Culver Fire Dept. Called To Aid Plymouth Dept.

The Culver Fire Department was called Friday to aid the Plymouth Department in controlling a fire at the home of Lewis Griewank, three miles west of Plymouth. The fire, which destroyed the Griewank home, started in the enclosed front porch. Before the fire department from Plymouth arrived, the fire was out of control.

Flames leaped to surrounding trees and out buildings. Sparks caught the dry grass on fire along a corn field, which also started to burn. The Culver Department was called to furnish extra tanker supply of water to help bring the blaze under control. Firemen battled the blaze over 4 hours.

Last Wednesday the Culver Department was called to the Howard Shock farm near Hibbard, to extinguish a grass fire which had gotten out of control. No damage was done.

Rudolph Bohm Is Narrowly Missed By Train

Rudolph Bohm, 520 South Plymouth Street, can thank his lucky star that must have been watching over him last Wednesday noon. Bohm was walking his dog along the tracks of the Penn. R. R. near Culver City Park. The dog suddenly ran onto the tracks in front of an oncoming freight train of 70 cars. Bohm, thinking the dog would be killed, ran after him and picked the dog up. As he did so, he stumbled and fell along the side of the tracks just as the freight passed by.

The engine crew of the freight made an emergency stop, thinking the train had caught Bohm just as he fell, inflicting serious injury. Split second timing is all that saved Bohm's life.

Bohm was treated at the Culver Clinic for a sprained wrist and laceration of the knee.

CULVER FIREMEN ANSWER MONDAY EVENING ALARM

The building was used for storage and had a television set and storm windows in it.

The damage was estimated at $25 and was covered by insurance.

Charles C. Mather, 71, Dies Saturday After Long Illness

Charles Chambers Mather, 71, retired chairman of the English Department at Culver Military Academy and one of the country's leading drama educators, died Saturday afternoon, Aug. 25, in Parkview Hospital, Plymouth.

Death was attributed to cancer. He had been in ill health for several years and was hospitalized several weeks ago.

Doctor Mather was born May 10, 1891, in Ottumwa, Iowa, graduated from Ottumwa High School, and then matriculated to Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill.

Majoring in English and German at Lake Forest Doctor Mather received his A.B. degree in 1914. For high academic achievement, he was awarded Shield Honors and spoke at the 1914 commencement. The late Professor G. Walter Bridgeman said of Doctor Mather, "We consider him the best natural actor we have had here in years, particularly in the field of comedy." He also was editor of the student yearbook, a varsity football player for three years, a varsity baseball player for three years, and captain in his senior year. He always took a keen interest in Lake Forest affairs. In 1947, in recognition of his outstanding abilities as an educator and dramatist and his devotion to his alma mater, he was awarded an honorary doctor of pedagogy degree by Lake Forest College.

Following graduation from Lake Forest, Doctor Mather studied at Harvard for a year under Professor George P. Baker in the famed English 47 course. Later, he also did additional graduate work at Stanford University.

Following his year at Harvard, Doctor Mather returned to Lake Forest College for two years to teach English and dramatics. He then enlisted in the Army Air Force during World War I and served as a flying cadet.

After teaching English and German for two years at The Evans School, Mesa, Ariz., Doctor Mather joined the Culver Military Academy faculty in 1921 as an English, dramatics and public speaking instructor. He was named acting chairman of the English Department in 1932 and became chairman in 1935, a position he held until 1955. From 1944 to 1956 he also was assistant to the superintendent. In 1956-57, he was chairman of the Academy's public relations department. Since 1957 he has been a part-time consultant in public relations.

An inspired and inspiring teacher, Doctor Mather is beloved by generations of former students, many of whom have kept in touch with him by letters and personal visits throughout his life. He is credited with introducing to literature and drama an exciting interest in these fields in a number of students who have achieved fame. Among them are Joshua Logan, stage and motion picture director and producer; Ernest Gann, author; Hal Holbrook, actor; Edmund North, motion picture writer; and H. Oliver

Rea, play producer. Mr. Logan often sent scripts he was considering to Doctor Mather for criticism and asked him to dress rehearsals of his plays to make critical comment.

At the Culver commencement in June 1961 Doctor Mather's former students presented to the Academy a plaque in his honor. The inscription reads, "He stirred our minds and nourished our dreams. He fanned the flame, however feeble, he found in each of us." The plaque is located in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium, a magnificent theater for which Doctor Mather advised on the stage, lighting, and equipment.

Doctor Mather was a pioneer in the field of outdoor theater, and for years he put on spectacular pageants during Culver summer sessions. He spoke on the outdoor theater at the opening of the Yale Theater in 1927. He also directed 99 student productions and many productions of a little theater group known as the Maxinkuckee Mummies. For several summers Doctor Mather was associated with the old Silver Beach Theatre on Cape Cod.

Doctor Mather was a prolific writer in the theater, education, and history. He is the author of a drama textbook, "Behind the Footlights," a history, "History of Culver Military Academy — 1894-1956," compiler of a book of aphorisms, "Sentiments to Live By," and editor of an anthology of essays by Culver men, "Notice, Sirs!" In addition, Doctor Mather wrote many articles for various educational journals.

Over the years Doctor Mather was active in many educational organizations. In 1961 he was awarded an honorary life membership in the American Education Theatre Association.

Doctor Mather resided on Academy Road, Culver. His wife, the former Alice Douglas whom he met while both were students at Lake Forest College, died in 1959. Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. James E. Cocker, 507 5th St., New Cumberland, Pa., and Mrs. E. M. Wehner, 4875 Pluewood Dr., Lorain, Ohio.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 28, at the Memorial Chapel on the Academy campus with the Rev. W.C.R. Sheridan, pastor of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Plymouth, officiating. Interment was made in the Culver Masonic Cemetery. The Easterday Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Local Bank Is Voting Place For Wheat Quotas

The State Exchange Bank will be the polling place to vote on wheat marketing quotas for the 1963 crop of wheat for Green, Union and Walnut Townships, as announced by Carl Price, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The wheat quota ballots may be cast from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 30.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum will be those who produce more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1963 in any of the 39 commercial wheat states.

However, any producers who signed applications under the feed wheat provisions permitting them to grow wheat for use as feed on the farm for 1962 will not be eligible to vote in the referendum on quotas for the 1963 crop, Mr. Price pointed out.

At least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum August 30 must approve marketing quotas if they are to become effective.

In general, the 1963 wheat program which will be in effect under existing legislation provides for farm acreage allotments set on the basis of a minimum national wheat allotment of 55 million acres. The minimum price support would be at a national average of $1.82 per bushel (75 percent of parity) under a quota program. Marketing quota penalties would apply to the "excess" wheat of growers with more than 15 acres of wheat who did not comply with their acreage allotments.

If farmers disapprove marketing quotas, there would be no restrictions on wheat marketing in 1963. However, under the law, acreage allotments would remain in effect and would be used to determine eligibility for price support at the 50-percent-of-parity rate required by law if quotas are not approved. Under this rate, the national average price support for wheat would be about $1.21 per bushel. However, farmers who choose not to stay within their acreage allotments would not be eligible for price support.

Long Distance Rate Reductions Will Benefit Culver

Long distance telephone rate reductions, which will save Indiana telephone users about $1,500,000 annually, has been announced by the Public Service Commission.

The announcement followed the Public Service Commission requiring the filing of new rate schedules for intrastate long distance service by Indiana Bell Telephone Company. Indiana Bell in turn worked with all other telephone companies in the state in obtaining conforming rate schedules.

Judge Merton Stanley, Commission Chairman, said the proposed rate changes had been worked out at the initiative of the Commission during a series of conferences with Indiana Bell officials. Judge Stanley stated that the reduced charges on daytime station-to-station calls, wholly within the state, would all but eliminate the difference between rates for this type of service and those for calls of the same distance across state lines.

Governor Matthew E. Welsh, commenting on the reductions, said, "The removal of this inequity in long distance rates between the cities, as compared with out-of-state calls, will mean a substantial savings for many Hoosier firms and individuals."

"The Public Service Commission has performed a real service to telephone users in its initial action for this reduction in rates."

Judge Stanley pointed out that after October 1, the proposed effective date for the new intrastate rates, and daytime rates on station-to-station calls beyond eight miles, would be the same as those for interstate calls spanning the same distances.

He said the rate difference has existed for years.

The long distance rate reductions will amount to as much as 20 cents on some 3-minute, person-to-person calls, and 10 cents on many others. Station-to-station rates will be reduced as much as 10 cents on some 3-minute calls and five cents on many others. On conversations lasting more than 3 minutes, the rate reductions will be even greater.

Evening station-to-station rates, applicable between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. and on Sundays and holidays, remain generally unchanged. Present Indiana night rates, under which customers may talk twice as long from one Indiana telephone to another for the regular evening station-to-station charge, will remain in effect. These rates apply between the hours of 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m.

Yesterday Indiana Bell filed two uniform schedules of rates and charges for a number of miscellaneous services it offers. These changes make uniform such charges and bring them into line with schedules already applicable to over half of Indiana Bell's customers, including those in Culver, South Bend, Mishawaka and Osceola.

Indiana Bell Telephone Company officials have informed the Public Service Commission that the increase in these service charges may amount to approximately $500,000 annually.

SIT TIGHT — When the telephone rang in the fire station at Hope, a Bartholomew County town, the caller informed the firemen to "Sit tight, a fire is coming to you." Shortly, Mrs. Johanna Davis of Greensburg, drove up with the front seat of her car afire. The blaze was quickly extinguished. A service station attendant who had noticed the fire directed Mrs. Davis to the fire station and then telephoned the firemen she was on her way with the blaze.

BEGINS AT 90 — At the age of 90 a Boone County man has started up a new business at Zionsville. The Rev. John Hinman, who explains he took up woodworking "when I became too old for the ministry," has begun the manufacture of folding bleacher seats in a shop in Zionsville. He had been a Baptist minister for 70 years. He is a native Hoosier, having been born at Vevay.

FARMERS WARNED OF SILO FILLER'S DISEASE THREAT

Silo Filler's Disease is a lung condition that sometimes strikes workers whose chores require that they enter silos where feed is stored.

The first two cases of the disease were reported in 1954, but it was not clearly recognized until about 1956. Even today very few individuals are acquainted with the facts about Silo Filler's Disease and its importance.

The damage is caused by nitrogen dioxide gas, which is given off from freshly stored material in a silo. Much more is produced by alfalfa than by corn silage. Gas production reaches its peak within 24 hours and seems to be over in two or three days. The gas is heavier than air, so it goes to the lowest available level.

It is a yellowish gas and in high concentrations may be visible as a yellowish-orange haze. Its odor is pungent. Immediately on contact with respiratory passages is causes a burning irritation. Once in the lungs it unites with the moisture there and forms nitric acid, which damages tissues on contact. Two to five minutes exposure is fatal in a high percentage of cases.

In a matter of five minutes the exposure may be so great that the person becomes unconscious. With a lesser exposure, the person complains of coughing, trouble with breathing and weakness. There are two forms of the disease.

In the acute form the patient is very ill from the start. In a milder case the patient seems to get over initial symptoms rapidly, except for a slight cough, night sweats and progressive weakness. In this latent type the patient becomes acutely ill in about three weeks and the disease may prove fatal at this time or leave the person a chronic invalid. However, with good medical care he may regain his health after many months.

If people are made aware of the facts, Silo Filler's Disease can be avoided. The way to prevent it is to stay out of a silo for at least seven to ten days after putting in fresh material.

If charity begins at home, then certainly it should continue on the highway. The Institute for Safer Living says that motorists for the most part drive to the best of their ability. Some drivers have less ability than others, but they cannot be denied use of the highways because of this lack. If you're a good driver, be charitable and considerate toward others who may lack your skill. Probably they wish to avoid accidents as much as you. Help them do so.

Many drivers involved in rear-end collisions are quick to blame the other fellow for driving too close ahead. They may be partially right. Many tailgate accidents occur because the lead car's brake stop lights were not working. In such cases the driver behind may not receive sufficient warning of a sudden stop, even though he thinks he is following at a safe margin of distance. However, there is rarely a legitimate excuse for hitting the car in front of you.

RICHARD BERNARD SKELTON, BORN, 1913, VINCENTES, INDIANA

See Red Skelton, in person, at the Indiana State Fair at Indianapolis, September 1-2-3. Watch "The Red Skelton Show" in its new one-hour version on CBS-TV, starting Sept. 25.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN INDIANA, Governor Oliver P. Morton, on an urgent appeal from Cincinnati, Ohio, rushed a trainload of Indiana troops across the border. He so successfully directed that city's defenses that the rebels abandoned their attack. Back in Indiana, proud Hoosiers toasted their governor with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment. Hoosiers have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

HE WALKED ALONE that night through the streets of Montreal. He was lost in thought. And the thoughts weren't good.

Things were going from bad to worse for the husky redhead. His comedy act just wasn't doing well. Audiences were skimpy, and lukewarm. He'd have to move on. But where? And how? He was almost broke.

He saw a coffee stand and went in for a cup. As he sipped, he cast an eye down the counter. And there he saw a doughnut dunker! Clumsy, careless—but completely determined. The redhead watched—fascinated. "This could be it," he thought. And it was!

Red Skelton's genius for pantomime, his instinct for comic exaggeration, turned that evening's incident into his hilarious "doughnut dunker routine." He soon was booked into the New York bigtime. Then came radio and movies. And his greatest triumph, television.

Today, millions forget their troubles as they laugh at the antics of this gifted clown on TV. And this has been the goal of Red Skelton since his boyhood days in Vincennes. "We're all put on earth for a purpose, and mine is to make people laugh."

"The Red Skelton Show," or any other network TV show, is viewed here through the use of many Indiana Bell facilities. In fact, the first public demonstration of television was made by the Bell System back in 1927!

Today, many Bell System technical achievements are vital to television broadcasting: the coaxial cable, the coast-to-coast microwave radio relay system and the electronic transistor, for example!

And now—Telstar! A revolutionary advance which has proven world-wide telecasting is possible by means

For the first time there will be organized at the South Bend-Mishawaka campus the A Capella Singers, with Einar Krantz as director. The group will meet on Wednesdays, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 19, in Room 44 of the I.U. building.

Dr. Detzler also has announced that an applied music program will be inaugurated this fall whereby credit may be earned in both instrumental and vocal areas. The applied music teachers for the South Bend-Mishawaka campus will be Mrs. Charlotte Day, Joseph Henderson, Miss Theophila Makielski, Mrs. Green and Krantz, piano; Louis Habegger and Deardorff, brass and woodwinds; Mrs. William Harnisch and Krantz, organ, and Harold Kotolowski, violin, viola and string bass.

CMA Cadets Sponsor Overseas Children

The Cadets of the Culver Military Academy are sponsoring six overseas children through Save the Children Federation, international child service organization with headquarters in Norwalk, Conn. The children who benefit from the sponsorships are from West Germany, Greece, Finland, France and Lebanon.

Funds from the cadets will be used differently for each child, depending on their needs. Alain Boels, a sixteen-year-old French boy, whose sponsorship is the project of Battery "A", will be helped with a scholarship. Alain is an honor student in a technical college in the town of Rosendael in the industrial North of France. If he could not continue with his studies he would have to work as an unskilled laborer and earn a meager salary.

A different kind of assistance is going to Marcelle Ibrahim el-Fouli, a six-year-old Lebanese girl, who is sponsored by the cadets of Company "B". Marcelle's parents want to own a milking cow but have no cash. According to the father, "The cow will give the children milk and leave some milk and a calf for sale."

Marcelle's family of seven members lives with her two uncles in three rooms and a kitchen. They have no running water or electricity. The father, who is handicapped, works as a manual laborer when work is available. Their village, Abra, is east of the old Phoenician City of Sidon. The village land belongs to the Catholic Convent. The inhabitants lead a quiet rural life.

INDIANA CROPS

Crop outlook for Indiana corn and soybeans continues to show improvement as of Aug. 1, report state-federal statisticians at Purdue University.

Production of corn for grain as of Aug. 1 is forecast at 336,224,000 bushels, nine per cent above the 1961 crop and 25 per cent above the 1951-1960 average. Indicated yield of 79 bushels per acre is five bushels more than the previous record high of 74 bushels established in 1961.

Indiana's soybean crop is forecast at 81,432,000 bushels, the largest of record and six per cent above the 1961 crop. Probable yield of 29 bushels per acre, if realized, will be a record large and compares with the 1961 yield of 28 bushels and the average of 24.1 bushels per acre.

The 1962 wheat crop is estimated at 38,908,000 bushels, 14 per cent less than the 1961 crop. The Aug. 1 yield of 35.5 bushels per acre established a new record high yield.

Oat production at 36,537,000 bushels increased slightly from earlier forecasts. Yield per acre at 57 bushels compares with last year's yield of 44 bushels and the 10-year average yield of 43 bushels.

Barley production on Indiana farms is expected to total 1,386,000 bushels. This is 27 per cent less than last year and 21 per cent below average.

Production of rye at 1,320,000 bushels is five per cent lower than last year. Sorghum grain this year is placed at 558,000 bushels, 27 per cent below last year but above average. Hay production at 2,452,000 tons is four per cent below a year ago.

Habitually loading your car with "excessives" can be a dangerous practice. The Institute for Safer Living says that toys, tools, bundles and other loose objects left in the family car from one trip to the next may produce needless injury. In the event of a sudden stop or an accidental impact, these articles may fly through the air and strike occupants with damaging force.

COUNTY SAVINGS BONDS SALES UP FOR JULY

Paul Swearingen, chairman of the Marshall County U. S. Savings Bonds Committee, has received a report revealing that the county's Savings Bonds Sales for July were $132,421.96 compared with $26,504.00 for the corresponding period of last year.

The state's sales for July were $12,337,365 and $10,363,280 for the same period of 1961 — a gain of 19 per cent. Sixty-five of the state's 92 counties reported sales gains for the month when compared with July, 1961. With sales increasing redemptions are decreasing, thus net gains in bonds outstanding.

Babson Discusses Local Banks

Support Of Local Banks Urged

Babson Park, Mass., According to the newspapers, one hundred billion dollars has been lost in stock values since May 28, 1962. Selling has been done for one of three purposes: (1) By people who have been buying stocks on borrowed money and want to reduce their loans; (2) by people who have temporarily quit the stock market and simply charged off their loss to experience; and (3) by those who sold out at a profit and are putting their money into savings banks.

Stock Prices Versus Yields

Wherever the market may be historically, it is high in consideration of the low yields of most good stocks. These yields are from 2% to 3% mostly. Compared with this most savings banks pay from 3 1/2% to 4 1/2% on deposits, which deposits they advertise as "insured by an agency of the government." Therefore, many of those who sold out and took a capital gain are depositing their money to secure a rate of 3 1/2% or more.

I am devoting my column today to discussing the various advertisements in magazines, placed largely by big-city West Coast banks and savings and loan associations, promising this high rate of interest with safety. Probably some people in each of the 400 cities in which this column appears are sending money out of their local community for deposit in one of these establishments which advertise in leading magazines. I believe this is wrong and unpatriotic.

My Own Experience
I invest money for a charitable organization in Gloucester, Massachusetts, for which I sold stocks at a handsome profit early in 1962. I deposited $75,000 with the Savings Department of the Cape Ann National Bank & Trust Company at 3 1/2% interest. I invested $50,000 in the 4% stock of the company which supplies Gloucester with natural gas. This preferred stock sells at a discount to yield around 5%.

One of my co-trustees urged that I use the 3 1/2% deposit to buy similar cumulative preferred stocks which would yield 5%. The able Vice President, Mr. Walden Anderson, telephoned me that a member of my family is a director of the bank and that my great-uncle was one of the founders! Thereupon I agreed to leave this $75,000 at 3 1/2% with the understanding that, if the rate is changed to 4% for new deposits, this charitable trust's deposit of $75,000 will be marked up to 4%, although, of course, the higher return will not be made retroactive.

Every City Needs Strong Banks

I believe that it is very unpatriotic for anyone living in an eastern city to withdraw his account from a local bank, or to take his "capital gains" and send the money to great banks in Los Angeles or even San Francisco. Every one of the 400 cities or towns having this column needs the money for expansion for established local businesses. Southern California, which is getting a majority of the defense money and is starting new electronic companies every week, does not, in my judgment, need the money.

For a community to grow, its people must realize that its banks are a "two-way street." In order to loan money, the banks must increase their deposits. Therefore, the local people should not withdraw their money and send same to big Western banks.

Help Your Local Banks And Industries

This means keeping deposits at home and not sending them away at the present time. Of course, there are a lot of smaller places in California which are growing too fast and need additional funds; but be sure you are helping these smaller California towns. Try to visit them personally. It will do them good and do you good. California is a wonderful state.

All of the above is irrespective of World War III. I haven't believed that World War III is imminent, and have not become interested in "shelters" and some of the other things which are being advocated. On the other hand, after reading that the National Biscuit Company has just been awarded a contract for $4.8 million to manufacture and store "survival biscuits," I am at my wit's end. Apparently our State Department needs a thorough overhauling, and this probably includes a new U.S. strategy in foreign relations.

HOW ABOUT A GREAT BIG HAND FOR OUR FOOD ENTERPRISE?

Attention, Disbelieving Housewives:
Today's cost of food is just about the same as it was 10 years ago!

The Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc. reports this eye-opening news:

"As measured by the government's 'standard market basket,' the prices of food bought for home consumption this summer average very nearly the same as in the summer of 1952 — despite a 17 per cent rise in the cost of the combined total of all other items in the government's Price Index."

But why do most homemakers insist their food bill is higher today than ever?

Says Paul S. Willis, GMA president:

"First of all, the number of non-food items in grocery stores and super markets has become much bigger. Grocery bills today include many items previously bought elsewhere — for example: cigarettes, magazines, kitchen utensils, garden supplies, hostery and other articles of clothing. When the husband complains about the bill, he probably doesn't realize that a light bulb might be included in that bill."

"Second, the average family is larger today. There are more mouths to feed; and growing children have a great eating capacity."

"Third, housewives today are more nutrition-minded and quality-conscious than ever. They are buying foods in varied varieties."

"All these things help to make the total grocery bill bigger. But don't blame food pricing. You can feed your family well — with tasty, nutritious and varied meals — at prices that have averaged just about the same for the past ten years."

In other words, says Willis, food is the most consistently stable item in the Consumer Price Index — often popularly referred to as the over-all cost of living index. In fact, when one relates earning power to purchasing power, the factory employee ten years ago worked 51 hours to earn enough money with which to buy the monthly "grocery basket." Today he earns enough in 38 hours.

RIGHT ANSWERS — The editor of The Delphi Citizen in a column in his newspaper asked if anyone knew how a bridge over a small stream in Carroll County got the name of "Bicycle Bridge." The answer came from another columnist on the staff, Mindwell C. Wilson. She said her father, the late A. B. Crampton, once publisher of the Citizen, editorialized when the bridge was built that it was "so narrow it wasn't wide enough for a bicycle to go through." Thereafter it was called "Bicycle Bridge."

New Geology Publication Now Available

A new publication containing all known significant references in Indiana geology between the years of 1776 and 1955 has been made available by the Indiana Geological Survey at Indiana University.

Bulletin No. 24, "Annotated Bibliography of Indiana Geology Through 1955," by George M. Nevers and Richard D. Walker, was prepared for the use of professional geologists, geology students and laymen interested in the mineral resources, rocks or fossils of Indiana. The bibliography includes entries which, though not emphasizing Indiana, contain some significant mention of the State. Geology has been interpreted to include such fringe subjects as soils, geodetic surveys, meteorites, earthquakes, floods, and streamflow data.

The new bibliography has entries for each map published separately (without text) through 1956. All other entries are limited through 1955.

Bulletin No. 24 is available at $1.50 per copy (plus a 15-cent mailing fee) from the Publications Section, Geological Survey, Indiana University, 1005 East Tenth Street, Bloomington, Ind.

According to a recent survey, newspaper advertising influences purchasing most. 81% of the people made purchases because of newspaper ads, only 4% because of television.

How the works of Christ Jesus proved his sonship with God and illustrated what God's power can do for man will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will have as the Golden Text this verse from the Bible (1 John 4): "We have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (p.323): "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature. The name is synonymous with Messiah, and alludes to the spirituality which is taught, illustrated, and demonstrated in the life of which Christ Jesus was the embodiment."

Sharing isn't one of those things that come naturally. It takes a fair bit of "character building" before two youngsters get to the point where they're happy to go fifty-fifty on so much as a bottle of pop!

Fred and Marilyn, as it happens, have learned a lot about sharing in church. For, many years ago, Christ clearly demonstrated that man should be neither selfish nor greedy, and that to live successfully he must learn to give not only of himself, but of his possessions.

In a small, childlike, but completely joyous way, Fred and Marilyn are putting these teachings into practice — just as in many more serious ways, they will be putting other teachings of the Church into use, throughout their lives.

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, TELSTAR

The new communications satellite, which relays television, telephone and radio messages between continents, already has become one of the brightest stars in the private industry firmament.

It was conceived, designed, built and launched by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company — at no expense to the taxpayers. It is the first successful communications satellite. It is also smashing evidence of what private initiative, financed by private investments, can contribute to our national advancement and prestige.

If Telstar never delivers another message, its main one will be clear to one and all:

It is the initiative of private organizations and individuals which ultimately — in their own self interest — brings the world closer together.

RURAL CONSUMERS WILL OWN THE REMC GENERATING PLANT

... LOCK, STOCK and BARREL!

ever since the Rural Electrification Administration approved financing for the REMC generating plant near Petersburg, people occasionally ask who will own it.

This question of ownership is based upon promiscuous stories originating from commercial utilities, who charge that the U. S. Government will own the generating plant if REA finances it.

These stories are unfounded and untrue. When a bank loans money to a manufacturing corporation, it doesn't own it.

Every year, the U. S. Government loans millions upon millions of dollars to both big and little privately owned businesses, and doesn't own them.

Let's set the record straight. Rural consumers will own the REMC generating plant. They will own it completely... lock, stock and barrel. They will also control it, just as consumer-members control every rural electric in the United States.

You may be a part-owner of the REMC generating plant—if you have REMC service in Southern Indiana

120 Kid Fishermen Enjoy Fishing Derby

The Fish Derby, sponsored by the Maxinkuckee Fish and Game Club last Sunday afternoon at their hatchery ponds, west of Culver, created quite a splash. The splash was the excitement created when 60 lines, manned by 5-to-8-year-olds, hit the waters of the pond, following the starting gun.

The hopes and fears of the kids these past few weeks were soon to be realized in the form of a big fish, or no fish, tangled lines, and lots of prizes with everyone a winner, no matter if he did or did not catch a fish.

Gary Strang was the grand winner in the 5-to-8-year-old group with a 15 1/4 inch bass which earned him a nice rod and reel.

Second prize winner was Jerry Eskridge with the largest pan fish and third prize was taken by Roger Hurt for the most fish caught.

In the 9-to-12-year-old group Terry Gentry won the grand prize, a bicycle, with a 12-1/8 inch bass.

Second prize was taken by Craig Gunder for the largest pan-fish. We might say here that anyone would have been proud to have caught the 13 large bluegills that Craig caught.

Third prize went to John Matson for the most fish caught.

A special prize was awarded to Candy Fulk for landing a 5 1/2 inch turtle.

The afternoon's action saw 120 kids catching 40 bass and 304 pan fish in 35 minutes of furious fishing. There were no casualties, but one judge reported that he got hooked in the seat of the pants, and only the quick thinking of the fisherman saved him from becoming bait.

The Marshall County Emergency Unit was on hand to offer first aid services and their sound truck equipment was used for a public address system. Soft drinks were furnished by Coca-Cola, Nehi, 7-Up, Pepsi Cola and "Chestie's" Mink Ranch.

Prizes were donated by the following institutions, firms, organizations and individuals:

Marathon Service Station, Spencer's Plumbing & Heating, Snyder's Hardware, Culver Boat Co., Standard Oil Co., Snyder's Motor Sales, Fingerhut Bakery, Strang Barber Shop, Gretter's Market, Anderson Boat Livery, M & M Restaurant, Crabb's Furniture Store, West Shore Boat Co., Burr Oak Hardware, Forster's Jewelry, and Jim's Electric.

Indians Open Fall Season With 4-0 Win

Liette Hurls One-Hitter

Culver's baseball Indians, after compiling one of the finest summer seasons in recent history, opened the 1962 fall season with a 4-0 victory at Richland Center Monday night.

Sophomore righthander Paul Liette, who climaxed the summer's action with his victory over Bourbon for the county title, pitched a brilliant one-hit shut out in the fall opener. A seventh inning single by Charles Wilson spoiled Paul's bid for a no-hit game.

Culver, playing without heavy hitters Paul White and Dave Lemar, started the scoring early. Jim Lewis and Liette got singles to start the game, and Lewis scored on Rick Ervin's infield out.

Jim Weirick, who did not hit safely the entire summer season, drove in two runs with a double in the second. His hit scored Jim Boswell, who had walked, and Bruce Lindvall, who had singled.

Sam Lowry's second hit, an error and a wild pitch gave the Indians their final run in the third.

Meanwhile Liette was blanking Center inning after inning. He walked three, struck out eight, and allowed only two balls to be Greenhouse, Burr Oak Sand & Gravel and The Culver Press.

The Fishing Derby this year is the second annual event that the Maxinkuckee Fish and Game Club has sponsored.

The club and their associated sponsors are to be commended for making this event the highlight of the summer for the youngsters of Culver and the surrounding area.

hit out of the infield. Wilson's hit was a clean single between short and third.

The losing pitcher was Myron Poor, who worked six innings, with Kip Kistler relieving in the seventh. Culver compiled six hits, all off Poor, who walked three and fanned two.

Sam Lowry, Culver's outstanding pitcher-third baseman, won the team batting title for the summer season. Sam collected 28 hits in 70 times at bat for a .400 average. Liette was second with .367, followed by Ervin .338, White .333, Lemar .302, Boswell .212, Andy Lowry .179, Bob Carter .167, Lewis .152 and Lindvall .200. Weirick, Dick Knoerzer and Greg Osborn batted but failed to hit safely. The team average was .263.

Sam was also the team's top fielder. Playing much of the time at the difficult "hot corner," he committed only one error in fifty chances for an amazing .980 mark.

In pitching, Lowry won eight, lost four and had a 2.23 earned run average. Liette was 4-1 with an ERA of 2.17. Lewis won two games without a loss, compiling a 2.69 ERA.

Tonight (Wednesday) Culver plays host to Aubbeenaubee Township at 5:30 p.m. The fall county season opens Monday, Sept. 10, with Culver facing rival Bourbon on the local diamond. Box score:

luxurious cardigan

fern intarsia tracery on machine washable

"Isle of Cloud" by

Talbott

Talbott's complimentary way with a cardigan is fully evident in this delectably soft fur blend. It's their own "Isle of Cloud" . . . a dream to wear as well as care for (it stays in shape even after a spin in the washing machine!) The fern intarsia design imparts a delicate air . . . the collared V-neck adds drama. Matched to a semi-solid slim wool skirt for a go-together look. In a host of pretty colors. Cardigan in sizes 34 to 40 . . . $12.98. Skirt in sizes 8 to 18 . . . $10.98.
