Winners Named In Tri Kappa's Reading Club

The Summer Reading Club of the Culver Public Library, sponsored by Culver's civic-minded Tri Kappas, proved of great interest to area youngsters during the past Summer. Results of this popular program have been tabulated with the following winners being announced:

The first place winner is the second grade room of Mrs. Sam Allen. The school library of this room will benefit from a $30.00 gift of books.

Mrs. Martha Nishler's third grade room won second place and will receive a gift of $20.00 in books to be added to their room's library.

A third place gift of $10.00 in books will be donated to the library of the second graders of Mrs. Corine Shirrell's room.

These book gifts of this second annual project of the local Tri Kappas will be a decided help in increasing the libraries of these winning grade school rooms.

Plan To Improve Garage Is Offered At Board Meeting

A proposal to renovate and expand the Street Dept. garage at Jefferson and Plymouth streets for use by the Fire Dept. was heard at the regular meeting of the Town Board on Monday night.

Fire Chief Dave Burns and a delegation of firemen presented the proposal. Burns said the garage site and adjoining space could accommodate a 56 x 96-foot building that would provide for the growing needs of the Fire Dept. and at the same time relieve overcrowding in the Town Hall.

The board, presided over by Wilfred Craft due to the illness of Board President Ted Ervin, granted Burns' request to prepare a drawing for the proposed building and submit an estimate of costs.

In other business, the board passed a resolution to permit all building permit fees to be retained by the building commissioner, Ernest Carter, rather than 50 percent as presently practiced. The board noted that considerable time is spent in investigations and that car expense is incurred in the performance of this job. The policy of 100 percent retention is presently in use in Plymouth.

The board instructed Veri McFeely to obtain bids for the extension of water service along Mill Street between Ohio and White Streets with a new 6-inch water line. This line will ultimately be extended to the new McGill factory site.

The board decided to inspect, on the site, a request from Ray Wicker to remove a tree on the corner of his business property at the curb to permit the construction of a sheltered parking lot.

The board approved a request of the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club to conduct the annual UNICEF fund drive on Thursday, October 28.

LEAD GRAMMAR DISCUSSION T TEACHERS CONFERENCE

Two Culver Military Academy English teachers led discussions on modern grammar during the 11th annual conference for the Junior and Senior High School teachers of the English Language Arts at Indiana University. The conference was held Oct. 1 and 2 in Bloomington. Heading the discussion of "modern grammar in the classroom" as Culver instructors Elmer Hite and Marshall Brown, both of whom teach transformational grammar at the Academy. A new approach to the study of language, a transformational grammar program was developed two years ago by the English Department at Culver and is now given to the freshman and sophomore classes at the Academy. Brown recently co-authored a text book for seventh-grade students covering a broad view of transformational grammar. He collaborated with John C. Mellon, Academy graduate and former Culver English teacher now completing work on his doctorate degree at Harvard University. Hite recently did graduate study in English grammar and has done experiments in the subject with middle school children.

Look over the vegetable garden to make certain that any weeds in it are pulled before their seeds ripen. Such "seedy weeds" are poor prospects for the compost pile. It is more sensible to burn them, thus getting rid of any potential weeds.

GAS DRYER

Automatic Moisture Control

It Cuts Down Ironing Time!

Gas Dryers now have a "dryness" control that actually measures moisture content of clothes... and shuts the dryer off when they reach the degree of dryness you have selected.

Clothes come out of the dryer "just right" for ironing... whether it's a load of wash 'n wear or regular cottons or woolsens.

It's another good reason modern homemakers choose new, improved Gas Dryers!

For drying clothes faster, better... GAS makes the BIG difference... costs less, too!

Are you "in" with the "in-crowd"? Don't feel bad if you're not, you can always have your own party.

Instead of dissecting animals in chemistry lab, Mr. Hughey dissects student passes! Tell us Mr. Hughey, "What do the other teachers think of this scientific method?"

Saturday was Band Day at Manchester College. There were several difficulties in finding the right place to eat, right kids? Also, several people didn't come back on the bus. . . . How about it Molly N., did you have fun that weekend?

If you've heard the sound of a run-away car lately, don't worry about being run over. It's probably the Freshmen girls with their latest fad.

It seems that the Sophomore girls have a new fad of going nrrr-beep-beep! Right girls?

We've all noticed a new couple roaming the halls. If you haven't guessed who they are, their initials are C.M. and G.B.

Holly, where did your keen cast partners get the water for you to drink the other night at play practice? Was it good?

Paul, we know the lockers are big, but not big enough to fit people in. Find some other place to hide your extra people.

It seems as though four boys would rather catch flies than study health and safety. For further information ask Gary, Mike, Phil, and Rex.

How come Susie D. and Terry G. showed up at school with matching yellow shirts-mum!

Paul, Kerry, and Ron, explain why your suits were wet and muddy after practice the other night.

Culver High has a new Junior, Paula LaPlace. Many welcomes.

Please Rex, Mike, Brian and Jack, don't sing "Louie Louie," especially after the bell has rung. Mrs. Hughes might not like it too well.

Hey, May! How did you cut your face? You say you cut it shaving? OK - we believe you.

Corky and George seem to have been very helpful down at Manchester College, m-m-m- wonder why.

Marsha, do you always have such interesting visitors while you are babysitting. . . especially those in blue convertibles.

Gosh, Danny Scott just can't be quiet in English class. Sometimes a bawling out helps, huh, Danny? Moving another Danny away from you seemed to help some too, but they still communicate, some how or other. (?)

When leaving school one day last week, you should have noticed that the flag was still up. To find out who "goofed" contact Judy. We think she might know.

How John Milner can have a date for the Senior Play and only buy one ticket is beyond us. He's got Marilee wondering, too — poor girl!

Never fear seniors — one month of school is almost over — Ya say if you have another one like this you're going to quit? Teachers have no mercy!

Listen everyone — Seniors will be around selling magazines as soon as the play is over — so dig down in those pockets and help the Seniors to Washington. They need it.

It seems that there are several girls — namely Holly T., Linda B., and Sheryl F. that have something in common. Could it be a date with the same guy at the same time, to the same place? This we have to see!

We heard that Pat M. is going to Vincennes to view the campus — Have fun - we know you will!

The latest gossip out is that Vicki McKinney has problems — wonder what they could be. For more info contact Vic. We also hear that she is the new soda jerk at the C.C. drugstore. (Go in and bother her when you can find time.)

We leave you with the thought that the weekend is coming up and next week will be much better (Heaven knows it couldn't be any worse) So see ya next week same time and station!

"Kiddies' Korner"

By Cathy Welsh and Patti McCombs

"These are a few of our favorite things." This week the second graders, being only too glad to do anything but study, and being especially willing to talk, are going to share with us a few of their "favorite things."

Do you have a favorite joke to share?

Richard Spivey: What does an elephant have that no other animal has? A baby elephant.

Luann Vorels: Why does an elephant paint his toes red? To hide in the cherry tree.

Bob Farari: What do you call a cat that drinks lemonade? Sour-puss.

Scott Flora: Why doesn't an elephant drink martinis? (Well . . . ? Umm . . . ??) Well, how would you like to have an olive up your nose!

Linda Ringer: Knock! Knock! (Who's there?) Pencil. (Pencil who?) Pennsylvania.

Sara Shei: Why did the boy put garbage in his shoe? Because he was going to feed his piggies.

Julie McCombs: Why did the elephant wear pink shoes? 'Cause he wore his pink polka-dot bathing suit.

Rex Zink: What walks with ten legs and it's a butterfly and it has ten wings? Ten butterflies.

Bruce Osborn: Inch me and pinch me went out on a boat ride. Inch me fell out and who was left? Pinch me. (OW!)

What T.C. Skow is your favorite?

Tony Triplet: Tennessee Tuxedo and his pal "Chimley" Walrus. (What animal is Tennessee?) He's a "penwen."

Debra Boetsma: Dick Van Dyke Show — 'cause he turns somersaults.

Jimmy Ruby: Daniel Boone — he has a long gun, and it goes ka-POW! kaPOW!

Timothy Osborn: Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea — 'cause of the time a whale swallowed a little submarine whole.

Bruce Osborn: My Favorite Martian — once ice came out of his ears and he turned into an icebox and he was all froze up.

Betty Jo Horn: Bugs Bunny — he's so stupid!

What is your favorite sport or game?

Mari Babeck: Horses — I get to gallop. (Don't you fall off the horse?) NO! I'm the horse!

Tony Triplet: Football — 'cause you get tackled and your foot gets broken. (That's fun?) Yep!

Bob Farari: Horseriding — because I get saddle sore.

Jimmy Ruby: Riding cattle — you get "brunked off."

Eloid Ruiz: I like to play with the monsters you get out of the Fritos packs.

Carol Burkett: Frozen tag — when you're tapped, you get to stand still — I don't like to run.

Tony Dowd: Password — someone usually doesn't know and when you figure it out, you laugh! Of all the animals in the world, which is your favorite?

Debra Boetsma: Buffalo — 'cause they're nice to look at when you go sight seeing.

Laura McKay: Horse — you get to ride and don't have to walk.

Richard Spivey: Turtles — because they're quiet.

Darlene Brelbarth: Reindeer — I like their antlers.

Bob Farari: Sharks — they're nice to ride!

Eloid Ruiz: I like 'em all, but don't like to eat them.

Do you have a favorite word or expression you say when you're mad or sad?

Sara Shei: Oh, phooey! or Horsefeathers!

Randy Wright: Ooh! That makes me mad!

Susan Burke: Can I go over to Grandma's house?

Tony Dowd: Stupid. I'm going to shoot myself!

Bob Farari: Dociousallexpilitic-fragilcalrepus! That's supercall-fragilisticexpilidocious backwards. He actually said it all backwards for me!

Mark Minix: I can't tell 'cause I'd get spanked!

Matinee For Grade School

By Mike Hansen

"Drums of Death", a mystery play by Howard Reed, was presented by the senior cast: Thursday, Sept. 30, to the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades.

The plot centered around the disappearance of an elderly man who had in his possession a magic stone from Africa. Flying rat-tail flies, lurking shadows, and a hooded monster added to the effects of the dim lighting and a suspenseful evening of complete pandemonium.

The purpose of this matinee was to help pay royalties on the play.

Becoming A S.S.S. Member

By Sharyl Welsh

Wednesday, Sept. 29, the Junior and Senior girls of the Culver Sunshine Society, along with the 32 nervous initiates, congregated in the Culver Bank Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. for the club's annual initiation. This year's theme was "Sunshine Serenade."

Patty Overmyer played "Pomp and Circumstance" as the initiates led into the main room where older members and the girls' mothers were seated. The formal ceremony began as President Diane Davis lit the big white candle symbolizing the source of light and its radiating ideals, such as love, charity, unselfishness, kindness, service, and helpfulness. The pianist played the Sunshine Song and old and new members alike sang it with gusto. The singing was followed by a cheerful welcome by resident Davis.

Reports on the Riley Fund by vice-president Patty Overmyer, the story of S.S.S. by corresponding secretary Linda Baker, and our Society's projects and activities by treasurer Becky Easterday, completed the requirements for the initiates.

After a recitation of the poem, "Others," by Linda Baker, all girls recited the S.S.S. creed. The initiates were informed of the deep meaning behind the Society's colors before receiving their pins and gifting their own individual indies from the central white indle.

Miss Overmyer provided beautiful background music with first the S.S.S. Song, then "Charade," and "Moon River." Linda McAllister led in prayer and a few moments of meditation which was followed by "My Task," sung by Annea Siple.

Miss Ruth Shanks, the Culver Society's sponsor, was scheduled next, and, as is typical of her, gave wonderful, amusing, and deeply meaningful speech entitled "Say Yes."

Now came the part for which the 32 girls had good reason to be nervous: the informal initiation. The first group, those who were ported more often, had to sing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," leaving out the word "you" each time it occurred in the song. The second group sang "The Centyspider" — with motions — for their mothers. The final initiation was in keeping with the latest fashion: wearing contrasting colors, mixing plaids, or aids and stripes together, for the next day of school. Also they were to wear on one foot Mom's shoe and Dad's sock, and on the other, Dad's shoe and Mom's sock!

Miss Molly Norris and her committee served delicious cookies and much.

Manchester Band Day

By Cindee Lemar

At the early hour of 7 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 25, the C.H.S. band members boarded the Culver buses and journeyed to North Manchester, Ind. Clad in their maroon and uniforms, the Culver band members were getting ready to perform in the Manchester College and Day.

They arrived on campus at 8:30 a.m. and immediately began drilling and practicing their marching techniques. At 9 a.m., all the participating bands gathered on the football field to begin mass practice. The guides showed all the bands to their designated seats in the stands and then proceeded to lead them out on the field. When more than 700 bandmen were lined up on the field, the two and a-half-hour practice began. At 1:30 a.m., the bands started going in turns to the cafeteria for lunch.

At 1 p.m., the band members all went to the college auditorium to listen to the college band in concert on the stage. After a very enjoyable afternoon, everyone reported to their seats in the football stadium and watched the North Field Band perform a marching pre-game show. At half-time, the bands marched onto the field and performed.

Following the Manchester-Taylor

football game, the Culver band members returned home. They had put in a lot of work but had been very successful at their band day.

The rain was still pouring down at two o'clock when Alison and I finished the dinner dishes. During the morning, the rain had not bothered us as we had slept quite late. Now it was keeping us from sightseeing in Glasgow, where I had been visiting my pen pal, Alison Cleaver, for two weeks. However, I was glad for this opportunity to ask questions about her school and find what it was like.

The school Alison attends has an enrollment of around 2,000 pupils, all of whom wear a navy blue uniform with a light blue shirt and a striped tie which indicates that a person is a student in this particular school. Since school children and factory workers both ride the green and orange double-deck buses, to avoid conflict the students do not have to be at school until a little after nine and get home about four.

A child starts to school at the age of five in a primary school, and the majority drop out at the time they are 15. If they go on, they will receive their Original Levels or high school diploma in our language. By staying on another year and studying advanced work in high school, a person receives his "Highers". Alison is studying for her "Highers" this year. This would be their course of study if they passed the government exams after primary school. If they did not pass these exams they would go to a business or trade school.

When they enter secondary school, they either take French and Latin, French and German, or Latin and Greek. If they are going into science the next year, they will drop one of the languages. They then would finish making up their time table or schedule to fit their needs from the master one in the hall. It would usually have some math, hockey, English, geography, and a few special classes.

Their studying is done mostly at school in their classes as they do not have any studyhalls. There is just one exception to this rule and that is during the months of May and June. During this time they have their exams scattered with a week to three weeks between them for swatting, as they would say, or studying. Naturally this studying is done at home. Just before they are to go back to school in the latter part of August, they receive the results of these tests telling whether or not they passed. This is the one and only grade they receive for that year.

I was amazed to learn about the difference in the handling of passing from one class to another. A bell rings which dismisses one class and is the signal for the beginning of the next one. Each student gets to his next class as soon as possible (or as soon as he wants?). When a bell rings indicating lunch time, they have to trudge about a half mile down the street to their lunch room, which I would dislike, especially in the winter. While I do not care for this noon arrangement, I do like the three-day weekend which they have every other week.

There didn't seem to be any organized outside activities related to the school. What sports they had were not as important to the whole student body as they are here.

Yes, as the afternoon grew into night I had found out a lot about their schools. Some parts I liked; others I didn't. Good old CHS sure looked heavenly the first time I saw it when I returned, and I am glad to be going to school here.

AWARDED LETTERS OF COMMENDATION ON MERIT SCHOLARSHIP TEST

Eighteen Culver Military Academy students have been awarded Letters of Commendation for high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

The 18 are in addition to 11 Academy seniors who were named as semi-finalists and who continue in competition for coveted National Merit Scholarships.

Letters of Commendation were awarded 38,000 students across the nation who scored in the top two percent of seniors who will complete high school in 1966. Commended students rank just below the 14,000 semi-finalists announced throughout the nation recently.

Those from Culver awarded letters of commendation include Elizabeth M. Zieg, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Kermit C. Zieg, Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind.

Only the highest-scoring students in each state, the semi-finalists, remain eligible for further consideration in the competition for Merit Scholarships. Although students receiving letters of commendation advance no farther in the Merit Program, their names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named at the time they took the NMSQT as their first and second choices. NMSC also reports home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the commended students to the same colleges.

The angle drive Lightwin, the heavy duty Yachtwin and the olive drab Duckwin are the three models. The Lightwin, shown here, weighs only 37 pounds and is 38 inches high from skag to top. When folded it is 15 inches shorter. It can easily be stowed by loosening two swivel screws on the lower unit and folding the lower unit up into a special groove in the lower shroud, where it locks in place. Stowed in the carrying case for compactness and neatness, the motors look like a piece of luggage.

County Organizes To Mark 150th Year Of Statehood

Organization of the Marshall County committee to plan observance of the Indiana Sesquicentennial during 1966 will take place at 6 p.m. today, Wednesday, Oct. 6, at Culver Military Academy.

Maj. General Delmar T. Spivey, academy superintendent and temporary chairman of the Marshall County committee, announced that 50 persons from towns throughout the county have been invited to the initial meeting. General Spivey is also a member of the governor's advisory committee.

A dinner, co-sponsored by the Academy and The State Exchange Bank of Culver, will be held at the Academy Mess Hall at 6 p.m. today, after which invited guests and Sesquicentennial officials will move to the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium for the organizational meeting.

"It will be our purpose to set up the formal committee and to elect a permanent chairman for Marshall County," General Spivey said. "But of equal importance is our desire at this first meeting to define the goals of the Sesquicentennial and how we, in Marshall County, can assist in properly observing the 150th anniversary of Indiana's statehood"

Carl Zenor, appointed by the governor as executive director of the Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission, will address the meeting. In addition to the election of a permanent chairman, sub-committees will also be formed at that time to begin plans for next year's observance.

Jehovah's Witnesses Begin Study Of New Bible Textbook

Stanley Spangler, presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's witnesses, has announced that the congregation began a study of a new Bible textbook in the regular Tuesday evening classes, starting Oct. 5.
There are four of these classes in the Plymouth area.

The new text is entitled
"Things In Which It Is Impossible For God To Lie," and was released to all English-speaking congregations of Jehovah's witnesses at the 26 "Word of Truth" district assemblies held in the United States and Canada during June, July and August.

In making the announcement
Mr. Spangler stated, "This Bible study aid, in addition to highlighting doctrinal points, includes a chronological discussion of the Bible record from the time of creation to the present time."

Mr. Leland Sherwood, who is conducting the class at Kingdom Hall, added that the first printing of the book in English was two million copies, and that it is now being translated into 69 other

The Culver Citizen — Culver, Indiana — October 6, 1965 — Page 11 languages. He said, "A previous Bible study aid of similar nature called 'Let God Be True' became a best seller, reaching a circulation of 18,300,000 copies in 53 languages. This is the widest distribution ever reached by any book except the Bible itself."

Mr. Spangler, in concluding the announcements, added that Jehovah's witnesses have already started making the new book available in their door-to-door ministry, not only locally, but in all English-speaking countries of the world.

684 for the corresponding period of last year. The State's sales for August were $10,135,127 which ed with last August.

FORD C. FRICK, BORN 1894, WAWAKA, INDIANA

The schoolteacher who became America's baseball "czar"

He was a farm boy from Indiana, with a college diploma in one hand and a first baseman's glove in the other.
His problem: Teach English or play baseball? His solution: Do both.

Ford Frick started out teaching high school and college English in Colorado—while playing semipro baseball in his spare time. But it wasn't until he joined a Colorado newspaper that his career began to take lasting form. His writing and reporting skill earned him a job on the New York American and later on the New York Journal. Frick became a nationally-known sportswriter, columnist and radio commentator.

In 1934, the game's No. 1 chronicler became one of its top executives. He was elected president of the National League. Next was the post of Commissioner of Baseball. Frick became baseball's highest executive in 1951. He retired as Commissioner in 1965.

Thanks in large measure to Frick's devotion and guidance, our "national pastime" has thrived in recent years. Major league baseball now is played from coast to coast in two expanded leagues. It enjoys immense popularity. It faces a bright tomorrow.

And a bright tomorrow, in communications, is also in the making. New products and services make your telephoning faster and more convenient. Products like the Princess® phone, the Touch-Tone® pushbutton phone and the remarkable, dial-in-handset Trimline® phone to name a few. New services like DDD (Direct Distance Dialing) add ease and speed to Long Distance calling. Best of all, Long Distance rates are now lower than ever before in history. It's all part of our determination to bring you the world's finest telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

NEW TELEPHONE CONVENIENCE IS AT HAND!

It's the latest concept in telephoning convenience. The TRIMLINE® phone is a lightweight, compact unit with the dial right in the handset. The dial lights up when you're ready to use it. You can bring it as close to you as you like. In desk or wall style in a choice of colors. See the TRIMLINE phone at our Business Office, or ask your telephone man.

IT FIGURES

If you have half a dozen insurance policies and several agents calling on you, in all probability you will be over insured in some places, under insured in others, plus some good sized holes in your coverage for good measure.

But let one competent agent handle all your business and he will do a better job, as well as save you time, trouble, and money. We would like to be your agent.

Attend Church EVERY Sunday

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOW LEAVES ARE COLORED

Those leaves of red aren't really painted. Frost, according to University horticulturist Don Frost is not responsible for fall's color change — it's try, he says. Several comments do the work — which begin their change autumn conditions. The leaves are not brown.

Yellows are caused by carotene pigments. These are covered during the season with green and their own when cell activity in autumn. In other words green cells die in the yellow cells can be seen. Red leaves, caused by cyanin pigment, are general indication of concentrated cooler temperatures and sugar accumulation and intense red.

Brown colors are largely associated with the behavior of pigments, and are often caused by carotene. Purples, on the other hand, are caused by pigments which create red.

Scheer says several factors influence fall color. Here terminates the basic pigment, hence, the basic color plant's leaves. Sweet Gum are always reddish and leaves are always yellow.

But why is color better in certain areas, or certain years?

A dry early fall which wet later, Scheer explains sugar accumulation in the leaves and a more intense red. become brighter with cooler temperatures.

There are even differences on a single tree, and a single leaf. Essentially because green color disappears unevenly. There's more around the outside of a tree, and this will affect pigment content and sugar accumulation of the leaves. The brightest reds will be top and around the edge of the tree.

Bicycle riding can be dangerous — it can be dangerous — especially for those who don't know the rules of the road. Lists enjoy the same privilege, but they also heed all the basic traffic and regulations.

Evinrude Adds High Performance And Folding Motor

A high performance 100 hp model and folding motors have been added to the 1966 Evinrude line, announced Snyder Motor Sales, Evinrude dealer in Culver. Also new are two 80 hp models.

"The new Starflite 100-S mates the tuned exhaust system of a racing engine with new lower unit efficiency," said Mr. Snyder. The tuned exhaust includes redesigned porting, manifolding, spark timing, carburetion and combustion chamber. This gives the effect of super-charging by literally "ramming" fuel charges into the cylinder.

The new gear case, with a 16:28 gear ratio, gives high thrust at low speeds and an efficient low drag profile. There is a choice of five propellers to cover the entire speed range and all boat requirements.

"The lower unit on the 3 hp ghtwin, Yachtwin and Ducktwin is hinged to fold-up," said Mr. Snyder. "The engine is 15 inches shorter in the folded position. A spring loaded retainer holds the lower unit against the motor cover. When you're ready for action, just release the spring and the unit swings into operating position. It's a power package unique in its compactness and portability."

The same principle of tuned exhaust was used to build top performance into the new 80 hp model. It is available with push-button electric shifting or manual shift.

The complete Evinrude line for 1966 includes 17 models in 10 horsepower ranges. Besides the 100-S, 80 and 3 hp units, they are: the 60 hp electric start Sportfour (available in standard or heavy duty model); three 40 horsepower models, the electric shift Lark, the Big Twin Electric and the manual start Big Twin; the 33 hp Ski Twins, either electric or manual shaft; the 18 hp Fastwin; the improved 9.5 Sportwin; the 6 hp Fisherman; and the 5 hp Angler.

Numerous engineering refinements have been incorporated into these models, said Mr. Snyder. "We back up our confidence in the 1966 Evinrude line with a two year warranty. All models are designed to operate on regular gasoline and the 50:1 gasoline-oil mixture."

Girl Scout News

The frost is on the pumpkin and the Girl Scouts have taken to the outdoors to enjoy the lovely fall season, the theme being cook-outs and hikes.

Troop 153, having organized and held all elections hiked to the Town Park Monday evening, for their first cookout of the fall season. There were 19 Girl Scouts and two guests to participate in lessons on firebuilding, activity planning and outdoor cookery, given by their two leaders. To leave the area as clean or cleaner than it was found, was the goal of the evening. A good time was enjoyed by all, as was witnessed by the great amount of food consumed to the last crumb.

Brownie Troop 7 enjoyed an after school hike and a tour through the Post Office. We wish to thank the Postal Employees for the hospitality, it was a lot of fun.

Troop 148 took a nature hike to the Town Park last Wednesday evening, gathering materials for fall projects. Our Town Park is a lovely area and we hope to make greater use of its facilities.

Troop 52 has divided into three patrols, Bluebirds, Blue Fairies, and Green Birds. Patrol leaders, Karen Lucas, Debbie Davis, Bambi Spencer; Assistants, Dayle Langlois, Connie Kelly, Patty Liette; and Troop scribe, Patty Liette, form the court of honor.

A neighborhood meeting was held at the Methodist Church, Monday afternoon. The meeting was opened by the introduction of all new leaders. It was decided that neighborhood meetings will be held the first Monday of each month at 2:30.

Reservations for the Girl Scout Leadership training are due in the office. Have you sent in your reservation yet?

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy's football Eagles draw their sights on Bloomington University High School at 2 p.m. Saturday after coming up last week with a surprise 7-7 tie against Lafayette Central Catholic.

The Bloomington game here is a big one in view of last year's hard-fought battle which the Culver eleven lost 7-6. Coach Russ Oliver considers the Bloomington game a "must" for his "Academy" squad, which has yet to win a game in three starts.

While the Eagles have not yet scored in the win column, Saturday's 7-7 tie could be written off as a "moral victory." Beaten by previously winless River Forest and smacked hard by Bremen, 27-0, the Academy was a heavy underdog to Lafayette, which won its first three games and then tied the fourth.

When the Knights rushed away to a first period touchdown on a 73-yard run by halfback George Smith, the game was going according to form. But then the Academy mounted a drive of its own and scored just before the half. The touchdown drive went 64 yards in 11 plays with quarterback Jim Vestermarck crashing over from the one, Scott Dugas kicked a perfect placement to deadlock the contest.

Surprisingly, and not according to pre-game predictions, the Cadets held off their opponents during the second half including two defensive stands deep in their own territory in the last quarter. The Eagles made one unsuccessful bid for what would have been the winning touchdown, but stalled on the Lafayette 12.

The game was witnessed by large crowd of parents attending Fathers Weekend.
