MARSHALL F. KIZER RUMORED AS CHOICE FOR FEDERAL JUDGE

Most Marshall County citizens, regardless of political ties, are happy to hear rumors that State Senator Marshall F. Kizer, Plymouth lawyer and Democratic leader, has the "inside" track to an appointment as a Federal judge for the Northern District of Indiana by President Kennedy when either the first vacancy occurs or Indiana is allotted two more Federal judges as is anticipated.

Kizer, one of the original Hoosier backers of Kennedy, would be an excellent choice in the opinion of this newspaper.

Warren Conover's Wife Dies In Chicago Hospital

Sister Of Famous Johnson Brothers

Mrs. Lottie Mae Conover, age 69, wife of Warren M. Conover, and sister of the three famous Johnson brothers who built and flew the first successful American monoplane at Terre Haute in July, 1911, died Tuesday morning at Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for the past month.

Scale Model At Smithsonian

The brothers Louis and Julius, now of Florida, and Harry L. Johnson, a Culver area resident for 25 years, all beyond 75 years old, three years ago completed a scale model of the historic monoplane for permanent display in Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D.C.

The same three brothers, to whom Mrs. Conover was devoted, were the original designers and builders of the renowned Johnson Outboard Motors at Waukegan, Ill.

Lottie Mae Johnson was born on April 25, 1891 at Effingham, Ill., and moved with her parents to Terre Haute in 1898. In 1910 she was married at Terre Haute to Warren M. Conover and in 1918 they took up their residence in South Bend.

Lived On Tippecanoe River

The Conovers moved to Waukegan in 1927 and lived there until Nov. 1, 1935 when they bought their farm home on the beautiful Tippecanoe River south of Culver.

Mrs. Conover was a lifetime member of the Methodist Church, and was also a member of the W.S.C.S. of the Letters Ford Methodist Church, the Auburn-rubbee Township New Idea Club, and the Rochester Hospital Auxiliary.

Surviving besides her husband are: a daughter, Mrs. Helen Mae Morse, Chicago; a son, Warren Clay Conover, Waukegan, Ill.; four brothers, Louis J. Johnson, Coral Gables, Fla., Harry L. Johnson, Culver, Julius M. Johnson, Bradenton, Fla., and Clarence L. Johnson, Waukegan; three grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

The Citizen's Hard-Hitting Columnist Cheers Decline In Comic Book Sales

IF 30TH CENTURY archeologists unearth kinescope collections of current TV commercials a thousand years hence they're a cinch to reach this conclusion:

"The typical 20th century American was a doltish oaf with the mind of a maladjusted moron and the cultural tastes of a Dogpatch slob. He was a vain, ill-washed, undernourished cigarette fiend, chronically afflicted with bad sinuses, headaches, bellyaches, tired blood, and sundry similar ailments — not found in medical journals. It is a miracle the race survived..."

YOU AND I know (don't we?) that this appraisal will be as ridiculous as the images visualized by the five fabled blind men who felt an elephant.

But the error will be forgivable. After all, the same cock-eyed concept of "typical" Americans seems to be cherished by contemporary ad geniuses — and they're supposed to have 20-20 acuity, perfect depth perception, 354-degree peripheral vision, and an unobstructed view from the lofty white towers of Madison Avenue in New York City.

They MUST cherish this concept. Why else would they foist such gibberish upon us?

However, methinks it now behooves these high bucksters to peer down and back instead of out and away. A potent portent of doom has risen from the sewers and is stalking their vulnerable tails.

THIS OMINOUS omen lurks in the sad but just fate that befell another cynical coterie that lowered the taste and intelligence of Americans.

I mean the creators of nauseous comic books.

A scant five years ago, these trash peddlers were rolling in filthy lucre. (And never has that phrase been more aptly applied!) All orgy of sex, sadism, crime, and gore pushed comic book sales past a billion a year!

"Amoribus are moxoms who'll always scorn good books to buy our sewerage," the comics kings concluded snidely. "Let's get more repulsive. That's what morans want."

So they got more repulsive — and swiftly learned a lesson, the hard way. By nature, Americans are patient, tolerant, and easy-going. They will, for example, long endure the pesky buzzing of a filthy fly.

BUT WHEN MR. FLY passes the saturation point of annoyance. (Continued on Page 7)

In 1907 he was married in Lafayette to Miss Marie E. Nave who survives him. They came to Culver as a newly married couple. He was a member of the Culver Methodist Church.

Surviving with his wife are a son, Scott, of LaPorte; two grandchildren, Scott Jr. and Raymond Hopper, of LaPorte; and a great-grandchild, Kenneth Hopper, of LaPorte.

REMC Sponsors Essay Contest

Marshall County REMC is sponsoring an essay contest for high school juniors in its service area, with the winner to receive an expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C., next June.

Subject of the essay is to be "What Rural Electrification Means to My Community." Co-sponsoring the contest on a statewide basis is Indiana Rural News, monthly publication of Indiana Statewide Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.

A statewide winner will be chosen from among the writers of the best essays submitted to the participating REMCs over the state. The teacher of the high school junior who wins the state contest also will receive a Washington trip or a cash award.

The essay contest was first held last year as part of the observance of the Silver Anniversary of rural electrification. Twenty-eight high school juniors went on last year's week-long trip to Washington.

The young people this year will stop at the historic Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, battlefield before going on to Washington.

In Washington they will visit the Senate and House of Representatives, Department of Agriculture, Smithsonian Institution, Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, FBI, the White House and headquarters of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

A group of adult chaperones will accompany the winning essayists on their trip to the nation's capital.

ONE-THIRD of the bill for U. S. higher education is now being paid through gifts from citizens and corporations.

CMA Receives World University Service Award

Culver Military Academy is among 12 Midwest educational institutions in nine states to receive World University Service awards this year.

The award is made to the Academy for its frequent contributions to World University Service activities.

World University Service, with Central Region offices in Chicago, materially assists colleges and universities in other countries. An important phase of W.U.S. work is being done at present in Asia. In Hong Kong alone, five different refugee colleges are receiving aid. Sponsoring organizations of W.U.S. are B'Nai B'rith Hillel Foundations at American Universities, National Newman Club Federation, United States National Student Association, National Student Christian Federation, and National Student Councils of the YMCA and YWCA.

$2,500 Contributed

Culver is one of the few secondary schools in the Midwest contributing to World University Service. Academy contributions are derived from the annual Campus Chest, supported by the students. This year, nearly $2,500, the second largest total in history, was given by Culver cadets and distributed to W.U.S., the Salvation Army, the AACPS Orphanage in Korea, the Council for Religion in Independent Schools, the World Clothing Fund, and Save the Children Federation.

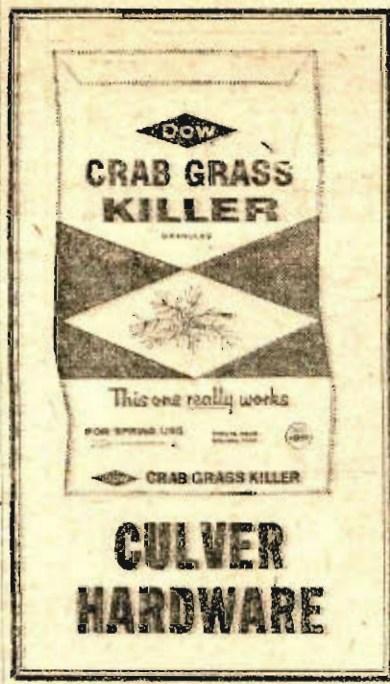

The Campus Chest is a project each year of the Cordon Society, the cadet religious organization.

Irving Stolberg, regional executive, praised the Academy for "consistent support and outstanding effort each year on behalf of World University Service."

Culver was one of four schools to receive early citations. The others were: Jamestown (N.D.) College, Glenbrook High School of Chicago, and Muskingham College, New Concord, Ohio.

"COME AND GET IT!"

This Is A "Job Killer" Bill

Will the proposed minimum wage increase (up to $1.25 an hour) hurt the ones it's supposed to help? Let's dig a bit as Congress considers this bill.

Sure, we favor everyone getting a fair shake on the job. But since when did raising the cost of labor INCREASE the number of job opportunities? We've always found the reverse to be true.

Recently, a determined man took this minimum wage bit in his teeth and appeared before the U. S. House special subcommittee on labor. Said George Hagedorn, research director of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"The wage proposal would have an especially severe impact on the employment opportunities of the very groups who presently have the most trouble finding jobs — the unskilled, the older workers, and the very young."

Hagedorn contended that the direct and immediate impact of these proposed measures would be on the cost of hiring those who are the lower fringe of the wage scale — the very people among whom unemployment rates have been highest.

Then Hagedorn added this kicker:

"If the standard of living could be raised by placing legal floors under wage rates, then the backward nations of the world could have as high a standard of living as this country does, since they are as free as we to take such action."

Let's get on with the real cures for rolling back the recession!

Beckett drove to a Cincinnati hospital to visit his wife and get his first look at the baby. Upon leaving the hospital he found he had left the key in the ignition of his automobile and that the doors had locked automatically. The hour was late and Beckett decided to break into the car. He picked up a brick and smashed a window just as a police patrol car came by. The officers called on Beckett to prove the car was his but he was too flustered to find the registration certificate. The car was towed in and Beckett was taken to a police station. A call to the Connersville state police post finally verified that the car was registered in his name. Beckett was then released but it was 4 a.m. before he got back to

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Frenchman Reviews Effect
Of U. S. Election On His Country

MY CHER PIERRE:

Well, it looks like the United States has a new President.

The Army has remained loyal, except for the wives who are ready to revolt if they're not allowed to go overseas with their husbands.

Ex-President Eisenhower will be allowed to stay in the country at Gettysburg and for the moment the Government will be run by a junta of Harvard professors who were in on the coup from the beginning.

Although the national referendum which was held on Nov. 8 gave more "ouis" to Kennedy than to Vice President Nixon, it was obvious that if the Kennedy family hadn't voted as a group, Nixon could have easily won.

For the moment the President plans no oppressive measures for the opposition. Vice President Nixon will be allowed to take up his law practice in California and may even be permitted to run for Governor if he wishes. Governor Rockefeller will still be allowed to govern New York. The Kennedy family's not one to hold grudges once they have overthrown the Government.

Proof Of Confidence

To give you some idea, Pierre, as to how confident he is, I can only tell you that for his inauguration President Kennedy wore a top hat. He made this decision against the advice of the State Department who felt in the light of this month's events in Cuba and Laos, it would be much more appropriate if the new President wore a steel helmet.

The new President is faced with many grave problems as he comes into office and some of them will affect France. For one thing Jacqueline Kennedy will no longer be able to buy her clothes in Paris as this will be considered unpatriotic in the United States by the American clothing manufacturers who get all their ideas from Paris in the first place. The ban will probably be placed on the other Kennedy wives as well and without the Kennedy business we may wind up with an unfavorable balance of trade again. It seems a shame — just as we were getting on our feet.

The Bright Cloud

The only bright cloud is that England won't be any better off because President Kennedy can't buy his suits there anymore. Perhaps the only way to take up the slack is for President de Gaulle to buy his suits in London and for Battling Bessie Braddock to have her clothes made in Paris.

But outside of that I don't think the new Administration will be unfriendly towards Europe. Mrs. Kennedy speaks French, Frank Sinatra speaks Italian, and Peter Lawford speaks English, so the tie between these countries should be very strong.

I can't tell you anymore for the moment because I have an appointment with the dentist. I'm having my teeth filled with gold, in case I have to leave the country in a hurry.

Your Cher Ami,

FRANCOIS

Assails Russian Propaganda

Plymouth, Ind.

Editor, CITIZEN:

I was somewhat concerned recently to find headlines and front page articles in many of this country's leading newspapers carried the full treatment of Russian propaganda. The Communists claimed that day that they had previously placed their flag on the moon and "have now sent another rocket to Venus bearing a Russian flag in its nose."

In the first place, this is little short of ridiculous. They know it would be impossible for anyone to prove they had NOT placed any object they chose to say on a planet more than 55 million miles from the earth. Personally, I do not believe Russia is ahead of us in rockets or much of anything else. For example, we have more telephones in one state than they have in ALL of Russia, and their method of farming is comparable with ours of a century ago.

What I AM concerned about is not how far behind us they actually are, but the fact that we give them front page space (often headlines) to spell out their propaganda to the letter and "brainwash" the American people into believing anything the Commu-

The Editor's Desk

[From the book, "Farm Ballads," by Will Carleton, published in 1873]

The Editor sat in his sanctum, his countenance furrowed with care, His chair-arm an elbow supporting, his right hand upholding his head,

His mind at the bottom of business, his feet at the top of a chair, His eyes on his dusty old table, with different documents spread: There were thirty long pages from Howler, with underlined capitals topped,

And a short disquisition from Growler, requesting his newspaper stopped;

There were lyrics from Gusher, the poet, concerning sweet flow'rets and zephyrs, And a stray gem from Plodder, the farmer, describing a couple of helpers;

There were billets from beautiful maidens, and bills from a grocer or two,

And his best leader hitched to a letter, which inquired if he wrote it, or who?

There were raptures of praises from writers of the weakly mellifluous school,

And one of his rival's last papers, informing him he was a fool; There were several long resolutions with names telling whom they were by,

Canonizing some harmless old brother who had done nothing worse than to die;

There were traps on that table to catch him, and serpents to sting and to smite him;

There were gift enterprises to sell him, and biters attempting to bite him;

There were long staring "ads" from the city, and money with never a one,

Which added, "Please give this insertion, and send in your bill when you're done,"

There were letters from organizations — their meetings, their wants, and their laws

Which said, "Can you print this announcement for the good our glorious cause?"

There were tickets inviting his presence to festivals, parties and shows,

Wrapped in notes with "Please give us a notice" demurely slipped in at the close;

In short, as his eye took the table, and ran o'er its ink-spattered trash,

There was nothing it did not encounter, excepting perhaps it was cash.

The Editor dreamily pondered on several ponderous things.

On different lines of action, and the pulling of different strings; Upon some equivocal doings, and some unequivocal duns;

On how few of his numerous patrons were quietly prompt-paying ones;

On friends who subscribed "just to help him," and wordy encouragement lent,

And had given him plenty of counsel, but never had paid him a cent; On vinegar, kind hearted people were feeding him every hour,

Who saw not the work they were doing, but wondered that "printers are sour;"

On several intelligent townsmen, whose kindness was so without stint That they kept an eye out on his business, and told him just what he should print;

On men who had rendered him favors, and never pushed forward their claims,

So long as the paper was crowded with "locals" containing their names;

On various other small matters, sufficient his temper to roll, And finely contrived to be making the blood of an editor boil.

ists want us to believe. Communist newspapers refuse to print anything in their papers which they consider American propaganda, and we spend millions of dollars trying to broadcast the truth behind the Iron Curtain while they jam the airways.

Advertising sales people of various newspapers often refer to "The Power of the Press," and I believe this to be true. I would like to see the newspapers of America use this power to encourage young Americans to good rather than spreading Communist propaganda. It would appear to me that with all that is happening in our own hemisphere we are not lacking headline material. Possibly a brief column on the back page could give mention to their propaganda, if such is necessary.

A Tremendous Basketball Star In Our Midst!

Schuldt Of CMA Sets New Record

Paul Schuldt, a senior from Tinley Park, Ill., has set a new basketball scoring record at Culver Military Academy.

From records maintained by veteran coach Russell D. Oliver, Schuldt's average of 24.2 points is the highest over the 21-year period Oliver has guided Eagle basketball fortunes.

The record helps substantiate Oliver's feeling that Schuldt is an excellent collegiate prospect in both basketball and baseball.

College Fame Assured

"I am confident Paul can play college sports, particularly basketball and baseball," says Russell. "He has much to learn, but from athletes I have observed on recent trips to college campuses, I feel he is good enough to make the lineups of some teams right now."

In addition to his prowess as a basketball player, the six-foot-three-inch, Schuldt quarterbacked the Culver football team. He uses his 185-pound frame to good advantage as a pitcher with the Eagle baseball team.

While Schuldt made creditable performances in both football and baseball, Oliver feels his greatest potential is in basketball. Culver won 9 games and lost 6 — 3 of them by a single basket and Schuldt turned in 361 points during these 15 games.

He was the center of the Academy attack, working through the lane and from the outside where his long one-hand set shots proved deadly. Oliver feels he did a creditable job in rebounding and on defense.

Constantly Improved

The 24.2 average shows Schuldt's tremendous improvement over last year when he was used mainly as 6th man on the varsity. Schuldt came on well at the end of the schedule, broke into the starting lineup, and has been improving ever since.

Along with Schuldt's fine athletic ability, he ranks in the upper third of the senior class of more than 200.

Mice and Space Spark Attention Of Grade Pupils

By Jean Warner

Most of the Schoolbell is written about the high school students, but we do not want to forget the grade school. I'd like to tell you some of the things that they have been doing.

"Out of the mouths of babes" Thomas Hodgkins told Mrs. Moore that he had to help tie the "upstairs knots": he meant that he had to tie the strings on the caps of his friends. They'll soon learn to tie, Tom. (He is in Mrs. Melton's kindergarten.)

We can't learn anything until we can read. Several children in Miss Cripe's first grade have demonstrated this skill to their classmates; Jill Wallstead read "The Big Jump," and Matthew DeTroy read "Danny, The Dinosaur." The rest of the class has been writing stories and drawing pictures about the farm, the wind, and the snow.

We have other creatures in the grade school besides children. Melvin Walter brought five baby mice to show Mrs. Keyser, his teacher, and the rest of the class. This room has set up a pretend grocery store; they have fun imitating "mommy" and they learn to count change.

We like birthdays, the children in Mrs. Allen's second grade are thinking, whether they are our own or one of our classmates. The reason: Mike Powers had a birthday on March 6, Nancy Reicheley had one on March 8, and both of their mothers brought treats for us.

This is the Space Age and Mr. Weaver is trying to teach the children how to keep up with it. They have been studying the balance and shape of things. Several children were surprised to find that both balls drop at the same rate of speed even though one was large and the other one was very small.

I hope that all of the grade children passed with flying colors this last six weeks, but if you didn't there are two more chances yet this year.

I guess that's all the news from the "younger set." See you next week.

Students Oppose Teenage Marriage

By Linda Kose and Karen Kemple

The problems created by teenage marriages have arisen in many communities all over the country. Some of these marriages have worked; others have failed. This week the students at Culver were asked, "Do you believe in teenage marriages? Why (or why not)?"

The answers and reactions were varied. Some said emphatically "Yes!" Others, emphatically "No!" Some showed no emotion at all.

The results? More students do NOT believe in teenage marriages. Those that do, and those that said "It depends," number about the same.

The reasons given why they thought teenagers should not marry were: because of their age, lack of continued education, the difficulties in finding jobs that would support a family, and their inability or lack of experience to cope with the problems of marriage. These students felt that if it was true love, the couple could wait.

The ones who answered "yes" believed that some teenagers were adult enough to accept the responsibilities of marriage, and that they should be given the chance, if they were willing to settle down.

Others said it depended upon the couples, their maturity, and intelligence. Being in school or graduated was another factor considered.

Draw what conclusions you may, but it should be evident that most of the students realize the seriousness of marriage.

Col. Edward T. Payson of Culver Military Academy acted as instrumental judge. Vocal judges were Mrs. Claude N. Zetty of the Academy and "Miss Indiana", Tommye Lou Glaze.

Seniors Reserve Tickets For New York Plays

The seniors are showing much anxiety toward the approach of the trip. Reservations for stage plays were made last week. "Only 44 days until the senior trip."

The juniors played host to a Record Hop held in the gym March 10. Jack Myers from Logansport was their D.J. Plans are being made for the ham supper which will be held April 15.

Lenten Titles From Our Culver Public Library

The following gives a brief review of a number of books available at the Culver Public Library which have Lenten titles.

"Faces About The Christ" by Holmes Rolston gives character studies of the lonely, the loving, the outcast, the faithful and the proud. We meet 42 people in this book who knew Jesus. Some of them are not known by name and for some, the meeting was brief. Only a few facts are known, but these people are important for through them Christ speaks to all men. Their triumphs and defeats are repeated in our own life and on their faces we find reflected the face of Christ. The last chapter is a summing up, a picture of Christ as man and as the Son of God.

For Women's Groups

An interesting book for church programs and women's groups is "My Arabian Days And Nights" by Eleanor Jane Calverley. Mrs. Calverley was the first woman doctor in Kuwait, Arabia, where she went as a bride to begin her missionary work in 1912. The author tells in a simple and warm way of raising her two daughters in a strange and difficult country. There is a religious theme throughout this biography which has appeal for young people as well as adults.

"The Diary Of A Country Priest" by George Bernanos, translated from the French by Pamela Morris, is a novel told in diary form of a young French priest and his struggles to do his duty for his parish. The diary portrays the great efforts made by the priest in spite of poverty, sickness, and distrust of others. At times there is even a feeling of failure. From the first page to the last, a real story is in progress almost entirely of spiritual conflict. It is full of psychology and reveals simplicity and courage. Although some readers might disagree with parts of this book, it is a remarkable and interesting story.

"The Living Faith" is a collection of selected addresses and sermons by the late minister and author Lloyd C. Douglas. They have been chosen and arranged to give the highlights of Doctor Douglas' philosophy of life. The book is divided into three sections. The first "The Christian Adventure," describes his view of what the Church ought to be and do. In the second, "The Bible Speaks To Us," he gives modern applications of familiar bible stories that are usually set aside as religious museum pieces, to be admired but not touched. The title of the third section, "How A Christian Lives" is self explanatory. Doctor Douglas would have considered this the most important part of the book.

CHANUTE AFB, ILL. — Airman Third Class Donald R. Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wynn of Culver, was recently graduated from the Air Force Missile Mechanic Course at Chanute Technical Training Center, Rantoul, Ill.

Chanute Technical Training Center has become known as "the pioneer technical training base in the United States Air Force," and fast is becoming recognized as a major center for training missile technicians.

Airman Wynn, who entered the Air Force in Aug. 1960, received his basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., before transferring to Chanute for formal schooling and is currently performing duties at Beale AFB, Calif.

Before entering the Air Force, he was graduated from Culver High School.

Man is sustained under all circumstances through an understanding of God's omnipotence. This theme will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from Psalms (73:26): "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this passage will be read: "Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered. Correct material belief by spiritual understanding, and Spirit will form you anew" (425:23-26).

Scriptural selections will include this additional citation from Psalms (56:4): "In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust: I will not fear what flesh can do unto me."

Great Population Changes Affect Our Economy

City and Farm Incomes Compared

The great population movements of recent years and their economic impact have had a significant influence on the distribution of family income in the United States and changes in purchasing power in the three broad residential classifications into which the country is divided — urban, rural nonfarm, and farm — the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

The most striking of these changes in the data gathered by the U.S. Bureau of the Census, the Institute stated, is the shift that has occurred as between the cities and their urban ring and the more outlying areas long classified as rural nonfarm and more familiarly known as exurbia.

"Reflecting a record influx of relatively more prosperous families since the mid-Fifties and the effect of their purchasing power on business and employment opportunities in these areas," the Institute said, "total rural nonfarm family income increased by an aggregate of around $29 1/2 billions between 1955 and 1959, or by over three-fifths.

Urban Family Income Rises

"By comparison, urban family income also increased by about $29 1/2 billions in the aggregate, or approximately one-fifth, between those years. Between 1955 and 1959, by contrast, total urban family income showed a growth more than double that of the rural nonfarm group, $42 billions as against $19 billions. The figures are for money income only, before taxes.

"The comparative performance is all the more notable since the urban areas in 1955 had nearly three times the number of families and more than three times the aggregate family income of the rural nonfarm families. Between 1955 and 1959, however, the number of rural nonfarm families increased by 2 3/4 million as against a rise of 1 1/2 million in the previous five years, while the number of urban families remained virtually stationary.

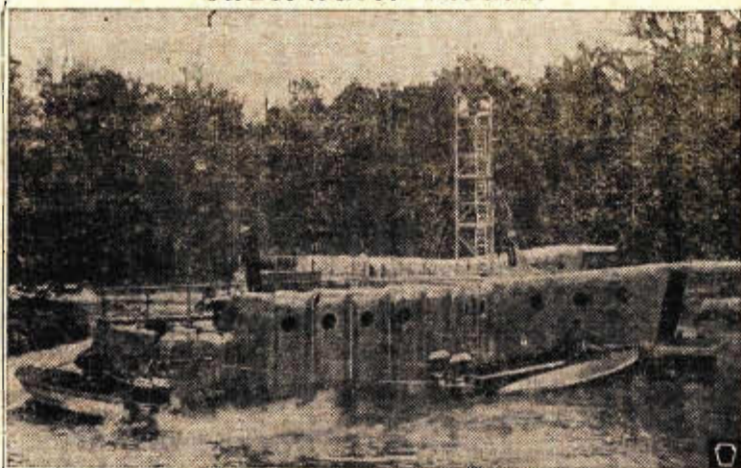

"As a result of the income changes, total rural nonfarm family income added up to $77 1/2 billions in 1959 and represented over 28 cents of the nation's family income dollar. This represented a marked rise from 1955, when rural nonfarm family income came to $48 billions and was the equivalent of 22 1/2 cents of the nation's family income dollar. The comparable figures for 1950 were $29 1/2 billions and just over 19 cents.

"The urban areas show a reverse trend despite continued income improvement. The $180 billions of urban family income in 1959 was the equivalent of just over 65 cents of the nation's family income dollar as compared with 70 1/2 cents in 1955 when total family income in the urban classification came to $150 3/4 billions. For 1950 the comparable figures were $109 billions and about 71 1/2 cents.

"Income of families living in rural areas, which had gained very little between 1950 and 1955, scored an appreciable rise in the ensuing four years, increasing by over $3 billions to a total of $18 billions between 1955 and 1959. This is money income only. Like the urban areas, farm family income has lost ground as a proportion of the nation's family income dollar. The 1959 figure was about 6 1/2 cents as compared with 7 cents in 1955 and over 9 cents in 1950.

"However, the Census Bureau

Outboards Move 450-Ton Underwater Theater

SILVER SPRINGS, FLA. — The world's first floating underwater theater is moved into place at the head of Silver Springs by seven boats, each powered by two 80-hp Mercury outboards. The theater, designed to give visitors a fish's-eye view of underwater life, is 135 feet long and weighs 450 tons — reportedly the heaviest load ever moved by outboard power. The seven boats towed the theater more than a mile up the Silver River from its construction site. Two boats were used to steer the long, arch-shaped theater up the narrow river while the other five, whose ten Mercurys had 800 horsepower, supplied the necessary towing force to move the 900,000-lb. theater against the current and the 25-mph winds. Since the theater draws eight feet of water, it actually enlarged the channel as it moved through shallow portions of the river. The delicate one-hour moving project was directed from a 30-foot tower erected atop the theater.

figures on the breakdown of farm families by income brackets show a noticeable improvement in recent years, with decided gains in the number and proportion of families in the brackets of $5,000 a year and up and a big decline in the lowest income group. The population factor is visible here, too. The number of farm families declined by nearly 600,000 in the 1955-59 period, almost double the decrease in the previous five years.

"Census Bureau studies in past years have shown some marked variations in the distribution of family income by size of community, with decided differentials in favor of the big urban areas as against residents of the smaller towns or rural nonfarm areas. The latest figures still show a carry-over of this pattern, with a smaller proportion of families at the bottom end of the income scale and a larger ratio in the top brackets in urban areas of 250,000 population and over. In other income groupings, however, past differentials have narrowed significantly, and this is particularly noticeable in the proportions of families throughout the nonfarm area with money income between $5,000 and $10,000 a year, which now comprises more than four out of every ten American families."

"For the nation as a whole, the persistent uptrend in family income during the Fifties has manifested itself in a decline of over 10 million families in the income range of under $5,000 a year, and an increase of nearly 16 million families in the combined $5,000 and over brackets. The greatest relative growth has been in the $10,000 and over income group where there were more than four times as many families in 1959 as there were in 1950.

Cuba and Castro Hold Key To A Bull Market

Spectacular Play By Kennedy?

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

KEY WEST, Florida — I am writing this in Florida — Cuba is only a "stone's throw" from Key West (100 miles).

Roger W. Babson

My first request is for every reader to get his child's geography and study Cuba.

It will be seen that Cuba is not just east of Florida; but is at the mouth of a body of water between Key West, U.S. and Yucatan, Mexico.

It may truly be said that whoever controls Cuba will control the Gulf of Mexico. This means that our city of New Orleans, the outlet for all shipping on the Mississippi River, our Texas ports of Galveston and Corpus Christi, as well as the leading Mexican ports, could be closed.

U. S. Anticipated Situation

All this was anticipated when we built our base at Guantanamo Bay on the extreme southeast end of Cuba, about 50 miles east of Santiago de Cuba. This is Cuba's great shipping port for sugar.

At one time this site was wanted to protect our Panama Canal, but the latter has been written off since the Atomic Era.

What country controls Cuba controls the gateway to the heart of the U.S. Therefore, you can be sure it will not be Russia or any other enemy.

Russia 6,000 Miles Away

By airplane Cuba is about 6,000 miles from Moscow. Yet Alaska is only about 2,000 miles from Vladivostok, Siberia, the eastern terminus of the Siberian Railway.

So why should we fear even if Russia is friendly with Cuba? We already are closer to Siberia at Alaska and we don't worry.

I personally do not directly know much about Cuba, but I once taught in and owned a college in Guatemala. I know that the Spanish people get easily excited. They love to threaten and fight by propaganda. This is what Castro is now doing. We should not take it too seriously.

I feel that President Eisenhower got frightened too easily and made a great mistake by breaking off diplomatic relations as he did.

Cuba's Marvelous Soil

Cuba is a wonderfully rich country. It possesses marvelous soil. It enjoys plenty of rain in the right seasons. It is flooded with sunshine.

Neither Florida nor the Gulf Coast have anything to fear from Cuba. After it settles down it will be a great asset to these sections. Cuba could well develop another boom in Florida.

I am sure that President Kennedy will work out a satisfactory solution, as he knows Cuba from his winters at Palm Beach.

For several reasons Russia would not go to war against us to get Cuba, and Castro knows it. There are several reasons but the chief one is that such a war by Russia or by one of her satellites would alienate all of Latin America against her.

Do not forget that Lyndon B. Johnson, our Vice President, knows that Cuba holds the ocean gateway to Texas. It is silly to think of Russia taking over Cuba with our Guantanamo Bay forces being among the strongest in the world.

Kennedy's Presidential Goals

President Kennedy wants most to make a good President. Second he wants to develop some kind of an understanding with Russia so as to honestly say: "I kept you out of war."

Third he wants to have a good stock market and to have the Dow-Jones Averages in 1962 higher than they are today.

His friends may let prices fall off during 1961 as a part of the "readjustment." He is willing to "let the recession come and get over with" so he can have a good market in 1962.

Ex-President Eisenhower had little interest in our stock market; but the Kennedy family is stock-market minded. It always was and surely will be during the next two years.

It is very possible that Cuba could be used to develop another bull market. Castro may be bought off — or shot off.

Kennedy could make a spectacular play by restoring diplomatic relations, which I think he will do.

Like A Game Of Poker

Just now Cuba is playing Russia against the U. S. It is a great game of poker and I am ready to bet on President Kennedy.

Hence, I am now bullish on Cuba and perhaps on the entire United States.

Blood Program Is Highly Successful

James McAllister, chairman of the local blood bank program, has announced that 94 pints of blood were received when the Bloodmobile from Fort Wayne was at the Community Building last Thursday. A total of 124 persons volunteered to give blood making the program highly successful.

Mr. McAllister and members of his committee, Mrs. Helenglen Holifield and Mrs. Allin Westcott, wish to extend their appreciation to the various organizations, local doctors and nurses, blood donors, and all who helped in any way to make the program such a success.

March 31 Deadline For Wool Sales

Wool and lamb producers must complete all details of marketing not later than March 31 in order for the sale to qualify for payment under the 1960 wool program. Carl Price, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, pointed out today. Later marketings of wool and lambs would be eligible for payments under the 1961 program.

The chairman explained that, under program regulations, wool which is "marketed" means that title has passed to the buyer, the wool has been delivered to the buyer either physically or through documents which transfer control to the buyer, and the last of the factors needed to determine the total purchase price payable by the buyer (price per pound, weight, yield, etc.) is available.

Thus, wool will not be considered as "marketed" and so eligible for 1960 program payments unless all details of the sales are settled and all the information needed on the sales documents — including net sales proceeds — is completed by March 31.

Payments under the 1960 program will be made this summer when the payment rates can be determined, based on the average prices received by producers for shorn wool during the 1960 marketing year. The average wool program year runs from April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961.

Producers have 30 days after the close of the marketing year — that is until April 30, 1961 under the 1960 wool program — in which to file applications for wool and lamb payments with the County ASC Office.

Lake Central's Airline Service Greatly Extended

[This is the Hoosier airline whose accommodations are frequently advertised in The Citizen's classified section without mention of the firm's name.]

Lake Central Airlines of Indianapolis began scheduled airline service to seven additional cities Jan. 1, extending its routes into the state of West Virginia, adding a route between Erie and Pittsburgh, and inaugurating service to Evansville, Ind., on a route from Cincinnati to Terre Haute.

Lake Central has recently been certificated to extend its routes into eight states and the District of Columbia. The route system extends from Chicago and Evansville on the west to Buffalo, N. Y., and Charleston, W. Va., on the east.

Beginning March 1, the service was extended to Washington, D. C. and Baltimore, Md.

Founded By Aviation Pioneer
The Indianapolis service carrier began operations in 1949 under the name Turner Airlines. Co-owners and founders of the feeder carrier were Col. Roscoe Turner, the famous aviation pioneer, and Paul and John Weesner, members of a family of successful aviation men from Nebraska.

Lake Central began its operation with two DC-3s operating over 200 route miles. The flights operated between the cities of Indianapolis, Kokomo, South Bend, Ind., and Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, Mich.

After operating for little more than a year, the name of the airline was changed to Lake Central by a vote of the stockholders.

An Employee Owned Airline

In January of 1955, Lake Central became the only employee-owned airline in the country, when a group of 162 officers and employees purchased 97 per cent of the common stock.

These same officers and employees saw Lake Central's route structure expand to include 33 cities through 29 airports by 1959. The year 1961 will see the greatest route expansion in any four-month period.

On or before April 1, Lake Central will be serving a total of 50 cities in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, New York, as well as the District of Columbia. The scheduled service which began Jan. 1 was the beginning of the 1961 route ex-

DC-3 — Safest Aircraft
Presently Lake Central serves all of its routes with DC-3s, considered to be the safest aircraft scheduled service. During 19 the local carrier will nearly double its DC-3 fleet and on March introduced another proven aircraft to its passengers. This plane is the Convair 340, which operates on routes between Cincinnati and Detroit and routes from Baltimore and Washington to Midwest. The Convairs are fully air-conditioned, pressurized, and equipped with radar.

HOOSIER WELCOME — At Van-Lines, which recently moved its world headquarters to Evansville, received a hearty welcome from that city's business and leaders on the occasion of the formal opening of the firm's new headquarters building. Atlas president, O. H. ## ACADEMY SPORTS

With the indoor track season underway, Culver Military Academy's cindermen are building up for a big meet here on Tuesday, March 21, when four area schools will join the Eagles in what Coach Norman Miner calls his "track spectacular."

The March 21 meet will close the indoor season when teams from Bremen, Chesterton, South Bend Washington-Clay, Peru, and Logansport join the Academy in the 4:15 p.m. competition. The Academy will furnish ribbons for this meet.

The indoor season got underway last week when Fort Wayne North Side defeated the Academy 56½ to 43½. The outdoor season begins April 8. The Academy faced Hobart earlier this week in preparation for a 7 p.m. meet here tomorrow against Fort Wayne South Side.

Against Fort Wayne North Side, the Academy got off to a slow start but closed the gap near the end of the meet. Coach Miner was pleased with his team's first competition of the season, particularly a time of 2:06.6 turned in by Edward Hayward in winning the 880-yard run. Culver also won firsts in the broad jump, high jump, and two-lap relay. The Academy reserves lost, 74-12.

In other Academy sports, the Culver fencing team split a three-way meet against Indiana University and Indiana Tech Saturday at Fort Wayne. The Academy fencers lost to I.U., 19-8, but won over Indiana Tech., 15-12. Dick Chase won five of six bouts for the Academy while Larry Gonia was successful in four of six bouts in saber class.

A FISHING TIP

[From Sports Afield Magazine]
Many anglers enjoy ice fishing, but few are thrilled by chopping holes in ice. Here's a way to save your energy for the fish. Make a cone out of galvanized metal or copper. After the hole has been opened in the ice and you're through fishing for the day, place the cone in the hole and fill with paper or oily rags. The next time out set the rags on fire. Presto — a nice round hole with no chopping.

If you're a fisherman who believes they bite better after dark, this tip is for you. Wrap some fluorescent tape around the tip of your rod. Any kind of dim light will make it glow. You'll be amazed how it will improve your nocturnal casting.

THE RED'S STRATEGY MANILA, THE PHILIPPINES:

Communism has a world blueprint for conquest, and it also has a specific blueprint for taking over the world one nation at a time.

The world-wide blueprint calls for the take-over of first Eastern Europe (which has been done), then the masses of Asia (which are tumbling swiftly into the Red embrace), and finally the encirclement of the United States through establishment of strongholds in Latin America (and this objective is a long way toward achievement).

In each of the three target areas, as well as on the continent of Africa and elsewhere throughout the world, the Communists are training their Fifth Columns more intensively and with greater skill than any predatory force known to history.

In the Philippines, I have been in touch with the highest and Communist authorities. And through contacts whose identity I am not permitted to reveal, I have obtained a secret document of the international Communists. It sets forth strategy for Communist agents and Party members calling for the fomenting nationalist movements, the gradual seizure of power in the nationalist movements, and finally the take-over.

For Party Workers

Here is a verbatim excerpt from the secret training document:

"The plight of the masses will be opportune in the struggle for leadership of the nationalists on the one hand and those against nationalism on the other. In this situation the duties of all Party members are:

"(1) Set aside all selfish and personal thoughts in order to be a good leader of the masses (this is the dedication demanded of all Communists.)

"(2) Mix with the masses (or organize cadres among the mass) and lead in their activities.

"(3) Assign many members on nationalistic activities.

"(4) Cooperate with nationalist reformers, but not as more members; instead lead them to a revolutionary goal.

Freedom For Revolutionaries

"(5) Create means for the mass so that the administration will give freedom to all nationalists — to include Party members — in consonance with the Constitution. ((When the administration does this, it opens the door for Communist take-over)).

"(6) Organize armed groups in the community, and increase the present armed elements. Do not forget that we need the support of the mass in the armed groups whether they are in or out. (Look at Cuba and Laos and we see this pattern being precisely carried out). The reliance on the armed force can help defeat the imperialist tools and antinationalism just in case in the future they will attempt to overthrow the administration through use of force. (This statement could have been taken right out of Castro's lectures to the Cubans).

"(7) Collect Party documents and distribute to people who can handle them. Intensify propaganda on nationalism among the proletariat. Spread socialism among the workers and the farmers. Study well socialist origins and nationalism as a guide in teaching the masses.

Guard Against Opposition

"(8) Be on the lookout for enemy infiltration (any opponents of Communism). That kind of consciousness should not limit the activities of our comrades, but should be the basis for not trusting others on Party matters.

"(9) Act, even without supervision. Employ careful investigation of the situation, sincere service to the working class, and proper action, in order to succeed in any undertaking.

"(10) Avoid frequent meetings to minimize risks to the movement."

The whole 90-page, 25,000 word document is filled with unchallengeable evidence that it is the work of Moscow Russian Communists, and bears powerful testimony to the fact that there is only one enemy of freedom — world Communism — and its headquarters is in the Kremlin in Moscow. The idea that Red China and Red Russia might separate and make war on each other is terribly weakened when one studies the document.

SINCE 1940 the number of working women over 35 has more than doubled, now exceeds 13 million.
