ON LAKE MAXINKUCKEE • INDIANA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL LAKE

70TH YEAR, NO. 45

CULVER, INDIANA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1964

TEN CENTS

Here and There Around Our Town Of Culver

Culver has been enjoying a string of beautiful, golden Autumn days, with ideal temperatures and lots of sunshine. The Lake has been glassy calm on several of the days last week and is fast becoming dotted with various species of ducks and coots.

There is a rich harvest of crisp, dry, fallen leaves, which residents and members of the Sophomore class are diligently attempting to dispose of.

Ideal weather Saturday evening provided a perfect setting for the annual Lions-sponsored Halloween parade and the numerous trick or treaters. It appears that the Culver area experienced rather calm observance of the event.

October in Culver brought four-way red stop lights at the intersection of old State Road 17 and State Road 10. Also, the Town water tower is boasting a bright new coat of silver paint. The Town Hall has taken on a new appearance with its bright white paint job, highlighted with brilliant red doors and lettering.

Now it's November, which means that the first basketball game of the season is scheduled for Friday night, to be played at the local gym, against South Central High School of Union Mills; the students will have a day of vacation a week from today, Nov. 11; and Thanksgiving will soon be here!

United Fund Workers To Be Guests Of CMA

The Culver-Union Township United Fund board of directors, area captains, and workers will be the guests of Culver Military Academy at a dinner to be given for them Monday, Nov. 9, at 6:30 p.m. in the Academy dining hall. The dinner will be the highlight of the conclusion of the month long drive.

Following the dinner, reports of the various committees, as to the success of this year's drive will be given. The goal for this year is $7,000. It is hoped by the board of directors that final tabulations will show the drive as a complete success.

The dinner guests will be entertained by the Academy's singing group, The Blue Notes directed by Milford Myhre. Other matters of business of the United Fund organization will be discussed during the after-dinner business meeting.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES TO SPONSOR ANNUAL YOUTH BANQUET SUNDAY

The annual Youth Banquet, sponsored by the Union Township Council of Churches, will be held at the Fellowship Hall of the Culver Methodist Church at 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 8.

Joan Dillon will be toastmistress for the event and the speaker for the evening will be Thomas E. Walker, instructor of English at the Culver Military Academy. Mr. Walker, who recently returned after spending a year in Greece, will show slides taken there and the topic of his discussion will be, "Greece Through The Eyes Of An American."

Tickets for the banquet can be purchased from the youth leaders of the participating churches. A large attendance is urged.

Go! Team! Go! Merchants Unite For Big Send-Off

The Culver Indians basketball team, defending Sectional championships, opens its 1964-65 season on Friday night, and in the tradition of previous years, local merchants and business firms are giving the team a rousing send-off.

The center pages of today's Citizen carries the messages of good wishes for a successful season, on behalf of the local firms. The State Exchange Bank extends their wishes for a fine season, on another page of today's paper.

With three starters from last year's 18-6 team and two other varsity veterans, Coach Gene Crosley hopes to get the Tribe off on a winning note in the 8:30 p.m. Friday encounter with South Central of LaPorte County on the home court. The reserve game will get underway at 7:15.

Gone from last year's team are Sam Lowry and Paul White, both graduated. The returning players are Jim Boswell, Dave Lemar, Doug Lindvall, Bob Eustis, Jim Lewis, Paul Liette, and Jim Weirick, all seniors; and Mike Eustis, Dan Haenes, Bruce Lindvall and Andy Lowry, juniors.

Town Board Hears Dumping, Ditch Problems

Two problem areas commanded the attention of the Culver Town Board at its first regularly scheduled November meeting on Monday night.

In the first, agreement was reached whereby the town will assume responsibility for coverage of refuse and the supervision of trash burning at the dump being used by the town, and owned by Mrs. Lawrence White, of Hawk Lake.

In the second, the problem of odor in the outlet ditch from the town sewage plant, which appears to be caused by an insufficient volume of water through the ditch, was discussed.

The agreement concerning the dumping area provides that any refuse that would constitute a health hazard be covered at least once weekly with dirt or cinders during the summer months, and that any burning be supervised to eliminate the fire hazard. Theodore Ervin, town board president, expressed the board's appreciation to the Whites for permitting the town the use of the area.

Ervin indicated that he would seek a legal opinion as to whether the town or an instrumentality of the state government may be responsible for the maintenance and care of the outlet ditch. He stated that the plans by which the sewage treatment plant was built were approved by the State Board of Health, and rotting vegetation along the ditch bank is the more likely cause of the foul smell.

Lawrence White, David Burns, and Verl McFeely also were heard at the meeting. White expressed the opinion that the sewer plant was polluting Hawk Lake and suggested possible means of correcting the problem. Burns suggested the town buy marsh land west of the sewer plant and build settling ponds that could be treated chemically.

Few Republicans Survive Johnson Sweep To Victory

County Votes For Johnson-Humphrey But Splits Ticket For Local Offices

President Lyndon B. Johnson led his ticket to a landslide victory in Tuesday's elections, carrying Democratic candidates for state offices with him, and making strong inroads in traditionally Republican Marshall County.

Nationwide, the Democratic team of Johnson and Humphrey polled, on the basis of incomplete returns, 59.7 per cent of the total popular vote, and many more than the necessary 270 electoral votes necessary for victory.

Passes Ohio State Engineer Board Test

PAUL A. OVERMYER

Paul A. Overmyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Overmyer, W. 16th Rd., Culver, scored one of the highest grades in the Ohio State Board of Registration examinations for professional engineers and surveyors.

Top scores and names of all successful applicants were announced recently by the board.

Overmyer's score was 88 per cent in the mechanical engineering examination for complete registration conducted last July. These tests are for engineers who have completed their college education and the required four years' practical experience.

He and Mrs. Overmyer reside at 1691 Liberty Dr., Akron, where he is an executive engineer with the B. F. Goodrich Co.

We know a fellow who has a car so old that this year he wrote the state motor vehicle department requesting upper and lower plates.

The Republican ticket of Goldwater-Miller appeared to have won only seven states with 55 electoral votes.

In Indiana, the vote-getting strength of President Johnson carried all members of his party to victory on the state ticket. This included U. S. Sen. R. Vance Hartke, who was seeking re-election; Roger D. Branigan, the new Governor; Robert L. Rock, Lieutenant-Governor; and John D. Bottorff, former Culver teacher, Secretary of State.

In Marshall County, the Johnson-Humphrey ticket polled 8,397 votes to Goldwater-Miller's total of 7,895.

Running strongest in a losing cause was Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, Russell Bontrager. He polled 8,314 votes in the county, to Hartke's 7,975.

Voting on Tuesday for county offices and for Third District Congressman found Marshall County voters giving the nod to six Republicans and three Democrats.

In the race for Representative in Congress, Third District, John Brademas, Democratic incumbent, polled 8,619; his Republican opponent Robert L. Miller, 7,804. Brademas was re-elected to another two-year term.

Other official county results were:

Joint State Senator
Kosciusko-Marshall
William W. Erwin (R) 9,493; over Burl D. Silver (D) 6,727.

School Board Inspects Proposed Building Site

On Monday afternoon the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools inspected the site west of School Street between Houghton Street and State Road 10 as a proposed location for the new high school building. This site had been approved previously by the State Board of Health and the State Schoolhouse Planning Division as a favorable one for such use.

After a careful survey of the site with regard to location of the building, parking areas, and athletic fields, the School Board members discussed with Mr. Russell Easterday the possibility of purchasing the tract. Though he would prefer to retain the land for awhile, Mr. Easterday did agree to sell the necessary acreage for school purposes. An agreement was reached whereby the School Board could take an option on approximately 33 acres. Until such time as the land would be used for school purposes, Mr. Easterday would have the right to use of the site for agricultural purposes.

In further action on Monday evening, the School Board made plans to secure legal counsel on alternate methods of financing the construction of the proposed high school. Part of the cost of such a project will have to be carried by either a public holding corporation or by a mortgage loan plan for financing construction. The first of these would involve the organization of a non-profit local corporation of interested persons, who would issue bonds and provide funds for the costs of the construction program. The school corporation would pay lease rental on the building until the bonds would be retired. The second plan would provide for the erection of the new structure by a private corporation. The indebtedness would be liquidated by annual mortgage payments. The School Board will make a detailed study of these two plans to determine which method would seem to be the more advantageous for the local school corporation.

The School Board also made plans in Monday evening's meeting to schedule inspection tours of a number of new high school buildings. On Saturday of this week the group will visit both the Winamac and Carroll Consolidated high school buildings. Other trips will be scheduled during the next few weeks in order to become acquainted with building trends as incorporated in a number of new high schools in Northern Indiana. Studies of plans used by different architects in the construction of such facilities would indicate that the unified high school for Culver Community Schools would require approximately 90,000 square feet of space in the proposed building.

TIME CHANGED FOR INDIANS' OPENING GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, CITIZEN:

I hope the following letter is read or that the people involved will hear about this letter.

I would like to voice my opinion on the trick-or-treaters that were out this year.

I think that most of them were something to be proud of, but I know of a few that were so lazy and stupid and cheap and about as low as you can get and still be human.

When these kind of trick-or-treaters have to beat up small boys and take their trick-or-treat sacks away from them, I don't think our main street of Culver is safe for children.

fin, Winslow, etc?

You mentioned that your daughter lives at Maitland, Fla., that is a very nice place. I was down there a few weeks ago on a Sunday. The couple that I went with were going for their final polio shots at the Winter Park Shopping Center. We ate our evening meal at the Beacon Inn before returning home. When you come down for this coming winter I would be very happy to have you come to DeLand and visit me and we could reminisce about the good old days. Please contact me before by phone or letter so I will not be at some other seaport or up in Culver, Indiana.

The brick bungalow at 307 North Main Street, Culver, was my home. I have no near relatives except a nephew and his family at Culver. My husband Phil passed away July 31, 1938, after being an invalid for several years with progressive muscular dystrophy. Our only child, Jean Eileen, was run over and killed May 27, 1924. The rest I will relate when we have a chance to visit.

We are just recovering from hurricane Dora. This is the first nice day since last Monday. Even yesterday the wind was very high and it rained in torrents. Dora was supposed to enter inland at New Smyrna Beach last Tuesday around 3 p.m. I hurried down town to get new flashlight bulbs and batteries. Returned home and began to prepare food, thinking the electricity would be out and it was in many parts of the town. As late as yesterday one of my friends over at Lake Winnimisette had neither electricity nor telephone. Over 300 phones out, but here at this house nothing was unusable — uprooted some plants and trellises and the streets were terrible for a while — large trees and limbs down and everything a mess. We were on the west fringe of the blow.

It was not as bad in this immediate district as Donna. She went right through here and did so much damage. The marvelous thing is that people have warning and abide by the orders laid down by the officials of every organization and had no loss of life, except the crew of one of the bombers at Sanford who were attempting to move all of them to Alabama. This one went down in Lake Monroe. This is Sunday and the first day that the wind has not howled and been so strong. It did quite a bit of damage over at Daytona Beach and northward and used all its strength on St. Augustine and Jacksonville.

Will close hoping to see you and get acquainted, and have a "do you remember" visit.

Sincerely,
MRS. GOLDA McLANE

Bridge-A-Rama Chatter

DID YOU SEE . . . Peg Clyne's clever centerpiece on the serving table at the Tri Kappa Bridge-A-Rama in The State Exchange Bank dining room? Circular playing cards peeped out their faces as the flowers in an arrangement of greenery. And did you notice that Francis Craig, pouring at the tea table, wore a red dress to carry out the red, white, and black color scheme of playing cards?

DID YOU SEE . . . Betty Medbourn playing bridge with the eightsome of men? We hoped a woman playing a few hands with them would jinx their scores so our poor score would stand a chance of winning. Instead two men in this group, Jack Spencer (Academy) and Judson Dillon had high score. Another one of these men, Jack Easterday, should never miss a social engagement in 1965 since he took home one traveling prize — a "Social Capers" social calendar. The second traveling prize was won by Marilyn Herrmann.

DID YOU SEE . . . Tommy Hendricks secreting a candle to the kitchen to put on one of the homemade cakes to celebrate Gen Kriner's birthday?

DID YOU SEE . . . our newest permanent Culver resident, Mrs. Ed Bailey from Logansport, already enthusiastically entering into the life of Culver? Welcome, Elizabeth.

DID YOU SEE . . . the beautiful Senora Ramoneda de Serra of Barcelona, Spain, the houseguest of Iris Gregory? What a wonderful way to learn about the real America — to visit Indiana, especially Culver.

AND DID YOU SEE . . . the ever faithful Virginia Kraming and Middy Middleton washing dishes, washing dishes, washing dishes. . . ?

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

THUMP, THUMP, THUMP, THUMP, THUMP... If you are wondering what that odd sound is, I'll give you a clue. It's not an elephant. What did you say? No! It's not a donkey either. Boy, you sure are dense. I guess I'll have to tell you. It's none other than the Culver Indians practicing very diligently for their opening basketball game against South Central this Friday. Ha! Ha! I fooled you all. And now for the weekly gossip.

At your service day and night, I rake your leaves and rake 'em up! Sophomores are on the ball! This has been a paid political announcement.

Congratulations Susie D. on your success with the endurance record bet. We hear Susie T. has the same endurance bet going on this week. Best of luck.

Over the weekend quite a few freshman girls were out sidewalk surfing. They say it's great fun, but it seems as if Suzi Reister is going to have to mend a few pairs of slacks. Those falls were pretty nasty, weren't they girls. Susie T., Susie D., and Valerie C. all have battle scars to show for their efforts.

There seems to be two certain Junior girls who like to take letters from boys in fourth period study hall. For more information contact Jim W.

Tromping through cornfields seems to be the latest fad in the senior class. We hear that they had loads of fun doing this at Lonni's party.

It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich don't believe in Ouija boards. What did it say? We'll let Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich answer.

Doug, do you really enjoy Tomahawk meetings? We heard you had some problems at the last one.

Whoever soaped Jim Boswell's car windows had better lay low for a few weeks. They say he's really on the war path this time.

Hey Bruce, didn't you know that test tubes are to be used for experiments in chemistry? Then why did you run one through your hand? We know. Since your right hand is bandaged up how do you manage your history notes? Hmm. I wonder.

Well, maidens and braves, it's time to come to a close. We'll see you all next Friday evening when we take South Central. THUMP, THUMP, THUMP.

The timing is always right when you call VI 2-3377 for a result-getting Culver Citizen Classified Ad.

Calling All Indians

By Elaine Kaiser, Mary Matson
We have just received a few smoke signals concerning our coming victory over South Central on Nov. 6. On the moon before this feast, we will have a huge "get-together".

What is this "shin-dig"? Why everyone knows it is our coming pep rally! It promises to be one of the best Culver has ever had. This great event is open to all who want to help get our great team off to a roaring start. There will be various displays from our many different classes and organizations, and also plenty of time for us all to show our appreciation for our on-coming team with many "yells" led by our C.H.S. cheerleaders.

While our huge bon-fire is burning, there will be various speeches given by our great coaches and team members. After a series of many other events and activities, the evening will be closed with a snake dance.

Let's not forget our after-game dances which are sponsored by the Junior class either. They will be held after our many victorious games, the first of which will be over South Central on Nov. 6. There are a total of eight dances scheduled. A small admission fee will be taken at the door for this.

Now don't forget our many important dates. We are expecting to see you there.

Grade School News

By Lonni Darosci, Rose Wieringa and Pam Fish

The United States' political polls show L. B. Johnson pretty far ahead of Senator Goldwater. A few of the teachers in the grade school took a poll in their class to see how some of America's future leaders viewed the situation.

Just because kindergarten children are young doesn't mean they don't have worthwhile opinions on political matters. To them the president is an important man whose duties are "helping people and writing papers." Most of the kindergartners are in favor of Barry Goldwater.

In one class, 12 students voted for B. G. and 12 for L. B. J.

In Mrs. Keller's fourth grade, eight pupils were in favor of Goldwater and 21 were for Johnson.

Yet, in Mr. Frettinger's class, four votes were cast for Johnson and 21 votes for Goldwater. This class seems to favor Goldwater.

The upcoming election wasn't quite as important to these students yet, though. Most classes were in the process of getting ready for the ghosts and goblins that were just waiting for the weekend to roll around.

Jodie Jones celebrates this part of the year in more than one way. Saturday is Halloween, true, but last Wednesday was her birthday.

Most of the students are decorating their rooms with fall pictures and pictures of halloween. Mrs. McLane's room, though, is decorated quite differently. In that first grade room grows an apple tree, this is to celebrate finishing the pre-primers. As each child says his word list, he receives an apple to put on the apple tree.

Some boys and girls are making masks in art. Mrs. Mishler's third grade is having a party Friday afternoon and will go to the different rooms to see who is the scariest.

A new technique for making pumpkin people is by using patterns from their own hands and feet.

Also, Mrs. Mishler's perfect spellers for this week should be commended. They are: Pete Cleveland, Keith Kowatch, Dayle Langlois, Becky Myers, Randy Overmyer, Ronald Sorenson, Barbie Thews, Melody Torok, and Wendy Walker.

Mr. Frettinger's class is electing travel committees for the regions of the U.S. Tim Overmyer is chairman for the Southeast and Pam Hartz is chairman for the Northeast.

Mr. Harris is sponsoring basketball practice on Saturday forenoon beginning Nov. 1.

Oh, yes, and for those avid softball fans, the Athletics won the tournament!

Book Review

ARMAGEDDON

By Cindy Lee Kemple

Leon Uris, an author widely known, has always addressed himself to contemporary history. He displays extensive knowledge of background and deep personal commitment. His best-known works are "Battle Cry," based on his combat experience with the Marines in the Pacific; "Exodus," the story of the birth of the state of Israel; "Mila 18," a dramatic account of the defense of the Warsaw ghetto. His new massive novel is "Armageddon".

"Armageddon" is a novel about the beginnings of the cold war in Berlin in 1945. It is where Communist Russia and its former Western allies first confront one another as enemies. The conflict lasts from the establishment of the four-power occupation to the lifting of the blockade by the Russians several months later.

Few Americans understood then that the end of the war marked the beginning of another — one of them was O'Sullivan, of the military government in Berlin, whose fierce hatred of the Germans does not prevent him from loving, tragically, a German girl, a daughter of a German patriot and statesman. The real heroes are the Berliners and the few democratic leaders who have survived the Nazi era, and it is in describing their courage and spirit that the author most effectively tells his story.

"H.M.S. Pinafore" To Be Presented At CMA Saturday

A fresh version of the Gilbert and Sullivan classic "H.M.S. Pinafore" will be given as part of the Concert-Theater Series at Culver Military Academy at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 7.

The initial performance of Tyrone Guthrie's imaginative new production at the Stratford Festival of Canada was followed by immensely successful engagements in New York and London. In London, the Stratford Festival Company received such critical acclaim that the original 15-week run was extended to a full year. The praise which greeted the production was vindication of Dr. Guthrie's view that Gilbert and Sullivan could be presented in an entirely fresh and modern manner. Accenting the style and wit of "H.M.S. Pinafore", he has ignored the staid traditions of performance which have characterized decades of Gilbert and Sullivan, and presented what the New York Times called a "charming and hilarious" new look.

Josef Stopak conducts the 16-piece orchestra. Louis Applebaum is musical director, and Brian Jackson is set designer. Playing the leading roles in this company of 50 are Stephanie Augustine and William Greene as the two lovers, Michael Bates as Sir Joseph, Graham Laver as the Captain, Irene Byatt as Buttercup, Howard Maw-son as Dick Dead-Eye, and Donald Young, Margaret Chisholm, and John Harcourt, as the Boat-swain, Hebe, and the Carpenter's Mate.

If cost is a major consideration when buying beef, remember the higher grades and more tender cuts generally are more expensive than lower grades and less tender cuts, say Purdue University food specialists.

To help consumers select wood furniture, the new Federal Trade Commission ruling requires manufacturers to identify all wood and materials that look like wood used in new furniture, report Purdue University home furnishings specialists.

Four CMA Faculty Members To Serve As Consultants

Four members of the Culver Military Academy faculty have been invited to serve as consultants in a series of meetings devoted to the teaching of English.

Department Chairman Arthur G. Hughes, holder of the Eppley Chair of English at Culver, will speak on the subject, "From the View of a Secondary School English Department Chairman," at the convention of the National Council of Teachers of English. The conference is to be held in Cleveland on Nov. 26-28 and will attract 665 participants from 47 states and Canada.

Thomas E. Walker is again working with the Indiana State Committee to develop new courses of study in the English language arts for public schools. Walker was appointed to the committee in 1962 but spent last year in Greece as a Fulbright teacher.

Walker was appointed by the state superintendent of public instruction to a committee that is helping to evaluate, criticize, and revise experimental materials.

The project is being carried out under the supervision of the English Curriculum Study Center at Indiana University.

On Nov. 10, W. J. MacQuillan will speak to over 800 juniors at Kokomo High School on "Shakespeare and His Dramatic Art." He will also conduct classes on the teaching of "Macbeth."

A fourth member of the Academy's English department, Patrick H. Hodgkin, recently participated in a composition experiment at the State College of Iowa in cooperation with the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N. J. Hodgkin was one of selected readers from a few colleges and secondary schools who read and scored expository essays written by two groups of students; those who were exposed to composition courses and those who were not.

The experiment had as its hypothesis that the natural growth or development of communication skills so far exceeds the "hot-house growth in college freshman courses, particularly in composition, as to suggest that most such instruction is a waste of time and effort."

A college education is often a great help in getting a job working for a man who never reached the sixth grade.

W.S.C.S. members planning to attend the Sub-District meeting at Knox on Wednesday, Nov. 4, are to meet at the church at 9 a.m.

Over 50 attended the Halloween party at the Blocker home on Friday evening. Masqueraders were identified and all enjoyed games and contests. A hayride, complete with an encounter with spooks in the woods, delighted the children. Bountiful refreshments were served.

Miss Lark Olsen, South Bend, who was one of the group of young people from the South Bend District spending six weeks in South America last summer, showed pictures of the trip and gave an interesting talk about their activities at a meeting at the church on Sunday night. She also displayed various souvenirs gathered on her trip. Miss Olsen is the granddaughter of the pastor, the Rev. W. Ray Kuhn, and Mrs. Kuhn.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle McCune spent from Saturday until Tuesday in Columbus Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ecker and Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. John Strycker were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Handschu at Upland. They attended the Taylor University-Franklin College football game in the afternoon and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Handschu.

Mrs. Mildred Overmyer attended the Chain of Missions meeting at the Church of the Brethren in Plymouth on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mahler and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Quivey and Lois at Wabash.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mahler were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Savage and Dan and their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rose, who were enroute from their home in Battle Creek, Mich. to spend the winter in Florida. Mrs. Wanda Mahler of the Fairview Nursing Home, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Overmyer of Argos, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Myers and Herbert of Rochester were also guests. Mr. and Mrs. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Overmyer and Mr. and Mrs. Mahler were entertained in the Everett Gibbons home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baker and children of Shipshewana were Sunday afternoon visitors in the Frank Cowen home.

This company has been engaged in the manufacture of aeroplanes for a number of years, but the machine brought to Lake Maxinkuckee is the first water and air ship which the company has constructed and it embraces some features that are original and not found in other machines. The car of the machine, containing a 6-cylinder, 100-h.p. engine and seats for a pilot and one passenger, is designed like a boat.

There will be preaching services next Sunday following Sunday School. Sunday School attendance last Sunday was 65. She is the guest speaker for the four Sub-district meetings this week and a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis.

PLYMOUTH

Putting on hats to play different roles is a game enjoyed by children and grown-ups alike. Often we smile at a solemn child in a space helmet. Every street has a procession of small fry wearing sombreros, baseball caps, battle helmets, Indian feathers or fire chief's regalia. Little girls enjoy dressing up in garden party hats, vells or nurses' caps.

When a child puts on a hat he plays a new role for all it's worth.

We grown-ups do the same, of course. Any woman who buys a successful new hat knows the feeling of being a brand-new person. Men admit that their personalities change, too, with the donning of a hat for business, a sporty Tyrolean number, an umpire's cap or a battered old fishing hat.

Playing "hats" is a big aid to children's creativity. They try out new situations and face them in new ways by being inventive and experimental. It helps when grown-ups enter into the spirit. The Children's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare says: "The child of 5 or 6 can recognize the fact that he has been pretending, especially when adults respect his need for this type of play." With pretend hats he can become a mailman, a grocer, a milk truck driver or try on other adult roles for size. At the end of the game, the child is perfectly willing to be himself.

"Few children can have a closet full of hats," points out Dorothy Joslyn of Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wisconsin, "but almost every child loves punch-out hats." These hats are to be found in low-cost activity books at game counters in drug and variety stores and supermarkets and department stores. A typical book contains paper hats that can be punched out to outfit a child as a sailor, a fireman, policeman, chief or magician, complete with paper props such as badges to help him play the roles. Parents can make more hats for youngsters out of brown paper bags, construction paper and simple materials.

Playing "hats" has always been a popular pastime. Our hat's off to it.

Academy Sports

West Lafayette (6-1-1) invades Culver Military Academy (5-2) Saturday at 2 p.m. in the season's final game for each team.

The visitors' lone defeat came from Lafayette Central Catholic, 13-7. They played to a scoreless tie with Logansport last Friday night.

Culver goes into the game fresh from a 13-12 victory over previously unbeaten New Carlisle — now 6-1-2. The Eagles scored, spotted Carlisle two touchdowns, and then pushed across the winning touchdown.

Sophomore Mark Thurlow went off tackle on Culver's second play from scrimmage and scampered 45 yards for the first score. Bob Jones then kicked what proved to be the margin of victory.

New Carlisle scored on the next series of downs on a 41 yard run and again in the second frame on a 34 yard pass.

Culver recovered a fumble on the New Carlisle 36 yard line late in the third quarter and quarterback Lander Carter drove his team to the one yard line in eight plays including two of two complete passes to Fred Schumacher and Carl Urban. Thurlow took it again from the one.

New Carlisle started play on its 8 yard line after the kickoff and gained 40 yards in five running plays. A pass moved the ball to the Culver 23 yard line. Three plays gave New Carlisle a first down on the 12 but a fumble killed the drive.

After the exchange of punts the game ended with New Carlisle on the Culver 48.

Individual scoring: Culver: Thurlow, 45 yard run; Thurlow, 1 yard. Pat: Jones (kick). Opponent: Manuszak, 41 yards. Glon pass to Brown, 34 yards.

The ancient saying that there are tricks in all trades has never been successfully disputed. If we are to believe the tale told us by a certain interior decorator, his craft is no less inventive than many others. He had been commissioned by a lady to paint the bathroom of her apartment during three days she was to be out of town. She was very fussy about the job and insisted upon the final result being the exact shade she specified. In order that he might have no excuse for error, she showed him a metal ash tray enameled in exactly the color she wanted. For two days the poor painter struggled in vain to mix the required shade. But happily, when the lady returned and gazed upon his handiwork, she was enraptured with the perfect match he had obtained. "And she don't know to this day," he chuckled, "that I repainted that fool ash tray with the same paint I put on the bathroom!"

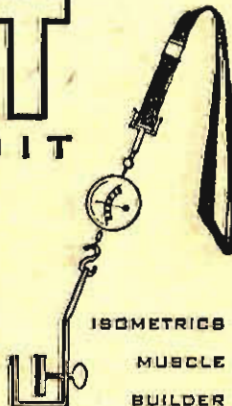

America has not only the best-looking and the best-dressed women in the world, but also the best-yessed.

Political Predictions

By Joan Dillon and Phyllis Jewel

Let it not be said that a majority of high school students are not interested in national affairs, for the political activities around Culver High School in the last few weeks would prove otherwise.

The Oct. 30, 1964, issue of "TIME" calculates that out of a possible 538 electoral votes the Johnson-Humphrey team will be victorious with 495 votes to the Goldwater-Miller team's 43. In a recent poll taken among students and faculty of C.H.S., 75% follow the forementioned belief. The other 25% still have confidence in a Republican victory. Further investigation indicates that 36% would vote for Goldwater if given the chance but the Democrats would still have a majority.

The recent poll also indicates that only 49% of the Hoosiers will "walk right in" for Roger Branigan. In other words, Richard Ristine would win by a mere 1%, since he obtained 50% of the votes by the poll. One per cent of those questioned was undecided.

The C.H.S. inhabitants think that not only will Ristine move into the Executive Mansion, but his running mate John Ryan will also be the next Lt. Governor. Ryan managed to pull through with 51% of the votes, while Robert Rock obtained only 49%.

The official ballots will have been cast by the time you read what the popular opinion of our young people is. How do we measure up to the actual results?

A Little On The Ridiculous Side

By Elaine Epley and Brenda McAllister

Did you ever stop to wonder about what Culver would be like with a football team? Here are some of our basketball players as we think they would react to this sport's situations.

Bob Eustis
I shot a pass into the air.
It fell to earth I know not where.
And that is why I sit and dream
On the bench with the second team.

Doug Lindvall
Halfback Dougie calm and cool.
On the grit iron, no one's fool.
Took a Chem test, got a zero —
And thus became Culver's ex-hero!

Jim Lewis
Don't stop driving when you're hit
Keep on crawling, never quit.
Use all your tricks and squirm-ery
And I'll see you in the infirmary!

Dave Lemar — The mixed up football player kept pleading,
"Coach, send me in! Lemme at 'em! Lemme get in there, won'tcha?"

The coach held up a hand, "Aw, stop bothering me. Why don't you go across the field and talk to the coach of your own team?"

Jim Boswell — Disgusted with his charges in practice, the coach called them together and laid down the law! "Look, lads, I'm convinced that before we can make any further progress, we must go back to the fundamentals." He reached over and picked up a ball.

"Now this," he said, holding it up, "is a football. It . . ."

At this point, Jim interrupted: "Please Coach, not so fast!"

And the fans????
Girls who go to games and eat
And moan of chilly hands and feet,
And never stop that moving jaw,
Will be asked to games no more.
—Unless they're beautiful!!!

Halloween's Origin

By Linda Baker and Patty Overmyer

In centuries before Halloween was strictly a religious occasion known as All Hallows Eve or All Saints Day.

Halloween is derived from the rites of the Druids celebrating the day upon which the Lord of Death called together the souls of the wicked who had died within the past.

I suppose you wonder how we got the Halloween we know today. We can trace black cats, witches, and skeletons as far back as Roman times.

Each country had a name for Halloween. In England it was known as Nutcrack Night. In Scotland the ceremonies took place on a highly superstitious affect.

Trick or treat came into being in Ireland. Groups of peasants went from house to house demanding food and other gifts for that night's celebration. Prosperity was assured for liberal donors and threats were made against stingy ones.

Popular belief of children born on Halloween was that they had something to do with supernatural beings.

Halloween customs were brought to the United States by English and Irish immigrants; but the festival did not become popular until the latter part of the Nineteenth Century.

So give generously and prosperity will be assured to you.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT

All 4-H Club members and their parents are invited to attend the 4-H Achievement night at the Culver Lion's Den, Nov. 14, at 6:30 p.m., as guests of the Farm Bureau. This will be a potluck supper with the meat and drink being furnished by the Farm Bureau.

The materialistic view of man contrasted with the perfectibility of man in Christ will be the theme at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man."

Golden Text: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (1 Cor. 15:22).

References from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

HOW DOES LIFE GET SO TANGLED?

Interesting thing about a rope—it rarely becomes tangled when it's serving some useful purpose. It stretches firm and taut . . . reaching . . . holding.

But lay the rope aside . . . waiting without a purpose . . . and it becomes so tangled you can't even find the ends.

Life is like that! For some folks it seems an impossible tangle of conflicts, worries and disappointments. They haven't discovered how to devote their strand of years to a vital, constant purpose.

But for others life stretches firm and taut from birth to Eternity.
The tangles disappear as men reach across time to hold certain the truths by which God would have us live.

Life without tangles . . . life with purpose . . . discover it in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation.
(4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

E. Williams To Portray Dickens At Academy

One of the high points of the Culver Military Academy Concert-Theater Series will be reached Wednesday, Nov. 11, when noted actor Emlyn Williams appears as Charles Dickens.

Known most recently for his role as Pope Pius XII in the controversial Broadway play "The Deputy," Williams has served the English-speaking theater as an actor, playwright, and director for 20 years.

As Dickens, Williams is bringing back to the stage a remarkable performance he began eleven years ago in the United States. Williams disguises himself as Charles Dickens — whiskers, red carnation, white glove, ruffled shirt and all — and then performs through readings many of the scenes and characters from favorite novels and short stories.

His performance several weeks ago at Massachusetts Institute of Technology attracted this review from the Boston Herald:

"Mr. Williams uses marvelous embroidery of gesture, expression, and tone of voice to bring these people from the book to the theater; he can also tell a horror story — quite a short one — with a mounting suspense that is almost unbearable."

Among Williams' most impressive achievements of recent years are his Angelo in "Measure for Measure" and the title role in "Richard III" with the Old Vic and his superb Shylock at Stratford-on-Avon. His adaptation and production of Turgenev's "A Month in the Country" achieved a great success in London as did his performance as Sir Thomas Morton in Terence Rattigan's "The Winslow Boy." He starred in Lillian Hellman's "The Watch on the Rhine" and "The Little Foxes" in London and in Miss Hellmann's "Montserrat" in New York.

A decade ago he began the series of one-man appearances which made him famous to a widening and admiring audience. First came "Charles Dickens," in which, looking like the great novelist to the last whisker, he brought a fascinating series of Dickens characters to life. Next was "Bleak House," in which again as Dickens he mesmerized audiences with his dramatic adaptation of the noted novel. Last came "A Boy Growing Up," the touching and hilarious stories of Dylan Thomas.

On Broadway in 1963, Williams starred in one of the finest plays of the season, playing Sir Thomas More in "A Man For All Seasons." Last spring, again on Broadway, he played in "The Deputy."

This season in more than 80 U. S. and Canadian cities Williams will again be seen as Charles Dickens. About three-fourths of the material will be new, however. He has replaced old material with the school days sections from "David Copperfield," some of the Sydney Carton story from "A Tale of Two Cities," and bedtime story from one of the Christmas tales, among others.

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

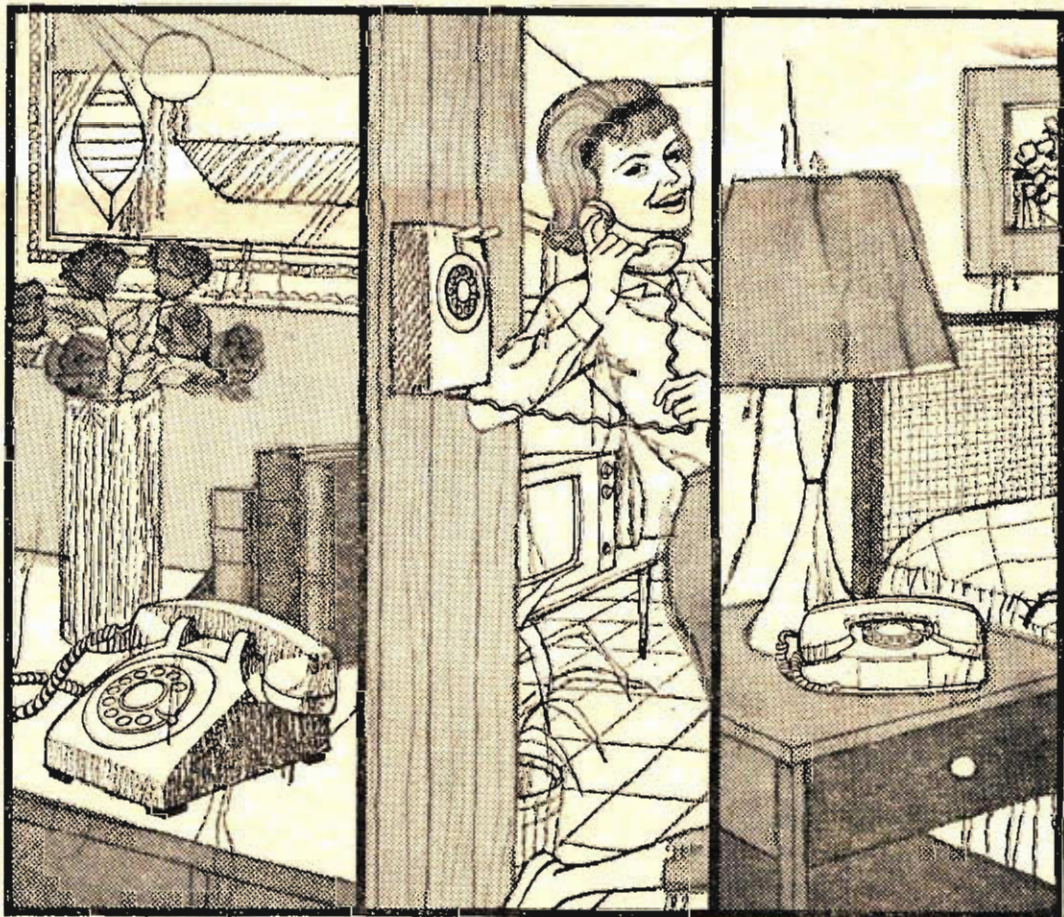

DURING GEORGE WASHINGTON'S ADMINISTRATION MARTHA DRESSED IN THE CONSERVATIVE STYLE OF THE LATE 18TH CENTURY-THE SIMPLE TIGHT FITTING BODICE AND VOLUMINOUS SKIRT, HER FASHION WEAKNESS WAS THE 'MOBCAP,' A LITTLE HEAD COVERING WHICH SHE WORE TO ALL SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.

WHEN LINCOLN WAS PRESIDENT, HIS FIRST LADY WORE THE FULL SKIRT OF THE HOOP SKIRT PERIOD. POPULAR ACCESSORIES OF THE PERIOD WERE THE FAN AND PARASOL-THE LATTER HAVING BEEN SO INDISPENSABLE THAT A LADY NEVER WENT FOR A PROMENADE OR A DRIVE WITHOUT ONE.

AT THE INAUGURAL BALL OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT THE WIDE SKIRT WAS MUCH IN EVIDENCE, EDITH ROOSEVELT'S GOWN FELL IN A GRACEFUL SWEEP FORMING A MAGNIFICENT, LONG TRAIN.
