The public is invited to attend the concert free of charge. Since no seats will be provided, Payson urged those attending to bring blankets and warm clothing.

Five Injured In Auto Accident

An accident involving Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Fazekas, Route 2, Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson and daughters of South Bend occurred at 6 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of State Road 17 and Road 110, southwest of Culver.

Rudolph Fazekas, 54, and his wife, Virginia, 52, were taken to Parkview Hospital at Plymouth where their condition is listed as satisfactory. Robert Pearson, 36, and his two daughters, Jolene, 10, and Terilynn, 8, were taken to Memorial Hospital in South Bend where they were treated for cuts and bruises and released. Mrs. Pearson escaped injury.

The accident occurred as the westbound car, driven by Mr. Fazekas, stopped at 17 and then pulled out in front of the southbound Pearson car. Damage to both cars was estimated at $700 each.

Fazekas was charged by Deputy W. Cleaver with failure to yield right of way.

Hoosier Jaycees Send Vehicle To Viet Nam Clinic

"The Citizen" is indebted to Mrs. E. E. Zechiel for an interesting article, from the Oct. 15 issue of the "San Diego (Calif.) Union", which she turned in to our office.

The informative article states that today, Oct. 27, a station wagon is being put aboard a Norwegian freighter in the Long Beach harbor of California for transportation to its destination in Viet Nam.

The outstanding fact about the event is that the vehicle was purchased by the Indiana Jaycees for Project Concern's medical self-help clinic in DaMpoa, Viet Nam.

The 3,500-mile trip, which began in our Hoosier State the first part of October, was accomplished by members of 40 Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters who took their turns at the wheel through the eight states of the journey which terminated on Monday, Oct. 17, at San Diego, Calif., the last leg of the trip in our United States.

Hats off to our Hoosier Jaycees and their cohorts for their concern for others in such dire need.

Letters To Editor

Editor, THE CULVER CITIZEN:

Presently fulfilling my military obligation in the United States Army, Vietnam, I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to The CITIZEN staff for making certain that I receive its weekly publications.

Despite the fact that I myself can not be called a "full-blooded Culverite", I nevertheless did have the opportunity to reside in Culver for a short length of time, whereby I can sincerely say that I am familiar with its small town friendliness, and can truly call Culver, "my home away from home".

Since my arrival here seven months ago, THE CITIZEN staff has insured prompt arrival of THE CITIZEN. This constant communication, along with letters I receive concerning Culver from my wife, who is presently residing in the area, has provided another of the necessary links which keep me informed of the news and happenings in the surrounding area.

It is most reassuring to know that the morale of the American soldier fighting against Communist aggression in Vietnam is of great importance to you.

Such thoughtfulness on your part has provided a constant boost to my morale for which I am most appreciative.

Respectfully,

Purdue's New Regional Campus To Open Next Fall

College-bound students will find the most modern educational facilities next September when Purdue University's new North Central Regional Campus opens its doors for the 1967-68 school year.

Construction of the $3.3 million campus on U.S. 421 near the Indiana Toll Road is proceeding on schedule on a large tract of land just north of Westville.

The new campus will replace Barker Memorial Center in Michigan City which has served as the Purdue University Center since 1949.

Students will attend classes in an attractive education building containing 15 classrooms, seven science laboratories and drafting rooms, several all-purpose rooms, library, lounges and a greenhouse.

Also, the building will feature two 100-seat, auditorium-like, lecture rooms especially equipped for instruction in chemistry, physics and other sciences.

The new facilities are geared to serve a rapidly expanding enrollment from the LaPorte and Porter County areas. It's location is almost equidistant from Michigan City, LaPorte, and Valparaiso, Indiana.

The first two undergraduate years of most college curricula as well as graduate courses in education will be offered. Future possibilities call for the campus to develop into a full, four-year college. The new campus expects to attract many students who will transfer later to other universities around the country.

Courses will span each of the undergraduate schools at Purdue, from agriculture and engineering to science and technology. Content of the courses is the same as those offered at Purdue's main campus in Lafayette. Selected Indiana University courses will be available to students under the Host-Guest agreement that exists between the two universities.

The North Central Campus, like all regional campuses of Purdue, will be a "commuter campus". Students will continue to live at home, thus eliminating the tremendous expense of dormitory or apartment living.

The Crescent Group Entertains Choir And Guests At Annual Potluck

The Crescent Group of the Grace United Church of Christ of Culver held their annual potluck supper in the social rooms of the church on Wednesday, Oct. 19, with members of the choir and their husbands/wives as guests. Fifteen choir members were present, along with five other guests. Mrs. D. H. Smith; Mrs. Lucas Duddleson; Mrs. Guy Davis; and Mr. and Mrs. Harmon L. Coleman, of Bakersfield, Calif. Mrs. Coleman is the sister of Mrs. Cloyd Miller.

The class president welcomed the choir, thanked them for their many hours of service, and gave a short prayer. Reverend Hohman gave the table prayer. After a delicious supper, a very interesting program, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Hohman, was presented.

The class sang a song to the choir, then seated at tables, along with the choir members and guests, each table group sang a song.

Mrs. D. H. Smith gave a very interesting poem entitled, "The Old Wooden Tub," and Mrs. Duddleson gave a very funny skit entitled, "At The Matinee," which depicted a lady taking her two small daughters to the afternoon show. Mrs. Davis gave several readings about Indiana with a musical background provided by Mrs. Cleo Ringle at the piano. This portion of the program was in keeping with Indiana's Sesqui-centennial and was greatly appreciated by all.

Miss Thelma Smith drew the mystery package. The tables were attractively decorated with miniature musical instruments and black music notes.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Von Ehr and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pedersen. A total of 46 persons enjoyed the memorable evening.

Hibbard E.U.B. Women's Society Meets With Mrs. Homer Albert

The Hibbard Evangelical United Brethren Women's Society met at the home of Mrs. Homer Albert on Thursday, Oct. 13. Mrs. Irvin Overmyer, vice-president, opened the meeting with a reading.

The missionary study was begun by group singing, "Trust and Obey," accompanied by Mrs. Albert at the organ. Mrs. Alfred Large then began the study of the "Christian's Calling To Leadership" with a summary of what leadership is. The group responded with names of great leaders throughout history. This was followed by each person naming someone who had a great influence on her own life, emphasizing the qualities this person possessed. The kinds of leadership and leaders were discussed, those being designated leaders and member leaders. Mrs. Large led a group prayer and Mrs. Albert read scripture from the book of Romans.

Roll was called and answered by 16 members and two guests giving a Bible verse.

Mrs. Overmyer conducted the business meeting, followed by the election of the following officers for 1967: Mrs. Howard Shock, president; Mrs. Richard Behmer, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Quivey, secretary; Mrs. Arnold Lowry, treasurer; and Mrs. Raymond Lowry, youth secretary.

The meeting was closed by unison prayer. A silent auction was then held by the project committee, after which Mrs. Albert served delicious refreshments.

Tri Kappas Enjoy Monday Dinner Meeting

Culver Tri Kappas and their guest, Province Officer Saralee Levin of Warsaw, gathered at The Culver Inn for dinner Monday evening, Oct. 24, meeting later at the home of Mrs. Fred Adams for the business session.

New business discussed resulted in the chapter's voting to join the Century Club with a $100 unit membership purchase from the Marshall and Starke County Jaycees for the purpose of assisting the Marshall-Starke Development Center for retarded children at Plymouth. In addition, a direct contribution of $400 was voted for the Center toward their present emergency need of $7,500 to carry on this year's work.

Mrs. John Edgell, president, presented Mrs. Levin, who told the group that the dispensing of funds by the Tri Kappa organization in the State of Indiana amounted to big business. Two hundred forty-one chapters made up to 12,780 individual members have earned from all sources and given to charity, education and culture on state and local levels $2,259,000 in the past two years. Of this amount, Province Ten's 13 active chapters, including Culver, and 15 associate chapters spent $20,837.09 on charitable projects, $10,594.00 for scholarships and $1,453.00 toward the promotion of culture in their home communities.

Culver members were informed that on the state level Tri Kappa's Sesquicentennial birthday gift to Indiana was $16,000 to furnish and equip a Burn Ward in the new Riley Children's Hospital to be built in Indianapolis and completed by 1968. At the present time there are no facilities in the State to care for children who have been badly burned, and they must be sent to Boston, Cincinnati, or Houston for treatment. Mrs. Levin added that in the future it was hoped the ward, which was to occupy the second floor, could be developed into a training center and research laboratory for burned victims.

In conclusion, Mrs. Levin complimented the Culver chapter on its unique accomplishments, and the meeting adjourned to enjoy a refreshing punch served by the hostess.

Mrs. William Snyder Hosted Junior Woman's Club At Oct. 24 Halloween Meeting

Mrs. Robert McKinnis, costumed as a crusader of old, was voted the best masqueraded member at the Monday evening, Oct. 24, meeting of the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club held in the lower chambers of the home of Mrs. William Snyder.

Jack-o-lanterns, corn shocks, and Indian corn decorated the huge room, while all attending were masqueraded in costumes of all types. Masqueraded guests were Mrs. Tim Dillingham, Mrs. Kenneth Miller Jr. and Mrs. Ed Amond.

President Mrs. Latham Lawson conducted a short business meeting at which time it was voted to donate $100 to the Marshall-Stark Development Center's Century Club. Mrs. Ray Houghton, UNICEF chairman, reported UNICEF night will be Thursday, Oct. 27, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., with headquarters in the Library basement. Chairman of the Holly Shop committee, Mrs. Snyder, gave a report on that project.

Mrs. James Beckhart gave the closing thought.

Halloween games were played, with prizes being awarded to the winners. Homemade doughnuts and cider were served from a table decorated with a witch, strewed pumpkins, and candles.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. Jerry Wyman, and Mrs. James Bonine.

A man went into a pet shop to buy a parrot. All the parrots were gone. The clerk suggested buying a woodpecker instead.

"Well, can he talk?" asked the man.

"No, but if you dig the Morse code, he'll give you a lot of fun," the clerk replied.

CAMOUFLAGE

Ducks hunters cover their boats with burlap bags. Rip the bags to get the greatest surface area. Then drape over motor and boat. Works fine

A railroad engineer got up on the wrong side of bed one morning. His shower was cold. A shoelace broke. His coffee was weak and his toast was burned. His car wouldn't start and he had to take a taxi to work. He was late getting there so he speeded his train up to 90 miles an hour. Just as he swung around a long curve, he saw another train coming at him on the same track.

He heaved a big sigh and turning to the fireman said, "Did you ever have one of those days when every-thing goes wrong?"

A friend of ours says that when God, in His infinite wisdom, invented woman He knew that man needed a problem . . . one he'd never solve . . . but interesting enough to keep him trying.

Banker (telephoning): "Mr. Huckabee, do you know your bank account is overdrawn $17?"

Mr. Huckabee: "Say, Mr. Banker, look up a month ago. How did I stand then? I'll hold the phone."

Banker: "You had a balance of $140."

Mr. Huckabee: "Well, did I call you up?"

A man ordered a load of hay from a neighbor. About noon the neighbor's little son came to the house crying lustily. The lad said the load of hay had tipped over in the road. Assuring the little fellow it was nothing serious, he asked the youngster in for dinner.

"Daddy wouldn't like it," said the boy.

But the man promised he would fix it up with father, and urged the boy to take dinner before going for the hay. After dinner, the boy still persisted:

"Daddy won't like it."

The man, unable to understand, asked the boy why his dad would object.

"Daddy's under the hay."

The story is told of Will Rogers' being shown the beautiful new state capitol building at Lincoln, Nebraska. They were standing in front of the building reading the inscription over the entrance. "The vigilance of the people is the salvation of the state."

Will Rogers read it, thought about it a moment, then scratched his head and said, "Why don't they put those things up there in languages the people can understand?"

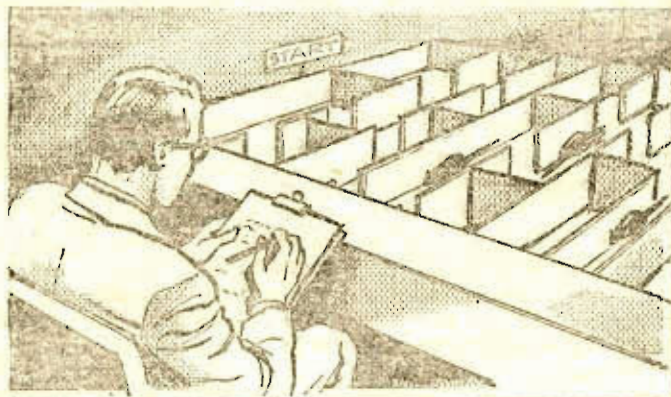

One of his hosts asked, "What would you suggest?"

"Oh, something like this," replied Will. "You gotta watch them guys or they'll run away with the state capitol."

DETROIT, MICH. — Waiting for a bus can almost be a pleasure if the time is spent in attractive new bus shelters such as those being installed at Detroit. The all-steel shelters are part of the nationwide program to encourage greater use of public transportation by providing the commuter with comfort and convenience. The shelters can be furnished with heaters, lights, telephones and nearby seats. Nickel stainless steel is used extensively for added beauty, resistance to corrosion, and easy maintenance.

Developed from prototypes built by Republic Steel Corporation, the enclosed shelters are designed in five-foot sections and can be extended to accommodate any number of passengers. The City of Detroit received a Federal grant to help finance two-thirds of the cost of its bus shelter program. Similar grants, administered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, are being made available to communities throughout the United States.

The Treaty (As Treaties Go)

Editor's note: This is one of the themes handed into Mr. Lawson for the theme on States' Rights. Cathy Welsh received an A on this paper and well she deserved it.

Be it ordained and understood that this treaty shall end, herewith the debate and dispute over states' rights that has ravaged the minds of Americans, and inflamed the temper of the nation as a whole, since the beginning of these United States of America.

By Article IV, Section Four of the Constitution of the United States and by Amendment X to the same document, all states are guaranteed a republican form of government, and are granted certain reserved powers. For decades, the limit and extent of these powers has been the cause of many nationally significant crises. It is the intention of this "treaty" to set forth the facts, and to present a highly favored course of action.

Our country was originally founded as a federal union of states with the powers and functions of government divided between the central organs and the state organs. According to former President John Q. Adams, this constitutes "the most complicated government on the face of the earth." Now, as Americans demand a more affluent way of life, they are forcing the nation to become more unified under national laws and a national code of behavior. This is where state and local governments are fast losing their power. They were established as individual organs, created by the people, and deriving their powers from the people, yet when the strain of meeting all the demands for more and better public services gradually depleted their resources and dampened their spirits, they became practically immobile. So they turned to the federal government for aid and it obeyed their requests. One successful program followed another and soon the states found themselves caught up in a web of activities over which they had little control. Today, a sort of schizophrenic situation has developed with states simultaneously stretching out one hand for all the federal aid it can get, and clenching the other into a fist ready to punch the same government in the nose for trying to tyrannize them.

At this point we come to the fundamental question of this states' rights issue: What is the definition and limit of states' rights today? States' Rights in the sense of nullifying a national law and seceding from the Union are dead. Through painful experiences we have learned their harsh lessons and have profited by them. The end result was that more legislation was passed with the design of dissuading any future generation from trying a similar strategy, though not actually taking away the right to try it. So what is the states' rights issue?

It is the opinion of this treaty that the principle dispute today has been nurtured from the states' "management muddle." For it is well-founded that the overall quality and efficiency of the administration of many states' public programs is very weak. In 1953 a national commission was formed and given the task of examining our modern federal system, and, if possible, of halting the trend toward centralization. After extensive and exhausting research, they concluded that "... most states would benefit from a fundamental review and revision of their constitution to make sure that they provide for vigorous and responsible government, not forbid it."

Thus, in conclusion, let us resolve that the purpose of this document is stated very aptly in the single, short phrase "vigorous and responsible government." For it is our contention that our fifty federated states must avoid the traditional program-by-program, jurisdiction-by-jurisdiction approach (which too often has led to confusion, delay and waste in overall development), and cooperate in coordinating federal, state, and local resources so that all may achieve a meaningful, hopeful impact.

A Worthwhile Vacation

By VICKIE MORRISON and ELAINE KAISER

Thursday and Friday, Oct. 27 and 28, will be vacation days for students, but not for teachers. Each teacher is expected to attend classes at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, South Bend, Hammond, Muncie, Evansville, or Jeffersonville for these two days. The majority of Culver's teachers will go to South Bend. A few will attend the sessions at Indianapolis, and Mrs. Sam Allen will be going to Evansville.

The first meeting, the general session, will be opened by the chairman of that division. At this meeting there will be an organ prelude, invocation, Pledge of Allegiance, and an address on a current problem. The rest of the two days will be spent in attending lectures in each teacher's field, attending luncheons where additional speakers will be heard, viewing projects set up by companies that produce educational material, and just renewing old acquaintances. Most teachers receive new and helpful ideas for teaching and return to their classes with new zest and interest.

Congratulations to all the Seniors who did such a swell job, and a special congrats to their directors. The after-play was great too, Elaine.

Will some one please tell Cathy Schmidt that Sally Port is not a driveway! Looking for Armando Ranel is like looking for a needle on the floor of a dance at the Academy, right Linda M??

We hear that all the girls that went to Homecoming had a great time. Patty, was the situation a little tense???

It seems that two of C.H.S.'s fair maidens are planning a secret trip to South Bend to see Jerry Christy and Tom Landman. Tell us about it Norma and Debbie! It's not a secret anymore!

We hear that Vickie Morrison plans on becoming a beautician. Lots of luck, Vicky.

The questions of the year . . . would you believe the month? How much money do the Seniors really have?? Another question that we would like to know the answer to is--Will they make the Senior Trip?? Let's Hope So.

Linad and Mayo would like to make a confession. Contrary to popular belief they were not caught trying to skip school and go to Chicago. It was all a funny joke so just laugh it off. Tee Hee Ho Ho and all that rot.

We hear by word of the grapevine that Mr. Wolf is trying, or would like to try something new--No Grades. Whether it goes through or not, thanks from all you Chemistry students. We appreciate having a teacher on our side.

According to Karen Stevenson there are only 31 more days until the Junior Rings Come. Yeah!

What's this about the Senior girls going "down" for underclass boys? Could it be that there are new couples around school?

Say, Bob S. how long did you say it took you to get to Crown Point, an hour and a half?? Speaking of Crown Point, Suzi R., how was the football game???

Miss McClellan and Miss Asay sure do have a mean twist. Don't worry, after a few more parties you'll be in the "swing" of things.

Well, now that you have learned all of nothing by reading this article, we'll close with some words from that well known Historian, Mr. Lawson, "He who uses eraser makes mistakes."

Sixth Grade News

By SYLVIA WILLIAMS

Mr. Harris has started a girls' softball team this year. The girls use a giant softball, which they don't seem to like very well. Mr. Harris says it is easier to catch, but the girls disagree. No matter how dumb they feel catching a big ball, they feel it is easier to hit.

Pam Milner, Carol Baker, Cindy McKee, and Judy Nelson are among the best players.

The girls seem to have a problem with the boys--they try to tell them how to play the game. They're not worried though, they can beat them.

Cross Country

By JOHN MILNER and STEVE McCOMBS

Last Tuesday, Culver played host to North Judson and Knox. The climax showed Culver shutting down the Redskins and the Bluejays by scores of 16 to 41 to 50. This was the last regular season meet for the Indians and it left their record a tremendous 10 wins and no losses! We would like to take this opportunity to commend the team for the fine job they did in representing our school this fall.

Since 1920, when the Chicago Motor Club pioneered the Safety Patrol movement, the traffic death rate for school children has been decreased by more than one-half. Extra caution by all motorists can reduce this rate even more.

PASSENGER PIGEONS

One of the strangest of many strange tales to be told about North America is the one about the passenger pigeon -- ectopistes migratorius. Few people now living ever saw one but up until the 1880's they were the most numerous of birds in the entire world. Reports of them are now unbelievable.

The passenger pigeon was so called because it was a bird of passage, wintering in the southern portions of the U.S., and summering in the north. It was a sort of freak of nature in that it multiplied out of proportion to other creatures and nature did not seem to have worked out a scheme to limit its numbers -- that is until white men came and the job was done completely.

A passenger pigeon was about a foot and a half long when grown and half its length was in its wedge shaped tail. Wingspread was about two feet. It bore some resemblance to modern pigeons but was more streamlined, colorful and flew faster. Males had blue-black wings and backs, were often sort of robin breasted and had bronzed and purple necks. Their underneath features were purplish gray, their eyes bright orange. Females were similar but duller in plumage, often drab above, dull white beneath.

Passenger pigeon flocks were the largest ever known. When a column was on the wing the sky black and light was blotted out. The noise of their wings was like the winds of a tornado. It took hours for them to pass over and there are recorded instances of flocks going across the sky for three consecutive days. A mathematician in Kentucky once watched a flock headed for Indiana Territory and he estimated it to be a mile wide, flying about 60 miles per hour and it took four hours to pass over his vantage point. He computed the column to therefore be 240 miles long and contained well over 2 billion birds.

Roosts and nesting places for these creatures were fantastic. A wooded area three miles and more, by thirty miles and more, would be completely filled by them, single trees often holding a hundred nests. Their weight would break large branches and when the flocks moved on, the woods looked like a violent storm had gone through. Droppings up to a foot thick obliterated all plants and underbrush. Birds practically denuded the land in quest of food for their young. Their voices were loud and raucous, often shrill and scolding and noise from a pigeon roost could be heard for miles.

Both male and female cared for their squabs and some said they would even take over orphaned young. Indians, and later whites, established villagers near their roosts and were assured of more than enough food in season. And they salted down birds for future use. Indians used pigeon oil (fat) as whites use butter.

Without pigeons our history might have been different for they were the staple diet of the poor and saw many a frontier family through hard seasons -- all over the northern part of the country. People ate pigeons until they were sick of the thought of them. As cities grew, pigeons were salted and iced away to be imported, much as chickens are today. Following the Civil War there were several thousand people engaged full time in trapping, shooting, netting and burning passenger pigeons to feed the populace. Everyone shot them for sport and home use and thousands were annihilated at trap shooting contests.

From one roosting place in Michigan alone, five box cars a day carried passenger pigeons to eastern cities. They were iced in bulk, boatloads at a time on lakes and large rivers. They were fed to dogs and hogs as well as people. And they became scarcer. By 1881 there was only one large nesting area left (Grand Traverse County, Michigan) and this was wiped out by deliberately setting fire to the woods to get the birds. The last large shipment to market was in the early 1890s and then they were gone, just a very few pigeons being found in isolated areas. No one thought their numbers would ever be depleted and when it was realized they were scarce some belated efforts were made to preserve them. But it was too late -- passenger pigeons had become extinct.

The Cincinnati Zoo had one--Old Martha, which lived to be twenty nine years old but she died on Sept. 1, 1914, and then there were none.

While a man who was suing over an automobile accident was on the stand the defendant's counsel took over.

"Did you, or did you not," he asked the plaintiff, "at the time of the accident when asked if you were hurt, reply that you weren't?"

"Well," said the plaintiff, "it was like this:

"I was going along the road with my old horse and wagon, and along comes this motorist and knocks us into the ditch. You never saw such a mess in all your life. There I was flat on my back with my legs in the air. There was my horse on his back, with his legs in the air. And there was my wagon, with its wheels in the air.

"That motorist stops his car, gets out, and looks at us. He sees my horse has a broken leg, goes back to his car, gets a pistol and shoots him. Then he comes up to me and says, 'Now, what about you? Are you hurt?'

A trucker's wife entered the clinic for a thorough check-up. One doctor checked her eyes, another her throat, another her respiration, and still another X-rayed her. This went on for several days until fourteen doctors had checked her. On the fifth day a little overalled man came into her room carrying a pail of water, rags, brushes, etc. This really scared the gal. "What are you going to do now?" she asked feebly.

The little man smiled at her. "I'm going to wash your transom," he said.

After viewing the day's rushes, the temperamental movie actress complained to the chief cameraman, "You're not photographing my best side."

"How can I?" he snapped. "You're always sitting on it."

The Chicago Motor Club advises that a common cause of accidents in autumn is skidding on wet leaves. When mud has accumulated under wet leaves, they can be as treacherous as ice. If at all possible, drive around a pile of leaves. In the event of a skid, however, turn your steering wheel in the direction in which your rear wheels are swerving.

 "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

This verse form the 51st Psalm is a part of the responsive reading in this week's Lesson-Sermon titled, "Everlasting Punishment," to be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

From the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read: "Are we benefited by praying? Yes, the desire which goes forth hungering after righteousness is blessed of our Father, and it does not return unto us void."

The Scriptural readings also include the account of the healing by Jesus of the palsied man at the pool of Bethesda.

Rockin' R Riders Saddle Club Meets At Morrison Home

The Rockin' R Riders Saddle Club of Culver met Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, at Raymond Morrison's home for its regular monthly meeting with President Louis Null presiding.

Activities held during the past month included a trail ride on Sunday, Sept. 28, and hayride and wiener roast on Saturday night, Oct. 1.

New business conducted was making plans for the upcoming horse show to be held at the Horse Palace at Bass Lake on Sunday, Nov. 20, beginning about 10 a.m. Other events scheduled are a trail ride, Sunday, Oct. 30, at 1 p.m., meeting at Morrisons, and a Square Dance, Saturday evening at 8 p.m., Nov. 5. Place for the square dance will be announced later.

After adjournment of the business meeting refreshments consisting of doughnuts, cider, and coffee were served.

The diller, the dollar, the ten o'clock scholar. Remember how the rhyme ended? Tardiness leads from bad to worse. The boy ended by sleeping until noon.

Often parents ask, "WHEN IS IT TIME TO BEGIN THE RELIGIOUS TRAINING OF OUR CHILD?" Here's a straight-forward answer: "THE MOMENT YOU BEGIN TO LOVE HIM!"

You see, God is love. And, in a home where God is loved, a child quickly begins to associate the love of his parents for him with this Other Love which is felt by those he loves. Then come Bible stories and pictures and a simple prayer to help him experience and express his growing faith. Soon he'll be starting Sunday School — but his religious training has already begun.

Our churches are helping tomorrow's parents equip themselves spiritually today. The couple planning marriage needs a mature religious faith. For when God has given us a little son or daughter... THERE GOES THE BELL!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AUTO LICENSE BUREAU TO CLOSE AT NOON THURSDAY

MEDICARE

Charles E. Burke, District Manager of South Bend, Indiana Social Security Office stated today that although many residents of northern Indiana are responding to his suggestion that they sign up for medicare 2 to 3 months before their 65th birthday month, there still are some that are not filing.

Those people who wait until the month they reach 65 or the following 3 months, will find that their hospital insurance protection under medicare may begin right away, but their coverage under the voluntary doctor bill insurance cannot start until 1 to 3 months after they sign up for it.

Mr. Burke further explained that failure to sign up during the 7 month enrollment period which begins 3 months before the 65th birthday month and ends 3 months after the 65th birthday month may mean that the individual will have to wait until the next enrollment period which will be October 1, 1967 thru December 31, 1967. Even if they sign up then, the older person will have to wait until the following July 1968 for the voluntary doctor bill insurance to

Mr. Burke also stressed another important fact often overlooked by the public. Persons approaching their 65th birthday and still working should come in and file their application for hospital benefits so that they can be protected under the medicare program. These persons can continue to work as long as they are able and as long as they choose. Social security cash benefits will only be paid if the 65 year old workers total earnings for the year permit such payments.

The latest figures show that almost 40% of those now enrolling in the voluntary doctor bill insurance applied too late to have their coverage start as soon as they reach 65. Those people who have never worked under social security must also file an application before their 65th birthday month to receive the protection offered under the Hospital and Supplementary Medical Insurance program.

Mr. Burke said that to assist those persons who are within 2 or 3 months of their 65th birthday month and still working, the South Bend, Indiana District Office at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd. is open Thursday evenings until 9 p.m. These extended office hours will help those people still working so that they will not lose time off from their jobs. Mr. Burke urges all those soon to be 65 years old to come in and file their application and bring along with them their birth certificate to prove their age. There are two pamphlets available that explain this new program. Call or drop in at the social security office and ask for pamphlets No. 2 and No. 35.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Attend Convention

Members of the Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have been invited to attend a 3-day convention in Warsaw Nov. 11-13, according to an announcement made today by Donald G. Querry, presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation of Witnesses.

Plymouth and 15 other cities in this area are expected to send upward of 1,000 delegates who will participate in a planned program arranged to strengthen Christian faith and teaching. These meetings are held semi-annually in north-central Indiana. Warsaw, in being chosen, is one of 400 cities so selected to host a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses each year.

Donald G. Querry, in making the announcement said, "The convention being planned will not be a revival, but will be conducted primarily to advance Christian Bible education." He stated that the 3-day program will include a variety of talks on Bible subjects. Groups of ministers will discuss ministerial problems, and demonstrations will teach how Christians should conduct Bible studies. Sessions will be conducted morning, afternoon and evening, with a baptism of new ministers on the second day of the meet. The theme of the convention has been set as "Become Spiritual Men With Everlasting Life In View". All from the local congregation are expected to attend and take an active part in the 3-day program.

Harvey E. Phillips

A Letter to the Voters of Marshall County

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Voters:

On several occasions you have supported my candidacy for public office. I have attempted at all times to justify your confidence by giving courteous and efficient service.

Once again I seek to be elected as your Sheriff. I hope my experience as a law enforcement officer, my knowledge of court proceedings, the supervision we gave the Jail during our previous tenure as Sheriff, and my continued interest in young people will cause you to support me on November 8th.

Your vote and influence will continue to be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Academy Sports

The CMA Eagles boosted their season record to 3-1-1 last Saturday as they vaulted over arch-rival St. John's Military Academy 20-7 in a clash at Delafield, Wisconsin. Senior halfback Charley Borton from Kahoka, Mo., provided most of the fireworks, scoring on runs of 31 and 34 yards in the final five minutes of the game.

Saturday's was the thirty-seventh gridiron meeting of the two schools. Culver having compiled a 21-15-1 record during the series, which dates back to 1905. Since 1957 the Gergory Memorial Sabre has been presented to the winner of the Culver-St John's game as an added incentive.

Culver journey to St. John's without the services of veteran quarterback Dave Rafes and slot-back Spence Dickenson but found capable replacements in juniors John Casner, Hobart, Ind., and John Shumacher, Hartsville, Ohio. Casner guided the Eagles to their first score early in the first quarter. Brad Strait sliced in for pay dirt from six yards out less than five minutes into the first quarter.

Coach Russell D. Oliver's Eagles permitted St. John's to tie the score just before halftime, but weathered all Lancer threats during the rest of the game. Culver completely dominated the statistics sheet, accumulating 251 yards rushing and 10 first downs. Due to the high winds of the day, Culver dominated offensive play with its ground attack but did not complete a single pass. So forceful was the wind that Lancer punter Dave Taft astonished the St. John's Homecoming crowd with a 98-yard punt form scrimmage. Borton personally accounted for 141 yards rushing, the individual high for a CMA back this year, and his pair of touchdowns left the 6 foot, 180-pound full-back with a total of seven TD's this year. He has scored in each of Culver's five games.

Next Saturday at 2 p.m. the Eagles will be challenged at home by Northwestern High School of Flint, Mich. Flint is reported to be one of the strongest defensive clubs in Michigan and is among that state's high school Top Ten.
