ACADEMY LOCALS.

What the Cadets Are Doing this Week.

Cadet Capt. Morris, Co. "D," is on leave having his eyes treated.

Mr. Pelcher, of St. Louis, reported to the Academy and was admitted as a cadet.

Cadet Eacock visited his home in Lafayette for a few days to have his eyes treated.

Cadet Fowler received a furlough of five days on yesterday to have his eyes treated.

This makes the fourteenth new cadet since Xmas. The capacity of the Academy is taxed to the utmost.

The resignation of cadet Myers, of Chicago, was granted a few days ago. He was a good fellow and will be much missed by the boys.

Mrs. Maclean, Mrs. Tindal and Mrs. Forey, have been visiting their sons at the academy this week.

Cadet Stretch returned to the Academy on Tuesday. He was detained at home after Xmas by an attack of the grippe.

Mr. Fice, of Cleveland, a cadet at the academy in '97, paid the school a short visit between trains on Tuesday.

Retreat is sounded now just at sunset. The battalion does not form as heretofore, but the band assembles and plays through one piece, after which the call is sounded.

The uniforms made since Xmas seem to be cut on a much better pattern than heretofore. The collar sets the neck without wrinkles and the broad back effect and rounded chest is brought out very nicely.

We understand that recommendations have been called for and that an appointment of cadet officers to fill the present vacancies is expected to be made soon. There are some very fine fellows among the new men as material for some of the non-com positions.

Mr. McCormick has just started the construction of a wall for training cadets in esclading or wall climbing. This will form an interesting addition to the winter's course of drills.

We understand a minitrel troupe has been organized, and that the corps is soon to be edited by a crack performance, in which the funny ways of "Cullud Gentlemen" will be ably demonstrated. Cadet Cunningham who has much experience in such things, and cadet Enos, who has trod the boards professionally are its promoters. Cadet Wilson M., the instructor of the band, and an able musician, will handle the musical part of the program. The boys get up these things very cleverly and we predict a great success.

The Corps of Cadets had the pleasure last week of welcoming back Capt. Greiner, who has been on duty in Porto Rico as captain of a company of the Fourth Ohio Volunteers. The captain has about regained the flesh lost in his hard campaigning and is looking his old genial self again. He was stationed in the interior of the Island of Porto Rico with his company to guard against the depredations of the guerrillas that infest the country. He has many interesting experiences to relate and we understand that he is soon to give the boys a description of active service in the late war, we trust the rumor is correct.

Indoor target practice has commenced under Lieutenant Floyd of the cavalry. The shooting is with the Springfield rifle at 50 feet, using reduced charges. The target is a heavy plate of wrought iron, with one inch open bull's eye and bell. The face of the target is brightly illuminated by electric lights so that the sights are clearly defined. So far the scores have not been high. Each week we will publish the best scores with the names of the cadets who make them. The shooting will probably continue until the spring work on the out door range.

EVERY WEEK.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

We want wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Byrd are still sick.

Mrs. D. A. Bradley is improving.

The Ridiculous Club is flourishing.

Call at this office for your job work.

Oyster at 30 cents per can at Andy Vorhees.

First Culver and then the rest of the world.

There are 164 cadets enrolled at the academy.

At Meredith's you can find the queensware.

The law makers at Indianapolis are busy at work.

Rev. Clark is holding revival meetings at Ober.

Much wheat has been damage by the open winter so far.

L. C. Dillon made a large shipment of cattle and hogs from Burr Oak Monday.

There is strong talk of moving the Evangelical church south of this city into Culver.

It is said that one of our noted horse men is abroad taking special treatment.

The Starke county Farmers' Institute was held at Knox last week and was well attended.

Quite a large number of our citizens attended the Sabbath school convention at Plymouth.

Dr. Loring reports that the most of the sick people in and around Burr Oak are convalescing.

Quite a number of neighbors met at Al Byrd's residence last week and cut a large amount of wood, which was certainly a commendable act.

Reed and Wise have sold their general store at Burr Oak, to Sarber & Son, of Argos, who invoiced the goods this week. We understand that Chas. Sarber will conduct the business at the old stand. The firm of Sarber & Son, are well known all over the county, and they are hustlers from way back.

Amos Crumb, formerly of Hamlet, has purchased the saloon at Burr Oak, formerly owned by William Snyder, and later by Bert Warner. Crumb has taken possession of the saloon. Just how three different proprietors can own and conduct the same saloon under one license, is a mystery to the marines.

Citizens of this section are gradually recovering from the la grippe, or some other disease which knocks them silly. But Dr. Rea, one of the most prominent physicians in Marshall county, and in fact Northern Indiana, asserts that there has not been a case of the genuine grippe in this country thus far this year, but that the sudden epidemic is caused by colds, etc., owing to sudden changes in the weather.

The editor of the HERALD attended prayer meeting last week Thursday evening at the M. E. church, and although the number in attendance were few and far between, the pencil pusher was greatly entertained at the discussion of certain writings of Paul which can be found in the Bible. There was a decided difference of opinion, but each one was uniformly impressed with the idea that every man must be responsible for his own acts while sojourning upon this mundane sphere. We understand that these discussions will continue for several weeks.

We want wood.

Mrs. John Osborn, of Logansport, is suffering with a severe attack of the grippe.

The Lake Milling Co., is doing a flourishing business.

No work pays that is poorly done. It is a waste of the raw material.

Do you know that you can secure special bargains at Porter & Co's at present.

One hundred good envelopes, with your return card printed upon the same, can be procured at this office for 50 cents.

Judge Mitchell's wife, of Peru, departed this life Wednesday, Jan. 25th. The Judge and wife are well known at the Lake as they own a cottage here.

John Osborn, formerly of this city, now a resident of Logansport, is doing a rushing business. He handles the Chicago Record in said city which has nearly 500 daily circulation.

Two insane men, who escaped from an asylum in the east, were captured at Burr Oak last week and returned to the asylum. The men visited several farmers west of Burr Oak and badly frightened the families.

The Maxenkuckee Ice Co., commenced to remove ice from Lake Maxenkuckee to the ice houses the fore part of this week and are now storing away very fine ice it being something over ten inches thick. If the weather continues favorable, the company will fill six large houses.

It is a mighty mean man that will steal wood from a poor newspaper editor, but that is what a certain individual did the other night, and we know who he is, and could we have succeeded in getting out doors sooner would have caught him "dead to rights." We would advise our citizens to charge their wood with powder and thus teach this noted wood thief a lesson.

The divorce law now before the Legislature and which has the endorsement of Governor Mount is undoubtedly a move in the right direction and should pass. It provides that one year shall elapse between the time of the filing of the complaint and the hearing of the case, and further provides that neither party shall marry again until after two years, except in the case of the innocent party where the divorce has been granted on the grounds of adultery.

Bob Ingersoll was in Chicago a few days ago and received a message stating that a lady in Saybrook, O., had in her possession a Bible that had been used by his father during his career as a minister, and bore marginal notes in his handwriting. Col. Ingersoll was informed that the lady stood ready to turn the book which his father had used over to him if he wanted it. His comment on the message was characteristic: "I don't know that there is any Bible that I want—not even this one. As a historical work 'Robinson Crusoe' is much more valuable, and for truth I would look in many other books first."—Geneva Free Press.

And still thousands of the American people will pay from one to five dollars to hear this chief of sinners advance ideas which proves that when they die they are entitled to the same burial of a horse, they have the same prospects for eternity as the horse, and nothing more. It is not to be wondered at that he had no use for his father's bible.

Who will be the first to bring us wood.

Call on Andy Vorhees for your oysters.

G. W. Zechiel who has been one of the Jurymen the past week, returned from Plymouth Saturday.

The state senate passed a pharmacy bill, creating a pharmacy board and requiring druggists to have a license.

A beautiful young man in a neighboring town, while attending a revival meeting was approached by a very earnest young lady who said to him: "My dear young friend, it would do my heart good to lead you to the altar. The fellow hesitatingly replied that he appreciated the honor but as he was already engaged to two girls he could not accommodate her at present.

An illustration of the fact that advertising pays is shown in the case of the South Bend girl who advertised for a husband and got him. The advertisement, wedding and "fixturs" cost $9. Within a few months the young husband enlisted and was killed at Santiago, leaving his wife $3,000 insurance money, and in addition to this she will soon be drawing a widow's pension.

It is considered only a question of time when the Pennsylvania will absolutely own the Vandalia system, with its 602 miles of standard guage railroad and most important connections in Indiana, and Michigan. It now has the controlling interest of all the system by a material majority and owns the St. Louis, Vandalia & Terre Haute, 168 miles, which is leased to the Terre Haute & Indianapolis.—Ex.

There are one hundred thousand insane people in this country confined in the one hundred and fifty public hospitals. Indiana has four asylums for the insane and they contain 4,300 inmates. It is estimated that one person out of every six-hundred and seventy-five in this State are insane. In 1840 there were only two hundred and forty demented persons in Indiana, and the proportion was one insane person to two thousand sane ones. It will thus be seen that the disease of insanity is largely on the increase. The asylums of Indiana are over crowded and this session of the State assembly will probably order some extra buildings erected, especially at Long Cliff.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Culver City Drug Store. 311m.

Benjie Hawkins and Nora Mock, were guests at Samuel Osborn's residence northwest of Culver, last Sunday. It is rumored that there will be a wedding in high life in the near future.

James Shearer, of Bremen, was visiting his parents near Burr Oak Sunday.

MILLIONS IN SIGHT.

GOLD STRIKE AT CRIPPLE CREEK IS GROWING.

Manager Says He Does Not Think Such Ore Was Ever Mined Anywhere in the World—Big Jail Delivery at Canton, Ohio.

Worth $500,000 to the Ton.
A special from Cripple Creek, Colo., says of the recent strike in Isabella ground: "Your correspondent saw chunks of sylvanite that were three inches thick and solid metal, and chunks of the oxidized ore of the same width that he whittled with his pocket-knife. No assays have been made on the rock; it is not necessary; but pieces of the free gold ore, if ore it can be called at all, run over $500,000 per ton. Joining this metallic body there is six feet of quartz that will run from $1,000 to $2,000 per ton. Manager Kilburn said: 'I do not like to say anything that will excite the people any more than they are at present. Some of the pieces of ore are 80 per cent. gold. I never saw such mineral, and I do not believe that its like was ever mined in this or any other camp in the world.' Armed guards are watching the property. The strike was made in the new ore body at a depth of 850 feet below the surface. The chute has been cut at the seventh level 200 feet above, and also at the fifth. At the latter place an assay was obtained in the breast of the drift in two feet of ore that went better than $1,000 per ton. There is at least blocked out in the one level between the ninth and seventh levels $5,000,000 worth of ore."

WEALTH FOR SALVATION ARMY.

Millionaire Benedict of Boston Gives $250,000 for Slum Work.

A large part of the estate of Washington G. Benedict, the Boston real estate and electric railroad operator who died, has been given to various churches of that city and to the Salvation army. The will of the testator, containing these bequests, was filed in the Suffolk County probate office. The amount of the estate is not ascertainable, but it is reported to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The Salvation army's share is about one-fourth and the money is to be used for slum work. The bequests to the three churches provide that the money be used for city missionary work.

SIX PRISONERS BREAK JAIL.

Trusty at Canton, Ohio, Aids Companions to Get Safely Away.

A jail delivery at Canton, Ohio, gave six prisoners their liberty. They are James Sullivan, charged with highway robbery; W. H. Cummins, Ralph Carnahan, Charles Reed, Frank Saller and James Campbell, all charged with burglary and larceny. Campbell was a "trusty" and the other night pretended to lock the cell doors. Instead he turned the keys with the bolts outside the grooves, leaving the prisoners the freedom of the corridors. The bars of a rear window were sawed and the prisoners escaped to the court below.

Toronto Railway Employees Win.
Grand Chief Powell, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, who has been attending the arbitration at Toronto of disputes between the Grand Trunk Railway and its operators, says that all the questions have been practically settled in a way decidedly in favor of the men.

Phosphate Deposit Found.

A very valuable deposit of phosphate has been discovered in Sumner County, Tennessee, the field comprising a tract of about 2,000 acres. Experts estimate that therein lies 3,000,000 tons of phosphate rock. Preparations are being made to mine the rock on an extensive scale.

Robbers Use Dynamite.

Pittsburg Firemen Hurt.

The six-story building at Pittsburg, occupied by the New York Biscuit Company and the La Grosse Art Glass Company, was damaged by fire to the extent of $75,000. Several firemen were injured by falling glass.

Plot to Kill the Sultan.

A Constantinople correspondent says: "A plot to assassinate the Sultan has been denounced by a conspirator, but the police, by too precipitately arresting four of the plotters, enabled several others to escape."

Explosion Kills Four Men.

The four eighty horse-power boilers of the Shreveport, La., oil mills exploded with a terrific report. A brick building 100 feet square was torn to pieces and four men were killed.

SHORT CROPS IN NICARAGUA.

Sugar Cane Hurt by Rains—Small Yield of Coffee.

Heavy rains, unusual in that latitude at this time of the year, have injured the ripening crop of sugar cane in Nicaragua. The coffee crop, now being gathered, will not exceed half of the usual annual crop. Laborers are asking high prices to gather the harvest, and are indisposed to work, preferring to be in the army or act as government officials. The prospect is that the 1-cent gold per pound export tax on the 1898-99 crop of coffee in the republic will not pay more than one-half the interest, due in July of the present year, on Nicaragua's 1896 railroad bonds. The export tax of $17 gold per kilo on gold exported from the mines has aroused great opposition in the mining districts of eastern Nicaragua and threats to close the mines are made. The imports into Nicaragua are unusually small and business very dull. Paper money is at 3½ for 1 gold, without a basis of gold or silver for redemption.

BOTH THEIR SKULLS CRUSHED.

Bodies of Colorado Ranchman and His Wife Found in a Hole.

The dead bodies of Charles N. O'Hara and his wife have been found in a hole in one corner of their ranch, near Barr, Colo. They had been missing for several days, and a search was instituted by the authorities, resulting in their being found with both their skulls crushed. Frank Harold, who had been employed on the O'Hara ranch, is under arrest charged with the crime. R. J. McCleary has been arrested as an accomplice. The supposition is that the O'Haras were murdered to secure their money, which was thought to have been received in the sale of a bunch of cattle. When the fact of Harold's arrest became known threats of lynching were so numerous that Harold was secretly taken to Brighton.

SETTLING GILLETTS AFFAIRS.

Cattleman's Attorney Confers with Creditors at El Paso.

C. R. Troxel, attorney for Grant G. Gillett, ex-millionaire cattle king, and James H. Arnold of Kansas City, one of the heaviest creditors of Gillett, have arrived at El Paso, Texas, from Chihuahua, Mexico. Arnold says that negotiations with Gillett looking to a settlement of the latter's affairs with his creditors are now under way and everything points to satisfactory arrangements being completed before March 1, when Gillett will return to his home in Kansas.

Le Baron Wants a Fee.

J. Francis Le Baron of Cleveland, formerly an engineer connected with the Nicaragua canal, who a few days ago announced he had discovered a route for the canal which would cost $22,000,000 less than any proposed, and which he claimed the commissioners refused to consider, has written a statement in which he says in part: "My attention has been called to a published denial from a member of the Nicaragua canal commission of my assertion that I had offered to go to Washington and explain my proposed route to the commission. When the commission was first appointed I wrote to Prof. Haupt, member of the commission, and not only offered to go to Washington to explain my proposed line, but to go to Nicaragua and point out the line on the ground. Moreover, I have a letter in reply from the member named, asking me to disclose the location of the line by letter, to which I replied that I was unwilling to do this, as I looked on the matter entirely from my professional standpoint, and while I had no route to sell, and did not ask or expect the Government to pay me any commission or large bonus, I considered it no more than fair that I should be paid for my time as an engineer; and if the commission called me in consultation, and I was able to indicate a line straighter and more feasible, and that would effect a saving in the cost of constructing the canal of $22,000,000, or even half of it, I would expect to receive a suitable fee as a consulting engineer."

Man Killed by a Burglar.

George Eberhart of New York was shot and killed by a burglar, who had been discovered working at a window from a stepladder which he had let down from a roof. The alarm was given and policemen and citizens joined in a man hunt. Eberhart, aroused by the commotion, looked out of his rear window near the fire escape, up which the burglar was climbing in order to escape over the roof. Eberhart seized a board and hit the burglar over the head. As he did so the latter fired.

Tragedy After a Dance.

Jilted by the girl he loved, Wesley Lyons, a coal miner aged 20, shot his rival, Thomas Roberts, another miner, aged 22, and attempted to kill Mary Davis at Shawnee, Ohio. Lyons then killed himself. Miss Davis had refused to allow Lyons to accompany her home from a dance and accepted Roberts as her escort.

Belgian Ministers Resign.

A royal decree has been published at Brussels, accepting the resignations of the premier, De Smet de Naeyer, and the minister of industry and labor, M. Nyssens. The same decree appoints MM. Liebaert and Cooreman, both members of the chamber of deputies, to succeed them.

NEW LINE TO OMAHA.

ROAD WILL TRAVERSE IOWA AND MINNESOTA.

St. Paul and Minneapolis Are to Be Put in Direct Connection with the Transmississippi Exposition City—Uncle Sam Loses an Island.

Railroad Plans Large Outlay.

The Minneapolis and St. Louis road is going to build a line from the twin cities direct to Omaha. This announcement was made by General Manager L. R. Day at St. Paul on his return from a conference with the powers at New York. The road has lately authorized $25,000,000 in new bonds, of which $10,000,000 was to take up indebtedness already existing and $5,000,000 has already been sold. One of the main objects of the new bond issue was to furnish capital for the extension. The new line will run almost due south from New Ulm, crossing the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Omaha line near St. James or Madelia. Thence the route proceeds to Spirit Lake, Iowa, crossing a southern Minnesota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul near Jackson & Sherburne. In Iowa it will cross the Northwestern Railway near Spirit Lake; the Milwaukee near Spencer, another division of the Northwestern near Sioux Rapids, the Illinois Central at Storm Lake, and another Milwaukee division near Charles Lake. Altogether 150 miles of new road on the extension will be built this year.

AMERICA LOSES AN ISLAND.

Shown by an Old Map that Hunter's Island Belongs to Canada.

Commissioner Kasson, one of the American members of the joint high Canadian and American commission, was confronted with a map brought from Ottawa as a result of which the United States loses 800 square miles of territory and $1,000,000 worth of pine lumber growing upon it. The possession of Hunter's island in Lake Superior was the matter determined by the map, which was one made to illustrate and authenticate the treaty of Ghent, determining the northern boundary of that part of the United States which is now Minnesota. It bears the signature of Daniel Webster and other men prominent in the affairs of the country at that time. It was brought to Washington to disprove the contention of the American members regarding the boundary line.

UNITED IN DEATH.

Wife Succumbs to Heart Disease and Husband to Apoplexy.

Emil Reuter, a flour dealer of Brooklyn, N. Y., and his wife Ida died the other night. They had attended a theater and were on the way home when Mrs. Reuter fell to the sidewalk. She was carried into the house in front of which she had fallen and doctors were called, but Mrs. Reuter was dead when they arrived. Reuter left to tell a friend of his wife's death and was re-entering the house in which her body lay when he was suddenly stricken down. The same doctors who had been summoned for Mrs. Reuter were called in, but again they were too late, for Reuter was dead. Mrs. Reuter's death was caused by heart disease, while her husband succumbed to apoplexy.

Wrecked Off Alaska Coast.

Five of the crew of the halibut fishing schooner St. Lawrence, which was wrecked off Piper Bay, Alaska, were brought to Victoria, B. C., on the Rosalie. The seven men aboard the St. Lawrence got ashore and managed to live for ten days, when they were rescued by the sloop Nora.

Leaps from a High Window.

SAVES A COMRADE'S LIFE.

Fireman Willis, on the Cruiser New York, Rescues Thomas Hickey.

A leaking valve in the boiler room of the cruiser New York in the Brooklyn navy yard flooded an empty boiler with steam while nine men were at work in it, and but for the presence of mind of Fireman Willis would have caused the death of one of them. The men were almost blinded and rendered powerless. All got out in time, however, except Fireman Thomas Hickey, who was between the tubing and the shell, just where the steam came in. He was so badly scalded that he could not move. As Willis was making his way out of a lower manhole he heard Hickey's moans and climbed to the top after him. With much difficulty he lifted him down where there was breathing space and pushed him out. Hickey was badly scalded about the face, head, hands and forearms. J. S. Shea was also seriously scalded.

CHILD THROWN FROM BRIDGE.

Falls to Creek, but Is Rescued by Witness of Accident.

Mary Simpkins, a child recently adopted from the children's home by Maxwell Snyder, who lives at Strasburg, Ohio, was returning home from her first day at school. When she was on a railroad trestle a south-bound passenger train hove in sight. The child was paralyzed with fright and stood still. The train struck her and she was thrown off the trestle into the water, a distance of fifteen feet. Walter Bixler witnessed the accident and plunged in after her. By the time he had pulled her to shore the train had stopped and the banks were lined with passengers. The water was pumped from the child and she regained consciousness.

Torn by Destructive Tornado.

The steamer Aorangi, from Australasia, brings the details of a terrible cyclone which swept the south seas, devastating villages, wrecking shipping, and causing many deaths. At Samarai, in New Guinea, the gale was terrific. Cocoa palms went down by hundreds and were carried to sea. Torrents of rain fell. Twelve vessels were wrecked. The cutter Mayflower and Nabua were total wrecks at Basilaki. The ketches Bebeem and Balidan were lost off Goodenough Island, and Mr. Kennedy, manager of the New Guinea Development Company, was drowned, together with his crew, save one boy. The mission steamer Albert McLaren went ashore, and the lugger Lysander and the cutter Fleetwing were totally wrecked at Wedan. The cutter Portia was smashed near Port Glasgow. The schooner Ellen Gowan and the cutter Ivy were lost in the Kossman group, and Captain Codel and crew were drowned. In the Solomons the hurricane did most damage, whole villages being destroyed. Hundreds of cocoa plantations were uprooted and yam patches leveled. Over 500 natives are reported to have been killed.

Not since the stirring days before the declaration of war last spring has the House witnessed such an exhibition of excitement and such scenes of unbounded enthusiasm as occurred on Wednesday when the two Republicans, Mr. Johnson, the Indiana member, and Mr. Dolliver of Iowa, locked horns on the question of expansion. The army bill was under debate. At the night session Mr. Crum-packer (Rep., Ind.) supported the bill and advocated annexation. Mr. Rixey (Dem., Va.) opposed the bill. Mr. Linney (Rep., N. C.) supported the bill. Only a brief time was occupied by the Senate in open session. Mr. Hale, chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported the naval personnel bill and gave notice that at the earliest time possible he would call it up for consideration. Mr. Cullom (Ill.) reported the legislative appropriation bill. Mr. Chandler (N. H.) introduced a bill temporarily creating the office of admiral of the navy. It was referred to the Naval Affairs Committee. A senate bill providing for the erection of a building in Washington for the department of justice at a cost of $1,000,000 was passed.

As the Senate seemingly was about to conclude consideration of the pension appropriation bill late Thursday afternoon, Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.) offered his amendment, announced some time ago, providing for the pensioning of ex-Confederate soldiers. Upon this he took the floor and delivered a speech, in which he defended the course of the South in the civil war. The executive session of the Senate was consumed in discussion of the failure of the President so far to send to the Senate the documents in his possession and on file in the State Department bearing upon the Paris conference. The feature of the third day of the debate upon the bill for the reorganization and increase of the regular army was an hour's speech by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio. The other speakers were Messrs. Bromwell (Rep., O.), Stewart (Rep., N. J.), Tongue (Rep., Ore.), in support of the bill; Messrs. Dinsmore (Dem., Ark.), Jett (Dem., Ill.), McRae (Dem., Ark.), Simms (Dem., Tenn.), in opposition to it, and Mr. Marsh (Rep., Ill.), in favor of the bill with certain modifications.

The opposition to the army reorganization bill on the Republican side of the House had become so strong that on Friday Chairman Hull, after Mr. Henderson of Iowa, one of the floor leaders of the majority, had threatened to vote to recommit the bill, decided it would be wise, in order to secure its passage, to abandon the idea of providing directly for a regular army of 100,000 men. Speeches were made by Congressman Henderson (Iowa), Prince (Illinois), Cousins (Iowa), Hull, and Robinson (Ind.). This ended the general debate, and several amendments were considered. At 5 o'clock the House recessed until 8, the evening session being devoted to private pension legislation. Particular interest was manifested in the Senate in a brief speech delivered by Senator T. C. Platt of New York on the general subject of expansion. Under the arrangement concluded the previous evening consideration of the pension appropriation bill was resumed, Mr. Gorman of Maryland submitting some remarks upon it. Mr. Perkins of California, in charge of the measure, replied briefly to Mr. Gorman. The pension bill was then passed. The day's session closed with eulogies of the late Representative Cooke of Illinois. The Senate continued the consideration of the peace treaty in executive session, the doors being closed for almost three hours.

The House on Saturday continued the consideration of the army reorganization bill until 2 o'clock, when the members paid their tributes to the memory of the late Representative Simpkins of Massachusetts. Very little progress was made with the army bill. The time before the eulogies began was chiefly devoted to a continuation of the debate on the advisability of retaining the Philippines. A spirited debate was precipitated in the Senate while the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was under consideration. The Appropriations Committee was sharply criticised for not providing adequate salaries for some of the consular officers and secretaries of legations of this Government in foreign countries, and the parsimony of the nation in this respect was denounced as a disgrace. The bill, which appropriates $1,710,533, was finally passed. A bill amending the law relating to the apportionment and election of representatives in Congress so as to permit the use of voting machines was passed.

The House put in a hard day's work on the army bill Monday, and when it adjourned thirteen of the twenty pages had been completed. Much of the time was occupied in short speeches on the general proposition to increase the army and annex the Philippines, and there were several lively personal controversies. At the opening of the session of the House Mr. Hopkins (Rep., Ill.) reported the census bill and gave notice that he would call it up the next Monday. An effort on the part of Mr. Allison to obtain consideration in the Senate for the Indian appropriation bill precipitated a running debate, which occupied all the time until the Senate, at 2 o'clock, went into executive session on the peace treaty. The President sent to the Senate correspondence on file in the State Department bearing upon the peace treaty, and it was read in the executive session.

WINTER'S NE'ER SO WEARY.

The winter's ne'er so weary
But the sweet thought of my dearie
Can make the winter blossom as the spring;
For the thought of her is sweeter
Than a song in sweetest meter,—
For the smile of her has taught my heart to sing!

The winter's ne'er so dreary
But the sweet thought of my dearie
Can make the roses redder o'er the snow;
For the thought of her is filling
All the world, and thrilling—thrilling
The gardens where the fairest roses
grow!

O golden bees! bring honey
From the fragrant fields and sunny!
O birds! be not a-weary on the wing
Till earth grows glad to greet her—
Till Love kneels low to meet her,—
For the love of her has taught my heart to sing!

stitution.

A LOST LOVER.

"It's too bad!" said Alexia Vane.
"Halt a dozen pairs of gloves—fifteen dollars at the very least—and all my pocket money gone, and papa as cross
as a bear because of Madame Hilaire's bill! I'm sure I don't know what I'm going to do!"

"It serves you right," said Editha,
her younger sister. "Papa always said it was an unladylike thing to bet!"

"Pshaw!" said Alexia, disdainfully.
"Everyone does it—at the races. And I made sure that Lightning Rod would beat. And I should have had such a delightful outfit of summer gloves, if
he only had reached the winning-post
first!"

"Well," said Editha, with a toss of her frizzes, "I shouldn't pay the bet if I were you. Gentlemen never expect it!"

"He will, though," said Alexia.
"And I don't want to make an unfavorable impression, just as he's getting interested. Oh, the gloves must be got, somehow. If you could lend me ten dollars, Editha, just until next week?"

And Editha Vane lent it, unwillingly
enough.

"Mind I must have it back again on Tuesday, for my new bonnet," said
she.

Alexia Vane was one of those tall,
dashing beauties, that startle society
like a meteor—a dark-eyed, ebon-
tressed girl, with rich, rose-red cheeks,
a ripe, scarlet mouth, and a complex-
ion like a calla-lily leaf.

But, in spite of all her attractions,
she had reached the age of five and twenty without an eligible offer. Pen-niless young officers there were in plenty, briefless lawyers, and interesting artists, but Alexia Vane had not the slightest idea of becoming a poor man's wife.

"I'll marry money, or I won't marry
at all," said she, with a meaning compression of her cherry lips.

And Major Creswell had money, as well as good looks and engaging manners, and Major Creswell had driven
her to the Jerome Park races with his own four-in-hand, and they had bet together on the respective prowess of Corsair and Lightning Rod, and Alex-
ia had lost half a dozen pairs of gloves because the latter steed turned up third instead of first best.

And under the circumstances she felt that it was best promptly to meet
her engagements.

"Gloves, if you please!" said Miss Vane to the dove-eyed, pale-faced
shop-girl at Soames & Hopgood's.
"Number eight-and-a-half, gentleman's size."

And Miss Vane thought, with a sort
of languid interest, how very pretty
the dove-eyed girl was, and wondered why she had no more color in her cheeks, and if the wavy ripple in her hair was the result of art, or a natural gift.

"How much are they?" said Miss Vane, carelessly turning over the various packages that Alice Lee laid out on the counter for her inspection.
"Three dollars a pair? Oh, dear me,
that's an absurd amount to ask! Have you nothing for a less price?"

Alice did not know; she would ask
Mr. Hopgood.

As she turned away, one of the packages, piled carelessly on top of the others, slipped, and fell directly into Miss Vane's lap.

Half a dozen pairs, evening colors,
just the right size, exactly what Alexia wanted.

She saw them fall, and did not put
them back; on the contrary, she slip-
per them hurriedly into the deep
pocket of her mantle.

"Soames & Hopgood will overcharge
me enough on the next silk dress I buy here to make it up," thought Alexia. "And my stock of pocket-
money is so awfully short just now!
I declare it was quite providential,
that package falling right into my pocket, as it were!"

She rose hurriedly, with a deep color
on her cheek.

"Never mind now!" called she to Alice Lee. "I don't care about getting them to-day. I'll call in some other time."

She swept out of the store, with the
half-dozen pairs of gloves in her pockets, while Alice Lee stood struck dumb
with amazement and dismay; for, in the mirrored panel opposite, she had seen the whole transaction.

Should she call out to the richly dressed beauty to stop? Should she dare to denounce the richly dressed young lady as a thief? Or should she summon one of the partners of the firm, and ask his advice? But while she troubled over the possibilities in her mind, Miss Vane had vanished.
"Mr. Hopgood," said Alice hurriedly,
to a stout, short, bullet-headed man,
who was walking up and down the store, "there is a package of these gloves missing."

"Missing?" barked out Mr. Hiram Hopgood, stopping short, and beginning to count up the packages—
"missing? And don't you know Miss Lee that you are responsible for them?"

"Yes, sir," faltered Alice; "but—but Miss Vane took them. A package
slipped down, and she put it in her pocket."

"Nonsense!" said Mr. Hopgood, tartly.
"Miss Vane, one of our best charge-customers! Why, you must be crazy, Miss Lee!"

"I saw it myself, in yonder mirror,"
protested Alice, in a faint voice.

"And why didn't you speak," demanded Mr. Hopgood contemptuously.
"A likely story that! You must take me for a fool, Miss Lee. Now, look here—if this package of gloves don't turn up, somewhere and somehow, between now and Saturday night, you pay its value, or you leave the establishment. That's the rule of the store.
Miss Lee—the rule of the store! And whatever you do don't let me hear any more nonsense about Miss Vane. I wouldn't have such a thing get to her ears for the world!"

II.

Major Clarence Creswell was at the "Labor Bureau," engaging a new coachman. Lawrence O'Grady, the last incumbent, was growing altogether too fond of the flowing bowl,
and the major found it imperatively
necessary to make a change. He was standing waiting for a candidate to be sent in, when a slight, soft-voiced
girl entered the room.

"Alice!" he cried out. "Surely it is Miss Lee?"

"Major Creswell!"

For Alice Lee was the daughter of the old housekeeper at Creswell Manor, and it was old Madam Creswell herself who had obtained her the position at Soames & Hopgood's.

"Alice," he said, with the gentle,
authoritative tones of an elder brother,
"how is it that you are in a place
like this?"

"I am looking for a situation," she answered, in an almost inaudible
tone.

"I thought you were well placed at Soames's dry goods house?"

"I—I have lost the place!"

He took her hand gently.

"Tell me how, Alice," he said.

And she told him all.

"It was no fault of mine," said she.
"I saw the lady slip it into her pocket
—a rich, elegantly dressed lady, whom
one would never suspect of such a thing."

Major Creswell's dark brows met.

"Do you know who it was?" said he.

"Oh, perfectly well," said Alice. "It was Miss Alexia Vane—one of our regular customers."

Major Creswell started.

"Child, are you certain?" he asked.

"I saw her myself," Alice replied.

Major Creswell thought of the six pairs of elegant gloves which had come to him the week before, bearing Messrs. Soames & Hopgood's stamp, with Miss Vane's perfumed card attached.

"It is very strange," muttered he,
between his set teeth. "It is well-
nigh impossible; and yet, Alice, child,
look here. I will pay your fare to Creswell Manor. Go to my mother.
She will keep you there as maid, or companion, or something, until you
suit yourself better. This intelligence
office is no place for you."

And Alice Lee's timid look of gratitude showed how well-timed was the generous offer.

Major Creswell went straight to Soames & Hopgood's establishment.

"What day did Miss Vane buy half a dozen pairs of gloves here?" asked
he.

The polite clerk turned to his books,
and, after a brief search, responded,
courteously:

"Miss Vane has bought no kid gloves
here within the month," said he.
"Miss Vane generally patronizes us,
but it so happens that she has not
made any purchases lately in the glove line."

"But you have missed a package
lately," said the major.

"Quite true," answered the clerk,
with some surprise. "And one of the shop-girls—Miss Lee—has been discharged on suspicion."

Major Creswell brought out the half-dozen pairs of gloves, still wrapped in silver paper.

"Is this the package?" he inquired.

Mr. Hopgood was summoned and at once pronounced that it was the very same.

"Might I ask—"

"No!"

Major Creswell turned abruptly
away. He wished to ask or answer no more questions. He had succeeded in discovering that Alexia Vane was mean, false and treacherous.

"It's very strange that Major Cres-
well has never called since I sent him
those gloves," said Miss Vane.
"Three weeks ago yesterday!"

"Didn't you know?" said old Judge
Vane, lifting his blue spectacles above
the edge of his newspaper. "He has gone to Paris, and he's going up the Nile with a party of English friends
afterward."

"And never bade us good-bye!"

"It seems not."

Alexia's heart sank within her.

"It's very strange," said she.

But it was not so strange, after all,

if only Miss Vane knew everything.—

A HAVANA EPISODE.

The Texan Started the House in a Way That Seemed Mysterious.

Three Americans were sitting in a cafe on the Prado at Havana on a recent afternoon. Two of them were young New Yorkers just down here
looking around. The other man was a tall, lean Texan with a tremendous breadth of shoulders and a twinkle in his shrewd gray eyes that marked him
for a wag. All three were discussing the glorification on January 1, when
the American flag replaced the banner of Spain. By and by they heard the rattle of a carriage in front of the cafe.
Then the rattle ceased. They thought some one else was coming in, but in another moment they heard Spanish
expletives hurled about in a furious
manner.

Stepping to the door, they saw a Cuban volante occupied by a fierce looking old Cuban with gray hair and long gray mustache. The horse had barked and the negro driver was storming and goading at him in an effort to get him started. For perhaps five minutes they watched the negro's
fruitless efforts and then the two New Yorkers went to assist him. They were big strong fellows, and getting behind the horse, which, compared to our horses, did not seem much bigger than a St. Bernard dog, they began pushing on his haunches. They lifted
him off his hind feet, but he obstinate-
ly kept his front feet forward and wide spread, and they couldn't budge him
out of his tracks.

All this time the Texan had been leaning against the door jamb with
his eyes dancing and his mouth puckered up into a smile.

"Hold on boys," he said pretty soon.
"I b'lieve I know that critter. Jes' wait
a minute an' I'll speak to it."

With that he ambled into the street
and up to the horse's head. The old Cuban had become so interested by this time that he had alighted from
the cab and was watching the proceedings.

"Oh, yes," said the Texan. "I know
the critter well, and he knows me. Old friends, old friends, ain't we Bill?"

Then he leaned over and placed his face close to the animal's right ear.
Those who were watching him saw
his lips move and in an instant away
went the horse and the cab. The negro driver gave a yell and started after
it. His dignified old passenger grew purple in the face and shouted to the driver to run faster. The driver did his best, but he was distanced in three blocks. The horse seemed possessed.
He fairly tore down the street, leaving a trail of dust behind him.

The driver came back hot and mad.
He looked in the direction his horse
had taken, and he could see only the cloud of dust growing fainter in the distance. Then he turned on the Texan and wanted to lick him for being a sorcerer. The Cuban wanted to help him, but the Texan only laughed and went back to his seat in the fonda.

"What in the dickens did you say
to that horse?" inquired one of the New Yorkers when they were all seated.

"Say to him?" echoed the Texan.
"Why you poor tenderfoot, I jes' blowed
in his ear."

The Texan did not have to buy any more refreshments that day.

Sense of Justice in the Slums.

Cat Alley had its faults, writes
Jacob A. Riis in The Century, but it can at least be said of it, in extenuation, that it was very human. With them all it had a rude sense of justice
that did not distinguish its early build-
ers. When the work of tearing down
had begun, I watched, one day, a troop of children having fun with a seesaw that they had made of a plank
laid across a lime barrel. The whole Irish contingent rode the plank, all at once, with screams of delight. A ragged little girl from the despised "Dago"
colony watched them from the corner
with hungry eyes. Big Jane, who was the leader by virtue of her thirteen years and her long reach, saw her and stopped the show.

"Here, Mame," she said, pushing one
of the smaller girls from the plank.
"You get off an' let her ride. Her mother was stabbed yesterday."

And the little Dago rode, and was made happy.

STATE LAW MAKERS. INDIANA INCIDENTS.

The legislation for reform in county and township business was pushed along another notch on Tuesday, the house accepting the committee report favoring the passage of the bill to establish a county council in every county in the State. The county and township bill will now go to a joint committee, which will report back
bills for the consideration of the Republican caucus.

The bill to prohibit licensed saloons in residence districts met with favor in the House on Wednesday. A majority of the Committee on Temperance recommended
that the bill be indefinitely postponed.
The report was rejected and the bill placed on the calendar. Northern Indiana
members have brought forward a bill providing for the draining of the Kankakee
swamps. The bill was introduced by Representative Knotts. It provides that county commissioners may make drainage districts on petition of the owners of lands to be drained. The commissioners
may let the work of drainage to the highest bidder, or they may purchase the necessary machinery and do the work themselves. Any land owner in the district
is to be permitted to do work at the price
bid. The money needed to construct the ditch is to be contributed by the land owner.

The commission, composed of one Senator and two Representatives, which, acting under a law passed by the last Legislature, visited all the State's penal, benevolent and reformatory institutions just before the beginning of this session, submitted its report to the Legislature on Thursday. The commission takes the place of the junketing committees that have hitherto visited the institutions. The report, which will be the guide of the Ways and Means Committee, will give
the State reformatory 300 additional cells,
will provide for 300 additional inmates in the home for feeble-minded youth, will provide for 200 additional inmates in the central hospital for the insane, 118 in the eastern hospital for the insane, 100 in the northern hospital for the insane and 132
in the southern hospital for the insane.
The commission recommends that a hospital for the criminal insane be built. In the House the bill to take the appointment
of metropolitan police commissioners out of the hands of the Governor in all cities
between 7,000 and 30,000 was defeated.
The House passed the bill establishing the convict labor system in the State prison.
Each branch has now passed its own bill
on the subject.

The bill under which the State authorities had hoped to prevent lynchings by making the county in which lynchings
occurred liable for a penalty of $5,000
was indefinitely postponed in the House
Friday afternoon by a vote of 35 to 60.
The House took the view that it would not be right to make innocent taxpayers
suffer for the acts of mobs. In the Senate
the Goodwin bill for the reorganization of the State Board of Education was substituted for the Holgate bill. The substitution was a triumph for the State college faction.

The House alone held a session Saturday morning. The only important business transacted was the killing of a bill
for a large executive mansion for the Governor in Indianapolis.

His Feet.

The phrase "small vanities" does not seem vague until one has asked several
people to say what they would mean
by it. Dickens liked a red necktie, and other celebrated men have been childishly devoted to certain articles of dress; but that might only indicate
their having a sense of the beautiful.
There is, however, a kind of precaution over personal detail which seems
to proceed from vanity and from nothing else.

MacIse, the artist, once did a full-
length portrait of Sir Edward Bulwer
Lytton, and a sorry time he had of it.
For the author was hard to please; now
this was not right and now that. The "complexion of the hand" was to be especially noted, and the painter must be very particular about the feet. The feet, indeed, caused no end of annoyance. Bulwer insisted on having them
very small, but MacIse painted them
the natural size. Then Bulwer came to see them, and would have them
diminished.

The artist yielded, perforce; but he had one resource, varnishing day, when pictures can be "retouched" so long as time will admit. Then and there he quietly painted in the feet again of the proper size, and the author had to see them thus on the day of exhibition.

Mirth vs. Cheerfulness.

I have always preferred cheerfulness
to mirth. The former is an act, the latter, a habit of the mind. Mirth is short and transient; cheerfulness, fixed and permanent. Those are often raised into the highest transports of mirth
who are subject to the greatest depressions of melancholy. On the contrary, cheerfulness, though it does not give
the mind such an exquisite gladness,
yet it prevents us from falling into any depths of sorrow. Mirth is like a flash of lightning, that breaks through a
gloom of clouds, and glitters for a moment. Cheerfulness keeps up a kind of daylight in the mind, filling it with
a steady and perpetual serenity.—Addison.

Exterminating Swallows.

Along the Adriatic sea swallows and
other migratory birds are caught every year by the hundreds of thousands, and
eaten by the Italians, who spread nets,
in which as many as 300 to 500 of the tired birds are caught at once. It is difficult to stop this wholesale murder,
on sight of an official, the
hunters' spies give a shrill whistle and the nets disappear.

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

—Important Damage Suit Decided
at La Porte—Gas Companies Absorbed by a Syndicate.

After staying out fifty-three hours the jury in the $10,000 damage action brought by Solomon Addison against the city of Elwood for the death of his young son
returned a verdict for $599. The verdict
was reached under unusual procedure.
Addison's 8-year-old boy was drowned in a ditch at Elwood. The father sued for damages. The jury had to figure out what a boy was worth from 8 years to 21.
It placed his earnings between 8 and 10
years at 45 cents a week, keeping 85
cents; from 10 to 12, earnings 75 cents,
keeping $1.25; from 12 to 15, earnings
$4, keeping $2; from 15 to 18, earnings $5,
keeping $2.25; from 18 to 21, earnings $6,
keeping $4.

Goes Against Ice Company.

The $10,000 damage suit of William Zahart against the John Hilt Ice Company was concluded at LaPorte, when the jury gave the plaintiff damages in the sum of $450. The suit grew out of the refusal of the company to compensate Zah-
art for the privilege of taking ice from Pine lake, the water of which abuts the latter's land. This case holds a unique position in the annals of the legal history
of Indiana, as it is entirely without precedent. The Hilt Company will appeal to the State Supreme Court, and should that court sustain the lower court it is understood the case will be carried to the United

Control Natural-Gas Field.

Almost all of the natural gas supply
companies furnishing gas from the field
to towns and cities and also the company
supplying the thirty-two Ohio towns and cities have been absorbed by a New York
syndicate, headed by Murdock & Deterich. Over 2,000 miles of mains have been absorbed and fully 200 towns, including most of those even in the gas belt,
are dependent upon the will of the trust
now for their natural gas supply. The capitalization of the new trust is $60,000,-

Remarkable.

A stranger stood upon the streets of Culver recently, and as a HERALD Reporter passed by, the stranger saluted him and the following conversation took place. "Say mister, you have a lively little town here and one of the most glorious Lakes, judging by its surroundings, in the country—and I am surprised to see as many really business houses, why, I find very few more extensively stocked and up to date business houses in the larger cities. I was just in your drug store, and I tell you it is a daisy, splendid stock, in immense quantities, and everything neat as a band box,—really it would do credit to any metropolitan city in the country; and your clothing and dry goods establishments next door are really models of their kind. The clothing department seemed complete with a full assortment of first class clothing, and it is no doubt secure a flattering patronage, and the dry goods department looked as though the merchant understood his business as everything was artistically arranged and the goods fresh and clean. I stepped into the corner store near the tin shop where I also found a large stock of general merchandise, consisting of groceries, dry goods, boots and shoes. At this place you could see where the artist got in his work, as everything was neat and clean. I also visited the store near your post-office, where I found another immense establishment which I understand handles everything that the public desires. At this place I was favorably impressed with the artistic arrangement of the store.

Yes, I am more than pleased with your enterprising little town for on every hand I see the ear-marks of progression. But there is one thing you lack, your city is in great need of some kind of manufactures, and every man should make it his business to talk the matter up. Why, there is no better point on the face of the globe for such an industry. Your lake can supply an abundance of water, while at the same time it would be a most desirable place to live. My advice is, never let up till you secure an industry that will employ at least two hundred men, then your town's future is swift and sure. Advertise your shipping facilities and your environments, establish a business men's association for this purpose, and I will guarantee that when I visit your town again, 10 years hence, that I will see it the second city in size in the county and flourishing—you can stake your last dollar on it.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Waitt, of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50 cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by Culver City Drug Store.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It counteracts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. County School Superintendents.

The present Legislature is expected to enact some new law in reference to county school superintendents. Indeed already a bill has been introduced by Mr. Marshall, of Tippecanoe county. It is understood the superintendents of the state have endorsed Marshall's bill.

Under its provisions the county superintendents are elected by the township trustees and the Circuit Court has the power of dismissal. The terms of the superintendents shall be four years. Those eligible to the office shall hold three years' license, or else held the office for one term, and after June 1903, all candidates for the office must hold a life or professional license. Examinations shall be held by the superintendents from January to August, inclusive, and a six months license is rated as a trial license. Two three-year license in succession entitles the holder to an eight year license upon the passage of the proper examination. Any person who has taught for six consecutive years in the common schools and who now holds a three years' license or hereafter may hold one is forever exempt if he teaches in the county where the three-years' license was secured. Should such a person permit one year to elapse without teaching, the exemption may cease at the option of the county superintendent. Temporary licenses may be issued. The county superintendent shall have the power to revoke license for cause. A penalty of from $50 to $500 is provided as punishment for whoever barter or gives away the questions for examination. In the duties prescribed and in other respects the bill is like the measure now on the books.

SOLDIER'S LETTER.

The Following Letter was Written by an Onio Soldier.

PORT SAID, Egypt, Jan. 4, 1899.

DEAR MOTHER:—

We arrived here all O. K. Dec. 28. Port Said is a great place. It contains the most mixed up sort of inhabitants that I ever saw. All nationalities under the sun are represented here. The Captain gave liberty and a month's pay to the crew, and the result was they went ashore and ripped up the town, and all liberty had to be refused them. The American sailor is a disgrace to the civilized world. The only thing that can be said in his favor is that he will fight like a tiger on any and all occasions.

The Arab men and women all dress alike here, and you cannot tell a girl from a boy. The other night some of the men got drunk and bet that a girl was a boy, and to settle the matter, they grabbed her and tore the Yakmas, or veil from her. The Arabs saw this and set up a great outcry, and the police took them all in. I heard of it and went up to the station to see the boys. When the Judge saw what a gang he had before him, he got scared and quaked with fear. He fined them all (two-pence) or four cents in a American money. This so pleased the boys that they gave him a handful of silver when they left he was praising the Yanks. After this when any misdemeanor were reported of the gang all that they had to do was to go to him and plead guilty and give him some money and that ended it.

They are all Mohammedans and it is fun to see them pray. People are thicker than ants and virtue, truth and honesty are unknown among the Arabs. Port Said is said to be the wickedest place on earth, but five hundred Yanks showed them how to be tough. We leave here to-morrow for Smalie, the terminus of the Suez Canal. The Bazar and Bumboat people reaped a rich harvest off the Buffalo, having sold us all their old crippled up donkeys for beef at 12 cents per pound. Will write again.

PUTS SPAIN IN A HOLE

ACCEPTANCE OF AGUINALDO'S PLAN WOULD MEAN WAR.

Offers to Release His Prisoners on Almost Prohibitive Conditions—No Anxiety Felt in Washington Over Proclamation of Philippine Republic.

Having failed to secure any consideration in the United States, Aguinaldo is now trying desperately to secure the formal recognition by Spain of the republic of the Philippines, which he publicly proclaimed at Malolos, and he has managed affairs so shrewdly that Premier Sagasta finds himself in an awkward fix.

Advices from Manila say that Aguinaldo now offers to release his Spanish prisoners on the condition that Spain will recognize the independence of his self-styled republic and become its ally. He has also demanded recognition of the vatican and has invited the Pope to send a commission to the Philippines to negotiate for the release of the priests who are held by the insurgents. Greatly as Spain would like to see the civil and military prisoners of Aguinaldo set free, she has no desire to stir up any more trouble with the United States, and recognition of the

AGUINALDO.

Philippine republic would mean a renewal of hostilities.

Washington officials are not moved by the reported threats of the Filipino junta in Europe to withdraw Agoncillo and his fellows from Washington if they are not speedily recognized officially. While Agoncillo has been well treated informally, he has not been recognized by the Government, and it may be stated positively that he will not be. The United States Government is pledged to endeavor to secure the Spanish prisoners' release and it will use every proper effort to do so, but it cannot be held to the performance of the impossible, must be allowed its own time and the use of what it deems the best means to accomplish the task.

It is not to be supposed for a moment that the Spanish Government, no matter how desirous of securing the release of the prisoners more speedily than could be accomplished through the efforts of the United States Government, will enter into any alliance with the insurgents.

FILIPINOS MAKE THREATS.

General Burgoese Says 30,000 Are Under Arms and Will Fight.

Agoncillo, the Filipino representative in America, has received re-enforcements in the arrival of Jose Lozano, Juan Luna and Capt. Marti Burgoese, who expect to form a Philippine junta with Washington as headquarters.

Capt. Burgoese says the delegates are under sealed orders from "President Aguinaldo of the Philippine republic, the great patriot and statesman." He declares that there are 30,000 Filipinos under arms, that they will not submit peacefully to the United States forces, and that their ability to resist is unquestioned. Spain could not conquer them, nor can the United States.

Mr. Lopez called at the State Department Tuesday afternoon and delivered to Secretary Hay the ultimatum recently forwarded by the Filipino chief. It is stated in the communication that unless this Government recognizes Agoncillo within ten days as the Philippine minister to the United States Aguinaldo will break off diplomatic and friendly relations.

SAMPSON AND SCHLEY.

Long Wrangle in the Senate Over Their Proposed Advancement.

The contention between Sampson and Schley stirred up the Senate to such an extent on Monday that the peace treaty was forgotten and the Senators fought anew the great battle of Santiago, touched upon pending scandals in the army, deplored the opening of similar sores in the navy, and postponed all action on the President's advancement of Sampson and Schley for a period of twenty days. This conclusion was not reached, however, until the Senate, by a vote of 37 to 17, or exactly two to one, over the protests of Senators Chandler, Hale and Lodge, ordered the Secretary of the Navy to send to the Senate all the papers in the case of each of the commodores who had been advanced on account of conspicuous conduct.

CUBANS FIRE CANE FARMS.

Disgruntled Natives Try to Destroy Property in Cuba.

Col. Ray reported in Santiago that an attempt was made to burn the cane on the San Miguel sugar estates near Guantánamo. The property was saved by the arrival of two companies of the Third Immunes. Reports from various quarters show that all the cane fires are the work of disgruntled Cubans, soldiers who have failed to get desirable offices. Bad feeling exists among the negroes in the Cuban army over the evident intention of the white Cubans to occupy the official

LODGE SPEAKS FOR EXPANSION.

Massachusetts Senator Favors the Ratification of the Treaty.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the junior representative in the upper house of the State of Massachusetts, addressed the Senate Tuesday upon the subject of expansion. His views attracted the more attention because of the radical differences between his opinions on the subject and those of his venerable colleague, Senator Hoar. Senator Lodge's speech had been prepared with great care, and it received the undivided interest of a large number of Senators. He was applauded frequently.

Senator Teller of Colorado also discussed the question of colonial possessions, contending that the constitution did not apply to any of the territories until expressly extended by law of Congress, and quoting from speeches of Webster to that effect. He cited the act organizing the territory of Orleans as providing a colonial rather than a territorial form of government, and recalled the fact that the act had been signed by Thomas Jefferson. Senator Clay of Georgia favored ratifying the treaty, and then assist the Filipinos in establishing a government, whose independence should be recognized just as soon as it is found capable of performing all international obligations. The Senator thought there should be a declaration of policy now. He concluded by calling attention to Gen. Leonard Wood's statement before the military committee that it would require 50,000 soldiers for Cuba and said: "At this ratio it would require 400,000 soldiers to govern the Philippine Islands as an American province."

CREAMERY MEN IN SESSION.

Makers of Butter Hold National Convention at Sioux Falls.

The annual convention of the National Creamery Association opened in Sioux Falls, S. D., with 4,000 delegates present. W. K. Boardman of Iowa acted as president at the opening session. Addresses of welcome were delivered by H. H. Smith, C. S. Palmer and H. H. Keith, and the response was made by W. W. Marsh. The secretary's report showed an expenditure of about $4,000, and stated that the finances of the association were in good shape.

W. S. Moore of Chicago gave a history of the association, explaining its objects and purposes. There was some discussion over a paper on "The Handling of Milk and Cream," and of other miscellaneous subjects, participated in by G. W. Louthan of Iowa, J. Morek of Iowa, L. F. Howe of Nebraska, and S. Haugdahl of Minnesota. A special train brought the Governor and the members of the Legislature from Pierre to attend the sessions.

ment went to him from a special committee selected by the general convention of the Episcopal Church, which met in New York recently. They decided upon Bishop McLaren as the man best fitted to examine the field newly opened, and to make valuable recommendations for extension of the church's missionary work there.

MINERS AND OPERATORS AGREE.

Chicago Agreement to Stand—Arbitration Provided.

The joint convention of coal miners and operators adjourned in Pittsburg, Pa., after having adjusted harmoniously all existing differences. The Chicago agreement of last year remains in force in the four competitive States, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, except that in Illinois the run-of-mine, or gross-weight, system alone prevails, and the operators there have agreed to arbitrate the question "whether or not the various districts of Illinois are entitled to any reduction in Springfield pick and machine mining differentials, as against Danville, the basing rate, and, if so, how much." This is to be done in case the question cannot be adjusted at the Illinois State convention.

EAGAN FOUND GUILTY

VERDICT OF THE COURT-MARTIAL IS DISMISSAL.

Famous Military Trial Comes to an End, and Decision Is Reached in a Few Minutes—Dismissal from the Service Is Recommended.

Brig. Gen. Charles P. Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, has been found guilty by a court martial of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and also conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. The finding of the court is that he be dismissed, and there is no recommendation to executive clemency.

There were two charges on which Gen. Eagan was tried, and a single specification under each which referred to the language used in his statement submitted to the War Investigating Commission. The use of the language was practically admitted by Gen. Eagan, whose plea of not guilty did not contravene the facts, but related solely to the fact of immunity for his evidence and what he alleged to be gross provocation on the part of Gen. Miles. The first charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, is, by the sixty-first article of war, punished by dismissal from the service, and the court martial, having found him guilty of violation of this article, was permitted no discretion as to the penalty.

By its action the court martial found that Eagan's language, in which he said that Gen. Miles "lies in his heart, lies in every hair of his head, lies willfully, deliberately, intentionally and maliciously," was not protected by the immunity supposed to have been granted by the President to officers testifying before the commission. The court agreed by direct vote that the immunity was extended only to testimony, and that it did not carry with it any permission to officers to disgrace themselves by unseemly language toward either a superior or a subordinate.

Gen. Eagan's counsel made a plea based on civil practice in favor of immunity from prosecution, but, in the first place, the President, who convened the court martial, by that act apparently decided the immunity he promised did not cover intemperate language, and the court martial so held. It took the court about forty-five minutes to decide on the general form of their verdict.

DENY USE OF CHEMICALS.

Chicago Packers Invite Inspection, and Offer $100,000 Forfeit.

Chicago packers have replied to the embalming beef charges in the shape of an offer to donate $100,000 to any designated charity if a commission sent by Gen. Miles can find any evidence of the use of chemicals in the preparation of meat by them for the army or for their trade. The packing firms deny that there was anything done to preserve meat in tropical countries except the usual precautions of sending and storing it in refrigerators. They declare that they used nothing but water and cold air in dressing the beef and assert that all shipments were made from their regular stock.

TWENTY GOLD SEEKERS DEAD.

Miners and Prospectors Are Frozen in the Copper River Region.

The news which reached Seattle of the death of twenty or more miners and prospectors on Valdez glacier has had a depressing effect on that part of the population interested in the Copper river gold fields of the north. The information was brought down by the steamer Cottage City from Alaska. The names of those known to be dead are Charles Khron, New York City; C. P. Smith, Chicago; Ole Evjen, Baldwin, Wis.; Mr. Henderson, Wisconsin, and George Swezey, New York.

THEY'VE MONEY NOW.

The Moores, of Diamond Match Fame, on Their Feet.

W. H. and J. H. Moore, Chicagoans, of Diamond match, National biscuit and tin plate fame, have settled with all their creditors. Within ten days they have paid out $500,000 in cash. The two promoters, who, two and a half years ago, failed for $4,000,000 and caused the closing of the Chicago stock exchange for three months, have now a clean financial bill of health. The means to accomplish this result have all been secured since February, 1908.

ARCH ENEMY IN AGONCILLO.

Filipino Representative Appears in the Role of a Spy.

Filipe Agoncillo, the agent sent to this country by Aguinaldo, has placed himself in the position of a public enemy to the United States, and as he is construed by authorities to be still a subject of Spain he could be arrested and tried as a spy. A dispatch sent to the Filipino junta at Hong Kong by Agoncillo is what got Aguinaldo's youthful representative in trouble. In the message Agoncillo asked that Aguinaldo be informed that it was the purpose of the President to pursue an aggressive policy in the Philippines when the ratification of the treaty had been obtained; that re-enforcements sent to Gen. Otis would arrive about that time; that if the Filipinos wanted independence they would be obliged to fight for it, and that the time to act was before the American lines were strengthened by re-enforcements.

Agoncillo has offended several times. A copy of the instructions sent to Gen. Otis in regard to the situation at Iloilo, voicing the purpose of the President to avoid a conflict with the Filipinos, was transmitted by him to Hong Kong. This knowledge of the President's forbearance, it is believed, is responsible for the defiant attitude of the Filipinos at Manila and Iloilo. It has also come to light that Agoncillo attempted to get the Cuban and Porto Rican delegations now in Washington to act with him in opposition to the United States.

Advices from Manila say the Filipino congress at Malolos passed a resolution expressing confidence in Aguinaldo and empowering him to declare war at any time and for any purpose against the Americans or any one else.

London papers are impressed by the increasing gravity of the position in the Philippines. They fear that the defiant attitude of the rump government is probable, if not imminent. The Times advises the United States to be prepared for a serious struggle. The Chronicle ridicules the new republic, which, it says, if it is allowed to run, will endure for about a month. The paper blames the United States for allowing the movement to gain such headway.

A dispatch from Hong Kong Friday declared that Aguinaldo had officially notified Gen. Otis that the Philippine republic had been proclaimed.

SEARCH FOR DEAD GIVEN UP.

Victims of Paul Jones Tragedy Likely Carried Out to Sea.

The search for the victims of the Paul Jones disaster has been abandoned. The Taggart-Jones expedition, which consisted of Mayor Taggart, Lawrence Jones and Messrs. Patterson and Breuning, the two latter from Indianapolis, and which was the last to make a search, returned to New Orleans empty handed. They found no trace of the bodies, which have probably been carried to sea by the heavy wind from the northwest. The other two searching parties returned without any tidings of a significant nature.

ATTACKS PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

Hot Debate Between Johnson of Indiana and Dolliver of Iowa.

Congressman Johnson of Indiana, who has been opposed to the war policy of the administration, made a fierce attack upon President McKinley. It was made in the course of debate with Dolliver of Iowa, and was the most exciting and acrimonious discussion on the war yet held in Congress. Johnson denounced the policy of expansion and advocated the abandonment of the Philippines to any fate that might overtake them.

In his reply to Johnson Congressman Dolliver characterized as little better than traitors the men who were now giving encouragement to the insurgents in the Philippines, and declared that if it should be necessary to use force to preserve the fruits of Admiral Dewey's great victory it would be due to the almost treasonable action of members of the Senate and the House of Representatives. Johnson stated Dolliver's replies were not satisfactory, and demanded to know direct whether or not Dolliver favored the subjection of the Filipinos by force. Johnson further advocated the cause of the Filipinos by saying they were brave enough to take a stand in arms against the imposition of government by the United States.

Jacob Litt brings his great production of "Sporting Life" to McVicker's Theater Feb. 19 for a protracted run. This famous melodrama has been running all winter at the Academy of Music in New York to record-breaking attendance. It has been acknowledged to be the greatest production of a play ever attempted in America, even excelling the much-discussed "Cyrano de Bergerac" of Mansfield in point of lavish scenic beauty and size and quality of cast. Over two hundred people are used during the course of the play and of these fifty are speaking roles, for which Mr. Litt has engaged the best people to be had in this country. Robert Hilliard, Elita Proctor Otis, Joseph Wheelock, Frazer Coulter, Frank Burbeck, Jeannette Lowrie, Charles Gotthold, Paton Gibbs are among the leading members of this fine company. The scenery embraces sixteen complete sets, which have been painted by the leading scenic artists of America. They represent a number of famous places in England, notably two scenes at Epsom Downs, where the famous Derby is run; Earl's Court, the Hotel Cecil in London, Covent Garden by night and the National Sporting Club, where some of the most noted fistic battles in the history of the squared circle have taken place. A scene which never fails to interest is the training stable of the Earl of Woodstock, the hero of the play. This is the home of Lady Love, the mare whose winning of the Derby saves the earl from ruin and bankruptcy. It took six cars to move this great production from New York to Philadelphia last week, and it will come west on a special train of ten cars. The engagement is sure to mark a historic event in the annals of Chicago's playhouses.

"Well, consider for yourself the result if the Canaries were near Cat Island."—Detroit Journal.

Delegates representing a number of neighboring farmers in Clay County, Minnesota, who visited the Edmonton district of Western Canada last summer are evidently very well satisfied with the result of their trip. They think so well of the country that in addition to the privilege of obtaining a free homestead of 160 acres of land they have also purchased land. In a recent interview on the subject Messrs. C. E. and A. Hughes of Barnesville, Clay Co., say:

"We are well pleased with Western Canada. It is far ahead of what we expected. We find the climate to be warmer than we expected. As for the crops we have never seen anything that can compete with them. We have lived in Minnesota and have farmed some of what they count the best lands in the Red River Valley for ten years and have done very well in that part of the country, and have farms there at present free of all encumbrance, but believe that this country (Western Canada) is so much better that we have bought from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company one section of land northeast of Edmonton in the Beaver Hill district. We have traveled through that part of the country and have seen the grain in the granaries and the amount of land that it was taken off and find that they have grown as much as fifty bushels and over to the acre, and they say that this has not been a good year, and very little, if any, grain has been touched by the frost. Hay seems to be plentiful, and if you wish to put up log buildings you can get the logs within a few miles. Coal can be had at the mines for 75 cents per ton, or you can dig it yourself. Nearly all kinds of garden truck can be grown in abundance. We find everything that can be grown in good demand. The farmers tell us that they can get four and a half live weight per hundred for hogs, and for three-year-old steers from fifty to sixty dollars per head, providing they are good. We will move into that part of the country next summer. All the people in that part of the country seem satisfied, and we do not see any reason why they should not be so."

The Messrs. Hughes also stated that they would be very glad to afford anyone desiring particulars about the country they had visited the fullest information, on receiving inquiries at Barnesville, Clay County, before the 1st of June next, when it is understood, they propose to return to the Edmonton district.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

HEALTHY MATERNITY.

Two Grateful Women Tell of the Help They Have Received From Mrs. Pinkham.

The climax of life force in woman is capable motherhood. The first requisite for a good mother is good health. Health of body means health of the generative organs.

Read what Mrs. G. A. NONTAMAKER, Bluffton, Ohio, says about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how well it prepared her for maternity:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must say a word in praise of your Vegetable Compound. I used three bottles of it when I was pregnant, and labor was not nearly as long as it was with my other babies; and my baby is so healthy to what the others were. I think every woman should use your Compound when pregnant, it will save them so much suffering and misery. I cannot say enough in praise of it. If ever I need medicine again, I shall use your Compound."

The most successful tonic known to medicine for women approaching maternity is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a safeguard for every woman who uses it, and the fullest benefit comes from its use with Mrs. Pinkham's advice freely offered to all women. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Here is a convincing statement, bearing directly on this subject, from Mrs. E. Bishop, of 1848 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am a great believer in your Compound. I was almost despairing of ever again being well, as I was a great sufferer, and had been for years. I suffered from womb trouble, and had terrible blind fits. After writing to you I tried your Compound. The result was astonishing. I have used it and advocated it ever since. In childbirth it is a perfect boon. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light, so that all women would read, and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings."

OBITUARY.

The following obituary was furnished this paper by relatives of the deceased:

Born to Elizabeth, (nee Paulin,) the wife of Daniel Lazarus, a daughter by the name of Christina Lazarus, in the year of our Lord Christ 1806, the 14th day of June, at 11 o'clock p. m. This Christina Lazarus was born and baptized in Hanover township, Northampton county and the state of Pennsylvania, U. S. A. The above named Christina, was baptized on the 6th day of July, 1806, by Johann Conrad Jaeger, Lutheran minister. Godmother was Christina Lazarus alone, who at the time was a widow and the grandmother to the child. The above named Christina, was confirmed at the age of 18 years by the same Johann Conrad Jaeger.

Christina Lazarus was married at the age of 35 years to (a certain) Daniel Swigert, by the same Johann Conrad Jaeger, the Lutheran minister, that baptized and confirmed her. This Daniel and Christina Swigert nee Lazarus, removed from Northampton county, Penn., to Danville, Montour county, Penn., from Danville to Crawford county, O., from Crawford county, O., to St. Joseph county, Ind., and from St. Joseph county, Ind., to Marshall county, Ind., and has lived in the latter place now 10 years. To this union were born three sons and one daughter, the husband and two sons preceded her to their future home. During the last ten years she has made her home with her son David in Culver, (formerly Marmont,) Marshall county, Ind., where she died January 26th, 1899, at the age of 92 years, 7 months and 12 days, leaving one son, one daughter, eleven grand-children, seven great-grand-children, with many other relatives and friends to mourn their death.

What Next.

It does seem as though the seedsmen would stop somewhere, but here comes a work of art. Think of it, twenty-four pages lithographed in colors, not gaudy chromos, but from lithographs in colors, upon an entirely new plan. This, in itself, is enough to turn every woman's head. Then follow about one hundred more pages, filled with handsome half-tone illustrations of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables, photographed from nature, all printed on fine paper and enclosed in an elegant cover of white and gold. Vick's Garden and Floral Guide also contains full descriptions and directions for planting Flowers and Vegetables, Plants, Small Fruits, etc. It explains a new departure in selling Vegetable Seeds by weight in place of old style of packets; also a grand offer giving customers credit for full amount of purchase to apply upon order for implements and useful articles. This splendid work of art will be mailed with a Due Bill good for 25 cents worth of seeds, for only 15 cents. Write JAMES VICKS SONS, Rochester, New York.

For La Grippe.

For sale by Culver City Drug Store. 3t4m.
