World Community Day Observance Is November 4

World Community Day will be observed this year on Friday, Nov. 4, with special services set for 7:30 p.m. at the Grace United Church of Christ in Culver.

World Community Day essence is "that we may join together with others in a World Community Day observance to awaken our concern for the problems of our world, to increase our competence as to how to meet these problems, and to recommit ourselves as God's chosen people to carry out His mission in the world."

Those attending this special observance are urged to bring any of the following material aid projects, which will then be distributed throughout the destitute countries of the world: 1) Personal Hygiene Kits — These may be constructed from one yard of yard-wide sturdy material which will make six bags by cutting three 12-inch-wide strips and cutting each strip in half. Fold sideways, sew bottom and side. Around top make a one-inch hem for a drawstring, making an eight by 11-inch bag. In each bag place one cake of toilet soap in a plastic soap dish, one toothbrush in holder, tube of toothpaste, one comb, one fingernail file or clipper, one face cloth, one small hand towel, and one plastic drinking cup; 2) Throughout Asia and the South Pacific, clothing for women can be very simple. The sarong, or skirt, is 90 inches long, made of 40-inch wide firm cotton material, hemmed at both ends. The blouse has a rounded neck and opened in front, with or without sleeves. It may be hip length to wear over the skirt or short to be tucked in. Choose brightly colored materials; 3) Cotton piece goods, yarn, clean blankets, towels.

Watch next week's Citizen for more details and the program on this special event.

Miss Cheryll Zink Speaks At Culver Jaycee Meeting

The Culver Jaycees met at a dinner meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 13, in the Eagles Lodge under the leadership of President Jerry Wyman.

Guests for the evening were Jim Kalinke, sponsored by Don Muehlhausen; John Isom, by Bill Heck; Tim Dillingham with Bob Kerrigan; John Banning with Roy Nicodemus; Harry Fouts and Dave Ulrich, guests of Jerry Wolfe; Larry Starkweather with Rev. Carl Baker; and Paul Schmidt with Kenny Miller.

Rev. Baker, chairman of the Park Board Commission, reported that a formal resolution will be presented to the Town Board next week.

The Plymouth Jaycees, represented by Paul Nye, Dr. Kent Guild and Dave Feagler, asked that the Culver Club consider sponsoring a Century Club by donating $100 for an annual membership with the proceeds to aid the Marshall-Starke Development Center in Plymouth.

The main speaker for the evening was Miss Cheryll Zink, a senior at Culver High School, who lectured on her eight-week tour in France this summer. Miss Zink, a recipient of the Indiana University Honors Program, highlighted her talk with visual aids.

Chamber Of Commerce Holds Dinner For New Instructors

A capacity crowd of 120 members of the Culver Chamber of Commerce and their wives, together with all new instructors in the Culver Community Schools and Culver Military Academy, attended the annual dinner at the Culver Inn last Wednesday evening. A welcoming reception before the dinner was held in the lobby, with Mrs. Marilyn Kelly and Mrs. Frank Setzler presiding at the punch bowl. All members and guests were provided with name tags, and introductions and greetings were extended to all new teachers.

Dr. Joseph Howard, president of the local Chamber, presided at the dinner, and introduced Charles Bernhardt, new principal at Culver High School. Mr. Bernhardt commented on the community spirit in Culver, and expressed the wish that all new teachers would become active participants in the various activities in Culver and lend their support to the churches, organizations and retail merchants. He also mentioned the many advantages of living in the lake community. He then called upon Robert Rust, superintendent of the Culver Community Schools, to introduce the principals, who in turn then asked the new teachers in the Culver Schools to stand and be recognized.

Major General Delmar T. Spivey, Superintendent of Culver Military Academy, then introduced all of the new instructors at the Academy, and touched upon the facilities at the Academy and said he hoped both the town teachers and the Academy instructors might become loyal and enthusiastic members of the local community. There were 25 new instructors and their wives from the Academy and 23 teachers and wives from the local schools.

Col. Donald W. Griffin, executive secretary of the Independent Schools Association of Central States, gave an interesting address on the responsibility of teachers to the student accomplishments, and the value of their instruction and guidance in the formative years, particularly to those who were preparing for college entrance.

Conduct Survey To Learn Interest In Adult Education

A school patron survey in the three-township school district of the Culver Community Schools is being conducted to determine interest in evening adult education classes, school officials announced this week.

Details concerning scheduling, organization, instruction, and fees for the ten-session courses will depend upon the interest expressed in the survey. The forms sent to parents are to be returned to the principal's office at Culver High School and Aubbeenaubee High School this week.

Eleven subjects are indicated in the survey sampling as follows: Architectural Drawing, Art, Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Communism, General Science, Investments, Modern Math for parents, Spanish, and Typing.

Culver School Board Holds Called Meeting

A resolution concerning issuance of general obligation bonds in the amount of $300,000 and certification of additional appropriation of the bond issue to the State Board of Tax Commissioners was approved by the Board of School Trustees of the Culver Community Schools Corporation at a special called meeting this week.

The $300,000 fund will be augmented later by Culver Community Schools Holding Corporation bond issue to provide funds for the construction of a new high school building to serve the three township school district.

Latest estimated cost of the building, to be located on a 37 acre campus at the intersection of State Highway 10 and Tamarack Road, is $1,767,000.

George Stevens, attorney for the corporation, has counseled the Board in development of the projects. Some eleven North Bend taxpayers were among visitors attending the meeting.

The School Board awarded the contract for No. 2 fuel oil on a low bid of .0973 per gallon with one per cent discount to Laketon Asphalt Refining Incorporated. Other bids included Don's Oil Company, Culver; American Oil Company, Detroit, Mich.; Marathon Oil Company, Indianapolis; and the Sinclair Refining Company, Clermont, Ind.

Pay of certificated substitute teachers was set at a daily rate of $20.00; and the Board approved the advertising to sell a 36-passenger, 1951 bus.

Approval of completed work projects including the roof on the Aubbeenaubee School and the Boiler House roof, Culver School, was granted. A progress report was presented on other rehabilitation projects including boiler installation, and lavatory work at Culver high school.

In other business, the Board approved requests for conference attendance: Robert Rust, South Bend, Title I meeting, Oct. 20; Mrs. C. Ervin, School Health Conference, Indianapolis, October 20; and Charles Bernhardt, North Central Association Conference, Elkhart, October 12; and the closing of the office of the Superintendent on Friday, October 28.

In his report, Robert Rust, Superintendent, discussed preliminary Title I plans; the need for band uniforms; the current Adult education survey; all school busses had been "Safety" approved; arrangements for updating an inventory of equipment; and he asked for consideration - study of installation of Safety vapor-lights at the rear of the Culver School.

Curfew To Be Rigidly Enforced

Recent vandalism has prompted the Culver Town Board to expand its efforts to enforce the State Curfew Law.

The law requires that anyone under 18 years of age must be home by eleven o'clock unless accompanied by a parent or guardian, or unless he's enroute home from a school or church sponsored activity.

Additional special deputies have been assigned to rigidly enforce the curfew. Violators will be held in the county jail to await disposition of such cases.

Original Cartoons On Display At Eppley Auditorium

A collection of original drawings by many of America's famous cartoonists will be displayed beginning Thursday, Oct. 20, in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium at Culver Military Academy.

The collection was given to the Academy by John Cleveland, owner of the Culver Press. Cartoons were collected by the late Chester Cleveland, father of the donor and former owner of the Culver Press.

Academy artist-in-residence Warner Williams said the collection is appropriate for display during the state's sesquicentennial celebration since many of the cartoons deal with Indiana men, past and present.

Cartoonists whose work will be on display are: John T. McCutcheon, Carey Orr, and Gaer Williams, of the Chicago Tribune; Milton Caniff, who draws "Steve Canyon"; Gil Turner, who draws "Mr. McGee"; C. K. Berryman, Washington Star; Karl Koe Knoch, Evansville, (Ind.) Courier-Journal; Bill Mohman, who draws "Nuts and Jolts"; Paul Plachko, Hearst papers; William Overgard, who draws "Steve Roper"; and others.

The exhibition will be on display for a month and is open to the public free of charge between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m.

Local Children To "Trick-Treat" For UNICEF Oct. 27

Young children of the Culver area will again participate in the "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF Halloween Program on Thursday, Oct. 27, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., with headquarters in the Culver Public Library basement.

As the majority of these conscientious civic-minded children who participate are in grade school, it would be a great help if the residents of Culver would turn on their porch lights for these two hours to help brighten their way on UNICEF night.

UNICEF funds go to help the unfortunate children of the world who are ravaged by malnutrition, disease, and illiteracy. UNICEF helps their countries protect their health, raise the levels of education, and prepare them for a useful life.

Each 15¢ collected could purchase 100 vitamin capsules to strengthen a child; each penny equals six large cups of milk, or each 25¢ could buy vaccine to protect 20 children against tuberculosis.

This program is a nation-wide annual event to raise money for the United Nations Children's Fund and is sponsored in Culver by the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club, in cooperation with other organizations in the Culver community.

Anyone who is not contacted and would like to donate to UNICEF, please call Mrs. Ray Houghton at 842-2324.

TURN ON your porch light and DONATE on UNICEF night.

A millionaire soap manufacturer graciously consented to a press interview.

"To what do you attribute your success?" he was asked.

Said the soap man earnestly: "To clean living, my friend, to clean living."

RECEIVES HONOR

Dennis Allen Shock of Culver was recognized for scholastic achievement last year at Indiana Central College at the annual fall Honors Day convocation October 14.

He was one of 110 students recognized for making the annual honor roll by completing 24 hours or more last year with a grade average of B or better.

Dennis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shock, Route 2, Culver, was graduated from Culver High School in 1963.

The fresh young engineer-inspector was finding fault with the road construction and pointed out to the construction foreman that the road's crown was too high, the slope too steep, the gutters too shallow, the curbs too high—and so on.

Having borne this with quiet patience for some time, the foreman pulled himself up to his full height and with great dignity asked: "And how would you say she is for length, sir?"

Henry T. Heald Speaks At C.M.A. Fall Festival

A former president of the Ford Foundation today called upon independent schools to be equal partners with public schools in providing a quality education that is socially relevant.

Henry T. Heald, who headed the Ford Foundation for 10 years and was president of both New York University and Illinois Institute of Technology, said in a speech at Culver Military Academy:

"It is the well-administered, academically sound and innovative private colleges which are successfully meeting the forceful challenges of the public institutions. While our total elementary and secondary educational system is striving for greater quantity and quality, the small independent secondary school system should be an equal partner in this important progressive movement."

Heald, who this year founded the educational consulting firm of Heald, Hobson and Associates, New York, told a capacity audience at Culver, the nation's largest independent college preparatory school:

"Theodore Sizer, dean of the Graduate School of Education of Harvard University ascribes two purposes to the independent schools: 'first, to act as an alternative to public education—a worthwhile function in order to keep the public schools on their toes; and second, they are places where innovation can happen without the constraint of public control.'"

"The advantages of the private schools cited by Dean Sizer are and will be important to our entire educational system as well as to the independent schools themselves. For the system as a whole, we need as much well-directed experimentation and innovation as possible because there are many problems which require solving. We need the perspective of different points of view working together in cooperative programs as well. Smith, Amherst, and Mt. Holyoke, private liberal arts colleges, are joining with public institutions, the University of Massachusetts, in the creation of an entirely new undergraduate college. Independent secondary schools are entering joint academic and community programs with public schools as well, but these arrangements are not as widespread as they should be."

As the main speaker at Culver's annual Homecoming-Fall Festival weekend, Heald told the audience of students, faculty, and parents that in spite of the great expansion of education, the United States cannot call itself a well-educated nation. He points to the armed forces qualification test which two-thirds of the Negroes failed and almost 19 percent of the others did not pass. He said that Mississippi and South Carolina, which he ranked 51st and 49th respectively in salaries paid to teachers, are 49th and 50th in test performance.

"This bears out the well known fact that there is a relationship between the quality of education and its cost," Heald said. "It is clear that the opportunities for a good education are not yet available to all parts of the nation or to all segments of society. Nor is this a situation that is likely to be quickly remedied. There is a great deal of work to be done in improving the quality of education in our poorest schools, and the better schools will have to assist in this task. And while this is going on, the quality of the better schools needs improvement too."

Heald said that when independent secondary schools were founded it was to provide educational opportunity not otherwise available. As public schools have grown, he said the original reason for their existence has disappeared.

"Yet enrollments in independent schools have increased along with the growth in public schools. They still represent a small but important segment of secondary education. I believe this will continue to be true in the future but only if the independent schools emphasize quality and maintain socially relevant academic programs." . . . Quality academic programs must be more than thorough factual mastery. They must enable the student to command not only a depth and breadth of knowledge . . . Socially relevant programs are quality programs because they develop and exercise maturing minds in relations to the major realities of the society in which we live and work.

"Will there be many careers in business or the professions in the next 25 years that will not be influenced significantly by the problems of civil rights, equal opportunities, urban and international affairs? Not only must the independent schools impart a good theoretical understanding of these problems but students and faculty must be involved enough in them to be honestly concerned about these problems and make positive contributions towards their solution."

In his speech entitled "The Independent School in the Great Society," Heald said the development of socially relevant academic programs is a great challenge of the independent school.

"The private secondary school in modern times," he concluded, "should be certain that its academic programs reach beyond competency to the forefront of knowledge and the front reaches of our social progress."

Heald received Culver's Distinguished Service Citation in recognition of his 38 years in higher education and his present work as consultant to non-profit educational institutions and research groups. The educator was also honored at a full garrison parade, part of three days of academic, athletic, and social activities associated with the Academy's Fall Festival Weekend.

This isn't exactly a "power plant," but it does illustrate the fact that in most American homes, the number of electrical gadgets and appliances grows by about six new items each year. It's not surprising when you stop to consider how versatile and capable electricity is . . . it can do just about anything from home heating to brushing teeth . . . and costs so little to use. Nothing you can buy gives you more value per dollar than your electric service.

Academy News

In the outers are Bob and Faylis Hartman, who have taken time to visit with Culver friends between their European jaunt and their year at I.U. First they were houseguests of the John Edgells and then the Bob Reichleys . . . Just back from a few days at Southern Pines in North Carolina, General and Mrs. Spivey report everything is coming up pluses for the Bill Covingtons and the Cliff Dawsons. Both of them are in their new home in Whispering Pines, which is part of that well known area.

Visitors to Culver have come from far and wide these late summer days. Ethel Rossow was about to prove that indeed east can meet west with daughter Nancy Ryan and husband Dick coming from the west coast and son Bob Rossow coming from his state department post in Rome, Italy. Then there was a little southern touch with young Bob Rossow coming up from I.U. to be with his father and grandmother. This gala event was all built around Bob bringing his daughter Katy to enroll in Cathedral School in Washington, D.C., where she will be a junior. Nancy and Dick from San Jose, Calif., planned their vacation around Bob's being here. Through all of this Barbara Rossow and young Mark and Jane '66 graduate Peter were very much in Rome. Peter is doing a year of post graduate work in Rome before entering college next fall in this country. After all of the men had departed for east, west and south Nancy stayed on to share her mother's 80-and-then-some birthday with her.

Not to be outdone by the ladies, Col. W. O. Johnston did his own entertaining this summer with kin coming from around the country. After a hospital stay early in the summer that got things off to a slow start, "Johnny" has been on the go and an eager host. His first visitors were his brother and sister-in-law, Carl and Mary Johnston from Champaign. Carl was in the Culver class of '14. Next on the list were the Charles Tillmans from Anderson, Ind. Mrs. T. is Johnny's sister. And then there were Chester and Mildred Johnston from Collins, Ohio and finally nephew Lowell Johnston and his wife from Dan-dee, Illinois.

Susan Bolton Davies and brand new adopted son, Sam Robert Chisholm Davies, put the grandparent gleam in the Robert Bolton's eyes with their August visit. Susan, an old hand at flying and former Eastern stewardess made the flight from Coconut Grove, Florida.

Sunny Blair combined business with pleasure with her recent trip to Philadelphia. It was with genuine pleasure that she saw their son Capt. Robert Blair presented with the Salvation Army Salute Award at ceremonies on September 14 before 1,000 Salvation Army volunteers from around the world and the United States. Capt. Blair, with three tours completed in Vietnam, was honored in recognition of his distinguished military service. He is the holder of the Silver Oak, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Valor Palm, the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star and the Air Medal. Bob led the assembly at the ceremony and luncheon held at The Bellevue-Stratford Hotel that he had been asked by the officers and enlisted men in Vietnam to thank the organization for its services to the troops. Attending the ceremonies with Sunny were Col. and Mrs. George Blair, grandparents of Bob, and Mrs. A. Hershel, his grandmother. The three families were presented with awards made by volunteer Salvation Army workers.

Wallace Heiber was one of a group of teachers asked to review CHEM study materials and has submitted a critique, rewrites and modified procedures found useful to a team of authors engaged in revision of the course. The author team is headed by Dr. Robert W. Perry, University of Michigan, for Prentiss-Hall Inc., publishers.

CHEM is an experimental course developed under auspices of the National Science Foundation as an improved chemistry course to fill modern needs. The third edition of the course has been used at Culver since its release in 1961. The National Science Foundation has recently released the course to a few publishers for revision, and extensive modification and development along several lines are expected.

Darrell Beach has written another article. This one goes by the title: "Electronegativity, Periodicity and Acid Strength," and it was published in the October issue of "School Science and Mathematics."

Betty Mitchell was surprised with a two-days-before-her-birthday party attended by all members of the Library staff.

Sara Kiewold and her husband went down to Newcastle to visit Judy and her family. Sara reports both granddaughters are thriving.

Betty Bryant has been enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. J. M. McLaughlin of Pittsburgh. The two friends who drove Mrs.

McLaughlin out to Culver were very much impressed by Culver and its campus. A trip to Purdue to see a grandson and a jaunt to Hinsdale to see her three great-grandchildren made this a very special visit for Betty's mother. A telephone call from son Chip in Seoul, Korea was the most exciting things that has happened to his parents in years!

Arthur Anderson is the new face around the Memorial Building these days. He started in to help Wallace Starr early in the fall.

An insurance salesman thought he had the husband about sold, but never could quite get the client's name on the dotted line. Finally, in exasperation, the salesman demanded, "Why is it you just won't buy?"

"Well," replied the husband, "Even now I don't feel any too safe at home."

Absent-minded Prof: "I forgot to take my umbrella this morning."

Wife: "When did you miss it?" Prof: "When I reached up to close it after the rain had stopped."

A modern mother and her young son were shopping in a supermarket. The child, trying to help, picked up a package and brought it to her, "No, no, honey," protested the mother, "go put it back. You have to cook that."

Daughter of first film star: "How do you like your new father?"

Daughter of second film star: "Oh, he's very nice."

Daughter of first film star: "Yes, isn't he? We had him two years ago."

It was in a remote section of the country where the tobacco crop had been a failure on account of a prolonged drouth. One afternoon three tobacco growers met on the porch of a little corner general store, and as they sat on the porch glumly, they passed a jug of corn liquor around freely from one to the other.

"My wife is a wonderful woman to stick with me through this drouth," said one man sadly. "When I sell my tobacco, I'm going to buy her a piano."

"That's a good idea," said the second man. "I'm going to buy my wife a washing machine and some new clothes. How about you, Jim?"

"Better pass me that jug again," drawled Jim. "I ain't even out of debt yet!"

"Education" Means . . . . .

By Carin Manchester and Beth Rouston

Here we are again roaming through the halls seeking for some intelligent students to answer some difficult questions. The one we put to them this week was "What does an education mean to you." To see what they have to say let's start with the interview.

Cheyli Zink: Extending one's knowledge through learning and experience is my interpretation of education.

LaDonna Darocsi: An education means a better chance of succeeding in life.

John Torr: LIFE is what an education means to me.

Virginia Shilder: An education gives one a better chance in life.

Carole Zehner: Success in the future!

Karen Stevenson: WAXMAN Da-Da-Da-Da-WAXMAN; learning.

Chuck Beck: It means more opportunities in life and work.

Suzi Riester: Everything in life!

Susie Donnelly: Happiness!!

Linda Reinhold: An education means a better paying job and gives a person a better opportunity in life.

Patsy Behnke: Education means to me the opportunity to better yourself so that if the opportunity would come for you to better the world, you would be able to do it.

John Milner: I believe it is the basis of success and wealth. I feel that everyone should take advantage of what educational facilities are at hand and learn all they can.

Doug Hartz: It's a chance to get ahead in life.

Pam Moran: It's the only way to attain my goal in life.

Mike Wynn: It means to me a chance for a better paying job and if you have this good education you will be able to pick the job you want and also enjoy.

Sylvia Roberts: The more you know and learn the farther you will be able to go in life. (space-age)

Karen Banks: It means higher qualities in a person and an opportunity for a big chance in life if one will accept it.

Anna Barrabes: Education means a secured successful future.

Bob Shirrell: Education is the doorway to true tranquility.

Susie Thews: Mr. Waxman in History Class!!!

Linda Baker: An education is the key to my future as a chemist.

Linda Shirrell: Education is the key that unlocks the doorway to success in the future. It is not only what you learn in school, but what you learn from everything in your environment.

Bill Pletka: Education is the door to freedom . . . freedom from ignorance . . . freedom to release the abilities of the mind. Education in all fields is the most important means of solving this world's ills.

Well, time has run out on us so we have to close this interview by saying--Education is a very important part in your success in the future so learn all you can because you will appreciate it later in life. Until the next time we meet Study, Study, Study plus have a little fun too!!!

Home Ec Class Learns About Homes & Financing

Members of the Home Economics III class toured the Furniture Fashion show in the Manufacturing Building on the Indiana State Fairgrounds. The students are studying homes and home furnishings this semester.

Since Indiana is the sixth largest manufacturing state of furniture, in the Union, Governor Roger Branigan declared October 2-9, as Furniture Week In Indiana. The show not only included furniture, but everything a house is made of and includes.

The class is also learning how to finance a home, and how to buy either an old or new house. To help them in their study, Mr. Beard from Farm Home Administration at Rochester spoke to the students on how to apply for an FHA loan. He also described what kinds of a loan you could get, and how much the company will loan you.

There seems to be many bonfires burning to give me all the smoke signals I need and I'll pass all the gossip on to you.

Congratulations Grass-country B-team for winning the B-team county. Don't worry about it Varsity, you'll get at Bremen at the Sectional. Come on, don't take it so hard Terry C.

It finally happened, yes it's true, Goldilocks got his hair cut!!! How about it Kirk?

It seems that Kerry has a new love that he can't live without. Tell us of our secret love for Judy, Kerry!!

It seems that L.U. Land day was a real smash especially breakfast at the Holiday Inn. Everyone tells me the ride home was the most interesting. Mr. Fouts!!!

Congrats to Karen and Tom. It seems that the band trip to L.U. was a moment to remember for them. Smashing!!!

Vicki C. do you always get lost in the restrooms? It seems Norma couldn't find you any where at L.U.

Cindee L. - what's with school? So you like long walks better! How's your big toe?

It seems that L.U. had a special attraction for Culver kids this weekend. Elaine and Patty--tell us all about it.

It seems that YO-YO's are back in style, ask Norm!!

Paul, Gary, and Kerry seemed to have fun at Purdue, but what's this we hear about Kerry locking Gary out of the room -- oops!! Can't tell about that.

All the bonfires have died away and I can no longer make out the signals. Good-bye till next weekend and the fires are lit again.

Basketball Try-Outs

DAVE BEAUCHAMP

Basketball try-outs have begun recently here at C.H.S. and there are approximately 50 eager boys putting forth an effort to make Varsity, B-team, and Freshman teams, so as to have winning teams again this year.

There have been a couple of changes on the coaching staff here this year. Mr. Crosley is still handling the Varsity but B-team is now in the capable hands of Mr. Waxman our new Social Geography, American History, and physical education teacher. The freshman coaching chores are now being handled by Mr. Gangloff who is also new and also teaches physical education and shop.

The school should give these teams plenty of support, as we have in the past.

The Ideal Girl

By BOB SHIRRELL and MIKE SCHMOLL

Being ideal boys, Bob and I feel fully qualified to describe the ideal girl. We have, in our continent-covering explorations, found the perfect girl far from Culver.

Although our girl lacks a perfect area code, namely 6-2 5-2 6-2, and a perfect displacement, namely 10.52 pounds, she does have what the majority of girls lack — personality. What special kind of personality does she have?

First of all, she enjoys class establishments (the El Rancho?), but she does not always feel the need to extremes for high-brow entertainment. In fact, she doesn't mind spending a night watching television to save the green stuff.

She is able to discuss anything openly with penetrating insights and a clear conscience. She has her own convictions, but she does not feel the need to force them on others.

She is straightforward and sincere in her relationships with all people; she doesn't try to impress anyone.

In short, her personality is extraordinarily unique. She is without a doubt — the ideal girl.

The three patrol leaders for Troop 52 are Nancy Heiser, Lisa Dinsmore, and Ann Lemar. An activities calendar for the coming year was also set up.

Mrs. Jack B. Spence is head of the local Girl Scout Program, which is still in need of at least two more leaders.

FLEECE GUN STORAGE

Storing guns in fleece-lined cases can be dangerous. Thick wool draws moisture from the air, can rust the gun.

I Wonder Who

By ELAINE EPLEY

I wonder who she may be, Or even if she may be a he. Coming to school every morn. Usually with a smile, but once a scorn.

Today was Tuesday, and what a day, And for a Civics test had to stay.

"What a test!" exclaimed my friend, For Lawson's tests never end. On to lunch, and what a lunch, After that, to study a bunch.

But soon interrupted by Mr. Fouts, And start to play a waltz by Krautz.

Trudging onward to Psychology, Writing notes and studying "boyology".

I'll give you a clue to who it might be, She's a mighty Senior, and cute as can be.

Always talking about Mike Eustis, That subject she says, is never useless.

Don't look it up in the Almanac, For her name is Linda Mac.

SCATTER TIPS

Oops! Dropped a bag of shot. All those little balls. Scattered everywhere on floor. Try this: Stick a new bag in your vacuum cleaner and suck'em up. Cut open the bag and pour the pellets back where they belong. Crisis over. Shot restored.

John Hoesel, senior and regular on last year's championship basketball team, has been named captain of this year's quintet.

Chester Bowersox has accepted a position as cashier of the Leifers Ford State Bank. He succeeds Charles Wyland.

The wedding of Miss Jean Shaw and William F. Anderson took place Saturday evening at the

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Edward Norris have been blessed with a baby girl named Martha Lillian.

Capt. H. A. Obenauf of the Culver Military Academy scored what is claimed to be a world's record for shooting with an army service pistol over the army qualifications course at Fort Sheridan, Ill., last Sunday when he finished with a score of 97.8.

A safe driver, says the Chicago Motor Club, always will reduce his speed whenever approaching a leaf fire at the curb. Wind conditions often can obstruct your overall view of the area. Don't blindly assume the road ahead is clear. Instead, anticipate the possibility of the smoke obscuring someone in the street or road. Play it safe, when you see the autumn smoke signal, slow down.

Post Office To Aid Residents In Getting Mailing Lists Zipped

Beginning this week, letter carriers throughout the Culver area will deliver cards to every resident, Postmaster E.W. Mattox reported. Each card will have spaces for addresses the householder wishes zipped.

After placing their uncoded addresses on the cards, preferably printed legibly, they may be dropped into any letter box or returned to their letter carrier. The Culver Post Office will add the appropriate Zip Codes and return the cards to the mailer.

"No postage is needed," Mr. Mattox said.

The project is part of Postmaster Lawrence F. O'Brien's program to make Zip Codes more accessible to the mailing public.

In addition to the cards for addresses, a special notice advising each resident of his local Zip Code number will be delivered.

The cards will carry a message from Postmaster General O'Brien advising that Zip Coded mail helps provide better service.

In completing the cards, only the street address and city and state are required. INDIVIDUAL NAMES SHOULD NOT BE LISTED.

Postmaster Mattox emphasized the importance of including a return address on the front of the cards so they may be returned after addresses have been coded.

Additional cards are available from your letter carrier or in Post Office lobby.

A vacation is a succession of 2's. It consists of 2 weeks which are 2 short, afterwards, you are 2 tired to return 2 work and 2 broke not 2.

An Australian strolling past a Sydney hotel noticed a red setter dog that looked lost. He was about to call the owner's number listed on the dog's collar when he read the remainder of the writing on the tag. It said: "If found near a pub don't bother, thanks. Owner not far away."

LOCAL HOLSTEINS COMPLETE TEST RECORDS

Registered Holstein cows from this area are prominently mentioned in a special production testing report from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.

Culver Leader Gomar Marita 5646837, a two-year-old, produced 20,808 pounds of milk and 730 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Lancelot Lien Boots 5646846, a two-year-old, had 19,343 pounds of milk and 743 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Emperor Dictator Tillie 5646850, a two-year-old, had 17,174 pounds of milk and 621 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. All are owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Culver.

The cows made their records under Dairy Herd Improvement Registry rules, a program that incorporates the DHIA records of Registered Holstein cows into the national Association's breed improvement programs.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of the records. DHIR and its companion program, Herd Improvement Registry, have a combined enrollment of over 147,300 Registered Holstein cows in over 3,200 herds.

These new records compare to the average U. S. cow's output of 7,880 pounds of milk.

A 12-year old was preparing for his first date and was tearing around the house getting ready for the big event. His mother reminded him that he hadn't taken his bath.

"Bath?" he howled. "I got no time for a bath. I've just got five minutes and you have to teach me to dance."

 "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord; let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me."
 These words from Psalms are part of the responsive reading in this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "Probation After Death." The Lesson-Sermon is read each Sunday in Christian Science churches throughout the world.

The sermon also includes these words from Hosea: "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death."

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is this: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter into the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us; and this advance beyond matter must come through the joys and triumphs of the righteous as well as through their sorrows and afflictions. Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being."

Sunday afternoon callers of Mrs. Trula McKee were Don McKee and daughters of Nappanee, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, son Danny, and daughter Julie Ann, and Jackie Sanders.

Mrs. Edna Wolverton and daughter, Mary, have returned home after visiting in Southern Indiana and Brown County and with relatives in Tipton County.

Attend Church EVERY Sunday

IS HE YOURS

You take him for a walk around the block and people stop you to say, "What a beautiful baby!"

You try to be modest about it, but your heart is bursting with pride. He is the most beautiful baby — and — he's yours!

Or is he?

It can be pretty disturbing the first time you realize that your baby really isn't yours at all — that you do not possess him. Yet the sooner you do realize it, the better. We can't possess another person no matter how dearly we love them. And in the case of our children, we are custodians, not owners.

He is a beautiful baby—and you, naturally, want nothing more than for him to grow up into a fine young man. It is your responsibility, in the years ahead, to help him do so — and you will find the strength and guidance to aid you in your task in your church.

Start going to church this Sunday. Chances are that they've even got a nursery for beautiful babies!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Academy Sports

Hoping to get back on the victory trail after losing their first game of the season last week, the CMA Eagles journey to St. Johns Military Academy this Saturday for a 2 p.m. grid duel. To the winner of this scuffle between long-standing rivals goes the coveted Gregory Memorial Sabre, a prize Culver has retained all but one year since it was first presented to the victorious school in 1957.

On the next Saturday the Eagles of Coach Russell D. Oliver play host to a highly touted team from Flint, Mich., the Flint Northwestern Wildcats. Boasting a 4-1 record and a position in the rating of Michigan's top ten high school teams, the Wildcats feature a powerful passing attack and a stingy defense which has allowed less than seven points per game. This will be the first grid encounter between the two teams.

The previously undefeated Eagles simply could make no headway into the stiff wind or the equally stout Bishop Luers defense last week as Culver bowed 13-0. High winds chilled the large Homecoming turnout, but the Bishop Luers Knights generated plenty of heat in the third period as they scored on a 38-yard pass from Joe Bobey to John Dunlap and a two-yard plunge by speedster Mike O'Reilly. The Culver offense floundered on numerous attempts and never penetrated deeper than the Bishop Luers 27-yard line.

The Eagles now own a 2-1-1 record, quite an improvement over their lackluster 1-3-1 worksheet at this time last year. And with four games left—St. Johns, Flint, West Lafayette, and Mishawaka—the Eagles could feasibly finish with their best season record since 1963, when they lost only one contest.
