Cole Porter Revue To Be Presented At C.M.A. Monday

The music of Cole Porter will be featured in a Broadway revue here Monday, Oct. 10, as part of the 1966-67 Concert-Theater Series at Culver Military Academy.

The revue is entitled "The Decline and Fall of the Entire World as Seen Through the Eyes of Cole Porter, Revisited," and it will be presented at 8:15 p.m. in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium.

The Cole Porter revue is a historical cavalcade designed to show that in times of chaos and destruction, the Indiana songwriter saw the world with an impudent, highly-sophisticated, and euphoric view. Says producer Ben Bagley:

"The time we live in now is an age of enlightenment. Keeping up with the Joneses is dead. Americans for the first time in 30 years cast their eyes upon the continent of Europe. To be an individual is all. Freedom is everything.

"And one of the world's freest spirits, Cole Porter, has come of age. Subjects that were taboo a few years ago are now dealt with openly in the arts and in life. Countless Americans are discovering unsuspected meanings in Porter songs. This is true not only of his familiar material but also in the unknown songs of this show. At any rate, the future promises us freedom for amatory experimentation and from emotional inhibition, and Porter's work, which is so completely uninhibited, belongs to this age and to the future more than that of any other composer."

Bagley's Broadway cast of the Cole Porter show includes a number of accomplished singers and dancers. Featured among these are Ray Becker, who completed a successful New York run as a singer and dancer in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying"; Edward Earle, who was Anthony Newley's standby for "The Roar of Greasepaint — The Smell of the Crowd"; Carmen Morales, who appeared in the Broadway production of "West Side Story"; Lois Zetter, who has done a number of major roles in summer stock and on network television; and Vernon Lusby, who choreographed Betty Grable for her appearance in "Hello, Dolly"; and Marge Cameron, also a television and summer stock regular.

Porter, who was born in Peru, Ind., died in 1964 but his music has seen a rebirth through the Broadway revue "Decline and Fall" which brought many of his unknown songs to the attention of the American public. His shows were among the most successful ever to be presented on Broadway.

"Decline and Fall" presents an array of the most famous and little known songs of Cole Porter. The show, which incorporates clever commentary and a fast-paced succession of color slides many of them paintings and collages by well known contemporary artist Shirley Kaplan — opened on Broadway in 1965 and is presently enjoying great success in London. Among the more than 30 numbers included in the production here Monday are: "Ridin' High", "I Loved Him", "Let's Not Talk About Love", and "Red, Hot and Blue".

The show is open to season subscribers and the general public.

Mr. Robert Rust, superintendent, will introduce the new public school teachers and Dean Ernest B. Benson will introduce the new instructors at the Academy.

HOW AMERICA GREW

TOIL, SWEAT and TEARS

THE PIONEERS sacrificed homes, comfort, friends, and safety to build a nation out of the wilderness. Working long and hard to get the rich land ready for the first crop, trees had to be cut. Stumps and boulders were dredged up by teams of horses and oxen. In Nebraska, the first pioneer shelters were crude sod dug-outs with sod roofs. Comfort would always be secondary to the land.

BY THE 1850's, farms produced wheat for the small gristmills located on many streams throughout the countryside. Thirty bushels an acre was a common yield, but the number of acres one man could farm was small. Planting, reaping, flailing, and winnowing were all done by hand. This was a prelude to the great wheat treasure the Midwestern states would yield in time.

TODAY, amid the rolling wheat fields of South Central Nebraska, in Minden, there stands a monumental tribute to the pioneer men and women who founded the great communities of the Midwest. Pioneer Village, a unique and comprehensive collection of Americana, was built by Harold Warp as a living museum. Here you can see how the pioneers lived, among the 22 buildings completely furnished, an actual sod house, country house, and church, even to the clothes they wore, and the implements they used to help found a mighty nation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

3936 Iwoa St.
San Diego, Calif. 92104

Editor, THE CITIZEN:

Would you allow me to say a word about Rev. Harley A. Davis, who died last February. It was about the year 1908, when I first met the Davis family, who then lived on the Assembly Grounds, in Culver.

At that time the Methodist Church had a Mens Brotherhood. Some of the men who belonged to I remember were Charles Medbourn, Arthur Castleman a Mr.

Howard who had an ice cream factory and others I do not recall and Harley and myself.

Harley always placed emphasis on Evangelism and I remember he and I at times would go out together on Sunday afternoons and talk salvation to various ones. Rev. Wayne G. Nicely, was the minister.

We became widely separated but kept in touch more or less through the years. One time he wrote to me and asked me to arrange for an Evangelistic Crusade he wanted to conduct. I was not in a position to organize such a campaign but that did not interfere with our friendship.

As late as last Christmas he sent me greetings and along with the greeting tracts on Evangelism. That was his forte in life. I am sure it is a better world because he lived in it. I had good fellowship in absentia and expect to meet him in the world to come.

Hoosiers Urged To Back 'Sesqui' Special Project

One of the most important events planned for our Sesquicentennial Celebration has been the Indiana State Library's Manuscript Copying Project. The end result of this Project may undoubtedly help to rewrite and re-evaluate the long history of our Hoosier state.

The Project is concerned with the collecting and preservation of past as well as present historical resource material. This material can be placed under two categories.

First, items that are handwritten or typed, such as letters, diaries, daybooks, journals, sermons, speeches, and other material of a more personal nature. This can include, for example, soldier's letters from any and all of our wars, including the conflict in Viet Nam.

Second, items that are privately printed such as business letters, industrial catalogues, commencement programs, club reports and news.

There is hope that the originals of much of the material uncovered will be donated to the library. Whenever this is not possible it is hoped that a copy at least be made. Precious bits of history will thus be preserved for the future. All of the material donated, whether the original or a copy will be placed in tribute to the memory of the author.

Copies will be made through the use of Xerox or on microfilm — neither process does any harm to the original.

One copy of each item collected will be sent to the following co-operating libraries: Ball State, Indiana, Indiana State, Notre Dame and Purdue University Libraries, and the Indiana Historical Society Library.

Governor Branigin has allotted $1,750 from his contingency fund to be used as an incentive in the search. Awards of $1,000, $500, and $250 will be given to the libraries and historical societies in the three top counties that contribute most significantly to the Project.

Basis for the awards will be determined by a number of factors which include the following: number of pages contributed (based on county's age and population), number of separate groups and kinds of materials, extent of organized involvement within the county, and significance of material.

Three to five judges, all of whom will be appointed by the Chairman, with the approval of the Sesquicentennial Commission, will make the final decision on awards. The Project will extend from March 1, 1966 through April 30, 1967.

For more information on the Project, write to Sesquicentennial Manuscript Copying Project, Indiana State Library and Historical Building, 149 N. Senate Ave., Indianapolis, Ind. 46204.

School Time Means Time For PTA

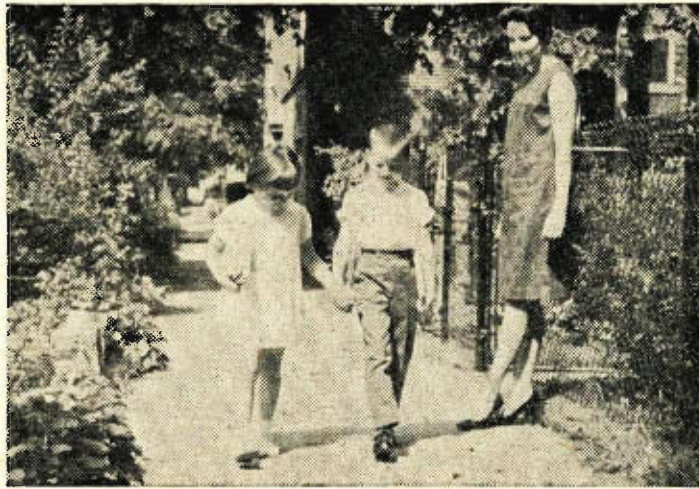

When the children start off to school, it's prime time to join the PTA.

And in this school year, PTA's throughout the country are moving forward on programs that seek to involve all parents—and other adults interested in children's welfare—in ever better education, health and opportunity for all children.

"Never in its history has the PTA been more necessary to the well-being of children and our nation," says Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, of Eugene, Ore., National PTA president. "Never have we had so rich an opportunity to move the nation to great decisions, for ideas that the PTA has promoted for years have come into their own."

Its goal of making preschool education available to all children, for example, is winning broad acceptance. Increasingly, too, educators realize the importance of involving parents in their children's education, something long advocated by the PTA.

This year, the PTA plans to experiment with new methods of reaching the non-participating parents—the working mother, the parent-without-partner, the residents of urban slums or depressed rural areas. New programs, too, will deal with children's health, safety and education.

It's off to school for Jeanette and Michael Ryan—they're first and second graders at Nettelhorst School in Chicago—and back to the PTA for Mrs. Robert W. Ryan, like millions of other Americans, a participant in PTA programs for children. Their message: It's Prime Time To Join!

One such project, undertaken in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service, will attempt to discourage 7th and 8th graders from starting to smoke cigarettes.

On other subjects, as well, the PTA has a full schedule of "critical issues" ripe for action.

Membership in the PTA, of course, is open to any parent or teacher or school administrator —indeed, to all who are interested in children and willing to uphold the Objects of the PTA. Membership dues vary among local units and state branches of the National PTA, but only ten cents of each membership fee goes to the National Office, in Chicago, for maintaining the organization and providing the services that enable PTA's to function effectively and serve children best.

The PTA Magazine, official publication of the organization, has scheduled three continuing series of articles dealing with school education, family life, and community services and intended to foster "better lives for all children."

"Your Own Project Head Start" is one subject in the pre-school series, of interest primarily to parents of young children. The common blocks to learning in elementary school are scheduled for discussion in another article; and experts will also survey, for PTA Magazine readers, the problem areas of sex education and teenage drinking and use of drugs.

For every parent, Mrs. Moorhead emphasized, "the PTA has an ideal assignment—to work with men and women who share your concern for children and youth, to plan and initiate new projects, to enjoy a better understanding of yourself and your family, to take pride in working in an organization of national renown and international reputation."

Membership enrollment continues throughout the school year. But for parents who want to accomplish the most possible for their children, starting-to-school time is "prime time" to join the PTA.

hours more pleasant and relaxing.

The fourth graders were studying words, and after analysis of the word "miracle," teacher asked Johnny to explain by example.

"Well, my mama says," Johnny replied, "that the way you are chasing the new school principal, it'll be a miracle if you don't marry him."

Watch out for school children, especially if they're driving.

Stamp collecting offers fascinating insights into the world around you — past and present.

Postage stamps first appeared in 1840, and since then, more than 200,000 different types have been issued.

"Stamps are windows to world history," says Ervin J. Felix, stamp editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis. "If anyone could assemble all types in one collection, he would have a detailed panorama of history dating back before the Christian era."

Stamps come in a vast range of shapes and sizes, on virtually every conceivable subject, continues Felix.

You don't need any specialized knowledge to start collecting, and the few materials required are inexpensive.

Most youngsters are introduced to the hobby by a stamp-collecting parent, aunt or uncle eager to share knowledge with an inquiring child. There's a romantic lure to stamps from far-away nations, and once an adult gives a youngster a few duplicates from his own collection, it's often the start of a life-long hobby.

All you need to begin are stamps, an album, stamp tongs, hinges for mounting stamps, in the album, an instructional booklet, and a little guidance from an adult philatelist (or stamp collector).

Colorful new stamp packets are available at variety stores and stamp dealers, together with attractive new albums and a variety of philatelic accessories. A Let's Collect Stamps booklet, priced at 50 cents, provides all the basic information needed. Many of these low-cost items are designed for the advanced collector, as well as the beginning philatelist.

Stamp collecting provides a very definite assist to education by furnishing added dimensions to history and geography. It also ties in with other hobbies. "Name your hobby interest, and chances are there's a topic in stamps to match," concludes Felix.

tation of sick and injured, Emergency Childbirth, and Infant and child care.

This class is open to any person, male or female, age 14 years or older.

KEEP THAT SHOTGUN MOVING

To hit flying targets with a shotgun consistently, according to experts at Remington Arms Company, you've got to keep the gun moving, swing the muzzle past the target, pulling the trigger as you do so, and continue swinging in a follow-through motion after you've touched off the shot.

Many shooters worry about the distance they should lead a target. The fact is, however, that lead without swing and follow-through is doing it the hard way. There are some successful gunners who "spot shoot," picking a predetermined point ahead of the bird, and consciously firing at it before the target arrives. But these people are the exception rather than the rule, and they can only learn the technique with years of practice. If your mind works like an IBM machine and you can program it to solve a complex problem in spherical trigonometry while at the same time coordinating your body to carry out its order, spot shooting is the system for you. not, the "swing and follow-through" technique is best.

Perhaps the best way to visualize the problem is to remember that a shotgun, in effect, throws a string of lead shot much as a he throws out a stream of water. Another good analogy is a football player throwing a pass to an e running down the field. If the receiver is going to catch the ball the passer has to toss it to point where the receiver is going to be, not where he is at the moment of throwing. The pass doesn't consciously compute "lead" to accomplish this, however; he does it instinctively.

In the case of shooting, swinging your gun through a target, pulling the trigger and keeping the gun moving, you are actually computing the lead automatically.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions that the hazards of night time driving are increased greatly by a dirty windshield and headlights which are not in proper adjustment. Before starting out for after dark driving, make certain your visibility will not be hampered by any mechanical defects.

The Monterey Library has a very interesting and educational display for the month of October donated by Miss Margaret Luster. Tribute To Cross Country Team

By MIKE SCHMOLL

Highest laurels for the Culver Cross Country Team!

It seems that too few people at our school realize that we have an A-1 team pounding out victories all over northern Indiana. Yes, our cross-country team has a perfect record of being undefeated in bi-way and tri-way meets and also an unbelievable second in the New Carlisle Tourney. The team has been handicapped periodically by bad weather an untimely accident in which they lost one of their top runners for the rest of the season. Another factor that they have to overcome is the lack of school spirit displayed by the student body in total attendance at the meets. Even at home meets, the turnout has been pathetically small. Whether we realize it or not, they are a team which deserves a cheering section just as much as the basketball team.

In realization of this fact, let's all make an effort to turn out in mass at the next meet. Also, the county meet is October 7.

The Senior Play

By ELAINE EPLEY

The class of '67 will present a three act comedy entitled, "The Groom Said No", by Ruth and Nathan Hale.

The play is about Steve Cameron, played by Mike Schmoll, who has just come back from the army only to find he is supposed to marry the girl he left behind. Her name is Clara Curtis, played by Joyce Odle. This comedy evolves around the Cameron house and the planned marriage.

The other members of the cast are Elaine Kaiser, playing Mrs. Inez Cameron, Cathy Schmidt, playing Patty Cameron, Beth Routson, playing Virgie Cameron, Bob Sherill, playing Mr. Will Cameron, Patti McCombs, playing Mrs. Sorenson, John Milner, playing Willie Williams, Linda McAlister, playing Mary Alice Smith, Elaine Epley, playing La Shirley Anderson, and Bob Shirrell playing Ed Smith.

The play will be given on October 14. We guarantee you'll get a kick out of it. If you don't believe us, try it and see!

By PAMELA S. MORAN

Wouldn't you just love to know what the sophomore class is doing? Well, the leaf raking bit is coming up pretty soon now. The team captains have been chosen. Also, who's on whose team. The team captains are Marty Easterday, Steve Kelly, Tom Overmyer, and Richard Snyder. This year the drivers must have an operator's license in order to drive the tractors, trucks, or whatever. Well, I can say no more, so that's it.

Bits and Pieces

By PAULA LaPLACE and SUSIE THEWS

We are presently at U.N.C.L.E. headquarters awaiting the return of the Girl from U.N.C.L.E. Here she comes now, bringing her report on the students of C.H.S. Let's take a look and see what gives.

Beware!! There is a Junior girl on the prowl to capture a certain boy. Hmmm . . . wonder who the lucky guy is!

It seems that Gary and Norma had a real cool party Saturday night. Everybody had loads of fun—especially Mike W. and Linda S. How about it kids??

Linda F. did you say you were going to major in math? How's Geometry coming along?

Well, Senior magazines sales are over for another year, but the Seniors are still busy counting all the money they made. Way to go!

Speaking of Seniors, reports show that they are working hard on their play trying to make it as big a success as last year's was. Loads of luck.

Looks as if the Culver Citizen is read all over the world. (Well, almost anyway.) Corky's cousin, Mickey, from Florida even reads it. Hi Mickey! It was fun having you at CHS for few days.

Susie D. and Karen S. love being on the floor so much they just can't stay off of it, especially in 7th period Algebra class. Please try a little harder to keep your balance girls. Mr. Schmidt is trying to teach a class and you're distracting him!

Kitty L. just what were you doing outside at 9:00 in your granny nightgown. Oh!! Trying to catch a piggy bank?? Well . . . if you say so.

Our great cross country team has adopted "Catch Us if You Can" as their theme song. Very appropriate gang!

Strange sounds have been coming out of Mrs. England's Junior English class. Things like: All foamy zoomps will wrogle with detors and yobbets. Maybe they've been working too hard!!

Speaking of working hard, the Sophomores are about to start working very hard, on their leaf raking project soon, so anyone having any leaves to rake please contact them.

This concludes the Girl from U.N.C.L.E.'s report so we'll leave you with this question: Who's going to have a party this weekend?

Magazine Sales

By BETH ROUTSON

On Sept. 9, 1966, the ambitious seniors started out the annual senior magazine sales. The goal was set at $5,500. The class was divided into four different teams. Competition was stiff, but it soon became apparent that Bob Shirrell's team was in the lead. As the sales drew to the closing date, the goal was not with in grasp. In the last few days of the sales more and more seniors realized that there was a lot of work to be done. Some of the more industrious ones investigated every possible sales prospect. Still the goal was not reached, but they came very close to it with a total of $5,387.22.

We, the senior class, would like to thank all of those who bought subscriptions from us, and also those who contributed to our class. It was all greatly appreciated.

College Night

By SUZANNE OVERMYER

A week ago on Tuesday night Mr. Miller held a conference for all seniors and their parents. It was a program for any senior who is desiring to enter college either next Fall or later.

The title of Mr. Miller's discussion was "Hodge-Podge". He covered every point of interest that a student going to college would want to know including required tests, applying to college, financial aid, and scholarships. After his talk he held a brief question and answer period for the benefit of all.

After the meeting brochures and pamphlets were passed out to the students.

Thank Mr. Miller for holding the thank Mr. Miller for holding the discussion.

I Spy

By KATHY TASCH

The funniest thing happened as I walked into our grand old school my victim, unknowing that her actions of the day would be publicized, called a cheerful 'hello' and continued her chatter with the many admirers around her. Lightning, as I'll call her, then bounced up the stairs to first period study hall. Immediately after the bell she fell to writing a very secret letter, she wouldn't even let me see!!!

In second period English class Lightning used her ability to speak the language to bother all her classmates.

I'm terribly ashamed to report that Lightning was caught while writing a note. But really it was in Spanish it said, "Hola, Isabel Como estas?"

In fourth period Current Problems my victim was diligently taking notes on 'How to Study Your Homework' and 'How to Read'. Sounds interesting.

Noon play period is Lightning's favorite period. She delights in making a certain underclassman jealous! How cruel!! By the way one of her pet expressions is 'hot--'.

Playing the clarinet is not one of Lightning's most accomplished band achievements. It seems that talking is unsurpassed since her name appeared on report.

You'd never believe where found Lightning sixth period. She was in Spanish lab actually studying Spanish. I can vouch for her.

I can't reveal what Lightning did seventh period, but I'm sure it wasn't Plane Geometry.

If you haven't guessed Lightning's true identity would it help if I said, she rode off into the setting sun on a 'HONDA'!!!. Why of course she's one of the greatest SOPHOMORES, Norma 'Lightning' Davis.

In case you're curious as to whom the very secret letter was to it was to Jerry Christy, the drummer of the T.J.'s!!!

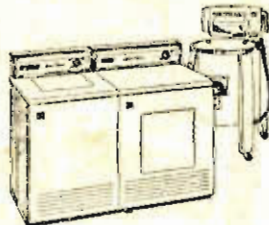

Visitors to Culver judge it largely by the people they meet here. What do you do to make Culver more attractive to visitors and newcomers?

Leaders Needed For Local Girl Scout Troops

Girl Scouts are getting ready for another year of fun in Culver. Scouting offers girls a wide program from international understanding to the opportunity to serve their own community, and to learn skills in the home, the arts, and the out-of-doors.

After school, Monday, about 75 girls signed up for the Brownie and Junior programs. Twelve girls are already meeting at the Cadette level.

In order to provide these eager girls with the Scouting program they desire, there must be adequate leadership. At present there are enough leaders for just one troop at each age level, Brownie, Junior, and Cadette. There are enough girls to fill at least two or three more troops. If there are no volunteers found to take these troops, many girls will have to be placed on waiting lists.

A leadership training course is in progress. This course is for new leaders to acquaint them with the program and give them the information needed to lead a Girl Scout troop. All troops have two co-leaders. If anyone is interested in being a leader or wants more information, they should contact Mrs. Jack B. Spencer, Neighborhood Chairman, at 842-2423 or Mrs. William Martin, Troop Organizer, at 842-2468.

Although the training course has had one meeting, anyone is still welcome to join the class which will meet on October 6 and 13 from 9:30 to 2:30 at the Culver Methodist Church. To be a leader, a woman does not have to have a daughter in Scouts. Many grandmothers have found Scouting to be a most rewarding activity.

In UNICEF-aided countries, the cost of saving a child's life can be less than the price of a postage stamp or an ice cream cone - or candy given at Halloween.

We ought to know. We see more tires than anybody. And a lot of them are so called "bargain" tires. We know them well. We find cracks in the sidewalls, separated tread, ruptured casings, and blowouts. And it's because of this experience, and concern for our customers, that we sell the Amoco 120 Super Tire and Atlas Plycron ("The Round Tire"). We're proud of these tires because we know how they've been made—and the tests they've been through. And because we'd like to see quality tires on your car, we're participating in a "Trade-Up-To-Quality" Campaign. We'll make it well worth your while to drive in for a free tire check. And if you need new tires you can get them with no money down and up to a year to pay. Plus a top trade-in. After all, You expect more from Standard, and you get it!

 The Psalmist's assurance of God's healing power is included in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled, "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.
 The account of the woman who was healed simply by touching the hem of Jesus' garment, is also among the Scriptural readings.
 A correlative passage to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, declares: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death."

story time with God

Religion is a vital need at every age. And these boys and girls are busy gaining religious knowledge that will be important to them all through life.
 We grownups are accustomed to the Church's presence in community life. It is always there, gracing the horizon with its spire... offering its message of faith to a confused world.
 But peek into the corner of a beginner's room on Sunday morning and behold the majesty of the Church's mission. It brings the consecrated talents of artists, writers and teachers together, and focuses them upon the eager minds of a generation preparing to face life. It gathers the spiritual truth unfolding for centuries, and in beloved story brings it to the ready ears of tots and toddlers.
 Support and attend the church of your choice. Make sure your children are sharing in this life — enriching STORY TIME WITH GOD.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Italian Design Beautifies America

NEW YORK (CFN)—Italy is, traditionally, a land famous for its stone, marble and terra cotta building materials. In recent years, however, Italians have also been doing exciting things in plastics, re-inforced concrete, steel and glass.

Contrasting with their emphasis on classic design dating back to Roman times, the Italians are bringing fresh contemporary ideas to today's most advanced architecture. Not only in the United States but in other countries, as well.

Shown above, for example, is the recently completed Water Gate East luxury housing development in Washington, D. C., near the Potomac. Another modern structure using Italian building elements is the uptown Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York, designed by Pier Luigi Nervi. Also a towering steel and glass bank building of impressively modern design, in Montreal.

Italian exports to our country that have lent beauty to our buildings include large quantities of marble and alabaster, as well as liturgical products such as stained glass windows. Sales of Italian tile, brick and ceramics in the United States have more than doubled since 1960.

Other imports from Italy include decorative steel panels finished in porcelain enamel, pre-fabricated aluminum building panels, and a new type of rubber flooring for outdoors (used at Rome's Fiumicino Airport).

All in all, the Italian flair for beauty is making a notable impact on American architecture.

Academy Sports

Culver's football Eagles are preparing for combat this Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Terre Haute Honey Creek. This will be the first time the two schools have met. The Eagles will enter the contest with a 1-0-1 record so far in their season.

The Academy's squad is thoroughly unfamiliar with Honey Creek's brand of football, and the team has not been scouted for the game. Honey Creek has already racked up a 3-1 season. They have beaten Dugger, Fountain Central and Linton and have lost to Terre Haute Wylie.

Peter R. Varda, head coach of the Terre Haute team, reports that he has a young backfield and that his line is coming along. He said his Mike Blackwell is one of the players to watch. He adds that Blackwell was a great punter, blocker and pass receiver and defender. He added that the six-foot, 175-pounder was a possible college material.

Coach Varda is also pleased with center Bill Davis who, at 6' 2", 225-pounds, is his leading tackler.

Coach Russell D. Oliver speaks in reserved tones in referring to last Friday night's 6-6 tie with Lafayette Central Catholic. He says that Central Catholic should not have even made its single touchdown.

Right guard Dave Dale suffered a sprained knee and right end Chip Linnemeier sprained his foot, but Coach Oliver hopes to see both players back in action again on Saturday.

Coach Oliver felt that his squad's defense was excellent, but that much work was necessary for defensive blocking. He added that Linnemeier caught some fine passes and Borton did a beautiful job on offense and defense.

Oliver thought that he got a "good hard-nosed defensive game" from Dale, Phil Williams, Van Matthews and George Barry, and he said that good blocks by Spence Dickinson and Dave Rafes made Chuck Borton's touchdown possible. Borton ran 26 yards for his second touchdown of the second quarter. Williams kicked all of Culver's punts for an average of 28 yards.

Central Catholic led statistics in first downs, yards rushing, yards passing, passes attempted and punts, and tied the Eagles in passes completed and punting average. The Eagles led in pass interceptions, fumbles, fumbles lost and yards penalized.
