Local Children To Trick Or Treat For UNICEF October 25th

Young people of the Culver area will again participate in the "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF Halloween Program on Friday, October 25, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. with headquarters in the Bank Lounge.

This is a fine opportunity for youngsters themselves to combine their traditional fun with a constructive rewarding activity all their own — "the world's greatest effort by children to help children."

Some idea of what our boys and girls will accomplish, with our community's generous co-operation, may be found in the fact that for every coin collected on Halloween, UNICEF provides help and hope for sick and hungry children. Through UNICEF, your coins can go far; a nickel gives the penicillin to cure two children of yaws, (a disease which cripples their bones); a dime provides the antibiotics to save a young trachoma victim from blindness; a quarter supplies the vaccine to protect 20 children from tuberculosis. Every day UNICEF's jeeps, trucks and other vehicles travel roughly the distance of 30 times around the world, or four times the distance from the earth to the moon. . . . If they held hands at the Equator, the children and mothers helped by UNICEF each year would circle the world. . . . The dried milk shipped by UNICEF would fill the United Nations building more than 25 times.

As plans for the UNICEF Halloween program get underway under the auspices of The Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club, one more figure deserves to be kept in mind, in this age of space conquest and technical progress, 30,000 children die of hunger and disease every day. Our own children's life-saving Trick or Treat program deserves wholehearted encouragement and support.

The children collecting for UNICEF will be identified by the can with the orange and black UNICEF sticker which they will be carrying. As the majority of these conscientious civic-minded children who participate are in grade school, it would be a great help if the residents of Culver would turn on their porch lights for these two hours to help brighten their way on UNICEF night.

Anyone who is not contacted and would like to contribute to UNICEF, please call Mrs. William Snyder at 842-2574.

Citation - Tribute To Cary Cummins

Citation tribute to the late Gary Cummins, Culver Community School Maintenance Supervisor and Clerk of the new High School building construction, was contained in a formal Joint Resolution by the Board of School Trustees and Building Corporation Directors.

Rites for Mr. Cummins were conducted at Culver Monday. The memorial tribute to "Gary" pointed out "During a busy and fruitful life his record was punctuated with broad civic and vocational interests. His love of family, his patient understanding, and personal dignity are attributes bequeathed to those who knew him."

The resolution went on to point out, "Words come hard in trying to properly appraise the life's imprint of a man whose work was his love and aspiration."

"Vocationally, Gary's interest was construction, as a sportsman it was fishing. He was a craftsman's craftsman, and a top notch fisherman."

"It can be said that he gave his work everything he had. His fight for life was like his working; he gave it the same spirited battle all the way."

"Self-taught, his forte was work and work well done. Th he gave of himself unsparingly, this we know quite well. played a master role in the construction of our new High School."

"It is doubtful that one will ever be able to access fully his personal contributions to our school. His devotion and his interest will probably never be fully appreciated by the citizens-taxpayers of this school district."

"Though gone, his work and leadership will be felt in the over-all school program here for many years."

In the unanimous action approving of the Joint Resolution it was pointed out that "We feel sure that members of the school staff, former School Board Members, architectural firm personnel, the attorney, prime contractors and many friends would want to join in the tribute."

ONE OF THE MOST UN-usual and finally exciting world series in years unfolded the past couple of weeks and had what most baseball fans would agree, a most unusual result. The cast was not so surprising as many had predicted before the season started that Detroit and St. Louis would be the participants. The Cardinals, last year's world's champions, were the favorites before the series started as they had compiled a tremendous record of pitching this past season with their big ace, Bob Gibson, breaking records in earned run average as he paced the National league champs all year.

THE SERIES WAS BUILT up as a tremendous pitching dual between Gibson and the Tigers' outstanding pitcher, Danny McLain. McLain, who had just come off a 31 win season also had a fine earned run average of under 2.00 but did have the luck to have a lot more runs scored behind him that had Gibson during the year. It was figured that McLain and Gibson would meet head on three times if the series went the full route of seven games. After this dual, with them considered, it thinned down to the Cardinals pitching, speed and defense against the Detroit hitting and power.

THINGS STARTED ALL FOR St. Louis. Gibson wasted no time in getting the Cards into a stronger favorites role. He only set a World Series record by striking out 17 of the 'ence-busting' Tigers in the opening game. He administered the white-wash brush and won 4-0 in this game. In doing this, McLain impressed no one and the talk really began to pop up about a rout for the Cards. However, come game two, Mickey Lolich, the on again off again left hander of the Tigers, had his fun from the mound and behind three Tiger homers the Detroit crew came out on top 8-1 to move to the better hitting park all even at 1-1.

THE CARDS TOOK A PAGE from the Tigers book in game three, using the long ball to grab a 2-1 game lead as they blasted two three run homers and moved to a 7-3 win in this contest. To add to the Detroit woes, Earl Wilson, the pitcher that Mayo Smith figured was the type to beat the Cards had a recurrence of an injury to his leg that was going to make him doubtful for the balance of the series.

GAME FOUR PITTED THE two aces again, Gibson and McLain. In this one, a game that received a lot of comment due to the weather it was played in the Cards got off to a fast start and moved from a 2-0 to 4-0 lead real early against McLain. After a long rain delay, it was resumed in the rain and Gibson pitched another good one in winning handily 10-1, with Jim Northrup's homer being the only run off the fire-balling right-hander.

THIS REALLY PUT THE Tigers' backs to the wall. Down three games to one, they bravely came from behind in game four; another Lolich pitching performance, to erase a 3-2 lead and win 5-3. The big seventh inning that made the difference was to be the turning point in the series.

THE SCENE SHIFTED BACK to St. Louis and this time it was McLain against someone besides Gibson as Smith decided to use his ace righthander due to Wilson's bad leg. Everything worked out right and the awesome Tiger power and McLain's pitching made a complete farce of the game as the Tigers won very easily 13-1, putting their names in the record book several times in this game. This also had a rain delay, but McLain was able to go nine innings and finally gave up the only run in the ninth with two out.

THEN CAME THE CRUCIAL seventh and final game. It was again Gibson going on three days rest again and for the Tigers, the only choice they had, Lolich, on just two days rest. Lolich, who seemed to gain a world of confidence by winning twice showed no visible effects of being tired and the two pitching stars set out on a merry pitching dual.

THE TURNING POINT IN this game had to come in the sixth inning. With the Cardinals at bat and no one out, Lou Brock, the Cards' offensive star, started the ball rolling by getting a hit to left field. This tied the series record for hits and he stood on first needing only to steal one more base to set a world series record. However, the fast moving possibly slow thinking Brock, took too much of a lead off first and Lolich picked him off. This really hurt the Cards chances as the meat of the order was waiting to bat. Then to add more insult to injury, after Javier went out, Curt Flood singled and wham, Lolich picked him off also to really put a mental block on the Cards.

GETTING NEW LIFE FROM this turn of events, after two were out in the seventh, Norm Cash and Willie Horton got back-to-back singles. Jim Northrup then came up and drilled a drive to left of center and Curt Flood, rated by many as the best center fielder in baseball and certainly the one who plays the deepest, started in, realized the ball had more of a charge than he first thought, cut back and to his right, but couldn't catch up with the ball. A triple resulted and Bill Freehan followed with a double to push the Tigers to a 3-0 lead late in this final game.

EACH TEAM TALLIED ONE more run, but for all practical purposes, the series was over. Lolich continued to get the outs with the exception of Mike Shannon's home run, with two out in the ninth inning. After McCarver popped out, the usual celebration started. A happy bunch of Tigers had come up with one of the most exciting series wins of all times.

PHRASES CAN BE USED SO much they seem to wear out and "comeback" is the one used all year long with Detroit. However, it has to be used just once more as their comeback in the series has to rate in history with one of the greatest of all times. To the champs, we say congratulations. Next year can be something completely different. With baseball no longer just two leagues and one winner in each, the expansion could place different teams that the winningest in each league in the World Series.

FOR INSTANCE THIS YEAR a playoff would have been held between Detroit and Oakland for the American League title and between the Cards and Giants in the National league. It would have left a little something to be desired had the Oakland A's and Giants been battling the 1968 series out! Baseball is big business and expanding. A move had to be made one way, but it appears now that the most logical thing to be done will have to be three leagues of eight teams instead of two 12 team circuits. The World Series has always been greatly anticipated before, but with the playoff's now coming into a reality, it could place a team of much less caliber in the series on the basis of one "Hot" best of five series. Only time will tell how this will be accepted.

Her headpiece was of matching lace and pearls which formed a shadow crown and held ballerina length imported veiling. She carried a bouquet of white mums and yellow roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Fred Hohman, sister-in-law of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Holzer, Sault Ste Marie, Mich., and Miss Janice Neidlinger, Culver. Their gowns were of russet Saki and lace with high collars and short sleeves trimmed in lace. The A-line gowns held attached trains with lace bows at the necklines. The attendants wore matching headpieces and carried baskets of mums in autumn colors with ivy.

The candle lighters were Miss Pat Lowry and Mr. Evan Lowry, sister and brother of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. Andy Lowry, brother of the bridegroom, and the groomsmen were Mr. Stu Lowry, also a brother of the bridegroom and Lt. George Christensen, Racine, Wis. The usher was Mr. Fred Hohman, brother of the bride.

Wrestling Show Slated At Horse Palace

Five wrestling matches are slated for the Horse Palace arena this Saturday night according to Homer Miller, Match maker.

The feature event will pit the Negro Tag Team Champions Chunky Washington and Tim Tim Hampton against two local favorites Freddy Rogers Jr., and Big Moose Droche.

Considerable interest is being shown in a Texas Death Match between favorite Johnny Gilbert of Michigan City and the villain of villains Gentleman Jack Shepard of Medaryville. These two grapplers have been working up a storm for the past two sessions and have come to the conclusion that the ring isn't big enough to hold both of them. This match will be a no time limit with the winner being the one that can walk away.

Other contest will see Billy Howard of Milwaukee against Bobby Post of Peoria; the Mexican Champ Porfirio Longiana against Kurt Stroheim of Munich Germany; and Cowboy Russell against Dick Jacks.

The promoter, Homer Miller stated that this series of wrestling is one of the most ambitious that he has ever slated for Hoosier audiences. He indicated that even bigger names will be presented at the Horse Palace since the public has responded so enthusiastically at the gate. All matches are under the sanction of the State Athletic commission. The program will start at 8 p.m.

Sgt. Wallace And Gen. LeMay

The decision of General Curtis E. LeMay to be the Vice-Presidential candidate on the Wallace ticket has been grossly misinterpreted — and misrepresented — by influential press media, purposely and for partisan reasons. Yuppies, hippies and raft-card burners now wave "Hitler" signs at Wallace rallies, seeking to equate the one-time Air Corps Sergeant with the little Corporal LeMay with the German Generals.

The fact is, of course, that the vast majority of those who support Wallace are hard-working men and women who are raising families, paying taxes, and trying to be loyal, law-abiding citizens. If they have not thought through the LeMay candidacy as thoroughly as the General did, it is only because they are not as well versed in the ways of government and politics as he is, as a result of his long experience in Washington.

General LeMay knows, for example, that his name will not even appear on the ballot in most states. By the time he accepted the designated it was already too late to remove the name of Marvin Griffin. Wallace's "stand-in" candidate.

Further, General LeMay knows that George Wallace could not possibly get a legislative program through the Congress of the United States for the simple reason that four weeks of campaigning than would ever conceivably read his two books.

General LeMay is a realist. We hope that the voters will be equally realistic on election day, and vote for a candidate who, if elected, can bring about much-needed changes in direction.

Mr. Wallace has no members of his party in the House of Senate to sponsor legislation. The General has had practical experience with the committees of the Congress. He knows that no President could perform his duties without a following in the Congress, and a working relationship with some combination of Senators and Congressmen.

General LeMay also knows that no minority party, with its base primarily in one section of the country, can unify and lead the people of our nation out of the monetary and military morass that demoralizes the country.

Why then, knowing these things, did General LeMay lend his name and prestige to the Wallace campaign in these final four weeks? Because he wants to be heard. General LeMay is genuinely alarmed about the military and defense posture of our country. Almost four years ago he stepped down as Air Force Chief of Staff in protest against the Johnson-McNamara policies. He has authored two impassioned books seeking to alert the Congress and the people to our military weaknesses. His most recent book bears the title, "America Is In Danger". The General believes that to be true.

He believed that he could talk with more Americans in

CULVER COMMENTS

Don't expect this paragraph to be amusing—I'm not amused but along with many other parents in Culver, I'm just plain mad. Hints and innuendoes concerning the use of marijuana and narcotics by our young people are not enough. We want facts. The police dept. reports investigations into the matter but at the same time we read that all persons questioned were released. If they were released it can only mean that they were not found in possession of any "pot" or drugs. Just where does this leave the people of Culver? Do we really have this threat here? If so, why can't we have the plain, ordinary facts? It's too late for the usual excuse that too much information made public will hinder the investigation. Parents are worried and alarmed and I repeat - we - want - facts, if indeed there are any.

WALL STREET OR BUST —
If you have been keeping abreast of then ews, all the excitement down in the bosom of New York's financial district seems largely overblown. If this is the shape of things to come, we wonder where it will all end. Any of you who read this column can figure out what I had in mind, but my cohort says NO — we had enough trouble with the mushroom contest.

— C C —

CAMPAIGN COMMENTS —
All of our presidential candidates are backing the idea that the federal government has too much power over all our lives. I agree. But they favor putting more power in the hands of local officials. If that happens, the next place you will read this column is in the Kangaroo-Picayune.

— C C —

We all wish a speedy recovery to George Becker and Esther Powers. As much as I enjoy kidding the Town Board, I have great respect for these two people.

— C C —

Having heard some little hints that we need more news in this paper and seeing flames and smoke belching forth Monday night, I grabbed my notebook and dashed to the scene. When I say dashed, I'm not kidding. My husband was not home hence no car.

When I arrived, guess what. The owner with the aid of our capable fire dept. was burning an old house deliberately. I don't know who had the red dyes face — the watchers flushed by the heat or me standing there clutching my notebook and pencil. I'm relieved that I wasn't a "real fire" but I war all of you to know that we d try to find news for you.

— C C —

If, by any chance you haven't driven by our new school a night — do so. The lighting not only illuminates the entire grounds but is really a very attractive sight.

— C C —

Culver is very lucky that no one was mangled while our sto light was out of commission. I had two near misses crossing the street, but because of this column, it's hard to tell whether they were on purpose or accidental.

Culver Community School Board News

A Resolution approving 1968-69 changes in the Board of School Trustees Book of Policies, information and regulation, was adopted this month by the Culver Community School Corporation Board.

Changes involve calendar negotiated agreement change as approved by Teachers-Board in May, 1968, revised organization guidelines, salary schedule, and other minor changes.

October's Board action has also involved contractual arrangements with Robert Porter, Maintenance; Mrs. M. Dean McClure, Matron; and Charles Cook, Bus Shuttle Route, Special School Children.

A report on the progress at the new high school shows that Library equipment, additional with Reading Lab and Art Room dining room equipment, together equipment is being installed. Work on the Auditorium, Gymnasium, locker rooms and shops is progressing rather rapidly.

Equipment delivery and installation is hampering completion and full occupancy of the Industrial Arts and Agricultural shop areas. Outside work remaining includes roof flashing work, planting of shrubs, sowing grass, installation of bumper guards in parking area and installation of signs.

The Board is considering installation of automated water treatment equipment. The detaners for the plaque in the new school have been approved.

In other building maintenancerehabilitation projects, the School Trustees have activated or are considering replacement of breeching pipes and repainting of Gym at the Aubbeenaubee School; an evaluation by Architect-Engineer of roof-flooring at Monterey. The rehabilitation of the heating plant at the Monterey School was carried out this summer.

A report of Johnson Service Company on the ventilation of the old Culver high school building is being reviewed. A new eight inch tile to the School Street sewer, Culver Elementary building has been replaced.

A proposal for removal of dead limbs from trees, Culver Elementary Junior High building is being considered.

An evening bus route for use of students at the unified High School who are involved in extra curricular athletic activities started this month. The bus route which leaves the Junior High School at 5:15 p.m., and the High School at 5:30 p.m., goes directly, via Road 10, to Ced White's Palace, Bas Lake, then south to Ora, east, stopping at the Monterey School and then at the Aubbeenaubee School at Leiters Ford.

The Board will consider bids on two used buses at the regular November 5th Meeting. In the transportation report it was pointed out that seven of twenty-four buses which had minor adjustments - repairs reported during the annual Bus Inspection, September 21, 1968, have been approved in reinspection tests.

Approval of the use of the old Culver Gym for a Culver Jaycee dance, October 26, and the Cafeteria for a Benefit Lions Club Pancake Supper was granted.

A temporary loan arrangement with The State Exchange Bank for a sixty-five day and a thirty day loan of $40,000 each has been made.

Action of the State General Commission on Education on transfer appeals has been received that the transfer for Susan Starke, Grade 11, daughter of Rudolph L. Starke, to Knox was approved and those of Susan Gail Lewis, Grade 9, Debora J. Lewis, Grade 6, and Jennifer Lynn Lewis, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. LeLand C. Lewis, to Knox were denied.

CHS Students Hold Elections

On the first Tuesday after the first Monday of October, the students of the Culver Community High School elected their class officers. The election was conducted under the election laws of Indiana and was held by the senior civics classes of the school as directed by the instructors of the Social Studies department.

Students circulated petitions which they had to get a percent of the registered members of their class to sign. Forty-eight such petitions were submitted. The most petitions excepted for president were from the sophomore class where six people were candidates. Only one petition was submitted for senior class secretary.

One-hundred twenty freshman, 118 sophomore, 126 juniors and 109 seniors voted. This was out of 486 registered voters or a total of 91 percent which is well above the national average of around 65 percent in the general elections.

Elected officers were as follows:

Freshman: President, Ned Overmyer; V. Pres., Karen Nelson; Sec'y, Becky Taiclet; Treas., Denise Kline.

Junior: President, Fred May; V. Pres., David Parker; Sec'y, Connie Morrison; Treas., Joy Borg.

Senior: President, John Krieg; V. Pres., Kerry Haenes; Sec'y, Norma Davis; Treas., Linda Shirrell.

In the case of the senior class treasurer, four candidates had been on the ballot. Two of these finished in a tie. They were Kathy Tasch and Linda Shirrell. Miss Shirrell won the office in a special run off election between these two candidates.

Only ten ballots had to be discarded as illegally cast votes. 2SJRF2:00re;homh Sop o 1:9oH

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing.
It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

Could be you feel a little edgy, or maybe cross. You might even have what we call hot flashes and feel sad and slightly off-balance.

Whatever you feel, we have something for the day you need a little comforting. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients that work to give you a better sense of well-being.

With an old-fashioned problem like this, couldn't you take an old-fashioned medicine?

"Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

This passage from Paul's second letter to the Corinthians is part of the Responsive Reading of this week's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Doctrine of Atonement." It will be read in all of the denominational churches this Sunday. In First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth, the Sunday service begins at 10 a.m.

One of the related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did his work aight not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals, — to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility."

Methodists Begin 100th Anniversary Celebration

Rev. Kendall Sands returned to the pulpit of the Culver United Methodist Church Sunday, October 13. This was the first event in the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the Methodist Church in Culver. The topic of his sermon was "A Faith to Remember."

Sunday afternoon from three to five o'clock, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall honoring Rev. and Mrs. Sands and their daughter, Lorie Jo. Tea and punch were served from a table centered with a fall bouquet with shades of gold mums. Approximately 200 people attended to greet the popular minister and his family.

Saturday evening they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Osborn and they were entertained at dinner Sunday by Rev. and Mrs. Carl Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Boswell are co-chairmen of the Centennial Committee, and are planning a series of special events to commemorate the Anniversary Year.

The next two events scheduled will be Sunday, November 17, which has been designated Centennial Sunday and Sunday, December 1, which will be the day for the dedication of the church. This event will mark the complete payment of the mortgage indebtedness on the buildings.

GRACE WOMEN'S GUILD MEETS

The Women's Guild of the Grace United Church of Christ met Oct. 10 in the social room of the church. Mrs. Evert Hoessel, president, opened the meeting by reading a poem "Beauty of Arms."

It was announced that several members plan to attend the fall meeting of the Northwest Association on Oct. 15 at the Zion Church in Waukegan.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to those having October birthdays.

Miss Verda Romig introduced Mrs. Ashbury Talley and Mrs. Richard Flagg. Mrs. Talley showed a collection of Japanese items. Mrs. Flagg demonstrated floral arrangements.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee consisting of Miss Margaret Swanson, Chairman, assisted by Miss Romig, Mrs. Lillie Buswell, Mrs. Errol Culter and Mrs. Edgar Shaw.

Quizmaster: "How many successful jumps must a paratrooper make before he graduates?"

Contestant: "All of them!"

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR, TOO

It's about time: To do some serious thinking about adequate driver licensing laws.

The right to drive isn't one of those guaranteed by the Constitution, even though lots of folks seem to think it is . . . it should be reserved for those who are physically and mentally equipped for this dangerous, hazardous endeavor, the Allstate Motor Club declares.

What's Ahead

Serious storm damage in Southeast U. S. Hollywood star gravely injured in auto crash.

On The Beam: Punctuality is guessing how late the other guy will be . . . a doctor can cure an ill; it's the doctor's bills that hurt!

— Bob Boehm

Beautiful Ireland

Dublin, Ireland: The hill-sides between Waterford and Dublin have been painted with reds and yellows and oranges as autumn has come to the Emerald Isle . . . but the meadows remain vividly green, as they will during the winter months, too, since the Irish climate is mild and snow is rare, indeed.

Fall is a good time to visit Ireland, for tourists are not as numerous, hotels are less crowded, and the rural roads are a delight.

Don't plan to average more than 35 miles an hour if you are driving, however, for most roads aren't designed for high speed travel, and there are frequent curves and many, many towns to go through. And this in itself is a delight, for you aren't on some antiseptic freeway bypassing the homes and businesses. Instead, you really see the towns and cities. And, if you're lucky as I was on a motor trip, you may come into a town when a monthly sheep and horse auction is being held, and all the farmers and their families are on hand for the colorful occasion. You won't want to hurry through such a town, I assure you.

Fall plan service of Irish International Airlines, both to Dublin and Shannon, remains convenient, rental cars are easily available, and the warmth and friendliness of the Irish people will make your visit a delight, 'tis sure.

— Lenore Lee

Accolades

To "The Two of Us", a fine movie, well worth seeing . . . to the fellow who invented Boston clam chowder, which I much prefer to the Manhattan variety . . . to the Seattle Metropolitan sewage disposal program, which in a brief time has averted the "death" of Lake Washington and which is allowing this beautiful lake to clear up and become a priceless recreation resource! . . . to Judith Anne Ford of Belvidere, Ill., the new Miss America, such an attractive, impressive miss from a little town not far from my home in Illinois. She's darling, indeed!

Herb Caen in the San Francisco Chronicle says that being addicted to puns, he salutes Trudie Clow's Country Store in Acampo for "Should auld and quaint things be forgot?"

Have you insurance to value on your home? Many people neglect to increase their coverage when buying new possessions, or when home values rise, the Allstate Homeowners Service reports. Make sure your protection is sufficient in case of fire or other disaster strikes!

Purely personal: The razor clam on the coast of Washington (and some in Oregon) makes the tastiest chowder of any clam . . . and the "nest oysters I've ever tasted are the tiny Olympias, from Puget Sound and hardly bigger than your thumbnail . . . lawns often are damaged by being cut too short . . . I leave mine at 1½ to 2 inches and find it does much better than when cropped closer . . . I agree with Wilfred Beaver, who says that many men really aren't growing taller — short skirts just make some of us look longer. . .

My Favorite Jokes

What has 18 legs, feathers and goes "Bah, bah, bah?" Nine Indians singing the Whiffenpoof Song . . . "How can I improve the appearance of our home," a lady asked the interior decorator. "Stay out of it," he told her.
