

TWO CENT FARE.

Railroads to Withdraw Excursion Rates and Clergymen's Tickets.

The Western railroads have taken up the proposition that no rate less than 2 cents a mile shall be given by these lines. The only reduced rates which the railroads propose to retain are those of the suburban business to the larger cities. No more reduced rates will be made for any kind of a convention or other event, colonists, tourists or any other class if all the roads adopt the view of the majority of the passenger officials. It is believed the time-honored rates of the clergymen or others engaged exclusively in religious or charitable work are also to be withdrawn as soon as the railroads can do so legally. Thousands of annual permits for half rates have been issued to such persons, and as the price asked by the railroads for yearly permits has been paid, some of the passenger officials do not believe that they can now refuse half rates to holders of annual permits for 1907. But with the coming in of 1908 half rates for many persons who have been enjoying for many years this privilege will doubtless be cut out, and all who travel will be obliged to pay 2 cents per mile on all tickets used.

Major Bates Victimized.

An exchange published the following account of an alleged swindle perpetrated on a well-known Maxinkuckee resorter:

Hervoy Bates, president of the American Hominy company at Indianapolis, is out $2,375 as a result of his experience with an alleged insurance broker. A few days ago a man called and asked if he could be interested in life insurance. Bates told him he could not, and the stranger asked him if he could interest him in a "flyer." He then explained that he could give Bates a policy in the best old-line company for $100,000 for a premium of $350, when the regular premium would be $2,375. Bates gave his check for the full amount when the broker said it must go and the bank for the entire amount and the rebate would be issued later. The broker is still missing.

Concerning Eggs.

The following is the law governing the sale of decayed and rotten eggs:
It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale any eggs after the same have been placed in an incubator or to sell or offer for sale eggs in a rotten, decayed or decaying condition to be used for food. It shall be the duty of all peace or health officers to seize any eggs found to be unwholesome and which are intended for sale or offered for human food. Any person, firm or corporation found guilty of violating the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $100 for each offense.

Sandy's Narrow Escape.

"An hoo's the guid wife, Sandy?" said one farmer to another as they met in the market place and exchanged snuffboxes.
"Did ye no hear that she's dead an buried?" said Sandy solemnly.
"Dear me!" exclaimed his friend sympathetically. "Surely it must have been very sudden."
"Aye, it was sudden," returned Sandy. "Ye see, when she turned ill we had na time to send for the doctor, sae I gied her a bit pouther I had lying in my drawer for a year or twa an that I had got frae the doctor mysel', but hadna ta'en. What the pouther was I dinna verra weel ken, but she died soon after. It's a sair loss to me, I can assure ye, but it's something to be thankfu' for I dinna tak' the pouther mysel'."—Dundee Advertiser.

The Chairman's Break.

Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota made a speech at Erin Corners, in his state, says the Saturday Evening Post.
His audience was very unfriendly. They howled at the gigantic Clapp, laughed at him, threw things at him and made it most uncomfortable. Finally Clapp stopped and looked at the chairman.
"Don't mind them, Mose," said the chairman. "Go right ahead. They're nothing but loafers and rowdies. None of the decent people would come."
Wouldn't Waste Time.
An assumed critic on etiquette says an invitation to dine should be accepted the same day. Any chump knows that much. We'd have an answer in the postoffice within ten minutes.—Yates Center (Kan.) News.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the stomach, heart or kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. They make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach, nerves—the inside nerve—mean stomach weakness, always, and the heart, and kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerve. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerve." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by T. E. Slattery.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CHRONIC GRANKS.

We all have met people who are continually kicking. Life seems a terrible thing to them. They seldom smile. Something dreadful is going to happen, nothing is ever just right, and they worry and fret and complain from morning till night. Their trouble seems to be just a bad disposition but this is seldom so. In most cases there is one of two things the matter with them; either their nerves or their digestion is responsible. Both come from the same thing—stomach trouble. A man or woman whose nerves are tied in knots is bound to be mighty poor company. The same thing is true if what they eat don't digest properly. No wonder they grumble, I don't blame them. I have seen Cooper's New Discovery change the whole disposition of people in a month's time simply by getting their stomach in shape again. Even the expression on their faces was altogether different. The worried, tired, fretful look changed to a peaceful happy expression, and the lines of care disappeared altogether. Many people tell me about this in letters. They seem to think it a miracle. It is 'st. It's just the stomach working again. Here's a case of this kind:

"I suffered with my stomach for thirteen years. Nothing I ate seemed to digest. I also had chronic constipation, and was tired, dull, irritable and despondent all the time. I found it difficult to attend to my duties as traction agent at this place."
"Six different doctors treated me and all gave different opinions."
"I began taking Cooper's New Discovery, and to my surprise it helped me from the first. I have gained ten pounds in three weeks and am feeling fine. My work now is a pleasure, where before it was drudgery." J. R. Smock, Cicero, Indiana.
