County Convention At Culver This Friday

Marshall County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its annual convention on Friday, March 23, at the Wesley United Methodist Church in Culver. There will be speakers at both the morning and the afternoon sessions, and reports will be given by county department chairmen.

"Who, Wherefore and Why" will be the title of Mrs. Robert Leininger's speech. Mrs. Leininger is the president of the 13th District of the Indiana Federation of Clubs and will speak at the morning session.

Following the luncheon, the afternoon presentation will be given by Mr. Latham Lawson of Culver. Mr. Lawson will show slides and discuss the experiences he and his family had last summer while working with the Aroostook Indians in Maine. Their work was in cooperation with Project Concern.

The officers of the Marshall County Federation are: Mrs. Ray Houghton, president and chairperson of the convention; Mrs. Miriam Hammond, first vice president; Mrs. Ward Redinger, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Edgington, secretary; Mrs. Larry Berger, treasurer; Mrs. Ted Strang, Miss Mildred Laird, Mrs. William Caponin, trustees; Mrs. Robert Osborn, parliamentarian. Mrs. Osborn is also in charge of reservations for the convention.

CULVER NATIVE

MAKES HISTORY

Clarence E. Cabell, 54, will take office this month as the first black to be appointed a county clerk in the history of California. He was named to the $30,000 a year job recently by the Board of Supervisors to succeed Los Angeles County Clerk, William G. Sharp, who retired March 20.

Cabell has served as Sharp's chief deputy since 1970 after he placed first on a Civil Service examination. He also becomes the first black county department head outside the Building Services (Custodial) agency.

He joined the county in 1946 as a boys' counselor in the probation department and advanced through the ranks of that agency prior to becoming Sharp's chief deputy. He was a sociology major at the University of California at Los Angeles and lives with his wife and two children in Los Angeles. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Cabell, of Culver.

CHANGE OF DATE FOR REGULAR SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The next regular school board meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 21, 1973, at 7:30 p.m. in the Central office rather than the established meeting date of March 20.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to thank all those who sent cards and flowers during my hospitalization and convalescence at home. Also for remembering me in your prayers and visits.

ATTENTION CONCERNED CITIZENS OF CULVER

Did you know you may have a medicine cabinet or household shelves full of potential hazards for today's young people? To inform you about such hazards, some concerned citizens have arranged to have a drug seminar in the Culver Community High School auditorium on Friday, April 6, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

The State Police will speak on the subject of drugs and an informative film will be shown, followed by a question and answer period. The entire family is urged to attend. There is no admission charge.

Don't let drugs become a major problem in your community. Plan to attend this important meeting.

OFFICE TO BE CLOSED FOR VACATION

The office of the Culver Citizen will not be open on a regular basis from March 24 to April 2. If the office is locked when you are there, please drop your news and advertising or a note about being contacted in the mail slot in the door. Regular hours will resume Monday, April 2. Thank you for your cooperation.

Arthur J. Miller Jr.

Services were held Thursday at the Culver Military Academy Memorial Chapel for Arthur J. Miller Jr., age 51. Mr. Miller died unexpectedly Monday, March 12 in Gary. He was past vice-president of the Culver Legion and a member of the American Legion Post at Culver. At the time of his death he was affiliated with the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company.

Surviving with his wife, Carolyn, are four sons, Arthur J. III, of Hammond; David G., of Peoria, Ill.; James D., of Bloomington, Ind.; and William R., of Hammond; one daughter, Carolyn Ann; and one brother, Henry, of Chicago.

Bishop William Sheridan officiated at the services and he was assisted by Rev. James Greer. Burial was at Culver Masonic Cemetery.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wolfe, Canton, Illinois, are the parents of their first child, a son, born Sunday, March 18. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barshes, of Culver, are the maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shepard, of Culver, are the parents of a daughter born March 19 at Parkview Hospital.

Our neighbor says his marriage started out as a partnership but now he's a wholly-owned subsidiary.

The subject of the lesson is Matter, Col. 3:2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. II John 2:15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. The world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever. Also from The Christian Science Textbook, by Mary Baker Eddy, The more material the belief, the more obvious its error, until divine spirit, supreme in its domain, dominates all matter, and man is found in the likeness of Spirit, his original being. "He uttered His Voice, the earth melted." This scripture indicates that all matter will disappear before the supremacy of Spirit.

Gun Registration

The Culver Police Department is updating all gun registrations. If you have bought, sold, or traded a hand gun in the last two years it would be wise to check with the police on correct registration, or to register all guns owned by you, including rifles, and shot guns. This is for your own protection against theft and also for insurance purposes. It is not a law.

It is a law to register all hand guns and to obtain a permit for hunting and target or for protection. This can be done by contacting the Culver Town Marshal if you live within the city limits of Culver. All others may contact the Marshall County Sheriff in Plymouth.

Memories From . .

March 27, 1963

Walter J. Behmer, West Shore Drive, died Friday night in an Evanston, Ill., hospital. Mr. Behmer and his wife have maintained a summer home on Lake Maxinkuckee for many years and after Mr. Behmer's retirement they spent part of their time in Culver and their winters in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Tuesday, March 26, and Lake Maxinkuckee is ice-free again! The past week end brought beautiful spring-like weather to the area and temperatures in the high 60's which was the beginning of the end of the Lake's ice cover.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert Hoesel entertained with a dinner Sunday to celebrate the 10th birthday of their grandson, Jim Hoesel.

Specials at the grocery store this week include fryers for 19c a pound; pork steak 39c a pound; pork and beans 10c a can and bread for 16c a loaf.

Virginia Roanne Gleason, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Ronald J. Gleason, is one of the students of the James Ward Thorne School of Nursing of Passavant Memorial Hospital who will receive their nurses' caps on Sunday.

March 25, 1953

Joe W. Boetsma, 59, died unexpectedly last Thursday afternoon from a heart attack. A Culver resident since 1917, Mr. Boetsma was head of the firm, Joe Boetsma & Sons, Upholsterers.

Returning to their East Shore home here last Wednesday after a four-month stay in Florida, the Howard Oberlins were shocked to find that their home had been robbed of household goods, clothing, jewelry and other items valued at $1,500.

Henry G. Altheide died Thursday after an illness of several weeks at the age of 66.

Plans for the establishment of a resort at King's Lake near DeLong was announced last Friday with the filing of the proposed plat with the Fulton County auditor at Rochester by Seymour Goodman, a Chicago attorney and real estate broker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoesel are the parents of a son, James Barrett, born March 22.

A son was born March 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Foreman, of Lynwood, California.

William L. Wilhelm, U.S.A.F., formerly of Burr Oak, was married February 14, to Miss Celia Lamonia, Chicago, at St. Ferdinand Church there.

March 31, 1943

The hardware store, operated for 37 years by Oliver T. Goss, opened Monday morning under the name of Culver Hardware Store and the ownership of Paul Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Warner of Argos are the parents of a daughter, Karen Lee, born March 26.

Mrs. Alma Rank died March 23 and services were held Friday afternoon.

Final rites for Tim Wolfe, who died March 23, were held Saturday.

Mrs. John Hawk found that one of her White Rock hens had laid an egg weighing one-half pound and measured nine inches around one way and eight the other.

March 29, 1933

A catch of big king fish in the Florida waters off Ft. Lauderdale proved fatal to John McCormick Monday morning. Mr. McCormick had been troubled with a heart disease for several years and it is believed the excitement of the catch placed too great a strain on his weakened heart.

Those in charge of the construction of the Maxinkuckee Fish and Game Club fish hatchery believe the two ponds will be completed this week and the water turned in at once.

The Indiana National Guard and the Indiana State Rifle Association will hold rifle matches at the Academy on Saturday.

Mrs. Martha Fry died Tuesday at DeLong.

Edward Hatten, 84 years of age, died Friday at his home here. March 28, 1923

An Academy cadet, S. M. Goldman, died while playing baseball in the gymnasium last night.

This year, April 26, will mark the 104th year of the I.O.O.F.

which will be celebrated by the Culver lodge with a picnic.

Miss Nellie Davis and Enoch Andrews were married Monday in Plymouth.

The boiler for the new steam laundry has arrived and the machinery equipment is expected this week. Henry Litzenberger and Jesse Crabb are hoping to be ready for business next Monday.

The comedy, "And Billy Disappeared," staged by the Epworth League, made a great hit Friday night.

April 3, 1913

Albert Overmyer, son of Franklin Overmyer of Burr Oak, brother of George Overmyer of Culver, and son-in-law of William Osborn, died at his home near the North Union Church Monday at the age of 41 years.

Leonard Wilson moved into town Tuesday and took possession of the house he bought of Lee Easterday.

Archie and Furchis Blanchard will leave with their families next week to make their home in the new manufacturing town of Lomax on the Mississippi River near Burlington.

Roy Porter has been added to the local post office force and will be on duty five hours each day.

Many Culverites have given generously of their goods and time to the flood victims at Logansport and Peru.

Miss Elizabeth Duddleson was notified Monday of the death of a sister, Mrs. Dr. Rogers, of Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferrell, of Ober, are the parents of a daughter born March 26.

Another old citizen and Civil War veteran, David Swigart, died Sunday morning at the age of 70. He had not been in good health for many years because of a rebel bullet he carried in his body.

Clarence Dalton, a representative of the Metropolitan Telephone and Telegraph Co., is making his headquarters this week in Culver while buying right-of-way for a long distance telephone line between Chicago and New York.

Ernest Parr is repainting the Poor Barber Shop of which he is now the owner.

Rev. Harris is luxuriating in the bright light of a gasoline plant which he himself installed in the M. E. parsonage last week.

Henry Zechiel went into Chicago last week and bought 72 head of young feeding cattle, 40 head for himself and 32 head for Earl Zechiel, the lot costing him $3,000.

CMA TO HAVE LAST CONCERT THEATRE SERIES PROGRAM

The last performance in Culver's 1972-73 Concert Theatre Series will be a program of music and dance staged by the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra and the Butler Ballet, Thursday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. in Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium.

Tickets may be purchased at the auditorium box office. A special invitation to purchase tickets at $1.00 each has been extended to high school students in nearby communities. All other tickets are $2.00 and $3.00.

Last summer Culver was chosen, along with two universities, as a participant in a pilot project for the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra. The project, which is partially funded by the Indiana State Arts Commission, is designed to appeal directly to the taste of young college audiences. The program will include Baroque works with multiple harpsichord, contemporary works for chamber orchestra, electronic instruments and visual media.

Conducting the chamber orchestra will be William Stein, whose experience includes the posts of assistant to the conductor of the Hamburg State Opera, assistant conductor of the Rhode Island Philharmonic and guest conductor in such cities as New York, Columbia, S. C., and Columbus, Ga. Mr. Stein's repertoire is vast, well over 150 works ranging from the baroque to the modern. For the past four years he has been musical director of the Battle Creek, Michigan, Symphony.

The Butler Ballet has been the performing arm of Butler University's dance department since the earliest days of its affiliation with the university in Indianapolis. Starting as a local performing outlet, the company eventually undertook small tours which grew in dimension and popularity to the point that a resident professional company was created. The quality of the university graduates has earned them leading places in all the major ballet companies. Artists in Butler March tour, Elaine Bauer, David Brown, were lent to the parent Butler company by the present employer, the Boston Ballet Company.

COLLEGE NEWS

Two local girls were named to the Purdue chapter of Kappa Kappa Pi, national honorary society in education. Sharon L. Lirmer, Culver Military Academy, and Bernadette J. Roback, RC 2, Culver, were among the new members initiated.

To become a member, a junior or senior must have a cumulative index of 5.00; a graduate student must have a 5.50. Students must have completed at least credit hours in education courses and made a commitment toward a career in an educational field.

Discover Flash For Fun And Pictures

NEW YORK (ED)—Does photography, to you, mean a sunny day outdoors? If so, you are possibly missing some of your greatest picture opportunities. It's time you expanded your thinking and started using flash.

Flash adds little to the complication of your picture-taking, while adding greatly to your subject possibilities.

Complication, actually, is probably too strong a word. All you have to remember when you are using flash is that, first, it is most effective from 4 to 10 feet. Too close and you will get a washed-out effect; too far and the picture will be dark.

The second thing to remember is to stand at an angle to any shiny surface, so that the flash does not reflect in it. To avoid shadows, keep your subjects away from the wall.

To achieve even lighting in a group picture, try to have each person reasonably equidistant from the camera.

camera, you'll be able to snap four shots in quick series to capture all the action.

The other basic rules of good picture-taking, such as holding your camera steady and shooting your subjects while they're doing something other than staring at the camera, apply indoors as well as out.

Bearing these few simple hints in mind, you're ready to flourish into indoor picture-taking. Your subjects can vary from the baby expressing his opinion of spinach (flash first, clean up later) to Dad expressing his reaction to the big game on TV. From formal party to casual get-together, see that your camera is ready and handy.

Remember with an aim-and-shoot model such as the Kodak Instamatic X-15 camera, anyone can snap a picture. Encourage your family and guests to do just that. To help you on your way to better flash pictures, a special offer is available from March 1 to April 30. Simply mail the end flaps from two boxes of Kodak film, the guarantee panels from two sleeves of GE cubes or bulbs, and the coupon you will get from your dealer to GE FREE CUBE OFFER, P. O. Box 2596, Cleveland, Ohio 44112. In return you will get, free, enough flashes (cubes or bulbs) for eight pictures.

FRANK BRYANT RETURNS TO STAFF

Lt. Gen. John W. Carpenter III, USAF (ret.) superintendent of The Culver Educational Foundation, announces the return of Frank M. Bryant to the staff when he completes his duties as acting headmaster of the LaJolla Country Day School in California.

Prior to going to LaJolla five years ago, Bryant was dean of admissions and scholarships at Culver from 1958-1968, when the school was recognized as the largest boys boarding secondary school in the country. Bryant, of LaJolla, Calif., will become the western admissions representative for Culver's winter programs for boys and girls and the five Culver Summer Schools. Culver's winter enrollment in grades 8-12 is 683.

When asked about re-associating with Culver, Bryant said, "It has become apparent to me that many young people and their parents are looking for the type of educational program Culver offers. I'm happy to once again be in a position to assist the alumni and friends in telling about Culver's activities and the splendid record of Culver graduates."

YOUR OWN PERSONAL POCKET
STAMP

PERMA-STAMP—the pocket stamp that goes wherever you go—neat and clean—ready for instant use WITHOUT AN INK PAD!
Your light-weight PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp is perfect as a personal signature stamp... a time-saving check endorsement stamp... or a name and address stamp for imprinting envelopes, identifying books and other personal or household items.
Every impression is crisp and clean—as if it came off a printing press. Smallest details and finest lines are reproduced with consistent clarity and cleanliness.
Snap-top lid protects your stamp until you're ready to use it. Attractive jade-green plastic case keeps stamp safe from dust, lint and dirt. Available in your choice of ink colors: violet, red, black, green and blue.
Best of all, a PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp costs little more than an old-fashioned rubber stamp.

"TEENS WITHOUT JEANS" ARE IN THE NEWS SPOTLIGHT

"Teens without Jeans," a new fashion theme for '73, was spotlighted at a recent New York showing. The nation's top manufacturers pooled their zingiest teen-appeal designs to demonstrate that the modern fabrics of which most of today's clothes are made all share the same care instruction: machine launder them in warm-to-cold water, never hot.

The Cold Power laboratories presented the new no-jeans fashions in announcing a new Cold Power warm-or-cold water formula for today's synthetics and permanent press.

Manufacturers of teen clothes, as well as the makers of millions of women's and men's garments, are now recommending this warm-or-cold formula to keep clothes looking newer longer, because hot water, it was pointed out, can damage permanent press and other properties of today's synthetic or blended fibers.

Highlights of the "Teens without Jeans" collection included minis, halter-tops, palazzo pants, long dresses and even short dresses with petticoats. Modern Juniors spotlighted a halter-top beach dress in red, yellow and blue Arnel with tiny white polka dots. Alley Cat's Betsy Johnson designed a romantic, lavender-flowered ankle-length dress with a tight-waisted puffed-sleeve jacket and a parasol in matching print. In the home-sew group, a field that has become astonishingly popular with teen-agers, Texfi Fabrics showed a bare-back evening dress in polyester doubleknit.

Gay Gibson introduced polyester sundresses combining small floral prints and polka dots while Court I featured flaring white tennis dresses with bright green trimmed pullovers.

Betsy Johnson's bike outfit teamed a very short yellow corduroy skirt, printed knit halter, and waist-length cardigan with puffed sleeves.

As a beautiful substitute for jeans the teen-age models paraded white palazzo pants by Junior House and Modern Juniors' bright red and white polka-dotted palazzos.

In creating a dramatic teen clothes care package for 1973, Cold Power provided a strong consumer information message for all modern women if it's a washable synthetic fabric—and chances are today it is—the manufacturers' over-all rule is stick to the warm-to-cold water formula.

The Path Of Least Disturbance

In the past few years, the United States has embarked on a new era of environmental concern that has altered our outlook about a number of things.

Once, when we saw a smokestack topped by full plume of black smoke, we thought of men working, of things being produced. Now we think of the air being polluted.

Once, when we saw a parking lot full of automobiles, we marveled at our nation's prosperity. Now we think of oil being consumed and noxious gases spewed from exhaust pipes, of acres of land given over to highways.

Yet America can't reverse the tide of industrial progress—not if our present standard of living is to be maintained. So ways must be found to strike a balance—to conserve natural resources and obtain maximum production of goods and services with minimum environmental damage.

For some industries, the answers may be long and hard in coming. In the transportation industry—important to all other industries—we are lucky. We have the railroads.

Today, railroads haul more freight than the trucks and water carriers and airlines combined. And railroads are easy on the environment. Water carriers and pipelines are relatively easy on the environment, too, but water carriers are limited geographically, and pipelines are limited as to the commodities they can move.

Railroads and trucks are the two modes which have the greatest geographic range and can carry the widest range of products.

Of the two, railroads get the nod, environmentally speaking.

They use a right-of-way that occupies far less land—and can carry far more traffic—than the highways.

The diesel engine used in both railroad locomotives and trucks is a cleaner engine, in terms of polluting emissions, than the gasoline-burning engines used in most automobiles. But less energy is required to roll a metal wheel over a metal rail than is required to roll a rubber tire over a highway, and most studies have concluded that railroads put out about one-third the emissions of diesel trucks, per net ton-mile.

An even more direct result of the physical efficiency of railroads relates to fuel. The energy shortage of this winter drove home with brutal force the message that the nation's reserves of fuel are not inexhaustible.

Railroads and diesel trucks use the same kind of fuel oil. But, in 1971, railroads bought only about half the amount of fuel oil that was bought for use in highway diesel vehicles—of which trucks make up the greatest percentage by far. In the same year, railroads carried nearly twice the ton-miles carried by intercity trucks.

The point of all this is not to suggest that the use of highway trucks be discontinued in favor of railroads. The nation needs all her transportation modes—and that need is increasing.

But without railroads, that could mean an unacceptable increase in environmental damage and in consumption of natural resources.

With railroads, we can breathe a little easier.

OUT OF SIGHT, OUT OF MIND?

IN THE OLD DAYS, A WINDSHIELD WAS AN ACCESSORY--LIKE FLOOR MATS TODAY. BUT WHEN PEOPLE STARTED DRIVING IN THE RAIN, THE FIRST WINDSHIELD WIPER--OPERATED BY A HANDLE INSIDE THE CAR--WAS INVENTED.

NOW, ON MANY LATE-MODEL CARS BLADES DISAPPEAR BEHIND THE COWL AND ARE ONLY SEEN WHEN THEY'RE "ON." BUT THE BLADES SHOULD BE CHECKED OFTEN, TO SEE IF THEY ARE DETERIORATING FROM THE ELEMENTS--AND FROM WEARING OUT.

THE BEST WAY TO CHECK BLADES THAT DISAPPEAR? TURN THE WIPERS ON AND THE IGNITION OFF WHEN THE WIPERS REACH THE "UP" POSITION. THEN EXAMINE THE BLADES. THE CAR CARE COUNCIL RECOMMENDS THAT, IF NECESSARY, WIPER BLADES BE REPLACED EVERY SIX MONTHS TO A YEAR.

GET THE LEAD OUT

THE LEADED GASOLINE CONTROVERSY

LEAD ADDITIVES WERE FIRST USED IN GASOLINE FOR AUTOMOBILES ALMOST 50 YEARS AGO. THOUGH IT HELPED CURB ENGINE KNOCKING ITS USE IN THE MOTOR CAR WAS NOT UNIVERSALLY APPROVED, ESPECIALLY BY THE WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION.

EARLY RESEARCH SHOWED THAT TETRA-ETHYL LEAD WAS POISONOUS. ITS EFFECTS ON WORKERS IN FACTORIES PRODUCING THE SUBSTANCE WAS OFTEN TRAGIC. BUT WHEN THE U.S. BUREAU OF MINES RELEASED A REPORT STATING CAREFULLY CONTROLLED USE OF THE ADDITIVE WAS SAFE, THE FUROR DIED DOWN.

TODAY, LEAD IN GASOLINE IS CAUSING ANOTHER CONTROVERSY--THIS TIME, FOR POSSIBLE EFFECTS ON THE AIR WE BREATHE. AMERICAN OIL COMPANY IS URGING MOTORISTS TO GET THE LEAD OUT OF THEIR GASOLINE, THEREBY HELPING TO ELIMINATE AIRBORNE LEAD PARTICLES.

Soybeans Lead In U.S. Farm Receipts

An historic change in U.S. agriculture is now official: soybeans have replaced corn as the number one cash crop for U.S. farmers. The value of soybeans sold in 1972 was a whopping $4.1 billion, almost $1 billion above receipts from corn. Prices now available for new crop beans indicate that soybeans will maintain this position in 1973-74. The market indications are that farmers can obtain more income by choosing the zero set-aside option of the 1973 Feed Grain program and planting soybeans than by planting corn or keeping land in set-aside.

What if you lost your job tomorrow?

Things may be going pretty good now. But you never know what tomorrow will bring.

Suppose it's unemployment. How will you live?

What will you use to tide the family over while you look? Excuses?

Let's hope you never have to find out. But just in case, why not start saving now, while you have a "job." Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

It's an easy way to build a nest egg.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, $5\frac{1}{2}\%$ when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

With any luck at all your emergency fund may become a vacation, a college education, or a happy retirement.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

AVOID THESE COMMON HOME SELLING BLUNDERS

Curiously, many people who sell their homes today fail to get as good a deal as they should because they start by asking for too much, then end up settling for too little!

In between, they make a host of other blunders.

They talk mostly to the wife, since she is often the shopper most willing to talk, but fail to realize that the husband is usually the one who decides.

They explain how easy it would be to fix defects in the house, and never realize that in so doing they are calling attention to defects that might otherwise go unnoticed.

They may bear the expense of repainting or repapering in the hope of getting a better price, and then fail to cut the grass and fix a cracked window that detracts almost as much as the paint or paper seem to add.

They spend hard-earned dollars on advertising to attract potential buyers, then forget to put the pets outside, or in a neighbor's house, so that the pet-sit prospect isn't tempted to get out of the house as soon as possible.

One of the strangest things, veteran real estate brokers say, is to see a homeowner earnestly trying to talk a prospect into buying—but actually talking him out of it. If he feels bad at having to sell his house, the homeowner may lord it over the prospective buyer and even ridicule him.

Some women warn, "Be careful not to track the carpet"—making the prospect feel more and more guilty with each step.

To avoid these and scores of other errors, there is a great deal of advantage in turning to professional real estate brokers. Few people are fully aware of how much help they can render, or how modern their business has become.

Some brokers, for instance, now have an ERA "Moving Machine." If you want to buy a house in or near another city, tell the broker what you have in mind and he turns on a photocopy machine that is hooked up by telephone lines to another machine in the ERA home office. Six minutes later, your broker's machine turns out six photos, with descriptions of houses available in the area you are moving to.

Similarly, if someone in another city wants to buy a house in your area, your broker's machine sends a picture of your house to the prospective buyer. The brokers who are members of the photocopy network have an association called Electronic Realty Associates, which may be contacted by writing Dept. S, 8600 W. 63rd Street, Shawnee Mission, Kansas 66201.

Whether or not your broker has the ERA photo-by-wire system, you can avoid making some of the common mistakes by heeding these do's and don'ts.

DO put your house in order. If the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence, some extra lawn fertilizer may mean more green for you.

DON'T be too quick to talk about coming down in price. Your real estate salesperson can tell you when this may be necessary—if it's necessary at all.

DO try to leave your house completely furnished until it is sold. It looks better with draperies and furniture all in place.

DON'T talk about what you paid for the house. Prices have gone up since then, and some buyers may actually resent you making a profit.

DO dress well when prospective buyers are scheduled to visit. A house seems to bring more money when residents look affluent.

DON'T express annoyance if a prospect criticizes features of the house. He may know more about buying a house than you know about selling one, and someone may have suggested that criticism brings a lower price.

DO be ready with a definite answer as to the date by which you will definitely be ready to move.

DON'T be overly optimistic if a woman looks at your home and says she's very interested. Many a shopper will visit several homes in a day and say the same thing in each.

DO, whenever possible, let your real estate agent show the house. Just by looking at the prospect she can often tell which points are going over well, and which she might as well not mention.

DON'T get the children in on the negotiation. Just one reference to the "terrible" school (which your child may love) or the "horrible" child down the block (who may be one of your child's best friends most days) may remind you that there is room for improvement in the way you present your home sweet home. . . be it ever so humble.

Keep these tips in mind and your sales program will have a firm foundation.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29

The Culver Community Churches will sponsor a Retirement Seminar on Thursday, March 29, at 12:00 noon in Zion Hall of Grace United Church of Christ. The women of the Burr Oak Church of God will serve the noon meal at a cost of 50c.
