State Board Approves Bank's Branch Proposal

The Indiana Board of Financial Institutions at Indianapolis has granted the State Exchange Bank of Culver authority to open a branch bank near Plymouth. The approval was granted last Thursday at a meeting at Indianapolis which local bank officials attended.

William O. Osborn, bank president, said the next step preliminary to the actual start of construction will be to secure Federal approval to proceed by application to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. He said the normal time required for this procedure is about two months.

The local bank has an option on a building site at the southeast corner of the Labas Chevrolet property, West 7th Road and U.S. 31, just north of the city limits of Plymouth.

Jaycee Regional Officer Addresses Local Club

Culver Jaycees, meeting Thursday evening at the Bank Lounge, had as guest speaker Robert Jaeger of South Bend, Region "B" vice president, who presented a forum to boost the Sparkplug and Spoke programs in the club. The Culver club has five Spoke candidates.

The Sparkplug honors active Jaycees for outstanding activities in the community during the previous 12 months. The Spoke awards the same honor but is restricted to first-year Jaycees.

Mr. Jaeger mentioned that Culver Jaycees are a potential qualifier for the Indiana State Blue Chip award which recognizes a Jaycee Club as outstanding in Region "B", the northeast portion of the state. President Ronald McKee reported that he, Roger Wise, and Bill Snyder presented a formal letter to the Culver Planning Commission regarding the development and expansion of the employment and business growth opportunities in the community. The Jaycees indicated that they would oppose any action that the Planning Commission might take that would restrict growth.

ROTC Bill Boosts College and High School Programs

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) program in colleges and universities was afforded a rejuvenating boost when President Johnson signed a bill to provide payment of a large slice of tuition and other expenses for high school graduates selected as cadets, as per the department of Army Publications.

In effect, the bill sets up two new programs to supplement the present four-year, pay-your-own-tuition ROTC plan.

The Bill provides: 1. A scholarship program for qualified students with payment for tuition, fees, books, and laboratory expenses, plus $50 a month in retainer pay. Upon graduation, the cadet is commissioned a second lieutenant and serves on active duty for four years.

2. A new two-year program in which a student entering ROTC in his junior year receives a monthly stipend of $40, but no scholarship assistance and serves two years of active duty after his commissioning.

The bill also provides for expansion of the Junior ROTC program by increasing the number of high schools eligible to participate from 254 to 1,200. Implementing instructions for the Junior ROTC program will be published prior to Jan. 1, 1966.

Students in the present four-year college program will benefit from a provision which grants a monthly retainer pay of $40, for ROTC students in their junior and senior years. A two-year active duty obligation must be fulfilled upon graduation.

Since 1916, ROTC has been a major source of commissioned officers for the Regular Army and the Army Reserve Components. It made its greatest contribution in the Army's mobilization during World War II when more than 100,000 Army ROTC graduates served as commissioned officers.

Today, reliance upon this source of officers is greater than ever.

This year's graduating classes will provide the Army with 11,000 newly commissioned officers, or 85 per cent of the annual input requirement for second lieutenants. The United States Military Academy will provide about 500.

Census Bureau To Make Survey Of Home Repairs

A sample survey of residential alterations and repairs covering the first quarter of 1965 will be made among selected families in this area starting on April 1, according to Director Theodore F. Olson of the Bureau of the Census regional office in Chicago.

The survey will require about two weeks to complete and is part of a national study involving about 8,000 home owners throughout the nation. The data collected provide a statistical picture of the importance of home alterations and repairs in the U. S. economy. As government programs and policy expand the aids available for improving and conserving existing homes, the information collected in this Census survey will also become increasingly valuable for urban renewal.

It is now estimated that Americans spend $11 to $12 billion annually for alterations and repairs to their homes. More than one million homes are re-roofed each year and nearly 2 million water heaters are replaced annually, for example.

The survey will cover papering, painting and plastering, plumbing repairs, central air conditioning, exterior wall and roof work, repairs to the heating plant, electrical work, and miscellaneous carpentry. The extent of the work as well as expenditures will be determined.

Although the survey has been conducted for a number of years, new procedures designed to save taxpayers' dollars are being introduced this spring. Instead of making personal visits for information in all cases, the Bureau of the Census interviewers are mailing notices to people who were contacted in January, and will telephone to obtain the information. Substantial economies may result if telephone cooperation proves good.

All information furnished to the Census Bureau is held in strict confidence as prescribed by Federal Law. Census data cannot be used for investigation, taxation, or regulation. Individuals and households taking part in Bureau surveys or censuses cannot be identified in any way in Census reports. Results of such surveys can be used for statistical purposes only.

The Census Bureau representative who will visit local families in the repair survey is Mrs. Virginia Bowmar, Union Mills, Ind.

8-8-8 Arts and Crafts Show Set For April 22 At Local Showroom

The Music and Art Group of the Culver City Club are making plans for an Arts and Crafts Show to be held in the Gates and Calhoun showroom, 115 East Jefferson St., Culver, on Thursday, April 22.

This event is open to all local artists and it is hoped that each person will show several items that were not on display last year when this show was held as a club program. The response last year was so enthusiastic that the committee felt more people in the community should have the opportunity of seeing the work of the hobby artists.

Coffee will be served during the Show.

Mrs. Wilber Taylor is general chairman and anyone desiring information may call her at Viking 2-2602.

News Items About Our Academy Neighbors

(Culled from the March Issue of the C.M.A. Messenger)

The Accounting Department extends a warm welcome to Jerry Anders who hails from Plymouth, Ind. Jerry started work here March 8.

Barbara Rosebaum and Jeanne Anderson entertained 15 girls from around-the-campus offices with a baby shower for Shirley Melander, Feb. 23, in the home of Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosebaum.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Scruggs entertained at their home Friday, Feb. 19, on the occasion of the Mid-West Military Academies Rifle Match. Buffet was served to officers and ladies from Howe Military School, Marmion Military Academy and St. John's Military Academy in addition to officers and wives of our detachment. Word has been received that Sgt. Otis Watkins and his wife will not be leaving the detachment as was previously reported. He has been taken off orders for Korea for an indefinite period of time.

Cpl. Jerry Kimmel from Camp LeJeune, N. C., pleasantly surprised his parents Lester and Margaret Kimmel by spending a three-day leave with them.

Blanche Raub's son Gene is spending a two-week vacation in Florida.

Blanche Jacobson was called to Covington, Va., upon the death of her brother, Jacob Bender.

Ruth Mackey and family are making plans for a brief journey to the southland over spring vacation. They will visit Mr. Mackey's parents at Bradenton, Fla., and spend a few days on the beach at Sanibel Island.

Don Shock underwent a minor operation March 19 at Parkview Hospital, Plymouth.

John Plante left by train from South Bend, Feb. 27, to go to Rhode Island, where he was with the Naval Reserve for two weeks.

Gerald Lyons reported back to his duties in the Carpenter Shop Feb. 22. Gerald injured his left hand when he was using one of the machines in the shop and had to be out of the shop for a few weeks.

Bob Craycraft's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Craycraft, Dayton, Ky., are visiting with Bob, Doris and family. Bob Lamme and Earl Mishler, students at Valparaiso University spent the weekend of Feb. 20 with the latter's parents, Ben and Blanche Mishler.

George Kerrigan "hopes" to have the cast removed from his leg around April 1, and be back at work soon after. Robert Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerrigan, and Miss Donna Walters were married Jan. 23 in the quaint Spanish Church on Camp Pendleton Base, Calif. Miss Walters is the daughter of Maj. Walters of the Marine Corps, who is stationed at Camp Pendleton.

Our sincere sympathy to the family of Jay Humes on his death Jan. 25. Jay was helping an oil truck driver get out of a snow drift and shortly after suffered a heart attack. Jay was one of the Garden Department crew in the summer.

Bill Carr started work in the custodial department March 1. He is under the supervision of Mr. Kelly. Mrs. Ewing's brother, Mr. Mikesell, of the St. Louis vicinity died on March 1. Ted and Mrs. Ewing attended funeral services there.

Charlotte Walker, your correspondent apologizes for the brevity of the news this month. It is not that we have no news makers, but that the news writer was out wandering about Central Indiana at "Cauliflower Ear" time attempting to locate a Greek who had been gone from Tripolis, Greece, for over 20 years, and whose sister had begged me to try to find a trace of him in, of all places, Kokomo, Ind.

I had no luck but chatted and supped, Greek style — with several delightful people; then on to a retirement home (Methodist) in Frankfort to visit Mrs. Hubble, whose husband taught German here years ago, and to give a slide show; and then on to a college sorority convention at Purdue, where I met a former roommate who remembered how many years ago we'd shared that room. And that, dear friends, is why there isn't much news!

Childhood ailments don't always catch us at the right time... like childhood! Norm Wagner can testify that the 3-day measles would have been easier to take blank years ago! Naturally, he passed them on to daughter, Barbara, nursery-schooler, who breezed through it all with great aplomb, although it required the juggling of Dee's and Norm's schedules a bit to look after her! Sunny Blair, who had surgery at the end of February, is recuperating very satisfactorily, and will be ready for the golf season as soon as it gets here!

Freida and Ted Clarno have come up with probably the most unusual telephone conversation ever — at least in this area. Their son, stationed at Travis AFB, called them; that's not unusual. When someone says to you, "I'm up in the air," that's an indication of indecision, but when John Clarno said it, he meant it literally; he was in the air somewhere between Alaska and Travis AFB, from which the call was relayed. "Full of chatter and patter these days", is an apt description of the John Edgell household. Mary Esther Todd Platt is here from Hawaii, introducing 6 months young Lisa (who sounds like the most ideal baby!) to the Mainland, while Lt. John Platt is on maneuvers in the Pacific with the Marines. Also here with Lisa's cousins, Mary Ann and Tres, is Nan Todd Kutcher, now from Minneapolis, where Mickey, father and husband, is "batching it" and working away on his doctorate in sociology.

Mrs. Helen Glaze left Feb. 20 to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beavers (daughter and son-in-law) and son Brad in Covina, Calif. Enroute she stopped in Guymon, Okla., to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herber, and friends. Enroute home Helen will stop at San Antonio to visit her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zetty.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Burns are the happy grandparents of a little granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Burns of Las Vegas, Nev. The little miss was born Jan. 26 and has been named Teresa Mae. The "young" Burns have another daughter, Gwendolyn, age 5.

ONLY A FEW COPIES OF MRS. PRICE'S FINE BOOK OF HOOSIER POEMS LEFT

Only a few copies remain at The Citizen's office of Laverne Brown Price's wonderful volume of poems, "Indiana Homespun." The treasured little books of 122 poems sell at $1 each or $1.25 by mail. They make a fine birthday or anniversary gift.

NEW BOTTLING MILK PRICING FOR 11 MIDWEST MILK ORDERS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has determined a new pricing factor for use in computing bottling milk prices under 11 Federal milk orders which have depended in part on the supply-demand adjuster of the Chicago Federal milk order, which is due to be terminated March 31.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said the effect of the Chicago supply-demand adjuster has been to decrease bottling milk (Class I) prices 24 cents per hundredweight in 10 of these markets, and to decrease the price 10 cents in the Des Moines, Iowa, market. The new pricing factor will continue this effect on prices in the 11 markets for April 1965 and for following months. Bottling milk prices in the 11 markets, therefore, will not be affected by the termination of the Chicago order, officials said.

All of the orders provide that if a price used in calculating class prices is not available, an equivalent price is to be determined and used in the computations.

The 11 orders affected are Northwestern Indiana (Gary-South Bend-Elkhart); Suburban St. Louis; Rock River Valley (Rockford-Freeport); Milwaukee; Madison; St. Louis; Quad Cities-Dubuque (Rock Island);

Ozarks (Springfield, Mo.); Cedar Rapids-Iowa City; North Central Iowa (Waterloo-Marshalltown-Mason City); and Des Moines. The orders cover parts of Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Provisions of 10 of the orders have been changed to include the new pricing factor, but no change in the Ozarks order because its price is tied directly to the St. Louis order.

This report is from Farm Marketing News, 536 S. Clark St., Chicago, Ill. 60605.

Babson: Career In Selling Offers Many Advantages

Why do so many people reject salesmanship as a career? When high school students and college undergraduates are asked what they plan to make their life's work, almost without fail only the smallest percentage mention selling. Why does this unthinking attitude on the part of the public persist?

Why The Unpopular Image?

It seems that the old call, "There is a salesman at the door!" is what many people think of as the only thing selling represents. Of course there are door-to-door salesmen doing an important job and doing it well. But these comprise perhaps 2% of the total sales force in this country. The other 98% are engaged in selling materials, services, and advertising to the millions of retailers and corporations that make up the backlog of the nation's business.

As in any trade, there are occasional get-rich-quick artists out to make a fast buck. They don't know that real — and lasting — salesmanship demands getting close to clients and giving them better service than any rival is willing to provide. So, if such high-pressure fellows are here today, they are gone tomorrow. And they certainly do not reflect the true and great value of salesmanship. You will even find similar fly-by-nights in Congress, in labor unions, and — yes — in the professions! But you don't "down" an entire vocation because of these unhappy exceptions.

Salesmen Key To Our Economy
Those who look dubiously at the selling profession are obviously unaware of the enormous importance of the salesman to our economic complex. Our manufacturers have learned how to turn out not only all the military and aerospace material we need but also all the consumer products that we can possibly use. Business is always afraid of the bogey of overproduction, especially with our efficient and automated know-how. Here is where the salesmen come in, creating and satisfying new needs all along the way, working hand in glove with both production and promotion officials.

How could anyone think that such a job is less honorable, less inspiring, than other occupations? Young men with clear vision and high ambition should certainly consider selling as a most desirable pursuit. There is, in addition, a special appeal in the fact that a salesman's earnings will be in direct proportion to his own hard work and his real ability.

Strong Incentives In Selling

A genuine salesman gets a wallop out of his job because he recognizes that his efforts result in a higher standard of living. If only a thousand customers buy a product with no special sales pressure or advertising, the price of the article may have to be set at $10 in order to ensure a company profit. But with well-organized sales and promotion programs, mass production may be able to drop the price of the product to as little as $2.

A lazy man would understandably seek a less demanding job. A salesman must have a real missionary spirit, with plenty of honesty, courage, energy, imagination, and firmness. He must have strong but courteous persistence, plus remarkable adaptability. He must realize that he will often have to face frustrating circumstances. His work must be planned out, often under great pressure. A successful salesman cannot be a clock watcher; he will wish, in fact, that his working day were even longer than it is.

Opportunities Unlimited

Starter jobs are numerous: Retail merchandiser, manufacturer's representative, wholesale salesman, specialty salesman, marketing engineer, and product service man — these are a few of them. A high-spirited young fellow will prefer to work on commission, thus leaving it up to himself whether he makes $30 a week or $300. His chances are what he makes them, and he will be helping our economy.

Morning Worship 10:30 a.m.

Reading Room open in Church Edifice 2 to 5 - Wed., Thurs., Fri., & Sat.
How the power of God operates in human affairs is explored in this week's Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science churches. The Golden Text is from Luke (18:27): "The things which are impossible with men are possible with God."
Several dramatic examples will be read from the Bible, illustrating the availability of divine power in overcoming the discordant conditions of material existence. The subject is "Unreality." Citations from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "From beginning to end, the Scriptures are full of accounts of the triumph of Spirit, Mind, over matter . . . When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, pp. 139, 180).

Beyond the Blossoms

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When the buds burst into fragile flower, and their breath is everywhere, and a warming breeze caresses the cold, damp earth . . . this is more than Spring. This is the time of Promise.

For these same festive branches shall lift a precious burden of fruit when the red-gold mantle of harvest falls across the land.

When human souls awaken to the reveille of faith, and hymns and prayers fill the arches of heaven, and the warmth of an ageless hope reaches from heart to heart . . . this is more than Lent.

For the faith which blossoms today will bear its own precious fruit. Love! Joy! Peace! The harvest of souls like yours and mine is beginning anew to grow.

When it comes to picking up a check, some fellows have an impediment in their reach.

By Mary Whitman

The next time your youngster refers to a quarter as "two bits" or a half dollar as "four bits," don't scold him for using slang: it's perfectly good English.

These terms are a legacy from early American history dating back to the Spanish milled dollar, says Richard S. Yeoman, one of the country's top numismatic authorities.

Yeoman, who is vice president of the Coin Division, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., explains that the Spanish dollar — coin of our nation's founders — was the standard of currency here for more than three centuries.

The first Spanish dollars in the Western hemisphere were struck in the mid-15th century at Mexico City, capital of the Spanish American colonies. The coin remained as standard currency through the entire colonial period, and together with its fractional parts was the forerunner of our silver dollar and its fractional divisions, such as the quarter and half.

The Spanish coin was valued at eight reales and became popularly known as the "piece of eight." Thanks to writers of adventure stories, it has been given a place in romantic fiction unequalled by any other coin.

One real equaled twelve and one half cents and was known as a "bit." A quarter of a dollar thus became "two bits," a half dollar "four bits" and seventy-five cents "six bits," Yeoman continues.

Over the years, millions of Spanish dollars were used in trade, mainly in Europe and on America's Eastern seaboard. The coin and its fractional parts continued to circulate in this country until 1857, when a law was passed nullifying them as legal tender.

"When our American silver dollar was coined, as a substitute for the 'piece of eight,' we retained the 'bits' terminology which by that time had become part of our language," notes Yeoman, who edits Whitman's "A Guide Book of United States Coins," the nation's most authoritative consumer reference on current market values of U.S. coins.

Girl Scout News
By NANCY REICHLEY
The Girl Scouts of Troop 52 had a Scouts Own for the Brownies. Girls pretended they were from different countries and they read about Scouting in their countries. We gave them hatchets made of candy canes and colored paper.
Mrs. Robert Reichley, our cookie chairman, has collected the cookie order sheets. The cookies will be delivered in April.
We would like to thank Mrs. Norman Kelly for the use of her store window during Girl Scout week. We appreciate it very much.
The Girl Scouts of our Troop are now learning to weave baskets. They are made of raffia and each girl is choosing the shape basket she wants to make.
