QUARANTINE RAISED.

All Danger from Smallpox Regarded as Practically Over.

Outside of the Bennett family where the first case originated four weeks ago there is no smallpox in Culver. The Bennett family will be out tomorrow.

The other cases were pronounced cured last Saturday when the county health officer raised the quarantine. The inference to be drawn from his action is that the precaution to request the children from the two infected houses to remain away for another week.

The academy on Saturday night permitted the employes who reside n town to return to their homes.

While all possibility of infection is not over the fact that no new cases have appeared gives a reasonable assurance that the danger

Whether the peril has been exaggerated or not the authorities, both town and school, have taken the proper course from the start, and as vaccination has been universal as a result of the scare, we may conclude that the fright has had its beneficial aspects. Moreover, the surrounding country has been given to understand that the town is awake to the safety of the public and will carefully guard the health of the community whenever | Hickman goes today. For a time the development | the exchequer, died in England. of railways obscured the interest in the canals. The Erie canal and others fell into comparative disuse. Meantime other countries have continued to open new waterways and make great use of them. The advantages of water transportation, chiefly its cheapness as compared with railway traffic, have revived interest in canals. To any nothing of the Panama canal, the new Erie canal, which will take thousand-ton barges from ed States. the lakes to the ocean, and the Chicago drainage canal, constructed as a sewage way and certain to be completed as a ship way, are examples of what may be done. Our watercourses lie in four systems--the rivers of the Pacific, the rivers of the Atlantic, the Mississippi and its tributaries, and the great lakes. That there will ever be a cut through the Rockies to join the Pacific and the centralsystems is beyond the dreams of engineers, remarks the Youth's Companion, but any one with a map may trace the conduits that will make the other three systems a great unit of traffic. Following streams where they show on the map, draw a line from the Mississippi to Green Bay, from Minneapolis to Duluth, from Cincinnati to Lake Erie, from Ashtabula to Pittsburg, from Pittsburg to Washington-and the great inland cities have become seaports. #### The Power of Prejudice.

A curious illustration of deep-seated prejudice is seen in the strong opposition displayed toward the plan to construct a tunnel under the English channel from England to France, which has recently been revived and has a good chance to go through unless British hostility shall result in parliament blocking the scheme. The plan contemplates a double tunnel for railway purposes, about 24 miles in length; the estimated cost is about $80,000,000; it is believed the engineering problem is comparatively an easy one, as the rock through which a passage will be cut is of the chalky order and can be readily bored, and the financial and administrative phases of the undertaking have been carefully looked after. It is admitted that the tunnel, if completed, will confer immense benefit, and that English manufacturers, by having a line by which their products can be shipped directly and without breaking bulk to continental markets, will score enermous advantage. Still, there is a strong antagonism to the tunnel, generated principally by the Imperial defense committee, which sees in the tunnel a menace to national security. The fear of invasion appears to be uppermost in many British minds and this apprehension creates lively visions of an enemy pouring in by way of the hole pierced in the chalky Dover cliffs. Yet, says Troy Times, a little charge of dynamite would instantly put the tunnel out of business and the resultant flood would drown any foe who happened to be sneaking through to strike a deadly blow at Albion.

Indians are not always the gravefaced orators of Cooper. According to Mr. Leupp, the commissioner of Indian affairs, they are the original American humorists. He once gave some of them a lecture on their duties to the agent, pointing out that he needed time to eat, be with his family and to rest. An aged Indian of great dignity rose to explain that the last agent for the tribe never did anything but rest. A more familiar story is that of the Indian guide who told a traveler that it was not necessary to hide his valuables "for there is not another white man within a hundred

There is no more difficult sort of legislation than that which deals with the distribution of water rights, and this is to form the subject of serious study in the near future. The topography of the Mexican republic-a highly elevated tableland sloping gradually northward into the United States, but in almost all other directions furnishing more or less abrupt declivities to the sen, down which flow the mountain streamsin itself suggests untold possibilities in the way of water power.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER GIVES $32,000,000

IMMENSE DONATION IS MADE BY HIM TO THE GENERAL EDU-CATION BOARD.

Largest in All History-Announcement By Oil King's Son Surprises the Members-Their Letter of Appreciation and Thanks.

New York, Feb. 8 .- Thirty-two millions of dollars worth of Income-bearing securities was the gift which John D. Rockefeller, through his son John D. Rockefeller, Jr., announced to the general education board when it assembled for a special meeting in this city late Thursday afternoon.

For general education purposes throughout the country, is given as the purpose of this donation-the largest single prize ever handed out for such purposes.

Mr. Rockefeller previously had given the board $11,000,000 for the same work, his contributions now amounting to $42,000,000.

Simply Announced by Son. The general education board apparently was not prepared for this gift, which was announced simply in this letter:

"New York, Feb. 6, 1907. General Education Board, 54 William street, New York city.-Gentlemen: My father authorizes me to say that on or before April 1, 1907, he will give to the general board income-bearing securities the present market value of which is about thirty-two million dollars, ($32,000,000) one-third to be added to the permanent endowment of the board; two-thirds to be applied to such specific objects within the corporate purposes of the board, as either he or I may from time to time direct, and remainder not so designated at the death of the survivor to be added also to the permanent endowment of the board. # RIVER AND HARBOR BILL IS PASSED

HOUSE APPROVES THE MEASURE CARRYING MORE THAN $83,000,000.

Amended by Commisse - Senate Handles the Indian Appropriation Bill Quite Roughly, Rejecting Several Important Amendments.

Washington, Feb. 8. The house Thursday completed and passed the river and harbor apprepriation bill, carrying more than $83,000,000, with sundry amendments, all of which were suggested by the chalfman of the committee, Mr. Partell, of Ohio. Among the important amendments adopted were:

To construct dam No 3 and complete dam No. 2 in Allegheny river, $235,000, being an incresse of $35,000. Improving Bay Ridge and Red Hook channels of New York, the secretary of war being authorized in his discretion to presecute the improvement in said channels with a view to obtaining first a depth of 35 feet and subsequently increasing it "to the the adopted full depth allowed in the adopted project as the available or shall reentrance to said harbor shall require."

Calumet River Project. The paragraph in relation to the Calumet river, Illinois and Indiana, was amended so as to authorize the secretary of war to enter into a contract to complete the project, for which $191,500 is apprepriated. The aggregate cost is limited to $170,000, exclusive of the amounts heretofore appropriated. A survey of the Missouri river was authorized from its mouth to Sloux City; also a survey of the Savannah river, Georgia, for 30 miles belaw Augusta. A bill amending the denatured alcohol bill was asked.

The amendments of the committee, and especially those suggested by the special committee which went to the Indian territory last summer to investigate conditions there, were nearly all rejected on points of order. The provision which allowed fullblood Indians of the Indian territory to sell their surplus lands was defeated by a vote of 31 to 22, which leaves in force the provision of the law known as the McCumber amendment, prohibiting the alienation of such lands for 25 years.

The coal land amendment, allowing the surface of the coal lands in the Indian territory to be sold, and which was regarded as of equal importance with that providing for the removal of the restrictions on alienation, was ruled out of the bill on a point of order made by Senator Tillman.

Report on Postal Bill. If the post office department were given credit for all the service it renders the government, the deficit in postal receipts would be practically eliminated, according to the report of the house committee on post offices and post roads on the post office appropriation bill which was submitted to the house Wednesday.

The government departments and other government offices in Washington reported that for the six months period ended December 31, 1906, the postage upon matter they sent through the malls would have aggregated $2,285,427. The commiftee estimates that it is fair to assume $5,000,000 worth of mail is carried for the government annually from Washington without credit to the post office department. The deficit in the post office department for the fiscal year 1906 was $10,516,996 and the committee estimates that this would be entirely covered if it were possible to compute the amount of mail franked by federal officials in all parts of the country, in addition to the amount of free mail going out of Washington.

The total amount carried by the bill is $209,416,802.

CHAPTER VII.

Some Inner Mysteries Are Expounded.

The hosts of Israel had been forced to tarry for the winter on the banks of the Missouri. A few were on the east side at Council Bluffs on the land of the Pottawattamie Indians. Across the river on the land of the Omahas the greater part of the force had settled at what was known as Winter Quarters. Here in huts of logs, turf, and other primitive materials, their town had been laid out with streets to aid in the passage of a legal re- torn loose and physicians testified and byways, a large council-house, a mill, a stockade, and blockhouses. The Indians had received them with great friendliness, feeling with them a common cause of grievance, since the heavy hand of the Gentile had pushed them also to this bleak frontier. To this settlement early in November came the last train from Nauvoo, its members wearied and wasted by the long march, but staunch in their faith and with hope undimmed. If was told in after years how there had leaped from the van of this train a once sought an audience with Brigham Young and certain other members of the Twelve who had chanced to be present at the train's arrival; and how, being closeted with these, he had eagerly inquired if it might not be the will of the Lord that they should go no farther into the wilderness, but stand their ground and give battle to the Gentiles forthwith. He made the proposal as one who had a flawless faith that the God of Battles would be with them, and he appeared to believe that something might be done that very day to force the matter to an issue. When he had made his proposal, he walted in a modest attitude to hear their views of it. To his chagrin, all but two of those who had listened laughed. One of these two, Bishop Snow-a man of holy aspect whom the Church Poet had felicitiously entitled the Entablature of Truth-had looked at him searchingly, then put his hand upon his own head and shaken it hopelessly to the

Mr. Howe was the first witness. He was asked about certain items in his books charged to "cash." He said he had drawn the money from bank, $1,500 at one time and $1,200 at another, and had delivered it to members of the executive committee of the company. He did not know for what purpose It had been used.

President Sweeney was then called and said that the $1,500 had been delivered to him and he had given it to Charles Kahlo. He stated that a bill was pending before the legislature; that eastern insurance companies were fighting it and the State Life was enxlous that it be passed. Kahlo was lobbying for the bill and the money was given to him for "legal expenses."

Mr. Sweeney said he did not take a receipt nor was any itemized statement of how the money was spent sub-

Mr. Wynn said he received the money from the cashler and paid it over to Kablo, but did not know how it was used.

It developed further that $225 was paid to Charles S. Hernly, then chairman of the Republican state central committee.

President Sweeney was asked: "Do you know whether other funds were given to other members of the executive committee of the company?"

"I believe there were," he replied. "But I understand you yourself redent, Patriarch, and High Priest of ceived no funds, except the $1,500 and the $225 that you paid Hernly?" "Those are the only items of cash I

WILL STUDY FOREIGN SYSTEMS.

New Superintendent of Gary Schools Going Abroad.

Laporte.-Prof. W. A. Wirt, eight years superintendent of schools at Bluffton, Ind., a lecturer in Chicagokindergarten training schools and a specially trained graduate or Chicago university, is about to leave for a tripthrough central Europe for the study of industrial school systems in preparation for his work as school supertendent of the new industrial city of Gary. The plan adopted for the Gary educational system is novel in this country. Its aim will be to produce skilled artisans rather than lawyers, stemographers and clerks and its method will be to train the hand, eye and byain of the pupil along industrial lines as the predominating effort. Prof. Wirt is 33 years old and has studied the systems of industrial training in vogue in Germany.

of a farmer living near the city, sent a hurry call to a physician, the messenger saying that the stork was hovering over the Middleton residence. When the physician arrived he was informed that the stork had beaten him to the residence, and his services were unnecessary. He asked to see the baby, and was surprised to be shown an infant at least three days old. When he commented on its age Mrs. Middleton indignantly affirmed that the child was born this morning after she had sent the messenger for him. The doctor summoned a second physician, who confirmed his statement, Then Mrs. Middleton confessed. She wanted to give her husband an heir, and two days before she had gone to Fort Wayne, obtained the infant and kept it in the house till the opportune moment, as she thought, had arrived. Mr. Middleton will keep the waif.

Wabash. - Ell Middleton compelled his wife to return to Port Wayne the child she obtained there and which she claimed was born to her, attempting to deceive her husband, who is blind and who is anxious for an heir. Mrs. Middleton's plan was exposed by a physician, who, arriving at her home shortly after she asserted the baby had been born, declared it was at least three days old.

THREE ARE KILLED IN WRECK OF GREAT WESTERN FAST MAIL.

Four Others Scriously Hurt-Engine and Cars Leave Track While Going 60 Miles an Hour.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. E .- The Omaha fast mail, on the Great Western rallway, was wrecked at German Valley, a small station in the southeast corner of Stephenson county and 96 miles from Chicago, killing three and seriously injuring four others early Thursday morning. The sleeping coaches were the only ones which kept the track and the rest rolled down the low embankment on which the Great Western tracks are laid throughout its entire distance.

The dead are Martin Cline, of Chicago, and two mail clerks.

It is said that the conductor of the wrecked train was instructed to take a siding at German Valley either to escape blocking from a smashed freight car there or to go around a freight train stalled at that point.

The train was going 60 miles an hour and, striking a spiked switch, left the rails and went over the embankment. The engine turned over and struck the small grain elevator at the point, which is operated by the railway as a collection point from the farms around. The impact was sufficient to break in the walls of the elevator and a stream of grain soured out, burying the train ciew and some of the mail clerks.

Fuel and Food Failing and No Mail in Three Weeks.

Washington, Feb. 8 .- An urgent ap peal for fuel has been received by the interstate commerce commission from the town government of Edinburg, N. D. A dispatch says suffering there is imminent and business places are closing.

Grocers are running out of supplies. There have been no local freights since December 24, the dispatch says, and no mail has left the place for three weeks. It is claimed that coal has been on the road since October 15, and but two cars have been received in six weeks after repeated appeals. The charge is made that the railroad line is open, but little or no effort is made to move trains.

Chairman Knapp has called the attention of President Hill of the Great Northern railway to the matter.

By Endless Chain.

"Speaking of the endless chain prayer that is going the rounds," said the woman with the cheerful voice, "I can't see what good that can do, unless, maybe, it might start some poor wretch on the road to glory, but I got an awfully nice silk petticoat through an endless chain once. The manufacturers sent letters asking for five names and a ten-cent piece. I sent five names and the ten-cent piece, not thinking much about it, just trying it, and it wasn't long before they sent me this lovely silk petticoat. It was the nicest sort of silk, too. As long as I wore it it didn't crock."

Caution.

Imitations have been placed upon the market so closely resembling Allcock's Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Allcock's, for they are not only lacking in the best elements which have made Allcock's so efficient, but are often harmful in their effects. Remember that Allcock's are the original and only genuine porous plasters-the best external remedy known-and when purchasing planters the only safe way is to always fasist upon having Alleock's.

Economy as the Boy Saw It. Paul Morton, in a recent address on insurance, said of a certain proposed economy: "That would not be an economy, but an extravagance, in the long run. It reminds me of the boy and the jam.

"'My son,' said this boy's mother, 'isn't it rather an extravagance to est butter with that superb jam?"

"No, ma'am, it's an economy," the boy answered. "The same piece of bread does for both."
