well from outside consistently throughout the tourney, and both saved many of their baskets for crucial moments. Our All-Tourney coach is Argos' Doug Fites, who was able to keep his Dragons fired up enough to score the tourney's biggest upset.

Culver has their chance for revenge Friday night as Argos visits the local gymnasium. Saturday night, the Indians travel to Mento-

Academy Sports

The Culver Military Academy basketball team faces its severest test of the season Friday night when the Eagles meet strong St. Joseph's High School in an 8:15 p.m. contest here.

Coach Russ Oliver's quintet will lay its 6-3 record on the line against the visitors, who have won nine and lost three. The St. Joseph's game is the only action the Eagles will see until Feb. 4.

In two games last week, the Academy eagles defeated Hobart River Forest here on Friday night, 59-40, and then traveled to Delafield, Wis. Saturday to post a 60-50 triumph over St. John's Military Academy. Center Paul Schultdt kept his point average near the 25-mark by hitting 25 points in both contests.

Other Academy sports found the swimming team's unbeaten record intact while the Eagle wrestlers lost to New Haven High School, 29-13, and Merrillville High, 25-18.

Coach Frank Walatis' swimmers ran their streak to six straight by defeating South Bend Riley 47-39 in a close meet in which five records were set, and South Bend Central, 50-36.

WELCOME

TO ONE OF

1580 INDIANA

COMMUNITIES

SERVED ONLY

BY TRUCKS

49.6% of all of Indiana's communities (areas of concentrated population) depend entirely upon truck service for their freight transportation.

That means 1580 communities—832 of them towns—which receive everything they need and use, and ship out everything they produce, by truck—and by truck only.

Even in those other communities served by both truck and rail facilities, truck transportation is found to be of greatest relative importance.

For instance, a survey published by the Metropolitan Planning Department of Marion County—"Manufacturing and Commuting in Metropolitan Indianapolis"—reveals the relative importance of the several forms of transportation to 293 manufacturing firms operating within metropolitan Indianapolis. These firms reported an average of 72.2% of source materials received by truck and 77.5% of products shipped by truck.

In the South Bend-Mishawaka Area, comparable average percentages among manufacturers in 1954 were found to be 76.4% for materials received by truck and 82.9% for products shipped by truck.

These authentic survey figures tell part of the story about who uses trucks—whether they be for-hire or privately owned. The figures also reveal that any transport truck you see is on a business mission, put to work by someone needing service.
