Lions Club Donates $1000 To Band Uniforms

The Band Student Uniform Fund received a large boost when the Culver Lions Club donated $1,000 to the cause. With this generous gift the students now have $2,500 in the treasury and hope to add more during their upcoming magazine drive.

Charles Byfield, band director, wishes to express his gratitude to the Lions Club and all others who are helping to outfit the band members.

The students will be selling magazines during the next two weeks.

Ancilla Nuns Will Perform Musical

Ancilla Domini nuns will perform in the four-act musical play to be presented September 28 at 8 p.m. in the four act musical play to be presented September 28 at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln Junior High auditorium at Plymouth.

"Sister America, composed by Sister Jeffrey Hegger, PHJC, a 1966 graduate of Ancilla College and at present a music major at Alverno College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, traces through spirit, song and dance the hundred year history of the Poor Handmaid sisters in the United States.

The story centers around Sister America, a vivacious, determined woman, who leaves Germany and strikes roots in America. Symbolizing the American Poor Handmaid Sister America joyfully serves God and neighbors as she travels her way, alive to the world and the people around her. This life-long road of service takes her to the sick, the aged, the orphans, and the students.

Sister M. Jeffrey plays the lead and gives her own interpretation of Sister America, the lively nun who wins her way into all hearts with her enthusiasm and "big hearted personality."

The forty-member cast, all sisters except for four children, include several students from Ancilla College. Sister M. Chantal Dulle directs the musical and Sisters Margaret Konetski conducts the ten-piece ensemble.

Tickets can be procured at People's Drug Store and at the Gibson Insurance Agency, Plymouth, or at the door of the auditorium the night of the performance.

"Sister America" is being presented in various cities in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota during 1968 and 1969 as part of the Ancilla Domini sisters' centennial year celebration.

WCTU MEETS WITH

MRS. EVA HEISER

The local chapter of the WCTU met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Eva Heiser. During the program a discussion was held concerning the upcoming elections and also the threat of Indiana allowing pari-mutual gambling in the state.

Program booklets were made out for next year. The members then rolled bandages for hospitals in India.

The motorist who speeds and runs away will live to kill and maim some other day.

Bank Employees Honor Carl Adams

Officers, directors, and employees of The State Banks of Culver, Argos and Plymouth and Farmers State Bank of LaPaz joined on Monday evening, September 16, in paying tribute to a fellow officer and director, Carl M. Adams, who is senior vice president and cashier. The affair observed the 50th anniversary of Mr. Adams' association with the Culver bank as of September 18.

The party took place at the Plymouth Country Club and was in the form of a dinner served buffet-style. Husbands and wives were also guests, with places being set for 140. The honored guest and his wife and members of his immediate family were seated at the head table, which was centered with a floral arrangement in yellow shades. The serving of punch preceded a dinner, with Miss Charlotte Jung and Mrs. Larry Davis pouring.

An original skit, based on a resume of Mr. Adams' life, was presented, with Mrs. Elbert Graham as author and narrator. Mrs. Darwyn Singleton, Bill Croker, Ronald McKee, Robert Lindvall, Robert Brokus, Larry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ives, Genn Wingett, James Johnson, and Jerry Wyman portrayed different episodes as the story unfolded, and Mrs. Fred Ditmore provided background music on the piano.

Deane E. Walker, teacher and basketball coach of the honored guest, reminisced about high school days, and Robert Lindvall made appropriate remarks prior to presenting a gift from the employees to Mr. Adams. Ronald McKee paid tribute to Mr. Adams by reading a resolution plaque which had been signed by the employees, officers, and directors of the four banks.

W. O. Osborn, president, expressed his appreciation of Mr. Adams' faithful years of service, and the program ended with group singing of "For He is a Jolly Good Fellow." Hampton Boswell was in charge of the planning of the affair and introduced the various parts of the program. He was assisted in arrangements by Miss Jung, Mr. Lindvall, Mr. McKee, and Miss Margaret Swanson.

CULVER TOWN BOARD NEWS

In old business at the regular Town Board meeting Monday, it was announced that in case of power failure the town had emergency standby equipment at the new water works in the form of a power take-off attachment on an existing pump. If needed, this attachment will keep pumping water even if such a power failure occurs.

It was also stated that pipe laying of the new water line is almost completed. However, there are some streets that need to be repaired yet and work has been held up so that further work on surface drainage can be completed.

In further business, it was announced that the town was short one employee and a replacement would be hired only when a suitable applicant is available.

The town clerk, Ruth Lennen, requested a depository be placed in the door of the office so that bills could be paid at other times than during office hours. Her request was approved.

Leonard Hoffman was present at the meeting to request permission to install curbing and sidewalks in front of his home on School street. Permission was granted.

The meeting was adjourned upon payment of bills.

for each cow is a good estimate of the amount needed if average yields are obtained.

Both Sundangress and sorghum-Sudan crosses are much better adapted for grazing or greenchop than for hay or silage.

If the crop is cut only two or three times, the crosses usually out yield recommended Sundangress. However, in trials where four or more cuttings are removed to imitate grazing, Sundangresses have yielded as much or more than the sorghum-Sudan crosses.

Neither Sundangress nor the crosses will perform as well as corn silage, alfalfa hay, or hayage for stored or winter feed.

Soils well suited for corn or soybeans are well suited to Sudan. Prepare the seedbed as if it were for corn or beans. Then drill 20-25 pounds of Sudan or sorghum-Sudan hybrid seed per acre in eight-inch rows.

Apply phosphorus and potash as it to grow 100-150 bushels of corn per acre. If possible, have a soil test. Split the nitrogen application, applying 75 pounds at seeding time. This can be put on with the drill while seeding, or anhydrous ammonia can be applied in the seedbed just prior to seeding. After the first cutting, another 75 pounds of nitrogen will be necessary if top production is desired.

MOST FOODS of the future will require little refrigeration, reports Votator, Louisville. The company says two processes already in reduce the need for refrigeration. They are freeze-drying — removing water without the use of heat — and aseptic canning. A number of quality freeze dried foods are already available, including tea, coffee, shrimp mushrooms and tomatoes. More whole milk and other dairy products soon will be stored at room temperature because they also will be dried or aseptically canned. In aseptic processing, milk is completely sterilized almost instantly, quickly cooled and poured into sterile containers.

A PORTABLE X-RAY SPECTROMETER that uses radio-isotopes to detect gold, silver or other elements in minerals has been developed by the Atomic Energy Commission. The device can also analyze alloys and solutions for elemental content. The spectrometer, which weighs less than 15 pounds, employs X-rays produced directly or indirectly by radioisotopes emitting low-energy radiation.

OUR SOCIETY could not exist as it does today without catalysts says Chemetron Corporation, Chicago. The company says that high-octane gasoline, plastics, chemical fertilizers, synthetic fibers and countless other products all owe their existence at least in part to these miracle workers of modern technology.

THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF WATER in existence — in the world's oceans, ice fields, lakes, rivers, soils, rock and in the atmosphere — amounts to about 326 million cubic miles, reports the U. S. Department of Interior. Man, however, gets along with less than one per cent of the world's water. About 97 per cent of all water is in the oceans. Most of the remainder is frozen on Antarctica and Greenland.

SUPPLEMENTARY PASTURE Sundangress and sorghum-Sudan crosses are the best emergency or supplementary crops for pasture or greenchop during July, August and September.

These related forages are heat-tolerant annuals that become highly productive when moisture and fertility are available.

Carrying capacity varies a great deal according to moisture supply fertility and temperature. About one-half acre of pasture

The Culver United Methodist Church was the scene at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, Sept. 15, for the wedding of Miss Susannah Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Spencer, 136 N.

Terrace, and Thomas Easterday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Easterday, N. Slate Street. The Rev. Carl Q. Baker, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with bouquets of shades of pink gladioli. Mrs. Theodore Ervin, organist, played Bridal Airs and the Shreiner Wedding March and accompanied Mrs. Bryce Bigley who sang, "O, Perfect Love," by Barnaby and "King of Love, My Shepherd Is," by Greig. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a charming white ribbed satin ottoman sleeveless skimmer gown designed with a stand-up collar with self back bow. A bias band extended from the front neckline down to the hemline of the slim-front A-line skirt styled with back fullness forming a train. A pretty bow adorned the hemline of the attached chapel-length train. Her shoulder length veil fell from a satin crystal and lace encrusted pill-box headpiece, and she carried a cascade arrangement of Phallopopsis orchids, pink roses and stephanotis. Miss Beverly Niles of Indianapolis, maid of honor, wore a lovely beauty karate skimmer gown fashioned with short sleeves and a rolled collar dipping to a bow trimmed V in back. Her smart beauty karate Dior bow headpiece held a flyaway veil. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of pink roses and carnations. James Easterday served his brother as best man and uhers were Martin Easterday, brother of the bridegroom and Dan Spencer, brother of the bride. A reception was held in Fellowship Hall for 200 guests. Miss Loretta Berger registered guests and assisting in serving were Mrs. Ned Davis, Miss Barbara Niles, Mrs. Dwight Cochrane and Miss Jeanne Adams.

Where Did We Go Wrong?

The Sunday night telecast that spoke up in defense of the city of Chicago and Mayor Daley concerning the troubles during the Democratic Convention, was in our estimation, a very good and informative program. The hour long telecast put to the people, pictures and interviews taken in connection with his troubled situation and from this fine presentation, the people can base their own opinions.

There is one question that could be asked on more than one level, that being: "Where Did We Go Wrong?"

This certainly could be asked by the parents of many young people present at this disturbance. What feeling would a person have viewing such a display as this and seeing a child of theirs in a group such as that? Certainly they must feel some quill somewhere along the way.

Also able to ask this question could be the educators of our country, the ones who through the years have tried to include in their instruction some lessons on right and wrong as well as patriotism.

Third, the government itself could ask this question. The almost complete disregard for the flag, the country and decisions made by the government that are so completely rejected by this age group. Also how has the government let those with detrimental political feelings to that of a democracy gain so much power and leadership ability in our country? Why can these people so easily stir up the youth?

Fourth, why have people grown so immune to the laws of our land? It was clearly pointed out what rulings were given these people for their meetings and demonstrations and despite the fact that appeals were lost in court they went right ahead and participated in unlawful demonstrations. Where is the respect for the law and order of our country?

It was obvious in the TV presentation that thousands and thousands of dollars had to be pumped into this demonstration and protest. People came from all parts of the country to participate in this and that alone takes a lot of money let alone the other costs of such a display. The picture of the hat passing for money clearly pointed out that very little money was to be raised this way. It is communist money that is backing these demonstrations?

All along we have been sympathetic with mayor Daley and the Chicago police. After hearing and seeing the planning and direct acts involved, one can be more sympathetic. Despite the fact that not one shot was fired, certainly life and property were at stake and the job done by the Chicago police certainly did everything they could to protect the public.

"Where did we go wrong" could be asked by many people and finding an answer and solution would be nearly impossible, but it would end such disgraceful displays as this country seen recently in the city of Chicago, and all over the country from time to time.

The government asks that we help the war effort by saving peach stones and other similar by-products from the kitchen. CULVER COMMENTS

I deeply resent some of you asking if I was on the sauce when I wrote last week's column. I swear I was sober as a judge — don't ask me what happened. The entire column was such a mess that even I can't remember what it was supposed to say.

Some of the holes in the street in the south end of town are just too much. One disgruntled homeowner in that section insists he is going to stock the largest one with fish right after the next downpour. Sperry's has a very popular restaurant in that area but driving to it is like going through no-man's land.

CAMPAIGN COMMENTS — A prominent astronomer figures that another planet may be waiting to contact us as soon as they think we have evolved sufficiently to be worthwhile. Don't hold your breath. The sight of a candidate for president of one of the most powerful countries on this planet running around a beach barefoot calling another candidate "Fearless Fost-dick" shows we haven't evolved sufficiently. The other party has come up with some extremely intelligent slogan slogans such as "dump the hump" and "Hub-bird is out of his tree" But little else. The third party wants evolution to march back to the days when clubs were the main weapons. If the unknown peoples of other planet are confused, they at least don't have to make the choice us voters do.

Do you want thrills and excitement? You do? Then drive down School St. when the high school students are released. Where in the heck are the street signs down there? It's not even marked as a school zone.

If the latest rumors are true the postmaster may get more than he bargained for. He asked for stop signs but talk has it that a stoplight is under consideration. A stoplight at that corner seems a trifle superfluous but I suppose any action is better than none. Then, too, it could be the town is out of stop signs.

COMMUNITY SERVICE — Those of you who wach the boob tube have in all probability seen and heard the big cities advertising their Rumor Control Centers. Culver most definitely needs one of these — so out of the goodness of our hearts we are starting one in the Citizen office. You are asking how does this work? Well, if you hear a rumor and wish to check into it, just call our office and we will attempt to get to the bottom of it for you. We must exclude rumors concerning marital troubles or extra curricular love affairs. Any other rumors will be honored.

We hope this will be a service to Culver but if not, we, at least, will know what's going on.

SCIENTIST WILL SIFT LAKE FOR SAND, SILT

THERE MAY NOT BE GOLD in the hills of New York state, but there may be valuable sand and silt deposits in the waters of Lake Ontario. That's what geologists from four universities will try to find out in the first extensive sedimentological study of the lake to be carried out by U.S. researchers. Samples from an underwater beach area near Rochester will be tested to determine whether they are usable for construction materials. Such commercially valuable deposits off the Ohio shore of Lake Erie provided about 400,000 cubic yards of sand a year from 1948 to 1960.

APPARENT PERMANENT STUNTING of brain growth has been detected in babies suffering malnutrition before and up to six months after birth. A Cornell University pediatrician says studies of babies who have died of malnutrition have less than the normal amount of brain cells. He also discovered a direct relationship between head measurement and the number of brain cells in babies up to a year old. This gives great promise, he said, for predicting whether a baby's brain has the normal amount of cells.

IF YOU THINK time zone fatigue is a problem only of Jet Age, you're wrong, says a member of the Federal Aviation Administration's aeromedical staff. He points out that Wiley Post, the intrepid one-eyed aviator of the early '30s, was concerned with the problem long before the first jet was developed. In fact, he probably was the first to recognize that long distance flights through several time zones could upset the so-called biological clock of human beings. Before his record-setting global flights of 1931 and 1933 he underwent a strenuous conditioning program designed to change his habitual sleeping and eating patterns.

Considerable verbal fireworks exploded on Sept. 9 when a large delegation of Culver residents appeared before the Marshall County tax adjustment board in Plymouth to successfully protest against what they termed a ridiculous $87,000 budget for the Town of Culver. The protests knocked $30,000 out of town's budget.

Can You Draw This Design,
Without lifting the pencil from the paper, crossing a line, or going over a line twice?

YES, it can be done, but like a great many other tricks it appears very difficult until you know how. To prove that it can be done, take your pencil and start at dot 1 and draw to dot 2, and so on, and the line you make will show you the correct solution.

"Man Of LaMancha" To Highlight Culver Concert Theatre Series

"Man of La Mancha" highlights Culver Military Academy's nine-show Concert Theater Series, a series with a theme. Taking its theme from La Mancha's "draming the impossible dream," the series will be unified by a "Beyond This World" theme. La Mancha appears Nov. 6, and the series opens Oct. 8 with the Electric Circus.

"Beyond This World" a series with a theme, will unify nine productions in Culver Military Academy's tenth annual Concert-Theater Series.

The theme will be carried out in each of the series shows. Opening Oct. 8 with The Electric Circus, direct from its home on St. Mark's Place in Greenwich Village, the season will be highlighted with a performance of "Man of La Mancha," Nov. 6.

Culver's theater director, Harvey E. Finari, stresses the need for the Academy's concert series to develop a love of and respect for the performing arts. "But booking shows that have strong appeal and that expose and enlighten students, faculty and visiting subscribers grows even more difficult when a concert series is based on a theme.

"The 'Beyond This World' theme of this year's series came from the recognition that dreaming the impossible dream of 'Man of La Mancha' was present in other theatrical offerings. A unified series will present an even more meaningful experience for our audience.

Hailed as "the art form of the future," The Electric Circus opens the series Oct. 8 in the 1,550-seat Eppley Auditorium on Culver's campus. The show brings with it rock, medieval and electronic music; a light show; dance or mime attractions; and a documentary film on a burning current issue.

Harold C. Schonberg, music critic of The New York Times, reviewed the Electric Christmas sequel to the touring show as the development of a new art form. "It is not music as the term has been used for the last few hundred years, though music does play a part.

"It is not cinema, not opera, not fully electronic, though here again all these elements play a part. The electronic component is of special importance."

Los Paraguayos, Latin American folk singers acclaimed in 63 countries as the Ambassadors of Song, appear Oct. 12 as a part of the Academy's Homecoming Weekend.

"Man of La Mancha," judged the best show of 1965 and still running on Broadway, will be presented Nov. 6. Written by Dale Wasserman, the hit musical tells through biography and romance of the Spanish novelist, Miguel de Cervantes, and of the immortal character he created, Don Quixote. Music and lyrics were composed by Mitch Leigh and Joe Darion.

Medea's comedy, "Tartuffe," produced by the Indiana Theatre Company, is scheduled for Nov. 29. The play reveals man victimized by religious hypocrisy.

The Indiana University Chamber Singers will perform Liebeslieder waltzes, madrigals, Bach cantatas and works by contemporary composers with 24 of the Music's leading student voices.

The National Players make their ninth Culver appearance Feb. 26 with theme. The play is another journey into a world where reality ends and a dream begins. The National Players represent the nation's longest running classical repertory theater company.

The Alvin Nikolais Dance Company will take its audience for a trip through the twilight zone March 4. Nikolais manipulates dancers, intricate lighting and electronic sound to create a "total theater." Time magazine devoted two pages of color pictures to the dance company in its March 15 issue.

French pianist Bernard Ringeissen is an added attraction to the series in a March 16 recital, his fourth appearance at Culver. Ringeissen personally limits his concerts because he prefers to concentrate on musicianship rather than commercialism.

PDQ Bach will close the concert series March 21. The orchestra of 30 is billed as a "very, very funny show, even for people who like music but don't know why."

Curtain time for the shows will be 8:15 p.m., except for Los Paraguayos, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Ticket orders for the season and single shows are being accepted by Culver's Concert-Theater Series box office. Block seating reductions are available to organizations for the season, and special arrangements can be made for a theater dinner at the Culver Inn in combination with tickets for individual shows.

A tentative date of Oct. 26 has been set for the first student production of the season, a farcical tragedy "The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch." More student productions, workshops, recitals and exhibits will be added throughout the year. Admission will be free to season subscribers. Because of the establishment of a full-scale Fine Arts Department at the Academy, "A Midwinter Week's Art Festival" is being planned for Feb. 26 to March 4 in conjunction with performances of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and the Alvin Nikolais Dance Company.

Culver also sponsors the Program of Education in the Performing Arts to permit area high school students to have a broad-based exposure to cultural offerings at the Academy. Financed by the E. M. Morris Foundation, Inc., of South Bend, students will see matinees this year of the Electric Circus, the Indiana University Chamber Singers and a lecture-demonstration by the Alvin Nikolais Dance Company.

Club Members Attend Seminar

Mrs. Latham Lawson, Culver, director of the Junior Membership of Indiana Federation of Clubs, and Mrs. Charles Edgington, also of Culver, chairman of the Community Improvement Program for 13th District Federation, attended a two day regional Community Improvement Program Seminar at the University of Iowa City, September 16-17.

The two day seminar, co-sponsored by the GFWC and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation in cooperation with the National University Extension Association, is one of a series of regional seminars given around the country since 1960, at the beginning of each two year segment of the Federation's Improvement Program. It is designed to teach techniques of community development clubwomen, all of whom are officers of their district and state Federation of women's clubs. They will learn how to identify and solve community problems, carrying these skills back to their home areas to teach others who will follow training with action.

Present at all seminars will be a traveling team, representing the sponsoring clubwomen volunteers, the Foundations and the NUEA instructors. Heading team member are Mrs. Walter V. Magee, president of the Federation, and Wm. F. McCurdy president of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Leaders, trained in similar sessions at the start of the 1968-69 CIP passed their training along and were instrumental in the entering of almost 12,000 women's clubs. In the 1968-70 program as in the last, winning clubs on both state and national levels will be recognized and granted awards totalling more than $100,000 to be used for further community improvement.

Take time to dig up the facts — they'll shake your faith in the most deep-rooted prejudices.

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR, TOO

CANNES, France — I grew up in a small town, and it seems that no matter how much or how far I travel, I remain a small town reporter at heart. And so it is with some wonder that I find myself in his spectacular vacation spot, favored by the well-to-do and the movie starlets seeking attention at the annual Film Festival.

There is no festival going on at the moment, but Cannes is busy in the tag end of a glittering summer season. There are accommodations for all visitors, for here are 159 hotels with more than 4,600 rooms, in all price classes. You can stay here in splendor in the Carlton, Majestic or the Martinez, paying from $25 to $30 per day for a double with bath, or you can find excellent accommodations for $12 for DWB in the Mondial, a luxurious pension type establishment.

There are more than 850 hotels along the Riviera, including 130 with 9,000 rooms in the de luxe classification, and there are innumerable restaurants, many with flower-laden terraces overlooking the sea and serving the tasty specialties of the region.

Good For Gourmets

The food at Cannes has been superb. Imagine, if you will, a meal beginning with soupe au pistou (vegetable soup flavored with basil), salade Nicoise (tomato, radish, green pepper and beans in oil and vinegar), poutina (a local fish, boiled and then seasoned with olive oil and lemon), candied fruits for dessert, with a fine white wine from the nearby slopes.

EXQUISTE!
The people at Cannes are proud of their superb weather. "We have an average of only 11 foggy days per year," the hotel concierge informed me. And then he added with just a touch of shame, "But even that is more than at Antibes, where they have three days of fog each year, or at Menton, where there is but one foggy day each 10 years. Where else does the sun shine so beautifully?"

The Riviera-Cote d'Azur is an unbroken flower garden. Flowers are along the roads, on the streets, on the garden walls. It is easy to understand why the perfume industry of France grew in this region. Nearby is Grasse, which became the center of the perfume world back in the days of the Renaissance. More than 87,000 acres of cultivated land supply the factories of Grasse with 15,000,000 pounds of flower petals each year. Huge quantities of mimosa and roses are exported to Paris and other cities in Europe, as well. There is no more fragrant region on earth, I am sure.

Motorists on French roads could take a lesson from the experts of the Allstate Motor Club, for many of them seek to emulate the Gran Prix drivers and ignore the fundamentals of highway safety. A word of advice to those renting cars: Be extra wary of the other guy!

Columnist Sydney J. Harris, describing the "man in the muck," wisely writes: "I am brave; those less brave than I are 'lily-livered' and those more brave than I are 'hotheads.'"

"I am reasonable; those less reasonable are 'too emotional', and those more reasonable are 'too logical.'"

The Funny Papers

The U. S. Christmas postal rush was the biggest deluge of mail in the history of the world, but it was handled with delay, the Post Office Department said.

They entertained their friends with a hay and weiner roast.

—Somerville (Tenn.) Falcon
The first graders on a field trip saw a flock of birds about to migrate. Teacher explained that they were noisy and excited because they were starting out on a long journey. "What do you suppose they are saying?" she asked.

A little girl spoke up: "I imagine the mother birds are telling their children they'd better go to the bathroom first."

"Stories about Texas wealth aren't all true," Charlie Callas said, "— but it's the only place I ever saw a Salvation Army band with a string section."

DID YOU KNOW?

A 420 GOLD PIECE WOULDN'T PASS AS MONEY WHEN A TRAVELER IN THE SAHARA DESERT TRIED TO BUY A CAMEL BLANKET BACK IN THE 20'S... BUT THE BEDOUIN TRADER QUICKLY SETTLED FOR AN AMERICAN TRAVELER'S CHECK! UNIVERALLY ACCEPTED EVEN BACK THEN, TRAVELER'S CHECKS HAVE BEEN IN USE SINCE 1891.

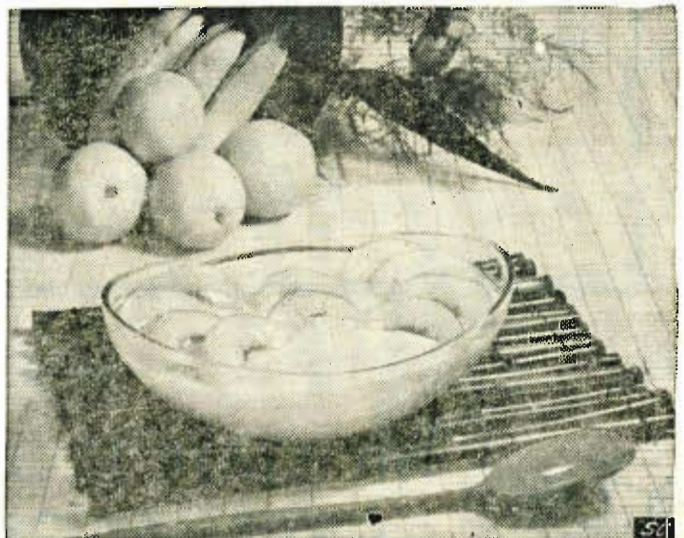

SOME OF THOSE NICKELS IN YOUR POCKET MAY NOT HAVE A BIT OF NICKEL IN THEM. THE METAL WAS ELIMINATED FROM FIVE-CENT COINS MINTED DURING THE WAR YEARS, 1942 TO THE END OF 1945. THE "NICKEL" CONTAINED 35% SILVER INSTEAD... NICKEL BEING MORE PRECIOUS THAN SILVER IN THE WAR ECONOMY!

WHEN YOU DRIVE UP TO ONE BANK IN CONNECTICUT YOU'RE MET BY "THE WINDSHIELD WIPER" — A YOUNG FELLOW IN A GREEN SWEATER WHO OFFERS TO CLEAN YOUR CAR WINDOWS, AS A FREE BANK SERVICE, WHILE YOU'RE INSIDE. ON HIS SWEATER IS THE MOTTO: "MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING!"

Cool And Peachy

Most women serve dessert to their families every night, according to a recent menu study. Busy women often rely on ready-prepared desserts, but when they "make" something they want it to look really special. Here's a fluffy Jell-O Gelatin dessert that's ideal for busy homemakers—it's both rich-tasting and refreshing, and so pretty that it belies the fact that it's very quick to make.

Peach Glacé Orange Pudding

- 1 package (12 oz.) frozen sliced peaches, thawed
- 1 package (3 oz.) orange flavor gelatin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/4 cups boiling water
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Dash of nutmeg
- 1 envelope whipped topping mix

Drain peaches, reserving 1/2 cup of the syrup. Dissolve gelatin, sugar, and salt in boiling water. Add lemon juice and measured syrup. Combine 1/2 cup gelatin mixture with the peaches and nutmeg; set aside at room temperature. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until very thick. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package; blend in thickened gelatin mixture. Spoon into a serving dish. Chill until set but not firm. Spoon peaches with gelatin over top; chill until firm. Makes 4 1/2 cups or 6 servings.

CHAMPS OF HAMLET GOLF TITLE
Henry Willhite, 403 South Plymouth St, Culver, with his partner, postmaster Tom Brown, of Hamlet, have just captured their third golf title. They won eleven of 16 matches for the total of 43 points. The match was played at Hamlet over the past sixteen week ending September 12.
In tournament match play, this pair have played together the past four years. They received trophies for winning consecutively in '65 and '68, and barely missed running again last year, losing a heartbreaker in the final match.
Congratulations and good luck to Henry and Tom in '69!
Many a collegian's immediate goal seems to be his ambition to make a hit with the misses.
