PARK BOARD DISCUSSES BEACH LODGE PROBLEMS

The Culver Park Board met last Thursday, October 6th, in regular session to discuss matters concerning use of the Town Beach Lodge.

Four members of the Board were present to discuss the possibility of repairing the structure with a view toward making the Lodge useable on a year-round basis.

It was concluded by those present that the structure of the building was sound, and therefore that there was no need to consider building a new facility. The major problems with the building concern the need for a new roof, plumbing problems, and general renovation of the interior.

One of the problems that makes use of the building difficult is excessive moisture on the ground floor. It would be desirable to solve this problem, since the ground floor lounge area has two fireplaces that would be ideally suited to winter entertaining in the lodge.

Other problems which must be looked into to make the Beach Lodge useable are the electrical wiring, and general heating - as of now, the building is not heated.

Suggestions were made regarding utilization of the entire building or parts of it during the winter months, primarily as a meeting place for local groups who wished to hold social functions such as skating parties, dances, and so on.

In addition to the mechanical problems, the problem of supervision is one which must be dealt with. Vandalism during the past summer season has pointed up the necessity of year-round supervision of the lodge, and the possibility of hiring a couple to live in the third-floor apartment and act as supervisors was discussed. Last year's vandalism also prompted discussion about keeping only the second floor of the lodge open during the summer months, to insure better supervision of the facilities.

CULVER CONCERT THEATER SERIES TO BEGIN

A touch of France comes to Eppley Auditorium Tuesday, October 16, when The Alive Company presents "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris." The performance begins Culver's 1973-74 Concert Theater Series and has been billed by the VILLAGE VOICE as "the most influential and innovative musical of many years."

Season tickets for the entire six-performance series are available through Harvey Firari, Culver's director of theater. All performances will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Eppley Auditorium on Culver's campus.

Brel, the man, has been, for the past ten years, establishing his career not only as the most popular singer-composer in France but as the conscience of his people as well. His fierce integrity, his humanism, his savage humor and his revulsion of hypocrisy appear in all of his songs.

Opening in New York, January 22, 1968, "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris" enjoyed an almost immediate success and a four-year run. Other productions of "Brel" have achieved theatrical prominence as the longest running musical presentation in the history of Chicago, San Francisco, and Boston.

Next to appear in the Culver series will be the United States Marine Band on November 4. Christened "The President's Own" by Thomas Jefferson, the Marine Band carries with it a proud heritage, steeped in the traditions of such distinguished musicians as John Philip Sousa, who directed it for twelve years.

Now under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Dale Harpham, the band boasts of one of the most extensive music libraries in the world. The Marine Band prides itself with having music for any occasion and performing with a high degree of musical professionalism, one of the band's trademarks.

George Furth's TWIGS, which played to capacity audiences on Broadway last season, comes to Eppley Auditorium January 20th. Rated by Walter Kerr as "the season's most satisfying evening", the comedy deals with developments of the last few generations in America. It describes the activities of four families, all related, on the day before Thanksgiving. The roles of the play's four interrelated women are played by Vivian Blaine, who has starred on Broadway in such productions as "Guys and Dolls" and "A Hatful of Rain."

Israeli born concert pianist Ilana Vered will perform for series patrons February 22nd. The American Record Review describes her as having "as swift a set of fingers as you would ever want to hear." In addition, she plays with considerable musicianship characterized especially by firm rhythmic impulse and creamy rich piano tone even in the most rapid passage-work." A performer with an international flair, Miss Vered graduated with first prize in piano from the National Conservatory of Music in Paris. She made her New York debut in 1963 and a full tour of Europe in 1969.

National Players, the oldest touring theatrical repertory company in the United States, will perform "Tartuffe" February 27th in Eppley Auditorium. Moliere's savagely funny masterpiece lays bare the foibles of society as lust, deceit and vengeance spiral toward a stunning climax. Over 3,000 performances of the classical and modern masterworks for the stage have been produced by the players in their 25-year history. Many distinguished directors have guided National Players presentations. Some of these are Walter Kerr (drama critic for the NEW YORK TIMES), Alan Schneider (Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf) and Robert Moore (Promises, Promises).

The Playward Bus Theater Company will present "God's Trombones" April 18th as the final performance in the Concert Theater Series. A musical adaptation of James Weldon Johnson's volume of poetry, "God's Trombones", is a tribute to the negro folk preacher. Johnson's literary achievement, in part, was his ability to capture the imagery, the rhythm, the inspiration and the dignity of the untaught preacher without using dialect.

Built from raw material found in the Philadelphia ghetto, the Playward Bus Theater Company is directed by Jim Mapp, a seasoned veteran of the stage. The group was developed on Philadelphia's north side as a black repertory company in 1965 under Mapp's leadership. Through the theater company Mapp has sought to upgrade the cultural level of the black community and develop available human resources for the professional stage.

CULVER BIBLE CHURCH TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

This coming Sunday, October 14th, will mark the fifteenth anniversary of the dedication of the Culver Bible Church at its present location at 718 South Main Street. A special service, followed by a carry-in dinner, will mark the event.

Pastor Edward Clark explained that the Culver Bible Church actually began in January of 1951. At that time, students from Grace Theological Seminary at Winona Lake served in the pulpit each Sunday. Rev. Maynard Tittle was the pastor who first took over the church on a regular basis and organized it in September of 1953. The church continued to grow, and on October 12, 1958, the first service in the new building was held.

Highlights of this Sunday's celebration will include readings by Rev. Clark of some of the newspaper clippings that chronicle the growth of the Culver Bible Church, and a display remembering the beginning of Culver Bible Church.

Rev. Clark extends an invitation to all members of the community to join the congregation for this special service and stay for dinner. Guests should bring their own table service and ladies should bring a dish of food, if possible.

The Sunday School service begins at 9:30 a.m., and the Worship Service begins at 10:45 a.m. All are invited to help celebrate this anniversary.

Sunday evening at 7:00, a slide presentation entitled "Journey Into Greece" will be shown. This is a presentation of illustrated Bible teaching and a missionary message presented by Rev. Arthur Houk. The public is cordially invited to attend the screening.

Members of the laity will arrive from many parts of Northern Indiana, and Lawton and Adrian, Michigan, this Friday for the Lay Witness Mission to be held October 12 through 14 at the Wesley United Methodist Church in Culver. The mission begins on Friday with a 6:30 p.m. potluck meal, and singing and fellowship at the church, followed at 7:30 p.m. with a general session and announcement of "coffee group" locations for the following day. At 8:30, small group meetings will be led by the lay people for an hour, followed by another general meeting for reports at 9:30.

Saturday brings yet more activities, with the coffee groups meeting at 10:00 a.m. with the lay leaders present. Teens will have Coke® groups. At noon, the congregation will gather for lunch at the church - men and women will be separated, and there will be a cook-out for the youth. At 6:30 p.m. there is another covered dish meal for the congregation and the witness team before the second general session at 7:30 and the small group meetings at 8:30.

Changes For CCHS

This year, I believe, things in the student council are going to be quite different. Under the supervision of our new principal, Mr. French, and two other faculty members, Mrs. Hughes, and Mr. McBeth, the student council is going to undergo some minor changes. Instead of meeting, maybe once or twice a month, when something occurs that needs attention, this year's council is attempting to meet every Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8:00 to 8:25. This is more or less on a trial basis for the first month.

In the second meeting of this year's student council, we voted to join the Indiana Association of Student Councils. There will be a state-wide convention, October 13, at Ben Davis High School in Indianapolis. Those of us who will be attending that convention will be: Debbie Dancy, Juli McCombs, Christy Dan, Becky Ransom, and Susie Wildes.

In the third meeting, we voted to plan a Thanksgiving Convocation. We appointed a committee to formulate some ideas to present to the remainder of the council. They will decide on some entertainment for this occasion and arrange for it. We also appointed a committee to write a constitution for the student council. This will state the powers and liberties of its association.

I hope that through the course of the year, this group of students and teachers can develop ideas and plans for the benefit of the school, which will be suitable to the student body.

For instance, it is under consideration that we change the annual pep rally parade. Some feel that it is unnecessary for five or six people to work every night for two or more weeks on a float which the whole class or organization will get credit for. As of now, there are no alternatives at hand, but, what else is a student council for? Other ideas brought to my attention are the suggestions for open study halls, mini-courses, and a change in the present home-room procedure. We will present the problem to the entire student council, get some ideas, and appoint a committee which will work it out among themselves and again present it to the council for a vote. The plan is then submitted to Mr. French for approval.

If you have a complaint or suggestion, feel free to contact your local student council member, they will be glad to oblige.

And Now, A Word From Our Sponsor...

Recently the auditorium was the scene of the future stars of CCHS's screen tests. It was the Communication and Mass Media English Class, under Mrs. Hughes' direction. The class has been studying the effects of television on viewers and learning how to do the actual filming.

The star of the first commercial was Vicki McCoy - who because of her interest in fresh smelling people ignored a few people, such as, Amy Zehner, and John Spencer in their attempts at friendship. The day was saved when fresh smelling Danny Sellers rescued the poor bored school girl from her park bench after Marge Keller announced that his freshness was not natural but helped by the new deodorant "Stay Cool"!!!!

Jo-Bo's Pizzeria and Coca Cola were the next products to be sold. Elmer (the ham) Townsend, and Linda Lee Maddox played major roles in peddling their pizza. Melanie Gardner, Geneva Salary, and Steve Sheppard all joined in for a rounding chorus of "Things go better with Jo-Bo's Pizza", and ending their commercial with their famous 'beep'.

Don Walters ALIAS Waldo is the star in the third commercial when he buys some "CAPTAIN CRUNCHLESS" by Cellogs. He runs home and pours all the cereal out of the box to find the prize inside, but to Waldo's surprise he found an ink pen. Poor Waldo crushes the pen, throws away the box and runs off crying!!!! I guess Poor Waldo will never buy "Captain Crunchless" again!!!

The commercials were really very enjoyable and I'm sure the class learned a great deal. Once they get their parts down pat John Newman (CCHS's own A.V. man) will probably tape a final roll and to be shown to other classes. Soooooo, Keep a lookout for the future stars of CCHS!!!!!!!

A CULVER DISEASE

Sometime in the life of every CCHS student, there forms the disease of "Nolikadaskool." This serious ailment has such symptoms as loss of eyesight and loss of memory. (Even if you remembered that today you were supposed to go to school, you wouldn't be able to find it because of your failing eyesight.)

This sickness also has some fearful after-effects. Included are poor grades, resulting from not keeping up with assignments. The worst after-effect is the explanation of where you were the other day when confronted by the dynamic duo of Mr. Nelson and Mr. French.

Now that I have done my part in informing the academic public in the terrible aspects of "Nolikadaskool", I feel it my duty to warn you that if ever caught with this disease, you should cough a lot, make a few incoherent sounds, (along with a silent prayer), and hope your guilt is noticed by no one.

FRENCH STRIKES AGAIN

Mr. Donald R. French, our new "commander-in-chief", has created a new club for the betterment of our student body. It will be called the INTER-CLUB COUNCIL, and its members are representative of every organization and class in the school. To serve on the council you should be the vice-president of the club you represent (it was agreed upon, however, that the vice-president may appoint someone to serve in his place if he so desires) and the purpose of the new council is to lessen the demand upon this year's student council, leaving them free for other tasks. For instance, the inter-club council will handle the problem of who works in the concession booths this year, when they will work, what clubs will be involved, how to credit the organizations participating, and the actual distribution of the profits. The first duty of all the members of the council will be to return to their various clubs and obtain a list of people willing to work in the concession booths for their organizations, so if you're willing to work, you should contact a member of the inter-club council. For your convenience, the members are listed below, along with some organizations that have yet to elect their representatives. I sincerely hope the council can aid in the move for betterment of our extra-curricular activities.

Whatever happened to... Kevin McDaniel?

I'm sure you all remember Kevin (Conrad Birdie) McDaniel. Well he is now living in Gary, Indiana working in the steel mills. At the beginning of the summer, Kevin was touring in the Southwest with a rock band in which he plays bass guitar, with groups such as, 'Blue Oyster Cult'. They also made some record dubs and are waiting to hear from the recording company. You may see Kevin around Culver some because he spends weekends here. If you would like to write to him for further progress reports, send to -

Will you ever be in France and have no idea how to go about making hotel and flight reservations, or how to order a meal?

Well the third period French Class will never have this problem! Under their teacher, Mademoiselle Dearth, the third and fourth year French students have been practicing how to cope with the kinds of problems that arise while touring a French speaking country. The class will continue doing these skits twice a week for the remainder of the year.

The Journalism class had the opportunity to be present at one of their presentations. The show contained three skits, two skits showed American tourists trying to make hotel accommodations and the other skit showed them ordering a meal.

The skits were very well presented both educationally and humorously. The members of the first skit were: Lisa Pratt, Bob Craft, Cindy Johnson, and Sandy Newman, all fourth year students. The second skit: Valerie Hissong, Teena Morrison, and Pat Lowry, third year students. The Third Skit: Susan Boswell, Peggy Riester, Susan Middleton, third year students.

SPECIAL THANKS TO ANDY

Mr. Andrew Venum, in the true spirit of an unadulterated ecologist, did his part Sunday for the Walk for Mankind. Mr. Venum rearranged the original purpose of the walk to include an ecological move. At the beginning of the walk Mr. Venum was at the registration desk offering each and every person that would also pick up trash and litter an additional $.25 per mile. Many people participated, and a great amount of litter was removed, the majority of it was found between the town park and the cemetery on South Main Street. Thanks to the ingenuity and generosity of Mr. Venum, the town looks much neater. I hope the sort of attitude Mr. Venum displayed is contagious and that our citizens will not be so apathetic to our beautiful town.

Sylvie, Our French Student

Can one imagine being in a strange land, no family or close friends around you? Sounds rather lonely, doesn't it? Yet these are the things Miss Sylvie Valdepied has encountered since her arrival from France. This year, CCHS has the advantage of being host to a very welcome French student. Her name is Sylvie, and she is staying at the home of Teena Morrison. Sylvie graduated from her French high school last spring and was all set to attend a university there, when she discovered only fifteen days before her departure that she would be spending a year in America. She is glad of the opportunity, however, and will attend her university next fall, in order to attain a degree in economics.

Sylvie also has two brothers, a sister, and a (serious) boyfriend at home. Sylvie likes America and Culver, but was amazed at the amount of "garbage" (Cokes[®], candy, potato chips) we Americans consume. She has also decided not to date American guys, (perhaps someone can change her mind?), and says that the kids in France are about the same as her friends and teenagers at home. She says that she suffers no homesickness at all.

I, along with the journalism class, would like to welcome Sylvie to our school, and hope her time here is profitable and enjoyable. The Deadline class enjoyed their talk with her, and feel Sylvie is a wonderful girl and that Culver is lucky to have her.

FFA Field Trip

Some kinds of people learn things from going to school. But, where do farmers learn?

Last Thursday, the Culver FFA went to a Farm Progress Show in Lebanon, Indiana. Here our Future Farmers learned things to improve their farming skills.

Some of the aspects that were exhibited were feeds and different kinds of seed corn. Machinery and implements were of special interest to our farmers, when they were demonstrated under actual conditions.

The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by both students and adults.

BICYCLE INSPECTION HELD

By Cathy Welsh

Culver Police Chief Richard "Woody" Woodward faced a line-up of nearly 100 of Culver's more than 200 "biketrans" last Saturday at the beginning of the yearly inspection and registration process.

Marizetta Kenney, Culver Clerk-Treasurer, with the help of Mary Wieringa, obtained the necessary data about each registrant as Chief Woodward stamped a registration number on the underside of each bike. He also gave registrants suggestions as to safety equipment and repairs needed to guarantee the rider's safety.

The next station for the bikes was the Reflector Tape Application Station, manned by the officers of Culver's VFW Post #6919. This is the third year the VFW has volunteered this service to the "Mounted Bicycle Troops" of Culver, and they are pleased with the healthy enthusiasm of the young people to make their bikes more visible at dusk to night time drivers.

The officers donating their time were Commander Roger Wise, Quarter-Master Robert Albert, Ladies' Auxiliary President Mary Lou Wise and Jr. Vice-President Carol Surber.

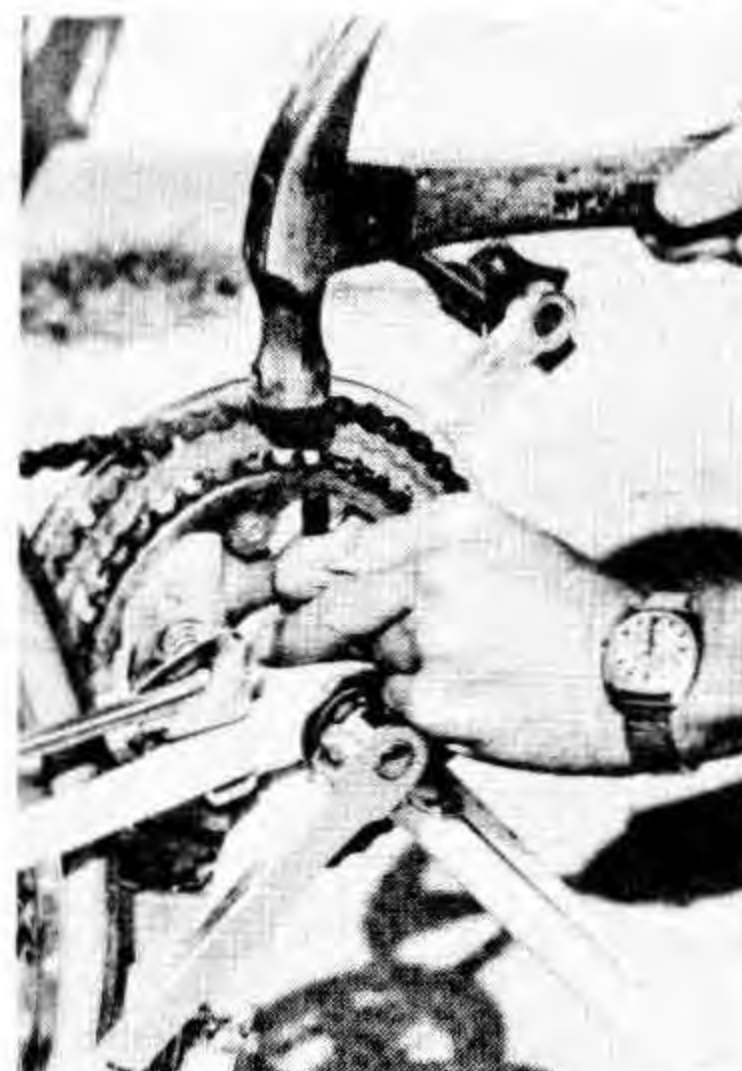

The final station in the registration process was to get in line to receive one of the 6-foot high triangular orange flags being presented to whoever wanted one by The Maxinkuckee Auto Club, represented by Gary Byfield. These flags are one of the best aids for spotting cyclists because they are highly visible at great distances and, even better, when moving along with other vehicles.

By 3:00 the official tally was 87 registrants, an estimated 30% of all the bicycles that should be registered with the police department to better insure their return to their owners if stolen or lost.

If you missed the registration last Saturday you can still have the benefit of the inspection and registration. Just call the Police Department and make an appointment to take your bicycle in to have it officially stamped and registered.

COPAD MEETING HELD RECENTLY

Rev. John Krueger, chairman of the Human Resources Committee for Culver Organizations for Planning, Action, and Development (COPAD) presented a report of the Committee's objectives at the last general meeting of COPAD October 2nd.

The Recreation sub-committee will seek to organize a weekly adult gym night for men and women if they can succeed in obtaining the High School Gymnasium. The committee also seeks completion of the lighted tennis courts in the High School parking lot, an adult softball program during the summer, and a club for competitive swimming and water safety instruction. The sub-committee felt that the Park League for Boys and Girls Softball had achieved considerable success and was running itself.

Rev. Krueger was pleased to report that the Senior Citizens Group was also running itself under the leadership of Mrs. John Kowatch. The Senior Citizens have an average attendance of 25 for their Tuesday afternoon meetings, in Zion Hall of Grace United Church of Christ. The Senior Citizens group celebrated its first anniversary during a potluck luncheon earlier in the day. Rev. Krueger also reported that the Retirement Seminars sponsored by four Culver churches had an attendance of from 65 to 90 during their six meetings a year. The Senior Citizens subcommittee is working toward objectives of a drop-in center for adults and skill-sharing activities between senior citizens and their younger students.

The Human Resources Committee was pleased to report that Mrs. Norman M. Scruggs, of the Culver Public Library, has posted Calendars of Events at both entrances to the Library, and contributes to a regular listing in the Culver CITIZEN. Rev. Krueger felt that more organizations should be encouraged to report their meeting dates, times, and locations to Mrs. Scruggs at the Library for a more complete listing. Another objective of the committee will be to match up people who want to work with those wanting such help in their Youth Employment Service. If Culver's young people express sufficient interest in a Youth Employment Service Office, the Culver Inn will provide the group with the necessary facilities.

COPAD produced a resolution expressing its appreciation to the Culver CITIZEN for providing a tremendous asset in communication for the community. The committee felt that the presence of a local newspaper contributed to a better-informed citizenry and assisted in promoting Culver as a shopping community.

The COPAD Executive committee will meet Tuesday, October 23rd, from 8:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Culver Inn Lounge.

Dr. Edgar Mitchell, the man who conducted ESP experiments during the flight of Apollo 14, will be the featured speaker at ESPosition 3, the third Midwest Festival of Psychic Arts, to be held Sunday, October 14th, at the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center, 100 South Capitol Avenue in Indianapolis.

The event will be presented by PSI, Inc., the psychic center in Indianapolis, and will give the public an all-day opportunity, starting at 10:00 a.m., to investigate the psychic arts through lectures, seminars, demonstrations, and educational booths.

An all-day astrology seminar will be presented by Carol Wilson, astrologer, former high school and university teacher, and a staff writer for American Astrologer's Magazine.

A two-hour numerology seminar will be presented by John Macri and Ray Ragan, both of Indianapolis.

Macri is a well known lecturer in numerology, president of PSI, Inc., and owner of the Italian Village. Regen is an insurance trade journal editor and numerology teacher.

a world traveler, lecturer and author.

A three hour yoga seminar will be presented by Lorrie Collins, certified teacher of Hatha Yoga and director of the Santosha Yoga Center in Indianapolis.

More than 50 informal lectures and demonstrations will be presented by trained and talented instructors throughout the day and will cover the following psychic arts: the human aura, biorhythm, flying saucers, Edgar Cayce and the A.R.E., graphoanalysis (handwriting), face reading, magic, ESP, palmistry, water witching, hypnosis, pre-historic astronauts, techniques of meditation, healing arts, medicinal plants, organic gardening, and many more.

Visitors may visit numerologists, palmists, astrologists, a psychic artist, a crystal gazer, book stores, and gift shops.

Dr. Mitchell will speak on "Outer Space and ESP" at the evening session at 7:30 p.m. Since his retirement from the Navy and the space program in October, 1972, Dr. Mitchell has gone into a full time program of ESP investigation and has formed a research corporation, Edgar D. Mitchell and Associates, Inc., a Texas corporation designed to investigate the nature of consciousness, the relation of brain to mind, and man's ultimate potential.

Mitchell's interest in the study of human awareness and the development of human potential is long standing. He is a doctor of science and has said that his experiences in outer space have brought him to the realization that the "inner space" is man's last frontier.

Ruth Loux, program director of PSI, Inc., is the coordinator for ESPosition 3.

RESUME OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The Culver Community Schools Corporation Board of Trustees met in regular session in the Central Office on October 2, 1973. Bids were opened and awarded at that time for school busses and for the sale of used busses.

Winners of the bidding were Hammel Chrysler-Plymouth, Rochester, with a bid of $16,276.50 for three Dodge chassis; Kerlin Bus Sales & Service, Silver Lake, with a bid of $14,715 for three Thomas bus bodies; and Truth for Youth Ministries, Inc., Daleville, with a bid of $5,467.96 for four used busses.

The bus chassis went to the lowest bidder, and the used busses went to the highest bidder. The lowest bid for the bus bodies was also accepted, and the price included the mounting of strobe safety flashing lights and radio speaker mounting and wiring.

The meeting with the combined School Board and Town Board was then discussed. Regarding the request of certain south side parents that their children be transported by bus to school, although they live inside the city limits, the Superintendent will obtain more data on the number of children involved so that a more informed decision can be made in the matter.

Superintendent Allen and Ray Winter, President of the Board, then reported to the members their impressions gained while attending the School Board convention in French Lick on September 26, 27, and 28.

The Board then gave approval for the use of school facilities for an adult recreation program to be held during the next five months.

STUDENT CONFERENCE IN LEADERSHIP SCHEDULED

Culver Community High School will sponsor its first Student Leadership Conference on Monday, October 22nd, beginning with the noon luncheon. The conference is designed to be a workshop for club and class officers, and will be keynoted by Miss Windell C. Matthews who will be the principal speaker.

Miss Matthews, a native of Mapsville, Virginia, is currently a senior at Indiana University, Bloomington, where she is president of Forest Quad Residence Hall, and is responsible for the coordination of student activities, counseling and dormitory living for hundreds of university students.

Before coming to I.U., she attended Delaware State College, where she was active in music and student government activities.

In addition to her heavy schedule of extra-curricular activities, she has maintained a near-perfect 3.9 grade point average, and has received several awards and scholarships.

She will address the CCHS Leadership Conference on the subject, "Student Leader Responsibilities".

In other sessions of the conference, students will study Parliamentary Procedure, Class Office Duties, and Goals and Objectives of the High School Club Program. The program is sponsored by the administrative and guidance personnel of the school.

After the formal closing, the members and guests were entertained by three girls from the Culver Community School. Diane Thomas and Valerie Hissong accompanied by Becky Stayton at the piano sang three selections - "No man is an Island", "Pass It On", and "Leave It To Me".

A salad bar was served in the social rooms by a committee consisting of Mrs. William Kose, chairman; Mrs. Judson Dillon; Mrs. James Grover; Mrs. Orville Phelps; and Mrs. A.L. Poppe. The honored guests were seated at tables marked with a red rose candle, a gift from the worthy matron.
