After Mr. Button told Joe to "quit standing on that desk", or the rent of the class to "get busy on those layouts", the Crivitizats class had one mission in mind, to capture the entire year and put it in this book. We had to take numerous pictures at meany every actrocl event, decide which pictures woold go into the year-book, and arrange these pictures in order to make a complete and interesting year-book. To pay for the year-book, each Covalidade member had to get ads from various businesses in the town. Absolutely every Friday Mr. Button said. Class Of 85 Adds Their Brick To The Wall

On June 9, 1985, at 2:30 p.m., we, the senior class of 1985, met in the cafeteria to make the final adjustments on our caps and DOWN≤

It was so hard to believe that it was our turn to graduate it seemed so atrange that the life we had known for the past 12 years was coming to an end.

The years went by fast, but the tast few weeks of school seemed to take forever.

Finally, the clock struck 3:00. All 76 of us were shakey and neryous as we walked through the gazebo to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." As we sat in our seats, we created a bright checkerboard of burgundy and Reverend Robert Hansen gave the Invocation Twelve seniors were then presented with awards of achievement.

We should all have felt privileged to have U.S. Senators speak at our commencement exercises Republican Senator Richard Lugar spoke to our class about life and the forure.

No other high school in the state of Indiana has ever had a senator speak at a graduation. We left very bonored that Senator Lugar took time out from his busy schedule to come to our high school to speak to us. That is a moment we should never for-

As we stood in line to receive our diplomas, a feeling of excitement came over us as our name. was called. Our parents, relatives, and friends were so proud of us as we stepped onto the platform. To hear the audience clap as we each received our dipiornes and awards was a thrill beyond words:

After the benediction was given by Reverend Hansen, we turned our tassels from left to right and were presented as graduates of CCJSHS. Some of us tossed our mortarboards into

As we filed out of the gym, we all came to the realization that this was it - if was time to become an adult now. We were on our own, and most of us would probably never see each other

Most of us went home to delebrate by having graduation perties that leated into the night. Good friends and relatives stopped by to reminisce the good times and bad, the victories and defeats, and the friends and enemies we all shared here at CCJSH5

Now all that remains for us, are all the fond and never-forgettable memories we shared during our 12 long years at Culver. School is over and a new ide has begun for each of us

I would like to wish each of my fellow grads good luck and the very best of wishes in the future.

At 9:00 p.m. Carl Latkowski, Pres. and John Zehner vice pres. announced the king and queen. The Senior class selected Fred Stayton and Debbie Cihak as the 1985 promiking and queen. The promicourt consisted of Patty Woodward, Ryan Stevens, Kim Woodward, Tim Sage, Michelle Hyland, Bob Valiquet, Cathy Rickman, and Rich Drang. The King and Queen danced to the theme song "Almost Paradise" while the promicourt joined in. The garder ceremonies were held, all who participated had an intriguing time.

The Peanut Gang

Some of Charles Shuftz's furniest cartoons were brought to life in the Drama Club's spring musical, "Snoopy!!!"

Don Baker had the lead part, Snoopy, and portrayed such famous characters as Joe Cool and the Easter Beagle.

Chester Gut, as Linus, did his best to convince all that would listen, of the existence of the Great Pumpkin.

And of course, "Good of Charlie Brown", played by Joe Werner, was on hand to take critism and jokes from all.

Chris Harris, as Woodstock, served Snoopy faithfully as his private secretary, messenger, and publicity agent.

Two of the three female parts were double cast to give more people a chance to act.

Doni Balmer and Kim Woodward were the two Peppermint Patties. They lived up admirably to Patties reputation of furying great difficulties with true and talse tests.

Bonnie Beach and Suzanne Gut both played Eucy. Both did an excellent job of being annoying and making pests of themselves.

Katle Leonard went solo as Sally, Charlie Brown's younger sis — with a crush on Linus.

The chorus of "Snoopy" consisted of Mike Woods, Stpehanie Stebbins, Veronica Coby, and Jill Neidliger.

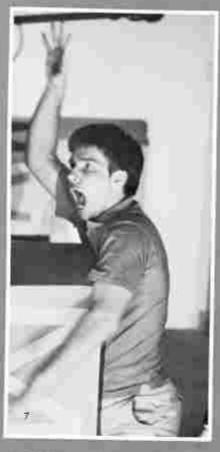

The directors of "Snoopy" were Mr. Eawson, Mrs. Kalt and Miss Feamow,

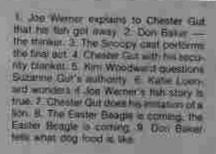

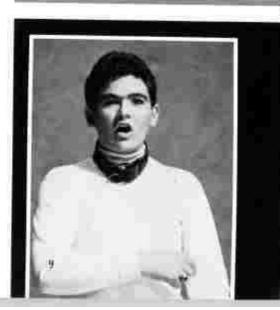

We're Coming Home

Homecoming is a special time of the year when the alumni are welcomed back to reminisce about their high school years, and to be a part of the exciting ceremonies that the students and faculty work so hard to create.

The annual float parade, won by the Junior class, started off the half-time festivities. The theme for their float was "Cavallers Follow the Warpath To Victory." Congratulations to the class of '86 for winning the float contest for three consecutive years.

The 1985 homedoming court was made up of Shelli Slusher and Julie Allyn, who represented the Freshman class. They were escorted by Brett Byer and Frank Solberg. Representing the sophomore class were Lori Patrick and Kellie Hunneshagen. Their escorts were Jamie Vantwoud and Graig Hopple. The juniors chose Terri Jo Marrison and Tammy Keller to represent their class. Escorting them were Davie Mahler and Carl Latkowski.

The three Queen candidates were seniors Mary Loehmer, Cathy Rickman, and Cindy Thompson, Their escorts were Bob Valiquet, Don Burton, and Fred Stayton.

The 1984 homecoming Queen, Jennifer Ablenius, came home to crown Clndy Thompson as the 1985 homecoming Queen.

Congratulations to all of the students who were chosen for the court, and a special congratulations to Cindy Thompson.

Our Cavaller Football team went out and gave the Knox Redskins a light. The boys tried their hardest, but lost the game 33-0. The defeat did not weaken their spirits, though, as they danced the rest of the evening at a U-93 dance party.

The homecoming dance was held in the school caleteria after the game. U-93's Mark Rollings was our disc jockey for the night. He played many of the popular songs of the time.

The homecoming activities were fun and exciting, and hopefully for the Class of '85, something will fondly be remembered as they became part of the alumni of Culver Community High School.

French Lick Springs

On May 3, at 3:30 p.m., twenty-eight Culver Community Jr-Sr High School seniors and four chaperones left the Culver school for French Lick, Indiana. The anticipation of the departure day for the senior trip had arrived.

The group arrived at the French Lick Springs Resort at 10:30 p.m. The seniors were allowed to go for a late-night swim in the dome pool.

On Saturday morning, the group met to eat breakfast at the resort dining room. Afterwards, the seniors were given the day to spend as they wished. Some students golfed, went to the spe and health club, played basketball and tennis, and went horseback and bloydle riding. That evening, the seniors met for a formal dinner in the dining room. They then attended a theater performance.

After checking out of the resort on Sunday morning, the group loaded the bus to head towards Indianapolis. Upon arriving in Indianapolis, many of the capital's scenic sights were pointed out to the seniors. The group arrived home at 5.15 p.m. on Sunday.

All the seniors enjoyed the weekend trip as did the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. Reigh Winters. This was one of the stepping stories toward high school graduation.

I would like to thank the following people for their help in the 1984-85 Culver Community Jr. Sr. High School Yearbook.

Thanks to Elaine Averill for her time and fine photography work. Also a thanks to Mrs. Sharon Weldon for helping with typing. To Mrs. Arquette and her business class, a special thanks for saving my staff and myself many hours of typing the yearbook index. Another thanks goes to Mrs. Benner and her Journalism Class for writing yearbook copy.

A special thanks to the Senior Class and The Culver Athletic Boosters for providing funds for the color fold-out sheets. Both color sections have made this yearbook very special.

Also, I would like to thank Bob Craft for letting us use his photos of the basketball regional game.

At last, a personal thanks to my staff for all their time and extra duties they put into this book because without them, this book would not exist.

Yearbook sponsor, Rick Button

Another Brick In The Wall

Now that another year has past and we are another brick closer to completing a never ending wall, we can reminisce on those moments that became so special. We think back on all the progress we made. These moments combine to make 1985, and in these moments will our memories be found.

Homecoming was a special time for all. The thrill of competition and the excitement of the game come forward in mind.

The basketball season brought an air of expectancy. Male cheerleaders were added to boost crowd spirit, attendance at games soared, and, best of all, the thrill of victory was tasted in the sectional for the first time in twenty-one years.

Then come prom night. The romance and glamour of this evening made it such a special time.

Those were very special times, but with these came the anxiety provoking exams, the broken relationships, and the tough losses. These moments, despite being painful, were a necessary part of learning. Without these, we could never grow.

Now this year is completed. Those special moments and learning experiences that made up 1985 are only memories. The daily clatter of our footsteps in the halls are now only echoes of the past. We have placed another brick in the wall of Culver Community Jr.-Sr. High School. May we continue to build upon these bricks knowing that the future can only be built upon the present.
