Dean And Mrs. Henderson Celebrate 50th

Dean and Mrs. John W. Henderson of Culver observed their golden wedding anniversary last weekend with a host of family activities highlighted by a reception for the couple, who were greeted by approximately 200 at a reception at the Culver Inn late Saturday afternoon August 30.

The couple was married on September 2, 1919 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson of Aurora. Mrs. Henderson is the former Norma V. Wilson. Mr. Henderson bought his bride to Culver Military Academy, where he had been the secretary of the Student YMCA since July 1, 1919 after service in World War I. They have lived at the academy all of their married life.

In 1932, Mr. Henderson became director of admissions at Culver Military Academy, and shortly after was named Dean of Admissions. He retired from that position in 1959 and joined the Development Department of the academy for a 6-year term. During the next two years he acted as consultant on alumni-patron co-operation at Int'l. Lochee (Michigan) Arts Academy, and as director of development at Southern Arizona School for Boys, Tucson.

Their six children served as hosts for the weekend festivities: Robert W. Henderson of Niles, Ill.; Mrs. Robert E. (Helen Janet) McKinstry, Annapolis, Md.; John W., Jr., Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Robert D. (Mary Alice) Hassett, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Bruce E. (Norma Joyce) MacNab, Gahanna, Ohio, who was unable to attend; and James A., Columbus, Ind.

The Hendersons have 22 grandchildren, two of whom were in charge of the guest book at the reception. Harriet, Henderson and Holly Hassett.

The road to success is a thru highway — not a deadend street.

An ounce of performance is worth tons of guesswork.

Nursery School To Begin On September 15

The Wesley United Methodist Church will sponsor a Nursery School for four year old children, beginning September 15. The classes will be held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 9:00-11:15 a.m.

Every nursery school sponsored by a Methodist Church accepts children of all faiths. Its policies are determined through the Commission on Education, the pastor and the Administrative Board. A Nursery School committee directly supervises the operation of the school. The members of the committee are Rev. W. Sharp, Mrs. Ted Strang, Mrs. Latham Lawson, Mrs. Richard Shoddy, Mr. Donald Davis, and Mrs. Charles McLane. Mrs. Ray Houghton will be the teacher, and is also a member of the committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. William Martin.

A school for three year olds will begin with the second semester of school. In order to maintain satisfactory teacher-student relationships, the number of students will be limited for both the 3 year olds and 4 year old classes.

Achievements Listed For Town Park

The summer season of the Culver Park has closed for 1969. This summer saw many new things and faces at the park. A basketball goal was installed, a new lifeguard chair was added on the end of the main pier and a new low section was added to the pier for the little swimmers.

Perhaps the biggest improvement occurred inside the Beach lodge where an entire new service area was built and the old area all removed to make way for dances and a ping pong table. The inside of the Lodge was brightened by a new coat of paint put on by the Jaycees.

Over a dozen truck loads of sand were put on the beach this season. The beach was extended over sixty feet on each end to allow ample space on the sand for all. Three dusk to dawn lights were installed in the park. A 7,000 watt light was placed over the basketball goal and two 20,000 watt lights were put near the beach — one on each side of the beach lodge.

The park staff sponsored four dances during the summer for the youth of Culver. A swimming meet was held during the regatta week-end (another first). Over one hundred youngsters took part in the races and contests. Swimming instructions and diving lessons were given for 120 swimmers the first session and for an additional 84 the second session.

On the park grounds a great deal of work was done on cleaning up and trimming the bushes. All the swings were repaired or replaced. All the mud holes around and under the playground equipment were filled.

A full schedule of little league baseball was carried out.

To all who volunteered their help and to the ten members of the park staff who helped make this a successful summer for those who used the Culver Park a warm and sincere thank you from the Culver Board of Parks and Recreation.

An even more expanded program is projected for the summer of 1970. Your ideas and comments are welcome.

He started at the southeast end of the lake. It took him two and one half hours to swim the three miles across the lake.

John is a graduate of the Culver Woodcraft Camp this summer.

His older brother, Robert E. Fieberts, Jr. had previously swam the lake in 1965. Robert also attended Woodcraft Camp.

NIPSCO Customers Receive Safe-T Sniff Bill Inserts

Customers of Northern Indiana Public Service Company will receive an insert which they can smell as well as read when their September service bill arrives in the mail. Dean Mitchell, NIPSCO chairman and Chief executive officer of Iser, reported recently.

He said that bills being mailed for September payment will contain a special edition of the utility's monthly insert, "Kupplings," which will explain the unique odor of natural gas and its signature to the customer.

The enclosure, titled "Natural Gas Smells—For Safety's Sake," features an encapsulated area, Mitchell said, which will release the distinctive odor of natural gas when it is scratched with a fingernail or pin.

"We put the unique odor associated with natural gas in the fuel for our customer's safety," Mitchell added. "When we purchase natural gas from our pipeline suppliers, it has virtually no smell at all. To make gas detectable, we put a special chemical called mercaptan into the gas."

In concentrated forms, mercaptan is a chemical with one of the most distinctive odors known. NIPSCO uses a sufficient amount of this mercaptan to make it immediately recognizable.

"Many people are familiar with the odor that has been added to natural gas," Mitchell said. "But there are some who are not, and still others who do not react quickly enough when they smell it. We want customers to notify NIPSCO when they recognize the safety odorant in natural gas to avoid any possible accident."

The utility chief executive officer said that natural gas appliances of gas escaping from such appliances are very rare.

Teachers Spend Busy Summer

Twenty-one members of the Culver Community Schools' faculty are changing the side of desk they sit on as school starts this fall. During the summer months almost twenty-five percent of the professional staff of the Culver School went back to school as students.

The largest number attended Indiana State University in Terre Haute. Four of the Culver teachers completed work this summer on B.A. or B.S. degrees. These were George Ritchie, Jerry Anderson, and both Malinda and Stephen Vitosky. Ray Gangloff did twelve semester hours of graduate work at I.S.U. and Mrs. Wray Ricciardi completed her masters degree in English.

Indiana University was attended by five members of the staff - all doing graduate work. The Culver teachers at I.U. were Bill Harris, both Priscilla and William McBeth, Mrs. Valerie Hife and Mrs. Helen Heiser. All were studying on the Bloomington campus except Mrs. Heiser who attended I.U. at South Bend.

Two staff members studied at Purdue. Mrs. Barbara Winters took part in a workshop in Housing sponsored by the U.S. State Department and Judson Dillon did graduate work at Purdue during the summer.

Martha and Terry Mishler each completed ten weeks of graduate work at Ball State University. Miss Carol Jung and Mrs. Barbara Winters attended the Indiana Vocational Conference at B.S.U.

Two Indianapolis schools were attended by Culver teachers this summer. Mrs. Nancy Wagner went to Marion College and Mrs. Svea Whitney attended Butler University.

Terry Haskell traveled farthest to do his graduate work and complete his Masters Degree in Physical Education at the University of Oregon.

Two of the Culver staff members studied during the past months on grants. Mrs. Marilyn Coby had a National Science Foundation Grant in mathematics at Norte Dame University. Latham Lawson studied Advanced Economics on an EPDA grant at DePauw University in Greencastle.

Many other Culver teachers furthered their education during the summer. Mrs. Dorothy Wells worked in the Warren, Pennsylvania Public Library and Miss Helen Friesen taught migrant children in Elkhart. Mrs. Barbara Hughes traveled in California visiting several Reading Centers in the Los Angeles area and Miss Ruth Shanks directed the Indiana State Sunshine Camp near Lafayette.

Homemakers Club Holds September Meeting

The September meeting for the Culver Homemakers Club was held in the social room of the Culver United Emmanuel Methodist Church.

The president, Mrs. Guy Davis opened the meeting with the thought for the month, "A person with a closed mind can get by nicely if he keeps his mouth shut".

Following the pledges to the American flag and the Christian flag, the group read the Club creed in unison.

Mrs. Joe Boetsma, Sr. gave the devotions using verses from Luke, Sixth Chapter. She also read, "How friendly are you?"

The history of the song, "Hail Purdue" was given by the song leader, Mrs. Richard Behmer. She then led the group in singing the song. The birthday song was sung for Mrs. Harold Baker, Mrs. Dessie Blanchard, Mrs. Larry Zechel and Mrs. Howard Oberlin. The anniversary song was sung for Mrs. George Kerrigan and Mrs. Richard Behmer.

Twenty-eight members answered roll call with many fine suggestions for roll call in 1970. Five guests were present, Mrs. Ray Clem, Mrs. Alice Helt, Mrs. Lloyd Heeter, Mrs. Blanche Finney and Marion Bothwell.

After several items of business, the lesson on "How does advertising affect our lives?" was presented. Mrs. D. Hatten and Mrs. Richard Behmer showed several pictures of new articles advertised. Some are attractive and some are not but they all seem to excite the public to buy and try. Millions of dollars are spent on advertising each year and millions more are spent for useless things or articles of poor quality just because of T. V. commercials.

During the social hour the members and guests enjoyed a silent auction of food articles.

Mrs. Lloyd Heeter drew the door prize.

Delicious refreshments were served at tables beautifully decorated with home grown roses of several colors.

An Opportunity To Help

An opportunity to help a very worthwhile cause and get a good pancake and sausage supper at the same time is going to be available Saturday night. Through the efforts of the Lakeville and North Liberty Lions Clubs and the Greene Township community, a benefit for a young lad with a kidney disease is being held at the LaVillie High School.

Randy McBride, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McBride, is presently being kept alive by a kidney machine and is awaiting a transplant operation in an effort to return him to a more normal way of life.

The combined efforts of these groups and the generosity of the public is going to make this a success. Medical expenses are so much higher than can be handled by the family that everyone is trying to help. This benefit is expected to raise a considerable amount, which actually will just be a drop in the bucket for what is needed.

In addition to the supper, "The Randy McBride Fund" in care of the Central State Bank of Lakeville, will accept donations at any time. The opportunity to help is here... all it takes now is the generosity of the public.

CULVER COLUMN

By Mrs. C. C.

So... after so many of you have been expressing hostility toward the plan of the School Board to purchase a building, only 7 of you showed up! Well read this week's school news on the front page. You will have an opportunity to complain to the State Board when this waste of taxpayer's money is brought up for their approval. The meeting will be held at the County Auditor's office at a future date. I'll give you the date and time as soon as it is revealed.

If you can't take the time to go and protest then quit hollering about it!

C C

With the event of school opening we in Culver can only be thankful that we aren't faced with sex education. The way the people in South Bend are carrying on it sounds as though sex education means the downfall of Man. The extreme radicals are claiming that this addition to the school's curriculum is Communist inspired. I know that the Communists claim to have invented everything from the telephone to the hairnet, but sex? I doubt that claim.

C C

The new crop of seniors seem a little stunned by their sudden importance. Last year's batch of seniors seem a little stunned by their yearbook. Some captions over the pictures must have been slightly mixed up in the printing, else why would Terry Mishler be referred to as a "pencil holder"?

C C

Some mention should be made concerning the excellent job done by the lifeguards on duty at the beach this summer. There was a whopping crowd of young ones to watch over and they kept all of them safe. So, when some of you gripe about the expense think of what might have happened without them.

C C

If you're driving around the curve from Lake Shore Drive to Main St., watch it! The newly painted yellow lines down the middle of the street could cause trouble if a car is parked on the west side of Main.

C C

Some of you that have been worried about lake pollution at the public beach can be reassured. The Board of Health took a sample of water in that area in June and I'm happy to report that it showed no pollution at that time.

C C

I was thrilled to read that new floors had been but in the shower rooms of the old gym. I got a little tired of pulling splinters out of my kid's feet after each gym class last year.

C C

If you need a cop before 11 o'clock in the morning... forget it. They're scarcer than diagonal parking on Main St. You can't even find a qualified canine member of the department. If all the resident desperados ever find this out it could drastically change the pattern of crime in Culver.

THE HISTORY OF CARD PLAYING

Card playing has been in the cards since ancient times, and today cards are suitable for games in almost every country in the world.

Probably brought from Asia either by returning crusaders or through commerce with northern Africa, cards were introduced into Europe about the middle of the 14th century. At first they were painted by hand and expensive. But between 1420 and 1430 the art of "block printing" was used, reducing their price and spreading their use.

The suits of early Italian cards, according to one theory, represented the four classes of society—nobles, peasants, clergy and citizens. The familiar hearts, clubs, spades and diamonds come from the French.

Card playing today is a celebrated and celebrated custom. The game of contract bridge, for example, is widely played and demands close concentration. But its card-inal principles can now be learned by a single player with no cards at all. Experts as well as novices are playing without even a deck.

The turn of a dial automatically reveals in panels the plays of the participant and three other "players" in a new game that permits the player to determine strategy and tells whether or not he is correct. Known as Goren's Rolomatic Bridge, it automatically plays the right "card" and keeps track of the leads and tricks won and lost. There are 40 hands on a roll. Rolomatic refill assortments for both beginners and advanced players are available.

for the game produced by the Milton Bradley Company. Books of instructions for experienced and new players are included in the set.

Does the wide acceptance of this modern game mean that cards are becoming obsolete? Probably not, for as long as terms like "shuffle," "slough" and "deal" are part of the language and associated with card playing, chances are that this popular pastime will not be discarded.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL BASIC: THE JUMPER WITH CLASS

You may not be a whiz at algebra or French, but you can be the smartest-looking student in class — if you've done your fashion homework.

Jumpers are walking off with top honors this term — and if you can sew your own, you get A-plus in fashion and dollar sense.

Sewing a fine seam just isn't your groove? Think again! Many of the new patterns are made to order for beginners.

One particularly winning number is McCall's Step-By-Step Pattern #2070, a single, streamlined design that can be parlayed into three different jumper dresses. (How's that for New Math?)

Make the sleeveless jumper with a round or V neck, and belt it high or low to fit your idea of flattery. Scoop the neckline, add jaunty patch pockets, and presto! another ring-a-ding outfit for the school belle.

Available in both misses and junior teen sizes, this one's a "Quickie" — you cut, sew and go! The pattern includes a step-by-step sewing guide prepared especially for learning, and great for your first school project.

Team your brand new jumper with just the right blouse, and you have a smashing separates look that's really "together!"

One basic blouse pattern is McCall's Step-By-Step Pattern #2107 for misses sizes, and #2108 for young junior-teens sizes, gives you a short-sleeved, tab-collared blouse, a romantic-looking turtleneck with long, cuffed sleeves, and a sleeveless overblouse that's perfect with pants.

You'd almost need a slide rule to calculate the mix-match possibilities. Go mad for plaids, or vote solidly for solids; if you're daring, try stripes with checks, prints with plaids. Have fun with texture as well as color: a soft, slinky crepe blouse can be marvelous with a nubby tweed or wide-wale corduroy jumper.

Looking all that smart doesn't make it any easier to conjugate verbs, but at least you'll have all the answers when it comes to fashion. If you can follow a simple "Quickie" pattern, you've got it made!

Enforcement Action Taken On Car Inspection

Mortorists who are late in getting their cars inspected under Indiana's new vehicle inspection program may be in for trouble. State Police Superintendent, Robert Konkle said recently enforcement action has been taken starting Monday, September 1 against drivers of passenger vehicles bearing license plate numbers ending in 1 or 2 which have no inspection sticker affixed. The deadline for all commercial vehicles, including self inspections, is August 31.

Drivers have had ample opportunity, said Konkle, to learn the requirements of the program since it began January 1 and we now think it is time to push for full compliance.

Vehicle inspection is another means of helping to reduce accidents on the streets and highways, Konkle explained, and is a vital part of Indiana's total traffic safety effort.

The remainder of the vehicle inspection schedule is as follows: vehicles bearing a 1969 Indiana license plate ending in 3 or 4 must be inspected by September 30, 5 or 6 is October 31, 7 or 8 by November 30 and those ending in 9 or 0 on or before December 31.

Couple United In Saturday Ceremony

Yellow and white glads with bronze mums and ivy decorated the Culver Memorial Chapel for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Margaret Zieg and William Darrell Turner. The Reverend Jared F. Foster officiated at the double ring ceremony, which took place Saturday, Sept. 6, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The parents of the bride are Col. and Mrs. Kermit Zieg of Parkway, Culver Military Academy and Mr. and Mrs. Sim W. Turner of C.M.R. No. 9, Crawfordsville, are the parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of candlelight satin, which featured a fitted bodice with an oriental neckline and trumpet sleeves of re-embroidered Alencon lace over organza. The modified A-line skirt of organza over satin had matching lace bordering the hem. The chapel train was fastened at the neckline and the bride's veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white elbow length roses with ivy.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas E. Taylor, wore a gown of lemon crepe with a fitted bodice and long sleeves gathered at the wrist into a wide band. The A-line skirt was gathered. Her hair was held back with a wide matching bow.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kermit C. Zieg Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Dawn Crise. They wore dresses identical to the honor attendants, only in avocado green. The attendants all carried bouquets of bronze mums and ivy.

Best man was Edgar Lee Harper. Ushers were Dr. Kermit C. Zieg Jr., John Tolly, James S. Turner and J. Wayne Turner.

A wedding breakfast was held following the ceremony at the Culver Inn, which was decorated with white and yellow gladioli and bronze mums. Mrs. John Reilman and Miss Claudia Collins poured and Miss Beth Collins presided at the guest book.

The frisky, sleek Chevy Nova Coupe

Constantly gaining prominent position in the popularity polls is the Chevy Nova. Advanced styling features such as simulated front fender louvers and body striping give the Chevy Nova Coupe (above) an air of action. A hide-a-way antenna built into the windshield (with all factory installed radios) is now available on the Nova. The new Chevrolet line of cars will be on display September 18.

The Monte Carlo — a totally new personal car — headlines Chevrolet's new models for 1970, John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, said today.

"The 1970's will be an unparalleled decade of individual customer choice," DeLorean said. "Chevrolet will continue to set the industry pace with a variety of cars and options which allow each buyer to custom tailor his or her personal transportation."

"Monte Carlo adds a new market dimension by offering to the youthful, sophisticated buyer a superb blend of individual, high fashion styling and intermediate-size handling and performance."

DeLorean said seven distinctive Chevrolet lines will be shown in dealerships on Announcement Day, September 18.

"The big Chevrolet has new styling and added power for 1970 and Chevelle has an all-new appearance," DeLorean said. Improvements in these lines are incorporated in both sizes of Chevrolet station wagons. The fast selling Nova has fresh appeal in its new models."

Current models of the popular Chevrolet Corvette and Camaro will be continued to the end of this year with new models in each line scheduled for introduction later in the model year.

DeLorean said that among important 1970 engine changes, the base V-8 of the big Chevrolet is increased to 350 cubic inches from 327 cubic inches in 1969 to give added power for options such as air conditioning that continue to grow in customer popularity.

The base six cylinder engine Chevelle is also increased — 250 cubic inches in 1970 compared with 230 cubic inches in 1969.

"A smooth running new 400 cubic inch V-8 that burns regular fuel is introduced as an option on the big Chevrolet and also is available on Monte Carlo," DeLorean said.

"Two new high torque 454 cubic inch V-8's replace 427 cubic inch engines offered on the big Chevrolet in 1969."

He said mechanical improvements include smoother engine acceleration through the use of a transmission controlled vacuum spark advance.

There is extended use of variable-ratio power steering which gives more responsive maneuverability in turns and parking. It is now available on all 1970 models except station wagons and Nova models with four-cylinder engines.

Longer Life, fiberglass-belted tires are standard on all 1970 Chevrolet models.

Every 1970 model has extensive safety features for occupant protection, accident prevention and anti-theft.

New for 1970 among Chevrolet's more than 400 options and accessories are improved electric door locks, replacing vacuum locks.

With the electric door locks is a new automatic front seat back release for coupes which unlatches when either front door is opened, for easier access to the rear seat. The latch re-locks securely when the door is closed.

Also new is an electric rear deck lid release operated from inside the glove box.

A new Headlight Delay option reminds the driver with a warning buzzer if he opens his door without turning off his headlights. After the lights are off, he may push a timer button on the instrument panel and lights will turn on for about two minutes to provide illumination after he leaves the car.

Radio antennas contained within the windshield glass will be factory installed when radios are ordered on all 1970 Chevrolets. They replace outside mast antennas used previously and are not subject to being broken or bent. A new highly compact combination AM or AM-FM stereo radio and tape player unit fits snugly in the instrument panel.

Also available is a broader than ever variety of trailering, towing and recreational vehicles.

Chevrolet offers 15 colors, most of them new, for 1970. There are up to seven two-tone combinations, five vinyl top colors and two convertible top colors.

Here are additional details by car line:

Monte Carlo — This totally new Chevrolet blends action and elegance in a sporty personal luxury car. There is one model — a 2 door hardtop coupe.

It has the longest hood of any car in Chevrolet history — a full six feet from grille to concealed windshield wipers.

The distinctive front has a die cast plated metal grille which gives precise detail and brilliance. New single-unit headlights are up to 14 per cent brighter than other single lamp systems. Body side panels have smooth flowing line, accented by a full length bright molding and brushed chrome wheel covers. Roof styling is formal. The deck is short and trim. Vertical tail lights complete the image of an all-new car from Chevrolet.

Monte Carlo is built on an easy handling 116-inch wheel base. Compared to an Impala Coupe it is 9 inches shorter in overall length, more than one inch lower and is four inches less in width.

The interior is finely tailored in keeping with the car's luxury concept. The distinctive instrument panel — which groups precision-faced gauges and controls in a wide cluster — has the look of rich burl grain elm, and does the steering wheel.

Conventional seats are standard with buckets and floor coverings optional.

Besides a wide selection of options, all advanced features of other Chevrolet models are incorporated in Monte Carlo. There is Astro Ventilation, full door glass styling, complete sound insulation and corrosion-resistant fiberglass inner fenders.

Both body and chassis construction emphasize a smooth quiet ride and nimble handling. There is a new separate perimeter-type frame and full coil suspension.

Five V-8 engines give the buyer a wide choice in Monte Carlo performance. The base V-8 is the same 250 horsepower 3 cubic inch engine standard on the 1970 big Chevrolet. There are also 400 cubic inch engines and exclusive on the Monte Carlo SS is a 454 cubic inch V-8 developing 360 horsepower.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITY — RESPONSIBILITY — THE NEW BALANCE SHEET FOR BUSINESS

This article was adapted from a speech delivered by Hamilton B. Mitchell, President and Chief Executive Officer of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. at the recent Commencement exercises at Bryant College, Providence, Rhode Island.

We in business recognize that dissident militants in the universities who advocate violence as the primary means of change represent a small minority of the student population. I'm sure that I speak for a large group of business executives who recognize and compliment the great majority of students who, despite their warranted desire for change, seek it within the framework of our laws and institutions.

The business community recognizes, as you do, that there are tremendous social inequities — stupid, unfair and unrealistic inequities — that simply have to be corrected if we are to survive. The frustrating part of this turmoil is that we cannot produce harmony and happiness by issuing a social edict in the form of law. Those who advocate the so-called "hard-core" approach are doing more to aggravate than help the situation. The cause must be treated before we can begin to control the effects. To do otherwise results in serious social injustice. The real issue is: are we too late? Is there a way out? I am sure there is. I am equally sure it will be difficult and take time — a long time. Yet I, for one, see a faint light ahead.

It's axiomatic, and even tiresome, to repeat that our only constant is change. It is true, nevertheless, and if we can understand it and somehow make it work for us we have it made. Call it the development of job satisfaction. Call it planned achievement. In one form or another, it spells personal success. And this is our quest.

Business is both an art and a science. Certainly, the computer serves the scientific requirements, but this is only one side of the coin. It is the non-human side. Understand it. Make it work for you . . . but recognize that it is only one side. Let us turn the coin over.

Fifty years ago, business spent very little money on research and development of new products. A quarter of a century later, new-product research and development began to emerge as an accepted, necessary investment. Ten years ago (and these times are, of course, approximate at best) business began to develop a new concept of investment in the future. I call it "Social R&D." It recognizes that business and society are one, that social problems are also business problems and that the disadvantaged had better be served. Otherwise business and society will suffer and go down together. This is not just nice, cocktailparty talk. This is self-serving, survivorship talk. It is real and necessary. Business relates to the social problems at the local level. Business has a tremendous investment in its immediate community and in our Nation. This investment is now being increased daily through wide-ranging, imaginative action programs sponsored by leading American companies.

The National Alliance of Business is doubling its program to hire and train hard-core unemployed and is now operating in 125 cities.

Major oil companies are running intensive service station management courses for the hard-core unemployed.

In the last eight months of 1968, the three major automakers hired and trained more than 35,000 of the hard-core unemployed.

The Bell System has a rapidly-expanding program to hire, train and promote central city, hard-core unemployed.

A number of companies have adopted ghetto area high schools, providing comprehensive technical training and assistance programs.

There are so many new programs to assist black business men and encourage initiative and ownership that I could talk to you for hours on the subject.

All these programs testify to the growing voluntary commitment of the businessman. It is a commitment of skills, know-how, and drive.

Business is a part of the community. Each office, each factory, is a community within a community, and they cannot operate successfully if the immediate environs are unhealthy, or degrading. And business — if it be profitable — has the money to spend for Social Research and Development. Please notice that I said, "if it be profitable." Perhaps this is a good time to express myself with respect to profit, realizing that to some it has become an evil word.

Only recently, a survey taken among college students indicated that 60% did not believe that the profit motive was necessary. Possibly, what they have not stopped to realize is that competitive business — which offers the individual and the investor, the employee and the consumer, incentives and freedom of choice — could not survive without profit. Profit derived from business is the thrust, the power, the motivation behind our free society. Some of you will ultimately end up devoting your lives to the public sector, and our collective hats are off to you. Whether you go into government or into a foundation-financed social program is immaterial. The fact remains that either one is entirely dependent upon the real wealth produced by the private sector of our economy. Without profits, there can be no taxes, without taxes, there can be no government operation. I submit to you that profit is not only desirable; it is essential. Naturally, it must not be abused. What is a fair profit? I, personally, like the definition I found in our own Dun's Review of May, 1964 . . . "A fair profit is the margin by which risk is rewarded and survival assured in the market place." Profit-making is not a privilege. It is a responsibility. It is basic to growth and, if a company does not grow in our highly competitive society, it will eventually pass from the scene.

I spoke earlier of the faint light that I see ahead, providing business continues to recognize its opportunities and further implements its social responsibilities. The business balance sheet of the future will be not only a tabulation of assets and liabilities, but also a measurement of how each business reaches out for opportunity and assumes responsibility. Business should not exclude government in this same area of responsibility, but rather should work in conjunction with it. I sincerely believe that businessmen and the companies they represent must be leaders.

Of course it's important and essential that all of us concern ourselves with broad social principles. This is not meaningful, however, unless it can somehow be related to each of you. What does it mean to your life? How should you react? How can you help? How can you benefit? And, let me add, there is nothing wrong with this so-called "selfish concern!"

I have indicated that business is both an art and a science. The art side has to do with people. Of crucial importance is one's ability to get along with people, to understand them, to appreciate them, to work with them, to help them and be helped by them. This is the most essential ingredient . . . even more important than the scientific side.

 "Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. These verses from Proverbs are included: "He that hath a beautiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor . . . Rob not the poor, because he is poor; neither oppress the afflicted in the gate.

Related passages read: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God . . . The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" "(Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Unusual Shoe At The Bremen Art Center

A very artistically mounted show of oils, watercolors and sculptured candles arranged in unique combinations drew many interested Bremen residents as well as viewers from the whole Michiana area to the Sunday opening at the Bremen Art Center, 124 E. Plymouth St., Bremen.

The show featured a wide variety of Betty Mougins' oils and polymers. There were a number of floral bouquets caught momentarily in softly blended oils as well as dynamic abstracts demonstrating Mrs. Mougins' excellent handling of a vibrant palette.

Highlighted in the exhibit is a charming small Mexican room featuring an oil entitled "Tlaquepaque Potters". Inspiration for this room evolved from Mrs. Mougins' many trips to Mexico. Mrs. Mougins, past president of the Bremen Art Center, will be teaching a class in Basic Painting this Fall at the Art Center.

A portion of the show consists of a number of Mr. Ed Herrmann's framed full sheet watercolor seascapes. These paintings were done on the spot this summer during Mr. Herrmann's stay on rugged Cape Ann, near Gloucester, Mass. His group of vigorous seascapes is entitled "Herrmann on the vigorous seascapes" is entitled "Herrmann on the Rocks" Mr. Herrmann is a well known South Bend Artist and teacher.

Welding the show together are Mary Gail Cripe's unusual sand sculptured candles beautifully displayed on weathered wood and accented with stones, driftwood, dried flowers and weeds. These candles ranging in size from several inches to thirty inches high are original creations of Mrs. Cripe's and approach true sculpture with their varied textures and unusual forms and colors. Mrs. Cripe has been an exhibitor and winner at many national candle shows.

Accents the whole show were many colored batik throw pillows created by students at the art center.

Mrs. Mougins, Mrs. Cripe, and Al Meloy, Vice-president of the Center, must be complimented on their effective treatment of the gallery in setting up this show.

The show will be up through Sept. 14th and the gallery hours are 2-5 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Fall term at the Art Center will start the week of September 15th and will include classes in Oils, Watercolors, Basic Painting, Ceramics, Pottery and Clay Handbuilding, and Interior Decorating. For further information call 546-2283.

Mustang gallops into 1970 with design changes and improvements for performance, comfort, convenience and safety. Grande (top) offers a standard three-quarter Landau-style vinyl roof, dual body side stripes, aluminum rocker panel moldings, and houndstooth upholstery. Mach I (bottom) is tougher in looks and performance with dark-accented aluminum rocker panel moldings, "honeycomb" lower back panel applique, dual racing mirrors and Ford's new 351 four-barrel V-8 as the standard power plant. All seven Mustang models have high-back bucket seats as standard.

Eric Hughes Is On CMA Squad

Eric Hughes of Culver is on the Culver Military Academy football squad which opens the season Friday night at Attica. Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughes, W. Terrace, is a 5'10", 159-pound senior at Culver and plays right end. The Eagles, under the new head coach Dave Nelson, will be trying to better last year's 2-6 record.

CMA To Begin Football Season With Attica

Culver Military Academy makes a late entrance into the Indiana high school football show Friday night. The Eagles, who are taking over from a new head coach this year, will go on the road and travel to Attica for their first performance. While Dave Nelson doesn't anticipate any miracles this year, he hopes to at least brighten up last season's 2-6 record.

Even though Culver's opener is a week earlier than last year's, all of the Academy's Indiana opponents are still one game ahead. Attica, host for the first contest, has already scored a 14-0 victory over Battleground and also participated in a pre-season jamboree. Bremen, number two on the cadets' schedule, posted a weekend win over Triton, 25-0.

Bloomington University, Mishawaka Marian and Bishop Luers also had wins but Wabash and Northwood suffered losses. The Academy's out-of-state opponents who round out the nine-game schedule, St. John's Miltary Academy and Grosse Pointe, have not yet seen action.

In past years Culver played only an eight-game schedule. This is the first year for Culver to meet Attica and Nelson expects some good competition from the downstate school. "They have big linemen. Their front line outweighs ours," he reports. "They've got a good running quarterback and the bonus of experience in one game and a jamboree."

Culver's assets lie mainly in 12 returning lettermen. Nelson will be relying on senior Bud Hornbeck of South Bend as quarterback. Tailback Rich Raes of Beaumont, Texas, who scored 47 points last season, will again be in the starting line-up.

Other starters will be returning lettermen Ben Oppenlander of Bloomington, Ind. at fullback; Jim Gault of Nothfield, Ill. at center; Roger Steele of Roanoke, Va., guard; Tom Stead of Flint, Mich., guard; co-captain Jeb Terry of Tulsa, tackle; Roscoe Howard of Petersburg, Va., and co-captain Rick Jennings of Brownsville, Texas, ends. Two players who earned starting spots without letters are John Grant of Glen Ellyn at wingback and Jim Riley of Atherton, Calif., at tackle.

Other returning lettermen expected to see action are Roy Orth of Kansas City, Mo., a m guard, and John Graham of York City, an end. Kendall Evansville, reported for practice with the rest of the squad, 25, but had to return home cause of a knee injury. He not yet returned to the squad.

The biggest man on Culver line is guard Tom Stead, weighs 210. The other line average 186.

Nelson, a Culver and Ball State graduate, moved up to the spot this year after Russ Oretired from coaching with years of football behind him. Nelson's assistants are Stetson and Jim DeArmond, Jerry Planulis and B. G. O'Brien, running the freshman program.

Everyone knows that the only way to wealth is to economize.
