Hot And Cold Cavaliers Win One - Lose One

Culver's hot and cold Cavaliers appeared well set in their winning ways Friday night when they easily dominated Pioneer by a comfortable 78 to 62 margin. There was little doubt of final outcome after the first minute of play when Rick Pugh led off with a 2 pointer, quickly followed by Szponar and Bauer.

Pioneer wasn't to be counted out quite this easily and came back to cut Culver's 14-point first quarter lead back 8 points at the half time break . . . the mostly to Coach Huffman's substituting freely.

Culver's starting five quickly established another commanding lead in the 3rd quarter which their reserves did a fine job of maintaining for the balance of the game. Larry Wonder was game high or the Pioneers, while Cavaliers broke nine men into the scoring.

The Cavaliers B-Team made it a perfect night by soundly trouncing the baby Pioneers 40-30.

Winamac Surprises Cavaliers

Saturday night at Winamac was a different story when the Cavaliers were upset 81-71. May, Hopkins, and Nett of the home team shot unerringly over Culver's zone for 22, 20 and 20 points respectively. The Warriors served notice of things to come early in the game, by hitting ten out of their first 14 attempts from the field and shooting an incredible 80% first half.

Even with stalwarts, Wamsley Szponar and Bauer, benched with fouls, the Cavaliers refused to throw in the towel. Culver fans were heartened considerably by their team rallying around persistent Pugh and battling within three points of Winamac three minutes before the final buzzer, but the 8 point lead was too great for them to overcome.

Pugh was game high with 25 and Szponar and Haenes came thru with 22 and 13.

Winamac made it a complete sweep by blasting the Cavalier's B-Team 61 to 48 in the opener.

Culver hits the road for a pair of tough tests with Mentone at 6:45 Friday then takes on their traditional county rival Plymouth at 6:30 p.m. Saturday night on the Pilgrims home hardwood, the Pilgrims home hardwood.

Steve McCombs, son of Mr. and Mrs. McCombs, has been named by Congressman John Brademas as one of ten nominees from the Third Congressional District to compete for admission to the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado.

The selection was made on the basis of a special civil service examination given last fall. One appointment is open this year to residents of the Third District.

Scholarship, leadership potential, character, evidence of outstanding capabilities and personal attributes are considered by the officials of the Academy in the final selection for appointment.

Missing!!! One Postmaster

Names of several area residents are included in the latest list of people whose Internal Revenue Service refund checks were returned by the post office as undeliverable. Listed among the names was the name of our very own postmaster, Wayne Mattox.

It's hard to understand how the Internal Revenue Service can be so fussy and then declare that a refund check to Mr. Mattox is undeliverable.

The Internal Revenue may be able to find a postmaster for refund but if he owed them money that would be a different story.

Bureaucracy . . . it's wonderful.

We're Sorry!

We want to apologize for some papers folded very poorly last week as the folder on our press was out of time. This has been corrected and we hope no one has too open pages this week to read an article.

McCombs And Strang Serve As Pages For Bowen

A day at the statehouse was enjoyed Monday as two local youths, Carl Strang and Steve McCombs, seniors at Culver Community High School, served as personal pages for representative Otis R. Bowen, speaker of the house.

Steve, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCombs, and Carl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strang, were present for the day at 9 a.m. in the morning. Prior to the day's activities, they were given tours of the premises and instructions as to what would be expected of them during the day. They were also given certificates in acknowledgement of their services.

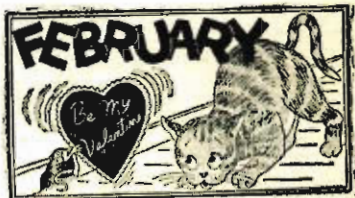

There were 80 pages for all over the state present for that day's actions. This is a privilege that any young person at least 14 years of age can attain by writing a request to Speaker of the House Otis R. Bowen, Statehouse, Indianapolis, Ind.

HAMBURGER WILL 'GO' IN MEATLESS FUTURE

ON THE MENU of the future: alfalfa extract puree over rice, mashed potatoes with sorghum-sudan gravy, salad and soybean pudding. The only thing missing will be meat. Now a major source of protein, meat is becoming too expensive, in more ways than one, says a University of Wisconsin biochemist. Only 8 to 20 per cent of the protein fed to animals is recoverable as animal protein for human consumption. With as much as 92 per cent of plant protein going unrecovered, the cost of feeding meat to the world will some day — perhaps, soon — simply be too great.

HYPNOSIS for entertainment purposes is potentially dangerous to the subject and should be made illegal, say two University of Chicago researchers who have studied and used hypnosis extensively for clinical and experimental purposes. They say that there are certain people who should not be hypnotized, mainly the pre-psychotic, because the psychotic or pre-psychotic is in danger of being overwhelmed by his unconscious. Therefore, it is necessary that the hypnotist be somebody who knows something about medicine, psychiatry and psychology. The researchers say stage hypnosis should be banned by law.

THE SCIENTIFIC STUDY of earthquakes is comparatively new, reports the U.S. Geological Survey. Until the 18th century few factual descriptions of earthquakes were recorded and the natural cause of them was little understood. Many people believed that they were a massive punishment and a warning to sinners. An Italian scholar in the 16th century suggested that statues of Mercury and Saturn be placed on building walls to protect against earthquakes. Those who sought natural explanations often reached fanciful conclusion; one popular theory was that earthquakes were caused by air rushing out of caverns deep in the earth's interior.

VINYL FLOOR coverings that can be poured or sprayed onto a surface are being used for a variety of purposes, reports Revolax Systems, South Monte, Calif. A growing application is covering pool and patio decks, where they provide a waterproof, non-skid vinyl carpet. The nonslip surfaces also are used on ship decks.

YOU MAY SOON BE SKIING all year round. Chemical & Engineering News reports that a plastic snow has been developed that can be left "glued to the ground" from one season to the next.

PUNISHMENT MUST FIT THE CRIME

THE USE OF PUNISHMENT to try to modify behavior sometimes is self-defeating, says a University of Chicago psychologist. He says that when punishment either is too severe or not clearly related to its cause the corrective value is lost altogether. If punishment is to be used effectively, he said, its purpose must be not only to suppress a specific unwanted pattern of behavior but also to provide the same or greater "reward" for the desired behavior pattern.

INJURIES to motorcycleists could be reduced substantially by slight modifications to the vehicles, reports an orthopedic surgeon. He says that the majority of cycle injuries involve the lower limbs. His research also reveals an injury unique to cyclists known as "motorcycle burn." The injury is a first- or second-degree burn just above the ankle caused by direct contact with the exhaust pipe. Most of the persons affected are female — probably because they often are passengers and wear less clothing than males. To combat injuries to the lower limbs he suggests the use of guards. He also recommends moving the exhaust pipe under the rear fender.

THERE IS NO OBVIOUS "fit" between the northwest coast of Africa and the east coast of North America, reports a group of Columbia University scientists. Such a fit is suggested in the theory of continental drift. The researchers say that the continental margins on either side of the Atlantic ocean are not symmetrical, as might be expected if the two continents were once joined in a single land mass. The theory of continental drift holds that the geological forces broke such a mass and drive its pieces apart to form the continents as we know them today.

SELECTING A COMPANY NAME is harder than naming a new baby. While John Jones may not object to another of the same name down the street, two "Acme Widgets" companies is one too many. One firm used a computer in its search for a new name. The electronic brain turned 22 consonants and vowels into 37,000 combinations of four and five letters, including a lot of unpronounceable new "word". The company finally selected components syllables from three of the many industries it serves — chemicals, metals and electronics — for its name, Chemetron Corporation.

TEMPERATURES in deep mines and oil wells usually rise with increasing depth. Popularly, it has been assumed that our planet had a fiery origin and that a shallow, cooled, crustal layer encases a molten core. Most geologists, however, now believe that the Earth was not hot when it first formed, says the U.S. Department of Interior. Evidence suggests, instead, that natural radioactivity, present in small amounts in all rocks, has gradually heated our planet and that heat is still being produced.

Fishing Records Set In State

Once again a few "Hoosier" anglers have proved their fishing abilities by shattering existing records in the official listing of Indiana Record Fish.

Each year it is felt that existing records will not be surpassed. But each year the Indiana Department of Natural Resources is surprised and pleased to receive entries of larger fish.

The most spectacular fish (and a new record) was an 11 pound, 11 ounce Largemouth Bass, caught by Curt Reynolds of Ferdinand. The bass topped the previous record by 1 pound and 5 ounces.

Chester Janik of Hammond more than doubled the Steelhead record of 7 pounds with a 14 pound 10 ounce catch in Lake Michigan.

A new category was posted with the advent of Coho Salmon in Indiana's waters. A coho entered by Toby Bocanegra of Gary established the record of 14 pounds and 1/2 ounce for this species.

Frank Coussens, Jr., of South Bend captured the honors in the Brown Trout division and shattered a record of 7 pounds and 4 ounces that had stood since 1963. His fish weighed in at 10 pounds 9 ounces.

EXCHANGE VOWS AT BURR OAK

The Burr Oak Church of God was the scene on Saturday, January 25 of the marriage of Miss Peggy Herr of Culver and Taylor Ken Hollingsworth of Elkhart. The two o'clock afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ellsworth Boutson. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Davis of Culver provided the nuptial music for the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Herr, Route 2, Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hollingsworth, 509 Sunset Avenue, Elkhart, are the parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown featuring an Empire waistline with a silk linen skirt and lace bodice with a modified scoop neckline. The sleeves formed bridal points at the wrist. The hem and detachable train of silk linen were designed with two tiers of lace. The silk illusion fingertip veil was held in place by a crystal crown headpiece.

Attending the bride were Susan Hogan, Rosie Weiriga, and Linda Herr. The attendants all wore floor length gowns fashioned of emerald green velvet with princess style lines. Their headpieces were white fur pillboxes and they carried fur muffs centered with pink camillias.

Kathy Shel was the flower girl and she wore an emerald green velvet A-line gown with white lace collar and cuffs. She carried a basket of pink daisies.

Best man was Tom Hall and the ushers were Mike Pence Thivinen, Ed Sawyer and Gary Herr, brother of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church's social rooms.

The bride wore a cranberry red wool, princess style dress with white lace collar and cuffs and a white orchid corsage for the wedding trip to Wisconsin. The newlyweds are now at home in Hammond, Indiana.

Mrs. Hollingsworth is a graduate of Culver High School and Purdue University. She studied at Strasburg University in Strasburg, France for a year majoring in French. Mr. Hollingsworth is a graduate of Elkhart High School and Purdue University. He is employed by I.B.M., Chicago.

Mahler — Hanna

Miss Paulette Diane Mahler and Richard Barrett Hanna exchanged vows in a candlelight double-ring ceremony on Saturday, January 11 in the Emmanuel United Church at Culver. The Rev. Givens officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mahler of Monterey. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers of Bremen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon organza over taffeta. The Empire bodice; long tapered sleeves, high sculptured neckline, formed with chantilly lace applique and sprinkled with seed pearls. The A-line skirt attached to a full cathedral length train held at mid-back with a self bow. Lace applique trimmed the bodice, sleeves, skirt and train. She wore a full shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Virginia Shirley of Bremen, sister of the bride and Miss Donna Langebaum of Monterey was the bridesmaid. Tiers of pleated ruching highlighted the sheer elbow length sleeves of the attendants' floor length gowns. They both were fashioned of pink chiffon over taffeta with high scoop neckline and sheath skirts. A band of satin encircled the empire waist line and formed a bow with streamers at the back. They carried matching bouquets of white carnations with pink rose buds with long mint green streamers.

The Subject Is Wrong!

Despite the fact that many could care less, one of the great assets of television is simply the fact that one can not only hear the news, but see filmed reports of it happening. Through the modern miracles of TV, this can happen in a matter of minutes, a day later, recall the items of the past, but most of all, let you see what is going on as well as hearing or reading about it.

However, last week, one of the more disgusting pieces of news coverage flooded the local television picture that really let the public see what was going on . . . and has caused a lot of comment.

This concerns the trouble at Notre Dame last week end. Not only did we get a chance to hear about trouble on a college campus first hand, but we were able to see many involved in the trouble which was enough to make one sick.

It also raised one question . . . "Since when has a course in pornography been necessary to graduate from college? The matter at hand at Notre Dame certainly does nothing to raise the standards of this fine institution that has for years been one of the most talk - about and most-respected in the country. For all the headlines they have made, whether it be academic or athletic, such a degrading story as the case at hand has to erase many of these fine thoughts in the public's mind.

The part that was really disgusting came to many through this fine medium of television. To see many of those involved really made one wonder. This included not only the students, but the appearance and conduct of the professor involved as well. They made it sound as if the greatest of sins had been committed simply because a certain movie they were to view was ruled pornographic and seized by the prosecutor's office and sheriff's department. Add to this, the harassment that followed and the resisting of the sheriff's department officers involved, and you have a very sour situation. Another fact not as well publicized was the amount of damage, well into the thousands of dollars, of vandalism that occurred at the University after this situation. Window breakage was great . .

The fact that disturbed many people was the appearance of the students involved. Whether or not one accepts this "hippie" or long hair and sideburns appearance, is something else. Regardless of how one wears his hair or dresses, it is what they are like inside that counts. Personal disapproval of appearance doesn't enter in although we prefer "cleaner looking" appearance.

The subject at hand is the contents of the film. Pornographic films are not new. It would take quite an unformed person to know that these have been in existence for years. You can order them through many magazines . . . they are available through many other sources, but nevertheless, they do not seem to be necessary on a college campus for a study course. Add to this the fact that the students feel their rights have been infringed upon by taking this film away is something else. Someday in their lives these college age students will have to do without more than a movie that they desire. If they can't face up to the act, we are in serious trouble.

Notre Dame isn't the only place this is happening. In fact, it is a much lesser degree at Notre Dame than many colleges and universities around the country. The reason may be different, but the thought is the same. The college students simply are not willing to go without their own way. This is a small percentage, but the effects can be huge in the end.

The editorial cartoon in a recent South Bend Tribune which pictured the college at San Francisco now being conducted in the former Alcatraz prison, seems to be quite an extreme, but the troubles that have happened at the expense of the taxpayers in an attempt to "OFFER" a young adult an education, is very serious. The education at a college level is still a privilege and the sooner our society finds a way to bear this out will be the sooner much trouble will cease. We don't need anymore domestic trouble than we already have . . . and nipping it in the bud at this level will be the greatest factor in ceasing much trouble in the future.

are very hesitant to accept me personally due to the fact that I reside and have our main operation in another town. However, the day of the hometown newspaper is changing and the combining of papers and facilities is a nationwide thing. It is our desire, as it was when the change of ownership of the "Citizen" was made, to continue to give Culver a good hometown newspaper. Our policies are somewhat different perhaps, but our goals are the same.

I have had personal frustration in several respects in the past 15 months, one being an area wide problem, help. Due to labor conditions in our area, we have lost a couple of young backshop men in this time and I will be the first to admit, I am not fulfilling my desires to spend more time in Culver. I would hope that the public would accept this fact and the two local residents staffing our Culver office whether or not I am able to be with you. Many to date will not accept this and have caused many a rough moment to these ladies by their comments and actions, putting unnecessary worry and tension on them.

I have always enjoyed the Culver Comments article which from time to time has been challenged by certain individuals. Whether you agree or not, I still feel that you, the public, have made this the most read column in the paper. With a couple of exceptions, I have not altered this or found it to be over-offensive. It certainly is a thought-provoking column and possibly what is read in it often is something someone doesn't want to admit, therefore causing the negative attitude.

From the first week we published the newspaper, we have been criticized for one thing and another. I was told first hand and not so kindly after running an article that first week concerning a division of the Black Horse Troop in the Indianapolis Veteran's Day Parade, that Academy news was not to appear on the front page. If I, or the ladies feel an article is worthy of front page, that is our choice. Anyway, I doubt if the informant turns down any business that comes from CMA in their place of business. Such people as these should stop and take a little toll of themselves.

Culver is a unique town. You have not only a very nice community, but a tremendous surrounding area due to the beautiful Lake Maxinkuckee. You also have one of the finest and best known schools in the nation in the Culver Military Academy. If you choose not to accept this fact, your views are more slanted than ours could ever be. The lake and the academy are the two things that keeps Culver in a stable business. I have been associated with other small towns that are dying because no such attractions are present to help attract business and people. Business today is in a trend to go big and if the Town of Culver had to stand alone, you might be surprised at the results. It is too easy today to jump in a car and buzz to the larger areas or shopping centers.

Taking no offense to Mrs. Wise, I am sure the world didn't stop because the Cadets ran on the floor after their thrilling victory over the Cavaliers. It could have been much the same at LaVille the previous week had that score been reversed. I also doubt that any serious damage was done but perhaps the loss hurt more than the shoes. We are trying anything but to destroy unity . . . the unity I have been led to doubt in my experiences the past 15 months.

I have the greatest appreciation for Eric Hughes, the Cadet who answered in this week's "Voice" column. His apology in one instance and his standing up for his school and school-mates in the other, is much more than you would get from the larger percentage of adults in a similar situation.

Now that some of you people have gotten your feelings off your chest, I have gotten some off mine. I hope to have many years of association with you and your community and would like to be accepted as part of it regardless where I lay my head at night. We feel that we can help you with our product and know you can help us as well. We are always anxious to hear your views . . . maybe we don't agree anymore than you do with ours, but that won't stop us from publishing your letters. We do encourage this and respect anyone who freely signs their name as well. Keep up the good work!

My Feelings Count Too!

It appears that a couple of "Voice of the People" articles in last week's "Citizen" have caused some hard feelings and comment among some people. We are both happy and disturbed at the situation, but also have feelings of our own.

We have long encouraged people to express their views through this means and now that it has happened, some are yelling "sour apples." We feel hurt that some are so upset over these two articles and especially due to the fact that we know a big misunderstanding of one statement is mainly responsible.

Concerning the "Voice" article signed "Name Withheld," the misunderstanding here is simply that the lady writer was NOT referring to the Academy students when she used the term Culver boys in blue. The term was used concerning the fact that while the law officers at the athletic contest involved were watching the game, the hub caps were taken from her car in the parking area. We feel badly that many seem to have taken this the wrong way.

This is a touchy problem. It is true that police cannot be everywhere at once and the strongest objectors to this mistaken statement would have to agree that a rule of that kind would be very detrimental to any community. But on the other hand, a set of hubcaps for this kind of car could cost from $40.00 upwards, depending on the model involved. No one, even the objectors to the article would take this with a smile on their face.

It is true that many barbs have been aimed at the Police situation in Culver for sometime. It is my personal feeling that these acqizations are not as serious as some want to make them. Reading between the lines can be a bad habit, but calling attention to a situation that needs some attention cannot hurt a thing. Through no fault of any one individual, police protection in Culver is not sufficient. Culver needs a full time, around the clock police department, not one or two men to try and give the needed effort 168 hours a week. Police protection anywhere in the United States at this time is not sufficient or you wouldn't be reading the many, many accounts of crime from the petty larcenies right on down the line to murder, etc. All of us could show more consideration and respect towards the law officers and the laws of our towns and country. Who knows, maybe those hubcaps were taken by the child of someone that never knowingly broke a law in their life.

I have the utmost of faith in the employees that are running our Culver office. This type of work was new to both of the ladies when we acquired their services. They have not been given the proper help by me, but continue week in and week out to make decisions that I will uphold. It is true that many

Voice Of The People

Regarding the two letters in the Voice of the Citizen for February 6th. Up until the Culver-CMA game, each team had one of the best records in recent years. (Culver's best, I believe, in 16 years; one month during the '52-'53 season, Culver ranked 10th in the State of Indiana). The rivalry is keen and according to my official scorekeeping, the CMA leads in overall series, which should be a surprise to many sportsfans. There has been many lean years for the Culver basketball fan and even though we have had great kids wearing the uniform, our talent has been overshadowed by area communities.

Yest, the talent has been lacking until this year and now we can hope that our boys can get the job done, with the addition of Aubbeenaubee and Monterey players; that is if the team plays up to their full potential. Let's hope that the team and Coach Huffman are "up", not only for the remaining games, but especially for the State Tourney.

Prior to the battle of the "Culvers", the Cavaliers were favored by the sportswriters and it came as quite a shock to us when the Eagles won; however Coach Baker and his team were better that evening. I too, was in the stands and it is true, as Mrs. Wise mentioned, that the cadets were overexcited in their appreciation of the Eagles and ran onto the playing floor. The Eagles were slight underdogs and upset our boys in a tremendous game, it was great entertainment, but that's Show Biz; even Coach Baker was surprised. When he was carried off the floor by the Corp. It seems that they had the same feeling that Culverites used to have when we won a Sectional or Regional in the past. . . I'm certain that it will be hard to contain Cavalier fans if we win in the Tourney; there will be many Culver shoes on the playing floor that night or nights.

In letter No. 2, the way that the Citizen previewed the "missing hubcap" note, it appeared that the Editor felt that "hubcap" was right in assuming that the CMA cadets were responsible for the deed. That seems strange coming from Mr. Urbin, who is capable of writing excellent editorials to unite our Community! Certainly there must be an error in how the item was phrased??

There are Freudian undertones regarding Hub, when he sobs that someone had violated his sex-symbol new car. He stated that it must of been those bad blueboys; Hub's apparent resentment of the CMA came to a point when the cap was missing while "they" were in town. I'm surprised Hub, that you are driving a new car, with your apparent intelligence and simple reasoning, I doubt if you'll ever pay for it! Hub certainly can't be a high school graduate, with such a childish rationalization. With a small percentage of "kooks" invading campuses asking for stupid demands, it appears that we in Culver are not immune either. We have recently read of Hub, the village idiot and his "success sex-symbol." I hope that Hub avoids the Culver-Plymouth game, he'll accuse the Mayor next for wrongdoings.

"Forgive him CMA neighbors, he knows not what he has done."
Culver Alumnus

It is the policy of the Culver Citizen, as it is with all newspapers, to publish signed "Voice of the People" letters. If it is signed requested we will withhold the name of the writer. We try to make our paper all the "people's" paper. If anyone is offended by the letters, we invite them to write a rebuke which we in turn will publish if they so request.

The first letter that was used in last week's paper was an honest opinion that was in line with our policy and we felt obligated to publish. The second letter was an amusing comment on the lack of policing in the parking lot and referred to a local group of "boys in blue" and not to the cadet corp.

Editor: Culver Citizen

A paper so carelessly edited as "The Culver Citizen" I have been able to tolerate. With publishing honest concerns like those expressed by Mrs. Wise, I can sympathize. But what in the name of constructive community relationships can justify an anonymous "Name Withheld" letter like the one in your last issue?

Such scurrilous, cowardly innuendos would never be published by any editor really interested in the health of the community his paper is supposed to serve.

Please cancel my subscription. I do not intend to contribute further to journalistic irresponsibility.

Dear Mr. Urbin:

The publication of Mrs. Wise's letter and the succeeding anonymous letter in your February 6 issue represents malice of lack of judgment, the ramifications of which are detrimental to Culver unity. That the letters were written is one thing; that you should publish them is irresponsible journalism.

With this letter I cancel my subscription.

Yours truly,
Mary Frances England

Dear Sirs:

I just finished reading the Citizen of the sixth of February. I agree that we cadets were out of order in going on to your gym floor after our basketball game. I hope that you will except at least my apology for this action. However, I think that the fact Mrs. Wise has a senior in high school and that she can not dance on the floor has nothing to do with this matter. If it had been announced before the game to stay off the floor, the Corps would have with no thought at all, isn't it true that we got off very promptly when we were asked? When a team wins a game as close as that, and especially when they are the underdogs, I should hope that the fans would be very happy and want to congratulate their team. Our gym is not new like yours, and we don't prohibit people walking on its floor. I am certain that this incident will not happen again at Culver's or anyone else's gym.

The letter of Mrs. Wise was not what prompted me to write this letter, though. To Mr. "Name Withheld," I will not say that you are a stupid man because I might get in trouble, but I thought that your letter was one of the stupidest bits of writing I have ever read. Think! If a cadet was in the parking lot stealing hubcaps, would no one have seen him? I know that hubcaps have been stolen before; is there no chance that someone from another town stole it? How would a cadet get a hubcap back to the barracks anyway; stick it in his hat? There was an officer on every busload of cadets. Also, someone I know in town told me that he thought our conduct was excellent after the game going to the buses. Every cadet was waiting for their bus, not bothering anyone. We knew some people would be touchy about that game, and we weren't stupid enough to start anything, we have pride in our school and Mr. "Name Withheld," if you have some in your school, you would not look for ways to redeem your loss to us in this manner. I apologized for the behavior at your game, I expect the same from you if you have a name.

Sincerely,
Eric Hughes

Editor:

In Culver, there are numerous organizations which have as their objective the betterment of our community. Our citizens who take an active part in these organizations devote a great deal of time and effort in an attempt to make our community more desirable. In the past several months, the Culver Citizen has done an excellent job of undoing many of the things these organizations have tried to accomplish.

The author of the "Culver Comments" is in an eviable position. Exercising the right of freedom of the press, she could constructively criticize certain problems in our community which need criticism. But instead, the column is dedicated to the personal crucifixion of any person in a position of authority, including the town board, the school officials, and last but not least, the police department.

How can these individuals represent a position of authority to our citizens, and especially to our youth, after Mrs. Osborn has ridiculed, criticized, and personally challenged their actions? Is this personal harassment contributing anything constructive to our community? Is this column teaching our young people to respect and abide by laws and regulations established by our officials?

As irresponsible as the column in, the Citizen has reached new heights in infuriating people and straining relations by the publications of the letter of February 6th. A newspaper must assume a certain degree of responsibility as to what it will print. The charges both made and implied in the letter of February 6th are ludicrous. How can a newspaper which supposedly has the interest of the community at heart have the audacity to print such an absurd letter?

In my opinion, both of these instances are very poor forms of journalistic sensationalism which may sell a few newspapers at the expense of our community.

Respectfully,
David L. Ulrich

Dear Mr. Ulrich,

In reference to your letter in the Voice of the People:

It was with interest and astonishment that I read your letter concerning the "Culver Comments". The column was never meant as a personal attack on anyone in this town and I'm happy to say that the vast majority of people in Culver have the intelligence to understand this.

You have accused me of attacking authority, including school officials. Before you criticize me you had better get your facts straight. I have never attacked school officials and I am still safe in making this statement.

The remarks I have made concerning the town are not all my ideas. Indeed, I usually wait until the entire town is laughing before I mention a subject. And there has been plenty to laugh about.

The fact that I am "exercising the right of freedom of the press" is exactly what is bothering a few people. You evidently think criticism is fine as long as it suits your purpose. It has been my thought that maybe the "little people" should be heard. And they have!

To laugh or find humor in certain happenings in the community is not being irresponsible nor is a column "hurt" a community. The only thing wrong with the town is people who set their own standards and wish to enforce them upon others.

And do you, in your wild dreams, blame me for the young people's lack of respect? You might look better to the adult who have proven less than exemplary. If youth is to respect, show them something in respect.

I do, however, admire you for making your feelings known. I expected criticism, but usually is second or third hand. You, at least, were honest enough to tell me personally.

Also respectfully,
Alienor T. Osborn

MAJOR POINTS AND MINOR TOO

It's about time: We considered the problem of emergency care and treatment when crashes or disasters occur.

News stories in the many fine papers for which I write indicate a growing worry about availability of skilled ambulance crews and properly-equipped hospital emergency rooms, particularly in rural areas.

Medical and hospital groups are taking steps, but the problem is so great that civic and legislative concern must be voiced. It's horrible to contemplate how a crash victim might die or be permanently crippled because he was not handled properly or quickly enough by an ambulance crew . . . or how death or crippling can come because hospitals don't have adequate facilities or personnel available.

Modern medicine has made great advances . . . but the advances mean little if the guy hurt in an auto accident is reached too late, handled badly and treated poorly.

HAL'S HELPINGS: The world these days seem to be a matter of life and debt . . . and a household hint: After paint brushes have been cleaned, rub a little vaseline on them to preserve them.

PERSONAL NOTES: I can't remember so much illness around before . . . friends, associates, and just everyone with the flu, sniffles and what have you . . . bronchitis and a head cold were the villain in the case of Yours Truly, and I can sympathize with others who have been sick? . . . Movie you might want to see with the kiddies, "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," but why they made it so long escapes this viewer . . . it would have been better if the first 45 minutes had been eliminated . . . Jack Marshall deserves kudos for his crack in the Chicago Trib: "My new Japanese automobile is equipped with black judo seat belts. They keep throwing me out of the car."

Ireland Vignette

Galway: I truly have enjoyed my visit here, beside fabled Galway Bay and only a short distance from picturesque Connemara, where the thatched-roof houses add a lovely touch to the colorful countryside. It is as the Irish International Airlines travel folder pictures it for me.

Galway is a place for a restful vacation. Hustle and bustle don't seem so important, and you are encouraged to linger over a glass of beer in a pub or over your tea and cakes in a tearoom or restaurant. I've particularly enjoyed the shopping in Galway for here are stores with wonderful assortments of tweeds and knitted sweaters. A fine hotel for your Galway visit is the Great South-ern.

FIRE DANGER: Home Fires have been taking a ghastly toll. The Allstate Homeowners Service advises you to have an escape route picked out in advance, should fire strike your home . . . and be sure to have a suitable extinguisher in good working condition.

Letters I'll Never Receive

"Mrs. Nixon and I will be honored to have the pleasure of your company . . ."

"Your solution to the gold drain problem has intrigued the World Bank, and Mr. McNamara respectfully requests . . ."

"Your new offensive formation is so spectacular that Coach Parseghian hopes you can visit South Bend and . . ."

— Brent Stark

Prescription or driving safely, from the Allstate Motor Club: INTERVAL. Keep plenty of distance between yourself and other cars; never tailgate.

OUR READERS WRITE: Gene Gasidorowski has had to give up water skiing . . . his wife just couldn't row fast enough long enough . . . Ivan Bunny says she got mugged and robbed the other night; they took everything but his four leaf clover . . . Don Frankel recommends a fine book, one which I have liked, too: "The Shadow of Blooming Grove," recounting the story of Warren G. Harding . . . Hal Halborn says if you want to write something that lives forever, put your name on a mortgage . . . Wilfred Beaver has a friend who calls his wife "Angel," because she's always harping about something . . .

RESOLVE: On my honor I will not use any of these phrases in the New Year: Brutal murder; Crack troops. Standing ovation. Plush hotel. Crippling amendments. Steaming jungle. Daring daylight holdup. Storm-tossed North Atlantic. Last-ditch effort. Coveted trophy. Whirlwind tour. Sweeping changes. In-depth investigation.

Food Stamp Plan: How It Differs From Commodities

The question is often asked how the Food Stamp program differs from the Surplus Commodities Program? In the commodities program the government, with the township trustee as the issuing agency, distributed surplus foods to the needy. Those foods consisted of dried milk and eggs, beans, rice, flour, shortenings, etc. The amount issued was determined by the size of the household received help. The products issued varied from month to month depending almost entirely upon what food products were available as surplus. The Surplus Commodities program had to concern itself with the problem of reducing the stock-pile of surplus foods as well as ministering to the needs of the poor. It could not be concerned about dietetics and nutrition, and the majority of people who received surplus food lacked knowledge in the fields of nutrition and menu planning, so could not or did not make adequate use of the surplus foods received.

The Food Stamp program, while designed to help the farmer too, puts emphasis on an entirely different aspect. This program's primary concern is that the poor have an adequate nutritious diet. So instead of giving a monthly allowance of surplus foods to the needy, it increases their food purchasing power, and allows them to shop for and buy the amount and kind of food which they desire.

The human element must also be emphasized here. It seems that we often forget that even among the needy personal dignity is a priceless thing. One of the complaints often heard from those who participated in the surplus commodities program was that it was a humiliating experience to have to stand in line at the township trustee's office or home. It reminded the elderly, who had lived through and still had vivid memories of the great depression, of the bread line and dole. The humiliation, embarrassment and blow to human dignity and pride caused many people who should have participated to deny themselves of help.

With the Food Stamp Plan the amount and variety of the foods purchased is increased. People take more pride in, and make better use of that which costs them something, than they do of that which is given to them. We have found that those who use stamps buy more meats, fruits, and vegetables, and these are essential to a good diet. People who are on special diets (and this is common with the elderly) are able to buy non-salt or dietetic foods. Even though these foods cost more, the bonus they receive in the Food Stamp program gives them the extra purchasing power they need.

The Marshall Co. Food Stamp Plan has been in operation a year. Recently a survey was conducted among all who had participated throughout the year. The response was gratifying. The great majority of the patrons expressed satisfaction with the program. There was one common complaint. At the present time only food and that which is used in preparing food, can be bought with stamps. Soaps, detergents, and paper products cannot be purchased. Many of our patrons thought that this should be changed. It is a valid criticism, and the USDA will undoubtedly give it careful consideration. You cannot purchase tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, or imported foods that are in competition with American products.

How do you use the stamps? You use them like money. After you have selected your groceries (and most food stores in the country have been authorized to accept them) you take them to the cashier and inform her this is a food stamp purchase. You separate the food items from the non-food items, the cashier tabulates the food item purchases, and you pay for those items with your stamps. The grocer is instructed to give you a credit slip in the amount of your change, and you keep that slip and apply it to your next purchase.

There are weaknesses in the Food Stamp program, and in time corrections will be made, but even so it is the most equitable and applicable of any food distribution to date. Many more people in the low-income category should take advantage of it.

It may be that you yourself are not eligible, or are not in need, but you may know people who are. We are especially anxious to help the elderly who live on small Social Security checks, Old Age Assistance, or pension. If you have knowledge of any person or family in the country whom you think would be eligible and would benefit from the program, please inform the county office. The address of the Marshall County Food Stamp office is 216 W. Madison St., Plymouth, Indiana. A case-worker is always available to counsel and assist.

Attend Mid-Winter Council Meeting

Attending Mid-Winter Council Meeting at the Essex House in Indianapolis last week were Mrs. Ted Strang, Mrs. Latham Lawson, Mrs. Ray Houghton and Mrs. Ronald Tusing.

Mrs. Strang and Mrs. Lawson went on Monday where the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs attended the Indiana Legislature and in the evening attended the movie, "Finnian's Rainbow."

Speakers at the Council Meeting on Tuesday were Mrs. Kenneth Reed, of Minnesota, GFWC Chairman of the Communications Division and Chairman of GFWC Crusade for Morality in the Mass Media. Also speaking was Mr. James Rogers, Assistant Vice President of the Hood Drug Co. They urged the public to help clean up the movie and T.V. industry by supporting educational and family type shows.

In the afternoon a panel consisting of Leroy K. New, Chief Trial Deputy, Marion County Prosecutors Office, Inspector Henry Wolfe, Operations Division, Captain Edward Clouse, Head of Juvenile Division and Lieutenant Richard Jones, Head of Narcotics Branch talked on "Juveniles and Vice From Police and Prosecutors Viewpoint." They informed us about Senate Bill 15 which is coming up in the Legislature. This bill will take away most all the prosecuting attorneys if it is authority from local police and passed. They urged that we write our senator to vote against the bill so that the law officers will still have some powers to protect the public against crimes that are committed. They also urged us to vote for a number of bills pertaining to the law.

Sewing Program Presented To Jr. Womens Club

Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. William Snyder. Mrs. Charles Edgington introduced Mrs. Barbara Winters, the Home Economics teacher at the high school who presented the program. She demonstrated the method of putting in the new invisible zippers, plus the conventional type. Also of interest to members were easy ways to sew sleeves. Her demonstration was most informative with the helpful hints to easier sewing.

Mrs. Latham Lawson reported that a group of women in South Bend are interested in forming Junior Club. Members voted to help organize the group by going to South Bend to meet with them for a few meetings.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ed Amond and Mrs. Jan Valinke.

The evening was spent tea and rolling sheets to be used as bandages for Project Concern.

Taxpayers

Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Why did you use color on the 1040 tax form you mailed me?

A — Color is used to draw attention to the lines on the tax form that give people the most trouble. It is hoped that the number of errors made of tax returns will thereby be reduced.

Last year, one of every nine income tax returns filed contained an error that slowed processing. If the taxpayer was expecting a refund, it was delayed until the error could be corrected.

Two-color forms were sent to about 30 million taxpayers. The balance of the forms mailed to taxpayers and those which will be available at local banks, post offices and IRS offices, are printed in black ink.

Q — I mailed a check to a charity in December but it was not cashed until this January. Does this mean I can't deduct it on my 1968 return?

A — You may take the deduction in the year you wrote and mailed the check. This means that a check dated by you in December 1968 can be deducted on your 1968 return.

Q — The label on the tax received in the mail is wrong. What should I do?

A — Draw a line through the incorrect part and put in the proper information. Return the corrected label with your return when you file so that your return will be properly identified and the needed correction can be made on your tax account.

Q — What insurance premiums are deductible as a medical expense?

A — Premiums paid for policies providing medical care are deductible as a medical expense for taxpayers who itemize. No deduction can be taken for life insurance premiums or for those paid to provide weekly benefits in case of disability.

Don't forget that medical insurance premiums should be handled differently than other medical expenses. Most medical expenses need to be reduced by 3 per cent of the taxpayer's gross income before they can be deducted.

For medical insurance premiums, however, one half of this cost up to a maximum of $150 may be deducted without regard to the 3 per cent rule. The excess is then subject to the 3 per cent rule. This is explained in the 1040 instructions.

Q — If I file for a refund of taxes withheld on a summer job, will my parents lose their exemption or me? I'm a college student and not married.

A — No, your parents will not lose you as an exemption, so long as they furnished over half your support. In this situation the same exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parent's.

Q — When is the next payment due on my maid's Social Security?

A — The next quarterly return and payment is due January 31 for the calendar quarter ending December 31, 1968.

Also due by January 31 is a statement to your maid covering the total amount of wages paid and Social Security taxes withheld during 1968.

This statement may be made in any form suitable for your maid to keep. It should show your name and address as employer, your maid's name, address and Social Security number, the total of wages paid out, the total amount withheld for Social Security tax. The statement should indicate that the employee's tax of 4.4 per cent includes .6 per cent to finance the cost of Hospital Insurance Benefits.

For your convenience, IRS has prepared Form SS-14, that can be used to provide this information to household employees. Copies may be obtained by sending a post card to your district director.

Q — Do you have to report as income insurance compensation for injuries received in an auto accident?

A — No, damages for injuries suffered in an accident are tax free.

Q — I'm all set to file my return but my W-2 hasn't come yet. What should I do?

A — Wait until your W-2 arrives. The law requires employers to issue tax withholding statements to employees by January 31 so you should receive the statement shortly.

If you don't get your W-2 statement by January 31 ask your employer about it.

Q — Where can I get a copy of the new 1040 ES tax form?

A — About 13 million new estimated tax form packages will be mailed to taxpayers February 1. If you filed an estimated tax declaration last year or owed more than $40 when you filed your 1967 return, you will receive a 1040 ES form, Declaration of Estimated Income Tax for Individuals, in the mail.

The new forms are pre-addressed to assure proper identification of estimated tax credits. Be sure to use your pre-addressed form when you file. Others filing for the first time should get a Form 1040 ES from their District Director.

Q — When parents are divorced which one gets to claim the children as dependents?

A — Generally the parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year is entitled to the dependency exemption. However, if the other parent contributes at least $600 during the year to the support of the child he or she may be entitled to the exemption. There is also a special rule for a parent who furnishes more than $1,200 of support during the year but does not have custody.

These rules apply only if the divorced or separated parents together provide more than half of the child's support and have custody for more than half of the year. For further details get Publication 501, Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents, from your District Director.

Q — I operate my farm on a cash basis. Does this mean I won't have to figure out my inventories for tax purposes?

A — Farmers using the cash method do not have to report the value of their inventories for tax purposes. However, you should keep good records so that income and expenses can be accurately reported.

"And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen, for we be brethren."

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise . . . Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together before the Lord."

These verses are part of the Responsive Reading this Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

The subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon is "Soul." The following is one of the selections to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Experience should be the school of virtue, and human happiness should proceed from man's highest nature."

Homemakers Extension Club

The Culver Homemakers Extension Club met Friday, February 7 in the social room of the Emmanuel Methodist Church.

You feel a little edgy, or maybe cross.

Sooner or later, that day comes, the day when a woman feels she's changing. It's not a good feeling either. And she could use a good old-fashioned medicine then.

You might even have what we call hot flashes and feel sad and slightly off-balance.

Whatever you feel, we have something for the day you need a little comforting. Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. They're made with gentle, natural ingredients that work to help you feel better. When you start changing, you could use a good old-fashioned medicine for an old-fashioned problem. And, you don't run any chance of the kind of unpleasant side effects you can get from some of the newer drugs.

The president, Mrs. Guy Davis, welcomed the 28 members and three guests, Mrs. Gertrude Stevens, Mr. Alice Helt, and Mrs. Jesse Sims.

Roll call was answered with favorite cherry recipes. Reports on the recent council meeting was given, also a report on the "Music Clinic" held in Ellettsville on Tuesday, February 4, under the direction of Mr. Byron Fax, assistant in music of Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service. The members attending from the local club were Mrs. Guy Davis, Mrs. Richard Behmer, Mrs. Harry Leffert, and Mrs. Wilfred Craft.

Devotions were given by Mrs. William Kline, using several poems and a Valentine prayer taken from an "Ideal Book."

Mrs. Harry Leffert gave a lesson in program planning, and Mrs. Ora Overmyer and Mrs. Herman Siems gave a lesson on "Easier Ways of House Keeping." Several good suggestions were brought out in making short cuts in house work. One was to always have the cleaning supplies located near the working area, to use less motion, and third to try some of the new cleaning products on the market. The old stand-by cleaning products seemed to still be the favorite of many for cleaning.

Mrs. Nellie Baker won the door prize.

Lovely refreshments were served at tables that were decorated in the Valentine motif. The hostess committee included Mrs. William Easterday, Mrs. A. E. Givens and Mrs. William Kline.

The March 7 meeting will be held in the Burr Oak Annex. This will be the annual pot-luck dinner at 12 o'clock noon.
