Christmas Business Discussed

Reveals Feelings Of The Nation

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U.S. Economist

BABSON PARK, MASS. — There are many reasons why we should be greatly interested in Christmas business, — whether we are clerks, storekeepers, manufacturers, or consumers. Christmas Trade As A Business Gauge

The feelings of the nation are usually revealed in the volume and the temper of Christmas buying. A number of years ago I was of the opinion that statistics dictated the nation's business, particularly as regards credit available and workers' wages. But now I have come to realize that business is ruled not only by figures, but also very much by feelings. It is encouraging to note at this time that an impartial study of the probabilities for 1961 Christmas business indicates that people throughout the country are feeling good.

Even at a time when the world situation is dark, our people seem ready to honor Christmas in traditionally happy style. Let us all do whatever we can to encourage this attitude. Let us make gifts to those in need. Let us keep in mind what joy and happiness we can bring to others, instead of what profits the gifts may bring to us. To help guide my footsteps in this direction I have erected a sign near the Great Babson Globe (the largest revolving globe in the world) that reads: "FOR WHAT IS A MAN PROFITED, IF HE SHALL GAIN THE WORLD AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL?"

Purchasing Supports Employment

There is, of course, more to Christmas buying than immediately greets the eye. When you select a present for a relative or a friend, you actually begin an individual business cycle. Not only do you give pleasure to the person receiving the gift, but you give material help to the retailer, providing him with the cash that he requires to conduct his important distributing operations. Remember, too, that your money not only gives him his small profit (a few cents out of your dollar), but it also moves along in part to the producer, the clerks, the landlord, the advertising outlets, and others directly or indirectly involved.

Of special significance is the fact that the storekeeper's payment to the manufacturer permits him to employ more people. The manufacturer's workers tend to spend their wages at the store, thus completing the all-important cycle. When the cycle described works smoothly, the entire nation enjoys prosperous times. If the cycle breaks down at any point, business and employment decline (they are two barometers that always move together). Then, unless something is done to repair the break, we are likely to slide into a depression.

Methodist Church Displays Painting By Jean Williams

The Culver Methodist Church has on display a most unusual and appropriate Christmas decoration. This is a greatly enlarged copy of Giotto's famous "Adoration of the Magi." The copy was painted by Jean Williams of Culver, wife of Warner Williams, artist-in-residence of the Culver Military Academy.

Mrs. Williams, in doing the painting, encountered many difficulties. She worked from a very small copy of the painting which she enlarged to 8' x 7½'. The original, which is a fresco done for the Scrovegni Chapel in Padua, Italy, is badly chipped, so that Mrs. Williams' enlargement necessarily became a restoration also. The "Adoration" scene now appears as it might have looked when Giotto painted it.

The painting is on the front lawn of the Methodist church and is illuminated at night. The public is invited to drive by for a view of this truly impressive work of Mrs. Williams.

Five Civilian Defense Officers Appointed

James McAllister To Head Personnel

Otis R. Bowen, M.D., Bremen, Ind., Director of Health Services for Marshall County Civil Defense, today announced the appointment of two staff operations officers, Bruce Van Der Weele and Keith Felix.

Mr. Van Der Weele, prominent business man of Argos, attended Indiana University. He has had 21 years of service in the active reserves and served in World War II. He holds the rank of Lt. Col. Mr. Felix lives in Plymouth. He graduated from Purdue University in 1942. He served in the Marine Corps in the Pacific theater. He is presently a Lt. Col. in the Marine Corps Reserve and is serving as the Training Officer of the South Bend Marine Corps Volunteer Training Unit. For 14 years he was manager of the Land Bank Association of Plymouth. He is now in the real estate and insurance business.

The duties of these two staff operations officers are to assist the director and deputy director and to establish and supervise a training program for the personnel; in time of disaster they will also serve as liaison officers between the medical and other departments of civil defense.

Chiefs of three of the five branches of the Health Services have also been appointed. Heading the Personnel Branch is James W. McAllister of Culver. Mr. McAllister has been an assistant cashier in The State Exchange Bank at Culver for the past 8 years. He is a major in the Air Force Reserves. He is active in numerous civic functions and organizations in Culver, and is chairman of the Red Cross Blood Program for Union Township.

Heading the Supply Branch is Merritt Skinner. Mr. Skinner likewise has had a long and distinguished career in the service. He spent 28 years in the Active Reserves of the U. S. Army and recently retired with the rank of Lt. Col. Mr. Skinner is a graduate of the Command and General Staff College and served as the Purchasing and Contracting Officer of the European Theater Chief Quartermaster's Office in World War II. He served as instructor for 8 years in the U.S.A. reserve program. He has been a pharmacist in Plymouth since 1934.

Heading the Mortuary Branch will be Francis W. Johnson of Plymouth. Mr. Johnson has been a Funeral Director in Plymouth for 28 years. He is a former Mayor of Plymouth. He was a first sergeant for 3½ years in a Medical Collecting Company in the Medical Corps during World War II.

The Chiefs of the two remaining branches, namely Medical Care and Health Protection, will be named soon.

Dr. Bowen stated that the qualifications, experience, reputation, and integrity of the gentlemen, who have accepted appointments to these non-paying public service positions, will assure Marshall County that their Health Services Department will be guided by capable individuals. The previous military service of these men in staff positions will be beneficial in preparation of plans for each type of catastrophe that our County might encounter.

Dr. Bowen also stated that he hoped to arrange for an organizational meeting of the chiefs of each department around the first of the year. The time and place of the meeting will be announced and any interested citizen will be welcome to attend.

HALF the new jobs created in the next 10 years will be filled by women.

Fire Destroys Home Of The Leonard Repps

All Belongings Are Total Loss

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Repp, on the John Riggen farm south of Monterey, at 7:50 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Repp and baby son were living temporarily at the home of the former's parents in Monterey, since Mrs. Repp's return from the hospital with the new baby, and while awaiting installation of a new water pump in their own home.

All furnishings, clothing, personal belongings, and a pet dog were lost in the fire, as well as some property of Mrs. Repp's sister, Miss Karen Kemple, which were stored at the Repp home while Miss Kemple is employed at Indianapolis.

The house was partially covered by insurance, but there was no insurance on the contents.

Mrs. Repp is the former Mary Ann Kemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kemple of Culver.

The Monterey and Culver Communities are contributing gifts of money, household articles, and clothing for the baby and parents. Anyone having furniture, clothing, or financial assistance for this family may contact Clyde Shively at 620 Pearl St., Culver.

Plan Commission Makes Study Of Petitions

Citizens Voice Their Opinions

At a recent meeting of the Culver Town Plan Commission, petitions, which had been presented to the Culver Town Board, were received and accepted for study and eventual report to the Town Board.

Although a public hearing would have to be held before any report would be adopted, several persons were present and were permitted to voice their opinions. Many spoke in favor of some of the points contained in the petitions.

While some of the points are just opinions of those preparing the petitions, other points are considered by Plan Commission members to be partly or wholly incorrect. A citizen present at the meeting stated that he was under the impression that two-family dwellings were not permitted in rural or suburban areas. Parts of the laws pertaining to his interest were read, and this was shown to be entirely incorrect.

Several persons also said that it is the duty of the Plan Commission to police any violations, while in fact, it is the duty of the Building Commissioner. Acting Commission President Bernard Busart read parts of the State Zoning Law which outlines steps which can be taken by any citizen who thinks he has been wronged by a particular decision of any planning authority.

Other persons present said they would not favor any outright repeal of the planning ordinances, but should any objectionable parts need revision, then those sections might be amended.

Board members, in later executive session discussion, were of the opinion that there were so many faulty points in the petition that they were sure that many of the persons who signed their names were not really aware of the implications of some of the parts.

In particular, the statement that someone owning a lot, which did not measure up to the zoning standards, could not build on that lot, is false. Any lot which was recorded prior to the adoption of the zoning ordinances may be developed, in accordance with reasonable minimum area and setback requirements.

The Plan Commission members feel that they should give considerable study to the allegation that zoning tends to curtail building, rather than encourage it. Mem-

Funeral Services Held Sunday For Maj. C. S. Young

Maj. Charles Stewart Young, age 82, a former Culver Military Academy instructor, died Saturday morning at the Alfran Nursing Home at Warsaw after an illness of several months.

Born at Ripley, Tenn., on Oct. 7, 1879, he was graduated from Union College, Jackson, Tenn., and received a Master's degree in English at the University of Chicago. His father being a doctor in the Army of Tennessee during the Civil War, Major Young had a wealth of reminiscences which he shared with his acquaintances.

He came to Culver Military Academy in 1917 where he was an instructor in the English Department. Before leaving the Academy, he was an assistant at the library there. When he retired, Major Young, being a critic of books as well as a collector, presented the Academy library with a collection of approximately 5000 well selected books of history and literature.

He was a member of the Henry H. Culver Masonic Lodge, Culver; Orak Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., Hammond; the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of South Bend; The South Bend Shrine Club; Plymouth Chapter, No. 49, R.A.M.; and the Maxinkuckee I.O.O.F. Lodge.

Surviving relatives include one nephew, William Young, Florida. Masonic funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the East-day Funeral Home.

Wayne E. Mattox To Head Chamber Of Commerce

At the annual election of the Culver Union Township Chamber of Commerce, held at the Culver Inn last Monday, Culver's Postmaster, E. Wayne Mattox, was elected President.

Colonel William E. Covington, Culver Military Academy business manager was named Vice-President. Peter D. Trone, Secretary since 1957, was continued in that position.

Mr. Mattox succeeds Andrew Verrum, and Dr. Oscar Wesson is retiring Vice-President.

Fred Adams, speaking for the Christmas decoration committee, said that the new decorations were all here and that they should be erected shortly.

Deane Walker addressed the Chamber, and in a departure from the usual type of speech, presented a Christmas reading which illustrated his remarks on the need for faith in the troubled times we are living in.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Harry Smeltzer, 321 W. Madison St., Culver, was admitted to Parkview Hospital at Plymouth on Wednesday, Dec. 6, for treatment. Her room number is 212.

John Wagner was dismissed from Parkview Hospital last Thursday after a four-day stay in the hospital for treatment. He is recuperating satisfactorily.

JOYCE MORRISON SELECTED FOR SPECIAL ART CLASS

Joyce Morrison, a freshman at Ball State Teachers College, was selected from freshman design class to study under Margo Huff, Chicago artist who spent three weeks on the Ball State campus.

Mrs. Huff gave the special students two weeks to work on an assignment in color, landscape, action or some other area.

She currently has a one-artist exhibit at Fairweather-Hardin's in Chicago of 35 pieces she did in New York last season. Mrs. Huff has been a visiting artist on Ball State's campus during the summer. She has taught at the Art Institute, Chicago, and the American University, Beirut, Lebanon.

Miss Morrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morrison, 618 School St., Culver. She is an art major.

Members also feel that it would be unwise to rush through any report on the petitions. Since the formation of the Master Plan took over one year, they feel that a thorough investigation of each point is warranted, and that they will prepare a report accordingly.

J.O.Y. Class Enjoys Christmas Party

Tuesday evening 15 members of the J.O.Y. class of the Evangelical United Brethren Church enjoyed their annual Christmas dinner party in the church social rooms.

Eight guests included: Mrs. Walter Chisholm and children, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Haney, Mrs. Clifford Layman, and David Burns, Sr.

The tables, in front of a beautiful Christmas tree, were decorated with pine branches, red candles, and miniature Christmas trees, angels, and churches.

After a delicious dinner A. R. McKesson read an inspiring sermon and prayer, written by the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale entitled "The Greatest Man Alive Today."

A medley of Christmas music was played on the piano by Merl Crabb, who also accompanied the group as they sang Christmas carols.

An exchange of gifts was enjoyed during the social hour.

Dale W. McMillen Chairman Of New CMA Program

DALE W. McMILLEN, JR.

Dale W. McMillen, Jr., president of Central Soya Company, Inc., Fort Wayne, Ind., has accepted the position of general chairman in a $4,995,000 development program for Culver Military Academy.

The program, called Culver's Program for Excellence, is designed primarily to improve teachers' salaries and to expand scholarships at the northern Indiana college preparatory school.

In making the announcement of Mr. McMillen's appointment, Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), Culver superintendent, said, "We are fortunate to have a man of Mr. McMillen's abilities to direct this program that means so much to the future of Culver. Mr. McMillen is one of the country's leading business executives, a man of experience and perception in educational affairs, and a loyal son of Culver."

Mr. McMillen, an Academy graduate of 1922, is a member of the Board of Directors of The Culver Educational Foundation, the non-profit organization that operates the Academy and Culver Summer Schools.

A graduate of Northwestern University, he has been associated with Central Soya since 1936 and has been president since 1954. He is a past president of the Culver Legion, the alumni organization of the Academy.

Among Mr. McMillen's many business and civic positions are: director, Fort Wayne National Bank; president, board of Aviation Commissioners, Fort Wayne; member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the Building Committee of the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Wayne.

Mr. McMillen and his wife Elizabeth reside at 3415 S. Washington Rd., Fort Wayne. They have a daughter and two sons.

Mr. McMillen will direct the activities of approximately 1,000 Culver volunteer alumni and parents in a national program to enable Culver to provide the youth of the nation with the finest educational opportunities.

The program now is in progress, and more than $1,500,000 has been received in gifts to date. It is expected to be concluded next summer.

In addition to endowed funds for teachers' salaries and scholarships, the Program for Excellence will provide funds for recreational facilities and an alumni and parents center and a new Woodcraft Camp for the Summer Schools. Culver's goal is to raise teachers' salaries to an average of $7,500 a year and to provide competitive scholarships for 200 boys each year to the Winter School and 100 each year to the Summer Schools.

POSSUM 'N TATERS—In preparing supper for her husband a Pike County woman, Mrs. Ira Alley of Winslow, reached into a 10-pound sack of potatoes stored at the top of her basement stairway and let out a yell when she felt something furry. The yell brought her husband who took the sack outside and when he set it down out jumped an opossum.

Classes Assume Holiday Motif

By Anna Lutz and Vickie Lutz

Remember when we, the upper classmen, used to celebrate birthdays and continue from one story book to another? Well, in Miss Cripe's first grade they still do these things because Mark Weaver celebrated his seventh birthday with a party at school. This class, also, has finished their work in the Little Green Story Book and is now ready to begin reading in the Little Blue Story Book.

In Mrs. Gertrude Allen's class, the pupils' eyes have received that glow that means Christmas is not far away. They are making presents for their fathers and mothers, and are also making room decorations. Of course, Christmas means Christmas stories and records, so the pupils have brought their own precious books and records to school.

Miss Page's room is continuing to increase the enrollment because they have a new student whose name is Gregory Brooke.

Mrs. Carter's class had a welcome surprise when Steven Hartle treated them with cookies. This classroom is also decorated with Christmas decorations.

Alice Keller's class has begun the study of astronomy, because they are now studying the stars and the planets and they even have a large chart on the bulletin board that shows them many facts. This class is also preparing for Christmas because they have drawn names for the Christmas exchange. Congratulations are due to these fine students who made perfect scores in spelling for the six week period: Fredrick May, Nancy Overmyer, Steve Pennington, Linda Snapp, Perry White and Earle Williams.

Miss Henning's class has eyes pointed toward the stars and planets while they study them, but then the students' minds travel across a wide expanse of land to the enchanting land where the Eskimos live.

Mr. Weaver's class is now learning the importance of dental hygiene. They are learning the four different types of teeth and the purposes of each. They do not stop here, but continue to learn such important things as how to brush the teeth and give them proper care.

Mr. Smith's class is going to be scattered over the holidays because some of the pupils are going away for Christmas. Katy Rossow will be leaving the day after Christmas for Turkey.

The Shadow Reports On A Teacher

By Dennis Shock

Our victim this week was by no means easy to follow. It took a whole team of spies to keep this busy fellow covered.

He has brown hair, blue eyes, stands about five feet ten inches tall, and weighs about 150 pounds. He has a pleasant personality and a curious mind.

His first class was biology in which secret agent John Behmer provided the vital information. The main subjects for discussion were plants, atomic energy, drugs and their effects, and some bug insect collections without names on them.

In between biology and chemistry, our suspect had a small conference with Mr. Stukenborg in the laboratory. When the bell rang, he told the chemistry class that he expected them to know more about atoms and the Periodic Table than any class before us because of the amount of time we are spending on the subject. Naturally, he was immediately bombarded with questions about transition element, density of the atoms and the like. Then we went over the last chemistry test with the usual arguments and questions.

From chemistry he went to the seventh grade science class. Our spy was Howard Albert who reported seeing a movie and then discussing it. After the movie Mr. Kepler gave them their lesson.

Then it was back to freshman biology in which Mr. Kepler came to class late and continued to worry about some insect collections without names. Reporter Steve Ulrey said that they went over the six-week test.

Lunch was next, but our friend spent part of his lunch hour policing the cafeteria line.

Mr. Kepler opened the fifth period freshman biology class by asking for a joke. Then he got down to business by going over the hardest biology test of the year. The class went over questions such as what comes after the cambium?

The sixth period science class reporter, Terry Porter, reported that the class saw a movie—twice!

Seventh period our victim escaped because it was his free period.

Eighth period Mr. Kepler devoted his time to grading insect collections, tests, straightening up the biology room, giving out passes, and remembering to put up the absentee slip—after he had forgotten to do it.

This subject has been, by far, the busiest victim any Shadow has ever had to cover.

A warning to all teachers, be-

The Customs Of Christmas

By Pam Phelps and Janet Beck

The origin of Christmas, of course, is the birth of Christ. In our country we celebrate this date on Dec. 25. This day is a religious holiday, with services in the churches and quiet family gatherings at home.

Christmas in the United States, composed of trends from many countries and reflecting their customs in church and home, has evolved into a celebration that is more or less uniform. Elaborate preparations are begun weeks in advance. The whole house must be gaily decorated, and fancy cakes and cookies must be made.

One of the traditions of Christmas is Santa Claus, or St. Nicholas, who was a real person, and a bishop. He gained distinction in the councils of the church, being especially famed for unexpected gifts, and later associated with the giving of presents during the season at the end of the year. The custom of gift giving on Christmas came about partly because of the many legends concerning his generosity.

Another tradition of Christmas in America, is the Christmas tree. Usually everyone in the family helps to trim the tree.

But, of course, the big moment is when small boys and girls, all over America, hang up their stockings on Christmas Eve and await the arrival of Santa Claus!

All of these traditions are based on history, but who invented the warm glow in a parent's eye, which appears when his or her child is opening a package from Santa Claus? This is one tradition which is, by all means the best.

Mr. Shirrell Is Interviewed

By Barbara Rosebaum

The teacher interviewed this week was Mr. Carl Shirrell. The fifth grade teacher is six feet tall, and has brown hair.

Mr. Shirrell was born in Greensburg, Kentucky, and attended college at Western State College, Greensburg, Kentucky. Mr. Shirrell is one of the teachers from North Bend.

Mr. Shirrell's favorite color is blue. Some of his hobbies are farming, hunting, and fishing. When asked what kind of food he likes best, he answered, "All."

The last question I asked was why he chose teaching. He said, "I like children." As I ended this interview, I found that Mr. Shirrell has two children, Robert ware, the Shadow may choose you to be his next victim.

Culver Cagers Are Tops In Their Studies

When Coach Gene Crosley sent his starting five on to the floor in last Tuesday night's basketball game, he started a quintet that probably has the highest academic achievement level of any basketball team in this area, or perhaps the entire state.

Here was the starting lineup and the grades each received in the past grading period: James Carter, 3A, 2B; John Benedict, 3A, 1B; Tom Boswell, 3A, 1B; Paul White, 5A; Sam Lowry, 4A, 1B.

The over-all grade index of this quintet is 3.776 out of a possible 4.0. All five are members of the National Honor Society, with Jim Carter the president. John Benedict has been awarded an academic honor student sweater. Three of the team members are carrying five solids, thereby refuting the popular charge that students go to school just to play basketball. The academic record of these players also dispels the notion that athletes are dumbbells.

Culver High School would be interested in hearing from a school that can top this academic record of its starting basketball team.

NEW CLASSIFICATION — A Bartholomew County weekly received an ad with the request that it be published under the classification, "Help Wanted, Female." The ad started out with these words, "Woman who can drive," etc. The ad was put into type and the first week appeared thusly, "Help Wanted — Female woman who can drive," etc. The editor reported that one subscriber, spotting the ad, chuckled, "Female women! They are the best kind aren't they?"

in the seventh grade and Linda in the fifth. His wife teaches the second grade here at Culver.

We would like to extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Shirrell and his family.

Juniors Plan For Dances

By Diane Boots and James Westcott

The Seniors held a class meeting to decide on their class flower and colors. The flower is the tea rose and their class colors are scarlet and gray. They have ordered their invitations and are counting the days until they will be able to use them. They are also greatly pleased with the amount of money they have made selling concessions at the basketball games.

The Juniors held a class meeting to make plans for their after-the-game dances. It was decided that the admission would be 25 cents per person, as in previous years. They also plan to have cake walks and floor shows at each dance. They are spending a great deal of time trying to find the right band to play for the prom.

The Sophomores certainly do not give up easily, because they are still raking leaves despite the weather, having fudge sales, and are planning to break all records with their money-making projects.

The Freshmen are feeling elated due to the fact that their first two basketball games were victories. They are also having fudge sales and are trying their best to outdo the Sophomores.

A nice time was enjoyed Wed. afternoon when members of the Oher WSCS joined the local society in the regular meeting held in the church basement. Following the business session a Christmas program was enjoyed during which the filmstrips "Christmas Around the World" were shown. A beautifully decorated tree was the main decoration from which each member and guest received a gift of a fifty cent Christmas decoration,—contributed by each member of the society. Following the program refreshments of Christmas cookies, mints, nuts and coffee were served from a table decorated in the Christmas motif.

Announcement has been made of the School of Missions for the Methodist Churches in the group ministry in this area beginning Jan. 7 and running each Sunday evening (except Feb. 4) until Feb. 18. The school will be held at this place on Jan. 4.

THE NUMBER of corporate stockholders in America increased by 1/3 from 1952 to 1956.

The theme of the November school safety poster is an important one for both adults and children to remember. This poster, distributed by the Chicago Motor Club to some 33,000 grade school classrooms in Illinois and Indiana, warns pedestrians of all ages that darning from between parked cars is a dangerous practice. Children playing between parked cars are apt to run into the street unexpectedly.

Remember this: A motorist's view is blocked by parked vehicles, and he is not prepared to stop suddenly for pedestrians crossing in the middle of the block.

contributions to services next Sunday.

Each member contributed to the Christmas program with poems and articles. Rev. Kuhn gave a fine talk, pointing out what great blessings would result if people sacrificed throughout the year for the church and missions as they do at Christmas-time to purchase gifts. The meeting closed with a gift exchange. The next meeting will be Jan. 3 with Mrs. Ronald Quivey.

Clarify Statements
Concerning UNICEF

Editor, CITIZEN:

In answer to Mrs. Mars' letter to the editor dated Nov. 15, we would like to clarify the statements made concerning UNICEF in the article written by Harry T. Everingham in the Indianapolis Star.

Mr. Everingham first stated that UNICEF renders no direct service to children or to mothers. The facts are that UNICEF is the only U.N. agency dealing exclusively with the welfare of children and mothers throughout the world. It operates within the framework of resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of the U.N. The 30-member Executive Board which governs UNICEF is elected by the Economic and Social Council. The Board, which meets twice a year, establishes the areas within which UNICEF will work and considers project assistance requests which are submitted to it by governments. At present there are four communist members on the Board and, as they represent four votes out of a total 30, they are not in a position to exert decisive influence.

UNICEF is financed by voluntary contributions of governments and by private contributions from groups and individuals as well. All contributions are combined in the overall UNICEF budget from which allocations are made by the Board. Once a country has been granted assistance by UNICEF for a particular project, it must periodically submit an accounting of funds and open its doors to UNICEF and relevant specialized agency personnel.

While not a direct service agency, UNICEF supplies have touched the lives of millions of children. To mention only a few figures, up to this year more than 130 million children have been vaccinated against tuberculosis with BCG vaccine provided by UNICEF; more than 15 million children and mothers have been treated for yaws with UNICEF supplied penicillin; more than 6 million children have been treated for trachoma and related eye diseases with medicines provided by UNICEF. UNICEF has furnished technical equipment for maternal and child health centers together with their related sub-centers. In 1960, the average number of children and mothers receiving daily rations of UNICEF-distributed milk amounted to over 5.5 million.

Mr. Everingham also said that UNICEF draws nearly 80% of its money from the United States. UNICEF depends entirely upon voluntary contributions from governments, private groups and individuals. In 1960, UNICEF income was about $26 million; over 83% came from 98 governments; the balance from individuals, organizations and the proceeds of fund-raising campaigns, including Trick or Treat for UNICEF in the United States and Canada and the sale of UNICEF Greeting Cards. The actual percentage drawn from the United States in 1961 was 46%; the per capita contribution to UNICEF for U.S. citizens being less than 7 cents.

He also says that much of UNICEF aid goes to countries with communist governments. The facts are: In the period from 1951 to 1960, only two countries with communist forms of government received aid from UNICEF. These were Poland and Yugoslavia, both of whom, incidentally, are receiving direct aid from the United States.

The United States Committee for UNICEF is made up of individuals who are recognized leaders in the religious, educational, social welfare, business, medical and civic life of our country. Their individual contributions to the well-being of the United States are well known. In its work the Committee enjoys the cooperation of all major religious faiths and of the many national voluntary organizations which are acquainted with the facts of its activities. The United States Government has formally recognized the function of the Committee and has commended its accomplishments.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF is primarily an educational program designed to give American boys and girls better knowledge of their contemporaries in other parts of the world. By that token, even if the small coins collected Trick or Treating were far fewer and the total amount of money donated to the Children's Fund much smaller, the purpose of the program would still be fulfilled inasmuch as it would have provided our communities with a constructive program to associate a fine old American tradition with an expression of concern for the needy children of the world.

The art on the UNICEF Greeting Cards is chosen because it is deemed to have merit — be that originality of design, striking use of color or whatever yardsticks are used. It is hoped that the cards will carry the message of friendship — and certainly there is nothing in that inimical to the spirit of Christmas. The more specific message comes from the heart and pen of the sender, whether it be in celebration of the birth of Christ or any other event revered by different peoples of the world. An attempt is usually made to include traditional scenes associated with Christmas on some of the cards. With regard to the artists, they give their designs without cost to UNICEF and have no vested interest in the sale and distribution of the cards. From the proceeds of the cards sold in 1960, 20,000 small maternal and child health centers were equipped. Thus, countless children who would otherwise have had no access to modern medical care are being given the chance to live normal healthy lives. This sharing is the basic spirit of Christian teachings.

These facts are substantiated by Child Guidance in Christian Living, Pauline Fredrick of the NBC News Department, and material recommended by Mrs. E. Lee Ozbirn, President of the General Federation of Clubs. Also supporting statements for UNICEF have been made by three major religious faiths and by President John F. Kennedy. MRS. Johnny Applesseed

Editor, CITIZEN:

In connection with Al Spiers' story on Johnny Applesseed, I am reminded of an incident that occurred some time in the fall of 1924. Prior to that time not much was heard of Johnny Applesseed and no one seemed to know where he was buried or where his grave was.

As a 14 year-old Boy Scout, along with three younger boys, I was heading up the St. Joe River on an overnight hike to the winter cabins at old Robinson's Park, seven miles north of Fort Wayne.

We followed the course of the old Traction Co. trolley tracks and, as boys will, explored everything along the way. It was thus we "discovered" a little old cemetery and Johnny's grave.

It was so obliterated from years of growth of grass, weeds, brush (and I especially remember the thick stand of sassafras) one could not walk through it. Most of the headstones were down, many broken and overgrown. The iron fence was nearly all broken. But Johnny's marker still stood with name and dates readable. However none of this was observable over 50 feet away.

Our find was later reported to J. L. Anguish the Scout Executive, who interested various parties in restoring the burial site. There was considerable comment about it at the time. I like to think that I played a small part in the revival of the Johnny Applesseed legend.

More On UNICEF

Editor, CITIZEN:

The D. A. R.s, bless them, have taken up the battle cry against that most selfless of all organizations, UNICEF. Their chairman, Mrs. Gaskell, has declared, "This plan to associate the United Nations (through the sale of UNICEF cards) with Christmas... is believed to be part of a Communist plan to destroy all religious beliefs and customs so that one day we shall awaken to find that Dec. 25th is being celebrated as a One World Peace Festival instead of the Birthday of Christ. What, I ask, could be more synonymous?"

As a long time supporter of UNICEF I am shocked to learn that any organization or person would question its usefulness.

Students Send Santa Their Christmas Wishes

By Donna Smith and Larry Linhart

Due to the fact that many parents are now starting to ask their children what they want Santa Claus to bring them, we have taken the liberty to make a Christmas list for all parents.

Nora Sheppard — A typewriter and many other things.
Linda Shock — A globe.
Diane Boots — A Santa Claus suit and a certain soldier.

Beverly Thomas — A certain junior boy and a World History report on the Roman Empire.
Marilee Zechiel — Clothes.

Vickie Lutz — I have what I want, Elm!

Brenda Baker — A pair of ice skates and a certain T.C.E. from Plymouth.

Susie Gardner — A telephone for my room.

Sandy Osborn — A telephone call from New Mexico from a certain sailor.

Pat Lutz — I want a diploma, but I am afraid Santa Claus will postpone my wish!

Chris Hand — A long vacation away from certain teachers.

Martha Lowry — Peace throughout the world.

Bob Carter — Lots of snow!

Ned Davis — The only thing I don't want is leaves! (he is a Sophomore)

Pete Ott — My two front teeth.

Tom Yocom — About ten tons of mistletoe

Beverly Barshes — A five foot, eight inch "Eddy"-bear.

Lucy Osborn — Tomatoes. (Tomatoes?)

Sharon McGaffey — A "Tommy"-gun.

Margo Overmyer — A trip to California to keep a Marine from being lonesome.

Well parents, this is your list and if you can possibly fulfill some of these wishes, you can perform miracles!

Holiday Party Being Planned

By Glenda Dawson

The Sunshine Club held a meeting Dec. 4, to discuss where the girls would like to have the Sunshine, Hi-Y Winter Formal. This information will be announced in next week's issue, since the set place is not final. Carol Overmyer, who is chairman of the Christmas Caroling committee, announced that on Dec. 20, we would go caroling. The time ran out before the entertainment for the day could be presented, so next week's meeting is going to have some special entertainment, which will be given by three of Culver's senior girls. How about Mary Jane, Melissa, and Margo?

The Sunshine candy has really been going fast and the girls have been working hard to sell as much as they can.

The Booster Club has made many nice posters and has been distributing them around the halls of C.H.S. The committees have some pretty clever ideas and it really helps to get the kids in a good spirit for the basketball games.

The Ushers have been doing a fine job at the ball games too.

By Nick Knoerzer and Beverly Thomas

Saturday afternoon was the beginning of this year's Tomahawk staff meetings. From what I hear it turned into a very pleasant evening. Everyone enjoyed Mrs. Graham's cooking, although only four members were drafted into doing the dishes. It did not seem to bother Lana Berger, she was her same ornery self.

Saturday was also the day of Bob White's party. It was said that everyone had a rousing time. Mary Jane Guise was quite busy throughout the evening. If you would like to know more about the activities ask Phil Gretter.

Larry Miller is having a bit of trouble with the girls lately. They always are wanting to see why he is wearing so many high collared sweaters. Only one of the girls does not have to look, Lana Berger.

If anyone wants to know what happened at Martha Lowry's party just ask Tom Easterday. He seems to know all the answers.

We are very happy to notice that one of C.H.S.'s couples is reunited. Congratulations to Donna Smith and Lee Dittmire.

Among the new couples appearing about the halls of dear old Culver are Joan Dillon and Frank Ikert. The other couple this week is Betty Everett and Bob White.

Hey Schmidt, where did you get your whistle? We would like to have you referee the Bourbon game now that you are a full fledged ref.

Another attraction at basketball games are the Senior cords. Seniors put in a good deal of time on these, producing varied and colorful designs. If you would like to see a complete display of these cords attend a ball game. You can also help to cheer the team on.

The students enjoyed the performance of the Indianapolis Symphony, Monday, at the Eppley Auditorium. The first violin player did not look like he was too interested in the music.

Thus, as the cold wind whistles through the doorway and the radiators clang away, the Teepee must close for another week.

PARTICIPATES IN HANDEL'S "MESSIAH" AT DENISON UNIVERSITY

GRANVILLE, OHIO—The 57th annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" was performed at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10, in Swasey Chapel by the 80-voice Denison Concert Choir, 20-piece String Orchestra, and guest soloists under the baton of Dale K. Moore, director of the Denison Conservatory of Music.

Virginia Kay Piersol, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Piersol, 303 Madison St. Culver, sings alto for the Concert Choir.

The Chicago Motor Club advises that on cold winter mornings it is important to let your car engine warm up before venturing into traffic. This good safety habit helps prevent stalling and also prolongs the life of your engine. But remember: If you keep your car in a garage, open all doors before starting the engine. In a closed garage, the concentration of carbon monoxide from your exhaust may be deadly.

Kingsbury Has Room For 11,370 In Atom Attack

Rep. Brademas Announces Survey

Washington, Sept. 27 — Congressman John Brademas of South Bend announced today that a survey by Civil Defense officials showed that storage "igloos" at the unused Kingsbury Ordnance Plant in La Porte County could be modified to serve as fallout shelters for more than 11,000 persons.

The survey was conducted at the special request of Brademas.

A nation-wide survey of shelter space is not scheduled to begin until November, but Brademas requested an earlier study because of impending disposal of the property by the General Services Administration and the interest in the shelter potential of KOP shown by local citizens.

All Walls Are Concrete

The igloo type structures were built as storage magazines for munitions manufactured at the ordnance plant. There are 88 of the round-roofed igloos which have a maximum height of 12 feet 9 inches and are 28 feet wide. They vary in length from 41 feet 6 inches to 82 feet 6 inches. The buildings are constructed of reinforced concrete and covered with earth.

Preliminary findings indicate that the 88 igloos at KOP could accommodate 11,370 persons in case of nuclear attack. Some extensive modifications of the structures would be necessary, however, before they could be approved as fallout shelters by Civil Defense.

Total Cost Of $615,000

These would include a well and piping for water, kitchen and sanitary facilities, electricity and ventilation. Civil Defense authorities estimate that the cost per sheltered person would approximate $54, or a total cost of about $615,000.

Civil Defense officials said in the report that after modification the igloos would provide adequate fallout protection.

Brademas pointed out that only very limited Federal funds have been allocated this year for alteration of existing buildings to provide potential shelters. He said, "I want to make very clear that there is no money currently earmarked for the conversion of KOP buildings into shelters. I am glad however that Civil Defense authorities are showing attention to shelter planning for our area."

More Information Needed

The Civil Defense report recommends that a final decision to develop the igloos as shelters should depend upon the availability of mass shelters in existing buildings in the cities and towns of the areas. The area would include Michigan City, LaPorte, Kingsbury, Kingsford Heights, Union City, Stillwell, and Tracey. Brademas has asked Civil Defense authorities for more information on buildings in these communities.

Brademas says he will inform the General Service Administration that the igloos are under consideration for use as shelters. GSA has responsibility for disposing of the Kingsbury Ordnance Plant as surplus property. GSA officials will be meeting with local leaders shortly to discuss possible uses for the KOP property.

The Congressman congratulated the regional office of the Office of Civil Defense in Battle Creek, Mich., for the promptness and thoroughness of the report on KOP and thanked them for recognizing the special circumstances and acting in advance of the nation-wide study.

Praises Legion Auxiliary

Brademas also commended the members of the American Legion auxiliary of Kingsford Heights, who originally suggested the use of KOP during national emergency, for their responsible attitude toward civil defense.

The theme of the December school safety poster distributed by the Chicago Motor Club to some 33,000 grade school classrooms in Illinois and Indiana is "Wear White After Dark."

During the winter months, when daylight hours are shorter, three out of every five pedestrian fatalities occur during darkness. It is easier for motorists to see pedestrians wearing white clothing which reflects light coming from automobile headlights and street lights. Always wear or carry something white when walking at night. Avoid accidents by being seen.

New Generating Plant Will Serve REMC Consumers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Hoosier Cooperative Energy, Inc., Thursday, Dec. 7, filed a petition with the Public Service Commission asking for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct a 198,000-kilowatt steam generating plant in Pike county on the White River near Petersburg.

The petition was filed by attorney Ralph Zoercher of Tell City on behalf of 17 Rural Electric Membership Corporations (REMCs) in southern Indiana, which comprise the members of the generating cooperative.

Financing for the new plant was approved June 15 by the Rural Electrification Administration. Construction of the generating plant on a 212-acre site and the erection of 1,552 miles of transmission lines will require an investment of $60,225,000. The system will serve 75,000 REMC member-owner-consumers in most of the rural territory south of Highway 40.

The REA loan which will be repaid in full with interest over 35 years, will be released to start construction when the Public Service Commission issues the required certificate.

Both state and federal laws give electric cooperatives authority to engage in generation of electric energy. Provisions for doing so are specifically set forth in the Indiana REMC Act of 1935 and in the federal Rural Electrification Act of 1936.

The state statute also provides for the protection of the territorial rights of the REMCs. It limits REMC service areas to rural sections and towns or villages under 1,500 population.

State law also prevents the REMCs from serving any consumer already being served with electricity by any investor-owned or municipally-owned utility.

REMCs under the statutes are obligated to furnish electricity to everyone in their assigned territories who applies for service.

Coordinator Ratts pointed out that construction and operation of the Hoosier Energy generating plant over a 10-year period will benefit the economy of southern Indiana by $60,243,555, including payrolls, rights-of-way and clearing, supplies and services, taxes and interest.

A coal mine will be opened to provide the energy for turning the steam generators. Only Indiana coal will be used by the plant.

Generation of electric energy will result in lower power costs for this area, Ratts explained.

"Hoosier Energy," he said, "will make it more feasible for industrial plants to locate and operate, and will provide lower cost electric service for rural consumers."

"It will also set up a yardstick to measure the reasonableness of electric rates charged by commercial utilities for industrial and residential consumers alike."

"By offering an additional inducement for industries to locate in this area and for present industries to expand, Hoosier Energy is helping to make available more job opportunities."

"This will benefit many thousands of residents in this area, a section of our state which long has been plagued by chronic unemployment and under-employment," Ratts pointed out.

GREEN THUMBER — A Portland man, forced by failing health five years ago to "take things easy" went in for gardening in a big way. In a feature article in the Portland Graphic, Lucille Thomas described the fabulous gardens of the man, Guy Pubp. In the yard of his home this year Pubp had around 2,000 tulips and asters, 75 chrysanthemums, more than two dozen peonies and hundreds of iris. In lesser numbers were bachelor buttons, marigolds, poppies, begonias, zinnias, cockscomb and creeping phlox. As an innovation he planted lettuce to form a solid green bed as a background for his peonies.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be heard Sunday at Christian Science churches.

Opening the Scriptural readings will be this passage from Psalm 19: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. . . The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes."

Also pointing up the supreme power of God are correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy which include (p. 272): "God is the divine Principle of all that represents Him and all that really exists."

Wide Awake Class To Meet
Members of the Wide Awake Class of the Culver Methodist Church will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 21, at the home of Mrs. Herschel Rector for an old-fashioned Christmas party and $1 gift exchange.

The Culver Inn Listed In New Travel Book

Receives Duncan Hines Recognition

The Culver Inn has received national recognition in the new 1962 edition of the Duncan Hines Travel Book "Lodging for a Night." Roy H. Park, editor-in-chief of the Duncan Hines Institute, announced today.

The Culver Inn is one of 4800 lodging places in North America recommended by Duncan Hines. Other Duncan Hines books are: the companion travel book, "Adventures in Good Eating," also newly republished; and the Duncan Hines guide to resorts and vacation spots, "Vacation Guide," the latest edition published in July.

"This is our 27th year of continuous publication and service to the American traveling public," Park stated. "It is also our fifth year of continuing surveys—our public opinion audit of eating and lodging establishments. This year we received 60,000 nominations of more than 12,000 restaurants, hotels, motels and resorts from 11,000 people who have the means to eat and stay at the best places in North America."

These survey results plus comments from the traveling public and an actual inspection by a staff field representative, Park said, provide the guides for making the final selection of the 3 out of 100 establishments in the hospitality industry listed in the three Duncan Hines Travel Books.

"It has been our policy never to apply public ratings to places receiving the Duncan Hines recommendation," he explained. "Listings give the facts and are so worded that a traveler can decide for himself which establishment best suits his tastes and needs. Listings are by merit only. There is no charge for a listing—in fact, no charges of any sort—nothing hidden, no membership fees, no commissions, no acceptance of advertising or gratuities."

The 1962 editions have been completely rewritten and revised, listing by listing, the editor-in-chief pointed out, as well as having revised covers.

"The new 'Adventures in Good Eating' contains more pages than ever before—422—but fewer listings. Anyone using this new book will find many new eating places included, for we made 750 changes in places newly listed or deleted since 1960," Park pointed out.

"Lodging for a Night" represents some 450 changes in places newly listed or deleted since last year. This new edition is also the largest ever published in number of pages—416. More detailed information and inclusion of the new hotels and motor hotels built in North America in 1961 necessitated increased size, the Institute spokesman reported.

Both books have latest information on new telephone and interstate route numbers as well as turnpike exits and airport proximity.

Despite the increased size of the books, Parks notes that both are still "convenient pocket size and still selling for the same $1.50 price that has prevailed for over a quarter of a century—as a continuing service to the millions of Americans who have traveled by Duncan Hines."

Business Discussed

1961, even though it is always possible for some last-minute occurrence to change the outlook. Readers will get my detailed "Outlook for 1962" in this paper the last week of December. It will treat of Business, Inflation, Retail Trade, Wages, Employment, Politics, and the Stock Market. From what I see now, this Forecast should indicate a Merry Christmas for you.

All sections of the country, of course, will not be equally happy this Christmas. The thousands of families in Texas and other areas which have suffered damaged and lost homes from hurricanes and floods cannot be expected to forget their losses. On the other hand, states which have been drought-ridden are rejoicing over recent rains. The weather could still be a big factor in this year's Christmas buying. In fact, we are inclined not to attach enough importance to un governable forces such as weather, floods, epidemics, threat of war, etc.

Building Shelters

The present rush to build fallout shelters poses another question for business. Too much talk along these lines could hurt general trade. Manufacturers may ask, "If this fallout is coming, why work so hard? Why bother?" And workers may give more thought to the problem of finding shelter than to doing their jobs or spending their Christmas bonuses. Worry about the future could conceivably have a darkening effect on the outlook for retail trade this approaching Holiday Season.

By DAVID KELLY, Scribe

Eighteen Scouts, two leaders, and the Troop Committee were present Monday, Dec. 11. A film on the "Cottontail Rabbit" was shown by Conservation Officer Donald Wainwright. Mr. Wainwright also gave a talk on conservation.

Greg Dawson went before the Board of Review for Life rank. Ken Tasch and Kent Overmyer passed their Tenderfoot.

Our Christmas party will be held next Monday. All Scouts should bring a gift of not more than 50 cents. The Arrows will furnish the cider and the Hawks are providing the cookies and the doughnuts.

We are selling Christmas trees at Mel's Standard Service Station.

Culver Indians Defeated By Knox and Bourbon

Meet Rochester, Walkerton Next

By EARL D. MISHLER
The Culver Indians stumbled through a rugged five days last week, losing three more games to run their losing streak to seven in a row. The Indians were victims of North Judson, 79-45, Knox, 42-32, and Bourbon, 59-42.
Last Tuesday evening, Coach Gene Crosley's squad played host to the Blue Jays of North Judson. The game was loosely played all the way, with Culver lacking both the defense to stop the hot-shooting Starke County boys and the offense to match them. Tom Risner, Judson's 6'0" senior forward, stunned a local audience with a spectacular shooting display. Risner hit 29 points, playing less than three quarters. The Culver cause was hurt very severely as their senior front line of John Benedict, Tom Boswell, and Jim Carter all got into foul trouble early. Paul White's 11 points were Culver's best.

Lose To Knox 42-32
Friday night the Indians, sporting a new 2-1-2 zone defense, slowed down the tall and talented Knox Redskins, but lost, 42-32. Working carefully for the good shots and hitting them often, Culver grabbed a 20-15 halftime lead against the stunned Skins. But with four players 6'2" or taller, Knox began to control both backboards. Their rebounding, coupled with their very tight zone defense, spelled defeat for the Culverites. 6'4" center Ken Kemble tallied 16 points for Knox, while Carter hit 11, playing the pivot in Culver's zone offense.

Saturday's Home Game
Bourbon's deep and speedy Comets also were slowed down by Coach Crosley's newly-developed defense on Saturday night at Culver. But Benedict's ever-bothersome knee was re-injured, and Boswell picked up his fourth foul early in the second half. As a result, the Indians fell steadily behind after holding a 20-17 lead at intermission. Boswell hit 10 points to top Culver's scoring, lanky Richard Anders led the visitors with 16.

B-Team Shows Promise
Hopes for the future took on a brighter look this week as the Culver B-Team picked up their first win and continued to show steady improvement. North Judson's Baby Jays won, 52-34, as their Jim Menis and Culver's Dave Lemar shared scoring honors with 14 points apiece. The Papooses gave Coach Crosley his first victory at Culver with 32-30 win over Knox Friday. Frank Ikirt's 14 points led the winners while Jerry Smith had eight for Knox. Bourbon, boasting a very tall B-Team, barely nipped the Papooses Saturday, 35-33. The Comets' Glenn Trowbridge and Culver's Ned Davis had eight points apiece. It must be remembered that while most of Culver's opponents load their B-Team with experienced juniors, the Papooses are strictly a frosh-soph team, with only Ikirt, Davis, and Tom Yocom ever having had previous B-Team experience.

Meet Rochester Here Friday
Friday night, local fans may witness the early season favorite (in this reporter's eyes) for the Plymouth Sectional crown, as Rochester's Zebras invade Culver. Game time is 6:15 p.m. (CST)

Travel To Walkerton Tuesday
Next Tuesday the Indians travel to Walkerton in their final outing before Christmas vacation. The game at Walkerton will start at 6:45 p.m. (CST)

Academy Sports

Coach Chet Marshall's Culver Military Academy basketball team will delay its Christmas vacation long enough to take on Dyer and Bloomington University high schools in a pair of weekend road games Friday and Saturday.

Boasting a 3-1 record after a split last weekend, the Eagles can hope to get a better idea of their 1961-62 chances after the games at Dyer and Bloomington. Both squads posted victories over Culver last year.

The latest game added to the basketball scorebook was a 65-52 triumph here Saturday night over Pike High School of Indianapolis. The victory helped atone for the one-sided 75-40 pasting the Eagles took the night before at Crown Point.

A poor shooting percentage at Crown Point plus some costly ballhandling mistakes helped bring about the defeat. But Culver corrected most of these when Pike came into town Saturday. The Maroon and White got ahead and stayed ahead despite frantic efforts in the last quarter when Pike tried to rattle the Eagles with a full-court press. Pike got as close as nine points at one stage in the third quarter, but Culver held an 11-point lead most of the way.

The big point man was a little guy 5-9 John Teeter of South Bend, who hit 22 against Pike. Teeter was held to one field goal at Crown Point.

In other Academy sports, the wrestling team broke its losing streak of three matches by applying the muscle to Pike, 37-13. The Cadets won nine of the 12 matches, four by pins. The Acad-

HOOSIER ENERGY GENERATING PLANT—

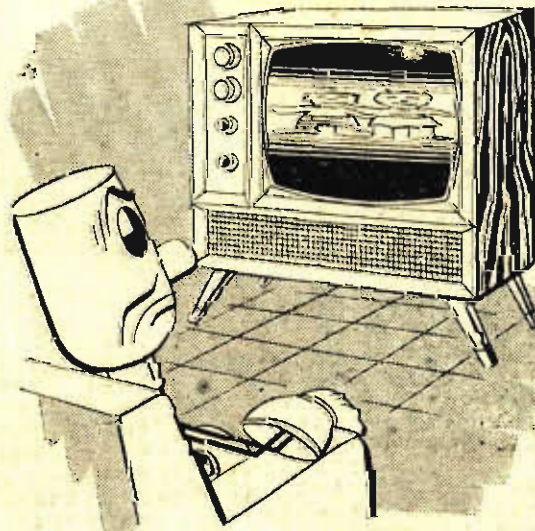

Rural Indiana needs more power NOW— in many places

Private utilities contend there is plenty of power available for rural Indiana. They insist the REMC generating plant at Petersburg is a "duplication of facilities." They claim their combined facilities are capable of generating over a million kilowatts above their 1961 estimated peak load.

This is like telling a family that needs money there is plenty of gold at Fort Knox. The fact is: No commodity is usable unless and until it becomes available where it is needed. Their own record of performance shows that utilities make electricity available to REMCs where the utility wants to deliver it—not necessarily where REMCs must have the power.

Right now, REMCs need more power in many areas. Yet Public Service Company of Indiana has refused to negotiate contracts that would deliver power, on acceptable terms, where REMCs must have it. Instead this supplying utility has delivered an ultimatum to the REMCs demanding a "perpetual" agreement and a dual rate that would charge 33 per cent more for all power REMCs deliver to industrial users on REMC lines.

Hoosier Energy will generate low cost power for rural Indiana—power that REMCs will deliver to those who need it where they need it in REMC service territories
