Final Plans Underway For Adult Education

An interest preference to determine courses and to finalize plans for 1969 - 70 Adult Education curricular offering for the Culver Community Schools Corporation school district was announced here this week by Gene Crosley, Director of Adult Education.

The announcement detailing course description and naming instructors in fifteen available courses was given to pupils in each school for their parents. In addition, the announcement was made available to the general public.

Crosley requested that interested adults indicate their preference of courses and return to him on or before December 15, 1969, so that materials can be ordered and final plans can be made.

The ten-week evening classes are scheduled to start the week of January 12, continuing through March 20, 1970. Scheduled two-hour classes run for five weeks. All classes will meet in the new Culver Community High School.

Tuition fee is one dollar per hour of instruction, with a maximum of $12.00.

The wide adult offering listed in the announcement includes Art, Agriculture, Literature, Creative Writing, Development Reading, Typing, Welding, Machine Shop, Drafting, Recreational Physical Education, Photography, Spanish, French, Upholstery, and sewing.

Though not presently scheduled, if there is sufficient interest, two other three-session courses will be considered, Crosley stated. They are Investment and Adult Sex Education.

Mrs. Mary Allen will be the instructor in Art. Craft oriented, the course instruction projects will include weaving, design, collage, rug-hooking, etc.

Stephen Brown, Vocational Agriculture instructor, is developing plans for the Agriculture Class. Dennis Burch will teach the course for which there will be no fee.

Arthur Hughes, Culver Military Master Instructor of English and Fine Arts Department Chairman, will teach the Literature course which will emphasize Black Literature. There will be no fee for the five-session, two hour course.

Creative Writing, a ten session, one hour course, will be taught by veteran Culver Military Academy instructor William J. MacQuillan. The course is the same as Mr. MacQuillan taught at Indiana University Extension in 1968-69.

With emphasis on building reading speed and comprehension, Barbara Hughes, Culver Community High School English Department, will teach the special adult course in Developmental Reading.

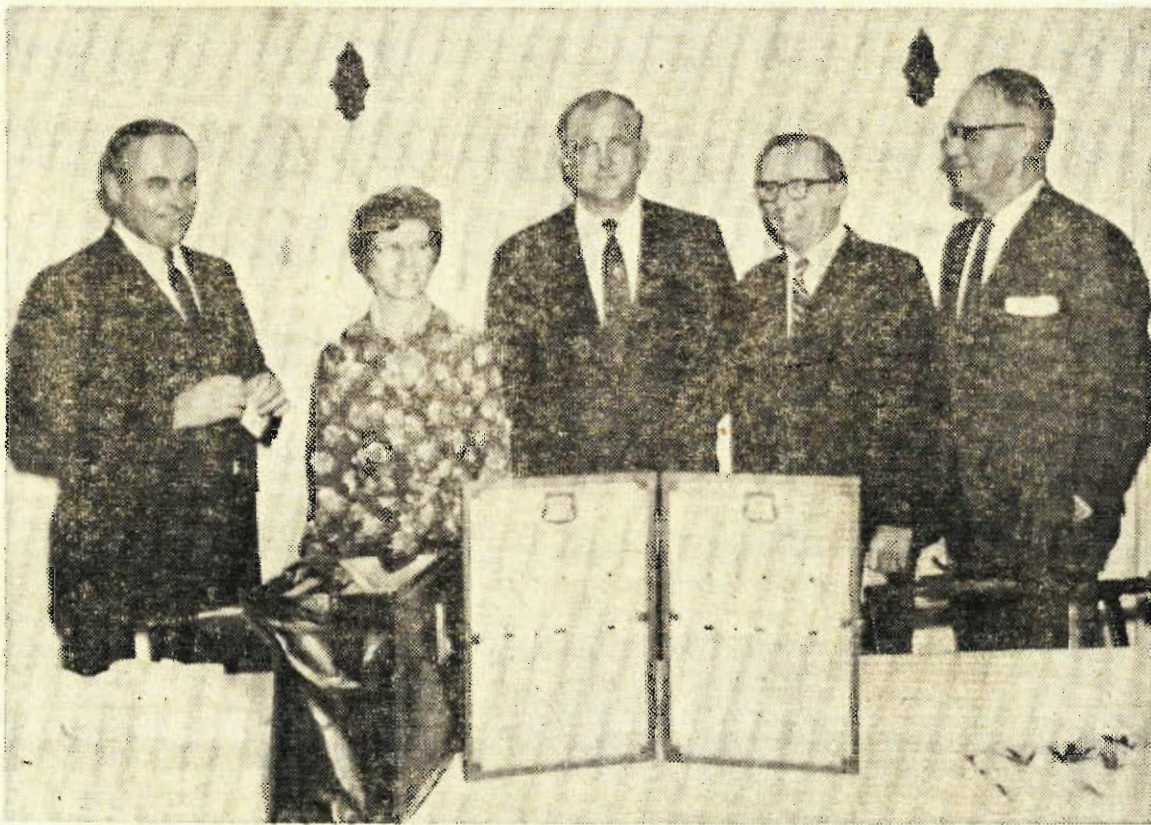

Mrs. Jan McIntire will teach Typing, geared for beginners and those interested in regaining skills.

Instruction in Welding, Drafting, and Machine Shop will be directed by Ray Gangloff. The Welding course, limited to seven adults, will include general and electrical welding. The ten, two hour sessions will involve a double tuition fee.

Drafting will feature mechanical and architectural drawing instructor. Machine Shop will be limited to six persons and will include instruction in operation of lathe.

Terry Mishler will teach photography. The course is for be-

Sgt. Zack Speaks At Chamber Meeting Monday Night

Detective Sgt. Robert Zack spoke before the Culver Chamber of Commerce meeting held on Monday evening about the marijuana and drug problem facing our nation.

Permissiveness on the part of the parents seems to be a contributing factor on the use of drugs.

Those who use drugs say, "the world is in a mess, some day they are going to drop the big mushroom and you might as well live it up while you can." Kids can't be bought, money is not it, and as parents we fail. A sense of belonging to a group induces many to do what the group does.

Parents are an essential part of the cure and the schools are also a part of preventing this problem.

Sgt. Zek stated, "You can recognize the signs that are very evident when a youth starts to use drugs. His eyes are puffy, and his nose starts to drip. There is a general drowsiness with a dilatation of the eyes. He is irritable. There are changes in his health habits, he associates with a different crowd. He gimmers and emphasis will include light sensitive materials.

An introductory course in Spanish and in French, with Miss Carmen Vasquez and Miss Vickie Dearth, respectively, instructing, will be offered.

Joe Boetsma, who heads the Boetsma Furniture Firm will be the instructor in an upholstery course which will meet for ten two-hour sessions. Both class instruction and actual bench work, including cutting, sewing, lay up, tie springs, etc. will be features of the instruction. Participants are to furnish their own pieces for work.

Miss Phyllis Fields has agreed to conduct a class in Beginning Sewing. The ten session, one and one-half hour class will meet twice weekly, skipping a week between the eighth and ninth meetings. Instruction will involve construction of shirtwaist dress, to include waistband, set in sleeves, collar, zipper and or button opening.

is easily offended and his school work goes down. It is a sudden change of personality."

A youth must be counseled by a friend, pastor, priest, or better, a parent. Marijuana has no medicinal value or therapeutic value, it is destructive to all that is worthwhile.

Culver United Fund Drive Is Completed

The Culver-Union Township United Fund drive for 1969 officially ended on Saturday, November 15th. On that date, according to Dr. Frank Setzler, chairman of this year's drive, the campaign had reached 70% of its goal. By Saturday, only 44% of the workers had turned in their results, as it appears that the drive will achieve 100% of the goal when all returns are in.

Dr. Setzler urges all workers to complete their calls, and he points out that it is vital for all members of the community to contribute to the campaign. Workers should turn their receipt books and money in to area captains as soon as possible. If a worker wishes, he may turn his books and money in to Larry Davis at the State Exchange Bank. It is important that all results be submitted immediately so that the directors can close the books on this year's campaign.

If anyone has not been contacted by a United Fund Worker but wishes to contribute, he should call Dr. Setzler at 842-3444.

The chairman of the drive and the directors of the United Fund are pleased with the efforts which the area captains and the workers have made in the 1969 Fund drive. Again this year, all those who have worked to organize the campaign and collect funds will be honored at a banquet early in December.

Cavaliers Lose Heartbreaker In Season Opener

Culver's Cavaliers opened the 1969-1970 basketball season Saturday night and were victims of a heartbreaking loss to Argos 78-77. The game was played before a full house at the Argos gym as both schools are breaking new head coaches this season, and both lost heavily to graduation from last year's squads.

The Cavaliers opened with a rush as the boys went out and got a job done the way it is supposed to be. Although short in experience, the Cavaliers played an almost perfect quarter against Argos and their man-to-man defense. The Cavaliers were running well, executing the fast break to perfection when they had the opportunity, and setting up and working the ball when they needed to.

John Bauer, the only returning letterman, opened the scoring with a free throw and Argos responded with a basket by Thompson. Stu Manchester hit a jump shot only to have Waechter come back with a lay in and Sherwood hit a free throw. Bauer hit another free throw and then a 12 foot jumper on which he was fouled to convert the three point play for a 7-5 lead. Serwood flipped in a turnaround jumper but at this point, the Cavaliers took command for the rest of the period.

Rich Ruhnnow hit a pair of free throws and after a missed Argos shot, gathered in a perfect clearing pass from Manchester to score on a fast break lay in. Treber hit a free throw for Argos, but Don Ehlinger clipped in a nine footer. Wagner hit his first point of a productive night as he scored one of two from the foul line, but another fast break resulted in Ruhnnow on the scoring end with another good clearing pass from Manchester. Manchester also added a basket and with 3:47 left in the first period, Culver had moved to a 17-9 lead.

Argos fought back with baskets by Treber and Sherwood, but Culver then hit eight straight points. Sherwood broke the streak with a lay in, but Ken Matzat hit two more charity shots and after Sherwood pushed in another free throw, Ruhnnow led Ehlinger in a fast break for a lay in with just two seconds left. This gave the Cavaliers a commanding 29-16 margin after the first quarter.

Argos Presses

The troubles were about to come however, as Argos went into a zone press to start the second period. Getting the tip, the Dragons hit quietly as Thompson flipped on in from the lane. For the next couple of minutes, the Argos press did the job and completely bottled up the young Cavaliers. Argos scored nine straight points to cut the lead to four before Bauer broke the string with 2:07 gone in the period. By the 3:22 mark, Argos had closed the gap 35-33 as the scoring pace slowed down, only to have the Cavaliers come back strong with eight straight points once again. Bauer, Ruhnnow and Ehlinger had baskets and Ehlinger added two from the 15 foot line for a 10 point lead. However, Argos got the last two baskets of the period by Sherwood and f the period by Sherwood and Wagner to cut the halftime margin to 43-37.

The two teams just traded points for the first six minutes before Argos put on a drive that caught the Cavaliers. With 2:05

Board Receives One Bid On New Police Car

Since town board member, George Becker, was absent from Monday's meeting, no action was taken on the sole bid received for a new police car. President Donald Osborn opened the sealed bid which was presented by the Van Horn Ford-Mercury Agency for the amount of $2,790. This amount includes trade-in of the old car. The board's decision will be made at a later date.

The resignation of Ron Van Horn from the Culver Police force was accepted by the board.

It was noted that the town had received a request from the Indiana Bell Telephone Company to install underground wires in Culver. Specifications and line prints will be sent to the board in the near future.

Osborn announced that Eater day Construction Company was in the process of finishing up their part in the new water system. The operation of the plant will then be turned over to the town. Osborn also noted that Roger Thews had been contacted to replace the damaged engine that the town is responsible for.

In final action, Vert McFeeley requested permission to remove an unused heating unit from the beach lodge and install it in the room where the firemen hold meetings. The board granted the request.

SCORPIO - Oct. 24 to Nov. 22 - There's absolutely nothing wrong in the chart for Scorpio this week, except for a strong urge to "gamble". You would be most wise to curb this feeling, and "play it safe."

SAGITTARIUS - Nov. 23-Dec. 21 - Your ruling planet, Jupiter is now in splendid aspect with not only your sun sign but also with Saturn. This should bring about many pleasant, lucky, and enjoyable occurrences in daily living.

CAPRICORN - Dec. 22 to Jan. 20 - The "Mars opposition Saturn" adverse Mercury aspect, is BOUND to affect all Capricorn persons. This would normally be a good time for "new starts" but you'll be wise to wait until after the middle of November.

GUEST EDITORIAL

A Letter From A Skeptical Son To His Bald-Headed Father

Dear Dad:

Last time I was home, you said some significant things about my interest in radical proposals for a new social order. When you told me I was too young for same opinion on such matters, you insinuated that your generation is better qualified to find "the way out" than mine. I question this assumption. I do not believe that those who led us into this mess are capable of "leading" us out.

Dad, believe me when I say that I am indebted to you for paternal love and protection, but believe me also when I say that my generation holds in contempt the colossal social, economic, and political blunders which you perpetuated. As we survey the worthless heritage of crime, war, poverty and greed, we unite in shouting, "We will have none of it. There must be a second Renaissance!" And we scrutinize our entire inheritance to find the true value of these institutions. If you say our sin is lack of respect, then we can answer, "Veneration was your sin."

"Our capitalistic democracy is the ultimate in modern government," I have heard you brag. May I call your attention to the metropolitan editor who recently said "I support this man because he is the least crooked of the three." Trust our economic leaders," you assure me. I answer, "Men are starving today in the shadows of your rotting granaries and hog-butcher establishments, Dad. Under your system privation increases in proportion to the increase in production. "Hold fast to the religion of your fathers" you warn, and I cannot help wondering, "Has that religion lessened hatred, crime, war and suffering in its 20-century trial? Are its fundamental concepts philosophically sound?"

Dad, our young people are admittedly a skeptical crowd. What we have lost in the comfort of blind faith, we have gained in the assurance of empirical, scientific reasoning. If this fact-facing attitude be heresy, you may style us "heretics." If we worship reality instead of sublimity, you may say that we are fools. If science has altered our moral convictions, and if our new freedom conflicts with your age-old prohibitions, then you may consign us to your fiery hells.

But: One thing is certain. Win or lose, right or wrong, we are beginning to THINK THROUGH these things. We are trying to see "beyond our noses"; we are striving to build a better world. In that struggle we ask your cooperation, realizing that our youthful ambition, coupled with your aged perspective, is the one combination which can solve the riddle of these times.

Well — how about it, Dad?

(The above editorial appeared in the Kent State campus newspaper in 1934. It was written by the student editor, Walter W. Seifert, now an associate professor of journalism at OSU. Today, at 55, he is a confessed conservative. "A sort of middle-of-the-roader — halfway between Barry Goldwater and the John Birch Society." He says, regarding the quoted editorial, "The more things change, the more they stay the same. This editorial could have been written by any of our young rebels just yesterday.") process these values were suffocated by domineering, imperialistic, power-hungry elites.

We say that we are fighting in Vietnam to uphold freedom and democracy, yet we support a corrupt, puppet government which fails to represent the people of the country. We are fighting there to protect the people from destruction by the Communists, yet we destroy their villages, uproot and separate families and kill people at a rate almost the same as that of the Communists. It is said that we must remain in Vietnam because we cannot go back on our work, yet we have violated the 1954 Geneva Accords and nullified the free elections they established. All of this is done in the name of America and freedom.

I personally cannot tolerate this degradation of American values. I cannot stand to idly watch as freedom and democracy are prostituted in Vietnam. I love America; I love her too much to watch her destroy herself, as is presently happening in Southeast Asia. I cannot see the sense in fighting to defeat the Communists if in the process democracy and freedom die. To me, these values upon which America was founded must be preserved . . . without them there will be no America. Thus it is to save America, not to aid her enemies, that I protest the Vietnam War.

Mail Early To Beat The Christmas Rush

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Postmaster E. W. Mattox advised today.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressing place in the world," he added, "if it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following mailing schedule.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by December 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be mailed by December 15.

The importance is also emphasized of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple extra seconds, but pays big dividends.

ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

A return address might not seem very important, but last year 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at twenty-five cents, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelopes had contained a return address.

Candelight Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss Sheryl Susan Elick and Michael Win Hansen were united in marriage at 7 p.m. in a candelight ceremony in the First Christian Church of Knox. The Rev. Ray Patterson performed the double ring service.

Organist Mrs. Harry Price accompanied the vocalist, Miss May Cider, in the wedding music. Hurricane lanterns marked the pews of the center aisle and the altar was decorated with baskets of assorted mums and candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Elick, Sr., Knox, are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Win C. Hansen of Culver.

A redingote effect was achieved over tiers of Chantilly lace ruffles in the bride's full-skirted gown over taffeta, with long, bias-lace over taffeta, with long, bishop sleeves. The cameo neckline of the gown was touched with iridescent sequins. Her lace-edged mantilla was draped over a Camelot cap and extended into a chapel-length train. A white cymbidium orchid with white sweetheart roses and ivy formed her cascade bouquet.

Miss Paula Thompson was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Floyd Elick Jr., sister in law of the bride from South Bend, Mrs. Jerry Berndt, cousin of the bride from Knox, and Miss Vicki Wray, also the bride's cousin, South Bend.

Simple floor-length sheaths of yellow organza over taffeta were chosen by the attendants. Each gown was made with a scoop neckline, long sheer sleeves and a band of yellow satin forming a bow in back of the Empire waistline. A white velvet bow on yellow netting held streamers of yellow daisies which fell down the back of each attendant's head. Their bouquets were of white carnations, yellow sweetheart roses and yellow and bronze mums arranged in a cascade.

The flower girl, Miss Jackie Haynes, cousin of the bride, was attired in a white dotted Swiss with yellow ribbon trim.

Sheldon Berndt acted as best man for the groom. Groomsmen were Floyd Elick, Jr., South Bend, brother of the bride; John Hansen, Culver, brother of the groom; and John McFarlin, Elkhart, brother in law of the groom. Guests were ushered to their seats by Randy Hansen, Plymouth, a cousin of the groom, and Mark Richey, cousin of the bride, Knox. Bobbie Lynch, Knox, carried the rings.

Serving at the reception in the church social rooms were Miss Edith Jackson, Mrs. Kathy Berndt and Miss Becky Green. After a week's honeymoon in St. Louis, the couple is at home on R.R. 1, Box 162, LaCrosse.

The new Mrs. Hansen graduated from Knox High School and is in the Knox office of United Telephone Company.

Her husband is with Knox Auto Supply. He graduated from Culver High School and attended Purdue University.

Rally, Bonfire And Dance Big Success

By

Jan Price and Margaret Ruhnow

An enthusiastic parade and bonfire touched off Culver's basketball season, Friday, November 14. Sixteen organizations and the four high school classes were represented in the parade which began at 6:30 p.m. at Culver's Town Hall and wound down Lake Shore Drive to Main Street and concluded in the High School Parking lot. The massive bonfire was lit while the Pep Band, which was on hand all through the parade furnishing lively music, played the school song.

Mr. Terry Haskel, Culver's Varsity Coach, addressed the crowd around the fire with a stimulating Pep Talk, encouraging fans to follow the team at away games as well as home games. Captain John Bauer introduced the members of the squad.

Trophies for the best organization float went to the Girl's Athletic Association's entry, representing an Argos player in a coffin with a Cavalier standing over him in victory. The Senior Class float, an outsized whale with a pair of feet sticking out of its jaws captioned, "We'll swallow anything but defeat," took the class prize. The choice was hard for the judges. The Juniors formed a snake line Dragon being beaten with a broom, by their Cavalier. The Sophomore Porpoise had as his purpose the defeat of Argos. The Fresh entry featured Snoopy as the Red Baron.

As the bonfire died down, the focus of the activities turned to the "Necking Dance in the gym." Actually, the necking had to do with the admission charged; 25¢ per inch of neck from chin to collar bone. Music was furnished by the Blue Haze.

Students Tour Packing Company

The Senior Home Ec. IV girls and the Junior Agriculture boys toured Wilson's Meat Packing Company in Logansport on October 20. The sponsors and chaperones of the trip were Mrs. Ralph Winters, Home Economics teacher, Mr. Steven Brown, Agriculture teacher, and Mrs. Brown. The purpose of attending Wilson's was to learn more about the process of preparing and packaging meat.

Our guide, John Anderson took us through the building. As we entered the main processing room, we saw the pigs being dropped into a hair-removing machine. This removes most of the hair. The rest is scraped off with a knife. From there the pig is attached to a conveyor belt where it hangs by the feet. As the pigs pass through the room all the parts inside the body are distributed to be cleaned for usage. The carcasses are moved on to the head table where the different parts of the head are separated for use. The guide informed us that all parts of the body are used for one are removed, the remaining carcass is cut into various parts. We then went to various rooms and saw meat being cured, packaged, and stored, waiting to be transported.

The tour taught everyone more about meat and it's processing.

On November 10, our Chapter Mothers, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Lucas, were present at the meeting. They were each presented with a special FHA Chapter Mother pin. The pin is the FHA pin and guard with a big M in the middle of the guard.

A new Girl of the Month was elected for November. This month she was chosen for her cooking ability. Cathy Bartosik received the honor. The charm to be added to the bracelet is an egg beater.

The coat and hat check for the basketball games will be available to the public again this year. There will be attendants before and during the B-team game but not during the varsity game. The fee shall still be $10.

CCHS Students To Attend Convocation

By Dennis Emigh

C. C. H. S. students are attending a convocation at the Culver Military Academy's Eppley Auditorium, to see the Paul Winter Contemporary Consort on November 20, at 1:00 p.m.

The Paul Winter Combo is a group of young musicians who are developing an original idiom of music, a unique blend of symphonic orchestration, folk and jazz. The seven-piece group includes an alto sax, cello, english horn, alto flute, classical and 12-string guitar bass and a variety of folk and percussion instruments including a set of seven native drums.

The combo plays everything from blues to Bach Cantatas. Their folk repertoire includes pieces from Africa, Europe, Asia and the Near East. Interpretations of music by contemporary artists such as Pete Seeger, Bob Dylan, the Beatles and Gil Evans play a part in the act, as well as adaptations of recognized composers such as Partok, Villa Labos, Ives and Carl Orff. Paul Winter organized his first group, a jazz sextet, while a student of Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois. This group won the 1961 Intercollegiate Jazz Festival and was signed to a recording contract by Columbia.

The State Department sent the group on a six-month tour of 23 Latin American countries. The success of this tour resulted in an invitation from the Kennedy's to play the first jazz concert ever presented at the White House.

The students are looking forward to a memorable afternoon.

Miss Shanks And Mr. Hayes Visit Universities

BY Marg Ruhnow

Miss Ruth Shanks, guidance counselor at C.C.H.S., traveled to Indiana University at Bloomington, Tuesday, November 18, to talk to college freshmen who attended Culver last year. These people are Pam Welch, Tom Vondra, Pam Moran, Ed Kozlowski, Sally Riccardi and Martin Easterday. She discussed with them the types of courses they took while in high school which have been most helpful in their college curriculum and what courses they would like to have had before entering college. Miss Shanks then attended a seminar entitled, "Current Campus Happenings."

Later this week, Mr. Hayes, high school principal, will attend a conference at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. He will talk to Karen Banks, Vicki Clifton, Kerry Haines, Ed Lehman, Bill Lietz, Pat Surber and John Wamsley. Mr. Hayes will be asking these students the same sort of questions.

Attention Kids

Kids... here's good news for all of you from Mr. T's Rex-all Drug Store. Ron Tusing, owner of the store, has some great prizes in store for you in his second annual Boys' and Girls' Contest. Mr. T has gone out this year and is giving a 9 inch Panasonic television away as the grand prize. Prizes for the boys include a 3-speed, Stingray bike with a stick shift and hand brakes; a Super-eye telescope and microscope; radio-phonograph AC-DC; G. E. miniature AM portable radio.

For girls there is a 2-speed, Stingray 18 inch bike with stick shift and hand brakes; Cavatina Mod Timex watch, Fireside Cat, and a G.E. miniature AM portable radio.

All you have to do to enter is ask your folks, your older brother or sister, to fill out a nomination blank for you. Take a look at the contest rules and return your nomination blank to Mr. T's. That's all there is to it... there's nothing for you to buy. After your name has been nominated, then all you need to do is ask all your family and friends to shop at Mr. T's to help you win. They will be entitled for votes on every item purchased except from the fountain.

So hurry kids and get your name on the list. The nomination closing date is December 1.

MENTAL HEALTH

REMINDER

The Mental Health Association in Marshall County is reminding us all again that a Christmas gift to a Beatty Hospital patient would be appreciated - and would be easy to do. Just buy something (for a man or woman) and take it unwrapped to Trone's store before December 1st. (If you prefer to give a gift of money, make your check payable to the Mental Health Association in Indiana). You will make Christmas happier for someone who doesn't have much to be happy about.

HOW TO CREATE A MERRIER CHRISTMAS

Dreaming of a Christmas celebration with all the trimmings? Take matters into your own hands—and make those trimmings yourself!

Bake a gingerbread Santa... "paint" ordinary candles with Yuletide motifs...crochet some witty new trees trims, or stitch a whole new tree!

These are just a few of the festive suggestions in McCall's Christmas Make-It Ideas magazine, now on your newsstand. In it, you'll find instructions for making everything from mittens to mobiles—over 300 items in all.

Set the stage for a gala Christmas with a trio of felt wall hangings richly depicting the Three McCall's suggests that you try the gentle (and economical) art of wax painting, melting down old candles to decorate new ones!

Trimming the tree is always fun, but it becomes a ball when you create luxurious ornaments from kitchen odds and ends. Styrofoam balls are covered with macaroni, nut shells, or fruit pits and sprayed with gold paint for a lavish look.

Tiny aluminum foil angels can also take a shine to your tree. And kids' eyes will light up at the sight of charming animal trims made from scraps of felt and yarn.

Then, why not branch out and make your own miniature trees for tabletop displays? Do it with paper bags, toothpicks, even eggshells! A knit-covered styrofoam cone becomes a pretty and permanent tree.

"The excitement of Christmas," according to editor Nan Comstock, "is in the joy of giving, especially the gifts one makes." Her magazine has enough gift ideas to keep Santa's workshop busy for years.

A knitted vest, long on looks and bright with Christmas colors, will give year-round pleasure. A cozy crocheted scarf and beret set is another fashion gift that will earn a warm welcome.

Delight the smaller fry with a snowman hand puppet or a cuddly cotton doll in foreign costume, made from free patterns in the McCall's handbook. For kids from 6 to 60, make merry Christmas stockings in the shape of reindeer, trains or high-button boots!

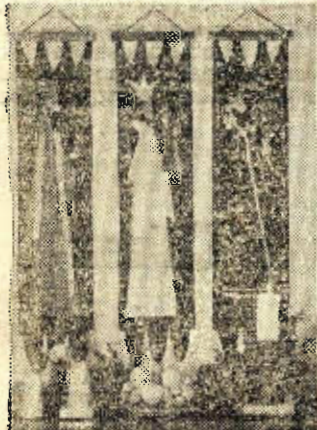

Good things come in small or large packages trimmed with gay pompon designs or stylized newspaper cut-outs. Equally creative are the Christmas cards you can assemble from colored paper triangles and paper-punch dots.

If you'd rather bake a Yuletide greeting, gingerbread letters can spill out "Merry Christmas" on a dinner table. Or use guests' cookie-initials as novel and edible place cards.

Whatever your tastes or talents, you're sure to find the makings of a merrier Christmas in the Christmas Make-It Ideas magazine.

Kings. Add the welcome glow of candles in gay seasonal designs.

It Takes More Than Anti-Freeze

If your car is properly conditioned there is little reason for it not to serve you as well in winter as during other seasons, advises the Chicago Motor Club-AAA.

In the past, however, stalled car problems have rivaled the common cold as the most frequent wintertime misery, according to John H. Struben, manager of the club's Emergency Road Service department.

This has happened, he said, because too many motorists think an adequate supply of anti-freeze in the radiator is sufficient to condition a car for winter driving.

"A car full of anti-freeze that won't start is about as useful as an automobile without wheels," Struben said, emphasizing:

"Car owners who haven't had their automobiles conditioned for winter should have it done immediately to avoid a tardy rush to a service station for winterizing - - after freezing weather has arrived - - or having a car that won't start."

He also emphasized that the basic causes for failure of cars to start in cold weather are loss of battery power and stiffness of engine oil.

However, to make sure that motorists know what is involved in proper conditioning of their cars for winter, Struben recommends following this checklist:

- - Drain and flush the radiator at two-year intervals; tighten hose clamps and replace soft or rotted hoses to prevent loss of anti-freeze; add permanent anti-freeze to guard against rust and evaporation.

- - Give engine a thorough tune-up, including check of alternator, distributor points and timing; cleaning or replacing spark plugs; and carburetor adjustment.

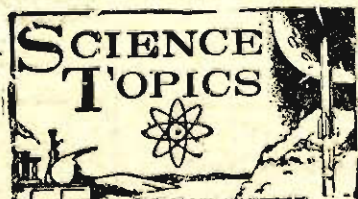

- - Test battery for full charge; clean terminals and make sure cables are tight.

- - Check fuel pump; fill crank case with winter-grade or all-weather oil; grease chassis; check fluid level in transmission, differential and power-operated units.

- - Apply graphite to all locks to keep them from freezing; check the defroster; replace ineffective windshield wiper blades; add anti-freeze solvent to automatic windshield washer reservoir.

- - Be sure brakes are equalized.

- - Check shock absorbers.

DENTAL MATERIALS

MUST BE HARMLESS
DENTISTRY is 50 years behind the times in developing biological standards for dental materials, says a University of Connecticut dental professor. He said that a dental material should be not only harmless but effective for its intended use in order to obtain a place among other remedies. He conceded that standardization of the "physical properties" of dental materials - - hardness, composition and the like - has been brought to a high point. But, he stressed, there has been a great lag in development of similar standards to evaluate the biological effects of these materials - - such as their compatibility or interaction with teeth, gums, and bones.

THIS COUNTRY'S first commercial supersonic transport (the SST) will be the largest and fastest commercial airplane flying during the next two decades. It will fly at about 60,000 feet altitude - - twice as high as today's commercial airplanes - - and cruise at 1300 miles per hour - - three times the speed of today's jets. The airplane will carry up to 300 passengers; will be approximately 300 feet long; will have a 142-foot long wing span and a tail height of 50 feet.

THE MICRONESIAN island of the central Pacific Ocean can be used as "dipsticks" to measure the true rise and fall of ocean levels, says Cornell University geologist. He reports that long-term changes in sea level caused by glaciers growing and shrinking conventionally have been measured on stable continental coasts. However, he added, continental coasts have been shown to be unreliable places on which to measure glacial changes of sea level because the load of water causes the continental shelves to bend, and this gives the appearance of excessive sea level rises.

MORE than 1,000 cans of lubricating oil can be filled each minute by rotary piston fillers made by Votator, Jefferson, Ky. One such high-speed filling machine, working a normal 40-hour week, can fill enough cans in that time to provide five-quart oil changes for about 500,000 passenger cars.

"PEOPLE think I'm going to build bridges or run a train when they hear I want to be an engineer," says Nancy Reinish. But Nancy, an 18-year-old engineering student at Columbia University, is more interested in making artificial hearts. She is one of eight women in the sophomore class in the college's engineering school. Nancy is following in the footsteps of her mother, who 25 years ago was the first woman engineering student at Columbia. "When I was a little girl I always wanted to be an electrical engineer, just like my mommy," Nancy said. But she has since changed her field to biomedical engineering.

INSTANT REPLAY, the technique of television so popular in sports broadcasts, has been adapted to the teaching of clinical anesthesiology with good results. A University of Washington researcher said the television tapes are made of a resident anesthesiologist from the time he brings the patient into the room until the surgery started. The trainee is his own teacher and learns to correct his own mistakes by watching himself.

MOST HIGH SCHOOL students earn extra money by delivering papers, baby-sitting, or working at odd jobs. Not Dan Dolata. He works in a research laboratory at the University of Oregon, synthesizing chemical compounds. Dan is a senior at Churchill High School in Eugene, where a special program allows seniors to attend a full load of classes in the morning and work in the afternoon. His regular afternoon job with a University research project is an abandoned barn behind the family home.

Homemakers want to know

By CEECE HINDS, Scott Home Service Center

Dear Ceece: Help! Is there any way to clean up oil: pieces of pewter?

Marian L.

Dear Marian L.: Yes, there is. Because pewter is a soft metal, it should be polished with mild silver polish applied with a paper towel. For a brighter finish, rub with fine steel wool dipped in olive oil. Wash and polish dry with paper towels.

Dear Ceece: At long last, we have eight complete place settings of our china pattern, but I'm almost afraid to touch it! Is there anything I can do to prevent chipping? Also, how should I remove coffee stains from the cups?

Mrs. B. J.

Dear Mrs. B. J.: To prevent chipping, don't crowd china on the shelves. Stack plates with one or two sheets of Viva Towels between. Don't stack cups, saucers and handles of delicate teapots with paper towels for extra protection.

When washing, handle each piece separately. (Never stack china in the sink!) Rinse well to remove soap film. Dry thoroughly with soft paper towels, and use a rubber-covered drain rack.

Remove tea or coffee stains from cups with a moistened paper towel dipped in baking soda.

Dear Ceece: How do restaurants keep their crystal and glassware so sparkling?

Conscientious Homemaker
Dear Conscientious Homemaker: For "crystal-clear" glasses wash them in warm soapy water and rinse in a solution of 1/2 cup vinegar or ammonia to one gallon of water. That's how the professionals cut soap film. Then dry and polish with paper towels.

Dear Readers: Made to order for household tasks like these are a new kind of paper towels. They look and feel like cloth, and they work like cloth, yet the new Viva Towels, as they are called, offer the convenience and disposability that only paper can provide.

To help you care for your personal treasures, a free new tip sheet, "Your Favorite Things... Tips for Taking Care of Them," has been compiled by home economists. The sheet includes directions for the care and cleaning of brass, copper, pewter, crystal, silver and other prized possessions. ## Cavaliers Lose remaining in the period, Argos hit a free throw to trim the lead to 57-52, and set up the spurt to come by the Dragons. Denny Reinhold hit a shot from the middle of the circle, but Waechter scored from 13 foot. Wagner, a lay-in after blocking a shot and driving the length of the floor, and then four straight free throws, two by Wagner and the tying and lead point by Wagner. This came with :47 showing on the clock, the first Argos lead since early in the first period. Steve Reinhold and Wagner then traded baskets and the Dragons were head 62-61 heading into the final period.

The Dragons moved to a seven point lead early in the fourth period as Hagen, Thompson and Waechter hit quick baskets. Bauer then started the Cavaliers on a comeback with first one of two from the line and then a lay-in. A moving one hander by Bauer cut the lead to two, only to have Waechter hit again for the Dragons. Manchester offset this with a 12 footer and then Culver again grabbed the lead as Manchester hit one of two free shots and Ruhnnow hit a pair. Wagner, the high scorer for the Dragons for the night, then took on the heroic role and hit four straight from the charity stripe. However, Bauer matched this and with just 1:38 left in the game, Ehlinger put a rebound back in for a 75-74 Culver lead.

Bauer became the second Cavalier to foul out as Ruhnnow had previously committed his fifth personal on one of Wagner's efforts, and this time Bauer fouled Wagner who calmly stepped to the line and returned the lead to Argos with a pair with 1:27 left. Wagner then tossed in a 13 footer after Culver had missed a shot only to have Ehlinger pull the Cavaliers within one with :38 showing on the clock as he hit a medium range shot from the left baseline. However, the Dragons were able to kill the clock after one more Culver miss and the game ended 78-77 in favor of the Dragons.

Wagner, Bauer Lead Scorers

Steve Wagner, the fourth period nemesis, ended the night with 29 points for the victors on nine baskets and 11 from free throw stripe. John Bauer, Culver's lone returning letterman tossed in 26 for the Cavaliers with 10 baskets and six from the 15 foot line. Thompson, Sherwood and Waechter hit double figures for the victors with 16, 14 and 10 respectively. For the Cavaliers, Ehlinger, with 16, Ruhnnow 14 and Steve Reinhold, 10 hit double figures.

B Team Drops Thriller

The Argos reserves also won the B Team game in a thriller topping the young Cavaliers by a 49-46 score.

Lt. Col. Osborn Is Commanding Officer Of ROTC

The Reserve Officers Training Corps at Stanford University recently named Cadet Lieutenant Colonel William Osborn, 21, as the Commanding Officer of the ROTC company at Stanford University.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Osborn of Culver, Indiana, Cadet Osborn is a psychology major at Stanford.

Cadet Osborn was designated Distinguished Military Student by Colonel Stanley M. Ramsey, Professor of Military Science at Stanford To qualify for this honor, a cadet must rank in the top third of his ROTC class and the top half of his college class. Cadet Osborn was ranked second among 800 cadets from the western states to attend ROTC summer camp at Fort Lewis, Washington, this past summer.

Osborn was graduated from the Culver Military Academy in Culver, Indiana. A member of the Sigma Chi Omega Fraternity, he has played varsity basketball for three years at Stanford.

Strictly a voluntary program at Stanford University, the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps program has just initiated an updated curriculum, emphasizing improved academic quality of the courses taught to cadets by military officers with appropriate backgrounds in their academic speciality.
