"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

This Is Columnist Spiers' Easter Sermon

HALO AGLOW and self-righteousness bursting out all over, the man tried to infect me with his brand of evangelical zeal.

"You have a fairly large audience in your newspaper column," he proposed. "Why not preach to the prejudiced some day?"

His was an honest zeal — no angles to pitch or axes to grind. So I was gentle. "Which of the prejudiced?" I asked mildly.

"Aw, you know — those antebellum Dixie dodos who still live in Uncle Tom's day."

"Race prejudice?"

"YEAH — AND RELIGION, too. President Kennedy is an example. Bigots tried to make his Catholicism a factor in the 1960 Presidential race. I'm Protestant — but I think that's wrong."

"So do I. Any other sick prejudices you'd like cured?"

"Haven't I suggested enough?"

"YES, INDEED — BUT you've consulted the wrong doctor. My adult audience's prejudices are too old, chronic, and calloused to be eradicated by mere sermonizing. Besides, you're buck-passing a responsibility that belongs to you and begins right in your own home."

THAT DIDN'T set well with a gent who dreams himself a pillar of tolerance. His own home, indeed! Did I think he secretly belonged to the Ku Klux Klan and privately taught his children the doctrines of White Supremacy?

"Of course not! I replied. Then I made like sneaky Perry Mason to expose some raw-nerve points. "You have a fine family and lovely home. Restricted area, isn't it?"

"ABSOLUTELY NOT!" he sputtered. "Two of our best neighbors are Jews!"

"Any Negroes?"

"Well, no, but . . ."

"I know. They might skid property values. But forget that a moment. How do your children feel about Communists?"

"They despise 'em 100 per cent!"

"Do you like snakes?" I asked with seeming irrelevancy.

"UGH! I HATE THEM. Always have. The slimy things give me the creeps. But what's that got to do with tolerance?"

"As much as crab grass," I smiled. "Any in your lawn?"

"Way too much. Can't stop the pesky stuff."

"And you're a rock-ribbed Republican — and hope your children will be, too."

"Sure, but that's politics, not prejudice — which I faintly recall, was our original subject. Do you aim to tie all these things to tolerance — or have you floated away on Cloud 9?"

"If you'll listen, we shall see." He listened, and I sermonized to (Continued on Page 11)

500 Fans Salute Coach Benbrook

By EARL D. MISHLER

The annual Culver High School basketball banquet was held last Wednesday night, once again being sponsored by the Culver Lions Club.

The banquet was staged in honor of the Culver Indians and their head coach, Tom Benbrook.

Receives Underwood Trophy

High point of the evening was reached with former C.H.S. coach Paul Underwood presenting the Underwood Award to Gary Dillon in recognition of the 5 foot 10 senior guard being voted "The Most Valuable Player" of the 1960-61 season.

The annual free throw shooting award, given by the class of 1914, was also won by Dillon.

Gary, a regular for the past two seasons, compiled 322 points in the 21 varsity games for a 15.3 point per game average despite missing large portions of two games because of a severe foot injury in December.

Three Other Seniors Saluted

Seniors also saluted by the more than 200 fans in attendance were Lance Overmyer, Larry Davis, and John Cromley.

I. U. Coach Is Speaker

Bob Dro, assistant athletic director at Indiana University and former outstanding basketball star at I.U., was the featured speaker and gave a nice talk.

Another highlight of the program was the presentation to Coach Benbrook of a testimonial expressing the fans' appreciation for his hard work and other qualities. The testimonial was signed by more than 500 Culver citizens.

JERRY GROVER INJURED IN MONDAY AUTO ACCIDENT

Jerry Grover, 20, of Route 2, Culver, suffered a possible back injury when his car overturned on State Road 17, about one mile north of Burr Oak, at 1 a.m. Monday, March 27.

Grover told Deputy Sheriff Deane Baker, who investigated with Sheriff Jerry Greenlee, that he lost control of his car when he tried to dodge some horses that were on the highway.

Authorities said eight horses had broken through a fence on the Michael Ross farm three miles west of Burr Oak on Upas Road where they were being kept.

The car was a total loss according to Baker. None of the horses were injured.

Governor Welsh Greets State's Easter Seal Child

Pictured above is Miss Brenda Conner, State Easter Seal Child, as she personally delivered Governor Matthew E. Welsh with the first sheet of 1961 Easter Seals. This year marks the 40th Anniversary of the Easter Seal program which last year alone provided direct services to 236,401 persons throughout the U.S. In Indiana there were services provided to 5,810 persons through your support of Easter Seals.

Businesses To Close During Good Friday Service

The Culver Chamber of Commerce will again cooperate with the Council of Churches by asking all business places to close during the annual Good Friday luncheon and joint services which will be held at the Grace United Church.

Stores and offices will be closed from 12 noon until 2 p.m. The luncheon will be served by the Women's Guild of the church at 11:30 to both men and women of the community, and the service will start at 12:45.

Rev. Kendall E. Sands, pastor of the Culver Methodist Church, will be the speaker for the service and his sermon topic will be "They Cast Lots For His Robe." Miss Betty Kose, soloist, will be accompanied by Miss Margaret Swanson, organist.

Marshall County Representative To Speak Monday

DR. OTIS R. BOWEN
Be Sure To Hear Him
At Chamber of Commerce

Dr. Otis R. Bowen, Bremen physician and Marshall County's Representative in the State Legislature, will address the Culver Chamber of Commerce next Monday noon.

Dr. Bowen, who played a prominent role in the recently concluded session as chairman of the House Public Health Committee, will outline the most important accomplishments of the Legislature, as well as its failures.

He will answer questions from the members on specific new legislation.

Andrew Venum, Chamber president, told The Citizen that non-members desiring to hear Dr. Bowen should contact Secretary Peter D. Trone for reservations for the luncheon, to be held as usual at The Culver Inn at 12 noon. Everybody is invited.

HENRY SCHUMACHER TO UNDERGO EYE SURGERY

Henry Schumacher, who has been a resident of the Culver community for the past 30 years, was admitted to the Marshall County Home at Plymouth last Saturday, March 25. In the near future surgery will be performed on Mr. Schumacher to remove cataracts from his eyes. It is hoped that friends of Mr. Schumacher will write to him at his new address.

Culver Mail Will Be Picked Up Sundays, Holidays

Must Deposit It Before 4 P.M.

Here's some wonderful news from Postmaster E. Wayne Mattox for local postal patrons — a U. S. Post Office Department order which removes Culver from the Podunk class after all these years.

Deposited mail, effective at once, will be dispatched from Culver on Sundays and holidays if it is deposited at the post office before 4 p.m.

Until now mail deposited at the post office after the lobby window closed at 5 p.m. on Saturday was not picked up and sent on its way until early the following Monday morning.

No More "Lost Weekends"

In other words, Culver individuals and business houses previously experienced a "Lost Weekend" with important mail unless they made the long 28-mile round trip to the Plymouth post office where Sunday and holiday mail is dispatched on regular schedule.

Osteopaths Will Be Admitted To County Hospital

New State Law Removes Barrier

Last Wednesday afternoon, after The Citizen was off the press, Dr. Otis R. Bowen of Bremen, Marshall County's outstanding Representative in the State Legislature, spent nearly an hour in this newspaper's office and gave our staff a remarkable review of what transpired at the recent 61-day session of the General Assembly in Indianapolis.

As stated in an adjoining column, the public is invited to hear Dr. Bowen give a full report on the General Assembly at the Monday noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at The Culver Inn.

Highly Controversial Subject

This week The Citizen will confine its interview with Dr. Bowen to a subject in which there has been tremendous interest among Culver people relative to permitting Marshall County osteopaths to practice in Parkview Hospital at Plymouth, the county seat.

Dr. Bowen, who holds an M.D. degree and boasts an extensive practice, sided in the Legislature with the osteopaths in their petition to be permitted to practice their profession in a tax-supported hospital.

Although severely criticized by at least two Marshall County physicians and surgeons, holding M.D. degrees, Dr. Bowen stated that the State law — even the 1903 Act — was clear in the matter and that he had to be the Representative of all the people rather than yield to his own personal and professional thoughts in the controversy.

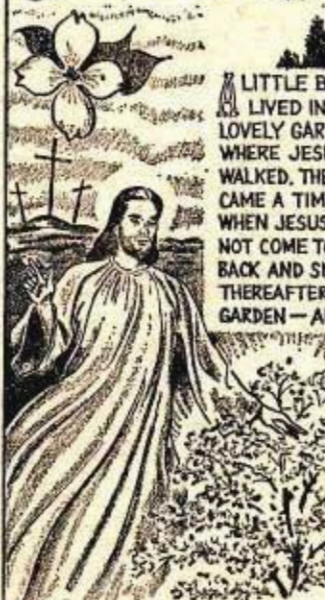

We salute Dr. Bowen for this difficult decision just as we did when his good sportmanship prevailed two years ago when he lost his seat in the Legislature by only four votes and did not demand a recount.

Flooded With Telegrams

Representative Bowen showed The Citizen over 50 telegrams from prominent Culver people urging him to support the bill favoring the osteopaths. He did not receive a single communication from this community asking him to oppose the bill.

Legend of the Dogwood Tree

Legend says that the wood of the dogwood tree — once tall and stately — was used as the crucifixion cross. So ashamed was the tree, that Christ promised that it would never grow large enough for use as a cross again. Henceforth it would be slender and twisted; its blossoms forming a cross with nailprints at the edges, and a crown of thorns in the center.

PHIL LEGGE APPOINTED TO BOARD OF PARKVIEW HOSPITAL IN PLYMOUTH

Phil Legge was appointed to the Marshall County Parkview hospital board recently by the county commissioners.

Omer Bikel, president of the commissioners, said that the appointment was made at a special meeting.

Legge is active in civic affairs and is employed at Syter, Inc., in Plymouth. He is a past president of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

Legge replaces Russell Schurz of LaPaz who resigned recently.

Mrs. L. A. Crabb visited Sunday afternoon with her cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Curtis, of Argos.

Osteopaths Win Hospital Battle

ganized under either an act of 1903 or an act of 1917.

The 1903 act provides in Section 8, as follows:

"Patients of Physicians — Any reputable physician residing in any county in this state so establishing or requiring (acquiring) a hospital under this act may have his private patients cared for at such hospital, under the same conditions and upon the same terms that other pay patients are cared for at such hospital, and such physicians shall be permitted to attend and in the manner that to him seems best. Provided, however, that all physicians shall be subject to the rules and regulations of said hospital, and said rules and regulations shall be the same to all physicians by this act authorized to have their patients cared for at said hospital." (Acts of 1903, Chapter 86, B.L.A.S. S. 22-3208.)

Provision For County Hospital

The act of 1903 permitted the County Commissioners to provide for a county hospital.

The 1917 Statute

The General Assembly, in 1917, (Chapter 144, Acts 1917) passed a statute permitting the citizens of a county to petition for an election, and to determine by the election whether or not they desired to build a county hospital. This act contains a section which reads as follows:

"Discrimination Forbidden — In the management of such public hospital, no discrimination shall be made against practitioners of any school of medicine recognized by the laws of Indiana, and all such legal practitioners shall have equal privileges in treating patients in said hospital. The patients shall have the absolute right to employ, at his or her own expense, his or her own physicians, and, when acting for any patients in such hospital, the physician employed by such patient shall have exclusive charge of the care and treatment of such patient and nurses therein shall, as to such patient, be subject to the directions of such physician. Subject always to such general rules and regulations as shall be established by the Board of Trustees under the provisions of this act."

SENATE BILL 436

Passed in 1961 General Assembly

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

Section 1. Any hospital supported by funds provided by a county unit of government authorized to levy taxes shall provide the use of its facilities to all taxpayers under the care of the physician of their choice if such physician possesses a license to practice medicine without limitations issued by the Indiana State Board of Medical Registration and Examination; Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not deprive the governing board of such a hospital of the right to adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations concerning the use of such hospitals and its facilities by such physicians; Provided, further, That denial of the use of such hospital and its facilities to such a licensed physician who is a resident of the county shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this act.

State Representative Bowen's Statement To The Citizen

When asked specifically about the differences of the 1903, 1917, and 1961 laws and their possible effects on Marshall County, Dr. Bowen had this to say:

"The difference lies in the proof of competence. The 1903 and 1917 laws placed the burden of proof on the applying physician while the 1961 law places the burden of proof on the hospital board.

"The Parkview Hospital Board, regardless of their decision on this issue, deserve the praise and support of every citizen of the county. They are devoted citizens, unselfishly giving untold numbers of hours and days of work and worry doing a job that very few citizens have been enticed to accept, and receiving no pay and probably being subjected to much pressure and criticism.

"If the osteopathic physicians are accepted into Parkview Hospital as practicing physicians when the law has become effective sometime in the early summer, I urge their complete cooperation with the Hospital Board, the present hospital staff, and all the departments of the hospital.

"I urge their proper use of the hospital and its services, the laboratory, the X-ray department, and the surgical consultants.

"I urge that the hospital not be used as a relay station to the osteopathic hospital in South Bend.

"Likewise I urge the courteous cooperation of the present staff. This integration problem, not peculiar to Marshall County alone, can be handled pleasantly and efficiently. The high quality of professional people involved in the transition reassures me of this.

"It can benefit the hospital, the patients, the M.D.'s, the osteopaths, and the taxpayer."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons spent Sunday and Monday visiting Mrs. Simmons' brother and sister, Dennis Jones of Evanston, and Mrs. Vera McGruder of Chicago, Ill.

MISS LANA BERGER TO COMPETE IN STATE MUSIC CONTEST

A district music contest, held recently in the Eppley Theatre on the Academy campus and sponsored by Tri Kappa Sorority, featured three local girls and an Academy cadet.

Cadet Jules Heriter of Columbia City, Ind., placed first with his trumpet solo. Local contestants were Lana Berger, Shari Yocom, and Jean Warner. Miss Berger and Miss Yocom competed with piano selections and Miss Warner, offered a vocal number.

Judges were Carl Doherty, Mrs. Bryce Bigley, and Mrs. Claude Zetty.

Because of the inability of the winner to compete in the State Music Contest on Saturday, April 29, at Butler University, Miss Berger will compete for the $500 scholarship.

Mrs. Everett Bunzel and daughter, Mary Jo, of Golden, Colo., are visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Easterday and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson, all of Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goheen of Argos, and attended the Sunday reception honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of the Carl Hendersons.

Mrs. Jerome Zecheil, Sr., entertained at dinner Sunday in her home for Mrs. Donald Zecheil, her daughter, Margo, and son, James, of South Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Zecheil Jr. and family of Culver.

O.E.S. Installs
New Officers

The Emily Jane Culver Chapter No. 454, Order of the Eastern Star held their installation of officers Saturday, March 25, in the Masonic Hall.

The meeting opened with the retiring officers taking part. The pledge of allegiance was given to the American flag and to the Christian flag after which all sang the "Star Spangled Banner." The officers then retired and prepared for the installation while Mrs. Roger Thews sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Installing officers were Mrs. Donald Grothaus, installing matron; Floyd Annis, installing patron; Mrs. Jack Easterday, installing marshal; Mrs. Fred Banks, installing chaplain; Mrs. Jackson Dillon, installing organist; and Mrs. Roger Thews, installing soloist.

Mrs. James Cox was installed as worthy matron and "I Believe" was sung in her honor. She was then escorted East and her daughter, Joetta, presented her with a bouquet of roses.

James Cox was installed as worthy patron after which "Deep In My Heart" was sung for him. Mrs. Roy Price was installed as associate matron and "You'll Never Walk Alone" was sung in her honor.

Other officers installed were Roy Price, associate patron; Mrs. Chauncey Lennen, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Carter, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Parson, conductress; Mrs. Evelyn Maynard, associate conductress; Mrs. Fannie Biddle, Chaplain; Mrs. Paul Saft, marshal; Mrs. Cleo Ringle, organist; Mrs. Harold Hatten, Adah; Mrs. Ann Waite, Ruth; Mrs. C. W. Brooks, Esther; Mrs. Dale Helsler, Martha; Mrs. Harold Fitterling, Electa; Donald Parson, warder; and C. W. Brooks, sentinel.

Mrs. Cox welcomed all present and introduced her daughter and Mrs. Floyd Annis. Mrs. Chauncey Lennen presented Mrs. Cox with a gift from the chapter. Mrs. Fred Banks presented Mrs. Chauncey Lennen her past matron's pin and Mr. Lennen presented Sam Allen his past patron's pin.

James Cox, worthy patron, then gave a short talk pertaining to the worthy matron's theme, "Consider Always the Worth and Dignity of Every Individual."

Refreshments were then served in the club room by a committee composed of Mrs. Larry Lindvall, chairman; Mrs. William Snyder, Mrs. Carl Logan, Mrs. Jay Rich, and Mrs. Bill Allen.

Astronomy Lectures
At South Bend
I. U. Center

Robert L. Johnson, director of the Adler Planetarium in Chicago, will deliver a series of eight illustrated lectures on astronomy in South Bend during April and May.

Sponsored by the Indiana University South Bend-Mishawaka Center, the lectures are designed to give the layman information on the new developments in the field of astronomy.

The lectures are scheduled for Mondays at 7 p.m. April 10 through May 29 in Room 320 of Central High School.

Recent results obtained from artificial earth satellites and space probes will be incorporated in these lectures. Otherwise, the lectures will pass on fundamental concepts of the solar system and the universe of stars, planets and galaxies.

Series Begins April 10

The series schedule will be as follows: April 10 — the planets; April 17 — planetary motions; April 24 — lesser bodies of the Solar system; May 1 — the Sun; May 8 — the Stellar populations; May 15 — the Milky Way, Our Galaxy; May 22 — beyond the Milky Way; and May 29 — creation and evolution of the universe.

The James Shearers
Return From California

Mr. and Mrs. James Shearer returned Saturday, March 25, to their Culver home at 614 College Avenue after spending the past four months in Corona, Calif. Mrs. John Cline of Long Beach, Calif., sister of Mrs. Shearer, accompanied them east for a three-weeks vacation with relatives here and in Indianapolis.

News Items About Our Academy Neighbors

(Called from the March issue of the CMA Messenger)

Major Young is at the Alfran Nursing Home, Route 3, Warsaw, Ind. Since his eyesight has failed and he can no longer read, he is more eager than ever for visits from Culver people. When you are out driving these pleasant spring weekends, how about stopping in to see the Major? The Alfran is on the Lincoln Highway just east of Warsaw and practically next door to the Wagon Wheel.

Wallace Starr and wife, Violet, are going to Washington, D.C. during spring vacation to visit their daughter and family. Betty Bryant and son John will take spring vacation time to drive to Pittsburgh and surrounding territory to visit family and friends. Chip will spend his spring vacation in Culver the week before the Pittsburgh trip.

Mrs. Cecil Burkett entered Woodhawn Hospital in Rochester for surgery. . . . Charles Mann entered Holy Name Hospital in LaPorte to undergo eye surgery. . . . Fred Nichols, former Academy painter, visited the Service Department recently. He now lives at Knox.

Jim Little, immediate past master of the Henry H. Culver Masonic Lodge, was a recently elected secretary of the Lodge to fill the unexpired term of Jack Easterday. . . . Yeoman Bruce T. Schutte is expected home from the Navy the latter part of this month or early April to visit with parents Lee and Bill Schutte. Marybeth Schutte is the proud recipient of a Silver A.

We would like to express condolences to Charles Robbins, who spent a recent weekend in Virginia for the funeral of his grandfather. . . . Jerry Parker is a new employee in the Bake Shop.

Ray Stolz is at home recuperating from an operation performed recently in Logansport. . . . Harold Gelbaugh's wife is back home doing very well after recent surgery in South Bend.

Karen Heggard, daughter of the Kenneth Heggards, is making plans for her marriage to Bruce Oliver in June. . . . Daughter Greta, of the Art Hughes, is starring in the workshop production of "Medea" at MacMurray College. She is also writing and directing a modern version of "Lysistrata," a Greek play, for the sophomore class spring project.

Mildred and "Mac" McKinney are back on the circle after a month in Hawaii.

Juanita Dawson is home after surgery at Parkview Hospital recently. . . . Mrs. John Henderson is still "taking it easy" after a fall in South Bend that dislocated her shoulder and put her in the hospital overnight.

Mary Edger has John and son, Rodney Todd, watching it on the East Shore while she is visiting in Florida with her parents. . . .

Local Cub Scouts are being treated to model railroading by Colonel Ed Payson. With the help of cadets, he is giving each of the local dens a chance to observe and help operate the Academy's model railroad as part of the Cubs' monthly project on railroading. . . . Colonel Payson, incidentally, is one of two Academy officers to be promoted by the Indiana National Guard. He now wears the "birds" of a full colonel. Ray Walmoth has been elevated to the rank of captain.

Bermuda-bound during spring vacation are Al Bunner, Bob Hartman, and Ray Walmoth.

Merchants Accept $1½ Million In Bad Checks

New State Police Head Reports

Bad check writers are dipping into the pockets of Indiana merchants to the tune of $1,500,000 annually. The national fleeing figure is a fantastic $500 million a year!

But these losses actually represent the short end of the total cost, says Col. John J. Barton, superintendent of Indiana State Police. The taxpayer pays the big end.

Investigation, prosecution, and imprisonment costs in fraudulent check cases far exceed actual losses, Barton said. This slice of the cost-of-crime ledger usually goes unnoticed, he explained, but it points up the need for all citizens to take an active interest in crime prevention.

The extra costs in forgeries begin when police are asked to investigate after a check has failed to clear the bank.

Must Be Identified

First, the forger has to be identified, then traced. Days or weeks later he is apprehended and arraigned in court. Detectives, document examiners, and laboratory technicians assemble evidence for the prosecutor's court presentation. Then there's the trial. If convicted, he may spend from 2 to 14 years in prison at the taxpayers' expense.

The final cost is probably incalculable. The odds are, however, it will be many times more than the merchant loses by accepting a worthless piece of paper in exchange for goods.

Colonel Barton insists forgeries can be stopped. He is seconded by Lt. Edwin C. Schroeder, supervisor of the State Police questioned document section, who has been tracking down illegal check authors nearly 25 years.

I. O. U. Just As Good!

"There's no guarantee a check is valid until it clears the bank on which it was drawn," says Schroeder. "One might as well accept an I. O. U. from a complete stranger."

"The safest course is to know the endorser. Even then the merchant is sometimes victimized by the professional con man who establishes an artificial identity."

The old pro, says Lieutenant Schroeder, carefully picks his intended victims and then sets up a "cover." He establishes a residence in the neighborhood, or pretends to. He makes small purchases and becomes acquainted with store managements. He contrives a logical-sounding story. When the setup is complete, he passes his worthless scraps of paper and disappears.

That is one approach; there are probably dozens of others. Any number of bogus checks are passed without an elaborate build-up. It depends wholly on the alertness of the victim, or the lack of it.

4,000 Specimens On File

A fraudulent check file, maintained by the State Police in Indianapolis, has become one of the most effective weapons against forgers. Established by Lieutenant Schroeder in 1945, it now contains more than 4,000 specimens of the handwork of known and unknown check writers. Hoosier police departments — and others in the Middle West — use the file as a starting point in pursuing this particular variety of "fast buck" racketeer.

But a preventive program requires more than police action, warns Colonel Barton. Equally important is aggressive support by citizens. Public apathy works to the advantage of the criminal. Crime prevention is everybody's business.

Remember, for every dollar the bogus check writer takes from the merchant, he also removes a substantial amount from the pockets of you who pay taxes.

COPS AND ROBBERS — It was with some chagrin that two Gary police officers, Steve Zavitski and Bill Stazinski, called headquarters to report the theft of the police cruiser in which they had been patrolling. The officers said they went into a restaurant for coffee and left the car parked with the motor running. When they came out the car was gone. Other officers found it several blocks away. Pranksters apparently had taken it for a quick joy ride.

Lenten Titles From Our Culver Public Library

"Miracle in the Hills" by Mary T. Martin Sloop. The author, who had spent forty of her seventy-eight years in the mountains of North Carolina, was selected as Mother of the Year in 1951. Told in her own words, Mrs. Sloop relates a one woman revolution against ignorance and superstition. In a part of the country where the people had neither doctors or schools, her steadfast faith and affection for the mountain people made it possible to perform this miracle in the hills. Winning people over who were suspicious of both medicine and learning were obstacles enough without the added battle against their main industry — moonshining. Her story told in the rich, anecdotal vernacular of the Southern mountains will amuse and inspire the reader. This is not strictly a religious book but does reveal a modern miracle performed by a Christian woman who loved her fellow man.

A personal narrative of the experiences of a woman minister in rural Maine is "Seven Steeples" by Margaret Henriksen. Suddenly left a widow, Mrs. Henriksen found a career as a lady parson to seven country churches. This New England story is filled with Yankee humor, town meetings, blueberryings and smelt-fishing thru the ice. Delightfully illustrated by William Barss.

"To All Nations" by Dorothy Heiderstadt. This story of twelve men, living in five different centuries on five continents had one trait in common — the courage to face hostility, hardship, treason and even death, in order to give the Bible to the people in their own language. The author writes of these twelve translators who gave the Bible to the people in many lands. She describes the origin and growth of the Bible Societies of America and Great Britain, which today sponsors the distribution of Bibles in more than a thousand languages and dialects to nine-tenths of the world's population. Although directed toward young people, this book will award any reader with a deep appreciation of the Book of Books.

ACADEMY LIBRARY RECEIVES FINE $350 GIFT OF BOOKS

An anonymous donor has presented the Culver Military Academy with a set of "Great Books of the Western World" and the "Syntopicon."
The volumes, valued at $350, were presented anonymously through the publishers, Encyclopedia Britannica.

Easter Sunrise Service At The E.U.B. Church

The annual Sunrise Service on Easter morning will be held this year at the Immanuel Evangelical and United Brethren Church in Culver. This early Easter morning worship is planned and conducted by high school young people from the various churches in and around Culver with the support of the Culver-Union Township Council of Churches and begins at 6:30.

The service this year will feature a reverent and yet dramatic presentation of the moving Easter story. The title of the dramatic pageant is "The Hour Of Triumph" by Lorenz.

Breakfast will be served afterwards. The planning committee of youth and counselors wish to invite everyone to the service. Though the breakfast has been provided only for the young people, the service is specifically for all ages. This is a contribution to the religious observance of Easter in this community by the young people of Culver.

Those reading parts in the service will be Melissa Fisher, Barbara Hatten, Pat Wesson, Charles Snyder, Paul White, Larry Linhart, Gregg Yapp, Charles Reed, Gary Dillon, and James Carter. The choir will include Jean Warner, Mary Jane Guise, Nancy Ervin, Pat Luis, Mike Overmyer, Wade Logan, Tom Boswell, and Sam Medbourn.

Lana Berger will play the organ and Scott Geiselman will run the projector. Ushers are Frank Ikiri, John Cromley, and Paul Cromley.

Attendance at Sunday services was 79. The pastor, the Rev. W. Ray Kahn is conducting services each night this week, through Friday, at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

W.S.C.S. will meet at the church to clean all day Wednesday, April 5, rather than with Mrs. Overmyer as previously announced. Those attending are to bring sack lunch. A brief business meeting will be held during the noon hour.

The Young People will meet at the church at 6:15 a.m. next Sunday morning to attend Sunrise Services at the E.U.B. Church in Culver at 6:30.

An openhouse and celebration of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Lake, Route 4, Plymouth, will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 C.S.T. Sunday, April 9, at the Poplar Grove Church basement. Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lake are cordially invited to attend the reception in their honor. No presents, please.

The Frank Cowen families and George Cowen attended funeral services in Mishawaka on Thursday for Joe E. Cowen.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lake were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lessing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Quivey called on Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cromley on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Addison and Mrs. Ida O'Brien of South Bend were weekend guests of George Cowen. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cowen of Mishawaka and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowen were additional Sunday dinner guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Hartman entertained at a birthday party last Sunday for their daughter's, Katy, first birthday which occurred Friday, March 24. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Quivey, and Mrs. Joe Boetsma, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cowen of South Bend called at the Cowen homes Sunday afternoon.

EPISCOPALIANS TAKE STRONG STAND AGAINST EXECUTION

The Episcopal Church is urging its members in every state to work for abolition of the death penalty on grounds that it violates Christian teaching, "brutalizes" society, and fails to deter crime.

A 31-page compilation of theological and practical arguments against capital punishment was published March 19 by the church's national council for distribution to Episcopal dioceses throughout the country.

No Dogs Should Ever Be Allowed To Run Loose

Editor, CITIZEN:

I read with a great deal of concern
your article pertaining to the death of seven pet dogs in the Culver area. I know how sad and grieved the owners must be, especially the children in those families. I truly sympathize.

Some years ago I was president of the Indianapolis "Animal Welfare League." I learned then, after this city went through a prolonged epidemic of rabies, that the dog is "the forgotten animal."
But I must go on record as saying that no dog should ever be allowed to run loose without the owner's supervision — or else be fenced or tied in. This is a very hard task, I realize. But I feel strongly that this method is better than losing a beloved pet —
whether he be run over, injured, poisoned, or stolen. Death usually follows.

Dogs — especially large ones
— like to roam if not watched.
Thus they eat all kinds of garbage,
rodents, or poison.

I should like to live to see the day when pets are really kept on leash or in the care of the owners.
This means real care and sacrifice.
But animals cannot always judge for themselves. If one owns a pet one should be willing to sacrifice a bit of time and take care of it.

Indianapolis is still under a rabies quarantine (though it is not well obeyed nor enforced)
after 10 years or more. This is a disgrace to this city. I fear Utopia will never come to pass. But I say again — pets should be kept under control.

A real dog lover:

MRS. JOHN KITTLE

Doesn't Remember Voting For Stevenson Last Fall

Editor, CITIZEN:

The front cover of Newsweek magazine of March 27 has Adlai
E. Stevenson pictured thereon.

A huge 5-column headline in
The Chicago Tribune of March 22 screamed at the reader:
ADLA ASSAILS U. N. REDS.

Isn't this the same fellow who was snowed under when he twice ran for President on the Democratic ticket?

I resent these repudiated lame
ducks running the country by Kennedy appointment.

BILL HOLMAN MAKES
ANOTHER CULVER
REFERENCE IN CARTOON

Readers of Saturday's Chicago
Tribune noted a Culver diploma on the wall of a doctor's office in Bill Holman's popular "Nuts and Jolts" daily cartoon. Holman, who grew up in Crawfordsville and Napanea, before becoming one of America's most successful cartoonists, also draws "Snokey Stover" for the Sunday comic page of some 300 U. S. newspapers. We think he is one of the greatest of our day.

Business Students Enjoy Tour Of The Culver Press Plant

Editor, CITIZEN:

We would like to thank you for
our recent most interesting and educational tour of The Culver Press, Inc.

We particularly enjoyed seeing
The Cryer printed, the room for casting newspaper mats, and the manner in which the full color portrait of Governor Welsh was being printed for the front cover of the next issue of Indiana Business and Industry magazine.

Please thank Mrs. Harold Hatten
for taking us on the tour and express our appreciation to all of the other employees for explaining to us the different machines and presses they operate in your printing establishment.

McMahan Firm Establishes Brent Blacketor Fund

A Brent Blaketor Memorial Scholarship Fund for graduate study at Purdue University has been established by the McMahan
Construction Co. of Rochester.

The fund will be sponsored jointly by the company and its key personnel, according to the firm's officers, Otto McMahan, president, Edwin Boswell, vice-president, and Robert Berns, secretary.

A yearly grant will be made from the Blaketor Memorial Fund for graduate study in highway engineering, construction management, or related fields at Purdue's school of civil engineering.

K. B. Woods, dean of the civil engineering school, and other members of the university staff will have complete authority on the selection of those who are to receive scholarship aid.

Killed Near Culver

Blaketor, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kline Blaketor Jr.
of Rochester, was killed in an accident while at work on a road
construction project of new Highway
17 near Culver on July 12, 1959. At the time he was working for the McMahan Construction Co.

Blaketor was a 1958 graduate of Rochester High School where he excelled in athletics. During the summers he was employed by the McMahan firm. He had finished his freshman year at the University of Arizona, Tucson,
when he met his death.

The following statement was issued by the officers of the McMahan firm on the establishment of the memorial fund:

"Brent Blaketor was a fine
young man whose promising life was cut tragically short and whose memory should be kept alive. This memorial scholarship fund is a means of expressing our deep affection for Brent and also of paying tribute to his parents, who have lost an only child.

"We believe that life held much promise for success for Brent. By the establishment of this memorial scholarship fund, we are encouraged that his memory shall help others progress in a profession which was
of such interest to him."

HOT RODDER A motorist who pulled into Martinsville after trailing a somewhat beatup jalopy over the hills and around the curves of Ind. 37 reported to The Martinsville Democrat that there was a sign on the rear of the dilapidated car which read: "You think I'm slow — I'm ahead of you."

ADVERTISING PAYS — It was with some skepticism as to whether it would bring results that an ad taker for The New Castle Courier accepted this classified ad:
"For Sale — 2 pairs of white rats, 25c each; 4 for 75c." However,
the advertiser reported later
he could easily have sold at least four pair if he had had them.

John Edward Taylor, now stationed with the U.S. Navy at Memphis, Tenn., will arrive Saturday to spend a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, and sister, Mrs. Kenneth Ruby, and family.

Foresters Design "Newspaper" Tree

Cost factors in trees are shown in this comparison. Making enough pulpwood for a ton of newspaper from ordinary trees costs about 60 percent more than it would with ideal trees. Designers have a new-model tree "on the drawing board" up in Canada.

Fighting to retain a narrowing profit margin in the face of ever-climbing costs, newspaper producers are turning to the basic raw material — the tree — in their search for additional savings.

Present-day loggers must take trees as they find them. The future logger may work with an ideal tree that has been especially designed to produce more newspaper at lower cost. In precisely the same way, geneticists developed the Beltsville turkey, which has more white meat per bird and more meat in relation to carcass than conventional gobblers.

Better Trees Breed

Breeding of superior strains of trees is well along. Now there are being assembled the results of studies on the relative costs of hand-planting versus natural regeneration, fertilizers versus lower natural yield, and logging average stands versus cultivated ones. The shape of trees to come is emerging.

According to present thinking, the ideal tree for newspaper production will be uniform, about 70 feet high, about 12 inches in diameter at breast height, with minimum taper and very few branches. The wood itself will be dense enough to produce maximum fibre per cord without being too difficult to saw or grind.

The crux of the problem was outlined recently by C.R. Silversides, woodlands development engineer.

"It takes two and a half times as long to produce the same volume of pulpwood from trees five inches in diameter as from trees ten inches in diameter," he said.

Diameter Critical

He cited time studies to show that felling, limbing, and bucking (sawing into log length) a spruce tree of five-inch diameter required two minutes. The time for a 12-inch tree was 10 minutes. But the same data translated into costs of $10.50 per thousand board feet for five-inch wood and $6.50 for 12-inch trees.

After this processing, handling time is also increased when the logs are of very small or very large diameter.

Tree height is another factor which has considerable effect on the efficiency and cost of logging operations, Silversides said.

Trees of the same diameter may vary widely in height, branchiness or other characteristics. Working on a long tree trunk is less time-consuming than working on several shorter tree lengths. Length means savings.

A spruce 10 inches in diameter at breast height can be 30 feet high and contain 7.2 cubic feet of usable wood, or it can be 70 feet high with 17.5 cubic feet more advantageously packaged, so to speak.

Texas Headmaster Will Join CMA Staff Next Fall

Addison B. Craig, headmaster of Texas Military Institute, will join the staff of Culver Military Academy next September as a teacher-counselor, Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, superintendent, has announced.

Craig has been headmaster of the Texas school, located in San Antonio, since 1954. His resignation was announced Feb. 14.

Born in Plymouth, Mass., Craig prepared for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He received his bachelor's degree from Amherst College in 1931 and a teaching certificate from Bridgewater (Va.) State Teachers College the next year. In 1941 Craig received his master of education degree in administration from Boston University.

Principal At Shattuck School

Craig taught for some years in Massachusetts public schools at North Dighton, Kingston, Milton, West Boylston, and Mansfield. He was principal of senior high schools in West Boylston and Mansfield. In 1946 Craig joined the staff of Shattuck School, Farbault, Minn., as academic principal and acting headmaster.

He left Shattuck in 1954 to become headmaster of Texas Military Institute.

Included in his many summer positions was an eight-year period in which he was director of the Shattuck Summer School. During World War II he was executive and later commanding officer of the anti-aircraft training school at Great Lakes, Ill.

Mr. Craig is married and has three children.

The Art Of Writing Country Correspondence

[Thomas Morrow's "A Line Of Type Or Two" column in The Chicago Tribune]

Paul Brunsanahan, Rensselaer,
Ind., implement dealer, believes that fearless journalism should be rewarded wherever it is found.
And it is his belief that Harriet Mellon, Virgie, Ind., correspondent for the Jasper County News,
is as fearless as a three-legged
mouse at a convention of track-lent cats. He offers proof, as follows:

"VIRGIE"

"[Harriet Mellon, Correspondent]
"On Monday afternoon a friend came and invited Harriet Mellon to go along to Rensselaer. Then,
when it rained most of Tuesday,
they were both glad they had gone
on Monday.

"On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wiseman of Kersey came to visit their sister, Harriet Mellon, and from her house they went to visit another sister, Mrs. C. P. Norby.

"Harriet Mellon's nephew, John
Daniel Mellon of Sonago Park,
Cal., was married last Saturday in Van Nuys, Cal. His mother of Chicago went to the wedding and his brother, Don, who is a forester in Boise, Idaho, went and was best man for him. We were all invited but had no way of going.

"Friday evening, after Mary Pettit got home from work, she brought Harriet Mellon a big sample of their fresh homemade sauerkraut. And as luck would have it, Harriet had some spare-ribs.

"Not much news in Virgie this week as too many had had cold."
And the weather was not too good.

"Even tho Harriet Mellon was one with a cold, she did get down to see Mrs. Norby a couple of times.

"Mrs. Elizabeth Zellers found out Harriet Mellon had a bad cold, so she stopped in at her house to see how she was and found her so much better that she did not stay long as she thought Harriet would get along all right.

"Although Harriet was much better, she was not well, but when a friend asked her to go along to De Motte shopping, she went as we have no store in Virgie
and we must eat."

That really was a stroke of fortune, Mr. B. noted, when Harriet had those sparcis to go with Mary Pettit's kraut. He said that if she had happened to have watermelon or a riding horse, the thing just wouldn't have worked at all.

Mrs. William O'Connor returned home last Tuesday after spending the winter in Yuma, Ariz.,
with her son, Monroe Lawrence,
and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatten
spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs.
Claude Newman at the Methodist Memorial Home in Warren, Ind.

Joseph Anderlohr, Sr., left Monday for Marblehead, Mass., to spend Easter with his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Baillie, and his grandchildren. Joe Anderlohr Jr.
and Mrs. Anderlohr, Sr., are operating the Culver Greenhouse
while Mr. Anderlohr is recuperating from a stroke suffered in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Crabb of day noon of Mrs. L. A. Crabb.

Advertising Can Aid Unemployment Problem

Postage Increase Would Be Harmful

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — Each week some new proposition comes from The White House promising to reduce unemployment.

Roger W. Babson

These vary all the way from paying veterans' insurance money in advance of dates due to increasing the minimum wage.

To my mind none of them are of any real value.

The first suggestion would put more money into circulation immediately, but would reduce the amount available later.

As to increasing the minimum wage, this will cause merchants and others to reduce the number of their employees so that the higher wage will not cost them more in total.

This will result in increasing unemployment without increasing total purchasing power.

When discussing these two factors, it is much like asking which came first — the hen or egg?

Each is dependent on the other; but in most cases increased purchasing must come before increased employment, and I think President Kennedy believes this in his heart.

Hence, the soundest, cheapest, and quickest method of increasing purchasing is to increase advertising.

Advertising At Wrong Time
Advertising appropriations are now "upside down." Merchants advertise most when they have plenty of money, which usually means when business is good and there is full employment.

Which led to Commies. A healthy fear of an enemy analyzed and understood is one thing. But is it wise to teach our children to "despise 'em 100 per cent?" Blind hate simply spawns more puzzled fears.

And should we subtly thrust our political prejudices upon the young — or let them shape their own views in an atmosphere of tolerant neutrality?

THAT'S WHAT we try to do. We also try to keep our home free of even day, relatively harmless prejudices. Tiny prejudices have a way of begetting bigger prejudices . . . so none is too small to exterminate.

FLORSHEIM SHOES

...an Easter tradition!

Since the Nineties, well-dressed men have looked to Florsheim for style leadership. Today's Florsheim shoes are the finest ever made.

CULVER CLOTHIERS

Then, when business slows up and unemployment develops, these merchants reduce their advertising.

This is why I say that the present advertising policy is "cock-eyed." It may help the temporary profits of the merchant, but it is not for the nation's best interests. It is not economically sound. This especially applies to newspaper advertising, although it also may include radio, TV, and mail-order advertising.

Furthermore, Congress would surely be increasing unemployment by increasing postal rates.

Could Create A Panic
Think what would happen to employment if all advertising should suddenly be stopped?

Such an action would create a national panic with over half the people unemployed.

Certainly the Government would be as justified in subsidizing merchants selling certain products as in subsidizing farmers living in certain states. These merchants are doing as much for the nation as are the farmers. In fact, the farmers are dependent upon the merchants to sell their farm products.

No one of us goes to the farmer direct to buy wheat, corn, potatoes, tobacco, barley, or any product of the farm.

I would advise against permitting the Government to change advertising rates, but suggest allowing certain temporary payments to newspapers and broadcasters for increasing the advertising space or time devoted to promoting the sale of products which require much labor — the per cent of subsidy depending upon the amount of unemployment involved.

President Kennedy's Problem
President Kennedy cannot, or at least will not, go to Russia to seek disarmament while there is a large amount of unemployment in the United States.

To make any satisfactory deal with Russia to reduce the "cold war," the President needs to have full employment here at home.

Yes, we should actually have a shortage of workers in order that those workers when discharged by plants now making missiles, rockets, and other weapons will be able quickly to get jobs in peace industries.

Some of President Kennedy's suggestions will help the unemployment situation in a small way, but his ideas will not come near providing "full employment."

Only advertising — natural or subsidized — will accomplish this.

Subsidizing advertising to reduce unemployment is something which I would like personally to help with. Secretary of Defense McNamara should immediately operate a new division to study this problem which I am today urging in this Culver Citizen column.

A FISHING TIP

[From Sports Afield Magazine]
Live bait one of your problems? Place some punctured beer cans in shallow water. It won't be long before soft-shelled crayfish in the area are calling the cans home-sweet-home. Retrieve the cans and you've enough bait to see you through a day's fishing.

Oh, if you'd rather use worms here's a way to pick up 200 lively ones — but fast. Mash up the hulls of 20 black walnuts in three gallons of water. Splash the magic liquid over a two-foot-square area. Get ready! In 15 seconds here come the worms. Just pick 'em up.

Write Congressman Brademas!

How would you like to pay LOWER taxes — and create more Federal revenue? Sounds like double talk. But it isn't.

Right this minute there are two bills, sponsored by Congressmen Herlong of Florida and Baker of Tennessee, that will do just that.

Now hear us out:

The present income tax rates mount sickeningly from 20 to 91% for individuals. And 52% of corporate profits are appropriated. Net result: savings are drained away.

But if we — as individuals and businesses — could retain more of our earnings as the result of tax rate reform, then a far greater accumulation of capital would flow out.

The revenue cost of the Herlong-Baker legislation would be fully met by a relatively small gain over the rate of economic growth of recent years, since each percentage point gain in the growth rate brings in at least $1 billion in added Federal revenue.

At the same time we'd all enjoy lower taxes.

Suggestion: Write Congressman John Brademas, House Office Bldg., Washington, D. C., to back the Herlong-Baker bills the same night you make out your income tax.

"Hoosier At Large"

an audience of one . . . essentially like this:

NO ONE IS BORN with prejudices. A wee child's mind is as clean and pure as sterilized soil — and as eager to grow whatever is planted.

A tyke comes home from school's first day filled with wonder and curiosity. A classmate has black skin. Why?

The wise Mom sees and swiftly plucks the weed seed that has blown onto virgin mental soil. She says, "God colors all living things differently — but underneath they are the same. You have a gray cocker. Joey's is black. Same dogs, though! Roses are pink, red, yellow, white — but all smell sweetly. That's how it is with people . . ."

CURIOSITY SATISFIED, weed seed removed!

But consider what happens when a wrong Mom snaps, "He's a nigger. Stay away from him!" The seed sprouts and soon grows a puzzled, nagging fear.

"Puzzled fears are the worst kind," I told my friend. "You have one — snakes! Reason tells you beyond doubt that virtually all snakes in this area are small and harmless. They can't hurt you — yet you're afraid. You wouldn't be afraid if, as a kid, you'd handled snakes, made them pets — and dissolved an unreasonable fear with familiarity and knowledge."

He got that point . . . and it led to another.

"PUZZLED FEARS are also reproductive," I went on. "Surrender to one and you're a patsy for another. They're like the crab grass that got a foothold in your lawn — and spread out of con-

Cub Scouts Study Railroading Via Nickel Plate

Culver Pack 290 Is Active Group

Cub Scouts of Culver Pack 290 will culminate a month's study of railroading by riding the Nickel Plate train from Hibbard to Knox. The Cub Scouts and adult leaders will divide into two groups, the first taking the ride on Friday and the second on Saturday. The ride on the west bound 1:26 train is possible through the courtesy of the Nickel Plate Railroad.

Certain Den Mothers and adult leaders will transport the Cub Scouts to the Hibbard station and will ride with the youngsters. Other Den Mothers will go directly to Knox to pick up the youngsters after the train ride.

The Cub Scouts have had an action-packed month in their railroading project.

Visit CMA Model Layout
Each Den visited the extensive model railroad layout at Culver Military Academy. The Cub Scouts witnessed demonstrations by members of the Academy Model Railroad Club and had an opportunity to actually run some trains. The visits were arranged with Col. Edward T. Payson, club adviser, who directed the activities.

At the monthly Pack meeting March 21 the Cub Scouts saw an interesting motion picture on railroading presented by Warner Williams. In addition, the Cub Scouts displayed projects they had made on railroading and sang train songs under the direction of Pack Chairman James V. Miracle.

VFW Auxiliary Gives Flag
Another highlight of the Pack meeting was the presentation of an American flag on a staff to each den by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. The presentation was made by Mrs. Kenneth Tasch.

Cubmaster E. Wayne Mattox presented achievement awards to nine Cub Scouts. Steve Ringer, Lee Eskridge and Eric Hughes won their Bear rank. Steve also received a gold arrow. Ronnie May, David Campbell, Paul Kelly and Billy Wieringa qualified for their Wolf badges. Jimmy Taber won a gold arrow on his Lion badge and Steve Cole won both gold and silver arrows on his Wolf badge.

Dens 2 and 3 tied for the Pack meeting attendance banner. The Webster Den won the game played under the direction of Norman Kelly. Den 8 conducted the opening ceremony and Den 10 had the closing ceremony.

Swimming Party Scheduled
The Cub Scouts are looking forward to two events. The first is a swimming party at the Academy pool Sunday afternoon, April 9. The second is the annual Scout-O-Rama in Plymouth Saturday, April 15.

FIRE DEPARTMENT calls should be made to Viking 2-2121. Note this number near your home phone.

Postal Service Is Getting Worse and Worse!

This criticism of the U. S. Post Office Department will be found pretty mild compared to editorials in the Warsaw and Argos papers of recent weeks.

We have just two gripes at the moment and some new stage-coaches on the various mail routes will undoubtedly correct a situation which is getting a bit annoying.

President Kennedy's new Postmaster General, J. Edward Day, however, might like to know that —

An air mail, special delivery letter, postmarked Richmond, Va., at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, March 12, was delivered in Culver, Ind., shortly after 6 p.m., Tuesday, March 14!

An important parcel post package, containing magazine front cover photos of Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, was mailed in Indianapolis at 4 p.m., Saturday, March 11. It was delivered in Culver — just 105 miles distant — Wednesday morning, March 15!

CULVER PUBLIC SCHOOL
MUSIC DEPARTMENT
PRESENTS
WINTER CONCERT
SUNDAY, MARCH 19, 1961
3:00 P.M.

There was quite a crowd on that gloomy afternoon and everyone clapped when our Mr. Boyd followed the Junior High Band to the center of the auditorium.

Mr. Boyd raised his baton, the white shirted band instantly came to attention and as the baton dropped into cadence, burst into the rousing tune of "Stout Hearted Men" by Romberg. So started a most enjoyable concert. The Junior Band is amazingly good — they played "Curtain Call by Co-field, a difficult piece, and the "Toy Parade" by Greene, smoothly and with precision. "Port-au-Prince," the last selection, was beautiful. The audience thought so too!

Then the bleachers on the stage came to life as the Senior High Choir assembled in front of the podium. Their first song, "Coffee Grows on a White Oak Tree" by Wilson, was light and whimsical. Then "Be Thou Not Still" by Foltz was such a subtle blending of soft tones and comforting words, that it was perfect for a Sunday afternoon. A swing into "My Favorite Things" (from the "Sound of Music") by Rodgers & Hammerstein made everyone sit up — and clap — and clap! But how people smiled and nodded as "Carnival of Melody" by Wilson, brought familiar songs to their ears! We thought Mr. Boyd was going to give an encore — but he had different music to offer.

Here comes the band! In their maroon and grey uniforms (so many with medals, too) they look very smart as they sit so alert, to respond instantly to the leaders baton. "Here comes the Band" by Willecks was exciting. "A Trumpeter's Lullaby" by Anderson, with Brian Pierson doing a difficult solo was a favorite. "Theme and Scherzo" by Bowles (former Culver band director) was an interesting piece with contrasts, while "Overture for Winds" by Carter was light and lovely as a spring day. The Minstrel Boys (from the Irish Suite) by Anderson was an airy, whimsical tune, and "Alameda" by Caneva with its castanets and maracas, brought out the gypsy in everyone. "Wonderland by Night" by Gunter and "Highlights from the Music Man" by Wilson were played with such zest by the band that the audience felt they were enjoying it as much as the musicians were!

It was a wonderful concert! thanks to the Junior Band — the Choir — the Senior Band — but most of all to Mr. Boyd, who makes it fun to work at music.

Grade School
News Reported

By Linda Kose

Mrs. Melton: Mrs. Norman Kelly brought Pancho and Pablo, two hamsters, to visit the morning kindergarten class. They belong to the Kelly children. The janitors made a child's size stove and refrigerator for the room. The children were very surprised and pleased. Mrs. Babcock baked a shamrock cake to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Jean Epley gave some toys to the class. The gifts of cake, toys, and time are truly appreciated.

Mrs. Keyser: We have some Dr. Seuss books now and really enjoy reading them by ourselves. We have made some kites for our room to give it that spring atmosphere. Gary Strang, whose birthday was March 25, brought a treat for the class to enjoy.

Mrs. Carter: We have made a mail box in our room and are writing letters to each other. We made Easter posters to decorate our room and a cotton Easter bunny. We are learning about a baby whale in our reading. In science we are studying about different objects in the sky. Jerry Lemar brought some Korean money to show us.

Mrs. Lawson: We are studying about our newest states, Hawaii and Alaska, this week. Gary Davis had a birthday last week. Gregory DeTroy brought some acorns to school which he has planted. They are now beginning to sprout and grow.

Mr. Weaver: Last week we finished a unit in social studies on the Northwest. We learned many things about it including the fact that Wyoming was the first state to let women vote.

Spring's Impact Is Varied

By Carolee Easterday, Anne Behmer, and Thad Overmyer

Spring and spring fever are both in the air, as it is very evident around C.H.S. So this week our roving reporters asked this question, "What is the first thing that comes into your mind when someone mentions Spring?"

The answers were varied but, as was expected, an overwhelming majority answered love, girls, or boys. Many of the seniors mentioned the senior trip and graduation which are occupying a very important place in their thoughts at the present time.

To others it meant such things as going barefooted, hay rides, rain, speedboats, horseback riding, convertible riding, and the track meets.

As you can see at Culver, Spring turns a young man's or a young lady's, fancy to thoughts of love.

Some of the girls think of Easter and new clothes and Easter bonnets.

Why not ask yourself the same question and see what ideas of Spring you get. You may find that they are among the ones listed here.

Students Attended Academic Contest

By Bonnie Good

On Saturday, March 25, 11 students made their way to Warsaw to represent Culver High in academic competition. They represented several courses.

Geometry — Robbie Ogden and Cheryl Dillon.

Algebra — Jan Scruggs and Charles Snyder.

Comprehension, Charles Reed, Tom Boswell, Anne Osborn, and Gary Dillon.

Latin I — Lucy Osborn and Betty Ricciardi.

Latin II — Linda Behmer.

My Get-Up-and-Go Has Got-Up-and-Went

[Author Unknown]

How do I know that my youth is all spent?
Well, my get-up-and-go has got-up-and-went.
But in spite of all I'm able to grin
When I recall where my get-up has been.

Old age is golden, so I've heard it said.
But sometimes I wonder when I get into bed,
With my ears in a drawer and my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I get up.

Ere sleep dims my eyes I say to myself,
Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,
My friends are the same, perhaps even more!

When I was young my slippers were red,
I could kick up my heels right over my head.
When I grew older my slippers were blue,
But still I could dance the whole night through.

But now I am old and my slippers are black
I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know my youth is all spent,
My get-up-and-go has got-up-and-went.

But really I don't mind, then I think with a grin
Of all the grand places my get-up has been.
Since I have retired from life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition.

I get up in the morning and dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper and read the "obits."
If my name is missing I know I'm not dead,
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Reporter Snoops
On Her Friend

By Jean McColge

My poor unsuspecting suspect. If she only knew I followed her from the moment she picked me up in her little "Green Flash" until she again dropped me at my door.

The first bright thing she said to me was, "I don't feel quite as bad as I look!" You see, she has this bad cold and it kept her out of school for a day.

I left my suspect on entering school. She went to her first period Home Ec. class. But clear from the bottom floor I could hear her ripping up some sewing that she had "goofed" on. (Of course, she also ripped the material while doing it!)

Second period she went to art class, but I couldn't see her, the picture wasn't drawn clear enough.

Mr. Graham's study hall produced her again to sit in front of me. We didn't get too much studying done because she was busy showing me the pills, nose drops, cough syrup, and such she was carrying in her purse (doctor's kit?). She also had a king size box of kleenex which I thought would surely last a week, but she was scared she might run out. Never can tell, I always say.

Fourth period she tried out her voice in choir, but it surely should have worked after all that medication!

Noon hours are dedicated to the "Green Flash" and the girls. Around and around they go.

Poor girl, she had to leave class to take a dreadful test on Wordsworth. But knowing her she probably sailed through it like a breeze. The first thing she did on coming back to class was to grab a kleenex and proceed to, well I guess you know about that.

I had to look through a wall to see her sixth period. She was analyzing analytics very well for all I could see.

Another economics class came and gone with just a few exclamations about the test tomorrow plus a 500 word paper.

Flash! And off we go to the post office. Dear girl, she sits out in the car and very patiently (?) waits for me while I mail 20 letters.

As she drives away and I see her in a trail of dust, I wonder, did she know?

Oh yes, the unsuspecting suspect of this little tale was no other than Miss Susan Jane Muehlhausen.

Teachers Contrast Their School Days

By Karen Kemple and Linda Behmer

Have times changed since our teachers at Culver were in high school? This week we asked some of the teachers some things about their school days such as — what they remember most about their high school days, what they did in school, and what changes have taken place since they attended school? We got quite a variety of answers; some were quite amusing and others were a little educational.

Miss Shanks: There are more subjects and more extra-curricular activities now. The students also dress better now.

Mr. Graham: Because we had no school buses, there was no time for extra-curricular activities. "In Vermont at least, even the adults preserved their sanity about basketball."

Miss Lindvall: The textbooks are better now; however, school was much more serious then.

Mrs. Smith: There was no junior high school.

Mrs. Pites: It's just the same as it was when I went to school. (I'm really not very old.)

Mr. Lawson: The fact that I was the only boy in my high school graduating class. (By the way, there were only nine students who did graduate.)

Mrs. Johnson: In contrast to many present day students we had little, if any, spending money; nor were such huge quantities of candy eaten in the school building.

ADDITIONAL HONOR ROLL

Judy Thews should have been included in the seventh grade academic honor roll for the past six weeks.

Sunshine Girls Reveal Their Ideal Ladies

By Jean Warner

It is Friday evening, March 17. About 100 Sunshine Society girls and the ladies who have been chosen as "ideal" ladies have looked forward to this night since last September when the girls turned in their "ideal" lady choices.

The ladies have received their invitations requesting "My Fair Lady" to come to the party. The cute invitations they received made in the shape of an old-fashioned lady, complete with her ankle length dress, were made by Pat Wesson, committee chairman, and Bobbie Lou Easterday, Linda Kose, Susie Muehlhausen, Sandy Osborn, Eloise Tanner, Jane Thomas, Carmen Greter, Vicki Lutz, Donna Smith, and Anne Osborn.

We enter the Lion's Den, beautifully decorated by decoration committee chairman Sue Ruhnow, Ruth Abaire, Anne and Linda Behmer, Melissa Fisher, Rochelle Good, Barbara Hatten, Judy Kimmel, Sharon Lindvall, Janet Martin, Martha Lowry; and were presented with name tags in the shape of picture hats. Pat Lutz, chairman of the name tag committee, and Lila Bean, Cheryl Dillon, Carol Heiser, Sheryl Hohman, Karen Kemple, Pat Kline, Charlene Lucas, Anna Lutz, Marilee Zechiel, Chris Croy, and Barbara Moore, spent a lot of time on these and as a result we all know one another's name.

Now the meeting is called to order by the SSS president, Linda Gibbons. We open the meeting as we regularly do: with the creed led by Cathy Overmyer, and the song started by Jean Warner with Shari Yocom accompanying.

Lana Berger is in charge of keeping the secret list of SSS girls and their "ideal" ladies. She explains how the women were chosen and how she felt like Santa Claus: delivering the gifts from the "ideal" ladies to their Sunshine girls.

The big moment is here. We sing "My Ideal Lady" and each girl reveals the name of her "lady" and presents her with a yellow rose.

The program for the evening arranged by program committee chairman Jean Warner, and Shirley Crow, Mary Jane Guise, Chris Hand, Pat Hicks, Jean McColge, Shari Yocom, and Cathy Overmyer is a book review by Mrs. Frank M. Bryant called, "Quiet, Yelled Mrs. Rabbit." We received a lot of enjoyment from the episodes that Mrs. Bryant related to us from this book.

We are now going to be served delicious refreshments which carry out the color scheme of green for Saint Patrick's Day and yellow for sunshine. It's a lot of work to fix refreshments for 150 people, isn't it Betty Zechiel and Jean Eikenberry, co-chairmen? They had good help from the rest of the committee who are Jane Baker, Linda Banks, Gloria Bean, Sandra Boetsma, Nancy Burns, Glenda Dawson, and Nancy Franz.

"Good-bye, Mrs. Ideal Lady. Thanks for coming and for the farewell gift."

Our "ideal" lady's party is over and now we will turn everything over to Kathy Clynne, chairman of the clean-up committee, and to her helpers Sherrill Edgington, Marjory McGaffey, Bernice Mevis, Carol Overmyer, Bonnie Parker, Barbara Rosebaum, Merrie K. Stoneburner, Beverly Thomas, and Nancy Ervin.

Thanks to all the committees and the Sunshine sponsor, Miss Ruth Shanks, our party went smoothly, and everyone had a good time, and has fond memories of being a Sunshine girl or an "ideal" lady.

Reporter Gives
Style Report

By Charlene Lucas and Cheryl Dillon

This week our feature story deals with that very frustrating question we girls, and possibly even the boys, ask ourselves every night. "What on earth shall I wear to school tomorrow?" Yes, what should we wear? Well, the first thing to consider in solving this problem is the style of the day, so let's take a quick trip through our high school and see what everyone is wearing this year.

The first thing we notice is that the skirts seem to keep getting shorter and shorter. (From what I hear from the masculine students, this is fine!) The next thing that strikes our eye is the new outfit the seniors are wearing. It looks like something new has been added. Yes, this year the girls have made matching tops for their skirts. (Wonder what new idea the future seniors will think of? It should be very interesting to see!)

As for what the other girls are wearing, it seems that every girl has gone all out for the plaid pleated skirt this year. These skirts are of every color imaginable, and many of the girls own beautiful matching, solid-colored sweaters to wear with them.

Of course, the straight skirt is definitely still with us as much as always, and this year we see many girls have matching tops for these skirts, in the form of vests and short jackets. It seems that the key word in style this year is "matching."

In the leg and footwear category, there seems to be about as many different things being worn as there are girls to wear them! You see everything from tennis shoes to an occasional pair of heels! But we still think bobby socks with tennis shoes are worn most, with hose and flats running second. Oh, and what about leotards? Well, they are still with us, but we don't see them being worn quite as often this year. (To most males, this is PINE!)

This year, as before, the boys are wearing mostly long sleeve shirts with slacks, or sweaters with slacks. And, some of those sweaters we've seen on our C.H.S. boys have been just "too cool!" Really, it's enough to make every girl wish she had a big brother who would lend her his clothes. (Too bad it doesn't work this way even if you are a sister!)

We've tried to show you what clothes are being worn most often in our school. So, if you are still asking yourself that question: "What am I going to wear?", just look at your wardrobe for the possibilities. But whatever you come up with, always remember our motto: Stay in style!

Mystery Guest Furnishes
Variety Of Good Clues

By Anne Osborn

Our unknown friend for this week is a prominent member of the senior class. She has hazel eyes, is approximately 5 foot, seven inches, and weight . . . ??? Her favorite food — hamburgers; favorite color — lavender. As her pet peeve she names Mr. Lawson, and claims her favorite pastimes are dancing, going to parties, and riding around in the "Green Flash."

Does she have any oddities? "Who, me? Are you kidding?" What about her craziest habit? It's "thinking up excuses why I'm late to school every morning." If you haven't guessed our guest's identity yet, here's one final clue: her favorite university is Purdue. (I wonder why.) Got it now? Our mysterious friend is Jean McCoige!

"Blue Moon" Tops
C.H.S. Record Hits

By Judy Kimmel and Jean Eikenberry

Hi kids, this week we took a poll on what your favorite records were. It looks like the number one vote this week was "Blue Moon." The follow-up was as follows:

1. Top 40
2. Little Miss Muckup
3. Once in Awhile
4. Walk Right Back
5. Asia Minor
6. Dream Boy
7. The Water was Red
8. Manhunt
10. Baby Sitting Boogie

32 Hopefuls Try Out
For C.H.S. Track Squad

By Earl Mishler

With track season just around the corner, the hopeful Culver track team has begun practice. Head Coach Jim Cox last week announced 32 boys arrived for training the opening week.

Returning from last year's squad are, among others, sprint men Larry Davis, Chuck Reed, Sam Medbourn, and John Cromley; distance runners Gary Dillon, and George Baker; and high jumper Tom Boswell. These boys are counted on to form the nucleus for this year's team.

The first meet for Coach Cox's men this season will be held on April 6 against Knox, on the Starke County school's home track.

UPS THE BUDGET — The Johnson County News, published at Greenwood, approves the strict watch Greenwood police keep for parking meter violations but the publisher, Dick Van Valer, says his budget has been affected. "At The News, where our people move in and out of the office continuously, we've had to set up a budget for parking fines alone," Van Valer says.

Shari Yocom Represents
C.H.S. in Heart Contest

By Merrie Kay Stoneburner

The Senior Class has elected Miss Shari Yocom to represent them as their choice for Queen of the Junior Heart Dance.

The Juniors are to be congratulated on their record hop of March 10. They had a very good turnout. Also they are working hard on plans for the Ham Supper, which will be held in the gym on April 15.

It won't be long now until the Junior-Senior Prom, and the Juniors have the themes narrowed down to ten.

MEANING OF EASTER
DISCUSSED BY PASTOR

Rev. Maynard Tittle of the Culver Bible Church spoke at a religious convocation fourth period Thursday. His message concerned Easter and the things we should know about the death and resurrection of Christ. Christ's resurrection is our proof that His death on the cross was accepted by God as payment for our sins. We must connect through faith what God has done for us to become what we can.

DONALD W. MIKESSELL ON REGISTRAR'S HONOR ROLL

Donald W. Mikesell, graduate student at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, is listed on the registrar's Roll of Honor for the winter quarter. In order to be on the list one must have 12 or more hours of curriculum during the specified quarter and must receive straight "A's."

Mikesell is the son of Police Chief and Mrs. Donald Mikesell, 611 School Street, Culver. He is enrolled in the curriculum for the preparation of supervisors of guidance and is one of 167 students included on the list.

FRED D. LANE ON GEOLOGY FIELD TRIP

Fred D. Lane of Culver was one of 16 high school science teachers enrolled at Ohio State University for the Academic Year Institute to leave Columbus, Ohio, recently for a five-day geology field trip.

The group traveled through Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

Some of the points along the way at which they were to observe the geology were at the Narrows of New River in Virginia, a quarry and mill of a marble company near Knoxville, Tenn., and at Maysville, Ky., along the Ohio River, where they were to collect fossils.

Mr. Lane is a member of the Culver Military Academy faculty.

FIRE BALL — Pupils of a grade school at Hagerstown (Wayne County) filed out in perfect order when the school fire alarm sounded. But there was no fire. Principal Otto Engelmann discovered that a basketball given a wild toss in the school gym had banged against the automatic alarm switch and set off the fire alarm.

WAYNE HOHMAN ELECTED TO SCABBARD AND BLADE

Wayne Hohman, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold W. Hohman, 215 N. State St., Culver, was recently elected to membership in "Scabbard and Blade," honorary military society at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.

Hohman was one of seven seniors and nine juniors who were recognized as outstanding cadets in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Students selected for "Scabbard and Blade" are judged for scholastic attainments, character, performance in the cadet corps and patriotic interest.

LOFTY ASPIRATIONS — The Pictorial Press, published at Montezuma, quotes Finn B. Erikson as saying: "College basketball coaches are all interested in higher education and the closer they come to seven feet the better they like it."

Installed As Member Of Omicron Nu

Suzanne Dawson, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. H. Dawson of the Culver Military Academy, has been initiated as a member of Omicron Nu, national home economics honor society, at Purdue University. She currently is a junior in the School of Home Economics.

Twenty-five students, including 15 juniors, six seniors, and four in the Graduate School, were formally installed as members in a ceremony following a dinner meeting of the society last week in the Memorial Union Building.

Members of Omicron Nu are chosen on the basis of high scholastic achievement. For a junior to be accepted for membership, she must rank in the upper ten per cent of the members of her class majoring in the home economics field.

The vital importance for all mankind of the resurrection of Christ Jesus will be stressed Sunday at Christian Science services.
Scriptural selections will include accounts from Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John of incidents in the life of Jesus, including the betrayal in Gethsemane, the crucifixion, and his resurrection.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy these passages will be read (pp. 292, 293):
"Truth will be to us 'the resurrection and the life' only as it destroys all error and the belief that Mind, the only immortality of man, can be fettered by the body, and Life be controlled by death... In his resurrection and ascension, Jesus showed that a mortal man is not the real essence of manhood, and that this unreal material mortality disappears in presence of the reality."

Easter Services At Burr Oak Church Of God

Easter services will be conducted at the Burr Oak Church of God with the emphasis on the remembrance of the power of resurrection.

The following program of services will be observed on Easter Sunday: Sunrise service at 6:30, followed by an Easter breakfast. The breakfast is being sponsored by the Berean Youth Fellowship. Everyone is invited to stay for the breakfast and enjoy the meal and fellowship provided by the young people. Sunday School will be conducted by Burton Feece at the usual time, 9:45. Pastor Sorenson will conduct the morning worship service at 10:45. Communion will be observed during the morning worship.

We cordially invite you to share with us in worshipping the Risen Christ in these services, on Easter Sunday.

FILM ENTITLED, "THE TEENS" SHOWN AT CHURCH OF GOD

An interesting film entitled "The Teens," was shown to the youth of the Burr Oak Church of God, last Sunday evening. This film was one of a series in a varied program for Sunday evening services at the Church of God.
The purpose of the service was to allow teenagers to study attitudes and feelings in the personality development of this age. The true to life situations expressed to the young people are many of the same experiences that they themselves have had.

Russell Oliver "Drafted" For CMA Alumni Work

Leaves Coaching
Duties Temporarily

RUSSELL D. OLIVER

Russell D. Oliver, veteran athletic coach of Culver Military Academy, is being relieved temporarily of duties in two sports to devote time during the next year to alumni affairs.

Oliver, an outstanding athlete of Culver and University of Michigan, will continue as director of athletics and football coach. His duties as baseball coach will be assigned this spring to Dr. Russell Blair, Oliver's assistant for the last two years. Chester A. Marshall, junior varsity coach, will serve as head coach of the basketball team next winter.

Culver Legion Secretary

Along with his position as coach and athletic director, Oliver serves as secretary of the Culver Legion, the Academy's alumni organization.

Oliver became head baseball, basketball, and football coach at Culver after a distinguished athletic career at the Academy and the University of Michigan. He graduated from Culver in 1931, and went on to become the fifth man in history at Michigan to win nine varsity letters for his achievements in three sports.

Oliver returned to Culver after graduation from Michigan in 1935. He became head basketball coach and assistant in football and baseball. In 1936 he assumed the position of head coach of all three major sports. In 21 seasons, his football teams have won 106 games while losing 53 and tying 10. During 23 basketball seasons, Oliver-coached teams won 211 games and lost 137. His baseball teams have won 121 games and lost 103 over 21 seasons. The only interruption in Oliver's coaching career prior to his temporary assignment for alumni duties came during World War I.

Oliver's Capable Assistants

Dr. Blair is a native of Philadelphia and has taught as a language instructor at Culver since September of 1958. He is a graduate of the United States Military Academy and the University of Pennsylvania. His master's and doctorate degrees were awarded by the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Blair teaches Spanish and Russian at Culver and returned in the fall from a five-week tour of Soviet Union educational facilities.

Chester Marshall joined the Culver faculty in 1952. He is a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va., where he played varsity basketball for three seasons and was captain of the team in his senior year. Marshall received his Master of Science degree from West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., in 1949, and has also attended Indiana University.

Marshall taught at Parsons (W. Va.) High School for a year and served as basketball coach of Wilmington (Ohio) College from 1949 to 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelley entertained the Willing Workers class in their home on Thursday evening, March 9. There was a good attendance.

The Home Builders class held their regular class meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Davis on Friday evening, March 10, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Maggie Cavander returned home last week after spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Belle Lurch, in Logansport.

George Cowen was a caller in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Josh Fields Thursday afternoon. He had just returned home after spending several weeks with his brother, Alf Cowen, in Gainesville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis called on Herbert Knoblock at the Community Hospital in Bremen, Thursday afternoon. Mr. Knoblock is critically ill and has been confined to the hospital a few weeks. Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis were callers in the Davis home.

Paul Hartle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartle, returned home Saturday from the Osteopathic Hospital in South Bend and will be confined to his bed for a month or so.

The district rehearsal of the Indiana Home Demonstration Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Albert P. Stewart of Purdue University, was held at the Methodist Church in Rochester Friday afternoon with a capacity attendance. Members of the Fulton County Chorus were the hostesses. All members of the Marshall County Chorus attended. The occasion was in preparation of the Music Festival which is held annually in June in the Music Hall at Purdue.

The Semi-monthly mid-week prayer service and Bible Study group was held Wednesday evening with Mrs. Grace Burton and son, Harold. The next meeting will be held in the Guy Davis home, Wednesday evening, April 5.

Harold Burton is among the group of Fulton County Farm Bureau members who are in Washington, D.C. this week. His mother drove him to Indianapolis Sunday from which place they left.

Lenten Titles From Our Culver Public Library

"The Master's Men" by William Barclay. As the title suggests, this is a series of character sketches of the twelve disciples Jesus chose to carry the Christian gospel to the world. Each sketch unfolds the story of an ordinary human being made great by the transforming influence of the Christ. The author's style is simple and lucid, revealing what apostleship meant for them and what discipleship must mean for us. This is an excellent book for Bible study groups as well as personal enlightenment.

"Maryknoll Story" by Robert B. Considine. This moving story written by Bob Considine, correspondent and columnist, tells of the work of the Maryknoll missions in many countries. It tells of the Catholic priests who go into foreign lands and practice to-day the Christianity that emerges from the gospels — healing the sick, helping the afflicted, and scolding the tempters. Few in number, they face communism, anticlericalism, alcoholism, and leprosy. Mr. Considine tells a hearty story of these men of good will who represent the church. Supported by good photographs this book makes interesting reading.

"The Crown And The Cross" by Frank G. Slaughter. Dr. Slaughter incorporating the latest findings from the Dead Sea Scrolls, has written a life of Christ that is in the best tradition of religious biography. The reader travels on foot with Jesus over the rocky hills and fertile valleys of Judea. He sees the life of Jesus unfold through the eyes of Christ's living companions. Dr. Slaughter has written of this book, "I have always been impressed by the amazing parallels between the times in which Jesus lived and those of to-day."

"Days With Albert Schweitzer" by Frederick Albrect. Against the Lambarene landscape, Dr. Franck, a dentist, artist, and close professional associate of Dr. Schweitzer, unveils not a heroic statue but presents an intimate portrait of Schweitzer, the man. Dr.

Franck visited the hospital at Lambarene and under the auspices of Medico, established the present dental clinic. The author vividly recounts the sights, sounds, and smells of hospital wards, the Leper Village, and the African jungle. There are some forty pen and ink drawings by the author that add much to the word picture of the colony.

Clyde Poppe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Poppe, is spending week's Easter vacation with his parents. Clyde is a student in the School of Architecture at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

GLOOM turned to JOY!

Some days everything seems to go wrong. Right? There was gloom over Golgotha from twelve to three when Jesus Christ died on the cross.

Jesus' disciples knew another kind of gloom. His agonizing death seemed to contradict their belief that He was the Son of God and the Savior from sin.

But Easter changed everything. The fact that Jesus was alive ended their sorrow. The knowledge that His death was God's solution to the problem of sin made them rejoice.

What causes your gloom?—disappointment, guilt, embarrassment over a foolish mistake, loneliness? Good Friday and Easter are your answers, too! God's Son has "borne your griefs and carried your sorrows." He has removed our sins "as far as the east is from the west."

Who are you to say you are neglected, when God is your friend? Should you tremble at the memory of sins when God through Christ says, "Be of good cheer, your sins are forgiven!"

Good Friday is God's answer to gloom. Easter's message of a living Savior will enable you to say "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me." Find your Easter answer! The Lutheran church in your community is preaching the Word of God that gives the answer!

Track Meet April 8

The Culver Military Academy track team, with a tough indoor campaign already under its belt, looks to the opening of the outdoor season on April 8 when the Eagle harriers will host Fort Wayne Central Catholic.

The April 8 meet comes after the cadets return from spring vacation. Coach Norman Miner foresees the change from indoors to outdoors as a possible boost in points for his trackmen, particularly in field events such as the shot put, which is not performed indoors.

Statement By Coach Miner

"We lack some balance, mostly in sprinters," Coach Miner said, "but I have been satisfied with our performance against tough competition. This is the first year we've faced strong outfits like the Fort Wayne teams and Hobart. I think we'll improve outdoors with the aid of some hefty men in the shot put."
