Board Eyes Plan For Cumulative Building Levy

The Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools approved on Monday evening a proposal to review on April 5th the matter of establishing a cumulative building levy. Funds raised by such levy during 1966 and 1967 would be used to develop the driveways and parking areas at the new high school and to pay for such costs as establishing sewage and water lines to the new site. Movable schoolroom equipment also could be purchased from such funds.

In other business the School Board arranged to publish necessary legal notices in order to make temporary loans of funds to meet March and April expenses in the tuition account. Such loans would be re-paid from tax funds in process of collection for 1965. The necessity for such temporary loans has arisen from the fact that the school budget does not include an operating balance sufficient to cover expenses for the first five months of the budget year. The increase of the operating balance to a sufficient amount will be effected gradually over a period of three or four years.

The School Board also discussed the most advantageous uses of the Aubbeenaubbee School after the high schools are unified. The Board members agreed that the recommendations of the Purdue Survey for as extensive use as possible for the Aubbeenaubbee building should be followed in future assignment of pupils to that attendance district.

The school officials decided to devote the March 15th meeting to conferences with the school principals regarding contracts with teachers for the 1965-1966 school term. This action would make it possible to inform present teachers prior to spring vacation of any changes to be made in teaching personnel. Such procedure has been requested by the representatives of the Culver Classroom Teacher Association.

Fire Destroys Marvin Grover Home At Hipbard

A family residence of Marvin Grover at Hibbard was destroyed by fire last Thursday afternoon when firemen were unable to get through the snow-drifted roads.

Fire Chief Dave Burns said fire trucks attempted to get to the Grover home from every direction possible but failed because of the snew clogged roads. The alarm was sounded at 2:40 p.m.

A snow plow from the town of Culver was used in an attempt to open State Road 17 for the fire trucks, and the county highway department also attempted to open the roads.

One Object of the P.T.A. Program:

"To develop between clucators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.'

With this goal in mind we built our programs for this year. Our first program was given by Mr. Kaiser and Mr. Tanksley and showed the mental stimuli through audio-visual aids and library aids that our children are receiving. Our second program, given by Mr. Cole, was on the physical development of our youth in the Culver School through the physical education and sports programs.

Our third program will be for the benefit of those parents seeking a liaison agent between their child and higher education, Mr. Miller will explain the scholarship potentials for our high school graduates; the counseling in our school which enables the older student to choose more wisely his elective subjects to fill his needs for his work or school after Culver.

The social and spiritual growth of our children is a constant dayby-day process that they are learning and absorbing in school as at home. Through examples set by their teachers and contact with other children each child receives social education. Through their contact with a church and home they enrich their spiritual outlook. This spiritual outlook grows as their young minds and bodies grow.

We, your officers in the P.T.A. believe that there is a need for these few meetings a year. We believe it rekindles the friendship and gives each parent a feeling of pride in their children's school. We believe that without this one contact, P.T.A., where teachers negotiating a Russian reparation and parents work together for the claim against Hungary. During a little more division is made between the school and the home.

main components in our children's ing personalities in the United the teachers are their only guideposts to the future adultheed they will one day assume.

Since both are so vitally impormain interested in each other.

Puff! Puff!! No trouble getting smoke signals this week thanks to our smoke blower, Dong!!!

The Seniors' new fad for this week is broken fingers. Right Linda S. and Jim B.??

Hey Cindee, who's door were you pounding on Saturday night?? Don't you think you could come up with a better excuse than a flat tire?!

Well Dave L., since when do you have the right to say the woman's place is in the home?? There seems to be a few million females who will disagree with you!! Rots-of-Ruck.

We hear Kay Thomas has a passion for red hair! It seems she met her ideal in Indianapolis, Saturday. Just because he had greasy kinks of red hair, weighed 100 pounds too much, and smoked cigars, doesn't give anyone a reason to laugh!!! Right Sue Cole? After all not everyone has the same interest.

Steve Guise, who's ear did you whisper sweet nothings into Friday night?!?

It seems Gary W. and Doug L. have a sudden interest in cement blocks!!! CEMENT BLOCKS??? Hmmmm.

Do-re-mi Oh, don't worry that's only some of our maidens practicing for try-outs at the Academy! Good luck girls.

George Washington Walks Again???

By Linda Baker and Elaine Epley
"He's coming here?!"

"Tomorow!"

Yes, it's been rumored around the halls of ol' CHS that dear ol' George is coming to visit us. Will he be impressed, disappointed, or mildly shocked??? Let's put ourselves in his show once and take a quick inventory of the changes which have occurred since his day.

Instead of below-the-ankle dresses we have above-the-knee dresses. (in some cases!)

The little red-brick, one-room jobbies have expanded a bit (thank heavens!)

The small hickory stick used by the schoolmarm has grown into a full-size paddling board with a powerful man behind it!

Some girls are still wearing their hair up, but they're keeping it up there with different "stuff."

My, how do those boys get in those pants???

The equipment and material available to the teachers, as well as the students, is beyond compare.

Gee, I guess pigtails went out of style with boys. But he won't be disappointed with some of these haircuts; they're still lengthy!

The academic courses open to students are not even comparable with those of 200 years ago.

The opportunity for a student to excell in any certain area has increased greatly. One can now obtain knowledge at his own pace.

The chances for girls to advance in education are equal to those of boys. Two hundred years ago the girl was lucky to go to school!

We have added a new area of learning and participating: Sports. This field gives the student a chance to build up his body and sportsmanship, as well as his intelligence.

He might be a little surprised at the lack of shyness of the girls toward the boys. Now the studyhall is a regular "parlor."

The organization of the student body is far better than it was 200 years ago.

The clubs and organizations open to the student were never heard of by George.

The whole school system is so improved that it does not even resemble the earlier ones,

Well, we could go on and on taken place in the school, as well as the students, in the past 200 years, but George will be here any time now, and we have to be on our best behavior! . . Bye!

HOW TO HOOK CRAWDADS

Hook crawdads in the tail, But to keep them alive don't book down center where the nerve is. Always hook to right or left.

The Shadow

By Elaine Kaiser

Here comes a casual teacher who looks like he wants to be this week's victim. This teacher has arrived at 7:57 a.m., first stopping at Mr. Kaiser's and Mr. Cole's offices. He then strolls to his first period class where current events are discussed. As he marks rather continuously on paper, we are wondering if he is taking copious notes or merely doodling. Whatever he is doing, he takes enough time to tell a joke about a girl who said, "History has a habit of repeating itself, I failed it again."

We now find him wandering out in the hall during the break. He then enters second period history, which was conducted in about the same manner. We still find him doodling on this pad of paper.

Hesitantly he enters his third period World History class. For some reason they are shaking. In asking why, we see that they had had a quiz the day before and were hoping for no more. There is a sigh of relief when there is none.

Oh, boy, his free period has arrived. He slowly takes off to the library where he grades papers, being interrupted by a student asking him about a book. After looking at the new library books, he takes a piece of yellow paper and a red pen down to the cafeteria where he chats with or questions students. He finally gets around to sitting down and eating lunch.

After lunch we find him again with this little piece of yellow paper and his big red pen checking on people the fifth periood. Maybe he is trying to predict the future. No, this could not be true as he did not see far enough into the future to wear clothes for a rainy day. This makes it necessary to call home for transportation. After a long conversation with his son, Jeff, he convinces him to tell his smiling mother to come and get "Daddy" for lunch.

After an extended rest, he enters his sixth period classroom where he continues to instruct his students regarding the history of our country and also keeps his pencil going. Ditto for the World History class during the seventh

Our victim now enters room-17 for his home room. Here he waits for the bell to ring so he can go home to his family. Thus ends another day out of the life of Mr.

THE asafetida bag hanging around an infant's neck may be passe today but it did have its value.

The value was mostly psychological as were many of the old-time home remedies.

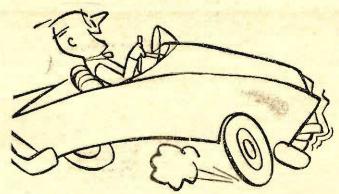

What the asafetida bag probably did, thanks to its pungent, persistent and offensive odor, was to discourage close companionship with other children, thus reducing the hazard of exposure to colds and other communicable diseases.

Today's mother does not prescribe to many of the superstitions of the past, even though she inclines to indulge doting grandparents who feel they must "do something" to help the child get well.

The wearing or carrying of onions, pieces of sulphur or camphor gum were other practices of bygone years. And yet folk medicine is still practiced in many rural areas in the United States.

Superstition has found no more fertile field than the field of what's good for what ails you.

Strange sight? Not really! We're getting used to seeing pictures of our own earth. We're getting used to the concept of a universe instead of a world. We can believe that the moon's soon to become a landing place.

Does this familiarity with space — does our thrust into the physical un-known — make the basic facts of life and death any simpler to us? Certainly not! Man is in a peculiar position, today. The more he explores, the more vast he finds what lies shead of him. The more he learns, the more he discovers how infinitely much there is to know.

More than ever before, man realizes how great the hand of God has been in fashioning this world, this universe, we live in That's why people everywhere — including scientists, astronauts, space pioneers — are men of religious conviction. Go to church this Sunday, and see for yourself.

The 1964 receipts bring funds received in the capital gifts effort called Culver's Program for Excellence - up to $4,122,000. The goal for completion at the end of 1965 is for $4,995,000.

CULVER EMERGES FROM LAST WEEK'S BLIZZARD

Culverites suffered along with all the other residents of about a 20-state area in last week's howling blizzard which dumped snow in our area up to depths of nine inches.

The snow began Wednesday and by evening the slick roads and pavements had caused much personal injury and property damage due to falls and accidents. The snow increased in intensity and the gale winds piled the snow in drifts of several feet in many places which made roads impassable, beginning in the early morning hours of last Thursday. The late winter storm continued all day.

However, Friday morning dawned cold, but the snew had stopped and the winds had somewhat abated Many Culverites found it impossible to get to work on Thursday and some rural residents had to wait until Friday before the snow plows were able to open and keep open the side roads. Schools were closed Thursday and Friday and mail service was halt-

With Spring only three weeks away, Saturday brought warm, sunny weather to our community and Sunday remained warm with a slight cloud cover. The snow disappeared so rapidly that there remains very little of the gigantic snowbanks of last week's storm. The Lake remains ice-covered but there is an open expanse of water in Aubbeenaubbee Bay and another toward the East Shore.

With the beginning of Lent and Spring now only two and a half weeks off, could it be possible that there is more Winter weather in the offing?

Winamac Cops Sectional Title Monday Night

Rochester Ousts Culver, 68-63

By EARL D. MISHLER

Winamac's powerful Indians survived a first round scare from North Judson, then raced past three more opponents en route to the Sectional title last week at Winamac. The victories ran Coach Joe Heath's club's winning streak to 18 in a row, and sent the Pulaski County tribe into the Logansport Regional with a mark of

Culver bowed out of action in the snow-delayed tourney in Saturday's quarter-finals, losing to Rochester, 68-63. The Indians ended play with a seasonal mark of 13-8, losing five of their last

Senior reserve Jim Weirick sparked a second quarter rally by hitting seven quick points. As a result, Culver raced to the dressing room at halftime with a 41-36

Rochester employed a halfcourt zone press to stymie the Tribe's offense in the second half. Offensive rebounding by Pete Terpstra and the scoring of Steve Coplen and Bill Betz led the Zebra surge.

Culver's Jim Boswell won the admiration of tourney fans with his courageous play with a hindering cast on his left forearm. necessitated by a fractured thumb. Jim closed out a truly great CHS career with 16 points, backed by Bruce Lindvall's 11 and Weirick's nine points. Coplen and Betz paced the Zebras with 19 and 15 points, respectively.

In Wednesday night's tourney opener, Aubbee edged Star City, 53-49. Winamac survived a fourth quarter Judson surge for a 66-61 win in the nightcap.

Snow forced postponement of Thursday and Friday's scheduled games. Saturday afternoon, Richland Center, behind the 28 points of brilliant Steve Norris, defeated Monterey 68-65. Knox easily outclassed Oregon-Davis, 81-51. That night after Culver's defeat, Winamac slaughtered Aubbee, 103-43, featuring a 32-0 shutout in the third period. Monday afternoon Knox fought off a determined Center slowdown game for a 36-27 victory. Winamac joined the Redskins in the final game with an impressive 60-39 win over Rochester.

Monday night the Indians convinced Knox with a 79-55 stomping, and the host team claimed the tourney trophy.

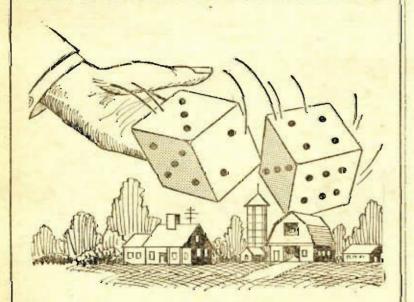

Throughout the tournament the classy Winamac squad featured a tight 1-2-2 zone defense, an occasional 2-2-1 full court zone press, and the high-jumping rebounding of Bob Roth, Barry Hippensteel, and Jim Lincoln. Meanwhile the sharp-shooting work of Jim Herrin, Jim Getz, and Jim Lebo, as well as by the three rebounding stars, built up the Winamac score. Defensive ace and smooth playmaker Larry Larkin also added timely baskets and as-

With these credentials, Winamac must be considered a cofavorite in Logansport's Regional Saturday. They play Logan, the winner from Logan's Sectional. Triton, winner of the Plymouth tourney on a 68-67 decision over a vastly-improved Bremen team, faces Wheatfield in the second
