Two Duck Hunters Rescued When Boat Sinks

John Davis and LeRoy Barritt, both of South Bend, narrowly escaped serious consequences last Saturday morning, by being rescued from the cold water of Lake Maxinkuckee.

The two men, duck hunters, had gone to their duck blind, which was anchored near the middle of the lake before daylight. A high wind whipped the lake into whitecaps which continuously pounded the blind and the small boat. The men were able to bail the excess water from the boat, but the continuous pounding of the boat against the blind split a seam in the aluminum boat, which caused it to sink. Using seat life cushions to hold them up, the men locked their arms around the framework of the blind and held on. They managed to unlock the blind from the anchor in hopes the blind would be blown to shore and safely. Heavy clothes and high winds made swimming to shore impossible. They had been in the water over two hours before rescued.

An East Shore resident, seeing the men were in trouble, called Jack Campbell, of the Culver Boat Co., who immediately started for the men in his Chris-Craft. At the same time, Richard VanSchoiack of Niles, Mich., and his two companions, who were duck hunting near the south end of the lake, saw the men were in trouble. They rushed to the floating blind, arriving about the time Campbell did. Because of the high waves Campbell was unable to get the men in his boat, so VanSchoiack pulled them into his. The two boats then headed for the Campbell docks, where an ambulance was waiting to take the men to the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth. Davis was unconscious from the time he was taken from the water until after he arrived at the hospital.

The ambulance was escorted to Plymouth by Culver Police Chief Donald Mikesell, Sheriff Jerry Greenlee and Plymouth policeman Robert Moore. On admission to the hospital it was found the men were suffering from exposure and exhaustion. No serious injuries were found.

John Davis is the son of Emery Davis, South Bend, and a nephew of Dale Davis, shop foreman of The Culver Press, Inc.

Three Academy Instructors Serve On Panels

Three instructors from Culver Military Academy served as members of academic panels at a meeting of the Independent Schools Association of the Central States Saturday at Davenport, Ia.

The three teachers are part of a group of seven Academy instructors who attended the two-day meeting at Saint Katherine's School in Davenport.

English instructors John Mellon and Charles Bayless are part of a panel who discussed the topic "Generative Grammar — Noam Chomsky and the Classroom." They joined Dr. John McLaughlin, of the State University of Iowa, in leading the discussions.

Ray C. Jurgensen, chairman of the mathematics department at Culver, was a member of the panel on "Advanced Placement and other programs for the especially able students." With him as panelists were Dr. Burton W. Jones, Dr. William H. L. Meyer, University of Chicago; and William Heavenrich, Cranbrook School.

Other Academy teachers attending the meeting and the departments they represented were Charles S. McMinn, History; Warner Williams, music and arts; C. C. Clarno, science; and Charles R. Minegar, Jr., Language.

David Kelly Receives Top Award

SCOUTING'S HIGHEST AWARD was presented to this member of Boy Scout Troop 290. Pictured are (l. to r.) Mr. Paul A. Young, Tri-Valley Council Scout executive, who conducted the special Eagle Court of Honor; David Kelly, the fourth Scout of Troop 290 to receive the Eagle rank; Mrs. Norman Kelly; Mr. Kelly; and Scoutmaster Carl F. Foust. David was also the recipient of the Troop's annual "Honor Scout" award and a perfect attendance pin.

Court of Honor Lauds Progress Of Local Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 290 of Culver held a Court of Honor last Monday, Nov. 12, to honor Scouts who have advanced in rank and earned awards during recent months. This meeting, held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church, was highlighted by a special Eagle Scout presentation honoring David Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kelly of 310 College Avenue, Culver.

Special guests at the Court of Honor were Chester A. Marshall, athletic director at Culver Military Academy, who was the main speaker, and Paul A. Young of South Bend, Scout executive of Tri-Valley Council, who presented the Eagle award. Mr. Marshall spoke on the background of Scouting and pointed out how Scouting contributes to a boy's growth. Mr. Young conducted David Kelly into the rank of Eagle in an impressive ceremony in which he was assisted by Dean Smith, the Herald of the Court, and by visiting Eagle Scouts John Kerrigan, Gene Kelly, and Tim Schultz.

Nine Scouts in the Troop were honored for advancement in rank. John Cook and Steve Kelly rose to First Class rank, and Marc Matson and Tom Overmyer rose to Second Class. Five new Scouts were initiated into Tenderfoot rank: Steve Overmyer, Terry Powers, Steve McCombs, Steve Snyder, and Jerry Schrimsher.

Additional awards included service stars, given for active participation in the Troop. One-year stars were given to David Crabb and Tony Mattox and a two-year star was presented to David Kelly.

Three Scouts were presented pins for having perfect attendance at meetings for the past year: Tom Bocock, David Kelly, and Cortland Overmyer.

Dean Smith received a special advanced award—the Emergency Service Award. It signifies that the Scout is qualified to be of service to the public during emergency situations.

Twenty-five merit badge certificates were presented to eight Boy Scouts, honoring them for badges earned since the last Court of Honor. Steve Bocock, Tom Bocock, and Greg Dawson each earned one badge; Greg Easterday and Dean Smith each earned two; Steve Kelly earned three; David Kelly earned six; and Fletcher Mattox earned nine badges.

Scoutmaster Carl F. Foust presented Troop awards. David Kelly was named "Honor Scout" of the year for Troop 290, an award based on attendance, advancement and Scout Spirit. The Wolf Patrol was named "Honor Patrol" of the month. Patrol Leader Fletcher Mattox accepted the banner. Foust also presented certificates of office to Troop officers.

In a Scoutercraft demonstration, presented under the guidance of Assistant Scoutmaster Ronald McKee, junior leaders of the Troop demonstrated first aid techniques. Steve Bocock and Dean Smith discussed and demonstrated emergency treatments for shock, bleeding, and snakebite. Greg Dawson outlined procedures for treating broken bones, and David Kelly demonstrated bandaging.

Scout leaders and parents have expressed great satisfaction with the fine progress the Scouts are making. Three members of Troop 290 have received Eagle Scout awards in the past year, and there are several Scouts currently working hard to achieve this highest rank in Scouting. In addition, the boys demonstrate excellent spirit by actively participating in the program and learning the skills which the program offers. Scouting certainly deserves the wholehearted support of the parents and friends of our Scouts, and of all local people interested in our youth.

Watch out for school children, especially if they're driving.

Superintendent Delmar T. Spivey of the Culver Educational Foundation has again this year extended a dinner invitation to the staff of the Culver-Union Township United Fund on Monday, Nov. 19, at 6:15 p.m. (prompt) in the Dining Hall. This is a very important meeting and we urge a 100% attendance.

Two Culver Scouts Earn Merit Badges In Journalism

Merit badges in journalism have been awarded to two Culver Boy Scouts, David Kelly and Dean Smith, members of the Culver Boy Scout Troop 290. They along with 41 other Scouts of the Tri-Valley Council Area, have completed a course of study conducted by the South Bend Tribune.

The Tribune's course consisted of three two-hour class periods, during which the requirements to earn a journalism merit badge were covered, and a two-part test.

Classes, which were held one evening each week in The Tribune's cafeteria, were taught by Tribune staff members. Included in the course were newspaper operation, departmental organization, news and headline writing, story organization, copy and proof reading, make-up and interviews with Tribune department heads.

Candidates were required to pass a written test based on the Boy Scouts of America's revised journalism merit badge requirements. Among other things, the boys were required to write a news story, a feature story and an editorial and explain the difference between each, define newspaper terms and dummy several newspaper pages. Of the 47 boys who enrolled, 43 earned merit badges, three failed and one dropped out.

Registration was limited to two boys from each troop. Only first class scouts were eligible and preference was given to patrol leaders, assistant patrol leaders and troop scribes.

Annual Christmas Seal Campaign Opens This Week

The traditional annual Christmas Seal Campaign will open this week with the mailing of Christmas Seals to Marshall County residents was the announcement made by the Marshall County Tuberculosis Association.

Christmas Seal dollars are urgently needed to help pay for the many things your TB association has to do in its fight against tuberculosis. Every year free chest x-rays are made available for the adult public. Tuberculin skin tests are given in three grades of students at every school in Marshall County. Four chest clinics are held each year at Parkview Hospital with E. W. Custer, M.D., clinician. These clinics provide supervision for the suspected TB patients, out-patients, ex-patients, contacts of an active case of TB and those persons referred to the clinic by their family physician.

Every 50 minutes someone dies of a single respiratory disease, tuberculosis. TB is a disease that could be wiped out if only every active case could be found and treated. Only this last month a new case of active TB was found in Marshall County and is now being treated in Healthwin Hospital. But 250,000 Americans still have active TB and many of them may not know it but may be walking around infecting others. There is a lot to be done in the fight against respiratory diseases including tuberculosis. This work costs money and Christmas Seals provide it.

No one comes to your house or office to ask you for money, no pressure is applied. Christmas Seals come to you just once a year, in the mails. Your contribution goes back in the mails. If you did not receive Seals in the mail, phone 936-3302 in Plymouth and they will be mailed promptly. If you mislaid your original Christmas Seal reply envelope, send your gift to the Marshall County Tuberculosis Association, Plymouth, Ind.

Christmas Seals can help make your home and community safe from TB. Mrs. Carl Adams, Jr. is the Christmas Seal Chairman in Culver and Union Township.

Mrs. Nellie McFarlin of Plymouth spent last week with her brother, Clarence Kline, and Mrs. Kline. On Sunday they attended a dinner at the Milburn Lake residence in South Bend which was a family get-together of the Lake brothers and sisters.

Home For Boys Is Project Of Federated Clubs

Sangralae Valley — a project of the 13th District Federation of Clubs is an interesting one. This is a home for first offender boys, located in Cass County, one mile west of Onward, Ind. A home where under privileged boys are given an opportunity to become good citizens.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the foremost problems of our time. If our present system of society is to be maintained this problem must be met and conquered.

Twenty-one boys have spent at least a year of their life at Sangralae Valley. They have come there charged with every offense from chronic truancy to armed robbery and not one has been in trouble after leaving the home. Four of the 21 have graduated from college, one will enter minister school in Manhattan, Kansas in February with the scholarship money the 13th district gave last year.

The state Federation of Clubs raised nearly $6,000 last year which completed and furnished the kitchen and new dormitory to house 16 boys. This year the sewage requirement of the state will be finished.

The 13th district is asking in place of scholarship money that each club give funds to complete the dish washing room to meet state health requirements. Then the housing and feeding of 16 boys will be completed to meet all state health laws. Income for Sangralae Valley is derived from parental county support, sale of goods made by the boys, gifts and nities. It is only through that enough money can be applied for the upkeep and so more troubled boys can be helped.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Russell R. Hippen of 936 South Shore Drive went bone surgery on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at the Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne. The Citizen is pleased to report that she is recuperating satisfactorily.

Mrs. Hippensteel will leave hospital this week and recuperate further at the Fort Wayne home of her sister, Mrs. George Co.

Do not forget Sunday School services each Sunday at 10 a.m. Attendance last Sunday was 52.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Goodman were called to Sullivan Co. last week by the death of their uncle Jimmy Goodman. Uncle Jimmy as he was affectionately called by all here, had been in poor health but his death was unexpected. The funeral service was held Thursday afternoon at Dugger.

The Woman's Society held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Don Davis. The ladies will entertain the Argos and Leiters Ford Societies and the District president on Wednesday, Dec. 5 at the church.

Mrs. Guy Davis accompanied the Rev. Clyde Beckner to Indianapolis Saturday where they attended a special conference session on "Christianity Confronts Communism," at the Murat Temple. It was a combined meeting of the three Indiana Methodist conferences with around 2,000 delegates and ministers attending. A special television broadcast of the meeting will be given over WSBT (Channel 22) at 12 o'clock next Sunday, Nov. 18.

Garner of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Totten and son Doug of Ewart, Mich., and Miss Phyllis Haney of Sidney, all had a part in making the day a success. Other guests were from South Bend, Fort Wayne, Walkerton, Plymouth and Culver.

Mrs. Asa Walker entertained with a 9 o'clock breakfast in her home Friday morning for Mrs. Chester Davis, Mrs. Lewis Jones of Route 2, Culver; Mrs. Paul Johnson and daughter Harriett of Lakeville; Mrs. Charles White and John, Mrs. Ollie White, Mrs. Judy Ambrose of Knox; Mrs. Charles Abert and grandson of Route 2, Culver; Mrs. Robert Hartman of Plymouth; Mrs. Dewey McDonald, Mrs. John Tibbetts, Mrs. Carl Bennett, and Mrs. F. E. Carrothers of Burr Oak. Home made coffee cake, orange, cinnamon, and, pecan rolls, coffee, and tea were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Nelson entertained members of their bridge club for their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, in their home at 313 East Shore Drive. To conclude the evening, delicious refreshments were served from a buffet table effectively decorated in a Thanksgiving motif.

THE SCHOOLBELL

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

By Barbara Rosebaum,
Karen McDonald and Jeanne Adams

The days are growing shorter, the nights are growing longer, and the weather is growing cooler around our Teepee. However, the campfires are burning higher, as can be surmised by seeing the huge cloud of smoke which encompasses the stomping grounds and the surrounding territory every morning.

Ned Davis appears to know a lot about the latest make-up for boys. Really Ned!

"Did you see it? I did! It looked like it was blue and had wheels, 'n tails! It made strange noises and had the weirdest things written on it!" "Oh, silly! That was just Charlene Lucas's Corvair loaded down with yelling, cheering senior girls. It was decorated with streamers and white shoe polish."

The seniors in Civics held an election. If you would like to know how the class voted for the county, see Thad Overmyer. He was a little disappointed, much to the pleasure of the Democratic supporters.

What is this about someone putting baking powder in his pie crust in Home Ec. class? Heavens! That is nothing compared to the time they tried to smoke everyone out of school.

The newest couples on the scene are Tim Schultz and Anita Yeazel, Pat Dyer and Bonnie Parker, and Mike Wallen and Betty McFarland.

We all appreciated (?) the lovely "art work" a few of our students did over the schoolyard. Some of them really have talent! A few of our "artists" received some telltale marks. How about it kids? Can you still walk? Diane Boots also had a beautifully landscaped yard, all special for Halloween.

The junior dance was a big success Friday night, especially the duet Carol Herr and Larry Sellers so voluntarily contributed. Many of our former braves and maidens were seen at the dance.

The pep block really sounded swell at their opening performance. Even Mr. Cole was proud of the "noise that was raised." The underclass pictures were delivered Wednesday. As usual a few groans and moans were heard but the majority of the students were very pleased.

No music classes are not a part of the regular curriculum of high school students. But the French classes surely enjoy learning short songs in French. Actually, they are getting to be pretty good now!

This week we would like to leave you with a helpful suggestion: If you see people walking down the halls with Indians running all over their skirts and slacks, leaves fluttering from waistbands to hems, footprints going from cuffs to belts, and teepees going around and round, Don't get excited! It's only the seniors having a premiere showing of their cords.

"This and That" About Education

Students are different. This is a statement which has significant thought and meaning. They not only differ in appearance; they differ in abilities, interests, aptitudes and personalities.

Every parent and teacher should recognize each child as a different individual. If we fail to do this, then we categorize and force this individual into a stereotyped person. Not only do we do this individual an injustice, we do society an injustice.

The world has its geniuses and its morons, but these two extremes are rare. High on this scale are the people who have original ideas and can transform these ideas into something great. At the other end of the scale, we have those who are baffled with the simple problems of everyday living. In between these two extremes are all the rest of us.

We owe each child the right to make the most of what he has. We should help each child develop to the point where he will be a blessing instead of a burden to society. It is unjust for anyone to categorize a student because of the clothes he wears, his parents, his past or present teachers, the area of a locality in which he lives, or the friends that he has.

Some of the ways we can help students develop into mature beings are the following.

1. Encourage the proper dress and conduct by dressing and conducting ourselves in a manner desired of all concerned.

2. Encourage each student to develop his God-given abilities to the utmost. Learning is a continuous process which must never end if one is to be successful and is to remain successful.

3. Recognize each student's interests and guide him in a manner that will broaden rather than restrict his interests.

4. Direct and encourage students in the things they are suited for and capable of doing.

5. Help each student develop a personality that is appreciative of not only his own likes and dislikes, but also be appreciative of other people's likes and dislikes.

Therefore, let us all work together in developing a better society. Let us be thankful of each other and thankful that there is some little significant difference in each of us.

These individual differences make the strength of character in

"Put Fod In The Fog"

By Sharon McGaffey and Lonni Darosci

Last week as we walked down the main street of Culver, we noticed that everyone seemed to be going in the same general direction. All of a sudden we heard a siren! Could it be a fire? We watched the fire truck as it went by. There surely seemed to be a lot of young volunteer firemen! To our surprise we found that they were none other than the mighty Culver Indians. What would they be doing on a fire truck? We followed them and soon realized that it was the night of the Big Culver High School pep rally.

The huge bonfire was lit and, to get things underway, the Varsity cheerleaders led some peppy yells. Then came a few speeches from distinguished faculty members, while other teachers judged the posters which were made by different high school classes and organizations. Mr. Lawson's speech was definitely inspiring and everyone agreed that because Doc Fod had predicted that Aubree would win, our motto should be: "Put Fod in the fog!"

Following Mr. Lawson's speech, two or three more yells were led by the cheerleaders. Coach Crosley gave us all a few encouraging words, and Thad Overmyer introduced the teams. Amid the barking of McAllister's curious dog, Mr. Cole said a few words.

Then came the announcing of the winner of the best poster. The trophy was presented by under the great people that make up this great country of ours. Since Thanksgiving is once again only a few days away, let us be thankful that we have an educational system that gives us the opportunity to work toward individual goals, rather than one which forces us to conform to one doctrine where individual rights and differences are not recognized.

animous vote to the juniors, Class of 1964.

After singing the school song, the siren once more started its wailing and the red light flashed on and off. All the basketball players piled on the fire engine, and with a small roar it slowly pulled away. The enthusiastic fans followed closely on foot, yelling pep yells as loudly as they could. A procession of cars with beeping horns and an excess of riders added to the color and excitement. After moving down Ohio Street at a snail's pace the caravan turned left on Madison and came to a halt at Main Street. The students on foot then took the lead. They formed a snake dance in front of the fire engine and, disregarding the stop light and all traffic, led the way to the fire station.

The brisk air gave everyone even more incentive to yell and cheer. After some last encouraging yells the students dispersed. The pep rally was over. But what about the enthusiasm and apprehension? NO! It was just beginning and would come to a climax at the first basketball game of the 1962-63 season.

Third Grade Studies Indians

By Janet Rosebaum and Judy Price

In Mrs. Barton's first grade, Michael Busart furnished candy for their Halloween Party. They also learned how water goes into a plant by putting a celery stalk in water with ink in it. Mrs. Keyser's first grade is learning to count by 2's, and how to tell time. Margaret Massa had birthday Nov. 2, and treated the class to cupcakes. They have finished their second reading book and are looking forward to getting the new one. Mrs. Schrieker used them a doll made in Russia. The class certainly enjoyed using it.

Mrs. McLane's first grade celebrated Randy Dowd's seventh birthday with a party in the room. His birthday was Nov. 1.

In the second grade, Mrs. Shirrell's room had fun wearing masks on Halloween and parading with the lower grades. They enjoyed the treats from Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Matson, and from their own room. The clock in their room has more meaning for them now that they are learning to tell time in arithmetic.

In Mrs. Carter's third grade, Mark Uebel had a birthday last Monday. In health they are learning what the different foods do to our bodies. They are working on food booklets in which they draw pictures of these different foods. Susan Powers, Elizabeth Mellon, and Shirley Krsek were the winners in the spell-down.

In Mrs. Henning's third grade, there were 19 perfect scores in spelling last week. In arithmetic they are learning to tell time.

Mrs. Sellers' third grade class is now studying Indians. They have learned many things about the lives of Indians long ago and their lives today. Students in this class have brought Indian beads, pottery, arrows, spearheads, belts, and jewelry. They have made an Indian village of teepees. They have found the Indian people very interesting.

In Mr. Horban's fourth grade, David Williams, Nancy Reichley, Karen Tanner, and Angila Liette made a chart of our solar system. Doug Pronty gave a report on the size of the solar system.

In Mr. Shirrell's fifth grade, Linda Lou Osborn celebrated her 11th birthday. She brought ice cream bars and cupcakes. They had a spelling match, and it was a tie between the girls and boys.

Mr. Adam Wagner's sixth grade had 38 boys at the gym for basketball practice last Saturday. They were taught how to dribble properly, and how to pass and pivot at the same time.

The "Do's and Don't's" For Basketball Fans

By Janet Beck and Larry Linhart

A fan, whether he be a basketball fan, a football fan, a track fan, or a fan of any other spectator sport, contributes in some way to the game. People, communities, schools, and even teams are judged by the way the fans conduct themselves at basketball games. Good sportsmanship is essential; without it sports would be gruesome. In the following paragraphs, we shall list several of the essential things that you must do to become a good basketball fan.

One of the marks of the well-behaved fan is his ability to get along well with fans of the opposing team and to show respect towards them. He should not argue and yell at the other fans. Basketball is used as a way to teach boys how to get along well with each other. If the people backing the teams are continually arguing and yelling at each other, this purpose is half-way defeated by the conduct of the fans.

A good fan should never "boo." This gives your school, town, and team a bad reputation. A fan should never run down a player for any reason. Constructive criticism should be kept to a minimum. If the player is doing anything wrong, the coach will tell him.

A good fan will not be running over other people's feet during play. Between quarters and at half-time are the times to go to the concession stand or to the rest room. The true fan will not throw paper or other articles at the referees or players. He realizes that paper on the basketball floor is as dangerous as a banana peel on any icy sidewalk.

Another characteristic of a good basketball fan is his ability to keep his temper. A ballgame is a good place to let off steam, but not in the form of anger. If a person loses his temper, he loses the pleasure and enjoyment of the game besides making a "heel" of himself. When a fan loses his temper, he is not helping matters, nor is he accomplishing anything. He is downgrading the school and showing poor sportsmanship.

Many times there is too much emphasis on winning. Certainly it is fun to win, but that isn't the only reason we have sports. It is each fan's individual duty to try to remember this, and when his team loses, he should take the loss gracefully. There is not enough emphasis put on setting a good example. If one fan will set a good example, perhaps others will try to do the same, for as one sportsman so aptly put it, "When the one great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

INTERDEPENDENCE!

FOR THE BETTERMENT OF ALL

"I, John F. Kennedy, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week of November 16 through November 22, 1962, as National Farm-City Week; and I call upon our citizens throughout the Nation to participate fully in the observance of that week."

Out of the White House this month came the above Presidential Proclamation. And out across the nation some 10,000 towns and rural areas were busy this week planning joint tours and visits by farmers and businessmen to agricultural and industrial installations . . . to cement farm-city understanding.

The theory of interdependence of city and farm is familiar and basic to United States economics. Today an individual American farm worker can produce food and fiber for himself and 26 others — the greatest farm efficiency ever known to man.

At the same time, the American farmer is ever more dependent on the city worker to supply the machines and power and other tools necessary for this efficient farm production. There has never been a more glaring need for mutual appreciation between producer and consumer, farm hand and factory worker. That understanding is necessary for better distribution of vast agricultural produce, fairer prices, better service, greater efficiency and, generally, for a stabler economy.

We welcome and endorse National Farm-City Week.

PRODUCTION RECORD
 The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced a new lactation average for the registered Holstein herd of John A. Newman and Sons, Newman Holstein Farms, Culver, which has 78 completed production records averaging 15,984 pounds of milk and 585 pounds of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly-employed two-milkings a day, 305 day, mature equivalent basis. This provides a uniform basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

 Spiritual healing will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Mortals and Immortals."
 Scriptural selections will include this verse from Matthew: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease."
 One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. ATTEND CAP CONFERENCE IN INDIANAPOLIS
 Three cadets of the Culver Military Academy Cadet Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, attended the annual wing conference at the War Memorial in Indianapolis on Sunday. Those cadets who attended were Tom Walker, James Moen, and John Culbertson, all cadet officers of the local squadron. Also attending was senior member Lt. Thomas Walker.
 There were several sectional meetings in both the morning and afternoon. A few of these were communications, information services, and cadets. The high point of the conference was during the general assembly that afternoon when Colonel Armstrong made official his resignation as wing commander. The appointment Lt. Col. John Richards to wing commander was announced.
 The Civil Air Patrol will celebrate its 21st anniversary the week of Dec. 1-7.

The KEYS are on the TABLE

It's strange how a man's mind works . . .

My wife had said, "The keys are on the table," and we both were thinking of the car keys. I have that abominable habit of laying them down wherever I put my gloves — and I'm always losing my gloves.

But when I saw the keys, I saw the Bible, too. We always keep it there even though we seldom read it.

"The keys are on the table." I am just enough of a philosopher to see the chance implication of those words. The keys to a great many things must lie within the covers of that Book. Perhaps the keys to all of the really important things for you, and for me, and for everyone else.

We've been searching far and wide for the keys to peace, and security, and fairness, and brotherhood.

I wonder if the keys are on the table!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Girl Scout News

By Pam Thompson

The Girl Scouts, Troop 143, held their regular meeting at the St. Mary's Catholic Church Nov. 6 from 4:15 to 5 p.m.

The group was separated into two patrols. We voted on names for the two patrols. The name for Patrol I is The Friendship Twelve. The name for Patrol II is The Tiger Lilies. Leaders for the two patrols were voted on and the girls chosen were Margaret Rubnow for Patrol I and Virginia Thews for Patrol II.

Nov. 12 the sixth grade Girl Scouts opened the meeting with the flag ceremony. Each girl made a report on a woman that brought Girl Scouts to be, such as Juliette Lowe, Sacajawea, Louisa Alcott, Amelia Earhart and many others. Norma Davis received the second-class rank. They are planning an eight-mile hike. Horse Shoe Patrol closed the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fisk and children of Palos Heights, Ill., were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kline.

Academy Sports

Basketball may be king in Indiana, but Culver Military Academy today is basking in the limelight of its best football season in four years.

For veteran Coach Russ Oliver, the 1962 season completed Saturday with a smashing 40-18 victory over Schlarman High School, is the best since the undefeated season of 1958 and one of the most successful since he took the helm of the Eagles in 1936.

The one-sided victory over the Danville, Ill., eleven gave the Maroon a 7-1 season marred only by a 25-12 loss to South Bend John Adams in Culver's second game of the season. Schlarman was Culver's sixth victim in a row and gave the Academy coaching staff the satisfaction of avenging all of last year's three defeats and one tie.

The close of a successful season led to the inevitable — but impossible — desire to replay the John Adams game.

"I feel we could have beaten them now or even a few games later than when we played them," said Coach Oliver. "We have a great bunch of kids worthy of their record. Even in their lone defeat they played well, and the spirit attached to the defensive team we called the 'Crowbars' and the offensive 'Go Team' certainly made the difference."
